BANKERS—Bank of Toronto and Canadian Bank of Commerce.
SOLICITORS—Dumble & Leonard.

TO DEPOSITORS—Deposits are received by this Company both on current account and for periods of one year or longer. The rate of interest paid on amount deposited on current account and which may be withdrawn by check in each sums as the depositor may from time to time require, is four per cent., either paid or compounded half yearly, and the rate on yearly deposits is five per cent.

TO INVESTORS—The five and ten years five per cent. debentures of this Company which are issued in denominations of $100, $200, $500 and $1,000 each, transferable by endorsement, with half-yearly interest coupons attached, payable at the Head Office of the Company in Peterborough, or at any Branch of the Bank of Toronto in Canada, afford a safe and convenient mode of investment.

The funds of the Company being invested with the utmost care and precaution, no better security can be offered to depositors or debenture-holders, they having a first claim or mortgage on the whole Assets of the Company, the Shareholders having the second. The last audit shows that the amount so invested was over $1,310,223.69, and on securities of at least double that value.

By the Laws of Ontario, Trustees, Executors and Administrators may deposit Trust Funds of the estates which they control in this Company, and are free from all further liability, a privilege of which many have largely availed themselves.

TO BORROWERS—Money is obtainable from this Company on approved Real Estate Security at the Lowest Current Rates of Interest. The Mortgage may be repaid by yearly instalments or otherwise, as may be agreed upon, the interest ceasing at once on all amounts paid on account of the sum borrowed. Applications may be made either to the Head Office, or to any of the agents.

After Lent, the Deluge.

That is the deluge of parties and little dances, which, by the way will be a benefit to many a house-keeper. The tap of the "light fantastic toe" will dust the carpets to a nicety and save the trouble of considerable beating. But carpets which have seen their best days will be apt to succumb. This will be a small matter when it is remembered that a magnificent stock of new carpets of of every kind and the latest mode can be got at direct importer's prices at the golden lion.

Bachelors Beware.

Bachelors who have a real regard and taste for their state of single blessedness are careful to give the Grand Central Hotel a wide berth. It is a matter of comment among the many inmates at the hotel, that since January 1st no less than nine of the bachelor boarders have been married—and prospects are said to be favorable for others to follow suit. They have been treated to so many home comforts, that they are doubtless anxious to try the experiment of housekeeping under a manager of their own selection.

Empty in the Stable, Away Gone.

Charlie Trotter mourns the loss of his horse this morning. Charlie is a lad of 14 or 15 years of age, who lives on Aylmer street and supports himself by carting. Early last evening his horse got loose and wandered from the stable out upon the street. He was re-captured and tied up again in the barn, after which his youthful owner went to bed to dream of the next day's business. This morning, on rising, Charlie's first thought was of his horse, but to his surprise the animal was gone. Whether it is strayed or stolen is not known; no trace of it has since been found.

What Meaneth the Gore?

Last night after tea Dr. Clarke returned to his office as usual and was surprised to find the floor and stairway bespattered with blood, while the top layer of ashes in an ash barrel in the hallway was dyed with ruddy gore (N.B.—no pun intended on Ruddy gore). Evidently the victim of some accident had called in the Doctor's absence and had waited his return for a while and gone away again. The Doctor has not yet learned who his bleeding patient was.

A Little Amazonian Army.

Yesterday Sergt.-Major Randall began his course of lessons in drill and calisthenics to the girls of the Collegiate Institute. From the four forms there were about eighty girls, and the interest they took in the exercises augurs well for the good results they will receive. The clamour of the young ladies for uniforms puts the gallant sergt.-major in a quandary. If scarlet is chosen the blondes will kick, and the brunes will look black if blue is selected. The difficulty comes in in devising a uniform suit that would do for ordinary school wear. If the whole band of amateur Amazons were clad in uniform to-day, during the night every nine girls out of ten in obedience to the impulses of the female heart would have their dresses trimmed according to the run of their several fancies and good bye to uniformity the next morning. But the uniform is quite a secondary matter. The great physical benefits the girls will receive constitute the all-important consideration. The average girl is in a weak, flabby muscular condition, with which sound health cannot co-exist. In fact many girls are not clothed in a manner to enable them to take proper exercise. After the first calisthenic exercises yesterday, some of the girls had the tight sleeves of their dresses split open by the vigorous exercises introducing muscular action which would not, under ordinary circumstances, be attempted. What growing girl can be healthy, when she is bandaged with clothing that will not permit free movement. The lower extremities of girls get more exercise in the actions of walking, skating and dancing, but the muscles of the arms, shoulders and chest the latter of which encases the vital organs, the centre of life, are bandaged with tight sleeves or crushed in with corsets. To ensure good health, firm muscles, good carriage, school girls require a thorough course of calisthenics taken in daily instalments if possible. Their bodies will be more healthful and their heads clearer, while their studies will not be interfered with. Sergt. Major Randall gives his instructions in the intervals of recitations when the pupils of a form would be, otherwise, unemployed.

Ship Social and Concert

Given in Bradburn's Hall, Monday March 19th, under the management of the Ladies' Aid of the Charlotte street church. Refreshments served from 6 bells to 8 bells at 10 cents each. At the 8 bells the captain and crew will assemble on deck for a rare entertainment, for which each passenger pays 25 cents.

Abating a Nuisance.

Acting-Chief Adams is after a number of persons who have recently dumped "night soil" in Spaulding's Bay and on the roadside near the driving park. Their names have been ascertained and they will appear in the police court next week to answer for it. The police are determined, if possible, to prevent a recurrence of the nuisance.

A Handsome Picture.

An excellent oil painting of Miss Nellie Galley, who won the girl's fancy costume prize at the last carnival, (a portrait of herself in costume, by Mr. T. Workman), is on exhibition in Mill's fur store. It is a fair sample of Mr. Workman's ability as an artist. The portrait is true to life and remarkably well executed.

A Cold Reception.

Eli Perkins is coming to Peterborough on the 23rd inst. He has lectured all over America and always receives a warm welcome, except perhaps on one occasion mentioned by the Chicago Times:—"When Eli Perkins delivered his lecture in the Illinois House of Representatives, there was a great rush—hundreds of people left the building, and they said if he had repeated it the next night they would have left the city."

The Walkerfield Sale.

There was a fair attendance at the auction sale of thoroughbred farm stock at Walkerfield on Wednesday. There was, singularly enough, light demand for the thorough-bred stock, and consequently the prices were low, but the grade stock brought very good prices. Dr. R. Kincaid secured all the blood stock sold. The complaint is general that the farmers have no money. "Walkerfield" sale tends to disprove this. Auctioneer Singleton says that the percentage on cash payments for animals and articles sold was unusually large, buyers taking advantage of the liberal cash terms—8 per cent. discount for cash—to the amount of $500. There is, apparently corn in Egypt—money in the country.

The Carnival Commences.

Afternoon Carnival at the Skating Rink.

The children's carnival began this afternoon and is in full blast as the EXAMINER goes to press. There is a large attendance of both costumers and spectators. The Fire Brigade Band is also present. The costumes comprise some of the most elegant and striking ever seen in Peterborough. The carnival will be continued this evening for adults. Costumers are requested to leave their cards, with character represented, at the door.

Baker Pasha's Preferment.

CAIRO, March 8.—Charles Baker Pasha has been appointed Commander-in-Chief of Gendarmes, and Mayor Fenwick Deputy-Commander-in-Chief.

An Early Fire.

INGERSOLL, March 8.—Mr. E. G. Pool's house, near Hagles' Corners, was destroyed by fire this morning at 4 o'clock. Loss $2000, insured in the Western for $1000. Some of the family had their feet frozen, not having had time to get their shoes or other clothing on.

An Evening of Music.

The Y. M. C. A. Concert a Gratifying Success—A Grand Vocal Entertainment that Pleases a Critical Audience.

The concert in the Opera House last night was remarkable for several reasons. First, it was an entirely musical one; then it was almost entirely rendered by males, only two solos by Miss Howden breaking the masculine monotony; third, last and greatest, the large and intellectual audience was seated by eight o'clock, and the concert began a very few minutes after and was completed before ten o'clock. This feature was a decided novelty, and an admirable one too, in the concert business. The programme which composed twelve numbers, was neither too long nor too short, but first-class all round, and one that delighted the audience and brought good cheer, in the shape of stacks of silver, to the Y.M.C.A. They are to be congratulated upon the success of this their first concert outside their own hall.

The Harmony Male Quartette, of Toronto, Messrs. F. T. Chambers, J. J. Jerome, F. Kidner and F.G. Adamson, was of course the chief attraction. Their numbers were all exceedingly well rendered and heartily encored—a truer criterion of their merit than a column of newspaper comment. They gave in all six numbers, all equally deserving of praise. Each member of this quartette is, besides, an accomplished soloist, and three of them, Messrs. Chambers, Jerome and Kidner, favored the audience with highly appreciated solos. As accompanist to the solo singers, Mr. W. H. Dingle deserves praise. He also gave a piano solo that showed he was a thorough master of music. Mr. Chas. J. Beguley is already known to the people of Peterborough as a young vocalist possessing an admirable rich bass voice, and in "The Gay Hussar," it was displayed to best advantage. He was encored and responded with "Jock's Yare," a pretty little sea song. Mr. W. H. Stevens and Mr. Beguley afterwards sang a duet, "The Lost Ship," which, for amateurs, was well rendered indeed. Miss Anna Howden appeared twice upon the stage, radiant and smiling, in charming contrast to the sombre attire and gruff masculine voices of the other performers. Her sweet, bird-like tones filled the hall, and drew thunderous applause and undeniable encores from the audience. Her "Marguerite" and "Who Knows" were gems of song.

The audience, a large and critical one, were well pleased with the evening's entertainment, and the success of the Y.M.C.A. on this occasion in supplying patrons of music with such an excellent evening's enjoyment at a low figure will redound to their credit should they on a future occasion prepare another similar concert.

An Oddfellow Honored.

Mr. Robert Hamilton, of the Peterborough Lodge, Presented with a Gold Watch and Bible.

Last evening the members of Peterborough Lodge of Oddfellows presented Mr. Robert Hamilton, N. G., (who leaves next week to take up his residence in San Francisco, Cal.,) with an address and a beautiful gold watch, handsomely engraved and bearing the following inscription:—

Presented to Bro R. Hamilton, N.G., on the occasion of his leaving Peterborough by his brethren of Peterborough Lodge, No. 111, and Mount Hebron Encampment, No. 56, I.O.O.F., March 8 h, 1888.

This gift was further supplemented by a handsome pocket Bible from Mr. Wm. Battisby, a brother Oddfellow and one of Mr. Hamilton's warmest friends. Following is a copy of the address that accompanied the watch, which was read by Mr. A. McFarlane:—

Mr. Robert Hamilton, N.G., Peterborough Lodge No. 111, I. O. O. F., Peterborough.

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER,—Your brethren of the mystic link, learning of your intended departure to a distant field of labor, cannot allow this opportunity to pass without expressing their high appreciation of your moral worth and their regret at your removal from their midst. By your honest and industrious habits you have won the respect and esteem of your fellow citizens. By your kind and courteous disposition, by your untiring energy both as a private member and in the honorable position of Noble Grand which you now hold, always used in the interest of Oddfellowship, and this lodge in particular, you have acquired not only the respect and esteem of your brethren, but their confidence and love, and placed them under a debt of gratitude they find difficult to repay.

There is not a member of Peterborough Lodge No. 111, Mount Hebron Encampment No. 56 or Canton Peterborough No. 10, but feels that to-night he is taking leave of a brother whose place it will be difficult indeed to fill. We feel a pardonable pride in our institution, which has been privileged to develop in you talents both pleasing and beneficial, and as a slight token of our appreciation of your conduct and labours we ask you to accept this watch, and when in distant lands its dial points to you the hour of the day, may it also remind you of the many pleasant meetings we have been privileged to enjoy together. May you continue to practice the moral training inculcated by our beloved Order, following which, you are sure to meet not only with success in this world but the commendation of your God in the next.

A prosperous career to you, dear brother, and, when our labors here below are ended, may we all meet in the Grand Lodge above, where parting is no more.

Signed on behalf of Peterborough Lodge No. 111, and Mount Hebron Encampment No. 56—

WM. COWLE, V.G.
ANDREW MCFARLANE, R.S.
JOSEPH MILLS, C.P.
R. W. ERRETT, S.

Peterborough, 8th March, A.D. 1888.

The address will be illuminated and engrossed by Mr. Mr. Harry Grundy.

Mr. Hamilton was taken quite by surprise, and found difficulty in expressing his thanks. He did it, however, in a most feeling manner, hoping that while in his far-off home on the Pacific coast, he would not be forgotten by his Peterborough friends, as he most certainly would ever remember them. He would endeavor in the future as in the past to deserve the kind words spoken of him, and do his utmost to further Oddfellowship wherever opportunity offered.

The watch was purchased at W. A. Sanderson's jewelry store, where it was also engraved.

THE EMPEROR'S DEATH!

The Report of Yesterday said to be Premature—He Died To-day.

(Special by C. P. R. Telegraph.)

BERLIN, March 9.—Emperor William died at 9.30 this morning.

[The report of Emperor William's death yesterday, published in the EXAMINER is said to have been primature. The European and American afternoon papers published the report and full obituaries of the Emperor, and the rumor gained credence all over the world. A London despatch states that a rumour is current that the reports received yesterday stating that the Emperor died at 5 p. m. are true and that the subsequent bulletins to the effect that he was still living were issued to check a political cabal, which on the strength of the Emperor's death would have worked mischief during the night, but can be effectually checked in the morning, and that during to-day (Friday) the death of the venerable Kaiser will be made public.]

"Points" at Curling.

The "Points" Cup Won by Mr. C. McGill—A Victory at Bobcaygeon.

Yesterday afternoon and evening the "points" game was played at the rink by the members of the curling club, as will be seen by the list below. The scores were excellent—the best ever made in Peterborough. Mr. C. McGill led with 20 points to his credit, while four others, like the man in the lottery, came within one of it. To show the progress the club is making in its playing record the scores by which the cup has been won in former years is given:—1883, 9 points; 1884, 11; 1885, 13; 1886, 14; 1887, 17; 1888, 20. Following are the scores:—

VICTORY ABROAD.

The curlers arrived home from Bobcaygeon yesterday afternoon, having to their credit two victories. The Peterborough curlers were:—

W. VanEvery	J. McClelland
W. R. Clurton	J. D. Bapie
A. McNeil	G. Brown
Judge Weller, skip.	T. Rutherford, skip.

Matches were played in the afternoon and evening, Peterborough winning both. In the afternoon skip Weller beat Capt. Bottum by a score of 20 to 14, while skip Rutherford more than doubled on Reid's (Bobcaygeon) rink by a 25–12 score. In the evening a 16-end match was played, Peterborough winning by about 10 points all round.

The Bridge Meeting.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—In the Review of the 24th of Feb., an interesting piece of news hailing from Bensfort, appears under the heading of "Bridge Meeting." One would think on reading the account that South Monaghan was soon to have her one great wish realized on the question of a bridge across the river. Doubtless Mr. T.N. Willan will read the report with great satisfaction, but some who were at the meeting consider it most remarkable for its omissions and misrepresentations. Great pains are taken to let the reader know how much taller and broader Mr. W. has grown since the last Municipal election, but no reference is made to the uncalled for remarks offered as a preface to his vague and tiresome speech about electioneering tactics at the end of the year. This ill-natured thrust appeared all the meaner as it was aimed at a decent man who was not in the meeting and it did not tend to create sympathy for what he might say afterwards. Then we are informed that Mr. T.N. Willan, reeve of South Monaghan urged the people to formulate. The people have a scheme formulated for more than ten years, and all they want is a fit and proper person to represent them at Cobourg, and Mr. W. has tried for years to make the people believe that he is just such a person. Well, he has been to Cobourg, and soon after his return, calls a meeting for the purpose of laying before them a proposition. The people, naturally enough, expected something new and interesting but imagine their chagrin at seeing a roll of old musty papers produced, that, if pasted together, might measure anywhere from six to twelve feet, and asked the people to form a joint stock company. It is needless to say this produced a sensation, and was the signal for a collapse. Several in the meeting denounced this piece of claptrap as something they had heard a score of times. Mr. Willan, seeing his mistake (when too late), became very anxious, and at his earnest request a resolution was got up to get up a subscription, but to say that it was unanimous or of any force is aside from the truth, as a number had gone away in disgust. This, Mr. Editor, is a rough but short sketch of the other side of the story, from

To Workingmen

A Word with you. Do you comprehend the importance of our ANNUAL CLEARING SALE? Do you realize how you and your family can be benefited by taking advantage of this great opportunity? Do you know that you can now buy yourself or your children an OVERCOAT or a SUIT for less money than ever before? We have Overcoats for $5.00, well made and trimmed, and a big assortment of OVERCOATS FOR ONLY $6.00. The last named are Coats that are sold during the regular season for $8.00, and that other dealers asked as high as $10.00 and $12.00 for. They are well made, of good materials, and just the thing for teamsters and others engaged in out-door work. Our higher price Overcoats have all been correspondingly reduced, as we are bound to close them out.

In SUITS we can offer you the choice of the largest assortment to be found, and at prices lower than ever before offered. We can sell you a good Suit for $5.00. Think of that—Coat, Vest and Pants all for $5.00—a good, serviceable Suit; while for $7.00, $8.00 or $12.00 we can give you greater value for your money than you can possibly obtain elsewhere.

In our BOYS' and CHILDRENS' DEPARTMENT we are offering parents extraordinary inducements. We invite special attention to our OVERCOATS and SUITS. Both will give good satisfaction, and for bargains cannot be equalled by another dealer.

So make your purchases at once if you wish to save money.

The Dominion Bell ORGANS.

WE wish to call your attention to the benefit derived from the

that has lately been added to the above Organs. This improvement has been a long felt necessity, and one which has never been successfully solved before by any Organ Companies until the patent was secured for the above Companies directly from the Inventor.

Other Organ Companies advertise their organs mouse and dust proof, because they employ the usual method of blocking around the bellows, as we have done heretofore, but it is eminently unsatisfactory, and the only sure and efficient plan is that which we adopt, of covering the PEDALS and BOTTOM of our Organs. This attachment has iron throughout (with the exception of the Covers) having no cords, springs, or delicate mechanism to get out of order or repair, and works AUTOMATICALLY with the Fall Board of the Organ. The one simple act of opening or closing the Organ, simultaneously operates the Pedal Covers.

This improvement has been placed on all the different styles of Organs, and the aim is now, as in the past, to produce an instrument that HAS NO EQUAL.

All information and inquiries cheerfully answered. Catalogues sent free upon application.

Examine the Mouse and Dust Proof Organ before purchasing, and be satisfied that you have the best in the World.

DEATH OF THE EMPEROR.

WILLIAM I. OF GERMANY PASSES AWAY AT 8.30 A. M. YESTERDAY.

The Final Act in a Long and Illustrious Career—The Tidings Received in the Reichstag—A State Proclamation—In the Imperial Parliament.

LONDON, March 9.—Emperor William died at 8.30 this morning. He suffered no pain during the last few hours of his life. All the members of the royal family held places near the bedside when the dying monarch breathed his last, Prince William standing nearest the Emperor.

The Emperor died holding the Empress' hand. He had been in a stupor since 3 o'clock. He was delirious for a brief period at 5 o'clock, during which he is reported to have exclaimed: "I am a man of peace, but if Russia forces me to war I shall faithfully side with my ally, Austria."

The Reichstag assembled at 12.20 p.m. amid unusual excitement in the lobbies. It had been agreed that the ringing of the bell, the customary signal for the assembling of the members, should be stopped and that the deputies should enter the hall quietly and without ceremony. All the benches in the House were speedily filled and the galleries were crowded. Profound silence reigned. A large number of Federal Commissaries were in their places at the Federal Councillors' table from an early hour. Meanwhile the plenipotentiaries awaited Prince Bismarck in the lobby and as soon as he arrived they went with him to the hall of the Federal Council, where they had a private conference.

At 12.32 Prince Bismarck appeared, and the members rose in a body. The chancellor, after a pause, said:

The sad duty devolves upon me of making to you an official communication of what you already knew: that since 8.30 o'clock His Majesty Emperor William has been arrest with his fathers. In consequence of this event the Prussian throne and with this, according to Article XI of the Imperial Constitution, the Imperial dignity has fallen upon His Majesty, Frederick the Third, King of Prussia.

The telegraphic intelligence received by me allows of the assumption that His Majesty, the reigning Emperor and King, will leave San Remo to-morrow, arriving in due course in Berlin.

During the last days of his life I received from the much-lamented King a confirmation of that power for work which only left him with his life, the signature of which lies before me and which empowers me to close the Reichstag at the usual time when its labors are finished. I addressed to the Emperor the request that he should sign only with the first letter of his name. His Majesty replied that he believed himself still able to write his name in full. In consequence of which the historical document with the last signature of His Majesty lies before me.

Under the circumstance I assume that it would be in accordance with the wish of the Reichstag as well as of the representatives of the Federal Governments, not to separate just now but to remain in session until after the arrival of His Majesty the Emperor. I therefore do not make any use of the Imperial authorization beyond depositing it in the archives as an historical document and requesting your President to induce the adoption of resolutions which will reflect the feeling and conviction of the Reichstag.

It does not become me to give from this official place expression to the personal feelings with which the decease of my master, the departure of the first Germain Emperor from our midst, fills me. There is in fact no need of it, for the feelings which animate me live in the heart of every German.

But there is one thing which I believe I should not conceal from you. It does not concern any sentiments but my experiences. It is the fact that amid the sore visitations with which the ruler just departed lived to see his house afflicted, there were two circumstances which filled him with satisfaction and comfort. One of them was the effect that the sufferings of his only son and successor, our present Sovereign Lord, had produced throughout the world—not only in Germany but in every part of the world. I received this very day from New York a telegram of sympathy showing what confidence the dynasty of the Imperial House has acquired among all nations. This is the legacy which the Emperor's long reign bequeaths to the German people. The confidence which his dynasty has won will be transferred to the nation despite anything that has happened.

The Staats Anzieger publishes the following proclamation:

"It has pleased God to call His Majesty the Emperor and King, our most gracious master, from life after a short illness and after a richly blessed reign. The whole nation mourns with the Royal house the decease of the deeply beloved and venerable monarch, whose wisdom has ruled so long and gloriously over its fortunes in war and in peace.

THE MINISTER OF STATE."

The new King was proclaimed Frederick III. He signs "Frederick" without any reference to Emperor or King.

An Imperial Message and Ordinance.

The Reichsanzeiger announces that the Chancellor has received the following telegram from Emperor Frederick:

SAN REMO, March 9.—At this moment of deepest sorrow at the decease of the Emperor and King my beloved father, I must express my thanks to you and to the ministers of state for the devotion and loyalty with which you all served him. I rely upon the assistance of you all in the arduous charge which has devolved upon me. I leave here to-morrow.

FREDERICK.

The Emperor has also forwarded the following ordinance to the ministers of state on the subject of public mourning:

With regard to the national mourning which has heretofore been customary, we will not order any provision, but will rather leave it to every German to determine how he will give expression to his affliction at the death of such a monarch, and how long he will deem it appropriate to restrict participation in public entertainments.

In the Imperial Parliament.

LONDON, March 9.—On the assembling of the House of Commons this afternoon Mr. Smith, the Government leader, referred, with deep sympathy, to the death of the German Emperor. Sir William Vernon Harcourt, in the absence of Mr. Gladstone, concurred in the remarks of Mr. Smith. General surprise is expressed that the House did not adjourn.

Cleveland's Message.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The Secretary of State this afternoon sent the following despatch to Minister Pendleton at Berlin:

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Pendleton, Berlin: The President desires you to make known through the Foreign Office that the death of the illustrious and venerable Emperor of Germany has deeply aroused the sorrow and sympathy of the people of the United States and the Government. BAYARD.

CANADA AND NEWFOUNDLAND.

The Correspondence Between the Dominion and the Crown Colony.

OTTAWA, March 9.—Sir John Macdonald told the House this afternoon that it was true that the Governor-General had sent the following despatch to the Governor of Newfoundland and had received a reply:

The Governor-General of Canada to the Governor of Newfoundland:

March 6, 1888.

It is considered by my Government that if your Government approves, the time would be convenient for the discussion of the question of the admission of Newfoundland into the Federal Union, and that no difficulty would be likely to arise in arranging the terms. Under these circumstances, could you send a deputation to Ottawa with power to negotiate? In our opinion, the deputation should represent the Opposition as well as the Ministerial party. As the Canadian session has begun and may be short, I would suggest the expediency of the deputation sailing by the steamer leaving on the nineteenth inst.

March 7, 1888.

I have received your telegram and laid it before my Ministers.

The above was printed in The Montreal Gazette of this morning and Sir Richard Cartwright asked how it was that the Parliament of Canada was treated with such scant courtesy while a precious paid hireling of the Government was given state secrets. Sir Richard said that the Government might have taken the House of Commons into its confidence and laid the correspondence before them.

The correspondence in question was laid before the Newfoundland Legislature yesterday, and it is understood here that a deputation such as is suggested by the Governor General will come to the Capital to negotiate

THE NAIRN BILL REFERRED

THE COMMITTEE WILL EITHER AMEND IT OR REJECT IT.

The Registration Clause to be Expunged—Hon. Mr. Fraser's Early Closing Bill Read a Second Time—"Spare the Deer" Give Mr. McAndrew.

TORONTO, March 10.

The proceedings at the Legislature yesterday were rather drowsy to the spectator. The bill of business was lengthy, but nothing is contained called out anything like eloquence. A long and rather wearying debate took place when the Nairn Bill was brought up for a second reading. All of the old arguments against it and favorable to it were tossed to and fro. But a very important conclusion was arrived at. The bill was referred to a special committee on the understanding that if it was reported at all it would be reported with the registration clause struck out. Among the bills read a second time were Hon. Mr. Fraser's early closing of retail stores bill and Mr. McAndrew's to prohibit killing deer or moose in Ontario till 1892.

Mr. French asked: Whether the attention of the Attorney-General had been drawn to the interpretation placed upon the words "occupied lands" in sub-section 1 of section 2 of The Line Fences Act, whereby, as contended by some County Court judges in appeal, the whole act is rendered nugatory, the object of the act being manifestly to provide a means for fencing unenclosed lands, whereas by said sub-section, it is provided that the act shall not apply to "unenclosed land." Was any remedy proposed?

The Attorney-General: My attention was not called to the subject till I saw my hon. friend's question on the paper. I have since made inquiries with regard to it. I have corresponded with the judges to ascertain the judgments pronounced and I find that the statement in the question to the effect that the act has been rendered nugatory is erroneous. The judges appear to differ in regard to the force of the terms. No remedy is proposed.

Mr. Whitney asked whether it was the intention of the ministry to introduce, during the present session, legislation in the direction of increasing the severity of the penalties for corrupt practices at elections.

The Attorney-General: No further legislation on the subject will be introduced during the present session.

The Nairn bill, respecting hire receipts, came up for the second reading, and was discussed for an hour. All the objections urged by the manufacturers were rehearsed, and the ills of the law without being buttressed by this bill was set forth by Mr. Nairn. Messrs. O'Connor, Bishop and Whitney supported the bill, and Messrs. Fraser, Creighton, Craig, Hudson and others opposed it.

The chief objection urged by manufacturers to the bill, was that it compelled them to register at considerable expense every sale made on which they took a lien, or failing this, that the amount of their lien and the amount paid on it from time to time be printed on the article on which the lien was held. The reason of placing this provision in the bill was explained. Cases were cited where articles, upon which liens were held, had been put up at auction and sold for cash. After a while the manufacturer came along and claimed the article and took it, while the party that held the sale had the money and the party who paid the money for the goods had nothing.

In order to meet the objections of the manufacturers to the cumbrous scheme at first proposed and at the same time to give the people a means to ascertain whether there was a lien on any article which might be put up for sale, it was suggested that the manufacturers be compelled to put their names on all machines made by them, and that all machines be numbered, and that information in regard to liens on such machines be supplied, under penalty in case of refusal, by the manufacturers to all applicants for such information.

No amendment to meet the objections made by proprietors of supply stores was made.

The second reading was passed and the bill was referred to this committee: Messrs. O'Connor, Bishop, Drury, Phelps, French, Whitney, Clarke (Wellington), Meredith, Hudson, Awrey, Hardy and Guthrie.

Mr. Wood (Hastings), briefly explained the provisions of his bill to provide an inexpensive and easy way for incorporation of cheese and butter manufacturing companies. Seven people could meet before a justice of the peace and sign, in duplicate, a desire to incorporate themselves as a company. Rules and regulations can be adopted, and the two duplicates sent to the County Registrar. The latter will sign them, return one and keep the other. This is the whole process. The bill passed its second reading and was referred to the Municipal Committee.

This Government bill was read a second time:

Mr. Fraser's, to regulate the closing of shops and the hours of labor therein for children and young persons.

As the bill now stands the chief provisions are: Any municipal council may, on being petitioned by two-thirds of those engaged in any line of trade, pass a bylaw making it illegal for them to have any of business to keep their stores open after a certain hour, to be fined by the policemen. The bylaw cannot be repealed unless more than a third of those engaged in that business petition for the repeal. The hours of labor are fixed at not more than 74 hours a week, with an hour and three quarters for dinner and supper each day subtracted. Chairs are to be supplied for young women in the stores when they are not engaged at work. Hotels and restaurants and druggists are exempted from the provisions of the bill, also those engaged in driving vans and express wagons.

Hon. G. W. Ross, to enable high schools or collegiate institutes to appropriate funds for high school purposes.

A deputation waited on the Attorney-General and the Minister of Education at 3 o'clock yesterday, to solicit aid for the establishment of night schools for stationary and marine engineers, so that they might get the advantage of the theoretical training that is given to mechanical and civil engineers in the school already established for them. These gentlemen composed the deputation: Messrs. John Galt, A. M. Wickins, Frank Sutton, Chas. McFallen, W. S. McMaken, W. P. McNeily, O. St. John, W. Poison, L. P. Montgomery, T. B. Cole, P. P. Keay, S. Mills, W. Kennedy, P. H. Ellis and R. W. Fox.

TORONTO TOPICS.

John Dunnier, the whisky detective who was arrested in connection with the shooting of a bartender named Brown at Myrtle station, and who was afterwards released on bail, was arrested this morning as a material witness and was taken to Whitby. Brown, who recovered from his wound, has been charged with conspiracy to assault the whisky detectives, and as Dunnier did not obey a summons to appear as a witness he was arrested.

On Thursday morning an old man named Hugh Carlton was playing with his grandchildren in front of his house in West Toronto Junction, when he dropped dead. He was 77 years of age, and has a son an engineer on the Canadian Pacific Railway. The remains will be taken to Stratford this morning.

Thomas Hope, the alleged Brantford grain swindler, appeared before Judge McDougall yesterday and was granted bail to appear next court, himself in $2500 and two sureties in $1250 each.

A deputation composed of the Mayor and several citizens of Kincardine waited on Mayor Clarke yesterday to ask the co-operation of the City Council in urging upon the Dominion Government the necessity for the extension of the Canadian Pacific Railway line from Teeswater to Kincardine.

CAPITAL NOTES AND GOSSIP.

Lord Lansdale to Visit Toronto—The Command of the Wimbledon Team.

OTTAWA, March 9.—Lord Lansdale visited the House this afternoon and afterwards he called at Rideau Hall, where he dined this evening. His Lordship will visit Toronto in a day or two, so he says.

It has been known that Col. O'Brien, M.P., has declined for personal reasons the command of this year's Wimbledon team. It is expected that Col. Macdonald of the 66th Battalion, Halifax, will be the commander.

The House spent another couple of hours in supply to-day. It was eminently a sitting of talk.

Sir George Stephen and Sir Donald A. Smith returned to the Capital to-day. It is understood they will take a prominent part in settling the Manitoba difficulty as far as it affects the Canadian Pacific Railway. Mr. VanHorne is in British Columbia.

Toronto and Hamilton are well represented at the Capital to-day by prominent business people.

Sir Charles Tupper placed a motion in the order paper to-day that on Monday he will introduce a bill respecting a certain treaty between Her Majesty's Government and the United States.

THE BURLINGTON STRIKE.

United States Courts Take a Hand—The Interstate Commerce Law.

CHICAGO, March 9.—A despatch received at the headquarters of the Burlington system in Chicago this afternoon from the General Manager of the Burlington and Missouri Railroad at Omaha says:

"Judge Dundy of the United States Court has this day issued an order requiring the Union Pacific Railway Company to take our business in accordance with the Interstate Commerce Law and restraining the engineers of the Union Pacific Company from refusing to take our business. Also restraining the engineers from striking, combining or confederating for the purpose of organizing or advising a strike."

Will Handle Burlington Freight.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 9.—The St. Paul and Duluth road has decided to handle Burlington freight, and a strike by the engineers is reported imminent at St. Paul.

OUR MINERAL WEALTH.

Locked up in Nature's Store-House.

How Commercial Union Would Affect Its Mining—The Subject Treated in Exhaustive Form.

The subject of mining in Ontario is at present attracting increased attention, and the public will read with interest whatever throws light on the subject. The following paper was read by Mr. T. D. Ledyard, a Conservative citizen of Toronto, before the Commercial Union Club of that city, upon the advantages unrestricted Reciprocity would bring to the development of our mineral resources:

A meeting of the Toronto Commercial Union Club was held on Friday evening in Association hall, when the following paper on the mining interests of Canada was read by Mr. T. D. Ledyard. After a few introductory words, Mr. Ledyard said: In considering the mining interests of a country, coal and iron are by far the most important. These minerals are at the foundation of England's greatness, and nature favors any country in which they are found in abundance. They do not enrich any individual or set of men so much as they benefit the whole community. Coal, however, except in the case of coke, undergoes no change until it passes into consumption, requiring only mining and transporting before it reaches the consumer; but iron requires the labor of many hands at every stage, and its value is multiplied many fold before it reaches its consumer. Take steel rails, for instance, which is only one case out of many; one and a half tons of high grade iron ore are required to make a ton of steel rails. This ore costs, say, $3 to mine, but the ton of steel rails is worth at least $30. That is, the value of steel rails is ten times the value of the ore which made them, showing that nine-tenths of their cost is distributed in the labor of smelting the ore, the cost of fuel and of transportation, and in the different processes they undergo until the perfect steel rails are produced. By far the greater proportion of this is expended in labor, and therefore it is that iron and steel manufacture benefits a country more than any other. For this reason the state of the iron trade is the financial barometer of a country's prosperity; if the iron trade is prosperous wages are good and freely distributed, and other lines of business take their cue from it. My remarks will, therefore, be chiefly confined to our iron interests.

THE SPANISH MINES NEARLY EXHAUSTED.

Here is one very important point in considering the Canadian ore question. While our grain markets are being cut off by Indian and Russian wheat, our ores are likely to be required at an early date. England derives most of her bessemer ore from Spain, from whence also the United States gets the greater part of their imported ores. For some time past reports have appeared showing that the Spanish ore deposits cannot last much longer. Recently a statement has been published that the Campanil district, one of the most important, has very much reduced its production, and that before long it will cease altogether. The exhaustion of Spanish ores will produce far-reaching consequences; if England were deprived of these ores she could no longer produce the cheap steel she now manufactures, and a great and radical change must take place. When the Spanish ores are exhausted (and a very few years must see the end of them) no part of the world will offer greater inducements for the manufacture of steel than our own Canada, and if a sufficient market is opened to her, there is no reason why this country should not become a large producer of iron and steel, and obtain a share of that prosperity which naturally follows. In that case it would not be at all surprising to see some of the large English iron manufacturers transplanting their works to Canada. We should then have an opportunity of seeing how far their loyalty goes; the boot would then be on the other leg. I am very much mistaken if these same English manufacturers, having transplanted their business to Canada, would not be the most enthusiastic Commercial Unionists of us all. This is no visionary dream, for already English manufacturers are looking towards Canada; within the last few months I have had several enquiries from England regarding our ores and iron mines.

EFFECTS OF THE UNITED STATES DUTY.

There is at present a duty of 75c. per ton on all iron ore entering the United States; this, of itself, is a handsome profit on mining iron ore, and even 50c. per ton is a good profit on the whole output of a large iron mine. The duty of 75c. per ton then prevents many iron deposits from being worked. There are some large beds of very pure ore so favorably situated that they will pay in spite of the duty, but these are comparatively few. The opponents of Commercial Union tell us that we have the Canadian market; this is true, but the Canadian market does not amount to much; 300,000 tons of pig-iron is about the annual consumption of Canada, requiring about 500,000 tons of ore; half a dozen good mines would produce this, in fact two of the leading mines in Michigan would easily do it. The Chapin mine on the Menominee Range last year produced over 330,000 tons, and the Cornwall mines in Lebanon County, Penn. put out in 1887 the enormous quantity of 700,000 tons, or over 2,000 tons a day for every working day throughout the year. One single furnace company in the States, "The North Chicago Rolling Mills Co.," uses 1,700 tons of ore a day, as much as would supply the whole of Canada.

A LIMITED HOME MARKET.

Our market, besides being so small, is very much scattered, and distance tells heavily in the transportation of iron. In Nova Scotia iron and coal occur in close proximity, and there is every facility for cheap iron manufacture, but where is their market? The freight to Montreal is high, still higher to Toronto and prohibitory to Winnipeg. The natural market for Nova Scotia coal and iron is, of course, in the Eastern States, and the market for British Columbia coal and iron is in the Pacific States, and did not the tariff prevent it a great trade would be done, to the mutual benefit of both countries.

RICHNESS OF CANADIAN IRON ORE.

During the year 1887 the United States used 13,350,000 tons of iron ore, of which 12,000,000 was produced from their own mines, and one million and a quarter imported mostly from Spain, but very little from Canada. The ores imported from Spain are of Bessemer quality, and very free from impurities, but are not so rich in iron as some of our Canadian ores, the average Spanish ore not yielding more than 50 to 55 per cent of iron, while some of our ores run as high as 62 to 67 per cent of metallic iron. Under reciprocity with the States a great part of these Spanish ores would be replaced by Canadian to the great advantage both of our neighbors and ourselves. The advantage to the United States blast furnaces in importing Spanish and other Bessemer ores from Europe is that at certain points on the Atlantic coast, or contiguous to Atlantic ports, these ores can be laid down cheaper than Lake Superior Bessemer ores. The advantage is simply in the cheapness of these foreign ores; they give employment to no one in the United States, either in mining or in transportation to the Atlantic ports, as they are generally brought over as ballast in foreign vessels. Whereas, if the duty were removed from Canadian ores, these could be delivered from the Ontario iron districts to good distributing points on the lakes, such as Charlotte, Fairhaven, Buffalo, Cleveland, Fairport or Ashtabula, cheaper than Spanish ores can be imported and American cars and railways would have the carrying of them.

CONVENIENT LOCATION OF ONTARIO'S MINES.

Ontario has large deposits of excellent Bessemer ore so situated that it can be delivered at Buffalo very cheaply. Go down to the Esplanade and walk from the Don to the western boundary of the city along the railway tracks, and any day you will see hundreds of coal cars which come here from the coal regions of the United States laden with coal, some of which go east to Belleville, perhaps further, and some north-east to Lindsay, but after unloading their coal they mostly go back empty. Now, when these cars are at Belleville or Lindsay they are not far from our Bessemer iron ores, which they could take back as return freight, and deliver at furnaces in Pennsylvania, close to their destination. A large trade would be done in this way if there was no duty; our iron mines that are now lying idle would be developed, benefitting our back country more than anything else, giving employment to numbers of miners, a good market to the farmers in the neighbourhood, as well as business to the storekeepers.

COMMERCIAL UNION DISCUSSED.

This trade would also benefit the United States, for in consideration of the great question of Commercial Union we should not look at it only from our own standpoint, but should see how it will affect our neighbours. Buffalo is now becoming an important distributing point for iron ores, and will be still more so in the future; ores are delivered there by vessels from Lake Superior and distributed by rail to furnaces in Pennsylvania. Lake Superior ores are taken from the mines to Marquette, Ashland or Two Harbours on Lake Superior, or to Escanaba on Lake Michigan, and then shipped by boat a distance probably of over 1,000 miles to Buffalo, whence they are again transhipped to railways which carry them to the furnaces, thus necessitating three different handlings, and this route being open only during the season of navigation. But our ore districts in Central and Northeast Ontario are within 250 miles of Buffalo, from whence our ores can be delivered by rail all the year round in returning coal cars, which can be run direct to the mines without going much out of their way, and from thence run through to the furnaces without transhipment and with only one handling. The return freight of ore is so much additional business to the American cars and railway companies, as well as to our own railways, and the furnaces can get cheaper Bessemer ore much closer to them than Lake Superior.

THE DUTY THE CHIEF DIFFICULTY.

I have been endeavouring for some time to find markets for our ore in the United States, but it has been very up-hill work, the duty being the chief difficulty. There has also been in the past considerable prejudice against Canadian ore; for this, I will freely admit there has been some ground. While we have excellent ores, we have also some poor ores containing objectional matter. Through ignorance partly, and perhaps sometimes through dishonesty, these bad ores have been sent to the other side; there are places through some parts of our mineral districts where the ore contains titanium, the worst enemy to iron ore. These ores should never have been touched, but in some instances they have been sent to American furnaces for trial, only resulting in their condemnation and in giving the furnace men the impression that our ores are titaniferous.

UNFAIR STATEMENTS ABOUT OUR MINES.

Sulphur is also an objectionable element, and some of our mines, as in nearly all iron districts, contain too much sulphur. Injury has been done to our interests by ores too high in sulphur having been shipped. Some of the United States mine owners have not been slow to circulate the statement that all Canadian ores contain titanium and sulphur, but nothing is more unfair than to condemn a whole country, and especially such a mineral country as Canada, where the ore districts extend for hundreds of miles, because objectionable ore is found in some parts. There is bad ore in almost every iron district. Titaniferous ore is found in Minnesota, on the north shore of Lake Superior, not far from the district where "The Minnesota Iron Co." produces the very best Bessemer ore, and similarly, ores too high in phosphorus and sulphur are found in the Marquette and Menominee districts, not far from the most celebrated mines of pure ore. It is most unfair, therefore, to give our ores a bad name, because in some parts of our vast mineral districts are to be found some objectionable matters. Not only owners of American mines have spread these reports, but some of our own people are much too quick to condemn the products of their own country. People who know nothing about the subject have told me that our ores are no good, but strangely enough these are generally the opponents of Commercial Union, who claim to themselves all the loyalty in the country. It is a queer loyalty which refuses to recognize whatever is good among our own productions.

NASAL BALM FOR

COLD IN HEAD

—AND—

CATARRH.

There is no disease to which Canadians are more subject than Catarrh—all ages and sex alike are numbered among the sufferers. It is impossible in the limit of a short newspaper article to describe the symptoms fully, but they may be briefly summarized: Cold in the head, difficulty in breathing, hawking and spitting, headache, pains in the region over the eye, stoppage of nasal passages, foul breath, droppings into the throat causing nausea and sometimes vomiting, poisonous secretions accumulating in the lungs leading to consumption. These are but a few of the many symptoms of Catarrh, a disease which affects 7-10 of our Canadian population. NASAL BALM is the only CERTAIN and POSITIVE CURE for this loathsome disease in all its forms and stages. NASAL BALM is the result of years of careful study, and is prepared with a view to radically cure those cases of catarrh, to which Canadians are most subject. It is not a liquid snuff or cauterizing powder, but a pleasant, never failing remedy, requiring no instrument or douche for its use. Easy to use, instantaneous in its effects, permanent in its cures. Ask for Nasal Balm and take no substitute of whatever name. For Cold in the Head there is no better remedy on earth to equal Nasal Balm. Do not neglect a cold in the head for in nine cases out of ten it will lead to Catarrh. Use Nasal Balm upon the first symptoms. This wonderful remedy affords instant relief and cures within a few hours. It can be used for the youngest child as well as for adults, and as a precautionary measure should be kept in every household. For sale by all druggists or sent in receipt of price (50c. and $1.00 per bottle) by addressing FULFORD & CO., Brockville.

PROOF OF ITS MARVELLOUS EFFICACY.

An Unequalled Remedy.

J. McKee, druggist, Peterborough, says:—Nasal Balm gives the most general satisfaction to consumers of any preparation I ever handled. My sales are large and the reports from those who use it, fully substantiate your claims for the medicine as an unequalled remedy for catarrh in the head.

Worth Ten Times its Cost.

T. W. Hunt Port Hope says: I was a sufferer from a long standing case of catarrh and being well up in years (78) hardly expected to ever obtain anything that would give me material or permanent relief. At the time of receiving Nasal Balm I was very bad with catarrh, but take great pleasure in stating that on the second application I obtained wonderful relief and its effect was pleasant, soothing and healing. It acted like magic and is worth ten times its cost for the immediate relief it gives. I feel confident the second bottle will effect a permanent cure. I have recommended Nasal Balm for cold in the head and in every case it acts like a charm.

Acts Like a Charm.

John Foster Raymond says:—Nasal Balm acts like a charm for my catarrh. I have only used it a short time and I now feel better than at any period during the last seven years. In fact I am sure of a cure and at a very small expense.

w&w

Feels Like a New Man.

A. E. Fish, merchant, Belleville, states: I take great pleasure in recommending your Nasal Balm to any one troubled with that dreadful disease, catarrh. I have been troubled with it for the past fifteen years, and can say candidly that I never had anything that gave me half so much relief as your Nasal Balm. I have only used two bottles and I feel like a new man.

Beats the World.

D. Derbyshire, president Ontario Creamery Association, Brockville, says: Nasal Balm beats the world for catarrh and cold in the head. In my own case it effected relief from the first application.

$1.00 for 50 cents.

Capt. D. H. Lyon, manager and proprietor of the C. P. R. and R. W. & O. R. car ferry Prescott, and Ogdensburg N. Y. says: I used Nasal Balm for a prolonged case of cold in the head. Two applications effected a complete and thorough cure in less than 24 hours. I would not take $100 for my bottle of Nasal Balm if I could not replace it.

It Never Fails.

Ex Mayor Bowie, Brockville, Ont., says: I used Nasal Balm for a bad case of catarrh and it cured me, after having tried many other remedies. It never fails to give immediate relief for cold in the head.

SHOOTING AFFRAY AT ALLISTON.

Two Men Seriously Wounded While Executing a Scott Act Prisoner.

ALLISTON, March 9.—Two Scott Act constables, named Morrison and Hanks, arrested here to-day Patrick Nolan on a warrant issued by Magistrate Carter for an offence committed at Tottenham during the summer. Patrick Carroll and Dominick Foley attempted to rescue the prisoner and succeeded. The constables then arrested these two men, but they freed themselves and ran away followed by the constables. The latter drew their revolvers and commenced firing, discharging seven shots, one of which took effect in Carroll's neck near the jugular vein. Foley was also shot in the arm, the bullet glancing into his wrist. Neither of the wounded men is expected to recover. Foley is a bus driver for the Revere House and Carroll an hotelkeeper. Neither is married.

The two constables were arrested and placed in the lockup. The excitement was intense and threats of burning down the lock-up were freely indulged in. To prevent this twenty special constables were sworn in by Police Magistrate Gray. Bail was refused the prisoners.

Trouble is anticipated to-morrow, when some Scott Act cases come up for trial.

9.30 p.m.—The doctors have been unable as yet to find the bullets on either of the wounded men. Both are doing fairly well, but the medical men will not yet say what their chances of recovery are.

A MISSING ALABAMAN.

The Ambitious City Searched For Him—Ex-Chief Stewart Robbed.

HAMILTON, March 9.—Dr. J. G. Ott of Philadelphia arrived in this city this morning in search of his brother, H. C. Ott, who came here some weeks ago from Alabama, and who left that state without telling his friends of his intention. He imagined he was a defaulter to the extent of $10,000 as manager of an iron company. His present whereabouts are unknown.

While in Albany, N.Y., ex-Chief Stewart had a cornelian breast-pin, a gold Masonic finger-ring, with an engraving upon it, and a Masonic royal arch charm, also with an inscription, stolen from him.

Capt. Hardy left here yesterday for New York, where he will take passage on one of the Inman Line steamers for Liverpool, and thence to Glasgow, where he will select his crew and start about May 1 with the new steel steamer Macassa for Hamilton.

COUNTERFEITERS AT PORT HURON.

A Gang of Queer-Shavers and a Complete Outfit of Tools Captured.

PORT HURON, Mich., March 9.—The police made a raid on a house on Seventh-street last night and arrested Wm. Slocum and Mrs. Slocum of this city and Pete Greenwood and wife of Wallaceburg, Ont., who were here visiting the Slocums. The officers found molds, labels, metals, acid and a complete counterfeiters' outfit; also a cigar box full of counterfeit 25-cent pieces.

They also secured a memorandum book showing transactions between the Slocums and Bescroft, Ernest and Mack, who were arrested here some months ago for counterfeiting. There were memorandums showing several Port Huron saloon-keepers were handling the bogus money.

Rt. Hon. Joe Was Safeguarded.

NEW YORK, March 9.—Now that Mr. Chamberlain is clear of American soil, particulars are forthcoming showing how persistently detectives shadowed him. Wherever he took his walks abroad or abode in his temporary tent, otherwise hotel or club, his sworn protectors hovered around. Ere he landed they were at his elbow and sleeping or waking, working or at leisure, like a providence overshadowed him. Sleepless as an avenging spirit, though from diametrically opposite motives, these men who might be regarded as his "double," accompanied him from place to place and earned the $2000 which Secretary Bayard has expended in the service. The States could not afford the odium and imprecations which would have as surely followed had evil befallen the Right Honorable Joe.

The Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, March 9.—The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days, as reported to Dun, Wiman & Co., number for the United States 195 and for Canada 58, or a total of 253 as compared with a total of 244 last week and 270 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week last year the figures were: United States 203; Canada 26, total 229.

To Cure a Corn.

There is no lack of so called cures for the common ailment known as corns. The vegetable, animal, and mineral kingdoms have been ransacked for cures. It is a simple matter to remove corns without pain, for if you will go to any druggist or medicine dealer and buy a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor and apply it as directed the thing is done. Get "Putnam's" and no other. 6dw10

One Good Point

Out of the many possessed by Burdock Blood Bitters is that it may be taken at all seasons of the year, and by either young or old. In this way the three busy R's are always at work and doing good. 2w10d

Warming Water for Stock.

The practice of warming water for stock, especially milch cows and animals being fattened, is growing every year in sections where the winters are long and cold. An Iowa advocate for warming water for stock describes plan which he has found both cheap and easy. The cut illustrates the heater used by the Iowa advocate, and said to do the work effectively, at the minimum cost of construction and running. It is made of galvanized iron. A is a cylinder twenty inches in diameter and eight inches high, provided with a four inch smoke pipe the longer one as shown in the cut) C, made long enough to carry off the smoke, and feeding pipe, B, eight inches in diameter, and high enough to come just above the edge of the water tank, in which it is to be set. This must be soldered absolutely water tight, and can be made by any tinner at a cost of from $2 to $2.50. A cover must be made to fit over pipe B, but supplied with a small hole, for slight draft.

HEATER FOR WARMING WATER.

Next take a kerosene or other strong cask of equal size, and saw off one end, making a tub ten inches deep. Inside measure. Set this tub in your water tank, put the heater in the tub and secure the latter by a movable cross piece, which must press firmly on the tub's edge and be held in place by projections on the inner side of the tank. Now fill the tank, tub and all, full of water, the heater being totally submerged, which must always be kept so while there is a fire in it. Put some live coals in the heater, drop in some kindling, and then some short, hard bits of wood or soft coal; after the fire gets well started put the cover on pipe, B, and the fire will burn slowly, but will heat very rapidly, for the reason that not a particle of heat is radiated except through the water.

Depend Upon It.

Accidents will happen despite all care and painful injuries such as Sprains, Bruises, Cuts and Burns result. Every family should therefore keep Hagyard's Yellow Oil on hand, it is the greatest family remedy for all Pains, Coughs, Colds and sore Throat, Croup and Whooping Cough yield quickly to this excellent remedy. 2w10d

Books vs. Experience.

Books are useful to add to our knowledge, but practical experience teaches us that the best remedy for all diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Blood is easily to be had and is called B. B. B. 2w10d

Well Worth Trying.

A medicine which has stood the test of time for many years and always given the best of satisfaction as has Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam is certainly well worth trying for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness and all Throat troubles for which it is so highly recommended. 2w10d

Well Spoken Of.

"I can recommend Hagyard's Yellow Oil very highly, it cured me of rheumatism in my fingers when I could not bend them." Ida Plank, Strathroy, Ont. A medicine for external and internal use in all painful complaints. 2w10d

ANOTHER WONDER!

It never was intended so far as I can learn,
That either man or woman were intended to be bald.
I think you will believe me, indeed I'm sure you will,
If at the "Paris Hair Works" you have called

There is one thing Nature thinks of—let us thank her s'll we can—
She takes particular trouble with our race;
She knows a scanty growth of hair, the grey and whitening locks,
Will detract from the beauty of the face.

But Nature has her laws so strict that you must never err,
For you'll surely pay the penalty at last,
Sustain it, that bounteous head o. hair,
Doctor Dorenwend's Hair Magic's unsurpassed.

Just try it, yo t afflicted, you never will regret,
The Magic was never ye known to fail
And the good that it will do you will make you soon forget
The expenditure a bottle will entail.

This now famous preparation for invigorating and stimulating the growth of the hair is universally accepted as the most valuable specific on the market. All diseases of the scalp are either relieved or permanently cured. A rich and rapid growth of hair will follow after judicious and regular treatment. It remains with the user alone to secure the desired results. Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" is sold by all druggists at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. If not obtainable in your own locality send direct to the sole manufacturer, enclosing price. A. DORENWEND, Paris Hair Works, 103 and 105 Yonge street, Toronto. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists. dw

BANKERS—Bank of Toronto and Canadian Bank of Commerce.
SOLICITORS—Dumble & Leonard.

TO DEPOSITORS—Deposits are received by this Company both on current account and for periods of one year or longer. The rate of interest paid on amount deposited on current account and which may be withdrawn by check in such sums as the depositor may from time to time require, is four per cent., either paid or compounded half yearly, and the rate on yearly deposits is five per cent.

TO INVESTORS—The five and ten years five per cent. debentures of this Company which are issued in denominations of $100, $200, $500 and $1,000 each, transferable by endorsement, with half-yearly interest coupons attached, payable at the Head Office of the Company in Peterborough, or at any Branch of the Bank of Toronto in Canada, afford a safe and convenient mode of investment.

The funds of the Company being invested with the utmost care and precaution, no better security can be offered to depositors or debenture-holders, they having a first claim or mortgage on the whole Assets of the Company, the Shareholders having the second. The last audit shows that the amount so invested was over $1,310,223.69, and on securities of at least double that value.

By the Laws of Ontario, Trustees, Executors and Administrators may deposit Trust Funds of the estates which they control in this Company, and are free from all further liability, a privilege of which many have largely availed themselves.

TO BORROWERS—Money is obtainable from this Company on approved Real Estate Security at the Lowest Current Rates of Interest. The Mortgage may be repaid by yearly instalments or otherwise, as may be agreed upon, the interest ceasing at once on all amounts paid on account of the sum borrowed. Applications may be made either to the Head Office, or to any of the agents.

SAILSBURY'S.

The Daily Examiner.

SATURDAY, MARCH 10, 1888.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Southeast and south winds; partly cloudy to cloudy, mild weather with rain or sleet; colder west and northwest winds to-morrow.

It is Coming.

Husbands may as well make up their minds to the fact that house-cleaning is coming Winter has lost its grip, the birds are coming back; Morse's mottled soap, and scrubbing brushes proclaim its advent. Spring millinery is looking up, new dresses demand the attention of the damsels, and the young man is devising ways and means for a new spring suit; and he will find the finest lot of imported material—new Scotch tweeds, suitings and pantings, etc.—and the best of satisfaction in all ordered goods at the golden lion.

A Terrible Fall.

A young man named Benjamin Jinks, an employe of the Auburn Woolen Co., fell down the elevator shaft at the mills Friday afternoon. He was unloading the elevator of wool in the fourth story, and had gone a short distance away with an armful, when in his absence the elevator was lowered to the bottom story. Unaware of this he returned and accidentally fell down the shaft, a distance of 60 or 70 feet. Strange to say his only serious injuries were two fractures of his left arm. It is a wonder he was not killed. Dr. Halliday is attending the sufferer.

An Overwhelming Joy.

Says the genial editor of the Congressional Globe of Mr. Eli Perkins, who will be in Peterborough on the 23rd:—We never, but once, experienced more real genuine pleasure than when this man (Mr. Perkins) closed his remarks. That occasion was when we won the affections of a beautiful young lady, and gained a mother-in-law—and then saw that mother-in-law sweetly and serenely pass away.

Almost a Fire.

Friday evening about half past six o'clock, a lamp exploded in the boot and shoe shop of Mr. J. Miller, corner of George and McDonnel streets, and for a time it was feared the building would be destroyed. The flaming oil spread over the floor and window frame, threatening distruction to the entire shop. By the presence of mind and activity of Mr. Miller, assisted by a couple of gentlemen who were near the place when the explosion occurred, the flames were extinguished by means of a few shovels of snow.

A Correction.

The EXAMINER has received the following letter:—

Springville, March 6th, 1888.

DEAR SIR,—Meeting of Peterborough Presbytery will be at 10 o'clock a.m., on Tuesday; not at 1 p.m., as stated in a late issue. Please correct.

WM. BENNETT,
Pres. Clerk.

Reduced Fares for Norwood.

The Norwood Oddfellows were in town today and made arrangements with Mr. J. P. Dunn, of the C. P. R. for reduced fare—one and one-third fare for return tickets next Tuesday. Good to go by mid-day or evening train to the concert on Tuesday. All who go can avail themselves of this reduction by getting tickets at the station ticket office.

The Horse Market.

Water street, near Cavanagh's hotel, was a busy mart to-day. Horse-buying was the order of business and a good many hundred dollars changed hands. As the result of the purchases this week and to-day by Mr. Lefevre, of Montreal, and Mr. Cavanagh, a carload of eighteen horses was shipped this morning and two carloads will be shipped this evening.

Bounding a Bovine.

Friday afternoon the engine of the Lakefield train, while rushing at a rapid rate through Auburn, struck a cow which was on the track and tossed her a long distance, breaking two of her legs and doing other serious injuries. The animal had to be killed.

Masonic Concert.

The Masonic bodies of Peterborough, will give a concert in their spacious rooms, Tuesday evening 3rd April prox. As the Masons do everything well this will doubtless be the best concert of the season.

Mr. D. W. Dumble will deliver an address in the Y.M.C.A. Hall to morrow evening at half past eight. The Male Quartette will lead the singing. All young men are invited.

Sugars.

Another cargo of sugars received at the Palace Grocery, good values. Elliott & Tierney's Japan at 30c. and black tea at 50c. is without doubt the best value in Peterborough.

Tipped his Thumb.

Friday afternoon Mr. George Bagnley had the top of his thumb taken off by a tin-cutting machine in his father's shop on Hunter street. The wound is a very painful one.

Oyster Rooms Open.

J.C. Craig has opened out his two comfortable oyster parlors on George street, where the delicious bivalves will be served up at all hours, in any style desired. Drop in and try Johnny's stews. Steaks, mutton chops and tea and coffee served until 12 o'clock at night. d

Imperial Federation League.

The public are invited to attend the meeting of the Peterborough branch of the Imperial Federation League on Monday evening, the 12th, of March, at 8 o'clock, in the Forester's Hall, George St., opposite the Golden Lion. There will be a paper by Mr. J. H. Burnham in favor of the principles of the League, and another by Mr. Wm Beatty advocating Annexation. 2d59

Baptist Church Missions.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Mission Circle of the Baptist church was held on the evening of the 8th inst. There was a good attendance of ladies. Mrs. Aldridge presided, and, after devotional exercises, gave an address.

Miss Nicholls, secretary, read a report showing the year's work to have been important.

Miss Ada Aldridge read the report of the Mission Band in connection with the society, and Miss McDonald, for Mrs. McKee, treasurer, read her report, showing the contributions of the society for home and foreign missions to have been considerably increased.

The pastor, Rev. Mr. Parker, received a report from the lady visitors of No. 3 and 4 wards, and from the Ashburnham districts, showing all members and adherents of the church in these sections to have been visited during the month.

The election of officers for the ensuing year took place as follows:—

PRESIDENTS—Mrs. Parker, home missions; Mrs. Gilmour, foreign missions.

VICE-PRESIDENTS—Mrs. Aldridge and Mrs. Hutchinson.

SECRETARY—Mrs. Kincaid.

TREASURER—Mrs. H. Grundy.

Sympathetic reference was made to Mrs. Webber, one of the members of the society, and resolutions expressive of the sympathy of those present with Mrs. Gilmour and Mrs. John McKee, officers of the circle, in their long affliction, were also passed.

The meeting closed with the benediction.

Don't Hawk, Spit, Cough,

suffer dizziness, indigestion, inflammation of the eyes, headache, lassitude, inability to perform mental work and indisposition for bodily labor, and annoy and disgust your friends and acquaintances with your nasal twang and offensive breath and constant efforts to clean your nose and throat, when Dr. Sage's "Catarrh Remedy" will promptly relieve you of discomfort and suffering, and your friends of the disgusting and needless infliction of your loathesome disease? b

A DUAL "DIVERSION."

A Double Barrelled Carnival at the Rink.

The Canton's Third Carnival Another Success—An Afternoon and Evening of Pleasure—Lists of the Costumes and Prize Winners.

Once again has the merry masquerade held sway at the rink, and once again has the Canton scored a success in the way of public entertainment. This was the third and last carnival of the season, and in order to make it a fitting climax to their past efforts, they determined to devote both afternoon and evening to the saturnalian sport—with what success those who attended can testify. The attendance on the whole was most gratifying, that of the evening of course being the larger. The costumes comprised some of the most strikingly beautiful ever seen on the ice in Peterborough.

THE AFTERNOON.

It was a matter of surprise to all to observe the number of remarkably elegant dresses in which the children appeared; and as they flitted over the ice their many anxious mamas watched their movements and compared their costumes with the rest, each one assuring herself that her child at least ought to get the prize. A representation of a calla lily, by little Helen Boucher, and Maud Macfarlane as "Princess," were certainly deserving of prizes among the girls—but there were a number of others, perhaps equally meritorious, and the judges experienced great difficulty in making a choice at all. There were fairies, gypsy queens, princesses, butterflies, flower girls, etc.—all elegant costumes.

Among the boys, Andrew Howson was certainly deserving of first prize for his characterization of King George III. Other costumes worthy of notice were Masters Ernie Brown and Bertie Moore as Knights of the Red Cross, and Masters C.D. Macfarlane, W. Poussette and F. VanEvery as Pages. There were a couple of Uncle Sams to fraternize with the Union Jack, cricketers and baseballists, Hindoos and Arabs, et al. A comic costume worn by R. Claxton, "The Latest Craze," was a neat piece of handiwork. Following is a list of prize-winners as decided upon by the judges—Miss Halliday, Mrs. W. E. Sherwood and Miss Burnham, of Cobourg:—

PRIZE LIST.

Best dressed Girl in Fancy Costume—Enlarged photograph of the winner in costume size 18 x 22, by P. H. Green.—Mamie Boucher, as "Catherine Seaton."

The prize for comic costume (the "Girls' Own Annual") was not awarded for that purpose, as there were no comic costumes on the ice. It was given as a special prize to Eva Strain, as "Maid of the Canton."

Smallest Girl on skates—Large wax doll, size, as large as the winner.—Mamie McNeil.

Best dressed Boy in Fancy Costume—Handsome stem winding watch.—Andrew Howson, "George III."

Best dressed Boy in Comic Costume—Large magic lantern with one dozen views.—R. Cluxton, "Latest Craze."

Smallest Boy on skates—Brass drum.—Bertie Stock.

Boys' race three times around the rink—Hat.—Ernie Roper.

The Evening.

Again at eight o'clock the band struck up and in a moment the ice was covered with a moving throng of bright colors and grotesque shapes. The electric lights shone brilliantly and revealed to the hundreds of spectators in the galleries the beautiful decorations and kaleidoscopic masquerade below. As at the other carnivals, obliging gentlemen looked after the clothing of skaters, while in the refreshment room hot coffee and lunch could be secured.

The costumes were varied indeed. The cowboy and negro element were rather less conspicuous than usual, and the "old woman" and "Biddy" were scarcely to be seen at all. "Dudes," jockeys, clowns, athletes, etc., were quite numerous, but the majority of the costumes were really fine. Among the ladies it would be difficult to find room for comment — all were, as is usually the case, of a high order. Among the gentlemen, besides the prize-winners, Mr. W. Sailsbury, as "Don"; F. Irwin, as "Romeo" and Jas. Noble, as "Prince of Denmark," were elegant costumes. In the comic line, Messrs. Logan and Mercer, as the "Italian and his Bear," constituted the funny element of the evening. They occupied the middle ice and were always surrounded by a crowd of laughing people watching their antics. Mr. Jas. Baker had an excellent representation of a monkey. Following is the

PRIZE LIST.

Best dressed Lady in Fancy Costume—Dessert set mounted in silver.—Miss Hagerman, "Gipsy Fortune Teller."

Best dressed Lady in Comic Costume—Brass plaque hand painted with clock.—Annie McCarthy, "Gipsy Queen."

Best dressed Gentleman in Fancy Costume—A handsome piece of bronze statuary representing a Spanish scene.—A. E. Thompson, "Charles I."

Best dressed Gentleman in Comic Costume—A comical piece of mechanism representing "I have only been down to the club."—W. Logan, "Bear."

Best representation of the president of the lime juice club, the Times for one year, was given as a special prize to Mr. Fred. Quick (Bowmanville) as "Soldier of the Black Watch."

Barrel race through three barrels—Handsome inlaid box of paints.—B. Hudson, who won over two other competitors.

Boys' race five times around the rink—Mechanical steam engine.—K. McClelland. There were four entries.

Following is a list of the costumes:—

NOTES.

The judges in the evening were Hon. R. and Mrs. Hamilton, Mr. J. H. Burnham, Mrs. W. E. Sherwood and Mrs. (Judge) Weller.

The Canton headed by the band, paraded the streets in the evening.

The influence of band music at a carnival was easily seen Friday night. The instant the band struck up everyone started to skate, and a perfect crush resulted until the music ceased.

Carpenters in Council.

The Importance of Organization Laid before Them—Steps taken to Form a Local Union.

There was a large gathering of the carpenters of Peterborough assembled in the Roller Rink, Friday evening to listen to an address delivered by Mr. John Kane, of Toronto, on the subject of organization of carpenters into a Union in the interests of the trade. Among the auditors were several representatives of other mechanical occupations. Mr. T. M. D. Croly was voted to the chair.

Mr. Kane who has been visiting Montreal Quebec and Belleville in the interests of the "Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America" addressed the meeting, pointing out in a simple and clear manner the many benefits and advantages of organization. Other trades organized and they were in a better condition than the carpenters. If the carpenters of Toronto had been organized they would have

HAD THEIR JUST DEMANDS MET.

The objects of organization were defined. One was to prevent the practice of piecework, whose abuse was one of the causes of the low condition of the trade. These small jobbers might make something on the first contract by working long hours and the effect was to lower the rate of wages of journeymen, by the cutting of prices between competitors. Another object was to establish a proper system of indenture for apprentices. Mr. Kane asserted that there was not one regularly indentured apprentice in Toronto. This adopted, there would be fewer jay-hawkers and hatchet carpenters to compete with properly qualified carpenters. The bosses were not to be blamed for getting the cheapest labour they could. They won't set a higher value upon labour of carpenters than the latter do themselves. By organization they would be able to place their own value on their own work and get it too. Another object was to encourage a higher standard of skill, and develop a feeling of brotherhood—all carpenters would help and befriend each other, and, therefore, themselves. A member of the carpenters union could travel anywhere in America and find friends and work, if there was any. Another object was the reduction of the hours of labor. Ten per cent. of the carpenters was out of employment, and if the hours were reduced from ten to nine per day, employment would be provided for the idle. When men were idle and their families hungry they could not be blamed for nor the bosses for taking cheap men. With the hours of labor reduced there would be work for all, and, therefore, no chance for bosses to use idle men to reduce wages. Machinery caused a large displacement of labor, and this would be remedied by reducing the hours of labour. Organization would better the social condition of carpenters and enable them to better fulfil their duties as husbands and fathers. It was pointed out that the Brotherhood of Carpenters was a democratic institution where there were no big salaried offices. It was organized in 1881. There were now 45,000 members and in five years it had paid out in death and disability benefits more than $45,000 and over $30,000 in sick benefits, that is, about $100,000 paid out in five years, and the cost of membership was only nominal—$1.00 for entrance and 25 cents per month for dues. For this small annual payment every member gets $300 accident benefit, $200 death benefit, and $50 funeral benefit for his wife in case of death, at rates far cheaper than any Insurance Company in the world, besides getting all the benefits of the organization to his trade. The speaker spoke very plainly and dispassionately, said nothing harsh about the bosses, but encouraged carpenters to organize to secure their rights.

At the conclusion of the address a resolution was unanimously adopted in favour of forming a Union in Peterborough.

In a very short time seventeen names were affixed to the application, which will at once be forwarded to Philadelphia.

A meeting for organization will be held in the Knights of Labour Hall, Water street, to-night, when it is thought the membership will be largely increased.

To Workingmen

A Word with you. Do you comprehend the importance of our ANNUAL CLEARING SALE? Do you realize how you and your family can be benefited by taking advantage of this great opportunity? Do you know that you can now buy yourself or your children an OVERCOAT or a SUIT for less money than ever before? We have Overcoats for $5.00, well made and trimmed, and a big assortment of OVERCOATS FOR ONLY $6.00. The last named are Coats that are sold during the regular season for $8.00, and that other dealers asked as high as $10.00 and $12.00 for. They are well made, of good materials, and just the thing for teamsters and others engaged in out-door work. Our higher price Overcoats have all been correspondingly reduced, as we are bound to close them out.

In SUITS we can offer you the choice of the largest assortment to be found, and at prices lower than ever before offered. We can sell you a good Suit for $5.00. Think of that—Coat, Vest and Pants all for $5.00—a good, serviceable Suit: while for $7.00, $9.00 or $12.00 we can give you greater value for your money than you can possibly obtain elsewhere.

In our BOYS' and CHILDRENS' DEPARTMENT we are offering parents extraordinary inducements. We invite special attention to our OVERCOATS and SUITS. Both will give good satisfaction, and for bargains cannot be equalled by another dealer.

So make your purchases at once if you wish to save money.

The Dominion Bell ORGANS.

WE wish to call your attention to the benefit derived from the

that has lately been added to the above Organs. This improvement has been a long felt necessity, and one which has never been successfully solved before by any Organ Companies until the patent was secured for the above Companies directly from the Inventor.

Other Organ Companies advertise their organs moore and dust proof, because they employ the usual method of blocking around the keys, as we have done heretofore, but it is seldom, as we have done heretofore, but it is seldom, if ever, satisfactory, and the only sure and efficient plan is that which we adopt, of covering the PEDALS and BOTTOM of our Organs. This attachment has been throughout (with the exception of the Covers) having no cords, springs, or delicate mechanism to get out of order or repair, and works AUTOMATICALLY with the Pedal Board of the Organ. The one simple act of opening or closing the Organ, also opens or closes the Pedal Covers.

This improvement has been placed on all the different styles of Organs, and the aim is now, as in the past, to produce an instrument that HAS NO EQUAL.

All information and inquiries cheerfully answered. Catalogues sent free upon application.

Examine the Moore and Dust Proof Organ before purchasing, and be satisfied that you have the best in the World.

GERMANY'S NEW EMPEROR

FREDERICK'S ACCESSION TO THE THRONE FORMALLY ANNOUNCED.

Prince William's Name Not Mentioned in the Emperor's Despatches—The Hope of Peace Strengthened—The Army Swears Allegiance.

BERLIN, March 10.—Court interest is becoming centered in the question of the coronation and the position of the new Emperor towards Prince William. In messages coming from the Emperor to officials here his son, Prince William, is studiously ignored and his name is not mentioned. Among the orders issued to-day it is directed that the oath of allegiance be taken by the troops without delay, that the ministers of state proceed to Bettenfeld to-morrow to receive the Emperor, and that no reception be held until after the funeral.

The aspect of Berlin to-night is more and more indicative of the national mourning. The rain has ceased and the streets are filled with young and old in mourning garb; officers and soldiers all wear crape on their uniforms. The dense crowd assembled in Unter den Linden watches the court carriages conveying persons of high rank to and from the palace. Windows and balconies throughout the city are draped and most of the shops are closed. Mourning wreaths are displayed everywhere.

The Emperor Frederick's order empowering Prince Bismarck to close the session of the Reichstag was shown by the Chancellor to the members of that body yesterday. It has been copied by the Imperial press, and copies have been distributed among the members of the Reichstag and the Bundesrath.

Dr. Bergmann has arrived here. He says the Emperor is attended by Drs. Mackenzie and Krause, and that he is safe, and will reach Berlin in fairly good condition.

The Regent of Bavaria has received this message from Emperor Frederick:

"In this moment of my deepest sorrow I trust to your friendship to assist me to relieve the heavy cares now devolving upon me."

To this Prince Luitpold responded:

"I am deeply moved by your touching telegram. I hasten to express my heartfelt sympathy with an assurance of the continuance of our faithful friendship."

The Lower House of the Prussian Diet met this evening and received the formal announcement of the accession of Emperor Frederick to the throne.

The soldiers took the oath of allegiance to the new Emperor to-day.

The accession of Frederick William to the throne tends to strengthen the hope that peace will be maintained.

It is stated that Emperor Frederick's reply to the message of condolence sent by President Carnot of France was very cordial and that he expressed the hope that the relations between the two countries might continue friendly.

Emperor Frederick's reply to President Carnot was sent without consultation with Prince Bismarck.

The Cologne Gazette states that the Czar will attend the funeral of the Emperor in person. No service will be held in the cathedral to-morrow. Preparations for the lying in state of the body began to-night. Many strangers are arriving in the city. It is expected the public will be admitted to view the obsequies. The interments will take place on Thursday unless Emperor Frederick alters the present arrangement.

The Emperor in his reply to the Pope's message of condolence expressed a desire for the continuance of the existing good relations between Germany and the Vatican.

The Emperor Starts for Berlin.

SAN REMO, March 10.—Emperor Frederick passed a good night. He feels extremely well. He drove to the station at 9 o'clock this morning, accompanied by the Empress Victoria, to take the special train in waiting to convey him to Berlin. The largest crowd ever seen in San Remo gathered to witness his departure. The new Emperor was enthusiastically cheered by the crowd, and he repeatedly bowed his acknowledgments of their greetings.

A Unique Caress.

LONDON, March 10.—Queen Victoria has been in frequent communication with her daughter at San Remo, who informs her that her husband, although much affected by the death of Emperor William, is greatly improving in health.

The Daily Telegraph says: "What is destined to befall the German Empire no man knows, but all may take heart if they go on acting dutifully. The watchword seems to be still whispered and complied with in the Emperor's death-room: 'With God, for King and Fatherland!'"

The Times says he was the only Emperor who ever succeeded in making Germany a united nation. His career was unlike any found in modern history.

Hungary's Heartfelt Sympathy.

PESTH, March 11.—The Presidents of both Houses of the Hungarian Diet to-day affectingly referred to the death of Emperor William. They said the people of Germany had the heartfelt sympathy of all Hungary and the Parliament in the death of their universally respected Emperor, the ally of Austria-Hungary and the most intimate friend of Emperor Francis Joseph. The members of both Houses listened to the remarks of the President standing and then immediately adjourned.

At the Court of Alexander.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 11.—The Court will go into mourning for six weeks and the military for one month out of respect for the late Emperor William.

The Government organs concur in the opinion that Emperor William's death is hurtful to the unity and international preponderance of Germany.

France's Representatives at the Funeral.

PARIS, March 11.—A high military officer and his suite will represent France at the funeral of the Emperor.

Greeted at Milan.

MILAN, March 10.—The Duke of Aosta and numerous army officers and Government officials and German residents formed a guard of honor on the platform at the railway station here and silently saluted Emperor Frederick on his arrival. The Duke of Aosta entered the Imperial carriage while the Emperor partook of refreshments, and upon leaving the carriage kissed the hand of the Empress. The Emperor bowed his acknowledgments to the crowd bareheaded and resumed his journey.

Mourning at the Austrian Court.

VIENNA, March 11.—The Austrian Court will go into mourning for the dead Emperor for a month from Monday.

CONFIDING FORGERS.

An Oft-told Tale—Swindled by a Mouse Horse-Buyer.

HAMILTON, March 11.—A very slick swindler, giving the name of Fred Myers, has been swindling the farmers in the vicinity of Stony Creek by the use of a very old game. He came there on Thursday and announced that he had come to purchase horses for the Philadelphia-street railway. The horses were to be delivered at an hotel in Hamilton yesterday, but when he closed the bargain he gave a check on the Bank of Montreal for the amount. Sometimes he drew the check for $10 or $15 more by mistake and asked the teller to give him back the cash for that amount; to others he gave the check, then explained that he was a little short, etc., etc., and got a loan from them. With a large number he did not get any cash, but the bargains were made and yesterday a procession of farmers and residents of Stony Creek came into the city with the horses to deliver, but no Mr. Myers could be found. The checks were presented at the Bank of Montreal, but Myers never had an account there.

Among the horses bought was a stallion owned by Arthur Wedehouse of Stony Creek for which Myers gave $400. Charles Moore was happy with a check for $110. Albert Dean, James Ferres, "Professor" Brush, J. Yager and others were among the sellers. The only men whom he succeeded in swindling out of money, so far as heard from, were Brush of Stony Creek, and Yager of Bartonville, from whom he got $10 or $15 each.

Some of the farmers identified a man yesterday as the swindler, and he was arrested, but afterwards proved it was a case of mistaken identity.

NAUGHT FOUND OF OTT.

Description of the Missing Imaginary Boodler—Hamilton Teamsters on Strike.

HAMILTON, March 11.—The case of C. H. Ott, of Alabama, the missing engineer who, under the influence of mental aberration, imagines himself a boodler, is one of the strangest that has come to the knowledge of the police. Dr. John J. Ott of Pleasant Valley, Bucks county, Pa., brother of the missing man, returned to the city yesterday, accompanied by his wife. They went to Dundas and on up to New Hamburg, where some relatives reside, but could find no trace of the man. Dr. Ott has a number of photographs of his brother, showing a man of about 30 years of age, medium height, rather thick set and dark moustache. He is said to wear a stiff hat and have a gum coat. Dr. Ott is going to St. Catharines to continue his search.

The teamsters employed in hauling stone from the city quarries, and who have been receiving $3 per day, have struck for $3.50. The teamsters say that union laborers will not work where non-union teamsters are employed, and the trouble looks complicated.

A Rejected Suitor's Revenge.

NEW YORK, March 10.—At 9 o'clock tonight Arno Oebel, aged 26, of First-avenue, shot and killed Mrs. Rosa Schneider, a young widow residing on East Sixty-first-street. The murderer was arrested. He was a suitor for Rosa's hand three years ago. Her husband died a year ago and then Oebel renewed his suit. She did not love him and on her refusal to marry him he shot her.

The Western Union Sued by the U.S.

NEW YORK, March 11.—United States District Attorney Walker began suit yesterday in behalf of the Government against the Western Union Telegraph Company and the Union Pacific Railroad Company to recover $12,000 paid for telegrams by United States relief boards along the line of the railroad. The money was paid since 1881.

SULLIVAN AND MITCHELL.

THIRTY-NINE ROUNDS FOUGHT AND IN A DRAW.

The Contention Badly Furnished by the Roughishmen—The Fighters and Thirteen Others Reported to Have Been Arrested.

CHANTILLY, France, March 10.—The much-talked-of prize fight between John L. Sullivan and Charles Mitchell took place to-day on the grounds of Baron Rothschild, near Creil. The battle was delayed until to-day in consequence of a wrangle over the selection of the ground. Finally three newspaper reporters went to Amiens and Creil last night to decide upon a suitable spot, and at 7 o'clock this morning the fighting party followed, taking carriages from Creil to the fighting ground. Mitchell carried himself in jaunty fashion, having entirely recovered from the effects of his carelessness and was accompanied by "Tony" Moore and his seconds, Baldock and Kilrain. Ashton, Hobbs and Burnett accompanied Sullivan, and Arthur Brisbane of The New York Sun, Mr. Bonsall of The New York World, Lord Wemple and the Hon. Michael Sandy, were among the party of forty who witnessed the fight. Sullivan entered the ring at 12.30 p.m. and Mitchell followed five minutes later. Sullivan appeared to be trained too fine and the result of the battle fully confirmed the opinion formed by his friends on this point that in reducing his weight he had impaired his strength. MacDonald and Ashton seconded Sullivan and Mr. Angle, a member of the London Stock Exchange, was chosen referee. Burnett acted as Sullivan's umpire, and Charley Rowell performed this service in behalf of Mitchell. Before hostilities began, Sullivan offered to bet Mitchell $200 that he would beat him. The offer was declined, and Phillips came forward with an offer of $500 to $200 on the Boston champion's success. This being also refused, Phillips declared that he would bet $300 to $100, which wager was promptly taken.

The formality of shaking hands was observed by the principals with a mutual exhibition of disgust at being obliged to touch one another save in the way of administering punishment, and the fight began.

Round 1—Sullivan stood over Mitchell. He looked too big for him and very spiteful. Mitchell was indulging in a laugh over the fact that he had won the toss for corner and put Sullivan face to the wind and sun and later on to the rain. Three to one on Sullivan was offered at the start. After half a minute's sparring Sullivan led off, when Mitchell dodged, got in his left on his opponent's chin and then ducked. Mitchell tried to draw out his man with his left, and the too artful Sullivan got home with his left on the cheek and right on the top of the head. Mitchell got home with his left on Sullivan's belly. Sullivan now several times stopped Mitchell's left, which was still aiming for the belly. Finally Sullivan cornered Mitchell, who dropped to avoid punishment.

Round 4—Mitchell came up with a lump on his left temple. He led with his left on the belly. The men then sparred for some time. Mitchell frequently led low and was well stopped. Sullivan tried his right and rushed it. They clinched but mutually drew away without wrestling. Sullivan after waiting a while rushed in again, but Mitchell cleverly slipped away from him. The round ended with Sullivan getting home with his right on Mitchell's left eye, the blow sending Mitchell down.

Round 5—Sullivan forced the fighting and there was a fast rally in the middle of the ring. Mitchell clinched and then separated. After a short round Mitchell went down from a right-hand blow.

Round 6—Mitchell opened this round with three left-handed shots on Sullivan's body. In the exchange which followed he had the worst of it, but stopped a heavy right-hand blow directed at his belly, though he was finally knocked down by a blow on the cheek.

Round 7—Mitchell led with his left at the belly. In the rally that ensued Sullivan fell with Mitchell on top of him. Sullivan after all the rounds walked to his corner, but Mitchell was generally carried.

Round 8—First blood was allowed for Mitchell. Mitchell got home several times on the belly, and avoided Sullivan's terrible right. After some heavy exchanges Mitchell landed a hot one on Sullivan's right eye, and got down to avoid a return.

Round 10—Mitchell showed a lump on his left temple, while Sullivan's right eye was in bad shape. Sullivan opened the round with a vicious rush at Mitchell, who got down.

Round 11—Mitchell got home twice with his left on the body. He was warned to his corner and got down to avoid punishment.

Round 12—Sullivan again opened with a vicious rush and Mitchell fell without a blow. Foul was claimed but not allowed. Sullivan was savage and made repeated efforts to corner Mitchell, but Mitchell slipped him and finally went down to avoid punishment.

Round 13—Sullivan led off with his left, landing on Mitchell's body. Sullivan, who had been waiting to use his right, finally sent Mitchell down with a blow on the neck.

Round 14—The round opened with a wild, but harmless rush, and in the exchange that followed Mitchell received a blow on the mouth that drew blood, and Sullivan got one in the temple in return. Sullivan then sent Mitchell down with his right on the ear, and now seemed sure of winning.

Round 15—Mitchell did most of the work, but went down to avoid punishment.

During rounds nine to fifteen a fearful storm prevailed, and nearly all but the principals and their seconds took shelter in a shed. In one of these rounds, which lasted twenty-five minutes, Mitchell received several nasty blows, especially on the temple, but Sullivan was evidently tiring. He was shivering visibly, and his teeth were chattering from the downpour which he had endured. By and by, however, the sun came out again quite warm, and with its appearance Sullivan seemed to recover. At times he made tremendous rushes but Mitchell's agility stood him in good stead, and he sniffed on the retreat most of the time.

Round 16—Sullivan went in to finish Mitchell, who cleverly got away from him. Slight exchanges followed. Sullivan now got in his right and Mitchell went down.

Round 17—Mitchell was shaky and was no sooner up than he went down.

Round 18—There were slight exchanges, but Mitchell quickly went down.

Round 19—Mitchell was queer, but game and active. In a rally Sullivan nearly downed him with a right-handed blow on the temple. Both were busy with the left on each other's bodies. Sullivan made a desperate rush and Mitchell got down to avoid him.

Round 20—Some brisk exchanges ended in Mitchell's going down.

Round 21—Mitchell nearly landed the "big fellow" with his right, but John got home twice on the ribs. In the rally which followed Mitchell went down.

Round 22—Mitchell was cheeky. Sullivan got home on Mitchell's chest with his left and on his neck with his right. Mitchell cleverly slipped Sullivan's next attempt in the same direction, but finally received a blow on the eye and went down.

Round 23—The ground was dreadfully slippery. Mitchell appeared to be improving in condition, while Sullivan was breathing hard. He fought Mitchell down, however.

Round 24—This was a long round. Mitchell got home twice on the mouth; but, finally, receiving a heavy thump on the neck from Sullivan's right, went down.

Rounds 25—Mitchell had the best of the fighting, scoring on the body. Sullivan tried a fine right for his ear, but Mitchell got down to avoid it.

Round 26—Mitchell got home twice, on the left eye and ear, and Sullivan got one in on the lump on Mitchell's forehead. Mitchell then went down to avoid punishment.

Round 27—There was heavy fighting for a while, but Mitchell went down to avoid Sullivan's blows.

Round 28—Sullivan cleverly forced Mitchell to prolong a fierce rally. Mitchell lightly landed his right on Sullivan's ear, but was then sent down.

Rounds 29 to 38—During these rounds Mitchell gained some advantage. Both men fought very fairly, and although Mitchell once twisted Sullivan onto the ropes and sought to cross buttock him, neither would wrestle to end the rounds.

Sullivan did not relish some of Mitchell's hits, but was gracious enough to acknowledge them with such remarks as "That's a good one, Charley," and so on, Sullivan's right eye getting in mourning and lips swelling, while the lump on Mitchell's forehead had become redder and bigger. No blood came from the latter, Sullivan's nose and lips trickled carmine. He would not have his moustache roved.

Between 4 and 5 o'clock all got impatient, as the result seemed at least two hours off, though probably favorable to Mitchell. The latter said at last: "Well, let us shake hands or fight on, as John likes." Thereupon Baldock rushed in and joined their hands. Sullivan was nothing loth and both were tired greatly. When the fight was over all present crowded around the principals, desirous of shaking their hands.

Sullivan's body, right eye and mouth were more punished than Mitchell's, whose right eye and temple received the most damage. Sullivan and Kilrain shook hands after the fight. Mitchell has now shown himself to be a most clever fighter as well as boxer. Excessive quietness prevailed at the ring side and there was the utmost good order and generally speaking good humor all around.

It is reported that Sullivan and Mitchell and thirteen other persons have been arrested.

LONDON, March 11.—Sullivan and Mitchell have been released from custody by the French authorities and will arrive in London Monday.

The Dominion Bell ORGANS.

WE wish to call your attention to the benefit derived from the

that has lately been added to the above Organs. This improvement has been a long felt necessity, and one which has never been successfully solved before by any Organ Companies until the system was secured for the above Companies directly from the Inventor.

Other Organ Companies advertise their organs mouse and dust proof, because they employ the usual method of blocking around the bellows, as we have done heretofore, but it is eminently unsatisfactory, and the only sure and efficient plan is that which we adopt, of covering the PEDALS and BOTTOM of our Organs. This attachment has been throughout (with the exception of the Covers) having no cords, springs, or delicate mechanism to get out of order or repair, and works AUTOMATICALLY with the Full Board of the Organ. The one simple act of opening or closing the Organ, simultaneously operates the Pedal Covers.

This improvement has been placed on all the different styles of Organs, and the aim is now, at in the past, to produce an instrument that HAS NO EQUAL.

All information and inquiries cheerfully answered. Catalogues sent free upon application.

Examine the Mouse and Dust Proof Organ before purchasing, and be satisfied that you have the best in the World.

GERMANY'S NEW EMPEROR

FREDERICK'S ACCESSION TO THE THRONE FORMALLY ANNOUNCED.

Prince William's Name Not Mentioned in the Emperor's Despatches—The Hope of Peace Strengthened—The Army Swears Allegiance.

BERLIN, March 12.—Court interest is becoming centered in the question of the coronation and the position of the new Emperor towards Prince William. In messages coming from the Emperor to officials here his son, Prince William, is studiously ignored and his name is not mentioned. Among the orders issued to-day it is directed that the oath of allegiance be taken by the troops without delay, that the ministers of state proceed to Bettenfeld to-morrow to receive the Emperor, and that no reception be held until after the funeral.

The aspect of Berlin to-night is more and more indicative of the national mourning. The rain has ceased and the streets are filled with young and old in mourning garb; officers and soldiers all wear crape on their uniforms. The dense crowd assembled in Unter den Linden watches the court carriages conveying persons of high rank to and from the palace. Windows and balconies throughout the city are draped and most of the shops are closed. Mourning wreaths are displayed everywhere.

The Emperor Frederick's order empowering Prince Bismarck to close the session of the Reichstag was shown by the Chancellor to the members of that body yesterday. It has been copied by the Imperial press, and copies have been distributed among the members of the Reichstag and the Bundesrath.

Dr. Bergmann has arrived here. He says the Emperor is attended by Drs. Mackenzie and Krause, and that he is safe, and will reach Berlin in fairly good condition.

The Regent of Bavaria has received this message from Emperor Frederick:

"In this moment of my deepest sorrow I trust to your friendship to assist me to relieve the heavy cares now devolving upon me."

To this Prince Luitpold responded:

"I am deeply moved by your touching telegram. I hasten to express my heartfelt sympathy with an assurance of the continuance of our faithful friendship."

The Lower House of the Prussian Diet met this evening and received the formal announcement of the accession of Emperor Frederick to the throne.

The soldiers took the oath of allegiance to the new Emperor to-day.

The accession of Frederick William to the throne tends to strengthen the hopes that peace will be maintained.

It is stated that Emperor Frederick's reply to the message of condolence sent by President Carnot of France was very cordial and that he expressed the hope that the relations between the two countries might continue friendly.

Emperor Frederick's reply to President Carnot was sent without consultation with Prince Bismarck.

The Cologne Gazette states that the Czar will attend the funeral of the Emperor in person. No service will be held in the cathedral to-morrow. Preparations for the lying in state of the body began to-night. Many strangers are arriving in the city. It is expected the public will be admitted to view the obsequies. The interment will take place on Thursday unless Emperor Frederick alters the present arrangement.

The Emperor in his reply to the Pope's message of condolence expressed a desire for the continuance of the existing good relation between Germany and the Vatican.

The Emperor Starts for Berlin.

SAN REMO, March 12.—Emperor Frederick passed a good night. He feels extremely well. He drove to the station at 9 o'clock this morning, accompanied by the Empress Victoria, to take the special train in waiting to convey him to Berlin. The largest crowd ever seen in San Remo gathered to witness his departure. The new Emperor was enthusiastically cheered by the crowd, and he repeatedly bowed his acknowledgments of their greetings.

A Unique Career.

LONDON, March 12.—Queen Victoria has been in frequent communication with her daughter at San Remo, who informs her that her husband, although much affected by the death of Emperor William, is greatly improving in health.

The Daily Telegraph says: "What is destined to befall the German Empire no man knows, but all may take heart if they go on acting dutifully. The watchword seems to be still whispered and complied with in the Emperor's death-room: 'With God, for King and Fatherland!'"

The Times says he was the only Emperor who ever succeeded in making Germany a united nation. His career was unlike any found in modern history.

Hungary's Heartfelt Sympathy.

PESTH, March 11.—The Presidents of both Houses of the Hungarian Diet to-day affectingly referred to the death of Emperor William. They said the people of Germany had the heartfelt sympathy of all Hungary and the Parliament in the death of their universally respected Emperor, the ally of Austria-Hungary and the most intimate friend of Emperor Francis Joseph. The members of both Houses listened to the remarks of the President standing and then immediately adjourned.

At the Court of Alexander.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 11.—The Court will go into mourning for six weeks and the military for one month out of respect for the late Emperor William.

The Government organs concur in the opinion that Emperor William's death is hurtful to the unity and international preponderance of Germany.

France's Representatives at the Funeral.

PARIS, March 11.—A high military officer and his suite will represent France at the funeral of the Emperor.

Greeted at Milan.

MILAN, March 10.—The Duke of Aosta and numerous army officers and Government officials and German residents formed a guard of honor on the platform at the railway station here and silently saluted Emperor Frederick on his arrival. The Duke of Aosta entered the Imperial carriage while the Emperor partook of refreshments, and upon leaving the carriage kissed the hand of the Empress. The Emperor bowed his acknowledgments to the crowd bareheaded and resumed his journey.

Mourning at the Austrian Court.

VIENNA, March 11.—The Austrian Court will go into mourning for the dead Emperor for a month from Monday.

CONFIDING FORGERS.

An Oft-told Tale—Swindled by a Bogus Horse-Buyer.

HAMILTON, March 11.—A very slick swindler, giving the name of Fred Myers, has been swindling the farmers in the vicinity of Stony Creek by the use of a very old game. He came there on Thursday and announced that he had come to purchase horses for the Philadelphia-street railway. The horses were to be delivered at an hotel in Hamilton yesterday, but when he closed the bargain he gave a check on the Bank of Montreal for the amount. Sometimes he drew the check for $10 or $15 more by mistake and asked the teller to give him back the cash for that amount; to others he gave the check, then explained that he was a little short, etc., etc., and got a loan from them. With a large number he did not get any cash, but the bargains were made and yesterday a procession of farmers and residents of Stony Creek came into the city with the horses to deliver, but no Mr. Myers could be found. The checks were presented at the Bank of Montreal, but Myers never had an account there.

Among the horses bought was a stallion owned by Arthur Wedehouse of Stony Creek for which Myers gave $400. Charles Moore was happy with a check for $110. Albert Dean, James Farres, "Professor" Brush, J. Yager and others were among the sellers. The only men whom he succeeded in swindling out of money, so far as heard from, were Brush of Stony Creek, and Yager of Bartonville, from whom he got $10 or $15 each.

Some of the farmers identified a man yesterday as the swindler, and he was arrested, but afterwards proved it was a case of mistaken identity.

NAUGHT FOUND OF OTT.

Description of the Missing Imaginary Boodler—Hamilton Teamsters on Strike.

HAMILTON, March 11.—The case of C. H. Ott, of Alabama, the mining engineer who, under the influence of mental aberration, imagines himself a boodler, is one of the strangest that has come to the knowledge of the police. Dr. John J. Ott of Pleasant Valley, Bucks county, Pa., brother of the missing man, returned to the city yesterday, accompanied by his wife. They went to Dundas and on up to New Hamburg, where some relatives reside, but could find no trace of the man. Dr. Ott has a number of photographs of his brother, showing a man of about 30 years of age, medium height, rather thick set and dark moustache. He is said to wear a stiff hat and have a gum coat. Dr. Ott is going to St. Catharines to continue his search.

The teamsters employed in hauling stone from the city quarries, and who have been receiving $2 per day, have struck for $2.50. The teamsters say that union laborers will not work where non-union teamsters are employed, and the trouble looks complicated.

A Rejected Suitor's Revenge.

NEW YORK, March 10.—At 9 o'clock to-night Arno Oebel, aged 29, of First-avenue, shot and killed Mrs. Rose Schneider, a young widow residing on East Sixty-first-street. The murderer was arrested. He was a suitor for Rose's hand three years ago. Her husband died a year ago and then Oebel renewed his suit. She did not love him and on her refusal to marry him he shot her.

The Western Union Sued by the U.S.

NEW YORK, March 11.—United States District Attorney Walker began suit yesterday in behalf of the Government against the Western Union Telegraph Company and the Union Pacific Railroad Company to recover $13,000 paid for telegrams by United States officials along the line of the railroad. The money was paid since 1881.

SULLIVAN AND MITCHELL.

THIRTY-NINE ROUNDS FOUGHT AND DECIDED IN A DRAW.

The Unfortunates Badly Punished by the Englishmen—The Fighters and Thirteen Others Reported to Have Been Arrested.

CHANTILLY, France, March 10.—The much talked-of prize fight between John L. Sullivan and Charles Mitchell took place to-day on the grounds of Baron Rothschild, near Creil. The battle was delayed until to-day in consequence of a wrangle over the selection of the ground. Finally three newspaper reporters went to Amiens and Creil last night to decide upon a suitable spot, and at 7 o'clock this morning the fighting party followed, taking carriages from Creil to the fighting ground. Mitchell carried himself in jaunty fashion, having entirely recovered from the effects of his recent sickness and was accompanied by "Tony" Moore and his seconds, Baldock and Kilrain. Ashton, Hobbs and Barnett accompanied Sullivan, and Arthur Brisbane of The New York Sun, Mr. Bennett of The New York World, Lord Wemple and the Hon. Michael Sandy, were among the party of forty who witnessed the fight. Sullivan entered the ring at 12.20 p.m. and Mitchell followed five minutes later. Sullivan appeared to be trained too fine and the result of the battle fully confirmed the opinion formed by his friends on this point that in reducing his weight he had impaired his strength. MacDonald and Ashton seconded Sullivan and Mr. Angle, a member of the London Stock Exchange, was chosen referee. Barnett acted as Sullivan's umpire, and Charley Rowell performed this service in behalf of Mitchell. Before hostilities began, Sullivan offered to bet Mitchell $500 that he would beat him. The offer was declined, and Phillips came forward with an offer of $500 to $200 on the Boston champion's success. This being also refused, Phillips declared that he would bet $200 to $100, which wager was promptly taken.

The formality of shaking hands was observed by the principals with a mutual exhibition of disgust at being obliged to touch one another save in the way of administering punishment, and the fight began.

Round 1—Sullivan stood over Mitchell. He looked too big for him and very spiteful. Mitchell was indulging in a laugh over the fact that he had won the toss for corner and put Sullivan face to the wind and sun and later on to the rain. Three to one on Sullivan was offered at the start. After half a minute's sparring Sullivan led off, when Mitchell dodged, got in his left on his opponent's chin and then ducked. Mitchell tried to draw out his man with his left, and the too artful Sullivan got home with his left on the cheek and right on the top of the head. Mitchell got home with his left on Sullivan's belly. Sullivan now several times stopped Mitchell's left, which was still aiming for the belly. Finally Sullivan cornered Mitchell, who dropped to avoid punishment.

Round 3—Mitchell led off with his left at the mark, and after a few exchanges they closed. Mitchell putting in a few half-arm blows. By mutual consent they separated, both laughing. The ground being clayey, somewhat hampered the movements of the men. When they resumed sparring Mitchell got in a blow with his left and they closed. Sullivan getting the best of the fibbing. On breaking away Sullivan requested Mitchell not to run round the ring and then straightway again landed with his right on Mitchell's temple, knocking him down.

Round 4—Mitchell came up with a lump on his left temple. He led with his left on the belly. The men then sparred for some time. Mitchell frequently led low and was well stopped. Sullivan tried his right and rushed it. They clinched but mutually drew away without wrestling. Sullivan after waiting a while rushed in again, but Mitchell cleverly slipped away from him. The round ended with Sullivan getting home with his right on Mitchell's left eye, the blow sending Mitchell down.

Round 5—Sullivan forced the fighting and there was a fast rally in the middle of the ring. Mitchell clinched and then separated. After a short round Mitchell went down from a right-hand blow.

Round 6—Mitchell opened this round with three left-handed shots on Sullivan's body. In the exchange which followed he had the worst of it, but stopped a heavy right-hand blow directed at his belly, though he was finally knocked down by a blow on the cheek.

Round 7—Mitchell led with his left at the belly. In the rally that ensued Sullivan fell with Mitchell on top of him. Sullivan after all the rounds walked to his corner, but Mitchell was generally carried.

Round 8—First blood was allowed for Mitchell. Mitchell got home several times on the body, and avoided Sullivan's terrible right. After some heavy exchanges Mitchell landed a hot one on Sullivan's right eye, and got down to avoid a return.

Round 10—Mitchell showed a lump on his left temple, while Sullivan's right eye was in bad shape. Sullivan opened the round with a vicious rush at Mitchell, who got down.

Round 11—Mitchell got home twice with his left on the body. He was worked to his corner and got down to avoid punishment.

Round 12—Sullivan again opened with a vicious rush and Mitchell fell without a blow. Foul was claimed but not allowed. Sullivan was savage and made repeated efforts to corner Mitchell, but Mitchell slipped him and finally went down to avoid punishment.

Round 13—Sullivan led off with his left, landing on Mitchell's body. Sullivan, who had been waiting to use his right, finally sent Mitchell down with a blow on the neck.

Round 14—The round opened with a wild, but harmless rush, and in the exchange that followed Mitchell received a blow on the mouth that drew blood, and Sullivan got one in the temple in return. Sullivan then sent Mitchell down with his right on the ear, and now seemed sure of winning.

Round 15—Mitchell did most of the work, but went down to avoid punishment.

During rounds nine to fifteen a fearful storm prevailed, and nearly all but the principals and their seconds took shelter in a shed. In one of these rounds, which lasted twenty-five minutes, Mitchell received several nasty blows, especially on the temple, but Sullivan was evidently tiring. He was shivering visibly, and his teeth were chattering from the downpour which he had endured. By and by, however, the sun came out again quite warm, and with its appearance Sullivan seemed to recover. At times he made tremendous rushes but Mitchell's agility stood him in good stead, and he milled on the retreat most of the time.

Round 16—Sullivan went in to finish Mitchell, who cleverly got away from him. Slight exchanges followed. Sullivan now got in his right and Mitchell went down.

Round 17—Mitchell was shaky and was no sooner up than he went down.

Round 18—There were slight exchanges, but Mitchell quickly went down.

Round 19—Mitchell was queer, but game and active. In a rally Sullivan nearly downed him with a right-handed blow on the temple. Both were busy with the left on each other's bodies. Sullivan made a desperate rush and Mitchell got down to avoid him.

Round 20—Some brisk exchanges ended in Mitchell's going down.

Round 21—Mitchell nearly landed the "big fellow" with his right, but John got home twice on the ribs. In the rally which followed Mitchell went down.

Round 22—Mitchell was cheery. Sullivan got home on Mitchell's chest with his left and on his neck with his right. Mitchell cleverly slipped Sullivan's next attempt in the same direction, but finally received a blow on the eye and went down.

Round 23—The ground was dreadfully slippery. Mitchell appeared to be improving in condition, while Sullivan was breathing hard. He fought Mitchell down, however.

Round 24—This was a long round. Mitchell got home twice on the mouth; but, finally, receiving a heavy thump on the neck from Sullivan's right, went down.

Rounds 25—Mitchell had the best of the fighting, scoring on the body. Sullivan tried a fine right for his ear, but Mitchell got down to avoid it.

Round 26—Mitchell got home twice, on the left eye and ear, and Sullivan got one in on the lump on Mitchell's forehead. Mitchell then went down to avoid punishment.

Round 27—There was heavy fighting for a while, but Mitchell went down to avoid Sullivan's blows.

Round 28—Sullivan cleverly forced Mitchell to prolong a fierce rally. Mitchell lightly landed his right on Sullivan's ear, but was then sent down.

Rounds 29 to 38—During these rounds Mitchell gained some advantage. Both men fought very fairly, and although Mitchell once twisted Sullivan onto the ropes and sought to cross buttock him, neither would wrestle to end the rounds.

Sullivan did not relish some of Mitchell's hits, but was gracious enough to acknowledge them with such remarks as "That's a good one, Charley," and so on. Sullivan's right eye getting in mourning and lips swelling, while the lump on Mitchell's forehead had become redder and bigger. No blood came from the latter, Sullivan's nose and lips trickled carmine. He would not have his moustache moved.

Between 4 and 5 o'clock all got impatient, as the result seemed at least two hours off, though probably favorable to Mitchell. The latter said at last: "Well, let us shake hands or fight on, as John likes." Thereupon Baldock rushed in and joined their hands. Sullivan was nothing loth and both were tired greatly. When the fight was over all present crowded around the principals, desirous of shaking their hands.

Sullivan's body, right eye and mouth were more punished than Mitchell's, whose right eye and temple received the most damage. Sullivan and Kilrain shook hands after the fight. Mitchell has now shown himself to be a most clever fighter as well as boxer. Excessive quietness prevailed at the ring side and there was the utmost good order and generally speaking good humor all around.

It is reported that Sullivan and Mitchell and thirteen other persons have been arrested.

LONDON, March 11.—Sullivan and Mitchell have been released from custody by the French authorities and will arrive in London Monday.

How Commercial Union Would Affect Its Mining—The Subject Treated in Exhaustive Form.

Within 110 miles of Toronto, both close to the Midland branch of the Grand Trunk, and also near the Canadian Pacific Railway, are deposits of Bessemer ores of excellent quality. An analysis of ore from a large bed shows sulphur, only a slight trace; phosphorus, 0.002, or one-thirtieth of the permitted limit for phosphorus in Bessemer ore; metallic iron, 65.36; the chemist remarking on the exceptional purity of this ore. Another analysis of average ore taken from all over this deposit gives metallic iron, 66.20 manganese 0.62; phosphorus, 0.024; silica, 3.19; titanium, none; sulphur, practically none. These analyses were made by chemists of large blast furnaces in the States, and have fully confirmed the first analysis made by Professor Chapman, of "The Toronto School of Science," from surface samples of this ore, who remarked:—"This is an exceedingly good ore, not too close in texture, rich in metal, quite free from titanium and practically free from phosphorus and sulphur, while the rock matter would be almost self-fluxing. It is well adapted for final treatment by the Bessemer process." Dr. Chapman's opinion has been fully confirmed by practical iron men. One prominent man in Cleveland writes, "I can sell all the ore of this quality that I can get." Professor Thomas Heys, of this city, who examined this ore bed, makes a similar report regarding the quality of the ore, and estimates there are at least one million tons of ore within one hundred feet of the surface.

THE SNOWDEN IRON DISTRICT,

40 miles north-east of Lindsay, contains good Bessemer ore, very free from impurities. Analyses show 62 to 63 metallic iron; phosphorus, trace; sulphur, 0.035; titanium, none. In order to be of Bessemer quality, the amount of phosphorus must be very small, the limit in a sixty per cent. ore being 0.06. When the analysis shows a trace only, this means less than 0.005 per cent. phosphorus, or less than one-tenth of the allowance for Bessemer ore. These analyses therefore, show our ore to be more than usually free from impurities even for Bessemer ore.

To be convinced of the benefit of working an iron mine, a person should go to the neighborhood of an active mine and judge for himself.

in Peterborough County, at one time employed between 300 and 400 men, at wages from $1 to $1.25 per day, paying out from $1,500 to $2,500 weekly for wages alone. There was employment for every able-bodied man and boy for miles around. The farmers from surrounding townships found ready sale for produce at prices equal to the Peterborough market.

With many of our iron deposits the duty of 75 cents per ton simply prevents their being worked; it makes all the difference between a profit and a loss. It is a question of existence, to be or not to be. Yet some restrictionists have asked, "Cannot you work your iron mines at a profit and pay the 75 cents per ton duty?" After inspecting the Belmont mine, before referred to, an American expert stated that within a short time after commencing work on it he would be taking out 400 tons of ore a day; the duty on this would be $300 a day. Perhaps the restrictionists will kindly tell us how they would like an unnecessary tax of $300 a day on any one of their businesses.

The points that I have endeavored to prove are that we have first class ores; that in many cases the duty of 75 cents per ton prevents these ores being mined; that the removal of the duty would benefit both Canadians and Americans alike.

SMELTING FURNACES.

I have so far only noticed the question of exporting ores to the United States, but there are large quantities of poorer ore which would not pay to export, but which could be very profitably smelted on the spot if we had a market large enough to induce capitalists to put up the necessary works. A blast furnace takes considerable capital both to erect and run it. There are many suitable points for blast furnaces in our mineral country where ore and charcoal can be had at the lowest cost and where there is every facility for making iron, the market only being wanting. There are numerous deposits of bog ore or brown hematite containing 35 to 45 per cent. of iron, which are suitable for a local furnace, but are of no value otherwise. One ordinary-sized furnace would employ in its own work and in the preparation of charcoal a number of men, and would make a good local market for the farm produce of the surrounding country.

AN ERRONEOUS IMPRESSION CORRECTED.

The Canadian market is too small to induce capitalists to put up the expensive works necessary to make iron and steel, but if the whole North American market were open to us there are many points where furnaces would be erected. And here let me correct an erroneous impression with regard to the amount of fuel necessary for smelting iron. It was stated recently in a Reformistonian paper that it required two tons of coal to smelt one ton of ore. This is not the case, the fact being almost the reverse of this. Mr. John Fulton, of Philadelphia, editor of the American Journal of Charcoal Iron Workers, a very high authority, in a letter to the Iron Age, computes one ton of coke only to make one ton of pig iron. A correspondent of the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser last fall stated that 1,900 lbs. of Pennsylvania coke smelts 1½ tons of Lake Superior 52½ per cent. iron ore, which yields one ton of pig iron in the furnace. An account appeared recently in the Iron Age of a run at the Union steel works, Chicago, where only about half the weight of fuel was used in smelting a quantity of ore, the proportion being about 1,750 lbs. of fuel to 2,000 lbs. of ore.

FURNACES SHOULD BE CONVENIENTLY SITUATED.

This makes a vast difference in considering the favorable locality for a blast furnace. If we had free trade with our continent, why should not Toronto be an excellent point for a blast furnace and a good distributing point for its products? We have the best of ores within 125 miles of us and are much nearer to the fuel than many furnaces in the States. Connellsville coke is carried 600 miles to the Chicago blast furnaces, and still they do an immense and very increasing business.

A BENEFIT TO THE WHOLE COMMUNITY.

Although the manufacture of iron and steel benefits a community more than any other, one impressive fact may be stated to show the apathy of Canadians in these matters. Take the C. P. R. east from Toronto, and when you get a little more than 100 miles down the line you will find the mineral district and close to deposits of Bessemer ore suitable for making steel rails. This mineral district extends for hundreds of miles, the C. P. R. traversing a great portion of it. Were the steel rails over which you are travelling made from Canadian ore? Not a bit of it. These rails were bought in England, probably made from Spanish ore, and in their manufacture did not contribute one dollar's worth of benefit to any Canadian, although similar ore from which the rails are made lies almost alongside the railway track. Is this loyalty to ourselves, to send money out of the country for articles which we can manufacture ourselves, four-fifths of the value of which would be distributed to pay for the labour of our own miners and mechanics? Instead of doing this, our money has gone to pay Spanish miners and English labourers, who care nothing for us and could not, probably, point out our country on the map.

CONSUMPTION OF IRON PYRITES AND OTHER MINERALS.

The consumption of iron pyrites for making sulphuric acid is rapidly increasing in the United States. In 1886, 112,000 tons were consumed. The duty of 75c. per ton is a heavy tax on this article, as pyrites is only worth about $4.50 per ton in New York, but if there was no duty a large trade would be done, as we have many deposits of pyrites suitable for this purpose. Large quantities of copper ore would be shipped to the States were it not for the duty. In the Nipissing and Algoma districts new and important discoveries of copper have lately been made, but here again the tariff bars the way. The United States duty on lead ore is prohibitory, and there is little encouragement to develop our galena veins, although, no doubt, we have abundance of this useful mineral, and the same remark applies to several other minerals, notably to the salt industry, which suffers greatly through restriction.

ABSURDITY OF OUR PRESENT TRADE RELATIONS.

Let any unprejudiced man of commonsense, either American or Canadian, stand before a map of North America, and, after carefully tracing the boundary line between us, say why the inhabitants of this great continent, who are of the same race, the same language, the same religion, and who have the same interests, should interpose hostile tariffs against each other. Did nature ever intend that artificial barriers should be placed where only an imaginary line separates us? I would suggest that the Commercial Union Club hang on its walls a map of North America, on which there should be a black line, drawn broad and deep along the boundary line between Canada and the United States, so that the absurdity may clearly appear of trying to keep apart two portions of the same continent which nature intended to be commercially one. Then if you like, ran a red line round the outside boundary of both showing the vastness of the country we should have to trade in were the barriers thrown down, and on the heading of the map place this motto, which should also be the motto of our club, "Let us have free trade with our own continent, our natural market."

A COMMERCIAL UNION MEETING.

Restricted Reciprocity Abandoned—Nothing Will Do But C. U.

PORT DOVER, March 10.—Two mass meetings were held in the Town Hall here to-day under the auspices of the South Norfolk Farmers' Institute to discuss "the subject of extending our trade relations with the United States." The hall was crowded with farmers and villagers. The speakers were: R. Thomas Shaw, secretary of the C. U. club, Valency E. Fuller president of the Central Farmers' Institute, J. Ellis of Port Dover, on one side; and J. Nickerson of Simcoe, L. G. Morgan of Port Dover and W. F. Maclean of Toronto. At the close of the discussion and when the meeting had become quite lively the following motions were submitted:

Moved by J. Ellis, seconded by Hiram Bowley, that in the opinion of this meeting partial reciprocity with the United States is not attainable, seeing that it has been repeatedly refused. It is further of the opinion that unrestricted trade between Canada and the United States will be advantageous to this country if it can be obtained on fair and equitable grounds.

Moved in amendment by W. F. Maclean, seconded by Dr. Wallace, that while in the opinion of this meeting it is desirable to have as large a measure of reciprocity with the United States as can be obtained on an equitable basis yet we are not in favor of such a Commercial Union with the United States as would take the control of our own tariff laws out of our hands, and would discriminate against the Mother Country.

Moved in amendment to the amendment by Velency E. Fuller, seconded by Mr. Shaw, that in the opinion of this meeting it is desirable that as large a measure of reciprocity should be had with the United States as can possibly be obtained on an equitable basis even to the extent of Commercial Union, but that we are not in favor in such Commercial Union taking the control of our tariff laws out of our own hands.

The chairman declared the latter motion carried.

The Springfield Fire's Eighth Victim.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., March 11.—F. G. Emsworth, injured in The Union fire, died yesterday afternoon, making the eighth victim.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A man named Ellis Whitraft was arrested this morning on suspicion of being the party who a few days ago sent a boy named Mitchell to the Queen-street branch of the Dominion Bank with a forged check, attached to which he had written the name of George Barton, to get cashed. Mitchell has identified the prisoner, who will be up for examination on March 14.

Central Prison Guard Charles Jarvis, who was terribly injured by falling over a stairway at the Central Prison last week, lingered in great agony in the Toronto General Hospital until 11 o'clock on Saturday night, when he died. A post mortem was held at 1 o'clock yesterday, when it was found that in addition to three ribs being broken, one of his lungs had been frightfully lacerated.

Mr. T. D. Ledyard has just received from Davenport Fisher, analytical chemist of Milwaukee, an analysis of Ontario iron ore which gives metallic iron 68.68, silica 3.18, phosphorus 0.008, titanium none, sulphur none. This is about as nearly a perfectly ideal Bessemer ore as can be conceived, and speaks well for Ontario.

On Saturday evening Mrs. Meredith, 62 Sydenham-street, heard the cries of a child in her back yard. Going out to investigate she discovered a basket containing a two months old girl baby close by the door of the shed. The stranger was taken in, and yesterday morning handed over to the police, who in turn placed it in the Infants' Home. The child was protected from the cold by an old black skirt, and had a newspaper stuffed with straw for a pillow.

LATEST MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, March 10.—Business remains dull and but little of moment has occurred during the week. The stock market was kept in a healthy condition, and wholesale dry goods houses complain of slack business. Toronto has had its quota of assignments, but they have been of small account.

Business was lively on St. Lawrence market this morning. Poultry was a little more plentiful and nice chickens could be purchased for 65c to 85c per pair. Spring chickens have made their appearance at $1.25 per pair. Spring lamb also appeared this morning and was offered at $5 to $8 per carcase; nothing smaller than a carcase was offered. Rhubarb could be purchased at 12c to 20c per bunch. Large meats were offered in large quantities; beef was a little firm, good headquarters selling for 9c; pork was easier at $6.50 to $7.25. Small meats were steady, veal at 8c to 10c, lamb at 12½c, mutton at 10c. On the grain market business was quiet, 500 bushels of barley sold at 70c to 79c, 200 bushels of wheat at 81c to 82c for fall, 77c to 81c for spring, 72c to 73c for goose. There were 300 bushels of oats sold at 47c to 49c. No peas offered. A grain buyer remarked this morning that if it was not for the breweries taking up the barley there would be none coming in[illegible]

The Mighty Dollar.

One Good Point

Out of the many possessed by Burdock Blood Bitters is that it may be taken at all seasons of the year, and by either young or old. In this way the busy B's are always at work and doing good. 2w10d

Sweet Pickle for Hams.

The principal point is to get the brine just salt enough to keep and just so salt as to injure the flavor and cause the meat to become hard.

A real nicely cured ham from a young hog is one of the luxuries of the table. Make a brine just strong enough to float an egg, stir in sugar or N. O. molasses enough to give it a slight sweetish taste, with two ounces of saltpetre dissolved in every six gallons of the pickle; stir, and skim off all impurities before using, and keep the hams weighted down and covered with pickle for from four to seven weeks, depending on their size and the weather; if exposed to a freezing temperature, more time will be required; and small and large hams should be pickled separately, otherwise the small ones will be too salt. Smoke with hickory wood or cobs.

Silage Without a Silo.

Minnesota Farmer tells about silage without a silo. About the end of October corn, unhusked, and oat straw were cut with a feed cutter fine, half an inch and less, and piled into a hay mow without pressure or weight or exclusion of air, beyond such pressure as was furnished by a man's own weight. The mass heated, and after a while the top for a depth of three or four inches molded a little. This food has been fed to milk cows for some time now, and with no other rations than a little ground oats. The animals are reported to thrive on it and give more milk since so fed than before.

Protecting Trees Against Rabbits.

A method for protecting trees against rabbits and ground mice, practiced by Missouri farmers and indorsed by the Missouri State Horticultural society, consists in covering the trunk of the tree around with wire cloth. If this be inserted an inch or two into the ground, it is claimed that it proves an equal protection to ground mice, which often girdle trees at and below the surface during the winter.

Mistake Made by Southern Farmers.

A Tennessee farmer says that the great and fatal mistake made by southern farmers is the neglect to cultivate grass. Grass, he very truly claims, is the foundation on which every good farm is built, and he points to the prosperity of the northern farmer, who keeps up the fertility of his soil with grass and stock, as evidence of the correctness of his assertion.

The Honey Producers' Union.

At the convention of the New York State Beekeepers' association at Utica it was decided to form an international association under the name of the Honey Producers' union, to secure and publish statistics regarding the product in every honey producing state in the Union in the months of May, June, July, August and September.

I HAVE HAD catarrh for twenty years, and used all kinds of remedies without relief. Mr. Smith, druggist, of Little Falls, recommended Ely's Cream Balm. The effect of the application was magical, it allayed the inflammation and the next morning my head was as clear as a bell. One bottle has done me so much good that I am convinced its use will effect a permanent cure. It is soothing, pleasant and easy to apply, and I strongly urge its use by all sufferers.—Geo. Terry, Little, Falls, N. Y

Depend Upon It.

Accidents will happen despite all care and painful injuries such as Sprains, Bruises, Cuts and Burns result. Every family should therefore keep Hagyard's Yellow Oil on hand, it is the greatest family remedy for all Pains, Coughs, Colds and sore Throat, Croup and Whooping Cough yield quickly to this excellent remedy. 2w10d

Books vs. Experience.

Books are useful to add to our knowledge, but practical experience teaches us that the best remedy for all diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Blood is easily to be had and is called B. B. B. 2w10d

Well Worth Trying.

A medicine which has stood the test of time for many years and always given the best of satisfaction as has Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam is certainly well worth trying for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness and all Throat troubles for which it is so highly recommended. 2w10d

Well Spoken Of.

"I can recommend Hagyard's Yellow Oil very highly, it cured me of rheumatism in my fingers when I could not bend them." Ida Plank, Strathroy, Ont. A medicine for external and internal use in all painful complaints. 2w10d

ANOTHER WONDER!

It never was intended so far as I can learn,
That either man or woman were intended to be bald.
I think you will believe me, indeed I'm sure you will
If at the "Paris Hair Works" you have called

There is one thing Nature thinks of—let us thank her all we can—
She takes particular trouble with our race;
She knows a scanty growth of hair, the grey and whitening locks,
Will detract from the beauty of the face.

But Nature has her laws so strict that you must never err,
For you'll surely pay the penalty at last,
Sustain it, that bounteous head of hair,
Doctor Dorenwend's Hair Magic's unsurpassed.

Just try it, you afflicted, you never will regret,
The Magic wills never yet known to fail
And the good that it will do you will make you soon forget
The expenditure a bottle will entail.

This now famous preparation for invigorating and stimulating the growth of the hair is universally accepted as the most valuable specific on the market. All diseases of the scalp are either relieved or permanently cured. A rich and rapid growth of hair will follow after judicious and regular treatment. It remains with the consumer to secure the desired results. Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" is sold by all druggists at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. It is not obtainable in your own locality send direct to the sole manufacturers, enclosing price. A. DORENWEND, Paris Hair Works, 103 and 105 Yonge street, Toronto. For sale by J. D. It is Coming.

Husbands may as well make up their minds to the fact that house-cleaning is coming. Winter has lost its grip, the birds are coming back; Morse's mottled soap, and scrubbing brushes proclaim its advent. Spring millinery is looking up, new dresses demand the attention of the damsels, and the young man is devising ways and means for a new spring suit; and he will find the finest lot of imported material—new Scotch tweeds, suitings and pantings, etc.—and the best of satisfaction in all ordered goods at the golden lion.

Sunday School Convention.

A preliminary convention of Sunday School teachers and workers was held in Orillia last Monday and Tuesday, to arrange for an annual northern convention to be held there in May. The work in the province of Ontario has grown to such proportions that the field has been divided into three parts, with centres at which annual conventions will be held. Orillia is one of these centres. The date of the convention was fixed for May 22nd and 23rd, in the lecture room of the Presbyterian church. It was decided to invite delegates from the following counties:—Grey, Dufferin, Simcoe, N. Ontario, Victoria, Peterborough and Haliburton, and Muskoka, Parry Sound and Nipissing districts.

Beware the "Green Goods."

A gentleman residing in town has received a circular advertising "green goods," from a New Yorker, who writes in an exceedingly confidential and honorable strain that the article he deals in is "good" money that will go anywhere and everywhere. He assures a fortune to the man that will "handle" his goods, and argues the strictest secrecy with regard to the transaction. The gentleman who received the circular has handed it in to the EXAMINER. It is similar to the ones we have published before. It is scarcely necessary to sound a warning to people to beware the "green goods" which are simply counterfeit bills which the New York swindler wishes to circulate with safety to himself by means of dupes abroad.

For Fashionable Dressmaking try Hall Innes & Co's New Dressmaker, who comes to us highly recommended and who has had large experience in some of the leading cities in the United States.

The "Soo."

Mr. William Kennedy, who has just returned from the "Soo," reports that place as equal to the dreams of the most enthusiastic Westerner. Knowing of the gigantic boom of last season on the American side, he concluded to go there, but he soon saw that "The American Soo couldn't touch the Canadian Soo for business," as he says himself, "though five times the size." He immediately came across to the Canadian side, but could not get a house at all, and he has to wait while one is being built for him. He says that he will "start in the Soo in the spring if he has to open out in two big tents." Mr. Kennedy says that Canadians are waking up to the immense value of the Soo, and he is enthusiastic about it.

The Creek and its Conduct.

At present there is no trouble anticipated from the conduct of Hamilton's creek the coming spring. Still precautions are being taken and the corporation has men employed above Paterson's dam, dealing with the ice. Mr. Paterson has had men employed keeping the channel clear from his place down as far as Snowden's. With these precautions it is not probable that the creek will over-flow its channel this spring, unless some sudden thaw with rain introduces an element not now counted on.

Market Items.

As Easter approaches eggs are coming into prominence as an article of diet, and the householder will learn with joy that the market price has declined and Saturday morning ranged at 15c and 16c per dozen. Butter remains about the same, fresh bringing 22c to 24c; "worked over" butter could be bought Saturday in any quantity at 20c. There was very little else besides beef on the square Saturday selling at regular prices.

At a meeting of the banquet committee of the cricket club Saturday, arrangements were completed for the annual dinner at the Oriental hotel on the 22nd. All lovers of the sport are expected to attend at this the first affair of the kind ever held by the cricket club.

Imported Direct.

Ladies will find a beautiful range of dress goods at H. S. Griffin & Co.'s, imported direct by them. The shades are entirely new and value unsurpassed. Also silks in the very newest shades. H. S. Griffin & Co. make a specialty of fine goods at prices within the reach of all. 1d60

Service of Praise.

Preparations are in progress for the holding of a grand service of praise in St. Paul's Church in May next, in commemoration of the second anniversary of the re-opening of the church. Mr. Parker, organist and choirmaster, has the matter in hand and has a chorus of sixty voices in training for the occasion.

Hung up to Dry.

A Mount Pleasant correspondent writes: "On Tuesday last while Mr. George Seney was returning from Peterborough his horse became frightened and ran away. After going a short distance it ran into Mr. I. W. Greer's cutter, upset Mr. Seney and left his cutter on the fence as if it had been placed there to dry."

A Big Colt.

Mr. James Walton, of Smith, on Saturday had in harness for the first time a yearling colt that stands nearly 16 hands high. It was extremely docile and drove without any trouble. It is a rare thing to break in a colt so young, but this one being so large (it is said to be the largest horse in Smith) it was tried as an experiment. If the colt continues to grow it will be an abnormally large horse.

A Small Runaway.

Saturday evening P. Connal & Co.'s delivery horse took fright while "Joe" Vesseur, the driver, was taking his seat in the sleigh, and started off at runaway speed. It ran several blocks before Joe could pull him in. Those who saw the runaway expected to see the sleigh upset every minute, but Joe pluckily held on and brought the horse to a standstill with no damage done beyond a cut in its leg.

A First Class Dressmaker now in the employ of Hall, Innes & Co.

The Hose Cart Team.

Mr. Terry Smith has purchased a team of horses for the hose wagon which are expected to arrive in town to-day. They were got near Campbellford, are dark iron greys, five years old and weighing about 1,200 pounds each. The harness will be ready in a few days and then Terry expects to be prepared for the next fire in a way that will admit of no fault-finding.

Always Popular.

Says the Napanee Beaver:—"Mrs. W. Daly, of Peterborough, was always a favorite in Napanee, and especially with this congregation to whom she sang for a long time at their regular services. The rendering of "Where is Heaven?" and "Consolation" was with her usual simplicity and sweetness, and afforded the audience much satisfaction. She also sang the solo in "Consider the Lilies" very acceptably."

Still Troublesome.

Above Hilliard's dam anchor ice is still giving trouble. The mills in that vicinity are not able to run more than half time. The only water power that keeps up full time running is that driving the water wheels. It is, however, only by the most persistent work intelligently directed that this can be accomplished. In less enterprising hands the water-works would be at low ebb many times.

Protective Society.

A meeting of the merchants of Napanee is to be held on Wednesday evening next, says the Beaver, for the purpose of organising a protective association. One of the objects is to obtain a list of those who systematically run accounts with merchants with the intention of never paying. Such cases will be black-listed and refused credit. Some such step has become necessary for the protection of retailers who do a credit business.

St. Patrick's Eve.

The public are reminded of the entertainment and lecture to be held in Bradburn's Opera House on Friday night, the eve of St. Patrick's Day. As already announced Hon. Dr. Sullivan, of Kingston, senator, will deliver a lecture on the subject of "Ireland during the Victorian Era." As a preliminary to the address a short but select programme of music will be presented by the best local talent. The Peterborough Orchestra will be present during the evening. The entire evening's programme promises a rich treat for those present.

Bertram vs. Massey.

In the following case of local interest judgment was rendered at Toronto on Friday:—

Bertram v. Massey Manufacturing Company.—Judgment. Plaintiffs' order nisi discharged and motion dismissed with costs. Defendant's order nisi discharged and motion dismissed with costs. Judgment, therefore, to be entered for the plaintiffs for $5,523.68 with costs and for the defendants, upon their counter-claim, for $200 with full costs. Robinson, Q.C., and Lash, Q.C., for the plaintiffs. McCarthy, Q.C., Watson and J. M. Clark for the defendants.

He Didn't Just Mean That.

A good joke is going the rounds at the expense of a prominent local Salvationist. At one of the open-air meetings on the market square he took the floor, so to speak, and began an earnest exhortation to the assembled crowd to leave off their wicked ways and seek salvation. To prove that it was a good think to live by, he said: "You all know what kind of a man I used to be, but glory be to God I am a new man now. You all know what kind of a woman my wife was, with scarcely enough to keep her in clothes, but glory be to God she's changed now." A loud snicker went around the crowd. "Oh, you can laugh," shouted this second Mark Tapley, "but you are all going to hell, glory be to God."

Police Court.

A Charge of Embezzlement Dismissed.

MONDAY, March 12.

Wm. McNairn, butcher, charged H. C. Stapleton with the embezzlement of $6. In his evidence the plaintiff stated that in the fall of 1886 he gave the defendant a number of accounts to collect, $120 in all, upon which the defendant was to make monthly payments and receive ten per cent. for collection. The plaintiff said he had never received a cent from Stapleton, and produced receipts to show that the latter had been paid money by Wm. Curtis and John Henry. To Mr. John Burnham, counsel for the defendant, he stated that after the accounts were given to Stapleton to collect several of his creditors came in and settled with him. Stapleton was to receive a commission upon the accounts, and in case it was not convenient for the creditors to pay him, they were to pay McNairn personally. A number had done so, and on this ground the counsel argued that Stapleton was entitled to the money he had collected as commission. The magistrate, in rendering judgment, held that as it had not been shown by the prosecution that McNairn had not received enough money to warrant Stapleton in keeping the amount he had collected as his ten per cent. commission, and as it had been proven that McNairn had collected some of the accounts (McNairn could not tell just how much), he had to take for granted that he had collected all and that the defendant was entitled to $12 as his commission. There had, therefore, been no embezzlement in his retaining the amount he had collected. The charge was dismissed. Mr. R. E. Wood, C.C.A., for the prosecution; Mr. John Burnham for the defendant.

Personal.

Mr. A. T. Spellman, of Toronto, is in town to-day.

Mr. George Walker, of Peterborough, has been elected Librarian of the Canadian Photo-tactics Association.

Geo. Menzies, son of Mr. William Menzies, leaves town to-morrow morning for Chatham to more thoroughly complete his trade in carriage and ornamental painting. He goes to fill a good situation offered him by Mr. Walter Wing, one of the best adepts at the brush in his profession. Under his instructions it is to be hoped his pupil will bring credit to himself and his native town.

Mr. James Mann, of Smith, who was at the Nicholls' Hospital to undergo a severe operation, has been restored to health, and for the past fortnight has been moving about in his usual condition of activity, having been in town several times. His many friends both in town and country are pleased to see him restored to health, and trust that he has many years of happy life before him.

Many inquiries are being made at this office in reference to the health of Mr. J. Stratton, Collector of Customs. Mr. Stratton is at present in Detroit visiting his daughter and seeking the rest and recuperation rendered necessary by intense application to his business duties. A letter received this morning contains the information that his health is improving and that the indications are that he will soon be able to re-enter upon the discharge of his official duties.

A very pleasant affair recently took place at the King Street Presbyterian Church, Lindsay. The ladies of the church had invited the pastor, Rev. W. M. Roger, brother of Mr. Geo. M. Roger, town, and his wife to be present at a social, and in the course of the evening, the programme of music and readings was varied by an address to the pastor, read by Mr. William Brown, expressing high appreciation of Mr. Roger's abundant labours for the good of his flock and especially for his good work among the young. This was accompanied by the gift of a very handsome easy chair, presented by Mr. Frederick Cheeseburgh. After this Mrs. Roger was made the recipient of a beautiful little table, a gem of the cabinet-maker's art, with assurances of the highest regard from the congregation. Mr. Roger returned thanks for himself and Mrs. Roger in fitting terms. After the serving of refreshments a most happy reunion was closed with the doxology.

The Carpenters' Union.

Saturday evening an enthusiastic meeting of the carpenters of Peterborough was held in the Knights of Labor hall for organization. There were twenty-three men present who signed the requisition for a charter and will become charter members. The application has been sent to the headquarters of the American Brotherhood of carpenters and joiners, Philadelphia. Another meeting of the carpenters will be held a week from Thursday night. When the charter arrives the officers will be elected and organization completed.

Non-Coms Chan.

There was a strong muster of non-coms at the orderly room Friday night to listen to Sergt.-Major Randell's first lecture on "Interior Economy," and great interest was shown. Tuesdays and Fridays (evening) were set apart for drill and study. There are vacancies for several privates in these classes, for there are vacancies in the non-com. staff of several companies of the battalion.

Imperial Federation League.

The public are invited to attend the meeting of the Peterborough branch of the Imperial Federation League on Monday evening, the 12th, of March, at 8 o'clock, in the Forester's Hall, George St., opposite the Golden Lion. There will be a paper by Mr. J. H. Burnham in favor of the principles of the League, and another by Mr. Wm Beatty advocating Annexation. 2d59

A Melancholy Enjoyment.

Eli Perkins, who is to be in Peterborough on the 23rd, advertises that in case of an accident to the lecturer, or if he should die or be hung before the evening of the disturbance, the tickets bought will admit the bearers to front seats at the funeral, where they can sit and enjoy themselves the same as at the lecture.

Stopped Short.

The driving sleet Sunday afternoon stuck to the face of the town clock, and, freezing, stopped the hands from moving. The clock was started again this morning but it stopped in a little while. Mr. R. W. Muncaster has been working away at the obstructions all day and expects to have the civic chronometer in good running order by to-morrow.

Mrs. Scott-Siddons.

Mrs. Scott-Siddons is coming to Peterborough on Monday, April 16th, under the auspices of Hiawatha Encampment of Oddfellows.

Skating.

The skating rink will be open to the public to-night. Season tickets can be had at the bookstores and Miss Jenkins' store. d

Coal Oil.

China Hall will deliver to any part of the Town, Ashburnham and Auburn, best Canadian Oil for 20c., and American water-white at 20c. per imperial gallon.

Scrub and Thoroughbred.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR,—I see the farmers of East and West Peterborough are bound to stick to the scrub animal. At a sale at Mr. Holton's on March 7th, they were offered two very handsome young Durham cows with very excellent pedigrees on the last revised herdbook. One sold at $75 and the other at $61. These two young cows are three years old, one with a calf at her side and the other near calving. Quite a contrast—a farmer of Pickering came to Mr. Joseph Redmond, of Elm Grove, on Monday, and bought from him three calves, one 7 months, and the other two 16 months old, at $150 each. Mr. Joseph Davidson, of Cherry Wood, was the buyer.

When Mr. Redmond imported this first lot of Durham heifers he was asked, did he think he could sell their produce to East and West Peterborough farmers? and he remarked "No sir I do not. I expect their produce will go west. The farmers in our country are all rich, but they are bound to stick to the scrub."

Mr. John Davidson remarked to Mr. Redmond, "you have several of the best Durham cows I ever saw in my time, and I have seen a great many." Mr. Redmond said they were not bad for Peterborough, "but they are of no use here. You western men will get their produce." Mr. Redmond told me he was at a sale near Peterborough a few days ago, and when the calves came out they were sold at from $2.50 to $6 each. He said that was the kind of cattle our farmers deal in.

Yours, &c.,
FARMER.

A Plan to Improve.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

MR. EDITOR,—I was very glad to see that all the farmers near Peterborough are not raising scrub cattle.

Mr. Editor, I think the people of Peterborough are the persons who ought to dictate to those farmers who raise scrub cattle. No doubt you have been around the market on Wednesdays and Saturdays and seen the great quantities of what farmers call beef. Mr. Editor, the largest half of it is not beef; it is grizzle and bone, and not fit for human food at all. If you Peterborough men would tell those farmers to use that beef themselves get the right kind of cattle, make good beef and then we will give you a good price for it, that would interfere with their pockets; then you would touch the mainspring, and that might start them out of the old rut.

I see one of the oldest and best butchers in Peterborough had to go to Toronto to get a carload of good cattle to supply his customers—Mr. George Webber. No doubt Mr. Webber has got tired trying to educate the farmers on a better class of cattle for beef. Mr. John Garbutt, one of the best farmers in Smith, had a Durham cow at the Peterborough Exhibition. She got one of the highest prizes, and he sold her for beef for the Christmas market, to Mr. Robert Wainwright for $80. As I was told at the time you could have bought four scrubs of the same age at that price.

Yours truly,
FARMER.

Awful Calamity.

An earthquake in the Province of Yunan, China, which occurred on Dec. 15, is thus described in The Hong Kong Mail:

"In the interior department of Ching Chan the disturbances were extremely violent, being continued at irregular intervals for four days, when they ceased entirely. The Departmental City is said to have been reduced to a mass of ruins, scarcely a house escaping damage, and over 5000 people are reported to have been killed by falling buildings. Many of them were buried under the ruins, while the number of injured is too large for computation. Yanen was destroyed.

"At the prefectural city of Lanson the effects of the earthquake were scarcely less disastrous. At this place when the shock was being felt an enormous chasm opened in the earth and water was thrown out from its depths. At Lo Chan in Chuen a striking change has been caused in the appearance of the country, large tracts of land being swallowed up and the surface changed into a lake. In Lo Chan more than 10,000 persons are said to have perished."

The United States warship Enterprise has arrived at Tangiers. The captain demands the immediate release of the Moor imprisoned at Rabat, who is under American protection. He also demands satisfaction from the Moorish Government for the illegal arrest of the man.

To Workingmen

A Word with you. Do you comprehend the importance of our ANNUAL CLEARING SALE? Do you realize how you and your family can be benefited by taking advantage of this great opportunity? Do you know that you can now buy yourself or your children an OVERCOAT or a SUIT for less money than ever before? We have Overcoats for $5.00, well made and trimmed, and a big assortment of OVERCOATS FOR ONLY $8.00. The last named are Coats that are sold during the regular season for $8.00, and that other dealers asked as high as $10.00 and $12.00 for. They are well made, of good materials, and just the thing for teamsters and others engaged in out-door work. Our higher price Overcoats have all been correspondingly reduced, as we are bound to close them out.

In SUITS we can offer you the choice of the largest assortment to be found, and at prices lower than ever before offered. We can sell you a good Suit for $5.00. Think of that—Coat, Vest and Pants all for $5.00—a good, serviceable Suit; while for $7.00, $9.00 or $12.00 we can give you greater value for your money than you can possibly obtain elsewhere.

In our BOYS' and CHILDRENS' DEPARTMENT we are offering parents extraordinary inducements. We invite special attention to our OVERCOATS and SUITS. Both [illegible] good satisfaction, and for bargains [illegible] equalled by another Dealer.

So make your purchases at once if you wish to save money.

VOL. VI. NO. 61. PETERBOROUGH, TUESDAY, MARCH 13, 1888. PRICE TWO CENTS.

The Dominion Bell ORGANS.

WE wish to call your attention to the benefit derived from the

that has lately been added to the above Organs. This improvement has been a long felt necessity, and one which has never been successfully solved before by any Organ Companies until the patent was secured for the above Company directly from the Inventor.

Other Organ Companies advertise their organs moths and dust proof, because they employ the usual method of treating around the valves, so we have done heretofore, but it is consequently unsatisfactory, and the only sure and efficient plan is that which we adopt, of covering the PEDALS and BOTTOM of our Organs. This attachment has from throughout (with the exception of the Covers) having no cords, springs, or delicate mechanism to get out of order or repair, and works AUTOMATICALLY with the Fall Board of the Organ. The one simple act of opening or closing the Organ, simultaneously operates the Pedal Covers.

This improvement has been placed on all the different styles of Organs, and the aim is now, as in the past, to produce an instrument that HAS NO EQUAL.

All information and inquiries cheerfully answered. Catalogues sent free upon application.

Examine the Moths and Dust Proof Organ before purchasing, and be satisfied that you have the best in the World.

THE NEWS OF THE WORLD.

SILVER WEDDING OF THE PRINCE AND PRINCESS OF WALES.

Earthquake in China—Mr. Goschen's Financial Proposals Favored in Monetary Circles—Labouchere's Democratic Proposal Defeated.

LONDON, March 12.—The Queen, the Duke of Albany, Princess Beatrice and Prince Henry of Battenberg, all attired in deep mourning, drove to Marlborough House to-day to greet the Prince and Princess of Wales on their silver wedding day. A crowd assembled on the route and cheered heartily as the royal party passed. The party remained at Marlborough House half an hour. On their return they were again heartily cheered.

The reception at Marlborough House was very largely attended. The Princess of Wales wore a cream colored dress, while her daughters appeared in spring colors. The numerous lady visitors were all elegantly attired in material of different shades. On the Queen's arrival she greeted the Prince and Princess of Wales and family in the warmest and most affectionate manner. There were present the King of the Belgians, the King and Queen of Denmark, the Duke of Cambridge, Lord Salisbury and other persons of note.

Bouquets, baskets of flowers, hampers of exotics and the numerous presents to the Prince and Princess of Wales made a fine display.

The gloom caused by Emperor William's death is somewhat dispelled by the royal wedding festivity and the German embassy is forsaken.

The Imperial Commissioner, appointed to investigate the loss of life caused by the Yellow River inundations in China, sends an official report to the Emperor that over 100,000 have been drowned and 1,000,000 are left destitute.

Major L. Burroughs, who was tried for assault on a charge preferred by his sister's husband, Lord Howard de Walden, has been fined £400 and costs. He was also bound over to keep the peace.

The Burton life-boat, in attempting to rescue the crew of the ship Sarmata, stranded at Atherfield, Isle of Wight, in a dense fog, capsized and several persons were drowned. The latest advices regarding the Sarmata state that the vessel is partly submerged. The captain's wife and children and twelve of the crew were landed safely but several were drowned.

The bark Tasmania, which sailed from London on March 5 for San Francisco, has returned badly damaged by a collision with the British ship City of Corinth, Capt. Taylor, from Iquique for Hamburg. The Tasmania is anchored off Folkestone. The City of Corinth sank. It is believed that twenty-eight lives were lost.

The motion against a hereditary House of Lords, brought in the Commons by Mr. Labouchere last evening, was defeated by a vote of 328 to 158.

London despatches say that the Stock Exchange and monetary circles approve Mr. Goschen's financial proposals. Large revenue payments restrict the available supply of money. The Bank of England returns showing £12,698,000 public deposits has caused short-loans to rise nearly to the level of the bank minimum. Apart from these temporary influences the present monetary position is very strong in every way, with a bank reserve exceeding £10,000,000 and £28,000,000 gold on hand. Foreign exchanges are showing no indications of a demand for bullion. The low and dully weggy market with the ample supply of funds seems to secure the success of Mr. Goschen's conversion scheme.

The death of Emperor William has had a depressing effect on the money markets, the consolidated stocks being influenced thereby, though the general feeling is confident that the Emperor's successor will carry out his father's views. The Bank of England rate remains unchanged at 3 per cent.

Annexation or Federation.

The Question Discussed at the Imperial Federation League Meeting—A Paper by Mr. Beatty on "Annexation."

Federation and annexation were discussed at the meeting of the Imperial Federation League Monday evening. Mr. J. H. Long, President, occupied the chair, and in opening remarked that Lord Stanley, the new Governor-General of Canada, was an enthusiastic member of the league at home.

Mr. J. H. Burnham first made a few remarks upon the undesirability of annexation. In looking up the subject he had, he said, noticed that it was only the farmers who were expected to be benefitted by annexation or reciprocity; and if such were the case, the agitation should be dropped for something more generally interesting. It was not said that the manufacturer or miner were to be benefitted—only the farmer. Mr. Burnham quoted from the latest market reports, showing that with one exception the prices of all the grains were much higher at Toronto than Buffalo. How, then, was the condition of the farmers to be so greatly improved by annexation?

Mr. Wm. Beatty, in beginning his paper on Annexation, said that he was of the firm belief that the future of the Dominion would be annexation. When a native of a free country left the land of his birth for a new country, his new home becomes more important to him than the one he has left. The former is a thing of the past, and it is the business of his life to make his new home happy and prosperous. Looked at from a British standpoint, the Imperial Federation scheme appeared feasible enough, but to him it resembled the banding together of a number of stalwart Britons into anti-geographical clubs. There was, however, a difference of opinion as to how this federation was to be brought about. If, as Federationists allege, only a Council of Representatives was necessary, and "rep. by pop." was adopted as a basis of government, and our Hindoo fellow-subjects were admitted to a voice in the government, they might decide to move the capital to their country—and then would begin a decadence that would end in ruin. Looking at it as Canadians, it could be easily seen that annexation would have avoided all the wars and troubles with our neighbours. Was Canadian interest to be sacrificed to Imperial sentiment? If there had been an amicable separation between the United States we would have been included in that great union to our good. Look at Europe, divided up into small monarchies ever ready to spring upon each other all the horrors of war. Was it advisable to reduce this continent to the same turbulent condition for the sake of a feeling of sham loyalty to Great Britain? Were Federation consummated, Canada would have to contribute her share to the support of the army and navy—a heavy addition to her already grievous debt. The reader then went on to show how annexation with a progressive and ingenious nation would benefit Canada. Our government debt and burden of government expenses at Ottawa would be rolled off; the "fat" positions of the many loyal officers in the customs houses would be taken away and the much needed capital would pour into our country to develop our vast mineral and natural wealth. Then the farming interests would be greatly benefitted. The farming community were three-fourths of our population, and unless they prospered the other fourth could not hope to prosper either. Mr. Clarton had shown in a recent paper of his how tedious and expensive were the means of commercial communication between the two countries; all this would be swept away. There would be no Fishery question to be settled by Commissioners. Then the geographical situation of the two countries seemed to incline to the great end of the union of Canada and the United States; and if the edicts of reason and natural law were followed out, such would surely result. Loyalty to England should not supersede loyalty to Canada. The paper closed with an eloquent peroration upon the future of Canada under annexation. If such a desirable union was consummated, we would not be troubled with vexing questions as to boundaries or bait, fisheries or fenians; we would have no pent-up Ottawa to hamper our growth, but the vast free trade continent of America would be ours, with which to trade and prosper.

Mr. Hilliard made a short address bringing out a number of points against annexation. His address was a descriptive account and reminiscence of his early life, and comparison with our condition to-day, in which he saw nothing that would lead him to favor annexation.

Mr. Long read a letter published in the Globe last Saturday, copied from the Pall Mall Gazette, whose correspondent, Henry Norman, visited Canada recently. The gist of the letter was that Manitoba was a much better country for farmers than Dakota, and that there was no exodus from Manitoba to the Northern States, as had been said. Mr. Long brought up one point against union with the United States that he said seemed to him a matter of considerable moment. The social condition of the States was rotten, he said, in witness of which he drew attention to the great number of divorces, which were as one out of ten of the marriages. Then another and dominant reason why we should cling to Federation was because it was our only safeguard against annexation. It was all nonsense to talk about independence, for the moment Canada cut adrift from the mother country a strong movement in favor of annexation would be inaugurated that would end in our being engulfed.

Mr. Beatty, in reply, said he felt that the Canadians had enough backbone to withstand the corrupting influences of the marital looseness existing on the other side.

A discussion followed, in which a number of points, pro and con, were taken up and discussed—among them the abolition of the customs houses, the possibilities of war, the exodus, etc. Some statements in Mr. Beatty's paper were also overhauled.

Mr. Hilliard considered that the Grand Trunk and C. P. Railways were great causes of prosperity, and he gave a brief outline of railway affairs and their influence. He dealt with the so-called railway monopoly in the Northwest, of which he gave the history.

In this discussion, besides the foregoing speakers, remarks were made by Messrs. Bell, Foote, Hughes, Robinson, Nugent and Armstrong.

Why a Yankee Farmer Kicked Himself.

A staid old Hubbardston farmer came to the Hub yesterday to do "a little tradin'," and as he wandered down Washington street "headed for the Fitchburg Depot," as he said, he suddenly halted, gazed excitedly at a sign in front of a clothing house, and then darted into the store exclaiming: "Well, I vum, that is good!" After due deliberation he selected a $10 suit of clothes, tendering in payment just $7. "That is the right change, sir," said he to the astonished clerk. "But I don't understand; I told you that suit would be $10," argued the clerk. "Yes, I know, but don't your old sign out there at the door say, "All we want is 70 cents on the dollar?" and picking up his new purchase the honest old Hubbardston farmer hastily left. He trotted along, congratulated himself on his wonderful smartness, and was heard to mutter: "guess I'm lively enough for these 'ere city folks." But a sudden change came 'o'er the spirit of his dreams" after he had walked a short distance. A look of utter disgust overspread his face, the bundle fell from his arms, and in a mournful tone he said, "Why in blazes didn't I look around a little before I bought them clothes?" The cause of this consternation was another clothing sign that read: "Goods sold here at half price." After studying the situation several minutes he resumed his journey depotward, saying, "I might have saved $5 just as well as not if I hadn't been in such a peaky hurry."—Boston Post.

The Heiress-Hunter.

Nothing can be more contemptible than the life of a man who makes a show for a few years that he may marry an heiress. He lives a purely selfish existence; he is a mere cumberer of the ground. To be the accomplished man of society he may cultivate a few gifts and graces, but he has no true manhood. He may be a convenient man to ask to dinner, an eminent club favorite; he puts down a very handsome contribution to every ball list and every fashionable charity; he should send good bouquets, be well mounted at the hunt; he must be one of those colorless, civil, useless nonentities whom society loves; he must have no disagreeable family connections. He will then be asked where the heiresses go.

He must be seen at every tea, ball, reception; he must give an occasional theater party; he must know how to be mean, and snub all the people who have been civil to him, only inviting those of the highest fashion who have snubbed him; he must be a pure and perfect snob. He will then be spoken of as a young man of the highest fashion and of excellent manners. He must have that air of cold-blooded ingratitude which none but real snobs know, and a perfect blindness in seeing his friends of the past; he must do the opulent bachelor business for a while, and adopt the languid crutch and toothpick style; he must fill his rooms with bric-a-brac and Eastlake furniture, and give very recherche little suppers. But if he wants an heiress who knows the value of her money he must not appear fast or dissipated; he should at least seem very respectable. —Harper's Bazar.

A Graceful Apology.

Snookson (to the Duke of Banbury) —I humbly beg your Grace's pardon for my presumption in venturing to address your Grace, but I am most anxious to apologize for the unfortunate blunder I made last night at Mrs. Gatheremall's in mistaking your Grace for the butler. My only excuse is that, never having had the honor of meeting your Grace before, I didn't know your Grace by sight!—London Punch.

The Honest Dakota Farmer.

"Well, the old bay hoss is dead," said the Dakota man. "Is that so?" said his wife. "Yes, jee' died an' I'm mighty glad of it—he wa'n't good fer nothing no more, an' I reckoned I'd have to kill him." Then the man journeyed to the town. "I heard you lost a horse last night?" said the editor of a local paper. "Yes, I did—the best hoss I had, wouldn't have took $200 fer him. Say, I reckon you'll have to wait till 'nother fall fer that money—I didn't s'pose I was goin' to have so much bad luck when I signed fer yer paper." And then when the paper comes out it contains this item: "Farmer Cockleburr reports the loss of a valuable horse Wednesday night. It was a fine carriage animal, and had trotted inside of three minutes. It is a heavy loss for him in these hard times."—Dakota Bell.

Prof. Gardner's Philosophy.

"One fing dat convinces me dat de good Lawd am a good Lawd," said brother Gardner as the meeting opened, "ar' de way He puts up with human nater'. One has only to put on his hat an' take a walk aroun' de block to convince hisself dat if had we any odder Lawd 'cept de one we've got dar' would be a powerful shakin' up of dis airth ebery day in de week an' twice Sunday.

"Las' week Pickles Smith went off fishin'. He had no bizness to reason dat he'd eben git a bite, but he just sot down an' figgered dat he'd bring home six tons of bass an' pickerel. He went an' he fished, an' he bobbed, an' he spit on his bait, an' he cotched one leetle sun-bass about as big as a two-cent piece. He cum hum mad as a wet hen, an' dd way he took on an' skipped Thursday evenin' pray'r meetin' was awful to h'ar. De fack dat he hasn't been jerked outer his butes an' tied up in fo' hard knots proves how willin' de Lawd ar' to gin human nater' anoder chance.

"A few days ago Trustee Pullback drawed $36 outer de bank—his savings fur de last ten y'ars—an' purchased him a mule. He calkerlated that mule was worf $75, an' dat he had made the biggest kind of a bargain. He slapped hisself on de leg an' chuckled, an' he went to pray'r meetin' an' sung till he could be heard a mile, but arter fo' days he went out to de ba'n an' found dat mule stone dead. Den what happened? He sulked an' ripped, an' cussed an' declar'd dat de Lawd was agin him. De Lawd was all right as long as Pickle was makin' $50, but all wrong when he was losin' $25. He am beah to-night an' still alive an' in good health, which ar' proof agin dat de Lawd forgives ninety an' nine times, an' realizes the weakness of human natur'!

"I war' passin' a saloon de odder day in which war' seben or eight drunken men. Drink war' makin' beasts of 'em. Drink war' takin' bread from de mouts of deir chill'en. Drink war' soakin' up deir brains, bluntin' deir manhood, an' dullin' ebery sentiment of goodness in deir hearts. If I had been de Lawd I should hev brung about an explosion to lift dat hull bizness sky-high, an' to hev sent de saloonkeeper about a mile higher dan anybody else, but dat saloon am dar' yet, an' de same crowd kin be found dar' any day, an' dat's proof of sich forbearance an' liberality as we kin skeercely comprehend.

"If I should sot out to be an infidel I should stop short as I looked at the sun an' moon—at de mountains an' valley—at de brooks an' forest—each one a proof of de power of an infinite being. If I should sot outt o deny de Lawd I wouldn't hev to go a block to find plenty of proofs dat He not only exists an' rules an' am present with us, but dat His gentleness an' forgivin' disposishun ar' all dat stands between us an' sich a rattlin' of dry bones as would keep de h'ar on eand from Sunday mawnin' to Saturday night."

The Conversation Lapsed.

They were sitting on the front veranda, waiting for the old gentleman to come out and intimate that it was getting along toward to-morrow. "George, wasn't that queer about that woman having a man arrested for putting his arm around her?" she remarked, during a lapse in the conversation. "I don't know," replied George. "Seems to me she might have been a little milder." Then there was another pause. At length she interrupted it. "George," she said softly. "Well?" "Papa says the policemen on this beat are too worthless for anything. If I was to scream ever so hard I don't believe any of them would hear it." George pondered a little, and soon the conversation was nothing but a continuous lapse.—Washington Critic.

A nugget of gold weighing 136 ounces and 5 pennyweights was recently found near Breckenridge. It is worth as a specimen close to $5,000. It is said to be the largest lump of gold ever found in California, but one almost, if not quite as large, was taken from the Little Annie mine in Summit district, Rio Grande County, late in 1876. Australia produced the largest nugget of gold ever discovered. It weighed 136 pounds, and was found at Ballarat, near Geelong.

The latest jest passed on from the East relates to the dude who was called upon to say grace. It is related of him that, faithful to the legend not only of his odd lingual ways but his never-failing confidence, he bowed his head upon his hands and said briefly, "Ah there, Lord. Thanks awfully."

TREE PLANTING IN WASTE PLACES.

The changes of season are rapid in this country, and before we are aware of it, almost, the time for successful tree-planting will have come and gone. We commend the subject of the following letter to the attention of every farmer. This matter is of special importance to many farmers in certain parts of this county. Indeed, on almost every farm there are waste places, unfit for agricultural operations, but where trees of some kind will grow. The lightest of sand will grow the red oak and the swampiest of swamps the elm or ash or willow. Every farmer knows that the climate is less favourable to farming than it was when a large extent of forest covered the country. To restore the conditions in this respect, which made farming more profitable many years ago, should be the aim of every owner of land. It is now time to look out for the season of tree planting. The expense is comparatively nothing, and the results, though one year's work may yield no appreciable benefit, will in the course of years be a source of wealth both directly and indirectly. The plantations will, as wind breaks, be a beneficial protection to crops, and the trees in course of time will be able to take the place of the original forest used up for fuel. Every farmer should read with some interest the following letter:—

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—The following valuable suggestion has been lately circulated, among other forestry matters, by the U. S. Agricultural Department. Perhaps you will give it a place in your paper:

"Most of the methods recommended and described in American newspapers for planting forests presuppose that the ground to be planted is arable, or at least workable with the plough. This may be all right for the prairie states, yet there are probably on every farm in the mountainous regions more waste places than anywhere else, that will never pay to get the utmost out—that will not grow any grass of value and that defy all cultivation. There are others which are too wet, and, on account of their nature, drainage for agricultural use is impossible or impracticable; others, again, which on their dry, shifting sand will not bear any crop. These are the very places to which, in time, the forest in every well-settled country will be more or less confined, the better portions being needed for farming purposes, and, fortunately enough, not only can such places be made to bear forests, but being so used they are improved, and often after some time gain in value, even for agricultural crops.

In this work of reclaiming waste places every owner of a few acres may take a hand. 'Trees are growing while men are sleeping.' The farmer, who in the intervals of other work plants a few trees, though he may not be engaged technically in the work of 'reforestation,' is conferring a great benefit on his land. Trees should be planted on rocky hillsides, sandy barrens, along the brooks and water courses, around the springs and by the roadside. It costs little to try the experiment, and in the results, restoring vegetation to sandy waste places, affording shelter to cattle and preserving the present, if not restoring the lost, water supply to the farm, in all this, not to speak of the increased attractiveness that the trees would lend, the planter would be amply rewarded.

Yours truly,
R. W. PHIPPS.

THE Canada Presbyterian, referring to the lad Neil, hanged for the murder of Guard Rutledge, says:—"Surely some method could be devised by which lads of that kind could be restrained and helped to live better lives. Scores of such lads are growing up in our cities, and while these candidates for the penitentiary and the gallows are growing up in hundreds, some good people can find no more important work than making war against the Rom Selections or splitting hairs about communion wine." If the Christian energy expressed in countless tea-fights, multitudinous church bazaars, fine spun pulpit orations, musical fireworks, et hoc genus omne of church enterprise, were converted into practical Christianity and a diligent forage along the by-ways and hedges in search of the lost sheep, there would be a chance of a lamb like Neil being gathered into the fold.

THE total quantities of sugar of all kinds, refined and raw, imported into Canada in the last fiscal year, and entered for home consumption, was 200,656,073 pounds, costing $4,682,649, or about 2¼ cents per pound. The duty paid on such above quantity of sugar was $3,167,698, or about 1½ per cent. The sugar entered for exportation, by the time it reached [illegible] cost [illegible] per pound [illegible] Dr needs very little demonstration, says the Montreal Herald, to prove that the refiners, who import nearly all the sugar which comes into the country, are making a pretty sweet thing out of it. Not much wonder they pay 100 per cent. profits.

Berthold's Great Work.

The statue of Liberty enlightening the world, which stands on Bedloe's Island, in the harbour of New York, is one of the most sublime artistic conceptions of modern times. The torch of the goddess lights the nations of the earth to peace, prosperity and progress, through Liberty. But "liberty" is an empty word to the thousands of poor women enslaved by physical ailments a hundredfold more tyrannical than any Nero. To such sufferers Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription holds forth the promise of a speedy cure. It is a specific in all those derangements, irregularities and weaknesses which make life a burden to so many women. The only medicine sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. See guarantee printed on wrapper enclosing bottle. b

Another Item.

Mrs. J. Thompson, of Elma, Ont., writes that she suffered from general weakness and was so reduced that at times she became almost unconscious. Three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters completely cured her, and she now recommends B. B. B. to her friends and neighbors. 2w10d

Oyster Rooms Open.

J. C. Craig has opened out his two comfortable oyster parlors on George street, where the delicious bivalves will be served up at all hours, in any style desired. Drop in and try Johnny's stews. Steaks, mutton chops and tea and coffee served until 12 o'clock at night. d

Coal Oil.

China Hall will deliver to any part of the Town, Ashburnham and Auburn, Best Canadian Oil for 20c., and American water-white at 25c. per imperial gallon.

Dr. Low's "Worm Syrup" will remove Worms and Cure quicker than any other Medicine. 6w

Double Runs for Poultry.

The importance of double runs for poultry is not appreciated by the majority of amateurs who try growing poultry on a comparatively small scale, and yet these double runs assist materially. The object of the double run is to supply the birds with fresh ground, and thus prevent any tainting of it, as prolific a cause of disease in small yards.

Only one run at a time ought to be occupied by the fowls, and the other may be profitably employed with growing vegetables, which will be found to thrive astonishingly well when the fowls are not on them. By this plan the ground of many quite fowl-sick yards has been purified and brought into good condition for the poultry. If each run is thus alternated by fowls and crops, say every four months, the diseases so common in confined poultry runs will be few and far between.

The efficacy of this plan has been proven to the writer's own satisfaction, and is well worth a trial. There appears no reason why farmers should not make poultry one of a series in a rotation of crops, as by this means the land occupied by the fowls is well manured, and before being used again by the birds is purified by the crops grown thereon.

It may happen that the small poultry keeper cannot give these double runs. In that case a good plan would be to lay down the one run he has in gravel, as that can be more easily removed and renewed than earth, and then it is not so readily contaminated by the droppings as is soil.

Preparing Compost.

Contrary to a prevailing opinion, says The Southern Cultivator, it is not in practice a matter of great importance to determine and adhere to fixed proportions of ingredients in compounding a mixture of fertilizing materials, or compost, for a particular crop. Where home materials are to be utilized, it is generally safe to use a good deal of latitude in the relative proportions according to the respective quantities of each ingredient that may be available? By a sort of common consent, thing that has an absolute market value.

People who are able to afford the luxury of carriages and horses are in a position to pay for what suits them, and when they find combined in the same animal style, size, action, endurance and a gentle disposition they are generally willing to pay a good round sum for it, the disposition playing no small part in the makeup of the value. When a wealthy man has to trust his own life and the lives of his family behind a team which he does not need to be ashamed of as far as spirit and mettle are concerned, with the reins in the hands of some coachman who he is not positive is entirely trustworthy in the way of handling horses, it is not to be wondered at that he looks toward the disposition and gentleness of the horses when he is estimating their value.

The moral then to be drawn from all this is that thorough training is the only kind that it pays to give to good horses. There are but few horses that cannot be made gentle and quiet by the proper kind of treatment, and if the owner of a horse is not capable of giving this kind of training it will pay to employ some one who is.

A New Pepper from China.

The new pepper from China, which has been christened "Celestial pepper," is one of the most ornamental varieties grown. In our cuts are represented two peppers of identical size, but no idea of the color is, of course, given. Up to the time these are fully ripe they are of a delicate creamy yellow hue, and when fully grown change to a vivid scarlet. This striking contrast of colors renders the plant a beautiful object as well as a useful one.

THE CELESTIAL PEPPER.

Seedmen who have grown this pepper on their own grounds have catalogued it in this year with their novelties and specialties. Burpee says of it: "The plant sets its peppers very early and continues until frost, branching freely and bearing prodigiously. It is wonderfully productive; the peppers are all carried upright, are of superior quality and of fine sharp flavor."

ing favor with the public. They are natives of Siberia and Japan, but we are indebted to hybridization by those clever gardeners, the Japs, for upward of a hundred varieties. They are often cultivated as sub-aquatics, and like plenty of water during the growing season. They do well grown in pots, with the bottom placed a couple of inches in a tank of water. Some of the flowers measure ten inches across, and, if less valued than others, are spotted, striated, splashed and dotted with vivid colors in a true Oriental style. The flowers are flat in form, distinct, beautiful and large, and in case of cultivation seem to equal the old German iris.

Care of Milk Cows.

When cows are first turned to grass in the spring, if feed is abundant, they ought to be allowed in the pasture but a few hours each day for several days; in a word, the change of food should be gradual. Carelessness on this really important point has resulted often in serious consequences.

To the oft repeated question, "Shall grain be fed to cows in summer?" the general answer is, "No, not if the animals have an abundance of good grass." The most natural, and at the same time healthful, food for milk cows in summer is the green grass of a good pasture. When short and bran are obtainable at cheap rates, and grass begins to fail, these may be mixed to excellent effect in supplementing the grass. Mingled with the hay and fed to cows, the milk gives a larger percentage of cream, while the quantity of milk is also increased.

It often happens that when cows are giving an extra quantity of milk they decline to become thin and weak. This condition should be prevented by the judicious use of concentrated food. The strength and condition of the animal must be kept up at all times for best results.

Depend Upon It.

Accidents will happen despite all care and painful injuries such as Sprains, Bruises, Cuts and Burns result. Every family should therefore keep Hagyard's Yellow Oil on hand, it is the greatest family remedy for all Pains, Coughs, Colds and sore Throat, Croup and Whooping Cough yield quickly to this excellent remedy. 2w10d

Books vs. Experience.

Books are useful to add to our knowledge, but practical experience teaches us that the best remedy for all diseases of the Stomach, Liver and Blood is easily to be had and is called B. B. B. 2w10d

Well Worth Trying.

A medicine which has stood the test of time for many years and always given the best of satisfaction as has Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam is certainly well worth trying for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness and all Throat troubles for which it is so highly recommended. 2w10d

Well Spoken Of.

"I can recommend Hagyard's Yellow Oil very highly, it cured me of rheumatism in my fingers when I could not bend them." Ida Plank, Strathroy, Ont. A medicine for external and internal use in all painful complaints. 2w10d

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Fresh to strong northwest and northeast winds; mostly fair and cold weather, higher temperature to-morrow.

Frozen to Death.

We have passed through a terribly severe winter and half way through the first spring month it is startling to be brought face to face with a dreadful statement like that made at the head of this paragraph. But Monday night was the severest storm of the season. A young lady of the north part of the town was out all the evening at a neighbors talking about the dressmaking department of the golden lion, lauding the perfect fits made by the dressmaker and the stylish make up of the dresses. The best of dress goods to select from and the best dressmaker in the district make it necessary, to be able to fill orders, to advertise for several apprentices. Apply to the lady in charge.

Eli, Spare Us!

Oh, Eli! Eli! why persecutest thou us? The cry of the people is heard in the land, and great is the cry thereof. Yet a little while and their cry shall be, "Put him out! Lynch him!" Yea, verily. And in those days shall Eli remember in agony of mind the words we have spoken. For thus saith Eli Perkins, the great humorist, I am coming to Peterborough on the 23rd day of the third month of the year 1888; I will show unto the people of Peterborough wherein I am capable. And on the morning of the 24th there will be a great funeral, with Eli occupying the carriage of honor. Yes, Eli, if you have any regard for your health, don't come to Peterborough.

Labor Organization.

The debating talent of the Otonabee Canoe Club have decided that "Labor organizations are a benefit to mankind." The debate was held in the club rooms Monday night. Mr. W. H. Hill occupied the chair. For the affirmative Messrs. A. Clegg and Wm. Little shouldered the burden, in which they were lent able assistance by a number of other gentlemen. The opposition was conducted by Messrs J. Millar, A. E. Dixon and others. The affirmative was awarded the victory. The next debate will be held Tuesday night of next week, the subject being a resolution abolishing the system of municipal bonusing. Messrs. A. E. Dixon and H. W. Stock will uphold the resolution, while Messrs. C. H. Allison and Thomas Bartle were appointed to the negative. Mr. A. Clegg will act as chairman and Mr. Gordon J. Smith as critic.

Peterborough Presbytery.

The Presbytery commenced at St. Paul's church this morning, but owing to the storm the attendance was very small, and an adjournment was made till two o'clock. In the absence of the Secretary, Rev. Mr. Johnston was elected to fill the position pro tem. Rev. E. F. Torrance occupied the chair. At noon a Presbyterial dinner was furnished by the ladies of the church, of which those present partook. The clergymen in attendance are:—Rev. Messrs. McCrae, Cobourg; Thompson, Hastings; Hyde, Warsaw; Cleland, Port Hope; MacArthur, Havelock; Turnbull, Ashburnham, and Bell, (St. Andrew's) Peterborough. There are besides six elders attending.

Presentation.

At the regular meeting of Otonabee Lodge held on Monday evening, Mr. C. H. Clementi presented the Lodge with a pair of elegantly mounted deer antlers and a handsome case containing an excellently set up specimen of a tufted thickernia quail. These gifts will be used for the decoration of the walls of the new rooms recently added to the lodge room. Mr. Clementi's kindness is cordially appreciated by the other members, who will no doubt follow, in their own way, the good example he has set. A vote of thanks was unanimously passed by the lodge.

Our Police Force.

At a meeting of the Appointments Committee Monday evening, the necessity of decreasing the police force was considered, and a report drawn up recommending the permanent appointment of Jos. Stewart and M. Fee. The report provides for a force of four men—R. H. Adams, Chief, at a salary of $1000 per annum; and Messrs. C. McNaby, Jos. Stewart and M. Fee, constables, at $400 each per annum, with clothing provided.

The Snow Blockade.

Storm Bound Trains—Impassable Country Roads—The Midland's First Experience this Winter.

The stoppage of Sunday and Monday have played havoc with the railway train service. The 11.32 C.P.R. express of last night is snowed in near Myrtle, and blocks the passage of to day's trains. The Montreal express which is due here early in the morning was banked in at Stanbut Lake and did not pass through town till after two o'clock this afternoon. The local C.P.R. express, preceded by a snow plow, went westward this morning as far as Myrtle, where, of course, it had to stop. The entire available staff of the road is engaged in clearing the line, and they expect to have things running all right in a little while. On the Grand Junction there have been no delays, so far, worth mentioning, the morning train arriving only half an hour late. The G.T.R. express from Port Hope this morning got stuck at Millbrook, and the snow plow was sent down from Lindsay to help it out.

There were a great many persons disappointed at the failure of the morning train for Toronto to go out and many more local travellers were disappointed as not being able to go south. The Toronto express, due at 11:55, did not get beyond Agincourt, where it is now snowed in. This train has been cancelled. This is the first detention from snow blockade which the Midland has suffered this season.

The country roads running east and west are terribly blocked, and are in some quarters completely blocked for travel. The north and south roads are not much affected except at a few points. The Bobcaygeon stage arrived on time and went out as usual.

An Evening's Entertainment.

The Young People of the George Street Church, Give a Weekly Concert—A Trip to California.

One of the most interesting entertainments ever held by the Young People's Association of the George street Methodist church was that of Monday evening. The attendance was large and the programme of unusual merit. Mr. G. S. Bean occupied the chair. After a vocal solo by Miss Cameron, so highly appreciated that an encore was demanded and responded to, and an instrumental duet by Miss Wrighton and Mr. Dingle, Mr. Colbeck, B.A., delivered a descriptive address of his tour to California. Starting from Chicago, they first arrived at Kansas City. He mentioned the rapid growth of this city, which had been something wonderful, far exceeding his anticipations. He had heard much of the Missouri river and its dirty water, but he was not prepared to see the muddy stream that flowed into the Mississippi. He said the water of the Missouri was fairly thick with mud. After leaving Kansas City he got his first glimpse of the prairies—those vast unshore fields which there is no English word to describe. He was rather disappointed, however, for instead of the apparently interminable stretches of waving grass, the country on either side of the railway line was covered with growing corn—and cornstalks were altogether too unromantic to replace in his imagination the rolling prairies he had pictured to himself. Then they passed over a barren tract of land that was in truth a "howling wilderness," a small Sahara. The sand covered everything and was burning hot, so hot that one could scarcely touch the inside walls of the cars. Then, Mr. Colbeck said, he had his first genuine feeling of thirst, a feeling that could not be overcome though there was plenty of iced water to drink. In crossing over this desert, which was in the State of New Mexico, he had the pleasure of seeing a most beautiful mirage. Inverted in the sky he saw a charming little lake of silvery water and verdant shores, while the mountain peaks in the distance appeared to be little islands dotting the surface of the lake. A train man asked him how far he supposed the mountains were distant. Mr. Colbeck guessed perhaps four or five miles, but was speedily informed that they were fully forty or fifty miles away. And, added the brakesman, if there was a man on those mountains and a vast treasure on the spot where the train then was, he would never be able to enjoy his wealth. He would certainly perish if he attempted to pass over the intervening sea of sand. After describing the beauties of several small mountain ranges they passed through in New Mexico, Mr. Colbeck said his expectations on first reaching California were not fulfilled. The arrived in the fall, just after a hot and unproductive season, and the rich verdure and floral growth he expected to see were replaced by "burnt" ground. One spot in particular where grass was looked for, they found instead a sandy tract, barren and unproductive. Mr. Colbeck then gave a graphic account of his sojourn in California, at Los Angeles, Riverside, San Gabriel and other places. He spoke of the rich verdure, the orchards, flower gardens and bright natural growth with which California is endowed. The city of Riverside, he said, deserved more than any place the appellation of Paradise. But those who imagined that an easy life was assured to the resident in such a country was mistaken. He knew plenty of our eastern college graduates who were slaving away at manual labor for $1.50 per day there. In describing his homeward trip Mr. Colbeck dwelt upon the grandeur and sublimity of the mountain scenery. At times they were 1200 feet above the level; at others, running along in a narrow canon, walled in on either side by hundreds of feet of perpendicular solid rock, and with just room enough alongside the track to allow a little stream to trickle along its course. The address was intensely interesting, and at its conclusion Mr. Colbeck was loudly applauded.

In conclusion Mr. Jas. Edgecombe sang a solo, (Mrs. J. Craig, accompanist); Miss Jennie Moyse rendered a violin solo, and after the National Anthem was sung the company dispersed.

Daniel Boone.

The following with reference to the play of "Daniel Boone" which will be presented at Bradburn's Opera House on Wednesday March 21st, is from the Portland, Maine, Sunday Telegram: "The stirring border drama "Daniel Boone" was given last night to a crowded house. W. A. Lavelle, the scout, appeared in the title role and surprised all by his interpretation of the character of Daniel Boone. The support was firstclass in every particular. The introduction of the trained horses and wild animals was a special feature, while the Indian encampment, including genuine Indians in their war dances held the audience spell-bound.

Where is the Stiffer?

His Grace Endorsed.

The Bishop of Peterborough Supports Archbishop Lynch on the Ballot Question.

Archbishop Lynch has received the following letter on the question of the ballot in Separate School elections from Bishop Dowling, of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Peterborough:

MARCH 9th, 1888. HIS GRACE THE ARCHBISHOP OF TORONTO.—My Dear Lord Archbishop: I am glad that your timely protest in the name of the bishops, clergy and laity had the good effect of making the Toronto Separate School Board attend to its own legitimate business. The agitation on the ballot question I have regarded all along as a purely local affair, referring to Toronto, the Toronto Board alone, and therefore to be dealt with, as it has been so successfully, by the chief pastor of the diocese. However, in order to obtain an expression of opinion as far as this diocese is concerned, I took the trouble of communicating with several boards of Separate School trustees and of taking counsel with the diocesan clergy assembled this week on the festival of St. Thomas Aquinas.

The result of my enquiries enables me to inform Your Grace that both priests and people in the diocese of Peterborough are quite satisfied with the present system of open voting and that no desire exists here for the introduction of the ballot.

From personal and intimate acquaintance with the clergy and laity of Hamilton, I think I may safely say the same of that diocese, with which I was associated as priest and Separate School trustee for more than 22 years. All good Catholics know and appreciate the sacrifices made by their zealous pastors for the establishment and maintenance of parochial schools, many of which, to my own knowledge, owe their foundation to the zeal of the priest and would soon cease to exist if his annual donation towards their support happened to be withdrawn. Whenever, therefore, changes in the school law become desirable we have a right to expect that all good Catholics will look for light and direction to the divinely-constituted authorities of the Church, who are the proper guardians of Catholic education, and not to the few refractory Toronto school trustees who have been so disrespectful to their Archbishop and to the venerable chairman of their board, and whose wicked efforts to sow dissension between priests and people only give joy to the enemies of our holy faith.

I have the honor to be Your Grace's most devoted brother in Christ.

† THOMAS JOSEPH DOWLING,
Bishop of Peterborough.

In giving the letter to the Toronto papers Rev. Father McBride, the Archbishop's secretary, said this is the expression of opinion of one diocese only. We would, no doubt, have similar letters from the other dioceses were it not for the fact that the Bishops of London and Kingston are absent, and the Bishop of Hamilton dead.

Police Court.

TUESDAY, March 13.

Wm. Brown, P. McDonough and P. King were each fined $10 and costs for having dumped night-soil on the public highway contrary to the statutes in that behalf. In administering the fine the magistrate commented upon the meanness of such an act, which showed, upon the part of the guilty ones, a lack of principle and proper respect for others' feelings. He said he was determined to put a stop to it, and in the next case that came before him he would punish to the full extent of the law.

The Fire By-Law.

It is the intention of the authorities to enforce the fire by-law this year. The Appointments Committee will recommend the Council to appoint Mr. R. Pope building inspector, he to receive a salary for the position and the position be at present holds of street inspector, of $600. Mr. Pope will make an efficient inspector, and as his instructions will be to enforce the provisions of the by-law, there are not likely to be many wooden buildings erected witain the fire limits this year at least.

Emphatic Guarantees.

Which are Justified by an Extraordinary Public Experience.

TO THE PUBLIC:

Having branch houses and laboratories in seven different quarters and therefore having a world-wide experience, we, H. H. Warner & Co., justify ourselves in making the following statements:

OUR THEORY PROVED.

First.—For the past decade we have held that 90 per cent. of diseases originate in the kidneys which introduces uric acid into the system, a poison that is injurious to every organ, attacking and destroying first the organs which are weakest. We have also held that if the kidneys are kept in perfect health, most of the ordinary ailments will be prevented, or, if contracted, cured. Other pretentions have held that extreme kidney disease was incurable. We have proof to the contrary, however, in hundreds of thousands of cases in every section of the globe. Warner's Safe Cure is the greatest specific known. Its reputation is established everywhere, and its influence surpasses all other medicines.

HOW DISEASE CREEPS ON.

Second.—The kidneys being the sewers of the human system, it is impossible to keep the entire system in good working order unless these organs are doing their full duty. Most people do not believe their kidneys are out of order because they never give them any pain. It is a peculiarity of kidney disease that it may long exist without the knowledge of the patient or of the practitioner. It may be suspected if there is any gradual departure from ordinary health, which departure increases as age comes on, the kidney poison in the blood gradually undermining and destroying every organ.

SCIENTIFIC SPECIFICS.

Third.—We do not cure every known disease from one bottle. This is an impossibility. Warner's Safe Remedies include seven scientific specifics, each one of which has a specific purpose which the others cannot fully perform.

RECOGNIZED STANDARDS.

Fourth.—Warner's Safe Remedies have been recognized by the doctors and the people all over the globe, even in countries most conservative and most opposed to the manufacture of proprietary medicines, as standards of the highest excellence and worthy of the patronage of all people.

STRONG GUARANTEES.

Fifth.—We make the following unqualified guarantees:

GUARANTEE 1.—That Warner's Safe Remedies are pure and harmless.

GUARANTEE 2.—That the testimonials used by us are genuine, and so far as we know, absolutely true. We will forfeit $5,000 for proof of the contrary.

GUARANTEE 3.—Warner's Safe Remedies have permanently cured many millions of people whom the doctors have pronounced incurable. People who were cured ten years ago report the cure permanent and completely satisfactory. Warner's Safe Remedies will and sustain every claim, if used sufficiently and as directed.

Sixth.—Ask your friends and neighbors what they think of Warner's Safe Cure. We do not ask you to believe us alone.

YOUR FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS.

MRS. JAMES BURNS, of 18 Division St., Toronto, writes that her daughter was given up to die by the best medical men in the city, from Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, but that Warner's Safe Cure not only saved her life but restored her to health.

L. A. BARRIE, of Toronto, Supt. Fire Patrol Co. of Canada, suffered from acute back for three years. Physicians treated him for Bright's Disease, but he obtained no relief. Four bottles of Warner's Safe Cure made a well man of him.

W. J. HAMILTON, of Amherst, Nova Scotia, was cured of hemorrhage of the kidneys after doctors failed to cure him and the last dying rites of the church had been given him.

MRS. HAYWARD, of 261 Church St., Toronto, was cured of Chronic Dyspepsia with six bottles of Warner's Safe Cure.

JOHN GIVES, of Galt, is a living monument to the power of Warner's Safe Cure over Enlargement of the Liver.

We could give thousands of similar testimonials. Warner's Safe Cure does exactly as represented.

Seventh.—We were forced into the manufacture of Warner's Safe Remedies in obedience to a vow made by Mr. H. H. Warner that he would, if the remedy now known as Warner's Safe Cure restored him to health, spread its merits before the entire world. In ten years the demand has grown so that laboratories have been established in seven quarters of the globe. Not only is Warner's Safe Cure a scientific specific—it cures when all the doctors fail, thousands of the best of physicians prescribe it regularly, its power over disease is permanent and its reputation is of the most exalted character.

Billiard Licenses.

A meeting of the License Committee was held Monday night to consider the requisition of the keepers of billiard parlors in town for a reduction of license. A deaf look resulted. A majority of the committee were in favor of reduction, but on the amount there was an equal division of opinion. The matter will be discussed at Monday night's council meeting.

How to Travel.

Have you ever talked with a man who has traveled around the world and seen everything from the mouth of the Congo to the Chinese wall? I met one this morning on the West End veranda. He travels all the time, and he told me that he made a point of getting into cities and countries at holiday times, when he could see them at their best. That is why he stays in America in summer. His next stopping-place will be Persia; then he goes into Egypt, and he will reach China in April, when the fetes are held. I asked him what it cost to live as he did. "It would cost you about $12 a day to follow in my paths," he answered, "but I do it for $7.25. Living expenses have averaged me that the past year. I keep a record of everything, and know to a penny what I spend. I always travel first-class, see all there is to be seen, and I don't think I have the reputation of being niggardly. But I have traveling down to a science. It costs me now about 25 per cent of what it did when I began. Of course some of the reduction comes from the cheapened traveling facilities, but a good part of it comes from knowing what I am about.

Traveling is a business, and to do it economically one has to learn it the he would a trade. For example, tipping costs me about one-third what it would inexperienced people, because I know when to tip and when not to. Then in living I save again. I live on the European plan always, so that if I am sight-seeing I can get my meals anywhere without feeling that I am paying for another I do not eat. Then I always avoid a table d'hote. That's another way for paying for more than you want. My biggest meal is my breakfast. If I get a good one I don't care much what I have the rest of the day. I find that most travelers feel the same way. I keep a diary of everything I do, and I can tell what I did and where I was on any day for twenty years past. I can only speak one language—English—though I have picked up a smattering of French, but I get along with my native tongue. You will find English-speaking people the world over, and I never trouble myself about the language of the country I am going to.—Philadelphia Press.

ORGANS.

WE wish to call your attention to the benefit derived from the

New Automatic Pedal Cover

that has lately been added to the above Organs. This improvement has been a long felt necessity, and one which has never been successfully solved before by any Organ Companies until the present year, even for the above Compan-ies directly from the Inventor.

Other Organ Companies advertise their organs mouse and dust proof, but only they pay the usual method of binding Felt on the bellows, as we have done heretofore, but it is confessedly unsatisfactory, and the only pure and efficient plan is that which we adopt, of covering the PEDALS and BOTTOM of our Organs. This attachment has been throughout (with the exception of the Covers) having no cords, springs, or delicate mechanism to get out of order or repair, and works AUTOMATICALLY with the Fall Board of the Organ. The most simple act of opening or closing the Organ, simultaneously operates the Pedal Covers.

This improvement has been placed on all the different styles of Organs, and the aim is now, as in the past, to produce an instrument that HAS NO EQUAL.

All information and inquiries cheerfully answered. Catalogues sent free upon application.

Examine the Mouse and Dust Proof Organ before purchasing, and be satisfied that you have the best in the World.

COUNCIL MEETING.

The regular meeting of the village Council was held in the Council Chamber on Monday evening, March 5th, 1888. Present, W. H. Clement Reeve in the chair, Councillors Moore, Hall, Nelson, Henderson and Hilliard. Minutes of last regular meeting read and confirmed.

A number of communications in regard to fire engines, engineers, waterworks, &c., were read.

A request from the Lakefield School Board that the council advance the sum of $150 to meet teachers' salaries, was received; also a letter from the village treasurer asking an increase of salary to $50.00.

Moved by Coun. Hall, seconded by Coun. Henderson, that as the treasurer has requested an increase in his salary, we grant him an increase to the amount of $40.00, and that in future to be $40.00 per year, with no extras. —Lost.

Moved in amendment by Coun. Nelson, seconded by Coun. Moore, that Mr. Sherin's salary remain as it is, and that his express charges on money to the bank be paid.—Carried.

The Road and Sidewalk Committee presented their report, recommending that in regard to a grant to the road over Buckley's Lake no action be taken at present; that a new map of the village be procured and the streets properly named; that the clerk call for tenders for the supply of plank required, and that the river road and Water street be opened up.

The [illegible] Coun. Hall, seconded by Coun. [illegible] was received.

Moved by Coun. Hall, seconded by Coun. Moore,—That the recommendation of the committee as regards the streets be referred to Councillors Henderson and Nelson, and that they have power to act both as regards opening up River road and Water streets, and naming streets and procuring a map, and that the clerk ask for tenders for plank and stringers.—Carried.

The Finance Committee presented a long and full report, showing that since the 1st of January $7,13.97 had been paid out, of which $568.19 had been paid on orders of the old council, and leaving a balance in the Treasurer's hands of $123.77. Of the $800 received from the Dominion Government, $575.25 has been expended as follows:—Water street, $466.08; Smith street, $26.00; George street, $32.12; Hague street, $21.25; Park street, $30. .

They recommended that some protection from fire be provided for municipal books and papers, that the Dominion Government be requested to forward the deeds of islands 8 and 32 for which they were paid over 3 years ago; that a number of by-laws now in force be revised and consolidated, then printed, and that a new Treasurer's bond be procured.

Moved by Coun. Moore, seconded by Coun. Hall,—That the Finance Committee's report be received, and that the several accounts be paid, viz:

Hugh Fitzgerald, gravel	$ 45 00
M. Keegan, gravel	120 25
W. Harper, rope (Fire Dept.)	7 35
D. Smith, repairing fire engine	3 15
J. Watson, Wages	41 25
D. Smith, runners for engines	4 50
Hugh Fitzgerald, clearing snow	6 75
Total	$260 25

—Carried.

Moved by Coun. Hall, seconded by Coun. Moore, that the clerk be instructed to write to the Indian Department concerning the deed of the islands in the river, requesting that it be forwarded as soon as possible.—Carried.

Moved by Coun. Henderson, seconded by Coun. Nelson, that the recommendation of the Finance Committee in regard to the ball fire protection [illegible] of books and papers, and the consolidation of by-laws, be referred to the General Committee for action.—Carried.

Moved by Coun. Hall, seconded by Coun. Henderson, that the clerk be instructed to notify the railroad company that they must make an [illegible] Wm. Chalmer's lot on Rabbit Island as they are the parties that have caused the inconvenience.—Carried.

[illegible] Moved by Coun. Hall, seconded by Coun. Moore, that the clerk be instructed to write on the matter, and urged their claims to [illegible]

Moved by Coun. Moore, seconded by Coun. Nelson, that the Road and Sidewalk Committee go out and examine the proposed road across Buckley's lake and report as soon as possible.—Carried.

Messrs. Booth & Co. appeared before the council and stated that the new flannel mill was ready for receiving the machinery, but they found they were not in a position to buy the machinery which would cost $9000, as by so doing they would absorb more than their working capital, but they were in a position to make the following proposition: that if the council would loan them their debentures to the extent of $6000, payable in fifteen years, they would undertake to give the council a first mortgage on the property and machinery, to secure the payment of the debentures, interest and sinking fund, and would agree to insure the property in favor of the council to the extent of the loan, and the debentures would not be required until the machinery was placed and the factory in full working order.

Moved by Coun. Henderson, seconded by Coun. Moore, that the communication of Messrs. Booth & Co. be received and referred to the Finance Committee and that they bring in a detailed report on the project at our next meeting.—Carried.

A by-law to borrow the sum of $580 to meet the current expenditure of the village and school board received its several readings was passed.

Moved by Coun. Henderson, seconded by Coun. Nelson, that this council do now adjourn to meet at the call of the Reeve.—Carried.

MEETING OF SCHOOL BOARD.

The regular meeting of the Lakefield School Board was held in the Council Chamber on Monday evening in place of Tuesday. Mr. Thomas Gordon in the chair, all the members present. Minutes of last regular meeting read and confirmed. A communication from Alex. Marling was received.

On motion the following accounts were ordered to be paid:—

W. H. Casement, seat ends, &c.	$30 31
J. Bullock, wood	33 00
Total	$73 31

Moved by Mr. Geo. Cochrane, seconded by Mr. Wm. M. Graham, that the chairman of this board apply to the village council to advance them the sum of $150 to meet their current expenditure.—Carried.

On motion of Mr. R. Q. Dench, seconded by Mr. Wm. M. Graham, the board adjourned.

OUR VILLAGE,

owing to the cold stormy weather, has been very quite and dull for the past week, and in consequence "items" are few and hard to obtain. The Farmers' Institute meets in the council chamber next Thursday and should attract a number of visitors to our village, as, no doubt, there will be many subjects discussed which will prove both interesting and profitable to those who make their living or are interested in farming or stock raising.

"PITY THE SORROWS OF A POOR YOUNG MAN."

Another young gentleman has come to grief from want of the knowledge of "How to drive." Tired of pondering over dirty bones and ill-smelling drugs in the pursuit of knowledge, he concluded to take a drive, and as a matter of course took his girl with him. The route selected was to our county town, where a pleasant afternoon was spent, but as the shades of evening fell a furious storm set in, which increased as the hours wore on. Business required his return home, but, mindful of his fair one's health and comfort, he decided to let her remain till next day, and reluctantly started for home alone, but his troubles were not to end with the loss of his fair companion, for in the dark and storm he got off the road, upset and had to unhitch the horse before he could get the cutter back on the track again. That operation, with variations, was repeated several times on the road home, where he arrived at a late hour, wet, cold and with spirits below zero, presenting anything but that jolity and light heartedness which is said to be so characteristic of a worshipper at the shrine of Esculapius.

STILL ANOTHER.

Lakefield horses seem to have an objection to being driven on Sunday or else have more spirit in them on that day, as shown by the number of runaways. A gentleman of the cloth upset on Sunday afternoon in one of the large drifts to the north of the village; he lost the reins when he went out and as the cutter righted the horse struck a lively gait for home followed by his owner, who, in the excitement of the moment, for got that reading is not countenanced by the church; the horse got in a good first with no damage done.

CONGRATULATIONS.

We beg to tender our congratulations to Mr. Fred Barlee upon the step he has taken in joining the ranks of the Benedicts, and wish him and Miss Bastee "A long life and a happy one."

THE STORM.

The storm of last (Monday) evening has blocked up the roads in every direction. Hardly a man from the country was to be seen on our streets to-day, and then only those who were compelled to come out, and who wished themselves home again. We had no train, consequently no mails; while the Ashby stage comes in very late, and reports [illegible] At the time of writing the snow is still falling fast, which, if it continues, will isolate us from the rest of the world for a few days.

I Shall Find Rest.

A little further on
There will be time—I shall find rest anon:
Thus do we say, while eager youth invites
Young hope to try her wings in wanton flights,
And nimble fancy builds the soul a nest
On some far crag; but soon youth's flame is gone—
Burned lightly out—while we repeat the jest
With smiling confidence—I shall find rest
A little further on.

A little further on
I shall find rest; half-fiercely we avow
When noon beats on the dusty field and care
Threats to unjoint our armor, and the glare
Throbs with the pulse of battle, while life's heat
Flies with the flitting stars: the frenzied brow
Pains for the laurel more than for the breast
Where Love soft-nestling waits. Not now, not now;
With feverish breath we cry, I shall find rest
A little further on.

A little further on
I shall find rest; half-sad, at last, we say,
When sorrow's settling cloud blurs out the gleam
Of glory's torch, and to a tarnished dream
Love's palace hath been turned, then—all

An American Girl's Triumph.

The ceremony of defending a thesis is the final exercise which is enacted of a Parisian medical student preparatory to receiving the college diploma. The occasion always draws together the friends of the student, and is generally fringed and variegated with fun and frolic, with gifts of flowers, and with a complimentary dinner to the new made doctor of medicine. But the chief feature of this day is a severe examination of the candidates by the college bigwigs who sit in solemn state, arrayed in red silk gowns and wearing scarlet caps. The candidate, whether male or female, is dressed in a black gown with a white fichu. And when Miss Bradley stepped into the arena, clad in this traditional garb, the general comment of the audience was: "How like Portia in the trial scene of the "Merchant of Venice."

It was known to Miss Bradley's college mates and other friends that her thesis would be on "Iodism," and that she had taken a year to write an elaborate book on the subject, which will soon be republished in England from the original French. For an hour and a half she was questioned with great shrewdness and ability by four of the leading professors of the Ecole de Medecine—Drs. Fournier, Gautier, Porchet, and Robin. Each of these gentlemen had previously received a copy of Miss Bradley's bold book, and they had brought their copies to the examining room with multidinous interrogation marks on the margins, showing that the new treatise had not only been carefully read, but had excited much curiosity and attention. Miss Bradley had the great advantage of an unhackneyed theme, which she skilfully illustrated by a numerous array of unfamiliar facts.

Her triumph was of a very peculiar character. Her four examiners said to her, with admiring frankness:

"You have been working a new field; we cannot agree with many of your conclusions; further investigation may lead either yourself or us to different views; but, meanwhile you have presented to the college a thesis which does you uncommon honor, and for which we unanimously award you the maximum mark of merit."

After the announcement of the award, Miss Bradley was entertained at dinner by Miss Augusta Klumpke, the first female physician who has ever been admitted to practice in the hospitals of Paris. Both these ladies are Americans —Miss Klumpke from San Francisco, and Miss Bradley from New York. The grandfather of the latter, Henry Bradley, was once a candidate for the Governorship of the Empire State; her father, Ogden Bradley, is a banker, and the Right Reverend Bishop Nealy of Maine is her uncle.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

A Kicker Can't be Killed.

"You can't kill a mule." This saying was demonstrated almost to a mathematical certainty near Center's shop one day last week. A colored boy was plowing "goobers" for Mr. Center. In the corner of the goober-patch was an old well at least thirty feet deep, covered with briers. In turning, the mule slipped in and went to the bottom. He took his position in a sitting posture and was the unwilling "monarch of all he surveyed" until his excited owner summoned a posse to his aid. A rope was tied around the body of the mule and he was drawn to the top of the well. The rope broke and the mule again went to the other end of the well. A second attempt was successful. The mule was safely landed on the outside of the well, and contrary to the expectations of his rescuers, leaped to his feet and, without giving the slightest expression of gratitude, began feeding on grass as though nothing had happened. The plow gear was demolished and the old well was slightly damaged.—Lafayette (Ga.) Messenger.

Styles in Conversation.

There is a fashion in conversation among women. Last winter, wherever there was a gathering of the gentler sex, the kitchen women, who had never thrust their delicate hands into dough or reddened their fair complexion before an oven, talked like experts in the art of cooking. It was the result of the fashionable "cooking classes" for young ladies. Some years ago the topic was music. It was the first season of German opera at the Metropolitan opera house, and it was deemed essential that every woman should exhibit some knowledge of the subject. This year the topic is outdoor amusements, and the man who knows it not is dumb in the presence of fashionable womanhood.—Hotel Gazette.

In a Dying Tiger's Clutch.

In 1870 Capt. Bradford at Joypoor, in Rajpootana, India, where he was a resident political agent, says a writer in the Pensacola (Fla.) Advance-Gazette. He was indeed a man of clear grit and a thorough gentleman; his coat-sleeve was quite empty, though with his other arm he could and did handle a small light shotgun, and was still fond of shooting. His taste for tiger shooting was, however, gone. From him I learned that he and some more of his fellow-officers were out on a tiger hunt, and were in a line some distance from each other, awaiting the coming of a long line of beaters, who, with their horns, shrill pipes, drums, yells, etc., were driving the game before them. Bradford's stand was next to a river; he thought it advisable to get up a tree, and, unfortunately selected one with a sloping trunk, he then went out on a large branch where he could get a fair sight, and awaited events; presently a tiger came sneaking along every now and then looking back in the direction of the noise, from which it was flying. Bradford fired, mortally wounding the tiger, who looked up and caught sight of him. With a hoarse growl of rage it rushed up the sloping trunk (a tiger can't climb a straight tree) and came out along the branch to reek its vengeance.

Bradford raised his double-barreled rifle, took aim, and pulled the trigger, the tiger being quite close, but the hammer in falling caught a twig. The cap did not explode; there was no time to recock. One though, one hope flashed in his mind. He dropped the rifle and sprang into the river. "The tiger would not follow him there." He was mistaken. One moment and it was after him. Automatically, without knowing it, he put out one arm to fend off the danger; this the tiger seized and dragged him ashore. Bradford had fainted. He felt the one pang when the powerful jaws closed on his arm, crushing the bone like an egg shell, and for some time he knew no more.

When he regained consciousness the mortally wounded tiger was lying with its head and one huge paw across his chest, weighing him down, his arm in the tiger's mouth, its hot breath on his face; it had crunched his arm from wrist to shoulder.

"Did you feel pain or fear?" I asked.

"No pain, no fear; only a numbed feeling in the brain, a sensation of hopelessness and that my last hour had come, that death was near."

What time had elapsed he did not know. Just then an officer and one of the native troopers came running up. The officer tried to take aim; but the tiger's body was so that he could not shoot it without danger to the man beneath it. The havildar never hesitated, but rushed in and drove his tulwar through the tiger's heart, rolling it off the body of his officer.

Bradford was loved by his men, who would have followed him to the death and risked anything for him.

An express messenger was dispatched to the cantonment for the surgeon, and Bradford, put on an improvised litter, carried to meet him, which they did about half way, under a tree. The surgeon then and there took his arm off, which was buried.

Salvation Army Women.

Nearly all the women of the Salvation Army have a heart worked in india-ink upon the right shoulder. In case any one of them is taken sick or dies away from home, or in a foreign country, the sign of the heart will entitle her to care or a suitable burial at the expense of the entire organization, no matter whether she is or is not in good standing.—Albany Journal.

An Off-Hand Collector.

"Dan," said a contractor to one of his trusted employes, "when you are down seeing about that lime this morning, I wish you would mention to Dempsey that I would like to have that little bill paid. You needn't press it, know, but just mention it to him in an off-hand manner." "Yes, sorr." "I got the money from Dempsey, sorr," said Dan on his return. "I'm very glad; you merely alluded to it in an off hand way, I suppose?" "Yes, sorr; I handed him the bill and towld him if didn't pay it I would let off me hand and give him a wipe in the jaw that he wouldn't forget for a while, and he paid it at wast."—Boston Courier.

Commercial Union.

An Influential American Endorses Mr. Cluxton's Position.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

Sir,—I respectfully beg leave to hand you herewith one of several letters which I have received from different places, in reference to my paper read at the Farmers' Institute here the other day, and which you were good enough to publish in the EXAMINER. The Oswego letter coming from a very influential produce merchant in that city, whom I have known for many years, contains some forcible arguments in favor of Commercial Union, from an American stand point, which may be of some interest to your readers. If you could kindly spare the space for the insertion of the letter in your valuable journal.

Yours truly,
WM. CLUXTON.

March 13, 1888.

Oswego, N.Y. March 2, 1888.

My Dear Mr. Cluxton,—I have just finished reading with great pleasure, your paper read before the "Farmer's Institute" on Commercial Union, and published in the Mail of the 1st inst.

It appears to me that such a clear and concise statement would certainly convince your people what benefits are to result from the adoption of the proposed Union. There cannot be a question but that with reciprocity or Commercial Union, Canada would at once enter upon a career of prosperity, such as has never before been witnessed by any other people not excepting our own. The bugbear of annexation would at once disappear as the cause for such an act would at once be removed. This is a cry of politicians wholly. Discontent is the only source which would breed such an idea. Remove that, and contentment with present political relations would certainly ensue.

It is not so easy a matter to convince our people, that such great benefits are to result from the adoption of either of these measures. Our country is so extended, and interests are so diverse and political demagogues are so numerous that more time and patience are required to obtain the necessary followings. Still great progress is being made. The diffusion of such literature as the speeches of Messrs. Butterworth & Wiman for the past twelvemonth cannot but have a beneficial effect.

Of course, we who are living on the frontier would gladly hail Commercial Union, as the great benefits directly flowing from it would be felt by us more sensibly than to those far removed. We may not be able to obtain all that we would desire, and therefore I think that all of us should couple Reciprocity with Commercial Union, and, failing to obtain the latter, we may get the former. You and I can well remember the great benefits both countries received under the old "Reciprocity Treaty," which was so unwisely terminated. It was a fatal mistake, tending to alienation of feeling and retaliatory, political measures, which later on may result in something still more serious.

There is certainly not one reason why these should not be perfect and full reciprocity. Indeed, it would be of incalculable value to both countries were this the case. There is no competition between the farmers of both countries.

I can see some little difficulty as regards wool and barley. I think it will be acknowledged that no country on the globe is better adapted to the raising of fine qualities of wool and barley than is Canada, and our manufacturers of both beer and woolen goods still have them because of their superior quality, and it may be better that a light duty should be imposed on them. Still I am not clear on this point. But let us all work and work, that these questions may be settled in such a way as to reflect credit on two of the strongest Christian governments that ever existed.

I commenced this merely to say what I did in the opening sentence, but it seems I have spun out quite a yarn.

Believe me, as ever,
Yours truly,
A. H. FALLIS.

WEATHER NOTES.—In looking back on February which is generally considered our hardest month, we find it one of the mildest for some years. True, Quebec and some of Ontario was visited by a cold dip on the evening of the 9th and morning of the 10th, although with me at both times it only fell to 18° below zero, but I believe at a number of points in both provinces it fell as low as 40°; only on six mornings and 4 evenings did it fall below zero, but on several occasions, both night and morning, it rose to and above the freezing point, the mildest being on the morning of the 25th when it reached 37° and sometimes during the day it went as high as 50°, leaving the mean temperature of the month at 19°. Snow fell on thirteen days but only to the depth of 11½ inches which is very light for February, and far below the average. Rain fell on four days to the depth of .[illegible] of an inch, being also very light. On the 5th immediately preceding the [illegible] tempest that prudent men dogs or, as some call them, weather jaws commenced the case, and, any one who pays any attention to such things, was delighted to behold them in Heaven's high arch. The crow, the first of our migrating birds, made its appearance here on Friday, the 24th Feb., they are mostly the first harbingers of spring, which visit our fields and forests after their southern stay. The following are the different points from which the [illegible] came, following on one after during the month, respectively, namely:—Southeast, 8 day; south, 5 days; north-west, 7 days; east, 3 days; west, 2 days; and nine-week, 4 days.

How to Become Plump.

It may be safely asserted, says a writer in The Epoch, that seven, if not eight, of every ten young ladies would be improved in face and figure by the addition of ten or fifteen pounds to their weight. Now, in most cases where the want of plumpness is not the result of positive disease calling for medical treatment, these extra pounds—beauty pounds they might be called because they add the finishing touch to beauty—may be easily acquired in a few months by cutting out the following hints and pasting them on the mirror, where they may be daily seen and heeded:

The famous Mr. Banting, who reduced his weight by more than fifty pounds in one year, found that sugar was the most fattening thing that he could eat. Hence, to increase your weight eat cakes, puddings, syrup, honey, candy, and pastry, always taking care that it be crisp and digestible, for indigestible food is a chief cause of leanness. New England piecrust is probably responsible for the appearance of the typical gaunt Yankee. Other fattening articles of food are tender lamb, salmon and eels, milk and cream, corn bread and butter, and those vegetables which grow under ground, and of which sugar is made—beets, turnips, etc. Boiled or baked potatoes, mashed on the plate and seasoned with salt and fresh butter, make a delicious dish rapidly fattening. Eat often and very slowly, for it is not the quantity that is eaten, but the amount that is thoroughly digested, that nourishes the system and rounds the bodily contour.

Bismarck's private physician, Dr. Schweninger, owes his international reputation to his success in diminishing the chancellor's weight. The secret of his method is never to allow his patient to drink with his meals, or if he does drink, to do so very sparingly. Hence follows the converse rule, that if you covet stoutness you should drink freely with your meals, always, however, in such a way as not to interfere with the digestive processes. That is, you should never drink while you have food in the mouth, for the food ought to be moistened by the saliva alone. Ice-water, too, should be always avoided. It chills the stomach and is the cause of three fourths of the indigestion and consequent leanness prevalent in this country.

Mountain tourists know that ice-water never quenches the thirst, yet we constantly spoil our water by putting in ice. The ice should never be allowed to come in contact with the the water we drink, but only with the outside of the pitcher. In this way we avoid also the danger from microbes hiding in impure ice.

Air is food as much as beef, the only difference being that beef is assimilated in the stomach, air in the lungs. Hence, if you wish to be plump, become an air glutton. Breathe all the fresh air you can get, and avoid foul, stuffy air, especially at night, as you would putrid meat. Always breathe through the nose, and cultivate the habit of slowly filling the lungs with twice as much air as you commonly inhale, exhaling it again slowly. This purifies the blood, and stimulates the appetite. Take frequent warm baths before retiring or cold sponge baths in the morning, followed by brisk friction with a coarse towel.

Brain rest is especially indicated in the case of those who object to leanness. Moderate brain exercise is, indeed, essential to perfect health, but excess should be carefully avoided. Emotional excitement and worry are fatal to the chances of becoming plump and pretty. If an annoying thought haunts you, forcibly fix your attention on something. Above all, never allow such thoughts to torment you after retiring, and thus to pass disagreeably into your dreams. Eight hours of dreamless sleep in a well-ventilated room form the most potent cosmetic known to man or woman—the straightest road to plumpness and beauty.

Colonel John H. Pierce, who lives at Plantsville, a little manufacturing town in New England on the New Haven & Northampton Road, is preparing to astonish the world by his inventive genius. He claims that he has proved the practicability of establishing passenger traffic between this country and England by means of pneumatic tubes placed under the ocean. He thinks that in the future a man will be able to breakfast in New York and take lunch in London. All that Pierce needs to establish his invention, so he says, is money.

Paris green is a favorite remedy for the blues with Wisconsin girls.

The Five Sisters.

There were five fair sisters, and each had an aim—
Five worlds to win, be a fashionable dame;
Scholarly Susan's selection was books;
Coquettish Cora cared more for good looks;
Anne ambitious, desired artistic fame;
Beautiful Sarah sought first for wealth.

So she took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and grew healthy and blooming. Cora's beauty quickly faded; Susan's eyesight failed from over study; Fleta became nervous and fretful in striving after fashion, and a sickly family kept Anne's husband poor. But sensible Sarah grew daily more healthy, charming and intelligent, and she married rich.

NASAL BALM FOR COLD IN HEAD
AND CATARRH.
There is no two which Canadians are more subject than Catarrh—all ages and sex alike are numbered among the sufferers. It is impossible in the limits of a short newspaper article to describe the symptoms fully, but they may be briefly enumerated. Cold in the head, difficulty in breathing, hawking and spitting, headache, pain in the region over the eyes, dropping of mucus (phlegm) down throat, dizziness, sore throat, coughing nausea and sometimes vomiting, soreness or redness appearing in the inner lashes to prolonged action. These are but a few of the many symptoms of Catarrh, a disease which affects 7-10 of our Canadian population. NASAL BALM is the only CERTAIN and POSITIVE CURE for this loathsome disease in all its forms and stages. NASAL BALM in the result of years of careful study, and is prepared with a view to relieving the severe cases of catarrh, to which Canadians are most subject. It is not a [illegible] or counteracting powder, but a pleasant, [illegible] remedy, producing an immediate relief. Ask for Nasal Balm and take no substitute of whatever name. For Cold in the Head it is no [illegible] remedy on earth to equal Nasal Balm. Do not neglect a cold in the head for in nine cases out of ten it will lead to Catarrh. Use Nasal Balm upon the first symptoms. This wonderful remedy is perfectly truthful and cures without a few hours. Care of Cows During the Spring and Summer—A Novelty in Peppers—Value of Salt—Bad Odors Due to Fertilize Crops.

Incorporated in the reports of the transactions of the Massachusetts Horticultural society is an address by Mr. C. L. Goessman on "The Rational Fertilization of Garden Crops and Fruits." Following are some useful extracts from the same:

A, EYE; B, TURNIP; C, BEET; D, CARROT; E, LUCERNE.

One of the first requirements for a healthy condition and a subsequent successful propagation of [illegible] in adopting a well devised system of fertilization. An indifferent system of manuring is at the root of a great many failures. A system of manuring is rational when it is based upon the results of a careful examination into the composition of the plant under investigation and a due consideration of the natural conditions for availing itself with the fullest plant food, both from the atmosphere and the soil. Plants with well developed and extensive root system may prosper where those with a compact one will fail, an [illegible] applies with equal force to the character of their leaf system. (See illustrations in which "a" represents rye, "b" turnip, "c" beet, "d" carrot, "e" lucerne and "f" potato.)

To determine the chemical composition of a [illegible] with reference to its soil constituents, requires repeated examinations in different stages of its growth, and also [illegible] on the complex character and on their influence over various physical and chemical qualities of the soil. Experience proves that barnyard manure, in most efficient value and [illegible] which [illegible] to its manufacture; and the same proposition may be illustrated with reference to the material value of vegetable compost and ashes.

To such plants rationally implies information of two kinds, a knowledge of the special wants of the plant as regards the [illegible] and relative proportions in which the plant feeds, and a knowledge with the capabilities of the different kinds of manurial matter at our disposal.

"Well, sir," said the General, as he scratched his head thoughtfully, "Mark Twain is one and Eli Perkins is the other two!"

A Rattling Runaway.

On Tuesday a team of horses dashed down George street, having in tow a heavy sleigh containing a number of pumps. The runaways took the sidewalk, and at Routley's left part of the sleigh on top of the hydrant. They were stopped just before reaching the corner, and in the nick of time, as had they reached Fairweather's fur store there would have been a crash of plate glass. A large packing case lay on the outer edge of the sidewalk, between which and the front of the store there was not room for them to pass. It is probable the plate glass front would have suffered.

A GENERAL BLOCKADE!

Canada and the Northern States Blocked In.

[illegible] Western Deer Not Safely Alone—The Heaviest Snowstorm of Years—Railways Blockaded in all Directions—The Local Train Service.

The telegraph brings the news that the great snowstorm is still raging in the Northern States and Canada. The despatches say:—

NEW YORK, March 13—The city is completely snowbound. Travel has been suspended and horsecars pierce that are usually open at 5 o'clock in the morning were not ready to do any work till late in the day. Slight accidents were reported from all parts of the city. The embargo on telegraphic communication to outside points is almost complete. There is no wire to Washington, and but slight communication with the West.

TROY, N.Y., March 13—All train service is abandoned here. Specials from towns in Vermont and Northern New York indicate that the storm is not decreasing but the temperature is falling rapidly. Trains are everywhere abandoned or discontinued by this storm. A wreck is reported at Whitehall, but it is impossible to learn particulars as telegraphic communication in that direction is interrupted.

Similar despatches arrive from the Western States.

THE STORM CENTRE.

A New York despatch of the 12th says:—The highest wind noted of the present storm was 61 miles an hour about 10 o'clock, with a tendency of greater rapidity. At that time two feet of snow had fallen. One storm centre was off the Atlantic Coast and another over Lake Ontario, and it is thought the two storms have joined forces.

The Montreal Star says:—Enquiries at the McGill College Observatory showed that 15 inches of snow has fallen during the last twenty-four hours, which is far in excess of any previous quantity this winter. The heaviest previous snowstorm, except the one last night, occurred February 26th last, when seven inches of snow fell.

IN CANADA.

MONTREAL, March 13.—The snowstorm which commenced on Sunday morning gradually increased in intensity until yesterday morning, and during the evening attained its height. The wind was very high and at times blew at hurricane speed. One result with that the snow drifted to an unusual extent, more so than at any previous period of the winter. Road traffic this morning in the vicinity of the city was very difficult, and the traffic across the river was perceptibly less than usual. The railway was naturally severely affected. The mails were reported at the Post Office as being somewhat delayed, though not so much as might be expected.

The Star states that on all the lines entering the city, with the exception of the Western Division of the Grand Trunk, traffic is almost at a standstill. The main line of the Grand Trunk has been kept pretty clear by means of violent exertion on the part of the railway authorities.

The Local Blockade.

PETERBOROUGH CUT OFF FROM ALL OUTSIDE COMMUNICATION.

The snow blockade is almost the sole topic of conversation on the streets. We are about as effectively cut off from all communication with the outside world as though we were located in some such out-of-the-way place as Lindsay. It is likely the blockade will be relieved by night. The storm has abated and the "blockade is busted," as it has been said.

On the C.P.R. things are at present nobody any better than they were on Tuesday. The Monday night express from Toronto is still anchored in a snow bank two miles west of Myrtle, with another express not far behind. On this side there are several freight and local trains between Peterborough and Myrtle. The Montreal expressed arrived in town, one Tuesday and one to-day, but here they had to stop. The passengers transferred themselves to the hotels, and somehow get waiting for the line to get open. The hotel-keeper can truly say: "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." The line east from here is pretty clear of snow now. One of the express trains waiting was hauled around and sent back to Montreal at 11.30 this (Wednesday) morning. It is expected that by night the blockade will be raised on the western division.

On the Grand Trunk trains are running between Port Hope and Lindsay, but the line between Lindsay and Toronto is blocked. A snow plough, with two engines are off the track at [illegible] Junction, and these will not probably be replaced before night. The Whitby and Nipissing divisions are completely snowed in and traffic is stopped. The line [illegible] Junction, between Port Hope and Midland. The authorities are, of course, doing their best to "raise the siege." The 8.30 express went up this morning all right, preceded by a snow plow, but turned back at Lindsay and came back at noon. The Grand Junction and Cobourg branches are clear, though [illegible] on the latter state cancelling [illegible] affairs stand at present, the only [illegible] railway communication we have with the east is via Port Hope and the main line of the G.T.R.

In town the streets have been cleared and everything looks almost as usual. All the stations freight [illegible] has been cleared off, and for the next few days the [illegible] will be busy getting rid of the surplus.

THE MAILS.

All day Tuesday we were without mails from any place. This morning, however, the mails from the east arrived and the evening mails from the west arrived by the G. T. R. express via Port Hope. It is expected the [illegible]'s mail will come in on the 5.15 this evening by the same route. The mails of Tuesday morning and Monday evening, however, still [illegible] the train at Myrtle. They will likely be in to-night too. The blockade is about raised and the mails will be regular again by to-morrow (Thursday.)

IN THE COUNTRY.

The country roads are badly blocked. Very few farmers are in town though it is market day. Some of the stages were late and some did not arrive at all. Traffic in the country is at a standstill.

Stock Sold.

The stock of dry goods of Mr. M. Sullivan, insolvent, was sold Tuesday to Mr. P. Doran, of Kingston, for 60c. on the $. Mr. Doran was a former resident of Peterborough.

Presbytery of Peterborough.

The Presbytery of Peterborough met in the school-room of St. Paul's at 10.30 a.m. on Tuesday.

Rev. R. [illegible], Peterborough, presided. There was a good attendance of ministers and elders, among those many trains being [illegible] on account of the heavy snow storm prevailing. The following were present:—Ministers—Rev. Messrs. Torrance and Bell, Peterborough; McCrae, Cobourg; Cleland, Port Hope; Turnbull, Harvey; Hyde, Warsaw; MacArthur, Havelock; Thomson, Hastings. Elders—Messrs. Roxburgh, Norwood; Clark, Campbellford; Smith, Warsaw; Payne, Springville; Johnston, Tully and Sheriff Hall, Peterborough.

Mr. Thomson, of Hastings, was asked to sit on closing pro tem.

Mr. BELL moved, seconded by Mr. McCrae, that Messrs. Spearn and Thomson, students, be recommended to the Home Mission Committee for mission work during the summer months.

A petition from Havelock and Stony Lake Mission was read by the Clerk, signed by 166 names, asking the Presbytery to allow Mr. MacArthur to remain as their minister for another year.

Rev. Mr. Cleland read the report regarding this mission. Some discussion took place over the report, and Rev. Mr. Bell, of Peterborough, was appointed by the Presbytery to visit Havelock and report to the Home Mission Committee.

[illegible] from Kinmount, Brown's Settlement and Minden were also read by Mr. Cleland. Kinmount had done well but the two last were in arrears. It was agreed by the Presbytery that these two congregations should be notified regarding this. It was agreed to forward the name of Mr. David F. Oswald to the Home Mission Committee as a catechist.

A communication was received from Rev. Chas. Cook stating that he had fallen from his appointment to the Synod against a previous decision of the Presbytery.

The names of Rev. W. W. Johnston, Peterborough, and Mr. Robert Borland, Hastings, were submitted to the Presbytery as representative elders of their respective congregations.

The report on Temperance was read by Rev. Mr. Bell, Peterborough, and was to the following effect:—

1. There were received 12 returns from congregations anent the questions on Temperance, which may be taken as fairly representing the entire boards.

2. These returns show a general advance of temperance sentiment and a marked growth towards prohibition.

3. That the Scott Act has done good work where moderately enforced, and that its failure is due to the want of the proper legal machinery to carry it out.

4. That there is very little sign of politicians dropping party issues to join on this question.

The committee recommend increased diligence in educating the people, and especially the young, in the hope that if we cannot get what we want in this matter it may be attainable by our children.

Mr. ROXBURGH, elder, Norwood, read the report anent the visiting of congregations. Garden Hill congregation was visited by Mr. Henderson, Cobourg. Cartwright and Ballyduff were visited by Messrs. Carnegie and Dingwall, Port Hope, and Mr. Roxburgh and Sheriff Hall visited Warsaw and Douro. Ormsford, and Springville and Bethany.

With regard to Springville and Bethany, Messrs. Roxburgh, Thompson and Sheriff Hall were appointed a deputation to visit those congregations, and to report at next regular meeting of Presbytery.

A communication from Rev. John S. Barnet, clerk of the Presbytery of Glengarry, stated that that Presbytery have resolved to apply to the next General Assembly for leave to receive as a minister of the Presbyterian Church Rev. D. A. McLean, an ordained minister of the Congregational church of the United States.

The ladies of St. Paul's congregation provided dinner and tea for the members of the Presbytery. Presbytery moved a vote of thanks to them for their hospitality.

JUDGE WELLER, President. H. W. KENT, Sec.-Treas.

A Quarter's Knowledge of Cavalry.

Col. Sukotin, [illegible] Russian army to be turned into hordes of cavalry like those of Tamerlane and Genghis Khan, has contributed to a Russian military magazine an able paper on the American cavalry during the war of secession. Therein we discover some of the motives which induced the recent transformation of the Russian cavalry into dragoons. But as that war was waged between masses of untrained horsemen, it is highly improbable that its lessons should apply to the conditions of a European conflict. The Americans on both sides preferred the revolver in the melee to the saber or lance; but why? Because their troopers were not good enough horsemen to use the cold steel with effect. A Federal lancer regiment, 700 strong, being routed, brought only twenty lances with them out of the fray, and it is a patent fact that the saber, in the hands of a tyro, is more dangerous to his charger's ears than to his antagonist. In addition, untrained soldiers sadly ill-use and neglect their horses. Experience taught the Federal Government that its cavalry, under an enterprising leader, had to be remounted throughout every four months. The cavalry belonging to the Army of the Potomac, averaging 12,000 strong, were supplied with 35,078 remounts within six months. Rigorous measures were taken to compel the men to spare their horses. A trooper galloping through a street of Washington, being called upon by a sentry to moderate his pace, was shot dead on refusing to obey. Whole regiments were turned into infantry for persistent neglect of their horses. Sheridan's assertion that 10,000 horses should be able to prevent the concentration of 100,000 men was based on the assumption that he could at the outset overwhelm the cavalry of the enemy with the fire of dragoons or mounted infantry; and upon a belief in it Russia seems to have staked its existence as a leading military power.—St. James's Gazette.

A Huge Geological Specimen.

In one of the class-rooms at the state university, says the St. Paul Pioneer Press, there is an ugly-looking bowlder, mounted as neatly and carefully on a wooden frame as if there were something remarkable about it. It seems that a few years ago Professor Winchell, in impressing on his geology class the features of the ice age, had pointed out certain peculiar marks on the rocks as the effects of the great ice movement. All the stones and rocks in the vicinity bore these traces, and the professor requested the boys to bring in some specimens for the recitation next day. The faculties of young men combined forces, hired a [illegible] team, and spent a good portion of the night in getting to the class-room a bowlder that weighed tons instead of one weighing ounces, which the geologist undoubtedly had in mind. When the professor entered the class-room the next day he showed not the slightest discomposure; but, on the other hand, with the most tantalizing self-possession, complimented the gentlemen on their ingenuity in procuring a specimen such as occasionally illustrated the [illegible] question. And to cap the climax [illegible] this big thing [illegible]

VOL. VI. NO. 63. PETERBOROUGH, THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 1888. PRICE TWO CENTS.

The Dominion Bell ORGANS.

WE wish to call your attention to the benefit derived from the

New Automatic Pedal Cover ATTACHMENT,

that has lately been added to the above Organs. This improvement has been a long felt necessity, and one which has never been successfully applied before by any Organ Companies until the patent was secured for the above Company, directly from the Inventor.

Other Organ Companies advertise their pedal covers dust proof, because they employ the usual method of blocking around the pedals, as we have done heretofore, but it is eminently unsatisfactory, and the only sure and efficient plan is that which we adopt, of covering the PEDALS and BOTTOM of our Organs. This attachment has been thoroughout (with the exception of the Covers) having no comb, spring, or delicate mechanism to get out of order or repair, and works AUTOMATICALLY with the Full Board of the Organ. The one simple act of opening or closing the Organ, simultaneously operates the Pedal Covers.

This improvement has been placed on all the different styles of Organs, and the aim is now, as in the past, to produce an instrument that HAS NO EQUAL.

All information and inquiries cheerfully answered. Catalogues sent free upon application. Examine the Mouse and Dust Proof Organ before purchasing, and be satisfied that you have the best in the World.

TELEGRAPHIC SUMMARY.

Health and Movements of Emperor Frederick III.

[illegible] Deceased Was a Sick Man—Shooting the Accident—A Great Fire Yesterday—Loss with All on Board Save One.

Rumor [illegible] in New York.

The last visit of General Moore, of the Salvation Army, to Madoc and Tweed was not productive of good, as many have left the Army. The Tweed Army went over in a body to the Canadian Army under Commissioner Coombs.

Hon. Edward Stanley, of the Grenadier Guards, eldest son of Lord Stanley of Preston, the future Governor-General, and who will act as A.D.C. to his father, has arrived in Ottawa and is stopping at the Government House, where he will be initiated into the duties devolving on the Governor-General's aides.

The Myrtle shooting case has been before the grand jury. The examination of witnesses is not yet concluded, and the grand jury adjourned till to-morrow. Excitement is beginning to run high as to the outcome of this famous case. "Jersey Lily" Corbyn has not yet put in an appearance. The court room was crowded to its utmost capacity, and the officials had no little difficulty in keeping order.

Religious affairs are in a very active state in Ottawa. Endeavors are being made to induce Revivalists Crossley, Hunter and Mackle to return there for a further brief season of labor. Revivalist Grant still holds forth at the Baptist church, and now Rev. Dr. Moore, a staunch Presbyterian, expresses his hope and belief that the amalgamation of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches is not far off. Lastly, the Congregationalists have determined to build a new $10,000 church.

A rather serious pitch-in occurred on the Michigan Central Railway, one mile east of the St. Thomas entrance to the yards yesterday afternoon. Conductor Edwards left his east-bound freight at New Sarnam, and ran his engine to St. Thomas for water. On going back at 45 miles an hour to clear No. 5 express he ran into a pilot engine as it was entering the [illegible] switch. [illegible] was derailed from the track and badly wrecked. The [illegible] demoralized. Fireman Donley and Brakeman McCaffrey jumped, but both were badly hurt, receiving cuts on their heads and legs. Fireman McKay was buried beneath the debris, and when taken out his [illegible] was badly sprained, but he escaped further injury.

The Old World.

Prince Bismarck has been severely tried by recent events, and he has been ordered by his physicians to abstain as far as possible from business.

Many emigrants are preparing to leave England for Canada during the next six weeks in order to take advantage of the assisted [illegible] which comes on April 27th.

Extensive floods prevail in Austria-Hungary. Bridges have been swept away and large areas converted into lakes. Dozens of houses have collapsed, several villages are submerged and a large number of persons have been drowned.

Emperor Frederick, on arriving at the Charlottenburg Palace, refused to be carried to his apartments in a Sedan chair. He mounted the [illegible] two steps at a time. After a short [illegible] he wrote until 1 a.m. He rose at [illegible], received Prince William, breakfasted with the Empress and children and then transacted business. Prince Bismarck's oral reports occupied several hours. In the afternoon the Emperor dined on [illegible] and continued [illegible] until the evening. [illegible] his attendants [illegible] but very [illegible] satisfied with his condition.

LONDON, March 14.—The steamer City of Exeter has been sunk in the Bristol Channel. Only one seaman was saved.

BERLIN, March 14.—Emperor Frederick will depart for Wiesbaden after the funeral. He has decided not to attend the funeral but he will receive in person all the royalties present at the obsequies.

LONDON, March 14.—The market place at Pesth, Hungary, was burnt to the ground Monday. Many lives were lost.

BERLIN, March 14.—The Emperor is greatly pleased at the Czarevitch's intention [illegible] to Berlin to attend the late Emperor's funeral.

It has already been decided to erect two monuments to Emperor William.

It seems almost certain that the Emperor will be able to attend. Prince Bismarck's condition is improving.

DUBLIN, March 14.—At a meeting of the National League yesterday, Mr. Kenny, M.P., announced that since the last meeting £5,000 had been received from America for the benefit of evicted tenants. He said that instead of the League being in a dying condition, as its enemies asserted, it showed more vitality than it had ever shown before. The contributions received by the League during the past fortnight were three times greater than those for the same period in 1887.

BERLIN, March 14.—Now that the Cathedral is to be open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., it is estimated that 250,000 persons may file through daily to view the late Emperor's remains.

Lecturing a Husband.

Mr. Burdette insists that he overheard a woman lecturing her husband as follows on board a train. "Now, I'll tell you why I wouldn't go into the restaurant and have a cup of coffee with you while we were waiting for the train. I didn't like the way you asked me. Keep quiet, I have the floor. Not half an hour before you said to Mr. Puffer, 'Come, let's get a cigar,' and away you went, holding his arm, and not giving him a chance to decline. When we met John O'Howdy on our way to luncheon you said: 'Just in time, John; come take lunch with us.' And then to-night, when we found the train an hour late, you looked at your watch, turned to me, and said in a questioning way: 'Would you like a cup of coffee?' And I did want it; I was tired and a little hungry, but I would have fainted before I would accepted such an invitation. And you went away a little bit vexed with me and had your coffee and bread and butter by yourself and didn't enjoy it very much. In effect, you said to me: 'If you want a cup of coffee, if you really want it, I will buy it for you.' You are the best husband in the world, but do as nearly all the best husbands do. Why do you men seem to dole things out to your wives when you fairly throw them to the [illegible] you know? Why don't you invite me heartily, as you invite men? Why didn't you say: 'Come, let's get a little coffee and something,' and take me right along with you? You wouldn't say to a man: 'Would you like me to go and buy you a cigar?' Then why do you always issue your little invitations to treats in that way to me? Indeed, indeed, my dear husband, if men would only act toward their wives as heartily, cordially, frankly as they do toward the men whom they meet, they would find cheerier companions at home than they would at the club."

Feminine Smokers.

The French housekeeper delights in her after-dinner "cigarette." The senora of Barcelona loves in the evening to wrap her black crepe around her head and while gently puffing her long tobacco cigarette cast heart-thrilling glances from her balcony above at the wights below. While the German frau is fond of her cigarette or even cigar, and the Russian wife is not behind her in her enjoyment of the weed, and even the Japanese, Chinese, Tartar, Dutch, and Soudanese wives all like to let tobacco smoke curl from their pretty mouths toward the sky, the Italian signora is, perhaps, the most passionately fond of the long, thin cigar of the country called "Virginia." It is no uncommon sight of a summer evening to see a party of ladies sitting in some cool terrace overlooking the sea or the campagna, while [illegible] velvety languor [illegible] time to the soft splashing of the sea against the rocky shore, and send rings of smoke from their fragrant cheroots.

HISTORY OF CHARCOAL.

The Old and the New Way of Making the Valuable Product—The Great Change in the Business.

In the old days the charcoal-burner drove a stake in the center of a piece of cleared ground around a sapling, and then proceeded to stand cord-wood up around it on end until the pile was about forty feet in diameter and two lengths high. Then he piled sods and earth all over the pit, leaving a small hole here and there around the bottom and one small one in the top. When the wood was well covered in he set it on fire and let it burn till well ablaze, and then closed up the draughts around the pile. For two weeks thereafter the charcoal-burner, with another man to keep watch and watch with him, sat by the pile and smoked his pipe. Now and then the fire would break through the covering and he would have to cover up the hole. Sometimes he would have to make a hole on a side where the fire was not disposed to go. In a few days a black tar would begin to ooze out through little drains made for its escape around the bottom. During all the time the pile was burning a picturesque column of smoke rose out of the chimney hole left in the top. When the tar ceased to flow and the smoke to rise the charcoal-burner knew the pit was burned out, and after allowing a day or so for cooling he shoveled off the sods and earth, poured water on such chunks of coal as happened to be on fire, and was then ready to load the product of his labor into a dusty, black, covered wagon, and with his mules to pull it, drive to town and make himself hoarse shouting: 'Cha-a-a-r-r-coal! Char-o-o-a-l!' He got about twenty-five bushels of coal out of a cord of wood and 25 cents out of a bushel of coal. Considering the value of the wood and the time required to make and sell the charcoal, the charcoal-burner didn't get rich very fast. In fact, he was always a laborer, dressed in blue jeans.

But he found time to meditate, and that after long years amounted to something. Out of his meditations grew the revolution in the business. Singular as it may seem, the most valuable product of the charcoal pit was the picturesque column of smoke that rose up and was dissipated in the air above the pit while the fire lasted. It was like throwing money into the river to let that smoke blow away. Some bright genius discovered that the smoke was in good part alcohol, and that the alcohol for mechanical purposes was just as good as grain or fruit alcohol, though not at all good to the taste. In fact, would take the throat out of a Mulberry street tramp.

The problem of getting the alcohol out of the smoke was simple. Instead of burning the wood in a pit, the genius borrowed capital and built retorts just large enough to hold two cords of wood each. They were made in shape of round steam boilers and mounted over brick furnaces as boilers are. The retorts were filled with hardwood, soft being of no account, and fires were started in the furnaces. The wood was baked, and the volatile elements of the wood were driven off through pipes that were laid in a big trough of running water, so as to form a condenser on the principle of a steam condenser. Of course, the factory had to be located on a stream of water that had fall in order to run the water into a condenser economically, although a steam engine would pump the water through.

The liquor that ran from the condenser was simply condensed smoke. It was conducted to a tank, where it was mixed with lime. The lime combined with certain acid constituents of the smoke and left wood alcohol free. The alcohol was drawn off and distilled once or twice to refine it, just as it would be distilled in a grain distillery. From five to six gallons of alcohol were obtained from a cord of wood.

Then the compound of lime and acids was taken out of the vats, and dried down in shallow vats until it became the commercial substitute known as acetate of lime. About 650 pounds of the acetate were obtained from a cord of wood. Here, then, were two valuable substances obtained from the smoke, and although some additional labor and a valuable plant had been necessary to secure the smoke, the extra expense was a trifle compared with the value of the new products.

Finally when the tar had ceased to flow from the pit, the retort was opened. Instead of twenty-five bushels of coal to the cord obtained in the pit, the charcoal-burner found sixty bushels to the cord in his retort. So the charcoal-burner hired men to do the yelling on the village streets for him, paid off the usurer who had loaned him the capital, threw away his jean trousers and his pipe, and, in a more becoming garb, sat down to smoke 25-cent cigars.

The fact is, the new [illegible] like any other [illegible] Rapidly [illegible] ly produced [illegible] of the world rushed into it and cut down prices.

Still, no one need complain who owns a good acid factory. Acid factory is a name adopted by those who do not like to stop and explain to every inquirer that while they are producing alcohol the stuff is not the sort that inebriates anybody. The charcoal pays well the expense of buying wood, paying wages, and delivering the products on the market, and leaves a little margin for interest on the investment besides. The alcohol and the acetate are clean profit. But that is not all; there is a very good product of ashes. The fire in the furnaces is kept burning with charcoal dust and broken charcoal that does not sell well on the market, and with the tar that comes out of the retorts. There are several bushels of ashes for each cord of wood, and the ashes are worth from 10 to 15 cents a bushel at the factory, where they usually [illegible] to the farmers for fertilizers. They are also bleached and used in making potash. Thinking of such [illegible] as this makes a fellow wonder whether there isn't lots of stuff going to waste as the smoke did, that might be utilized and make us all rich.—New York Sun.

A Bird With a History.

Our citizens will remember that a few months ago Francisco Estudillo sold his ranch and stock at San Jacinto for the round sum of $150,000. The purchaser of the property, after viewing the premises and possessions, was well satisfied with the price—$150,000. In looking over the stock and farm the purchaser's eye fell upon a mocking-bird, the property of Mrs. Estudillo, and the little feathering so attracted him that he was bound to secure him at any price, and went so far as to say that if he did not get the mocking-bird in the trade he would not buy. To this Mrs. Estudillo objected, as the lady has already made the sweet whistler a present to Miss Dias. Quite a wrangle over little "Dick" was the result, and it came near breaking up the sale, but finally Mrs. Estudillo gained her point and the bird. Today little "Dick," who, by the way, is one of the smartest birds of his species, hangs in the opera-house, the property of A. Dias, and his wonderful voice and mimicry attract the attention of all who enter. The bird feels his importance, and as he whistles seems to say: "I'm no common bird; I'm a $150,000 laddie. Money could not buy little "Dick."—San Bernardino (Cal.) Courier.

Buffalo Bill's Profits $5,000 a Day.

Like other hard-working men, Buffalo Bill finds delight in going out of town from Saturday to Monday, his favorite resort being the Oaklands Park hotel at Weybridge. To this quiet resort he has taken quite a fancy, and his commanding figure is becoming familiar to the habitues of the place. Col. Cody has been lately joined by his daughter, Miss Arta Cody, a young lady who inherits her father's handsome features and graceful bearing, and whose well-bred manners compare favorably with the wild antics of the pork-pickling prince hunters, whose days seem to have departed. Indeed, the whole bearing of these quiet western folk in private life is in singular contrast to the blatant loudness of the American women who come here in search of notoriety—a goal which they attain, if ever, by the aid of stuffed corsets, pearl powder, and bad language. By the way, there is good reason for the quiet smile of contentment which decorates Buffalo Bill's face now. It is all very well for duchesses and countesses to rave about Col. Cody's nice figure, but the figure which the colonel thinks the nicest is the handsome one of £1,200 a day clear profit which he is raking in by his show.—London Society.

A Practical Woman.

Life in Concord must, indeed, be delightful, but evidently it has more than one phase. Instructed by the polite apothecary on the coroner where to go for a lunch, the listener visited the neatly kept eating-house of a colored woman, who took infinite pains to serve him with the best fare she had—and good fare it was, too. The listener fell into conversation with her. "Have you lived long in Concord?" he asked. "Lor' no," she said; "only a year, and it won't be another year, if I can get out of it before that time!" "Indeed! don't you like the town?" "The town may be good enough," said the woman, "but it ain't no sort of a place to make a livin' in, sir."—Boston Transcript.

THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 1888.

Farewell to a Comrade.

Mr. Robert Hamilton Fleming Honoured by His Fellow-Employees.

As jolly a set of fellows as can be found working together under the roof are those employed in the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company's works. They are not in the least deficient, either, in a sense of appreciation of deserving comrades who is about to leave them for another country. Over thirty of these assembled in the dining room of Chamberlain's Wednesday evening to do honor to Mr. Robert Hamilton, a fellow-employee, who was about to leave for San Francisco, Cal. Mr. J. Foster occupied the chair, and filled the position in a happy manner throughout.

After the supper of oysters and "trimmings" had been disposed of, Foster proposed the toast of the evening, "Our Guest," which was received by the chairman in a neat speech. Mr. Hamilton is really surprised by the kindly feelings and hearty esteem of his fellow-employees, and hoped it may always be his fortune to make it as pleasant for them as they had for him while working together. Mr. Wm. Donovan favored the company with a song, "The Pirates of Penzance," in the chorus of which they all joined. The "Press" came in for a few hard hits, but was responded to by the Reporters' representative, after which Mr. Callahan rendered a popular song, "Money." "The Tweed Valley Quartette" drank to, and Messrs. Evans and Hickey replied. This latest and peculiar institution, the occasion, as it was stated, the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company had done a large amount of work for it. Mr. Jos. Cheers sang "Jessamie," Mr. N. Fenwick following with "Silver Bells." Mr. Callahan also gave "My Little Stock and Farm." "The Lather" found able champions in Messrs. Smith, Cheers and Soles. "The Manager of the Works" was toasted, and the way in which it was drank testified to the high esteem in which Mr. Wm. Hamilton is held by his men. Mr. W. H. Bowman's humorous solo that followed caused much merriment. In order to give the married men a chance to say something, the chairman proposed "The Babies," to which Messrs. McKim, Hawkins, Matthews and McMillan responded. If the babies could only have heard the many kind words said of them they would come to the conclusion that they were not generally regarded as nuisances as they are said to be. "Our Guest" was replied to by Messrs. Moore, McMillan, Allison and Mulligan. Before the last toast, the proposed Messrs. Hammersley and Donovan made a few good words of Mr. Hamilton, and Messrs. Donovan, Millen and Fanning sang each another solo. "The Host and Hostess" were honored, and acknowledgment made by Mr. W. H. Bowman supplemented by another comic song that brought down the house.

The assembly broke up at an early hour. Each of the speakers took occasion to refer in complimentary terms to Mr. Hamilton, who was considered on all sides as a right good fellow and one who would, while being a loss to Peterborough, be a gain to the United States.

Mr. Hamilton left this morning for his new home.

Sad Devastation of a Household by the Fell Disease.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., March 12.—A terrible scene of sickness, destitution and death is reported from Calcutta township. Samuel Cooley, with his wife and 3 children, lives in a little two-roomed house. [illegible] the oldest died from diphtheria. A few days later the remains of the second child were interred in the little cemetery. Five days ago the babe was taken and the next day the father was laid prostrate. Worn out and grief-stricken, the poor, tired mother at last succumbed, and to-day the dreadful scene is forming in her throat. Their mother her condition worse in the fact that she hourly expects to give birth to another child. An Anecdote of Admiral Luce.

"John C. Risberg, an attorney, of this city was during 1864 and 1865 a midshipman under Admiral Luce on the gunships Macedonia and Santee of the North Atlantic Squadron, and he remembers some stories of the Admiral that are particularly apropos at this time.

"I recall," he said to a Tribune reporter yesterday, "one story that has particular bearing on his career as a naval officer. At that time I served under [illegible] as a Commander in the navy, from which position he has been very justly promoted since. He was and is probably one of the ablest seamen in the United States navy, and the circumstance by which he came to be such is what my story deals with particularly. It happened a number of miles before the war, and he was then a midshipman in service. There was a party given, at which two old Commanders were invited who had not been on speaking terms for a great while, and they were seated next to each other, as it happened. Next to them sat young Midshipman Luce, full of fun, like all midshipmen, and he solaced the time by pinning their coattails together. They had on their naval dress uniforms with the long coattails, you understand, and it was no very difficult matter to fasten them together during the course of the dinner. Well, when every one knew these two Commodores, as it was very natural under the circumstances, started in opposite directions, and then came to an abrupt halt. Just how the affair ended that night I don't know, but of course it was evident that some one was to blame for the trick, and an investigation was ordered. I suppose you can't just see how this affected Admiral Luce's seamanship in after years, but I am coming to that. His agency in the matter was discovered, and he was tried and suspended from the navy for ten years. Ordinarily that would have meant absolute retirement. But Admiral Luce was too devoted to the sea and he straightway entered the merchant marine, which at that time was just at its prime. It was the experience he gained during the ten years expulsion that made him one of the ablest seamen in the navy. It was that which gave him the experience and knowledge to write the first and best work on seamanship and naval construction extant, a work which is a text-book at the Annapolis Naval academy now, and has been for a great many years. It is odd how some thoughtless prank will sometimes influence a person's after life, isn't it? That string of the coattails together gave Admiral Luce a great deal of experience he would probably not have otherwise gotten.

"He reentered the navy just about the commencement of the War of the Rebellion, when such men as he were most needed. He is a fine seaman, a good officer, and a splendid disciplinarian."—Chicago Tribune.

How They Plant Pearls.

Owners of grounds at the Pearl islands, in this bay, and which islands have been unproductive since the pearl-yielding oysters died off, might take a hint from the Chinese, who practice oyster culture to a considerable extent, and whose bamboo oyster fields are prepared far more carefully than a field for the growth of the sugar-cane. Holes are bored in the old oyster shells and these are stuck on pieces of split bamboo about two feet in length. They are then planted close together on mud flats, between high and low water mark, but subject to strong tidal currents. These are supposed to bring the oyster spat, which adhered to the old shells, and shortly develops into tiny oysters. Then the bamboos are transplanted and set some inches apart, until within six months of the first planting they are found to be covered with well grown oysters, which are then collected for the market.—Panama Star and Herald.

A High Cliff.

There is a perpendicular cliff on the Westport shore in the Sesanoa river, Lincoln county, Me., rising more than a hundred feet above the surface of the water. Here, as early as 1676, one Dagget, an Indian trader, used to moor his sloop beneath the precipitous wall, and carry on trade with the Indians on its summit. They lowered down their furs to him in his boat and hoisted up his goods in return. Protected from sudden assaults by this towering cliff, he called it his castle, and painted high up on its surface a hand as a sign of amity. On the face of this cliff there is the figure of an Indian, with a bow, produced by natural stains in the rock. The resemblance to a human figure is very striking. When the British came up in 1814 to lay Wiscasset under contribution they reported this rock to be high as St. Paul's steeple and alive with militiamen."—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

Ivy.

Thou art a friend for evil days, and show
Thy cheerful greenness when the summer sun
That revels in the sun, dismayed and cowed,
Has shrunk away till softer breezes blow.
Ruthlessly thou shakest off the snow,
Emerging, bold as Greek the cold white shroud,
With beauty unimpaired, a conqueress proud.
A daring climber thou, and yet the low
Unsightly things of earth thou seekest out
To wave thy graceful wreaths about, content
Brave, faithful ivy, if mankind were true
Amid life's ills thy love would be their lot,
And in the tangled web of life we did
Be mine to veil it with sweet charity.

The Man in the Moon.

Do you remember the clouds in the sky,
And the man in the moon peeping through.
How he winked at a star who twinkling ago
The night I was whispering of love?

The music and chorus of insect bands,
Chirping vespers to valley and hill,
The soft, tender clasp of two trembling hands—
Do they live in your memory still?

The summer has gone, and the end lies hid
That was watching the response of love,
When you asked me to walk with Kate Kidd,
And I silenced your lips with a kiss.

The sad willow weeps, the oak sighs and grieves,
For the voices that then filled the air,
And storms hurl a mountain of sable-hued dead leaves
O'er my hopes, lying tomb'd in despair.

The man in the moon has gone to his rest,
And our star shows no twinkle of light;
The clouds, like a pall, overshadow my breast,
And my love-dream has ended in night.

One Woman's History.

A tall, fine-looking, well-dressed woman was sitting near the fare-box in a Broadway street car as I entered it. She had a high forehead, dark brown hair, black eyes, and remarkably intelligent features. A friend sat beside her, and to him she talked pleasantly. Her tones were low and her English was of the purest. She was apparently about 40 years of age, and my attention was first attracted to her by the fact that she had overpaid her fare, putting in a dime for a nickel. I made this even now, giving her my fare instead of receiving it from her. As she left the car I learned she was a woman with a history, and that she was [illegible] Tabor's [illegible] made his big strike by taking boarders and keeping store which supplied the feed for the prospectors who struck the Little Pittsburg mine. This was the woman for whom Tabor left his divorce, and to whom she left to marry the present Mrs. Tabor, whom he first wedded at St. Louis; afterward another marriage ceremony was solemnized at Washington. She does not look like a disappointed woman, and she is by no means one of the frail results of the fair sex. I don't think she has [illegible] husband or Will Tabor, and I find that here at Denver her standing is very good. She is in good circumstances, the property which Tabor gave her having largely increased in value. She is worth at least $400,000 to-day, and she lately sold sixteen lots out of a piece of forty which Tabor gave her for $60,000. She has left twenty-four lots and a house upon them that cost $25,000, and she still owns the La Veta property. This last consists of fourteen three-story houses, built in the best manner and forming good rental property, worth about $200,000.—Denver Letter to Utica Observer.

A Curious Mexican Animal.

A Mexican tapir captured on the estate of Cosamaloapan, near Tlacotalpan, is on exhibition at Vera Cruz. It is female, and in body is like a hog of dark chestnut in color, is thinly covered with hair, has short legs, four feet with three toes, hind feet with four toes, has a short tail, wide and round ears, head of a rhinoceros, small and intelligent eyes, small mouth and low [illegible] of teeth, and a nose terminating in a trunk like that of an elephant, only much smaller. This trunk is flexible and prehensile, and with it the animal can pull leaves off the trees or strip the blades from the cornstalks and feed itself. It differs from the Asiatic and South American tapirs in having a prehensible proboscis and in having round ears instead of sharp-pointed ones. It is very tame, and there is no reason why the tapir could not be domesticated and used as a beast of burden.—City of Mexico Two Republics.

Fireman (to foreman)—Where shall I play the hose first? Foreman—Play it on the night watchman until you wake him up.—New York Sun.

Is being introduced, by a 10 cent bottle of Pain-Killer, the prompt and best pain reliever. It cures colds, cramps, colic, pain in the head, asthma, pain in the chest; in fact it relieves pain of any kind. Believe no substitute. Sold by druggists. Large bottles only 25 cents. Try a sample bottle of Nerviline, only 10 cents. Pain-Killer, Nerviline.

One Good Point.

Out of the many good points in Burdock Blood Bitters is that it may be taken at all seasons of the year, and by either young or old. In this way the three busy R's are always at work and doing good. 2w10d

The Peasants of Russia.

As you get farther into Russia the long boots of the country people show that you have come into the land of mud and bad roads. All along the line you see that monotonous beauty of every northern landscape—the wild, thick-set forest, in which pines and birch strive for the mastery; the sluggish river now broadening into a pooky morass, they deep, soft, marshy meadows roughly railed with split timbers. Above all, the landscape conveys to a stranger from the west of Europe a sense of space, as of a country where every tree is not numbered; where there is much land and few men; where it is cheaper and easier to make a fresh road over a new bit of land than to repair the ruts of the old track. But when the sun goes down behind a hill, throwing a bright light on the foliage of the wood opposite—a foliage not of a dusky blue-green, but the dark pine relieved by the lightest, freshest green, the silver of the birches—and the light twinkles on the silver birch stems and the surface of the quiet river turns to gold, then one sees the Russian sunset as portrayed by Turgeneff with a glamour over its loveliness. At that moment the sight recalled the landscape seen so often in stage painting, and the Russian peasants are opera-chorus peasants, dressed in bright red skirts buckled around the waist and hanging loose over the trousers, which are also of the three inches long tucked into their long boots. Over the shirt they wear a sheepskin coming to their ankles. The women wear pink or red dresses (the Slav likes bright colors), bead necklaces, a gaudy handkerchief over the head, and the legs, when they are not bare, tied around with bands.—St. James's Gazette.

I HAVE HAD catarrh for many years, and used all kinds of remedies without relief. Mr. Smith, druggist, of Little Falls, recommended Ely's Cream Balm. The effect of the application was magical. It allayed the inflammation, cleansed and healed my head and was clear as a bell. One bottle has done me so much good that I am confident its use will effect a permanent cure. It is soothing, pleasant and easy to apply, and I strongly urge its use by all sufferers.—Geo. Terry, Little Falls, N. Y.

Depend Upon It.

Accidents will happen despite all care and painful injuries such as Sprains, Bruises, Cuts and Burns result. Every family should therefore keep Hagyard's Yellow Oil on hand, as it is the greatest family remedy for all Pains, Coughs, Colds and sore Throat, Croup and Whooping Cough yield quickly to this excellent remedy. 2w10d

ANOTHER WONDER!

It never was intended so far as I can learn,
That either man or woman were intended to be bald,
I think you will believe me, indeed I'm sure you will,
If at the "Facie Hair Works" you have called

There is one thing Nature thinks of—let us thank her all we can—
She takes particular trouble with our faces;
She knows a scanty growth of hair, be sure
And whitening locks,
Will detract from the beauty of the face.

But Nature has her laws so strict that you must never err,
For you'll surely pay the penalty at last,
Sustain it, that bounteous land of hair,
Doctor Dorenwend's Hair Magic's unsurpassed.

Just try it, you afflicted, you never will regret,
The Magic was never yet known to fail
And the good that it will do you will make you soon forget
The expenditure a bottle will entail.

This now famous preparation for invigorating and stimulating the growth of the hair is universally accepted as the most valuable specific on the market. All diseases of the scalp are either relieved or permanently cured. A rich and rapid growth of hair will follow after judicious and regular treatment. It remains with the user alone to secure the desired results. Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" is sold by all druggists at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. If not obtainable in your own locality send direct to the sole manufacturer, Dorenwend, Parlor Hair Store, 103 and 105 Yonge street, Toronto. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists. dw

The Daily Examiner.

THURSDAY, MARCH 15th, 1888.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Quiet to decidedly stormy, comparatively mild weather.

An Early Easter.

A pleasant popular idea is that an early Easter means an early spring, and a decidedly feminine idea that every lady should have a new spring bonnet for Easter Sunday; and if a new bonnet, why not a new dress? And if a new dress why not out of the richest and most stylish! To get the newest dress goods in all the new colorings, and most fashionable fabrics, the place is the golden lion. Remember that the finest of imported goods are sold at the lowest prices, made, if so desired, in first class style on the premises.

Why Not, Indeed?

Why not have a telephone at the post office corner? The post office has been taken away, and it would not certainly be straining the doctrine of compensation unduly to give the vicinity a letter box instead. There are large numbers of business men in the vicinity and they are glad enough to go straight home after a hard day's business and an evening spent in writing letters, without going out of their way to post them. Mr. Stevenson, be good enough to use your influence to get the letter box on the corner of Brock and George streets.

Ill on Ben Butler.

Gen. Butler went into a hospital in Washington not long since, writes Ed Putnam, to express sympathy with the patients.

"What is the matter with you, my man?" asked the General, as he passed at the man with a sore leg.

"Oh, I've got gout gangrene, General."

"Gangrene! why, that's a very dangerous disease, my man—v-e-r-y d-a-n-g-e-r-o-u-s," said Gen. Butler. "I never knew a man to have gangrene and recover. It always kills the patient or leaves him demented. I've had it myself!"

An Exodus of Orators.

They take the 5:15 train this evening; they are Messrs. S. R. Armstrong, W. H. Stevens and Geo. A. Schofield, and they are going to Lindsay to uphold the affirmative of the solution, "Resolved: that the right to vote for members of the Provincial Legislature and Dominion Parliament should be extended to women." The subject is to be discussed as a part of the programme of a Y. M. C. A. concert. The benighted Lindsayites, who are to try to talk women out of their rights at the ballot, are Messrs. R. Hall, B.A., and Jas. M. Anderson. J. R. Dundas, ex-M.P., will occupy the chair, weigh the arguments and pronounce the momentous decision, that is, to suggest the correct policy to the Dominion and Provincial governors. The Peterborough Y.M.C.A. undertakers, Messrs. Hall, Stevens, Miller, Bagnall and Henderson will contribute to the musical part of the programme. If our Peterborough orators, with the right side of the question, fail to do not, on the seventh day of the third month of Lent, one, who, the day, they should, on their return home, be met at the station by the brass band and receive a sound thrashing at the hands of the fair sex, armed with the weapon—that is the backbone—the solitary benedict will, doubtless, need no special treatment.

A. O. U. W.

District Master Ferguson, according to the Oversear, the official organ of the A.O.U.W. in Canada, has the following good report to make of Peterborough Lodge: "On January 26th, I paid an official visit to Peterborough Lodge and installed the officers. The Lodge is in a fairly prosperous condition, with 47 members. The great drawback is the non-attendance of members; the whole responsibility of the Lodge apparently being left to the Officers. I regret, however, however, there appears no special prospect of improvement. I was not satisfied with the way in which the books of the Lodge have been kept. The Recorder, Bro. T. M. D. Croly, is the right man in the right place. The Financial and Receiver's books were also well kept. The principle of depositing all money of the Lodge in a bank and paying all orders by cheque proves a double check on the correctness of the work. The finances appear to be flourishing with a balance of [illegible]. The roll [illegible] showing its members [illegible] Master, M.P. Police Magistrate, an alderman of the town and a number of professional and mercantile gentlemen, and it largely remains with these whether by their influence they will make this Lodge one of the best in the province."

[illegible] Supper.

The members of [illegible] Division, No. 1, of the C.M.B.A. concert and lecture on the evening of Friday, the 16th, are requested to get their seats marked at Salisbury's. The regular ushers of the Opera house have been engaged, so that there will be no confusion in seating the audience. 2d

St. Patrick's Day Travellers.

This morning Mr. T. Maxtice, having provided with tickets per steamer "City of Chicago," Inman Line, sent off from the Midland station — for Liverpool, Ann Swords and Miss Alice Daly, and Mrs. Sullivan and son for Dublin. They all sail from New York on St. Patrick's Day, March 17th.

Chancery Sittings.

The Spring Chancery Sittings opens here on Friday, at 1 p.m., before Chief Justice Ferguson. The only case on the docket is as follows:—Canada Company vs Rabidge—An action of ejectment from premises in the township of Smith. Murray, Barwick & Maclaren, Toronto, for plaintiffs; F. D. Moore, Lindsay, for defendant.

A Rapid Run to Liverpool.

Nearly a fortnight ago the EXAMINER mentioned that Mrs. Gorman, of Belleville, and Mrs. (Dr.) Goldsmith purchased, from Mr. T. Maxtice, tickets per "City of Berlin" Inman Line, for Liverpool. They expected to reach their destination in about a fortnight. Mr. Maxtice assured them that they would reach Liverpool the eleventh day. Surely enough, they reached in the time mentioned, leaving New York March 3rd they landed in Liverpool, on the 10th.

Ship Social and Concert.

The great ship social and concert under the management of the ladies of Charlotte St. Church, will take place next Monday, 19th of March, in Bradburn's Opera House. Tickets, 25c. each. Refreshments 10c. extra, to be served from 6 bells to 8 bells. Captain, J. R. Stratton, M.P.P. Sailors and passengers will assemble on deck at 8 bells to enjoy a fine programme of sea-faring music. d2

Quarterly Board.

The regular monthly meeting of the Quarterly Board was held last night in the Charlotte Street Methodist church school-room; there was a full attendance of members. The Recording Steward presented his report, showing the statement of accounts for the past month, which was satisfactory. The business-like and careful manner in which the books and accounts are arranged and audited are highly commendable. Several matters of importance in connection with finances and church work were discussed by the Board and a committee appointed to attend to them. After a [illegible] session the meeting was closed with the benediction.

On Trial.

The following clipping refers to a company that will appear in Bradburn's Opera House [illegible] next: "The [illegible] Opera House [illegible] packed to the doors last night to [illegible] to come witnessed the production for the first time in this city of the popular border drama, "On the Trail; or, Daniel Boone, the Pioneer." To say they went home satisfied would be expressing it in modest terms. W. A. Lavelle, the scout, appeared in the title rôle and surprised all by his clear and conscientious interpretation of the character of "Daniel Boone." He has an excellent presence and [illegible] satisfactory support was first-class in every particular, and the piece was mounted in a manner never before witnessed in our theatre. The introduction of the trained horses and wild animals was a special feature, and the entire absence of "blood and thunder" qualities was both agreeable and surprising. The Indian encampment, including genuine Indians in their war dances held the audience spell-bound. Messrs. Peck & Fursman deserve great credit for the care and attention they have given in placing this entertainment before the public, and we are sure they will receive a liberal reward from the army of amusement lovers wherever they go. It is certain that they will always be welcome here."—Albany Argus.

Personal.

Mr. W. Hamill, insurance agent, accompanied by two colleagues, Mr. W. Little and Mr. R. A. Hamilton, left yesterday for Montreal, to attend the annual gathering of the "Sun" Life Assurance Company. The meeting will be held Friday, while what is said to be the best annual report ever issued will be submitted. After this agreeable meeting, Mr. Hill will go on to Quebec to visit relatives, and will be absent about a fortnight.

The Blizzard's Blockade.

The Blockade Broken Partially—The Old Grand Trunk to the Rescue—Daylight Lost in by the Port Hope Branch—The Grand Trunk Also Blocked—New Cobourg Blockaded—Midland Open.

The local show [illegible] still continues, though the back of the inconvenience and stoppage of travel is broken by the opening of communication with the main line of the Grand Trunk, which has fortunately escaped the blockade. At noon yesterday a special train was despatched to Port Hope to connect with the main line service. The large number of steam-bound passengers by the C. P. R. trains gladly hailed this chance of getting on to their destination. About twenty-five passengers left by this train, which returned at 1.40 p.m. bringing the Toronto mails of the previous day. At 6.15 in the evening another special went [illegible] and this carried also about forty [illegible] passengers, and this morning at 8.30 about a dozen more of this class of [illegible] as well as several other passengers took the special. In all about 75 storm-stayed C.P.R. passengers got aged on their way by the Grand Trunk.

"THE OLD RELIABLE,"

which through thirty years of storm and calm has served the public, filled the breach all time [illegible] rail [illegible] the congestion of travel [illegible] mail [illegible]. In the latter respect the credit of the mail service being looked after must be given to Postmaster Rogers and him, western people who have got their letters, may thank for that satisfaction. Yesterday he took seventeen huge mail bags of through matter from the east from the [illegible] C. P. R. train, transferred them to the opposite and had them sent west. Last night and this morning he also caused the Toronto mail to be sent in the same way. He took this action on his own responsibility and his action was the [illegible]

A WIDE-AWAKE PUBLIC OFFICIAL

should take under the circumstances. We might have got our Toronto mail here to-day but the special arrived at noon from Port Hope without it—the Toronto post office officials evidently not thinking the public convenience a matter worthy of their consideration.

The C.P.R. is terribly obstructed at Myrtle, the block being confined between Burkton and Claremont. At one point for a quarter of a mile the snow is piled on the track 20 feet deep, and for miles the snow is from 12 to 15 feet in depth. Three snowplows and two hundred men working to dislodge the two imprisoned trains, which are more buried than "stuck." There are five engines helping in the work—at one time there were nine engines on the spot. It is expected that the blockade will be raised to-night, but we heard the same hope expressed yesterday.

THE MIDLAND CLOSURE.

The Midland hopes to get forward, but the track between that point and Scarboro—about 25 miles—is blocked in many places. The snow plough are busy and may get the line clear to-night. The Coboconk division is also blocked. The train arrived as soon as usual from Midland. The Grand Junction is all right. It is the lucky line and hasn't missed a train nor lost an hour on any trip since Monday.

If the Midland men of Uxbridge is not opposed this [illegible] passengers [illegible] west may go by the 5:15 train via Whitby and the main line.

Issues.

The blockade at Myrtle has been raised. A little after noon the track was cleared for the first train, and it started for town about 5 o'clock. The next train is expected to arrive at 5.50.

County Bridge Building.

Wynne's Way of Working—Preparations for Building Three County Bridges.

Mr. Charles Wynne, contractor, is not at all idle this winter but is handling stone while the snow lasts, and generally making ready for early work on the three bridges he has under contract. He has about all the stone on the ground for the locks bridge, about four hundred cubic yards having been hauled from Dummer quarry by team. At one time forty teams were engaged at it. Mr. Wynne proposes to put all his force on the Warsaw and Allandale bridges as soon as the spring opens, so that he will have them finished by the time the water is low enough to work to advantage at the Locks. All three bridges will be completed this season. At present Mr. Wynne has from twenty-five to forty men at work in the quarry near Warsaw, besides several stone-cutters, scattered at several teams. To give some idea of the extent of his operations, it may be mentioned that during the past winter he has, on the average, given employment to about seventy-five men regularly and about twenty-five teams.

Mr. Wynne will push on his present contract to be ready for other work at present in prospect.

The Concert and Lecture.

A splendid selection of Irish airs will be played by Prof. Doucet's orchestra at the C. M.B.A. concert on St. Patrick's eve, Friday evening. A short but brilliant programme of songs by leading local talent will be introductory to a lecture on "Ireland, during the Victorian Era," by the Hon. Senator Sullivan, Kingston. 2d

Mr. P. H. Morris, representing the B. Laurance Spectacle Company, will be at Mr. John McKeb'l drug store on Friday and Saturday, March 23rd and 24th, when parties desiring to be fitted with the celebrated glasses can secure the advantage of his skilled advice. 3d61

Examiner Bindery.

Merchants and business men, now is the time to call at the EXAMINER bindery and leave your orders for journals, day books, ledgers, invoice books, cheque books, and all blank books used by business. Don't wait till the moment you want to use them. All blank books last longer for not being used immediately after being finished.

Conundrum Column.

A local [illegible] squads in the following:—A has [illegible] purchased [illegible] tons of iron at [illegible]. One of the firm buys at the rate of $13 a ton and the other at $17 per ton. How many tons did each member of the firm buy?

The following conundrum arose out of a bona fide transaction that occurred in town just the other day. Joe and Pat, two carters, contract to do a job for $10. They spend $1 on extra help and another $1 on material. In settling up Joe agreed to take the material at $1 as part of his share. A friendly dispute arose between the two on the division. Pat said Joe was entitled to $4 in cash besides the material, and he gave him this money. Joe treated on the head of it. But after considering the matter, Joe came to the conclusion that he was entitled to only $3.50, and gave Pat back 50c. Then Pat treated. On the next meeting Pat, who had also thought over the matter, forced Joe to take back the 50c., which he claimed did not belong to him but to Joe. Then Joe treated. Neither were satisfied with the result of their own conclusions, and left the matter to arbitration. The arbitration decided that the 50c belonged to Pat. Pat treated again and Joe followed suit, and the conundrum is, to whom does the 50c. belong?

ANOTHER REVIEW.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

MUD LAKE, March 12th, 1888.

SIR,—In the last weekly EXAMINER your estimable correspondent F. B. says, "By puzzling my brain for a while I managed to get off the following"—and then proceeds with what F.B. wishes to be taken for a solution of the "puzzle."

When F. B. says that C would be halfway between A and B, "all the time, as 4 is halfway between 3 and 5," it certainly is clear that the "puzzling of the brain" got F. B. "away off" from the required point, as F.B. should bear in mind that C starts from Lakefield and not with A, and B, which makes the difference in the terms of the problem.

Now, starting from opposite points:

A travels as 5 to 4 compared to C and
A' " as 5 to 3 " " B, and C " as 4 to 3 " " B, and from the opposite point to B.

Therefore, in one and one-third hours C will be midway between A and B, having made 5⅓ miles from Lakefield, and A being at the same hour 6⅔ miles and B just 4 miles from Peterborough, always bearing in mind that neither party gets "their brains puzzled" by supposing that C is "all the time" midway between A and B.

A travels in 1⅓ hours, 6⅔ miles,
B " " 1⅓ " 4 miles,
C " " 1⅓ " 5⅓ miles,

which is the equidistant point between A and B.

A Game Scrap for the Local Rescue—Snow-bound Strangers Taken in and Done for—Millbrook Favorites.

Yesterday afternoon a rink of Toronto and Montreal curlers, who were snow-bound here, played a rink of the local club. The strangers were all good players, skipped by Prof. Carpmael, of Toronto, but they were not in luck and were easily out generalled by the home rink, who were accompanied up by [illegible]. The local [illegible] Bridges, J. McClelland, T. Rutherford and T. P. Atkill.

A couple of rinks of Millbrook curlers came up on the 5:15 train yesterday afternoon and between that time and the hour of leaving on the 8:50 train in the evening, managed to get a sound drubbing at the hands of the local men. The Millbrook men can console themselves by the reflection that they are steadily improving, and in a couple of years may turn the tables. The visitors were entertained at lunch during the game. The following is the score:

If you think smoking is injurious to your health, stop smoking in the early morning, and smoke only the "Crow" cigar.

—The committee charged with restoring the scheme for numbering the streets and houses will meet to-night.

—Several of the persons detained here by the blockade were through passengers to Chicago, San Francisco, Japan, etc.

—The government clock in the post office tower is to be green. That is, on the principle that "fer-away hills look green."

—The holiday of the station and Post Office employees is now over, and the rush of work will make them pay dearly enough for it.

—In amount of payment of Scott Act fines Peterborough stands next to the head of the list with $10,060, Middlesex leading with $10,094.

—On March 1st the EXAMINER prophesied that the railways would have more trouble from snow during March than the whole winter previously.

—The snow-bound on the Pacific express detained here, lost their night caps in the storm—at least they had to send up town for "night caps" before they "farmed in" in their sleepers.

—The subject of debate at Lindsay to-night is not the right to vote should be "extended" to women. "Extended" is a good word and suggests that the ballot should be gingerly handed to the female elector at the end of a toasting fork or clothes line prop.

EARLY CLOSING OF SHOPS.

HOW HON. MR. FRASER'S BILL SAYS IT MAY BE DONE.

Hours of Work for Young Persons—A Bad Bill for the Rouge Hunter—Another Week of the Scotch—Committee Work—Two Bills in Suspense.

TORONTO, March 16.

Mr. Fraser's bill "to regulate the closing of shops and the hours of labor thereto for children and young persons" was considered in committee at the opening of yesterday's session of the Legislature, and the finishing touches were given to it. It is the outcome of the agitation which has been kept up for some time in different parts of the Province for an abatement of the long hour system which prevails with few exceptions in the retail trade.

Mr. Wood (Brant) moved for an order of the House for a return showing the location of each mechanics' institute, farmers' institute and free library in the Province, with the number of subscribers or members of each and the amount of money annually expended by the Province for their support; also, the number of school boards that during the last five years preceding the withdrawal of Government grant for purchase of libraries made application to have sums voted for the purchase of books for school libraries supplemented by Education Department, with the amount of money thus annually expended by the Legislature during the period named; also, copies of all correspondence between the Education Department and trustees of school boards or other persons respecting the question of aid in purchasing libraries since the withdrawal of such aid.

Mr. Wood supported his motion, stating the good that had been accomplished by mechanics' institutes and the old rural libraries. He suggested the restoration of these rural libraries and the establishing of libraries in connection with farmers' institutes.

Hon. Minister of Education was pleased at the hon. gentleman's testimony that the mechanics' institutes were of benefit. He could not bring down the returns asked for till the end of the session. The rural libraries, which had been established by Dr. Ryerson, had also done much good, but through the supply of books having fallen short and the books having been worn out and destroyed, the libraries had fallen into disuse.

At present he did not feel disposed to restore the system. Many of the mechanics' institutes reached the people which the old libraries served. In regard to the farmers' institutes, that was a matter which would engage the attention of the new Minister of Agriculture.

Mr. Creighton commended the scheme of establishing libraries in connection with farmers' institutes.

Hon. Commissioner of Agriculture agreed with previous speakers that the scheme was a good one. The farmers' institute system when established was largely experimental. It was capable of great development and extension.

Around the Rebbles.

Among the bills considered by the Municipal Committee yesterday was Mr. Balfour's relating to the bonus evil. The committee, thearh rejecting the principle of the bill a day or two ago, consented to take it up again, and their labor yesterday resulted in several salutary amendments being made. As the bill now stands, no municipality can give by way of bonus to a manufacturing industry more than ten per cent. of an amount equal to its annual taxation. It also requires that two-thirds of the votes of freeholders on the voters' list shall be registered in favor of any proposed bonus before the amount asked for can be handed over. Besides this, municipalities are not allowed to bonus any industry that has been bonused in another municipality, and no industry can be launched to compete against another already established within such a municipality. If these provisions are adopted by the House Mr. R. Hunter may take a trip for his health.

At the Public Accounts Committee meeting yesterday Mr. M. H. Totten of the Provincial Secretary's Department was called to give a statement of how the Scott Act was working from a financial point of view. He said thus the Counties of Ontario had received $[illegible] in fines during last year and that it cost [illegible] to enforce the act. In other counties the fines fell below the enforcement and in this county the amount collected exceeded the amounts spent. He had received no further order-in-council from the Dominion Government in reference to the Scott Act.

The bill to abolish collegiate was considered yesterday, and laid over till next session. Municipal councils and road companies are to be asked for advice during recess.

SENSATION AT MONTREAL.

Supposed Attempt to Destroy Evidence in the Detectives' Case—The Trial.

MONTREAL, March 15.—A sensation was created in Court House circles to-day, by what is thought to be a daring attempt to steal compromising documents filed by the prosecution in the case of the accused detectives, whose trials began yesterday. Last night, when both of the Court House janitors were almost from their apartments, a servant girl heard some one at the door and thinking it was one of her masters she proceeded to open it, but found it fastened from the outside, and on looking through the window saw a man running away. The High Constable was notified and a guard placed over the Court House for the rest of the night. It is believed the scheme was to imprison the keepers in their apartments, proceed to the office of the Clerk of the Crown, blow open the safe and abstract the papers.

In the Court of Queen's Bench to-day the evidence taken in the detectives' case was merely technical. The station agents proved that they had put money in bags and sent them on to Montreal. The employes at the depot stated that up to 6 o'clock Sunday morning the boxes were all right in the vault, but next morning it was found that two boxes had been broken into and their contents stolen.

BURIAL OF THE DEAD SENATOR.

The Hon. J. B. Plumb's Body Laid at Rest—A Large Gathering of Friends.

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, March 15.—By common consent this has been a dies non at the old city of the lake. The day was when Niagara was the seat of the Upper Canadian Government and high officers of state lived amongst us by the dozen. Regiments were quartered here and dashing officers abounded in our streets. But in more recent years it had come to be a great honor to the patient Niagara to have as her chief inhabitant, domiciled here with his family, interesting himself in all that went on, an eminent personage as the Speaker of the Senate of Canada, whose presence are [illegible] while away. The stormy days of political warfare were forgotten, old friends healed, and Mr. Plumb was an accepted neighbor and adviser amongst all classes and conditions of men. His sudden death brought it home to everybody that a light had gone out in the place, never to be rekindled. A link between to-day's doings and the hardly forgotten glories of the past had been snapped, with the chances greatly against a substitute being ever provided in this generation. The town mourned with one accord; and as the time for the funeral approached there was but one vehicle to be seen in the streets—the hearse in which the dead Senator's remains were to be carried to the grave in the yard of the old English Church, where lie so many honored gentlemen and soldiers, whose names are known in Canadian history.

Although the snow blockade prevented a great many persons' arrival in time for the burial, there was no lack of attendance. The church was full, even the galleries being crowded. A number of beautiful floral tributes had been sent by the Senate and by personal friends. The service was read by Ven. Archdeacon MacMurray, and at its conclusion the special train immediately started for the bridge.

THE MANITOBANS HOPEFUL.

Prospects for a Settlement Appear Brighter A Rumored Proposition.

OTTAWA, March 15.—Sir George Stephen, Sir Donald Smith and ex-Judge Clark are still here. This morning Sir George saw Sir John Macdonald, and later in the day he was introduced to Mr. Greenway, with whom he discussed the situation. Sir George Stephen still pretends that the Government have made no statement to him regarding the abandonment of the monopoly, but with strange inconsistency he complains that the Government deny that his company have any legal right to demand the disallowance of local railway charters.

It is reported that the Canadian Pacific Railway have reduced their claims for "compensation for disturbance" from $12,000,000 to $8,000,000. Repeated efforts have been made to induce Mr. Greenway to recognize the Canadian Pacific Company as parties to the dispute, but he has refused to do anything of the kind. He says the quarrel of Manitoba is not with the Canadian Pacific Railway but with the Federal Government. All that they ask is that provincial railway legislation shall not be disallowed.

The prospects for a settlement of the Manitoba trouble are now more hopeful. Premier Greenway and Attorney-General Martin, who were to have left for home to-night, have postponed their departure and are somewhat confident of a satisfactory adjustment of the difficulty. The Canadian Pacific Railway, it is understood, has submitted a proposition to the Government as a basis of settlement. The company, it is stated, will forego a financial consideration for the surrender of their monopoly clauses, although they will insist on other considerations instead. Just what these considerations are has not transpired.

Col. Scobie of Winnipeg, in town just now, is reported to have a good deal to say to Messrs. Greenway and Martin about the disallowance question. He accompanied them from Winnipeg and has been in pretty constant attendance upon them. It was given out that Mr. Scobie is here in the interests of Minneapolis capitalists, from whom an offer came to construct the Red River Valley Railway. Politicians who claim to be well informed say that Col. Scobie is really representing Mr. Donovan Macarthur of Winnipeg, who made an offer to the late Norquay Government to build the road. Mr. Macarthur, it is stated, has renewed his offer to Premier Greenway and is here to watch the negotia-

A HARBINGER OF PEACE.

THE KAISER'S PROCLAMATION UNIVERSALLY COMMENDED.

Berlin and St. Petersburg Unite in Praising Frederick's Program—The New Emperor's Health—England Orders Mourning

Remains to the Dead Monarch.

BERLIN, March 15—The Czarevitch and the Grand Duke Nicholas and Michael arrived here to-day. They immediately proceeded to the Cathedral to view the remains of Emperor William.

The Presidents and Vice-Presidents of the Reichstag will represent that body at the funeral services. The space in the Cathedral will not allow any more than these members to have seats befitting their rank. Prince Bismarck and Count Von Moltke have been excused from attending the funeral service owing to their ill health.

The Prince of Wales viewed the remains of the late Emperor in the Cathedral to-day and afterwards visited the Czarevitch.

The work of draping the streets is completed. On Unter den Linden there is a dense mass of sight-seers. Every fifty paces on the avenue stands a candelabrum four metres high and wreathed with fire and surrounded by a crowd containing a burning resinous compound.

The Post says that the Emperor was unable to sleep until 2 o'clock this morning, and that he awoke an hour later and was sleepless until daybreak. He arose at 8.30 o'clock and was able to attend to state business.

At the suggestion of Bismarck the leading members of the Landtag unanimously agreed that the provisions of the constitution would best be complied with if Emperor Frederick were to address a message to the Landtag promising faithfully to observe the constitution and engaging formally to take the oath as soon as his health permits him to use his voice.

The Neue Freie Presse says Emperor Frederick's whole program speaks the plain truth of his fully matured judgment. The Presse and the Deutsch Zeitung agree in saying that the words of Emperor Frederick disarm all disturbers of the peace.

The whole Russian press dwells upon the eminently calm and peaceful tone of Emperor Frederick's proclamation, and prophesies that it will consolidate universal peace.

Emperor Frederick steadily devotes himself to the despatch of state business. He yesterday received the various Ministerial reports. It is expected that he will receive the Presidents of the Reichstag and both Houses of the Diet at the same audience when they present the resolutions of condolence adopted by these bodies.

Prince Henry met the Prince of Wales and King Leopold and their suites at the railway station yesterday.

It is stated that Gen. Winterfield will succeed Gen. Von Albedyl as the head of the Military Cabinet. Count Wilmersdorf resigns on account of old age and blindness. There will be almost the only Ministerial changes.

Ten thousand persons were unable to enter the cathedral on Tuesday. Invitations have been given to keep the cathedral open all night.

Nothing has yet been settled regarding Emperor Frederick's proposed visit to Wiesbaden. His cough and expectoration continue to decrease.

Requiem Service at St. Petersburg.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 15.—The Czar has commanded the Imperial Household, Ministers of State and other notables to attend, attired in mourning, the requiem service for Emperor William in the Lutheran Church, on Friday.

Martial Honors.

LONDON, March 15.—The War Office has ordered the principal military garrisons at home and abroad to place their flags at half-mast to-morrow and to fire ninety-one minute guns at noon, as a mark of respect for Emperor William. The naval stations have received similar instructions.

The Vatican's Representative.

ROME, March 15.—The Pope has instructed Mgr. Galimberti, Papal Nuncio at Vienna, to proceed to Berlin and represent the Vatican at the ceremonials connected with the accession of Emperor Frederick to the throne. The Vatican will not be represented at the funeral of Emperor William.

Memorial Services at Berlin, Ont.

BERLIN, Ont., March 15.—The funeral of Emperor William of Germany was observed in Berlin to-day. At the request of the Mayor the stores and places of business were closed from 10 to 12 o'clock. A procession was formed, headed by the band of the B. M. L. playing a funeral dirge, followed by the Mayor and representatives of the Council, the Land-Wehr-Verein with the German flag draped in mourning, the German Club, the High School teachers and scholars and a large number of the citizens, and proceeded to St. Peter's Church, where an appropriate memorial service in honor of the deceased was held.

Death of Ex-Judge Martin at Montreal.

MONTREAL, March 15.—Ex-Judge Martin was found dead in bed this morning. Deceased occupied a position on the bench in France until about a year ago, when he was dismissed from the magistracy through the intrigues of the Republicans. After arriving here he was appointed professor of political economy at Laval University. Congestion of the lungs is said to be the cause of his death.

LATEST MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, March 15.—Money on call is quoted to-day at 5½ per cent. on debentures and 6 to 6½ per cent. on stocks; and for discount the price is 6½ and 7 per cent.

In the fish market trade continues very good; there is no record of any change of consequence in prices. The demand continues lively and indicates still further activity.

The trade in provisions generally continues satisfactory.

Business is steady in iron and hardware lines.

With the mild turn this morning business on St. Lawrence Market picked up a little. The new features were a couple of uppers of spring lamb and spring chickens. The supply in these lines was bought up by restaurants. There is still a scarcity of good butter, first class rolls selling as high as 24c; there is an over supply of job lots of butter at 16c to 18c.

THE STORM'S DEADLY WORK.

A Terrible Tale of Disaster and Loss of Life on the Delaware Breakwater.

PHILADELPHIA, March 15.—A special to The Enquirer from Lewes, Del., says: Additional advices were received here yesterday from the Delaware breakwater, fully corroborating the terrible tale of exposure, loss of life and damage to shipping which occurred on Sunday night. It is stated that twenty-two persons were drowned or frozen to death and that a number of vessels were sunk. The privations of the crews were painful, as in their efforts to board the vessels from shore they were drenched to the skin and the water on their garments was converted into ice. The mate were literally encased in ice, and the blinding snow which followed added to their sufferings. More than sixty persons were bound hand and foot by ice, and a large majority of them were frostbitten and are now confined to their beds.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The Sun's New Haven correspondent by steamer says: Not a train is moving in Connecticut and telegraphic communication is still cut off. There has been terrible suffering in the towns and villages throughout the state. In New Haven up to 10 o'clock this (Wednesday) morning seven deaths from exposure are reported. At least twenty deaths from exposure are reported from surrounding towns. At some places school houses are still occupied by the teachers and children, who are suffering greatly for lack of food.

Unable to Carry Their Dead.

NEW YORK, March 15.—One of the most distressing circumstances connected with the blizzard was the inability to bury the dead. It is estimated that at least 200 bodies are at present lying in the hands of the undertakers in this city.

THE SNOW BLOCKADE RAISED.

Communication Once More Established on the Different Railway Routes.

TORONTO, March 16.

The passengers who left Ottawa on Monday night by the Canadian Pacific Railway for Toronto and Western points had just about as bad a time of it as those who left Toronto on the same night for Ottawa. They reached Toronto at noon yesterday, having been over sixty hours on the road. The first delay occurred when they got fourteen miles out of Ottawa. Here they encountered huge banks of snow and remained until the following day, when [illegible] Ottawa.

Some of the C.P.R. passengers on the train that left town on Tuesday morning for Ottawa and Montreal, were brought in at 1 a.m. yesterday. Among them were Dr. Montague and Senator McCallum.

Hon. Frank Smith and Mr. Rykert left the snowed-in train at Myrtle yesterday forenoon, drove to Whitby, and got to town last night 76 hours after they left Toronto. The rest of the passengers continued in the cars.

An unintentional injustice was done the officials of the C.P.R. by stating that as "yet none of the head men have been able to get into the drifted country." The Assistant Superintendent, Mr. Williams, was on the morning train Monday, and Superintendent Wilson arrived at the scene Monday night, and General Superintendent Mackinnon arrived there yesterday.

[illegible] can imagine the difficulty the officials had to overcome in [illegible] For at times they could only get at the snow from two ends. Gangs, however, were soon engaged at the various blockaded cuttings and started shovelling, and in this way the blow was got through much more rapidly.

The blockade was lifted on all the roads yesterday. At 4 p.m. a despatch was received from Myrtle stating that all the cuts had been cleared of snow and that the two delayed trains were on their way east. The Toronto, Grey and Bruce division was open at 3 p.m. The C.P.R. train due here at 4 o'clock yesterday morning got into Union Depot at 8 p.m. The night C.P.R. train for the east left on time, and was crowded with passengers. The Midland division of the G.T.R. was cleared of snow yesterday afternoon, and all the trains are running with fair regularity.

The C. P. R. express which left Montreal yesterday morning for Toronto, and is due at 6.45 p. m., was not in at 1.15 this morning. The cause of the delay this time was not the snow, but the fact that a snow plow returning from Myrtle got off the track two miles east of North Toronto. A large gang of men were at once sent down to clear the track. Among the passengers on this train are the Earl of Arran and his daughter Lady Esther Gore, who left Rideau Hall yesterday, having been the guests of Lord and Lady Lansdowne. It is the Earl's intention, after spending a few days in Toronto, to visit Niagara Falls, and then proceed to New York.

Removal of the Rifle Butts.

OTTAWA, March 15.—A deputation from Toronto was introduced to Sir Adolphe Caron, Minister of Militia, to-day by Mr. John Small, M.P., consisting of Ald. McMillan, Verral, W. Carlyle, J. Carlyle, Chapman and Engineer Spreadt. They presented a memorial from the corporation of Toronto and the Ontario Rifle Association asking for the removal of the rifle butts from the present rifle range to a place of greater safety to life and property. The Minister thought that by removing the range outside the city limits it would greatly interfere with rifle shooting, but he would have [illegible] to have the present butts surrounded by such safeguards that all danger would be removed.

THE PRIZE CLYDESDALES.

Opening Show of the Dominion Association at the Armory.

TORONTO, March 16.

The admirers of Clydesdales gathered in large numbers at the Armory yesterday, when the annual spring show of the Clydesdale Horse Association of Canada came off. Many entries had been received, but the snowstorm kept a fourth of the horses away. The judges were Wm. McNutt, Fair Play, Ill., President of the American Clydesdale Association; Robt. Ness, Howick, Que., and James Bell, Attleboro, Que. The judging lasted all day, and these awards were made:

Class I.—Clydesdale stallions foaled previous to Jan. 1, 1885; 11 entries—1, Abbot of Renwick, Robt. Beith & Co., Stevensville; 2, Gold Finder, Jonathan Porter, Oshawa; 3, Richmond, John Palmer, Richmond Hill; 4, Brantford, Wm. Rennie, Toronto; 5, Darling's Prince, James I. Davidson, Balsam, Ont.

Class II.—Clydesdale stallions foaled in 1886—1, Granite City, Robert Beith, Stevensville; 2, Lord Fitzroy, Robert Beith, Stevensville; 3, Wellington, Robt. Robert Beith, Stevensville; 4, Silver Duke, William Rennie, Toronto; 5, Dumbarton Jock, Thomas Meagher, jr., Donscott, Ont.

Class III.—Clydesdale stallions foaled in 1887—1, Glenconby, Dundas & Grandy, Yelverton, Ont.; 2, Sailor Prince, Robert Beith, Stevensville; 3, Mariner, Dundas & Grandy; 4, Pitfour Darnley, A. Russell, Carrville, Ont.; 5, Star of Fluxey, A. Russell, Carrville, Ont.

Sweepstakes, all ages—Robert Beith's Granite City.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Mr. Scott of Ottawa, President of the Oatmeal Millers' Association, arrived from the east last night, and will preside at the meeting to-day of the Executive Committee of that association. It is understood that Secretary Rose will be sent to Ottawa to give evidence before Clarke Wallace's Combines Committee.

The Quebec Asylum Commission against the greater portion of yesterday in inspecting the Toronto Asylum for the Insane, afterwards taking the Grand Trunk to Kingston. One of the commissioners expressed himself as greatly pleased with the system pursued in the local institution, but thought the location not sufficiently quiet, and not large enough for the number of patients.

The rough weather experienced early in the week has played havoc with the locomotives of the Toronto, Grey and Bruce division of the Canadian Pacific. An express train engine burst one of its cylinders, and two freight engines had their pipes destroyed by the frost.

THE DEAD EMPEROR.

The Cathedral to be Open to Visitors from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m.

BERLIN, March 14.—Burgomaster Forchen-beck handed the Berlin aldermen who called on Emperor Frederick yesterday. After expressing the sorrow of the citizens for the death of Emperor William, Herr Forchenbeck thanked Emperor Frederick for having returned to Berlin. He then read the following address:

Most Illustrious and Powerful Emperor:

Our most gracious Emperor and King has entered into eternal rest. The founder of the German Empire is gone. He guarded the peace of the world even on his deathbed. His death is mourned by the whole world. His loyal people are weeping his grateful capital shed tears. Indissolubly engraven on our hearts are the words which the departed wrote us at the beginning of the year. His last words to us, "Relying on my Supreme trust in the Almighty, my whole endeavor, my unremitting care is solely for the welfare of my beloved people." Most gracious Emperor we feel with Your Imperial Majesty the grief of the son for the loss of his father, the anguish of the commander who places the palm on the coffin of the head of the army and the mourning of our Hohenzollern for the great Hohenzollern Emperor.

We most respectfully beg Your Majesty to accept this humble expression of our heartfelt sympathy. We admire the strength of mind which, guided by a sense of duty, overcomes the greatest suffering. The love of your most faithful people accompanied Your Majesty on your homeward journey. Your Majesty's throne stands in a city whose people are full of gratitude. Earnest vows of unchanged loyalty come from all our hearts with the most heartfelt prayers for Your Majesty's health, and the most respectful thanks to Your Majesty's indefatigable and devoted consort, and the wish that Your Majesty may be granted a long and a happy reign.

His Majesty made a suitable reply.

Terrible Tragedy Near Three Rivers.

MONTREAL, March 15.—At St. Sophie de Lovrard, some miles back of Three Rivers, a fire occurred in the carpenter shop of Ulderic Roux, adjoining his residence. During the absence of Roux, his sister-in-law had charge of the family, consisting of three children aged respectively 5 days, 12 and 30 months, and Mrs. Roux, aged 30 years, who was confined to bed. The sister-in-law perceived the fire first, and rushed out for help, but before it arrived the house was burned with its helpless inmates. Only three bodies have yet been recovered. They were almost completely carbonized.

Big Fire at the Soo.

SAULT STE. MARIE, March 15.—A serious fire broke out in the Canadian Soo at 6 p. m. Bowlby & Collins' general store, Neald's real estate office, Johnson and Hillmon and Dr. Reid's office all burned to the ground. The buildings were owned by J. Toovey. Total loss $13,000. [illegible]

FREE TRADE IN THE HOUSE

A TELLING SPEECH BY SIR RICHARD CARTWRIGHT.

Opening of the Debate Chiefly by Mr. Thomas White—Foulness, Slimeness and Mendacity to Follow a Sullness—The Committee Committee.

OTTAWA, March 15.—It is now said that the mission of Premier Greenway to Ottawa, at the invitation of Sir John Macdonald, would prove a failure, so far as settling the railway monopoly is concerned. Mr. Greenway has just sent a letter to the Governor-General, through the Secretary of State, complaining that he and Mr. Martin had been treated very shabbily by the Dominion Government, and that if their cases were not considered by Friday he would leave the Province. Mr. Greenway said to-day: "The whole trouble between us and the Government is with reference to the so-called disallowing clause in the Canadian Pacific Railway charter. The Canadian Pacific Railway want $11,000,000 for allowing the Government to cancel disallowing Manitoba railway charters, and if they don't get it there will be trouble. Of course, we have never intimated that we do not now admit that the Government has a right to interfere with the charters to charter Manitoban railways. It is asserted, in Tory circles, that no matter what settlement is arrived at, the Red River Valley road will not be built with the Dominion Government's sanction.

The Manitoba members had Colquhoun and an interview with the Minister of Agriculture yesterday, and urged the creation of immigration sheds at Winnipeg, Dauphin, Glenboro and Langenburg, the present terminal points of the branch lines. The Minister promised to erect sheds in Winnipeg and intimated that the Government would probably erect the others if the Manitoba Government would consent to maintain them.

It is understood that the Government has decided to impose hop bees and other similar pests in the Northwest, allowing them to make beer of moderate strength and be subject to frequent inspection of the Inland Revenue Department.

The Committee Committee met again this morning, when A. D. Fraser, Secretary of the Retail Grocers' Association, Montreal, and John Robertson, retail dealer in Montreal, were examined. The evidence was largely corroborative of the previous witnesses. Both attested that the result of the sugar combination was a serious loss to the consumer, as the loss always comes out of their pocket. They stated that if the combination were broken the price of sugar would be at once reduced. They also said combinations existed on Cross & Blackwell's goods and Benger's starch. It is impossible to get Cross & Blackwell's pickles without belonging to the combine.

On the orders of the day being called, the first of which was Sir Richard's motion for unrestricted reciprocity, the Opposition members fired a volley of small shot because they had discovered that the United States Government had written a letter to the Dominion last May, in which reference was made to trade relations, and which letter had not been submitted to the House with the Fisbery Treaty and protocols. The Opposition contended that the Government was not entitled to the credit of first proposing trade negotiations.

Sir John replied that the consent of the American authorities would have to be obtained, and he had no doubt that as soon as Sir Charles Tupper was well enough he would communicate for that consent.

Sir Richard Cartwright then rose to move:

That it is highly desirable that the largest possible freedom of commercial intercourse should obtain between the Dominion of Canada and the United States, and that it is expedient that all articles manufactured in or the natural products of either of the said countries should be admitted free or duty into the ports of the other (articles subject to duties of excise or of internal revenue alone excepted), that it is further expedient that the Government of the Dominion should take steps at an early date to ascertain on what terms and conditions arrangements can be effected with the United States for the purpose of securing full and unrestricted reciprocity of trade therewith.

In doing so he claimed to voice the feelings of the Liberal representatives in the House and also a majority of the party throughout the country. He proposed to bring upon certain patent, salient facts, two of which were of great importance. They were in regard to the movement of population. During the last quarter of a century, there was incontestable evidence that one in every four of our native population had gone to the States and three out of four of those who had immigrated had been compelled to follow.

He quoted a vast number of figures in support of his statement and revamped the same lines as in speeches of past years in regard to Manitoba and the Northwest. He asserted that the loss of population had been greatly underestimated, as the returns of 1885 and 1886 prove. Attempts had been made to break the force of these arguments by misleading reports submitted to the House. According to these [illegible] to settle in Manitoba and the Northwest between 1881 and 1886, but when a census was taken these figures were reduced to 42,000, one-third of which were not settlers but servants of the [illegible]. In twenty-five years Canada had lost 2,000,000 people, and in losing them we had lost 500,000 able bodied men, equivalent to $5,000,000.

The argument that a similar exodus would set in the States was baseless, as where a person left old cities there it was to go to another part of their country, but in Canada the exodus was entirely to parts without the Dominion. This was proof that Canada was in a state of retrogression.

There had been, moreover, enormous reductions in the value of farming lands. Trade and Navigation returns show that there has been a very large reduction in the trade of the Dominion: the exports and imports had shrunk 50 per cent.

The Government had not been altogether idle, however, but had succeeded in increasing the debt of the Dominion. No adequate return had been obtained for the construction of the great public works and the expense of operating. In 1867 the charge of operating was $437,000 and the total interest was only a little over $5,000,000.

Observing to the question of defences of population, he blamed it not on our climate or soil, but on the management by the Government, and if the Government kept on as they were doing in regard to Manitoba, the Dominion would suffer yet greater losses than she had already.

Our debt had increased with enormous rapidity, and if the statistics of the next twenty years were similar to those of the past we would have a population of 6,000,000, and a debt of $800,000,000. As to the creation it was of men who were all first-class and just those whom we should have retained.

What available remedies are there? They are four: Improvement of our system of taxation; revision of our constitution to put an end to Federal interference with provincial matters; railway monopoly in the Northwest must be abolished, and fourthly, and the best remedy of all, perfect Free Trade with the United States.

"Give us Free Trade and our ills would disappear. It would be advantageous to both countries. We are able to give a full equivalent to the United States for all we ask. Canada with Free Trade would give to the United States a valuable market as their very demand the growth of Canada would be so great that it would be soon the most valuable market for our neighbors, opening up vast new areas for American enterprise and capital. Nearly one-half our trade to-day is with the people of the United States, and what might not obtain if we had perfect Free Trade? The present [illegible] of trade might within a few years treble to $600,000,000. The forcing of [illegible] trade is ill-judged work, while the United States is our natural outlet. Fifteen times as many people from the United States came from Canada were in the Maritime Provinces. This altered the drift of population to be towards the Dominion and the States rather than between the provinces.

After recess Sir Richard continued the debate. He proposed to refer to those classes who would be benefited by Free Trade. There would be no doubt that the farmers would gain by free access to the United States market, so also the fishermen of the east. The miners and the manufacturers who gain their living by supplying those classes would be gainers by their prosperity. Ninety-nine-hundredths of the people of this country would be benefited by Free Trade.

Attention to the Dakota seventeen years ago started on equal terms. In 1861 Dakota had [illegible], Minnesota 6,000; in 1885, after expending $30,000,000, the population had gained 24,000, while in the same time that of Dakota had grown to 500,000.

He declared himself not an Annexationist. He did not wish to merge Canada in the States, but he had a plain duty to discharge, to serve Her Majesty in the true interests of Canada.

It is time to get rid of the silly craving for precedents. This proposition may be new, but we may make a precedent. It is our duty to separate the views of the United States on this question. We should not stand on any small notions of dignity. The time has come when Canada may justly claim the right to make her own commercial treaties. He would not say there were no other expedients, but the one he proposed he claimed to be the best.

He then moved his resolution.

Hon. Thos. White rose to reply and was enthusiastically applauded. He deprecated Sir Richard's relation of the old story of loss of trade and retrogression and administered a rebuke for the unpatriotic statements made.

The burden of taxation was so great, he claimed, that people were being frightened away. The country was ruined, bankrupted, by a corrupt and extravagant Government, sinking debt. He refused itself to protect. He proceeded to advocate disintegration by claiming that the interprovincial trade of the Dominion could make [illegible] to anything, but that the natural purchase was in the States to the south. If Manitoba and the Northwest had not been hampered by monopoly and restricted [illegible] tendency, he said, would have had many people from the maritime provinces who had gone across the border.

He [illegible] that this 15th Constitutional Union was embodied in the resolution before the House.

He quoted from Trade and Navigation returns in support of his contention that the people were not satisfied with the present condition of affairs and that the country was retrograding.

Reciprocal trade relations were necessary, he claimed, to secure an improvement, and this had been promised, he said, by the Conservatives when they were returned to power on the National Policy cry. They had carried that policy, he asserted, on false pretenses by claiming that it would lead to reciprocity. They were now opposing, he said, the reciprocity which they assured the people would follow the National Policy.

He made loud professions of loyalty to England, but said that he was more loyal still to Canada, and Unrestricted Reciprocity, which he claimed would prove beneficial to Canada, should be supported, he said, even though it did discriminate against England, which he did not believe it would.

Hon. Mr. Foster followed and spoke of the great prosperity enjoyed by Canadian and of Canada's progress since confederation. He contended that the volume of the trade had not decreased and in conclusion moved the following amendment:

In concluding, Mr. Foster moved the following amendment:

That Canada in the future as in the past is desirous of cultivating and extending trade relations with the United States in so far as they may not conflict with the policy of fostering the various industries and interests of the Dominion, a policy which was adopted in 1879 and has since received in so marked a manner the sanction and approval of the people.

Mr. McMillan of Huron followed. His accent is decidedly Broad-Scotch. The change projected by Mr. Liberals, he said, would go further to remove the present condition of affairs than all the national policies in existence. Ontario sent $5,000,000 worth of goods to England while her exports to the United States were over $23,000,000. Thus, he argued, trade with our American neighbors would go on uninterrupted despite the customs wall erected between the two countries.

The State of Michigan, he said, though not so advantageously situated as Ontario, increased her population between 1880 and 1883 by over 600,000. The figures for Ontario, however, were only 70,000. In 1875 the volume of trade between Canada and the United States was $96,913,716, but in 1886 it only reached $64,000,000. Canada, he said, was not keeping pace with the prosperity enjoyed in the United States.

Proceeding, he read a letter from one of his constituents who said that unless the condition of affairs improved, ere long there would be a strong Annexation party in Canada.

The duty on wool imported for manufacturing purposes was outrageously high, he asserted, and had to come out of the pockets of the people. Several counties in Western Ontario had materially fallen off in population during the past ten years as a result of the trade policy of the Government.

Mr. Charlton moved the adjournment of the debate and the House adjourned.

Mr. Laurier intimated that there was no probability of the debate concluding before Tuesday.

Capital Notes.

The Supreme Court delivered judgments in the case from near Montreal of Poitras v. Lebeau, in which Poitras, [illegible] refusing to kneel in church, was fined in court. Chief Justice Ritchie, Justices Strong and Taschereau held that the appeal should be dismissed. Justice Henry held there was no act of irreverence, as St. Andrew was represented kneeling on one knee. Justices Fournier and Gwynne concurring, the appeal was dismissed, as the court was evenly divided.

At Port Hope, on Tuesday night, Preston drove in a closed cab to the railway station. The horses ran away, and Preston, plunging his arm through the pane of glass, unlocked the cab door, and jumped for his life. None too soon, as a moment later the hack collided with a telegraph pole and was smashed to atoms. Mr. Preston is now in Belleville with an injured leg and bruised eye, but is in fighting trim for the campaign in West Hastings.

Decision on the Commercial Tax.

MONTREAL, March 14.—The first decision in matters connected with the famous commercial tax was given this morning by Mr. Justice Wurtele, under whose trusteeship in the Chaplean Minister the case was opened. The case was one of Lamb v. Manheim Insurance Company. The company's head offices are in Germany. They met the action by an exception, in which they contended that the tax did not apply to them, as they were a maritime insurance company, and the tax could only be levied on fire and life companies. Justice Wurtele [illegible] this exception.

COMMISSION ON MINING.

HON. MR. FRASER'S AMENDMENT CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY.

No Politics in Mr. Mereditha's Motion—Wholesome Changes in the Game Law—The Butter and Cheese Commission Receive Expert Evidence.

At yesterday's session of the Legislature the House gave a solid vote to appoint a Royal Commission for the purpose of ascertaining the extent of Ontario's mineral wealth and discussing the best means to develop it. The personnel of the commission, the number of experts to be called and the method of work has yet to be settled on. These details will receive due consideration after the House prorogues. Yesterday's debate on Hon Mr. Fraser's amendment was short, lasting only about an hour and a half. The House adjourned at 10.25.

Mr. H. E. Clarke took the floor at 3 p.m. He was very much disappointed that the Government had refused to grant the appointment of the committee. As to the Hon. Mr. Fraser, every member was proud of his ability, and the speech he made on Tuesday night must be admitted to be a fine effort. But what were the hon. gentleman's arguments? The Government had a large majority.

It was well known that Ontario did possess mineral wealth and it required stimulation to develop it. As to the forests he was somewhat of a doubting Thomas in regard to the figures given by the hon. gentleman yesterday. He would like verification of these figures and this would be part of the duty of the committee. Even according to the hon. gentleman's figures he computed that the supply, even according to the present rate of diminishing, would last only thirty-three times 100 years, and this did not take into account the destruction by fire. He dealt with various aspects of the forestry question. Concluding, he said that he would be willing to have the powers of the Royal Commission extended so as to enable them to enquire into the condition of the forests, with the object of ascertaining approximately what timber wealth the Province was possessed of, with the object of conserving that wealth. (Applause.)

Mr. Clancy argued at considerable length that the members of this House should come here to look after the interests of the people, and that as this motion was not a censure of the Government they should use their judgment rather than record a mere party vote. It was urged that the forest wealth of the Province should be looked after in the way indicated.

Mr. Meredith said he had little fault to find with the manner in which his hon. friend approached the subject. There was only one point on which he differed, and that was as to the case had occurred on the north of Georgian Bay, where a timber limit had been improperly dealt with by the Dominion Government, and that the Opposition should not hamper the Ontario Government on its timber policy when the Dominion Government did not do justice. There were many things which the supporter of a government could not agree with individually, while the general policy was other able to such a supporter. For instance, how many times did the hon. member from Muskoka (Mr. Gibson) suffer twinges of conscience in supporting the hon. gentleman opposite. (Laughter.)

Hon. Mr. Fraser said that the position taken by the hon. gentleman opposite was tantamount to the assumption that whatever the Government said must be done. But so far from that the position of this Government was, and always had been, that the House was the master of the Government, not the Government the master of the House. The hon. gentleman, however, would be the dictator. He would say: "Let the House follow me and do what I say." The hon. gentleman should remember that when he talked to the members of this House that he was talking to rational beings, and when he made a motion he should give good reasons for its passing. He submitted that the hon. gentleman had made out no case to support the appointment of this committee.

This wound up the debate and and at the shouts of "Question," the whips retired, and bowed the signal that all was ready for the division.

The amendment moved by Hon. Mr. Fraser, to appoint a Royal Commission to examine into the mineral wealth of Ontario, with a view to the ascertaining the best means of its development was next voted on.

The Government vote was polled and when it was the Ministerial whips [illegible] and was greeted with loud Ministerial applause. All the Opposition voted the same way, thus giving the amendment a unanimous passage. The vote was: Yeas, 79; nays, 0.

Mr. Meredith said that the action of the Opposition just now was a plain token that they had no political purpose to serve in moving for the committee. They came to the conclusion that half a loaf was better than no bread, and so accepted the situation.

Hon. Mr. Hardy: The hon. gentleman has never given a vote that required less explanation. [Laughter.]

At the conclusion of the debate the House went into Committee of the whole and, considering several bills, reported them.

The Committee rose and gave Mr. Hardy's bill, relating to the dissolution of united counties, a second reading.

The House again went into committee of supply and a long debate took place on the usefulness of the Agricultural College.

Mr. Clancy pointed out the fact that the attendance was diminishing and, connected from this that the establishment of the college was not such as to make it popular.

Hon. A. M. Ross replied. He stated that no institution in the country had received more attention at the hands of the Government. He explained the falling off in the attendance by saying that some hon. gentlemen opposite were now admitted. Large numbers of young Englishmen, who imagined they wanted to learn farming and who failed by unwillingness to take part in the practical branches to gain any benefits, were formerly admitted. They were now excluded.

Mr. Wood's Butter and Cheese Commissioner met yesterday to receive expert evidence from some of the leading cheese men of the Province. These gentlemen were present: Prof. Robertson, Agricultural College; J. B. Lane, H. Ashley, Robt. McClelland, J. E. McQueen, Jas. Whitton and Messrs. McKenzie, Bird, Caswell, McCarthy and Ilsley. The only bills brought out under the auspices of the committee were [illegible] and both were passed. The one provided that [illegible] of closing and boxes manufactured under penalties was highly commended. The bill making it unlawful for persons under a specific age [illegible] to sell either tobacco or cigarettes to children or factory industries, was also commended. Several of the experts gave valuable information on other matters especially. The committee will hold another session and this report.

The Game Commissioner met yesterday afternoon and considered Mr. Featherston's Bill. It was changed considerably. The open season for hunting deer was altered to Oct. 15 and Nov. 30. The hunting of moose was made prohibitory for the next seven years from April 1 next. No one can kill a moose [illegible] of the province for three months at least, according to one provision of the bill, is allowed to hunt deer at all, unless a penalty of $50 is paid. During the open season no one person is allowed to kill more than five deer; no two persons [illegible] more than twelve, under a penalty of from $10 to $25.

CENTRAL BANK CLAIMS.

Decision of the Master-in-Ordinary in a Number of Cases.

TORONTO, March 15.

Brigg, Master in Ordinary, at Osgoode Hall yesterday, further [illegible] claims were heard in the Central Bank claims. There was little of public interest involved. Several questions of costs were referred to the taxing-master. Setoffs in several claims were, after evidence given, allowed by the Master, as well as others which had not been sent in within the advertised time.

The Master directed that notice should be given to creditors whose claims had not been admitted by the liquidators, as follows:

Creditors who are residents in Toronto to attend to prove their claims on March 28; creditors who are resident at places elsewhere than Toronto and Sault Ste. Marie, April 27; creditors who are resident at Sault Ste. Marie and adjoining places, April 30. The notice to creditors may be given by registered letter prepaid to them, mailed from Toronto not later than March 16.

Mr. Foster, Q.C., represented the liquidators, at whom Mr. Harry Lee was present. Mr. Henry O'Brien appeared for several clients [illegible] the Court. There was a number of legal arguments, purely on matters of procedure.

A Liquidator Lye said yesterday afternoon that this was the statement of how the claims against the Central Bank stands: Claims proved $1,362,920, claims not proved $301,420, filed since Feb. 28 $64,824, amounts unclaimed $67,155.

A week ago Mr. Isaac Yeiss, builder, appeared before the Master re a set-off which he claimed in respect to a deposit note of $6000 given as security to the Government in connection with the new Parliament buildings. As the Chancellor is absent in an arbitration case in British Columbia the case stood over by consent till Wednesday next.

THE SITUATION ON THE Q.

Both the Company and the Strikers Firm—Chief Arthur's View.

CHICAGO, March 14.—An Associated Press reporter, who was sent along the line of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad to ascertain exactly how the situation was, reports that as nearly as can [illegible] from the evidence of both sides, the [illegible] system is suffering from forty [illegible] of the [illegible] which is the section of the [illegible]. The Brotherhood men at every point visited are firm and so are the officials.

As regards the Brotherhood, the situation is supported by Chief Arthur, to-day in [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] we have inaugurated against the Burlington system it means the death of the organization."

The Brotherhood commands now from $300,000 to $350,000 and the officials claim that by [illegible] as much more can be raised. Therefore the men are in a fighting position, and yet they realize that if a break comes in the ranks the order will retrograde and become such a one as that now organized by the conductors, an insurance company.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., March 14.—All the switch engines of the Union Pacific Railway Co'ny work in the Council Bluffs yards were quickly taken to the round house last night and this morning by the engineers in charge. When asked why they had stopped work they said they were sick and tired of work. It is understood they gave these reasons on account of Judge Dundy's decision, but it was very noticeable how suddenly the engineers became sick or tired when then they saw a Q. car coupled behind their engines. Passenger trains are running as usual.

THE FISHERIES TREATY.

New York's Board of Trade Denounces It as a Surrender of U.S. Rights.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The Board of Trade and Transportation held its monthly meeting to-day and adopted a variety of resolutions bearing on the commerce of the city and country. One of these resolutions denounces the proposed Fisheries Treaty with Canada as a surrender of most of the rights of American fishermen which were fully recognized by the Department of State prior to the negotiations with the British Commissioners. It declares that as long as there is any protection in this country, the duty on Canadian fish should be continued, and that if the Canadian Government persists in unjust treatment of American fishermen it will delay the desired closer commercial relations between Canada and the United States. The resolution concludes by protesting against the ratification of the proposed treaty, and provided that copies of the resolution be forwarded to President Cleveland and the United States Senators.

A TERRIBLE DEED.

Dr. Cox of Springfield, Mo., Breaks a Whisky Bottle Over a Woman's Head.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., March 14.—Dr. Geo. M. Cox, United States pension examiner at Springfield, induced Effie Effis, the mistress of Fenton Cox, the son of the physician, to enter a carriage with him, and when she was seated he struck her over the head with a bottle of whisky, breaking the vessel and smearing her face and head with the fluid. Her screams attracted the attention of a policeman, who released her from the frenzied physician, but not until her eyes had been burned out and her handsome features destroyed. The agony of the poor creature is intense and she now lies at the point of death. Fenton Cox met Effie as a Wisconsin watering place last summer, and brought her to Springfield where he has since pursued a course of debauchery and ruin. The Coxes, by legal means, broke up a variety show which the boy had started, with Effie as leading lady, and drove her out of town but the boy followed her to St. Louis. Before meeting Effie he had been a promising young man. His sudden ruin distracted his parents and drove his father to commit his terrible crime.

THE STORM IN NEW YORK.

BEGINNING TO DIG OUT FROM UNDER THE SNOW.

A Little Passage to Gotham—Business and Travel Not Yet Restored to Their Normal Condition—Steamers Blocked a Terrible Storm at Sea.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The battle against the snow drifts, which was carried on all day yesterday and throughout the greater part of last night, has effected a considerable change for the better in the condition of the two cities of New York and Brooklyn so far as the means of internal communication are concerned, and the streets of both began this morning to show some signs of renewed activity. The New Yorkers had an advantage over their Brooklyn brethren, for they had many elevated roads running with something like ordinary regularity, while in Brooklyn [illegible] only one elevated road is running [illegible]. Thousands of Brooklynites [illegible] made their way along the various thoroughfares leading to the East River and seemed to enjoy the unusual exercise. The side streets everywhere are still in a very bad state both in this city and Brooklyn and miles of sidewalks are covered with drifts through which the [illegible] passer is compelled to flounder. Railway in New York has been partly cleared from Madison-square to the Battery and all the principal avenues will soon be opened if no more snow comes along.

One of the chief inconveniences arising out of the present situation is the want of milk. The supply of fresh milk gave out long ago and there is reason to fear that the supply of condensed milk will not last much longer. A great many households too, especially among the poorer classes, are suffering for want of coal.

The improvement in business in general is very slight. The retailers, of course, find plenty of customers, but the big wholesale men are helpless. The tangle of telegraph wires is almost as bad as ever, and it is difficult to communicate even with the neighboring towns.

Seven steamers and one square-rigged sailing vessel arrived here to-day. They experienced terrible weather but escaped without very great damage. The belief is that a number of wrecks occurred on the coast during the blow, but on account of the loss of the wires nothing definite can be learned.

The North German Lloyd steamer Ems sailed to-day for Bremen without a cargo, as it was impossible for shippers to deliver freight. They had only forty passengers on board. There were 250 others booked, but they are snowbound and could not get here. The steamers Finance and Britannic, which should have sailed to-day, will sail to-morrow. Like the Lahn they will go without cargo.

It is impossible to get any word from the interior of Staten Island, and the amount of the damage done by the storm cannot be ascertained. It has been learned that three trains on the Rapid Transit road are snowed in at Annandale, and the passengers are being cared for at an inn.

Several calamities on the water are reported. The ferry boat Maid of Perth was sunk at her dock at Staten Island. All the passengers were saved.

On the Erie Railroad it is said that the [illegible] lines west of Salamanca are clear and trains are running on regular time. Such trains as were snowed in have been relieved and no passengers are without the necessaries of life. The tracks have been cleared to Paterson and it is expected that during the night together travel will be resumed. It is said to-day that 10,000 men are working on the various divisions of the line as present.

Another train arrived at Long Island City from Jamaica, L.I., this morning, the second since Monday morning. It had several hundred passengers from the five stalled trains at Rockaway Junction. They walked a mile or more to the village through the snow-drifts, being forty-eight hours en route. Nothing has been heard of the passengers at Locust Valley, Greenport, Port Jefferson or Hempstead. Twenty funerals en route to Calvary Cemetery are stuck in the snow drifts.

No trains on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western are expected in Pittsburg before the end of the week, the tracks being covered in some places with twenty feet of snow. At Philadelphia travel has been opened with the South, and trains arrived from and departed for Boston and Washington to-day.

Hastings Farmers.

"What's the cause of all the farmers' failures these days?" asked a townsman of a farmer yesterday. "The reason of it is," says the son of the soil, "too much style—too much style. Too much sport on them. Why, in my young days a woman was proud and happy if she could get a calico dress, and it'd be better these days, and we'd have fewer failures, if the women of to-day would wear plainer frocks. To my idea, a party gal in a calico dress is one of the finest sights in the world." The farmer is right, and the ladies will find the most beautiful prints, new ginghams, new crinkle cloths, chambrays and other washable fabrics at the golden lion. All new styles and charming patterns at importers' prices.

Civic Commonplace.

Four civic committee met last night. The Finance Committee's only business was the passing of a big batch of accounts. The Fire, Water and Light Committee ordered the removal of the hydrant in front of Hamilton's restaurant to the corner of George and Wolfe streets, and considered the changes in the report of the chief of the fire brigade, upon which they will report at the council meeting Monday night. The Street and Bridge Committee adopted plans for street grading presented by the town engineer, and ordered a part of the work to be done this season. Councillor Langford's street numbering Committee met and reported progress. The project has almost assumed completion, the only difficulty being a slight dispute as to which side of George street shall bear the odd numbers.

The Cricket Club Meeting.

It is hardly necessary to suggest to any real cricketer at heart the importance of a full attendance at the annual meeting of the cricket club in the old post office building, on Monday evening next. The only way to secure a full meeting is, for every person interested, to discharge his duty personally and turn out without fail. Last summer was a most successful cricketing season for the club, and it is expected to make the coming season even more so. It only requires general harmony of action and earnest attention to the game, to make Peterborough cricket club first among the many clubs of the Province. We've got the staff amongst us if we could only get its development attended to. Every member of the club is urged to go to the meeting on Monday night.

Decided a Draw.

The Y. M. C. A. contingent arrived from Lindsay to-day well pleased with their visit to that town. They were not successful in their debate on female suffrage, nor yet were they defeated—the chairman, Mr. J. E. Dundas, decided it a draw. This morning, though, Mr. Dundas officially announced to one of the Peterborough debaters that he really thought they should have been given the victory, but for certain valid reasons, had given his decision in favor of a draw. The concert at which the debate took place was a decided success. The male quartette are quite clever and the programme varied. They sang three choruses and duly encored each time. Mr. Chas. Beasley also won applause as a vocalist. Mr. Will Dixon's ventriloquism also pleased. They were all well treated and entertained, and altogether are delighted with their trip to the little town on the Scugog.

After Calcutt's Ale.

Says the Campbellford Herald:—"On Monday last, the adjourned trial of the liquor robbery case was held before Justice LeVesconte, with closed doors, and resulted in the commitment of Mr. Harry Wallace for trial at the coming assizes. Subpœnas were issued for the appearance of Mr. Calcutt, his book-keeper, and his travelling agent only the latter appeared on the stand. The beer was the property of Mr. Calcutt, brewer, Peterborough, and was sent here by Mr. Kelsby's hotel stable by Mr. Calcutt's traveller, for safe keeping. During the night the place was broken into, and the three barrels, each containing thirty gallons of beer, were removed. One barrel, with some of its contents gone, was found in Wallace's dwelling; the other two are still missing. There are five others said to be connected with the robbery, but they have evaded arrest by taking up their quarters elsewhere. Constable Bell took Wallace in charge and escorted him to Cobourg on Monday. Bail was accepted for his release, and Mr. Wallace returned home yesterday morning. It is to be hoped that he can clear himself of the serious charge laid against him."

St. Patrick's Eve

Is always celebrated in Ireland, and the custom will be followed in Peterborough to-night. Secure your seats at Sailsbury's for the concert and lecture in the Opera House before 6 p.m., as the plan will then be closed.

Scott-Siddons.

On behalf of Hiawatha Encampment the contract was this morning signed with the agent for the appearance of Mrs. Scott-Siddons, in the Opera House on April 16th. Ladies will be interested in learning that on this occasion Mrs. Siddons will appear in an entirely new list of selections, and a new dress raised at $500. It will probably be her last appearance in Peterborough.

Irishmen, Rally.

The Hon. Dr. Sullivan has the reputation of being one of the best lecturers in the Dominion. His treatment of his subject will be appreciated by the large audience who will hear him to-night in the Opera House. Irishmen should not miss the only opportunity they will have of hearing one of their leading men on "The Victorian Era in Ireland."

Hiawatha in Harness.

The splendid new outfit of paraphernalia for Hiawatha Encampment of Oddfellows, arrived by express this morning from the manufacturers, Columbus, Ohio. The encampment meets to-night, to enter upon full possession. The above paraphernalia has been selected with great care, and, no doubt, Hiawatha will, in the matter of equipment, as it does in other respects, take place in the front rank.

Strong Words.

That Eli Perkins is a success as a humorist and philosophical lecturer none who have heard him can doubt, and it is with the pleasure that the Tribune proclaims his excellencies. Mr. Perkins separates wit from humor, and shows that while humor is the plain and faithful portrayal of the truth, wit is higher and more admirable as it is the blossom of humor through the creative genius of the mind. In his word pictures Mr. Perkins is vivid and true, and in his mirth-provoking climaxes he has no superior. He gives the most natural and convincing illustrations of the various causes of laughter, from the tiresome nursery stories of ancient hierarchists to the clean-cut conundrum and punning partiality of the present day. That will go to hear Mr. Perkins may expect to hear a lecture which is not only humorous and witty, but which is filled with solid, irrefutable arguments and original illustration. His answer to Ingersoll is too good for criticism. It must be heard to be enjoyed. Bismarck Tribune. Eli will be in the Opera House, Peterborough, on the 23rd instant.

THE STATUTE LABOR TAX.

Farmers' Institute Meeting at Lakefield

A Fair Attendance—Excellent Papers Read and Discussions Had thereon—The Snow Blockade Interfered.

The attendance at the forenoon meeting in Lakefield council chamber of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute was not very large. About eleven o'clock the President, Mr. T.E. Fitzgerald, in opening expressed his regret that owing to the snow blockade several of the speakers, particularly those from the Guelph College, could not be present. He called up Mr. F. J. Bell to read a paper on "Statute Labor Tax."

After dwelling upon the importance of the subject with which he proposed to deal, Mr. Bell condemned his opposition to the present system of performing Statute Labor, because we do not get value for the amount of tax levied; the tax levied as at present does not fall proportionately upon all, and it is a source of dispute and ill-feeling amongst neighbors, which should not exist. On each of these points he enlarged. The present road divisions were so small and the overseer had such a small amount of labor at his command that he could not do justice to his work. Then when an overseer notifies the men on his list to meet on a certain day for work, each man brings his team, perhaps, and it frequently happens there are too many to handle, there is not sufficient work prepared for all of them, and they put in their time; but the roads suffer in consequence. Then the tax was not proportionate. On some divisions the overseer and his men will work faithfully, while on others the work is done in a slovenly manner; and on these latter, of course, where probably only half-time is put in, the value of the work done is far less and the men working do not in that way pay their full taxes. In Smith there are 105 road divisions, with an average of about 545 acres to each division, and an average of about 30 days labor. He favored the commuting all statute labor in the older municipalities at $1 per day—then all would pay proportionately. A commissioner should be appointed at a salary to do the work, and Mr. Bell urged the appointment of good men to the positions. On the Smith roll they charged 3,100 days of statute labor; and, with the charge to young men of poll tax, would amount in all to 3,502. At $1 per day this would be $3,502. In addition to this a yearly average of $2,245 for the last four years has been spent on the roads of the township, a sum total much more than sufficient to keep the roads in good condition under a commissioner. He commended this system to farmers, and failed to understand why they should object to it.

Discussion.

A pretty lengthy and comprehensive discussion followed the reading of the paper.

One main point of contention was what constituted the pathmasters' duties in winter during snow blockades. Mr. T. E. Bell disputed a statement of Mr. F. J. Bell that pathmasters were not obliged to see that the roads were kept clear in winter, or were amenable in case of a blockade. He held that a pathmaster was responsible until he was displaced by a new appointment. In his own experience he had had men do work in the winter and allowed it to their next year's assessment. Mr. Hilliard supported the contradiction, and gave as his authority the opinion of a practising lawyer of Peterborough.

Mr. Galvin and Mr. F. J. Bell argued that the pathmaster was not responsible after his road-list was returned, and was not in a position to force any men to work upon the road in winter. The men subject to the tax had worked in the summer, and they could not be made to perform labor on the next year's assessment. They maintained that the municipal councils were amenable and should appoint a commission specially for the purpose.

Mr. Hilliard thought the best way to obviate the difficulty of snow blockades in the winter was the use, in certain sections where drifts usually occur, of sectional fences, that could be removed in the fall and would not act as a drift-gatherer in winter. Mr. Fitzgerald said the county council had considered the adoption of that system in the county, but the estimate had been such a high figure that they had dropped it. This led up to a proposition by Mr. T. E. Bell that it would be much better to do away with road fences altogether, and in this he was supported by several.

Recurring to the subject of debate, the President said that in his connection with the council it had always been understood that the pathmasters had control of the roads and were responsible for their blockade in winter. For instance, how could Mr. Galvin's contention that pathmasters should have special directions from the councils in case of a storm, be followed out? The members of the council were scattered all over the township, and if the country were blockaded and a lazy pathmaster laid around his house instead of shovelling snow, how were they to get to him to notify him? They could not do it until the blockade was raised and the necessity for prompt action gone.

Messrs. Jory, Foley and Treasam also took part in the discussion. The question arose as to the pay of the pathmaster in case they worked at shovelling snow in the winter. If they hired men they would have to pay them out of their own pockets, and themselves receive no extra pay. The latter enlightened gentlemen gave instances where their municipalities had refused to pay their pathmasters. The system adopted in Cobbett was referred to, where the pathmaster has authority to hire men and the municipalities pay their wages.

The appointment of a commissioner was also discussed. The supporters of Mr. Bell's paper considered that the best plan, but Mr. T. E. Bell mentioned a case near Hastings where a commissioner got a salary of $1,200 a year, and yet any five pathmaster with half a dozen men could do more work than he did.

The slovenly manner in which statute labor was often performed came in for a raking over. Mr. Galvin dwelt upon the necessity of having the work done properly. Frequently, though, a pathmaster would rather allow one of the men on his road-list do about as he liked than wrangle with him. The result was they were imposed upon and the municipality suffered. But a commissioner would engage only the best men, he would be in a position to discharge anyone who did not satisfy him, and the work would be much better done.

Mr. M. E. Sanderson and a few others also spoke on the subject briefly. The discussion will no doubt be of great benefit, as among those present were a number of municipal councillors who will have plenty of food for thought for some time to come on this matter. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that the present system could be improved upon, and no doubt the township councils will all take the matter up.

The Blockade "Busted."

Railway Trains Service Shown to Regular Time.

The blockade is "busted," and it is hoped there were to any more like it till year 01 least. It was, without doubt, the worst in the history of Peterborough for a long number of years.

Both the C.P.R. and G.T.R. lines are now clear and trains are running as usual. On the C.P.R. the train that had been snowed in at Myrtle passed through town about 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The blockade extended between Barkston and Myrtle, and a few miles west of the latter place. In addition to the drifts of snow, a plow that had left the track had torn up about 200 feet of rail.

The first through passage from Toronto on the G.T.R. since Monday was made last night about eleven o'clock. The blockade at Manilla has been raised and the engines and plow off the track replaced, so that the line is clear again. Trains are running on all the branches as usual.

Personal.

Mr. P. Doran, of Kingston, who purchased the stock of Mr. M. Sullivan, insolvent dry goods merchant, is in town to-day taking possession.

Mr. James McAndrew, of the firm of McAndrew & Noble, and daughter, arrived at New York yesterday on his way home from his trip to "Aberdeen awa'" in the "Land o' Cakes."

Mr. Geo. Baskin, of the Algoma and Northwest Evangelical and Scriptural Colportage Mission, is now visiting Peterborough in the interests of the work for the present year. During the operations of the mission since Sept., 1882, there have been supplied 5,000 Scriptures and scriptural books in fifteen languages and 400 religious services held over many hundred miles of the district, religious tracts and magazines have been freely distributed and in several languages. The past year's work has been the most extensive of any previous year. It also needs to be continued and much extended, both in the interest of those to whom it is directed and the country generally. Peterborough's last contribution for the work in 1886 and 1887 was $25.25.

Presbyterian Hospitality.

The houseful of people who attended the social at the residence of Mr. W. Walsh last night were unanimous in vowing their delight and satisfaction. The large company thoroughly enjoyed the sociability and friendly intercourse of the occasion, the ample refreshments and the excellent programme presented. It is said the proceeds will amount to between $40 and $50. Following is the programme, which was prepared and rendered under the management of Mr. J. S. Parker:—

Nearly a Fire.

Thursday morning about five o'clock a lamp exploded in a bedroom at the "Pearl" Laundry, corner Water and Hunter streets, occupied by one of the girls employed in the establishment. She had left the lamp burning all night, intending to take the early morning train from town. She was awakened by the explosion, and with rare presence of mind threw the bedclothes on the blazing oil, extinguishing it in a few minutes, herself sustaining a few small burns. The carpet, a chair and part of the blankets were destroyed.

TO DEPOSITORS—Deposits are received by this Company both on current account and for periods of one year or longer. The rate of interest paid on amount deposited on current account and which may be withdrawn by check in such sums as the depositor may from time to time require, is four per cent., either paid or compounded half yearly, and the rate on yearly deposits is five per cent.

TO INVESTORS—The five and ten years five per cent. debentures of this Company which are issued in denominations of $100, $200, $500 and $1,000 each, transferable by endorsement, with half-yearly interest coupons attached, payable at the Head Office of the Company in Peterborough, or at any Branch of the Bank of Toronto in Canada, afford a safe and convenient mode of investment.

The funds of the Company being invested with the utmost care and precaution, no better security can be offered to depositors or debenture-holders, they having a first claim or mortgage on the whole Assets of the Company, the Shareholders having the second. The last audit shows that the amount so invested was over $1,310,222.60, and on securities of at least double that value.

By the Laws of Ontario, Trustees, Executors and Administrators may deposit Trust Funds of the estates which they control in this Company, and are free from all further liability, a privilege of which many have largely availed themselves.

TO BORROWERS—Money is obtainable from this Company on approved Real Estate Security at the Lowest Current Rates of Interest. The Mortgage may be repaid by yearly instalments or otherwise, as may be agreed upon, the interest coming at once on all amounts paid on account of the sum borrowed. Applications may be made either to the Head Office, or to any of the agents.

The Dominion Bell ORGANS.

WE wish to call your attention to the benefit derived from the

New Automatic Pedal Cover ATTACHMENT,

that has lately been added to the above Organs. This improvement has been a long felt necessity, and one which has never been successfully solved before by any Organ Companies until the patent was secured for the above Companies directly from the Inventor.

Other Organ Companies advertise their organs moose and dust proof, because they employ the usual method of beating around the bush, as we have done heretofore, but it is eminently unsatisfactory, and the only sure and efficient plan is that which we adopt, of covering the PEDALS and BOTTOM of our Organs. This attachment has iron throughout (with the exception of the Covers) having no cords, springs, or delicate mechanism to get out of order or repair, and works AUTOMATICALLY with the Fall Board of the Organ. The one simple act of opening or closing the Organ simultaneously operates the Pedal Covers.

This improvement has been placed on all the different styles of Organs, and the aim is now as in the past, to produce an instrument that HAS NO EQUAL.

All information and inquiries cheerfully answered. Catalogues sent free upon application.

Examine the Mouse and Dust Proof Organs before purchasing, and be satisfied that you have the best in the World.

MANHOOD SUFFRAGE TALK

THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S MEASURE ... AND SECOND ...

Toronto, March 17.

The work of the fifth Legislature ... practically commenced by the charge of the debate on the manhood suffrage bill animated the proceedings somewhat, even though everyone knew what would be said by the Government and what ... Opposition would say.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday morning sittings will be held.

Hon. Mr. Hardy moved for a second reading of his bill providing for the formation of new counties. He explained the principle of the bill, as to go toward meeting the movement of the formation of new counties in different parts of the Province. He promised the bill to lie open to amendment in several places. One was that placing the required majority of the vote, whether a bare majority, two thirds or three fourths.

Mr. Gibson (Huron) favored a three-fifth majority.

Mr. Meredith objected to the power being left with the Government, after the judicial enquiry was made as to the desirability of forming a new county, to say whether or not the vote of the people should be taken. That was a power which should be left with the House. He fully sympathized with the Government in the difficulty they had to deal with in framing such a bill. He believed they had lost one of the Wellingtons by promising interest to the erection of a new county. He believed also that a member of the Government had got himself into hot water by similar promises.

The bill was read a second time.

The Attorney-General moved the second reading of the Manhood Suffrage bill. In discussing the measure he made a few preliminary remarks. He left it questionable whether there was not a portion of the franchise, were ... the ... new possessed it. The suffrage was, however, a valuable educator. Those who voted necessarily took an interest in, and became acquainted with, public affairs. He was aware that the question of universal suffrage was fraught with alarm by a large section of people.

Many Reformers and Conservatives ... it as ... anarchy or annexation. With others universal suffrage was a matter of faith. They regarded the suffrage as the right of everybody, and were prepared to defend it on all occasions. Early in the session, a strong representation came to him on behalf of Conservative gentlemen protesting against his bill. It was represented to him, too, that the Dominion Grange would be unanimously opposed to it. But no reform could be brought about without opposition.

He traced the history of the growth of opinion in favor of universal suffrage. In 1874 in this House a motion in favor of manhood suffrage was brought up and only his hon. friend (Mr. Meredith) and two others voted for it. In 1875 another motion was rejected by 97 to 18, those voting for it being 11 Reformers and 7 Conservatives. On another occasion his hon. friend (Mr. Meredith) moved an amendment to a Government bill to extend the franchise. It was moved, however, as a measure of party tactics, a mere strategic movement for party purposes. But whilst they were not prepared to force the principle of manhood suffrage on the people before the people were prepared for it, they had been constantly widening it.

The Farmers' Son Franchise Act, the Landowners' Franchise Act, and their last Act giving almost everyone a vote showed this. Every widening of the franchise was so in conformity with the ripeness of opinion for it that the measures provoked the Opposition to offer only one argument to it—that it was not radical enough.

The way in which these extensions had been received gave promise that this finality in franchise matters would be likewise well received and would be productive of no evil. The experience of older countries showed that it would be safe to introduce such a measure. The United States, except Rhode Island, had manhood suffrage, and even the countries of Europe had it. Germany had it, France had it, and so had Greece and Switzerland. The people of Ontario were certainly as capable of using the franchise as the people of these countries. He again emphasized the policy of the Government in gradually widening the franchise, not in springing something on the people which they were not prepared for. He hoped to have the support of the hon. gentlemen opposite, because then he would have the support of the Conservatives out of the House, for the Conservatives out of the House supported the Conservatives in the House regardless whether they were right or wrong.

Mr. Meredith congratulated his hon. friend on having at length arrived at the conclusion that he could safely trust the young men of this country with the franchise, and thought at length he had introduced the bill which he now asked the House to assent to. He thought the hon. gentleman was unfair to the members on this side of the House in his insinuation that in moving for manhood suffrage heretofore they had been actuated by party motives. He did not hesitate to say that the hon. gentleman had falsely accused the members on this side of the House when he said that they had moved and supported a buncombe manhood suffrage motion.

Hon. Mr. Fraser replied that the Leader of the Opposition had never been known to introduce a bill in favor of manhood suffrage, and even his motion was brought in at the closing hours of the session.

Hon. Mr. Hardy, Messrs. Wood, Balfour, H. E. Clarke, French, Waters and Garson continued the debate. The bill was read a second time.

At the conclusion of the sitting the Attorney-General's motion to hold morning sessions till the House prorogued was carried.

In reply to Mr. Meredith Mr. Mowat said the House would prorogue on Thursday.

About thirty members visited the Mercer Reformatory yesterday.

The Municipal Committee met yesterday, the last time for this session. It advanced some bills, threw out a good many, and stood a few over.

THE EMPEROR'S FUNERAL.

The Procession Viewed by Hundreds of Thousands—Service in the Cathedral.

BERLIN, March 15.—The funeral of Emperor William took place to-day. The weather was again extremely cold, and the troops, who were ranged four deep along the route taken by the funeral cortege, wore heavy cloaks. The low temperature had no apparent effect upon the people and hundreds of thousands of spectators occupied the ... behind the soldiers, while every window and ... Unter den Linden was crowded. All the houses on the thoroughfare were covered with mourning and exhibited flags with black ... At the street crossings massive pillars draped with black and surmounted by Prussian eagles had been erected. The lamp-posts were covered with crape, and at every fifty paces there were large candelabras bearing flaming crowets.

The route of the funeral procession presented a most imposing aspect, entirely in keeping with the deep sorrow and reverence of the people. The centre of the road was strewn with gravel and fir branches. In Pensoir-platz large crape festoons, entwined with laurels, were hung. The Brandenburg gate was draped, and there was a large arch in front of it, upon which were the words

GOD BLESS YOU.

The funeral service took place in the cathedral in accordance with the program. Emperor Frederick was not present, the weather being too severe to permit of his exposing himself. Dr. Koegel, the court chaplain, delivered the sermon standing beside the coffin. His text was Luke ii:

29. Lord, now lettest Thou Thy servant depart in peace, according to Thy word:

30. For mine eyes have seen Thy salvation.

He concluded his sermon with the Lord's Prayer and the congregation then sang the hymn "Wenn Ich einmal Soll Scheiden."

A motet from Gounod's "Lord Jesu" was then sung by the choir of the Royal Sing Akademie. The funeral ... of the Sing Akademie rendered "Wie Herrlich Ist Die Neue Welt." At 12.45 o'clock Dr. Koegel pronounced the benediction, while at the same time ... volleys were fired by artillery on the ... The cathedral ceremony closed with the singing of "Holy! Holy! SOLICITUDE FOR "FRITZ."

THE LIVING KAISER'S PLACE IN GERMAN THOUGHT.

The Fears of Europe Thought to Depend Upon the Life of Frederick III.—Exact History of the Medical Treatment of the Case—Interest in the Remedy in Boston.

BERLIN, March 15.—Amid all the mourning for the late Emperor, as sincere as it is universal, it stands whether the health of the living Emperor is not ... in German thoughts. To-day time ... to legal schedule for his recovery is to say nothing. There is passionate anxiety for it. Expressions of this ... became more frequent since the proclamation appeared. Reports are numerous and not always consistent. People do not put complete ... in the ... "Will the Emperor live, and how long?" is the question on everybody's lips. Berlin is not over-hopeful, nor well informed. There is a disposition to fear the worst, and not in Berlin only. There is not a capital in Europe where many statesmen do not believe, rightly or wrongly, that the peace of Europe depends on the life of Frederick III.

The position of neither Sir Morell nor Dr. Von Bergmann has been fully understood. Sir Morell never said that the disease was not cancer. He long since explained himself to his medical friends. The evidence was not decisive. Prof. Virchow's analysis did not prove a negative, which left the question open. Sir Morell based his opinion on the result of a microscopic analysis. Dr. Von Bergmann preferred to draw his own conclusions from various data, and believed that the probabilities pointed to cancer. Prof. Virchow, as all the world knows, found an definite proof of cancer. Dr. Waldeyer is supposed to have affirmed the existence of cancer. He did not. His analysis revealed no cells of alveolar structure, or so deeply seated in the tissues as to make the existence of cancer certain. But he did find cells respecting which he inferred, from their number and for other reasons, that they probably came from a cancerous growth. It was not demonstration; it was inference.

Cancer or no cancer, Sir Morell is understood by his German colleagues to adhere firmly to his original advice against excision of the larynx; perhaps more firmly than ever. The result of the operation of tracheotomy, an operation trivial in itself, has convinced him that the Emperor would not probably have endured the other impressively more serious one. All the physicians agree that the Emperor has never rallied, as was hoped and expected, from the tracheotomy. The Emperor's temperament was against him. He had courage, but very low recuperative powers. He is extremely phlegmatic and deficient in nervous force. He ought long since to have thrown off all the effects of the operation, but he has not. The irritation produced by the ill-shaped tube has never subsided, though the violent cough, due to the ... came to ... At the recent journey from San Remo to Berlin occasioned anxiety, that was why. Two days have now elapsed since his arrival, and the doctors are satisfied that no harm was done by the journey. Neither the fatigues, nor the change of air, nor the cold, nor the long drive at night have left any traces. The Emperor is even allowed to talk a little, though silence is imposed ... a rule, because talking brings on fits of coughing.

The bulletins which are daily published contain a considerable degree of truth. His Majesty eats well, sleeps well, is in fairly good spirits and suffers no pain. His appetite is indeed described as almost too good. No restrictions in diet are imposed. He is deep in business, and even overwork is thought to be better for him than brooding. His habit is to sit at a small desk with a saddle for a chair. Some one of his doctors is always within call. Semi-official papers continue to write as if it were possible that the Kaiser might be present in Berlin at his father's funeral. It is medically impossible. Not one of the doctors would consent.

Among his physicians no man bears so heavy a load of responsibility as Sir Morell Mackenzie. None has so much reason to pray for the Kaiser's life to be spared. Professional jealousy has spread far beyond the limits of the profession. The late Emperor, the present Emperor and some of his most intimate friends, and the Empress gave and give Sir Morell their complete confidence. Almost everybody else is against him. Berlin, in hovel and palace alike, rages against him. Sir Morell meantime continues quietly in attendance on the Kaiser at Charlottenburg schloss. The Empress will not consent to his return to London. How long he will remain, and how long his patient will need him, are questions to which no answer can be given.

THE FREE TRADE POLICY.

CONTINUATION OF THE DEBATE ON SIR RICHARD'S MOTION.

Mr. Charlton Makes a Stinging Speech in Support of the Motion—Position of Canada as Compared With That of the United States—The Result.

OTTAWA, March 16.—In the Commons today, on rising to continue the debate on the Unrestricted Reciprocity resolution, Mr. Charlton said this had now become a party question and would probably be a party question for some years to come.

Our popular pastime should be home industries. There are on this continent not less than ... of people who speak the English tongue, and it is certain that in the near future there will be ... This being the case, it becomes ... consider our duties as part of a vast Anglo-Saxon community, and this question under discussion should be ... from ... and patriotic standpoints.

The relative public burdens and expenditures of Canada and the United States will be taken into consideration. The debt of Canada, he said, has increased two-thirds more rapidly than the population. Our expenditures have increased four times more rapidly than population. There had also been a large increase of taxation from customs. The only instance of any reduction, he claimed, was during the Mackenzie regime. The overall ... increase ... had been, he said, the enormous exodus of population, an exodus which had been denied but which was nevertheless capable of actual demonstration. The statistics of the United States, he claimed, showed not less than 2,000,000 people there who would have been here but for the large burdens imposed on the people here by the National Policy. That policy ... the prices of goods and the consumers ... were compelled to buy dear and sell cheap.

The farmers of Ontario were not happy, he said, despite the assertions of the Minister of the Interior. He doubted the statements that interest rates in the Western States were extortionately high, and said that, with few exceptions, they were lower than in Canada. The land regulations of this country, he claimed, were less liberal than those of the United States, and operated powerfully to divert immigration from Canada and direct it to Dakota and other States. The National Policy also tended, he asserted, to keep people from going to Manitoba and compelled them to seek homes in the States.

The question of Commercial Union or Unrestricted Reciprocity had been for some time before the farmers of Ontario and the sentiment in favor of the proposition so claimed was most pronounced. The people felt, he said, that a change was required.

He then referred at ... length to show that Canada was suffering under ... burdens while the United States were comparatively free, asserting emphatically that our credit was not nearly so good as that of the neighboring Republic. He considered it time to call a halt in the building of public works and railways which were adding to our expenditure. He repeated the cry that some natural markets were with the Grace and not interprovincial. If the States will not accept our standing offer of Reciprocity, we must find out on what basis they will negotiate.

Mr. Charlton continued for more than two hours in a dull and uninteresting speech directed to an almost empty chamber.

Mr. Davin followed in refutation of the previous speaker's statements. He spoke of the exodus and denied that it was due to the laws promulgated by the Conservative Government. The migration had taken place when hon. gentlemen opposite were in power as well as now.

Manitoba in 1870 had a population of 18,995, and since the railway was built it had grown rapidly, and in 1886 had 65,000. Dakota's increase had not been much better. British Columbia had made remarkable progress of recent years, and they were going ahead with giant strides. Comparisons with western states and territories did not reflect any discredit on Manitoba and the Northwest.

Mr. Lavergne spoke an hour in support of Sir Richard Cartwright's motion and Mr. McNeill moved adjournment of the debate. The House adjourned shortly after midnight.

Around the Lobbies.

The debate on Mr. Cartwright's Unrestricted Reciprocity Treaty is so much disliked by the Government that they are trying to shut it off, and it is said they will endeavor to induce their supporters to leave nearly all the talking to the Opposition. Even if they pursue such strange Parliamentary tactics over a motion which the Minister of Marine last night said involved a tremendous issue, it will not conclude the debate till the end of next week.

Mr. Davin is being congratulated on all hands for his very able speech to-day. The Government organs here administer a severe rebuke to Mr. "Shallow," the Minister of the Interior, who, in his reply to Sir Richard Cartwright, spoke of that gentleman's brilliant oration as "weak."

THE FARMERS IN COUNCIL

Farmers' Institute Meeting at Lakefield.

Interesting Farming Topics Discussed—Weeds and Their Remedy—Horse Raising—Fruit Culture.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

In the afternoon the attendance was much larger.

Mr. J. Cayly Brown first made an address upon "The Products of Farming." First taking up the question of quack-grass, he mentioned the method of extermination recommended by Prof. Mills and others, namely the sowing of two crops of buckwheat in one season. But though the nuisance was effectively combatted by this method, the farmer lost the product of his year's labor. A better plan, he thought, was that adopted by a friend of his, who had planted one crop of corn and run the cultivator frequently through it. By that means the grass was destroyed and a profitable crop of corn secured. Turning on to the subject of cheese, he said that though it might be a profitable thing at first, in the long run it did not pay. Cheese production, as a rule, meant lean stock, and a remedy for this was suggested by Prof. Robertson, viz., the dropping of calves in February, when by the time milk was beginning to be sent to the factories the calf will be weaned. Mr. Brown commented the establishment of creameries in the county. The ventilation of stables was next touched upon, and several improvements upon the methods commonly in use suggested. Speaking of horses, he proposed a plan to utilize mares in foal in winter, as it was a well known fact that mares in foal did much better on light work than running about doing nothing. He considered it good policy on the part of farmers to grow green stuff every year, such as corn or clover, and in case it was not fed green it could be cut as threshing time and put away in layers with the straw. The root crop was next referred to. He advocated raising of "three" crops, and on a farm of 100 acres said half an acre of parsnips should be raised, as they were green in the spring of the year when there were no other vegetables or roots for the cattle. He would be continued also advise the planting of parsnips, carrots, mangolds, Kohl Rabbi and turnips. Garden weeding should be carefully attended to, and the weeds killed before they can be seen, as Prof. Forsyth says. In conclusion Mr. Brown expressed the belief that political questions should be constantly discussed, and that it was impossible to keep them out of the Farmers' Institute or any other meetings. Politics should be discussed thoroughly by the farmers, who were the most largely interested. The educational interests were touched upon. Mr. Brown suggested an improvement in the school system, by having during the summer months rural schools taught from 8 to 11 a.m. for large boys and girls, and from 2 to 5 p.m. for smaller children. He considered the art of drawing an important part of a farmer's education, which would enable him to effect a great saving in designing his own buildings.

Mr. Isaac Garbutt asked what was the difference between cheese and butter making.

Mr. Brown explained that in making butter the skim milk was left, and that was an important part.

Mr. Dawtin Kennedy asked Mr. Brown to explain his statement, that if cheese making was continued it would eventually impoverish the farm. His personal experience had been just the opposite. He also disagreed with Mr. Brown's recommendation of a remedy for quack grass. If buckwheat was used the weeds would be smothered and the land greatly improved.

Mr. Birdsall coincided with Mr. Kennedy. He himself had tried the corn remedy, but the next year they had dozens of corn quack grass. Mr. Galvin said he had found in destroying quack grass it was absolutely impossible to hope your field clear of fibbes and roots.

FRUIT CULTURE.

Mr. Lafayette Carpenter read a paper on "Fruit Culture," which was particularly devoted to apple raising. Canada, he said, was the best apple-growing country in the world. He named several varieties of the best winter apples—the Baldwin, Rhode Island Greening, Roxbury, Russet, King of Thompkin's County, Swaar, Seaby, Spitzenberg, Hubbardson's Nonesuch and Hopkin's Late Market. Other good varieties for market are the Northern Spy, Yellow Bellflower, American Golden Russet and the Winthrop Sweet—further; for shipping, the Ben Davis. Still others are the Fowankee, Walbridge and Haas. At this point the speaker was accorded a vote of thanks for the information, and as the afternoon was drawing to a close the remainder of his paper could not be heard.

Mr. Galvin mentioned several good varieties of apples suitable for this climate—the Duchess of Oldenburg, the Ben Davis, the Calvert and the Wagner. He believed fruit culture had been much neglected and could be a success.

BEES RAISING.

Mr. T. N. Willan read a paper on the above subject. Ontario, he said, was particularly adapted to bee-culture, and the climate granted our several universal advantages Ontario became prominent over others. In handling it was necessary to always have a desire to do everything. The cost of making a colony was estimated at $100 up to three years. At three years of age, one of the colonies which Mr. Willan would refer to keep a year, the cost would cost $110. Every farmer, to make a success of bee-raising, should raise their daughters will come to the colony and sell earlier than any other. Only those of pure breeding should be used. The theory of bee-raising was next touched of, and the philosophy of it was to bring colonies of the same class, same proclivities and same temperature character. Several observations had shown that Italians were the best for comfort, but for profit the Cyprian were the best. The effect of a queen and also upon a queen was shown to be detrimental. Mr. Willan gave a list of his own experience to this line, which went to prove that no good results followed from crossing a blood queen with a Cyprianite. It is said the male gives the form while the female gives the constitution, and the effect of it was shown in crossing.

Mr. Birdsall thought it would be a good move to discuss the question of bee-keeping before the people of Lakefield with the many energetic who [illegible] through the country.

Mr. Willan said he did not to educate the farmers to use only the best animals and they would not have anything to do with the others.

Mr. G. W. Mann enquired if colds caused from young bees had, as a rule, good constitutions.

Mr. Willan replied that mature bees produced the best stock.

The Sugar Combine.

OTTAWA, March 16.—An examination of the sugar "combine," Mr. Walter Paul, grocer of Montreal, appeared before the Combine Committee this morning with the complaint that he had been drained a loss of $1000 a year through being left on the tale of sugars consignment on his secession from the guild. He had joined when asked because it would benefit his pocket. He was willing to remain in the ring, but was excluded because he was a retailer.

Mr. Geo. Childs, President of the Wholesale Grocers' Association of Montreal, was the next witness and though supporting the combine gave some apparently straightforward evidence in direct contradiction to some of that already adduced by friends of the same cause. This sugar arrangement had been extended for a year or two without success until at last the wholesale grocers had gone to the refiners and instituted unless there was some arrangement made to prevent the sale of sugar at slaughter prices the refiners might distribute their sugar direct to the retailers. This information had brought the refiners together to meet the guild and in April last the present arrangement governing the prices were entered into. It was a fact, despite Mr. Drummond's contradiction, that the refiners had a uniform price and that price was fixed principally by the Canada Sugar Refining Company as a matter of convenience.

It seems that the retail grocers who have been complaining about the wholesale combination have a little combination of their own, wielding enough influence to place them in a position to dictate to the wholesale men that they shall not sell to any but men in the trade.

Two firemen were killed, three persons mortally injured and $25,000 worth of property destroyed in Akron, Ogden & Co.'s shoe factory at Milwaukee yesterday.

The Five Sisters.

There were five fair sisters, and each had an aim—

Elsie would take to a fashionable dame;
Scholarly Susan's selection was books;
Corn'lia Cyra cared more for good looks;
Anna, ambitious, aspired after wealth;
Sparkle Sarah sought happier good health.

So she took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and grew healthy and blooming. Cora's beauty quickly faded; Susan's eyesight failed from over study; Elsie became nervous and fretful in striving after fashion, and a sickly family kept Anna's husband poor. But sensible Sarah grew daily more healthy, charming and intelligent, and she married rich.

TAKE
NASAL BALM FOR COLD IN HEAD
—AND—
CATARRH.

There is no disease to which Canadians are more subject than Catarrh—all ages and sex alike are numbered among the sufferers. It is impossible in the limit of a short newspaper article to describe the symptoms fully, but they may be briefly enumerated: Cold in the head, difficulty in breathing, hawking and spitting, headache, pains in the region over the eye, stoppage of nasal passages, foul breath, droppings into the throat causing nausea and sometimes vomiting, poisonous secretions accumulating in the lungs leading to consumption. These are but a few of the many symptoms of Catarrh, a disease which affects 7-10 of our Canadian population. NASAL BALM is the only CERTAIN and POSITIVE CURE for this loathsome disease in all its forms and stages. NASAL BALM is the result of years of careful study, and is prepared with a view to radically cure those cases of catarrh, to which Canadians are most subject. It is not a liquid snuff or comforting powder, but a pleasant, never failing remedy, requiring no instrument or douche for its use. Easy to use, instantaneous in its effects, permanent in its cures. Ask for Nasal Balm and take no substitute of whatever name. For Cold in the Head there is no better remedy on earth to equal Nasal Balm. Do not neglect a cold in the head for in nine cases out of ten it will lead to Catarrh. Use Nasal Balm upon the first symptoms. This wonderful remedy affords instant relief and cures within a few hours. It can be used for the youngest child as well as for adults, and as a precautionary measure should be kept in every household. For sale by all druggists or sent in receipt of price (50c. and $1.00 per bottle) by addressing FULFORD & CO., Brockville.

PROOF OF ITS MARVELLOUS EFFICACY.

An Unequalled Remedy.

J. McKee, druggist, Peterborough, says:—Nasal Balm gives the most perfect satisfaction to consumers of any preparation I ever handled. My sales are large and the reports from those who use it, fully substantiate your opinion for the medicine as an unequalled remedy for catarrh in the head.

Worth Ten Times its Cost.

T. W. Hunt Port Hope says: I was a sufferer from a long standing case of catarrh and being well up in years (72) hardly expected to ever obtain anything that would give me relief or permanent relief. At the time of receiving Nasal Balm I was very bad with catarrh, but after a few applications I obtained wonderful relief and the cure was pleasant, soothing and healing. It acted like magic and is worth ten times its cost for the immediate relief it gives. I feel confident the second bottle will effect a permanent cure. I have recommended Nasal Balm for cold in the head and in every case it gave him a cure.

Acts Like a Charm.

John Foster Raymond says:—Nasal Balm acts like a charm for my catarrh. I have only used it a short time and I now feel better than at any period during the last twenty years. In fact I am sure of a cure and at a very small expense.

Feels Like a New Man.

A. H. Fish, merchant, Belleville, states: I take great pleasure in recommending your Nasal Balm to any one troubled with that dreadful disease, catarrh. I have been troubled with it for the past fifteen years, and can say candidly that I never had anything that gave me half so much relief as your Nasal Balm. I have only used two bottles and I feel like a new man.

Beats the World.

D. Derbyshire, president Ontario Creamery Association, Brockville, says: Nasal Balm beats the world for catarrh and cold in the head. In my own case it effected relief from the first application.

Capt. D. H. Lynn, manager and proprietor of the G. B. S. and E. Co.'s line of steamers, Toronto, writes: I used Nasal Balm for a protracted case of cold in the head. It gave me immediate relief and I can recommend it as the best remedy I ever used. I would not be without a bottle of Nasal Balm if I could not procure it.

In Winter Weather.

Mr. Homer Brooks, Newcastle, Ont., says: I gave Nasal Balm a fair trial for catarrh and cold in the head. It gave me immediate relief and I can recommend it as the best remedy I ever used. I would not be without a bottle of Nasal Balm if I could not procure it.

A TWICE DESERTED WIFE.

Mrs. [illegible] Finds Much Again Her Errant Spouse in Hamilton.

HAMILTON, March 15.—Mrs. Wm. H. Faulkner arrived in this city from Cincinnati, O., last week in search of her husband who deserted her two years ago and has since successfully eluded pursuit. She found him working as a blacksmith at the Marsden Bellgonia Works. He refused to be friendly and accompanied her to the Anderson House, where they remained over night. Next day he found a private boarding-house on Hughson-street for her, promising that after a time he would take up house. He called and saw her on Wednesday evening, and was to have called last night, but, instead, sent a note to her saying that he would not be had again. It was subsequently learned that he left yesterday on the Northern and Northwestern, checking his trunk for Essex Centre.

The Finance Committee and the chairman of the several standing committees of the City Council are holding conference with a view to a policy of economy in order to meet current payments on capital account which have to be made in the year and next.

Mr. Charles Vasper's trotter No. 1 Hanlan ran away this morning, upsetting a heavy sleigh with him. The animal was badly used about the legs by the shafts.

Week's Business Lost.

New York, March 16.—Dun, Wiman & Co.'s weekly review of trade will say: The paralysis of business loses, the stoppage of communication and mails throughout the Eastern States, and the awful conditions under which the country has been for the few days has been the most unparalleled commercial experience for the season of the year. It would not be [illegible] to say that the record of the entire week's business as lost throughout the region most affected by the unprecedented storm.

New York, March 16.—The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days, as reported to Dun, Wiman & Co., number for the United States 262 and for Canada 36, or a total of 298, as compared with a total of 253 last week and 244 the week previous to the last. The figures for the corresponding week in 1887 were 225.

Premier Mercier's Home-Coming.

MONTREAL, March 16.—Premier Mercier arrived this morning from Europe via New York in excellent health. It is said that his financial mission has been successful. The question of the date of the local elections will therefore probably be laid before the House, which will be called the middle of next month. Writs for by-elections will be issued at once. Mr. Mercier declined to speak of his visit to Rome. It is said to have been in connection with the restitution of the Jesuit estates of this province.

Scott Act Excitement at Yarmouth.

YARMOUTH, N.S., March 16.—The excitement over the liquor prosecution revelations continues, and is intensified by the fact that a mob raided the house of Joseph Burrill, the Scott Act inspector, outside of Milton, about 1 o'clock this morning. All the windows were broken by volleys of stones and some chopboards torn off, but no one was hurt. The assailants remained there about half an hour and then dispersed.

A Locomotive Explodes.

ST. JOHN, March 16.—The locomotive which brought in the western train this morning exploded, doing a fearful report a few minutes after the train had crossed the bridge at Fairville. There were three men in the cab at the time. All three were pretty badly scalded and mutilated by flying pieces of the boiler, but none of their injuries are serious.

Unfortunate Fellow's Death.

MONTREAL, March 16.—The trial of Detective Fahey was continued in the Court of Queen's Bench to-day, when a number of witnesses were examined. The evidence taken was principally from persons who had been at the depot on the day of the robbery and testified to having seen the accused there.

ANOTHER WONDER!

It never was intended so far as I can learn, That either man or woman were intended to be bald.
I think you will believe me, indeed I'm sure you will,
If I tell you "Paris Hair Wheriel" fast have called

There is one thing Nature thinks of—let us thank her all we can—
Since Ellen gained all trouble with our roses she leaves a beauty growth of hair, the gray and whitening locks.
Will destruct from the beauty of the face.

But Nature does her lows so strict that you must never err,
For you'll surely pay the penalty at last,
Unless it is that luxuriant head of hair,
Doctor Emmerwood's Hair Magic's unsurpassed.

Just try it, you afflicted, you never will regret,
The Magic was never yet known to fail
And the good that it will do you will make you soon forget
The expenditure a bottle will entail.

This new famous preparation for invigorating and stimulating the growth of the hair is universally accepted as the most valuable specific on the market. All diseases of the scalp are either relieved or permanently cured. A rich and rapid growth of hair will follow after judicious and regular treatment. It remains with the user alone to secure the desired results. Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" is sold by all druggists at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. If not obtainable in your own locality send direct to the sole manufacturer, enclosing price. A. DORENWEND, Paris Hair Works, 103 and 105 Yonge street, Toronto. For sale by J. D. SATURDAY, MARCH 17, 1888.

LOCAL NEWS.

Moderate to fresh winds; generally fair, with a little lower temperature.

Distinguished Visitors.

During the most blustering weather of the storm-swept month of March Arran, Yankee senators, a sporting duke and other big-wigs. The unsophisticated remarked that they looked just like other men, and everybody agreed that they would have been much better figured if they had had a chance of appearing in knickerbockers, where their limbs could be seen. The right range of imported tweeds, etc., ready to be made into garments of faultless style and irreproachable fit.

An Elocutionary Treat.

The Y.W.C.T.U. of town have secured the services of Miss Phelps, B.O., of St. Catharines, for next Thursday evening, when she will deliver her popular lecture on "The Modern Sphinx," in the Murray street Baptist church. Let all read carefully the press notices and testimonials in their exchanges from day to day, and then hear Miss Phelps for themselves. Miss Phelps is a graduate of the National School of Elocution and Oratory, Philadelphia, and those who attend her lecture will enjoy a rare elocutionary treat. Admission 15c.

Burying a Comrade.

Friday afternoon the Millbrook fire brigade and band arrived in town by the 4:30 o'clock "mixed" from Omemee, where they had just buried a deceased comrade, Mr. Mallock. They stopped at the Morgan House until the 5:50 train in the evening. On their arrival in town they marched up street, the band playing an inspiriting air. During the day they visited the fire hall and expressed their appreciation of the neat and complete equipment there. In the evening the band played a couple of tunes. Millbrook has reason to be proud of her band. Under the leadership of Bandmaster McKim it is making rapid progress.

In Camp Again.

Hiawatha encampment held a very enthusiastic and successful meeting last night. Everybody was delighted with the new outfit. There was a large number of visiting patriarchs from Mount Hebron Encampment present, including P.C.S's D. H. Moore, A. McFarlane and T. Workman. Two candidates were admitted, advanced and exalted, the "work," it is said, being performed in a most excellent manner, the visiting patriarchs rendering valuable assistance. Supper was served in the dining room by Mr. H. Long.

Extending Communication.

Mr. H. W. Kent, Bell Telephone Agent, has just added another 50 to his long list of patrons, who now number altogether 188. His latest addition is the office of Messrs. Wilson & Morrison, Managers for Eastern Ontario of the Manufacturers' Life and Accident Insurance Company. Their business has grown to such proportions that they require daily communication with the large staff of agents between Toronto and Kingston, some 30 men in all. The monthly business of the Manufacturers' for this division amounts to over $100,000, keeping in constant employment over forty keepers. Their fire insurance business has increased over 50 per cent. in the last six months. Messrs. Wilson & Morrison are to be congratulated upon their success, and this latest evidence of their prosperity and enterprise will not pass by unnoticed by the observant public.

In the Blockade.

Mr. J. W. Morris, of the Ontario Bank, who left Toronto Monday night for Peterborough, arrived here Thursday, having been just three days on the road. Talk romantic one of the old days of slow coach travelling, but in this instance the snow blockade is accountable for the delay. His train was stopped a couple of miles west of Myrtle by the snow-banks, and there it remained until Thursday. Mr. Morris, together passengers (among whom were four editors, half-a-dozen members of parliament and three or four deputations from Western municipalities on their way to Ottawa) enjoyed themselves as well as they could under the circumstances. They had plenty of fresh eggs, milk, bread, etc., secured from the farmers near the line, and each man on board racked his brain for old stories or fresh jokes to entertain his comrades. The time was pleasantly spent, and Mr. Morris says he didn't set foot outside the car from Monday night till Wednesday afternoon, it was so cold. Not until Wednesday morning could any move be made in clearing away the drifts. As fast as shovelled away the snow filled in again. Messrs. H. Lebrun and J. Hackett were compelled to remain in Toronto till Thursday night on account of the blockade.

Mr. P. Q. Dunn, of Kinston, formerly of Peterborough, has purchased the bankrupt stock of Mr. M. Sullivan, and will open up the store for business next week about Wednesday. The public are asked to look out for further important announcements. 1d

Queen Street Bridge.

The repairs to Smith street bridge have been completed under the superintendency of Mr. T. M. D. Croly, and the bridge is now pronounced to be in first-class condition. A good many persons will have no excuse now for not driving to church on Sunday.

They Deny the Charge.

This morning a couple of carters called to deny the accuracy of the story of "Joe and Pat," as given in our conundrum columns. They consider that the item pointed at them, and they wish it distinctly understood that it is untrue. They believe if that the "practice of some ignorant friend" who thought to have a joke at the expense of their good name.

Breaking the Boom.

Under the superintendence of Mr. T. M. D. Croly the boat under the Charlotte street bridge, is being removed so as to allow free passage of ice when the creek breaks up. Instead three large beams will be fastened to the flooring on the upper side, one on each side and one in the middle, thus forming two distinct roadways. It is expected the additional room will obviate trouble with the ice when the creek breaks up, now so near at hand.

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. Consequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

A Chance for Them.

The I.O.O.F. concert at Norwood Tuesday evening was a success despite the absence of the Peterborough contingent, who were unable to attend on account of the snow blockade. These are to be given a chance, however, as the Register says "that in order to make amends for the disappointment caused by the inability of the Peterborough vocalists to be present on Tuesday evening, another concert will be given on Friday evening next. The programme will be made up exclusively of Peterborough talent."

The New Drill Shed.

An Ottawa despatch states that Mr. John Stevenson, M.P., has urged upon the Government the necessity for having a new drill shed erected in Peterborough, and the Minister of Militia has given a promise that one will be built, conditional upon the town meeting a portion of the expenditure. After our experience of governmental promises in respect of the Trent Valley Canal, we will be excused if we decline to yield implicit faith to Sir Adolph's assurances. If Mr. Stevenson is bound to get us the drill shed he will have to rent a house next to the Minister of Militia, and borrow a bayonet and "prod him up" occasionally.

A Successful Splice.

The milkmen have not a monopoly of the splicing business. Thursday Mr. J. J. Turner successfully completed the splicing of the steel wire cable which transmits power from the wheel at the foot of Dickson's race, Hunter street, to Faint's Mattress Factory across the river. One strand of the steel cable had broken and stripped up in the pulley like a lady's tongs, and it was found necessary to insert eighty-five feet of cable. This Mr. Turner did so skilfully, that, so far as working is concerned, it would not be known that a splice had been made. The strands being of steel made the work one of great difficulty, which was added to by the cold, which had to be neutralised by a fire built on the ice. It is hard to get the start of Turner at splicing either a hempen or steel cable. Turner's serving machine is humming; he has men employed at putting up awnings at Cobourg and Trenton, and his business in this line extends from Napanee in the east to Whitby in the west. On Friday he received orders for four large tents from Langford Mills.

The Skating Rink.

An impression is prevalent among holders of the skating and curling rink that it is to be closed after Saturday evening for the season. The skaters (holders of season tickets) particularly are possessed of the idea that they are to be refused the privilege of skating after this week, and consider themselves the victims of an injustice because the curlers are to be allowed to curl as long as the ice may last. The facts are these. Ever since the last extremely cold snap the water service of the rink has been frozen up, and it has been impossible to make new ice; and even were there plenty of water, it is extremely doubtful, in case the rink was flooded, if it could be got to freeze again. So that absolutely, between these two circumstances, there is little or no possibility of making new ice again this year. Those who skated Thursday night are painfully aware of the fact that the ice was in poor condition—full of cracks and holes that caught the unwary skater and gave him or her a heavy tumble. If there are any season ticket-holders enthusiastic enough to like skating under such circumstances, the rink is open to them at any time. They will not be prevented from skating, but they will have only themselves to blame if a broken head or limb results. The curlers (regardless of the title. They cannot have a office, but of course know that Curling Jim will take be made in clearing away the drifts. As fast as shovelled away the snow filled in again. Messrs. H. Lebrun and J. Hackett were compelled to remain in Toronto till Thursday night on account of the blockade. without reward" for months. It will be worn down and "streaked," but still it will do for "fun." Besides, curlers who wish to indulge in "the grain" gleed" after this will be taxed ten cent a night to pay the expenses of light, etc. All things considered, the skaters are not being unjustly dealt with in the least.

The Irish Parliament.

The Rise and Fall Discussed by Mr. O'Donoghue—The C. M. B. A. Entertainment a Success.

Much disappointment was manifested by the large audience in the Opera House Friday night, at the announcement that Hon. Seraphe Skillyon was very ill at his home in Kingston, and would found it impossible to fulfil his promise to deliver a lecture on "The Victorian Era." The chairman introduced as a substitute Mr. M. F. O'Donoghue, M.A., L.L.B., of Ottawa, whom he commended as one fully able to take the Senator's place—and after events proved that the lecturer deserved all and more praise than he got.

Before the "solid" part of the entertainment a light first course of orchestral and vocal music preceded. Prof. Doucet's orchestra gave a couple of selections, which won thunderous applause. A clarionet solo by Mr. Oliver, Mr. W. Loch, accompanist, showed the former to be a thorough master of the instrument. Of the vocalists announced to take part, only Miss Begley consented to sing. She rendered "The Irish Emigrant," (by Lady Dufferin,) and as an encore "The Spirit of Spring," by Langton Williams. To say that she sang well would be giving her only half-hearted justice—the circumstance of delight and call for an encore by the audience attested, more than words could convey, the appreciation her solos met with.

Mr. J. D. Mollenyle, President of the C.M.B.A., under whose auspices the entertainment was held, occupied the chair. There were also on the platform Rev. Father Kelly and Messrs. T. Cahill, J. O'Meara, J. Hurley and M. Sullivan.

THE ADDRESS.

Mr. O'Donoghue's address was upon "The Rise and Fall of the Irish Parliament." The address followed the parliamentary history of the Irish people down from the very beginning of the nation to the present time, and was a comprehensive epitome of all the great questions and events that have marked Ireland's struggles for freedom. It was chock full of information and a condensed report could not do it justice. Ireland's cosmopolitan population was the great difficulty that accounted for much of her disastrous history. The divers peoples that came from all parts of the globe were never firmly welded together into one nation by some strong hand, hence the internal strife that wrought destruction. The first approach to an Irish parliament was that convened at Tara, by Ulmar the Wise, and after Ireland's subjugation by the descendants of William the Conqueror the whole aim of the English was to destroy the Irish parliament and crush out the Irish constitution. The struggles of the Irish patriots against such a connection were gone over in detail, from the first organized defence of the "Irish Confederacy" to the later efforts of Grattan and his colleagues. The various schemes of the English parliament to bring Ireland still farther under the thumb of oppression were mentioned—schemes which succeeded only too well. Pitt was delighted as a great parliamentarian, but he never could secure the reins of government, because, unlike the manner of procedure in this country, in case of an adverse vote the "Castle" Government would not resign but by other means attempted to gain their ends. For this reason and because of the Catholic majority in the Irish House (which always was in the majority, though if transferred to the English Parliament they would be in the minority) the Constitution of the Irish parliament was accomplished. There were many Irish chieftains at that time who committed political suicide, they voted away the Irish parliament, though they had no right to do it. There was even no appeal to the people on the question, important as it was, and the Irish parliament passed away. It should never have been removed; but, being so, it is the duty of every Irishman to see, deserve to have it restored as quickly as possible. The efforts of O'Connor, Isaac Butts, Parnell and that grand old English statesman, Gladstone, should be considered by every true Irishman the world over.

During the lecture the speaker was frequently applauded when patriotic references were made. At the conclusion, by way of "dessert," he recited "Shamus O'Brien" amidst much enthusiasm.

A vote of thanks was moved by Dr. Brennan, seconded by Mr. J. O'Meara, both of whom made a few appropriate remarks, and after a closing selection by the orchestra the meeting broke up, a delightful and profitable evening having been spent.

Curlana.

Two Victories Abroad—Belleville and Campbellford Treated Alike.

Belleville curlers had a taste of the bitterness of defeat at Campbellford on Thursday; Campbellford curlers ditto. Peterborough was responsible in both cases. In the forenoon the match with Belleville resulted as follows:—

Belleville.	Peterborough.

Majority for Peterborough, 2[illegible] points.

In the afternoon a short match, 12 ends, was played with the Campbellford men, resulting as follows:—

Majority for Peterborough—23.

The Peterborough men speak in highly complimentary terms of the sociability and hospitality of the Campbellford and Belleville curlers.

The game for the oysters and the championship at the rink last night resulted in a tussle of laurels to skip Edmison's rink. It was a close match, though. At the last end a tie resulted, and an extra end had to be played to decide the matter, Edmison's rink winning by two shots. The victorious rink is composed of S. Clegg, J. Stanger, T. Rutherford and G. Edmison. They are justly proud of their victory.

A Team of Horses Drowned.

Friday night Mr. Harry Jackson, of Emily, suffered the loss by drowning of a team of horses, valued at $250 or $300. He was in town till a late hour, and, it is said, became intoxicated. On leaving the hotel he apparently lost all control of himself and allowed the horses to go their own way. They wandered to Little Lake and fell into an ice-hole—an opening caused by the cutting out of ice for storage. Both horses were drowned and Jackson himself was drenched to the skin.

—Sprigs of shamrock or little knots of green ribbon were worn on coat lapels today, "the 17th of Ireland."

Established in Canada.

Coming to Peterborough.

The British Medical and Surgical Association of Montreal, having established a permanent hospital in that city for the treatment and cure of chronic diseases and deformities. Doctors of this Association will arrive at the Grand Central hotel on the morning of the 21st, and remain until the evening of the 24th. The specialists of this Association having devoted their lives to the treatment and cure of chronic diseases and deformities, thereby becoming masters of this important branch of medical science, are now enabled to give to the suffering of this city and vicinity latest experience gleaned from the hospitals and infirmaries of England, France and Germany, together with their three years' experience in the United States, where they have treated and cured thousands of suffering humanity, who had given up all hope and were pronounced by their family physicians as incurable. The doctors of this Association can be consulted free of charge, and if your case is incurable they will frankly and honestly tell you, at the same time tell you what is requisite to prolong life and render it comfortable, also caution you against spending more money for medicines and appliances which travelling impostors and unexperienced doctors are liable to suggest. This association is composed of men who have stood at the head of the medical profession of Europe for years, and from their extensive experience in the treatment of chronic diseases and deformities, are enabled to tell on examination whether the patient is curable or not. They will not treat any person unless there is a moral certainty of effecting a cure, as the number of patients treated and rejected in the following places show:—

Boston, 3920; rejected, 1842.
New York, 7429; rejected, 3114.
Cleveland, 2130; rejected, 841.
Cincinnati, 3840; rejected, 1201.

Remember the date and go when they first arrive. Office hours 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Sunday, 10 to 4.

TO DEPOSITORS—Deposits are received by this Company both on current account and for periods of one year or longer. The rate of interest paid on amount deposited on current account and which may be withdrawn by check in such sums as the depositor may from time to time require, is four per cent., either paid or compounded half yearly, and the rate on yearly deposits is five per cent.

TO INVESTORS—The five and ten years five per cent. debentures of this Company which are issued in denominations of $100, $200, $500 and $1,000 each, transferable by endorsement, with half-yearly interest coupons attached, payable at the Head Office of the Company in Peterborough, or at any Branch of the Bank of Toronto in Canada, afford a safe and convenient mode of investment.

The funds of the Company being invested with the utmost care and prudence, no better security can be offered to depositors or debenture-holders, they having a first claim or mortgage on the whole Assets of the Company, the Shareholders having the second. The last audit shows that the amount so invested was over $1,310,223.69, and on securities of at least double that value.

By the Laws of Ontario, Trustees, Executors and Administrators may deposit Trust-Funds of the estates which they control in this Company, and are free from all further liability, a privilege of which many have largely availed themselves.

TO BORROWERS—Money is obtainable from this Company on approved Real Estate Security at the Lowest Current Rates of Interest. The Mortgage may be repaid by yearly instalments or otherwise, as may be agreed upon, the interest ceasing at once on all payments paid on account of the sum borrowed. COMMITTEE ON COMBINES.

FURTHER TESTIMONY ADDUCED ON SATURDAY.

According to the Evidence Only Fair Profits are Made and the Combine is for the Benefit of the Poor Man—An Insight into the Coal Combine.

OTTAWA, March 17.—The Combines Committee met this morning. Mr. Wm. Ince, President of the Dominion Wholesale Grocers' Guild, Toronto, was examined. Very little new matter was elicited. His Guild engineers three combines, one to determine the price of tobacco, one regulating credit, and a third the sugar combines. He defended the existence of the last named as a necessity in the interest of sound trade. He was satisfied that the retailers of Toronto and likewise the well informed public did not feel aggrieved. The public did not expect that the wholesale grocers should do business for honor and glory without any profit.

Mr. Hebert of Hudon, Hebert & Co., Montreal, Vice-President of the Guild of that city, said that although his firm occupied an exceptional position of doing business without travelers, even without that expense they made a small profit out of their large trade in sugars. Their customers did not complain of the effect of the combine. Of course there were a few grumblers, but the bulk of their customers were delighted, as they were satisfied with the price and knew that none of their competitors were getting lower quotations or better terms.

Mr. W. W. Lockerby, Montreal, told the committee that the sons of Mr. J. A. Mathewson, Montreal, who were partners in his firm had been anxious to go into the sugar combine and had expressed annoyance that "the old man" should set up his opinion against the whole country.

The secretary of the Dominion Wholesale Grocers' Guild, and of nearly all the other prominent trade combinations, produced a very interesting document, namely the minutes of the Guild since its formation. These show that at a joint meeting of the Guild and the refiners the whole sugar question had been very fully discussed, and the refiners had then had a private meeting to consider how they would meet the request of the Guild. The result was that the refiners announced their willingness to accede to the request made, and to sell at the most favorable rates only to signers of the agreement. No one was to be allowed to sign the agreement unless his name was first submitted by one of the refiners. The retail customers of the refiners were not at first cut off, but pressure brought to bear had eventually shut them out. A demand had been made of the refiners that they should absolutely refuse to supply granulated sugar on easy terms to those not in the combine. Mr. Drummond replied that this was a very serious proposition, but on several manufacturers in other lines being quoted as subscribing to a similar rule, he had promised that the Canada Sugar Refining Company would agree to even this if the Guild insisted. Mr. Elmenhorst, of the St. Lawrence refinery, positively declined to refuse to sell to anybody, being only willing to combine in prices. He thought ½ cent advance was not sufficient to protect the interest of the trade.

Mr. W. P. Clay, retail grocer of Galt, expressed perfect satisfaction with the effects of the Guild.

The grocers and other combines are rather dissatisfied with the manner in which Mr. Clarke Wallace is conducting the proceedings; they say he imagines that he is on a still hunt—and rushing at conclusions.

The Coal Combine.

Mr. Elias Rogers, coal merchant of Toronto took the stand after dinner to explain what he knew about the coal combination. Chairman Wallace put the questions. The witness first explained the importance of distinguishing between different kinds of coal when discussing prices. There were a great many different kinds and the prices varied from $1.50 to $6.50 a ton at the Bridges. The kind generally referred to when coal was spoken of was stove and nut size of anthracite. The whole anthracite trade is controlled by five leading transportation companies: (1) Philadelphia and Reading, (2) Delaware and Lackawanna, (3) Lehigh Valley, (4) Erie, (5) Pennsylvania. A committee, composed of representatives of these five companies and all shippers over their lines, known as the Western Anthracite Joint Committee, make the prices from month to month at which coal shall be sold for the Northern and Western market. The prices for Ontario are made at Lake Ontario shipping ports and the Erie[illegible]. During the past year no coal was sold in advance or for delivery beyond the month in which the sale was made by any of the companies on the other side, and large advances were made during the season by them. There were also advances in the lake freights from 25 cents to 70 cents. During the early part of the season it was impossible to obtain vessels to get the usual amount of coal brought to Toronto, and later on of course the rates were much higher. The average cost of coal brought to Toronto during the entire season of 1887 by vessel was about $4.60 on board vessel at Toronto. Harbor dues 5 cents, unloading 20 cents, cartage to yard 10 cents, screening 15 cents, average cartage to consumer 40 cents, general expenses 40 cents, made a total of $6.90. The prices at which anthracite coal have been sold in Toronto are less on the average than in any city the witness knows of where the cost of transportation from the mines is as great as it is to Toronto. He has never known a year when the average net profit on the whole season's business would exceed 25 cents a ton. He does not think that this season they will exceed 20 cents.

The effect of the organization of the coal trade branch of the Board of Trade is to make prices more uniform throughout the year. The contracts and rich man's trade have paid higher prices than they would have if there had been open market, but the winter trade, or poor man's trade, has paid much lower prices than it would otherwise have paid. The reason of this is that the retail prices were fixed last spring on the basis of the then wholesale prices, and the freight, cartage and general expenses and a fair margin of profit, and competition, instead of breaking these prices down as in other years when there was no allowance made for the item of general expenses on summer trade, took the other direction and prices were given for delivery throughout the year without requiring anything to be paid on the orders, and the poor man was able to avail himself of these advantages and actually did so. Fully four-fifths of the whole trade of the city was taken at those summer prices, and the coal so ordered has been delivered at the then prices although the wholesale prices have advanced very largely. As a consequence of the wholesale advances the retail prices were put up, but that action was taken after the bulk of the coal had already been ordered as has just been explained.

AN ATROCIOUS CRIME.

A Farm Hand Attacks an Aged Couple—The Woman Beaten to Death.

ITHACA, N.Y., March 17.—Richard Barber, a farm hand employed by Thos. Donohue the past winter, was lodged in jail here charged with the most atrocious crime committed in this section in half a century. Richard Mason and his wife, an inoffensive, childless couple, aged about 70, have lived for thirty years in a little house on two acres of land two miles east of Trumansburg. Last night an alarm at the door aroused Mason, who admitted Barber, with whom the Masons were well acquainted. Lighting a lamp Mason started to go down the cellar for a dish of apples. Barber seized a heavy stove poker or shaker and struck the old man on the head as he stood at the cellar door. Leaving him after a second blow Barber went into the chamber where Mrs. Mason was lying in bed and hammered her to death with the same weapon. The fainting husband heard his wife's loud cries of agony subside into moans. The only heed paid by the miscreant to Mason's appeal for mercy for his wife and himself was a return to the onslaught on the husband. The murderer then emptied the contents of the oil lamp upon the old man and the carpet and igniting it fled from the house. Mason recovered sufficiently to crawl from his house into a snow drift, leaving the body of his dead wife for cremation in the blaze which soon consumed the house.

The fire was discovered by neighbors, two of whom conveyed the mutilated farmer to an adjacent house, by which time the entire neighborhood became aroused, and when Mason informed them of the facts enraged parties of searchers set out to apprehend the murderer. Barber was encountered on the road and kept in custody by a throng of men until the arrival of Deputy-Sheriff Barton, who succeeded in getting him to Trumansburg and protecting him until the train brought them to Ithaca. Barber is an Englishman and has been in this country eight years. The only theory accounting for the crime is his knowledge that the Masons had $100 hoarded in their house.

A Battle With Train Robbers.

CHIHUAHUA, Mex., March 17.—A dispatch form Cusihuiriachi, a mining town about ninety miles west of this place, states that a party of Mexican Federal troops accompanied by R. H. Paul, of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, and N. W. Pierce, of the Mexican Central Railway, who left Chihuahua three days ago in pursuit of the Steins Pass, N.M., train robbers, came upon Larry Shehan, Dick Johnson and Dick Hart last night at 7 p.m. about twenty miles northwest of Cusihuiriachi. The robbers barricaded themselves in a house, compelling the family to remain within, and stood the attack off until noon to-day, when the besiegers succeeded in getting the family out of the house and then set fire to it. The robbers proved themselves game by coming out fighting. Advices state that a regular battle occurred between the authorities and the train robbers, in which the robbers Shehan, Johnson and Hart were killed by the attacking party, who lost but one man, a sergeant of the Mexican troops.

To Be Away With the Stock Exchange.

CHICAGO, March 18.—A committee from the directors of the Board of Trade has been appointed to determine the advisability of doing away with the Board of Trade Stock Exchange. It is probable that trading will be ordered discontinued but that the quotations will still be posted for the convenience of members of the board.

The Yellow River Flood Victims.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—Latest reports from the scene of the Yellow River floods place the total number of lives lost at 100,000, and the total number of sufferers from the inundation will reach between 1,000,000 and 2,000,000.

Fire at Milford.

MILFORD, Ont., March 17.—A fire broke out here this morning about 1 o'clock in W. A. McCready's general store. It soon spread to the Windsor Hotel, barn and sheds. Nothing was saved of the store, which was covered with insurance; also the building was insured, but the amount is not known. From the hotel part of the furniture was saved. The hotel and contents were also insured, but the amount is unknown.

Two Engineers Injured.

MEADVILLE, Pa., March 17.—Another wreck occurred on the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio Railway to-day. The westbound fast express and eastbound passenger from Oil City collided on a curve in the lower yard here. Engineer Festanton of the express had a leg broken and was badly scalded. Engineer Armstrong of the other train was badly hurt about the head.

A Bad Freight Wreck.

TOLEDO, March 17.—There was a bad freight wreck on the air line division of the Lake Shore last night three miles west of Ligonier, Ind. The pedestal under a Union Line tank car gave way and threw fifteen cars loaded with coal and coke, and two with naphtha, in a ditch where they burned. The loss was $15,000.

RAILROAD CATASTROPHE.

A SECTION OF A MAIL TRAIN GOES THROUGH A TRESTLE.

Twenty-Five Dead and Thirty or Forty Injured, Several Fatally—The Entire Train Except the Engine Demolished—The Accident Attributed to a Broken Rail

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 17.—The first section of the fast mail train from New York for Jacksonville went through a trestle at a point seventy-five miles south of Savannah this morning. The entire train, except the engine, is demolished. Nineteen people are reported to have been killed, and between thirty and forty injured, ten of whom are expected to die. The private car of President Wilbur of the Lehigh Valley Road, with Mr. Wilbur and George Gould and wife and others in it, was one of the train. President Wilbur is reported to be seriously injured. George Gould is unhurt and Mrs. Gould slightly injured. Relief trains have gone out with physicians. Those killed are:

CHAS. FEARCE, train hand.
W. M. MARTIN, news agent.
C. A. FULTON, master of transportation Brunswick and Western Railroad.
W. B. GREGOR, Savannah.
FRED MAYNARD, New York.
F. M. SMITH, Pullman conductor.
MERRITTA WILBUR, son of the President of the Lehigh Valley Railroad.
JNO. F. RAY, Dales Mill.
W. J. WILLIAMS, colored, of Valedosta.
MAJ. J. H. PATE, Hawkinsville, Ga.
LLOYD CARSON, colored.
COLSON FOSTER, colored, of Waycross.
MOSES GALE, colored, Waycross.
E. P. THOMPSON, North Carolina.
Five negro men, names unknown.

The injured are: Milton Lawrence, colored, W. L. Griffin, conductor; J. W. Thompson, Jacksonville, Fla.; Charley Brown, Savannah; C. W. Humboldt, Savannah; Laura Jones, Thomasville, Ga.; Mrs. McClinch of Philadelphia; Alice Simpson of New York; Samuel Obee and wife, Providence, R.I.; Dr. Beothe and wife, New York; E. P. Wilbur, President Lehigh Valley Railroad; W. A. Wilbur, son of E. P. Wilbur; P. H. Wilbur, son of E. P. Wilbur; Miss Cox; A. J. Boyle; A. J. Fairelath; Miss Mattie Ray, Dales Mill, Ga.; J. P. Thompson and wife, New Orleans; O. W. Wallace, Traveling Passenger Agent Louisville and Nashville Railroad; L. B. Mallard, baggage master; Austin, colored, Waycross; Henry Snook, colored, Savannah; C. B. Vanvorst, Savannah; A. C. Hudson, Macon, Ga.; J. Papy, flagman; G. M. Feredo and wife, New York; J. Spiro, New York; Mrs. Hulburt, New York; Sam Allen, train hand, Savannah; Walter Gooderich, train hand, Savannah; E. Butterfield, New York.

The List is Not Reduced.

SAVANNAH, March 17.—A later list of the killed and wounded agrees with the one already sent, except that it omits the names of Maj. Pate and Moses Gale, and gives instead those of Mrs. Marion G. Shaw and daughter Mamie, of Jacksonville, Fla. It also says that Geo. Gould escaped uninjured, but that Mrs. Gould was badly shaken up.

Twenty-Five Dead.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 17.—A representative of The Times-Union sent from Jacksonville arrived at Waycross, near the scene of the accident at 7.30 to-night, and found the town wild with excitement. The number of dead aggregates twenty-five, about equally divided as to color. Nineteen persons were killed outright at the wreck and six died at Waycross during the afternoon. Several more are expected to die.

A Later Despatch.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 17.—A later despatch from The Times-Union correspondent at Waycross says George Gould was injured in face, and Mrs. Gould in the side, both slight injuries. Theodore Butterfield, General Passenger Agent of the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg Railroad, was slightly injured and is overcome by the excitement and exertion of aiding the wounded. He is now at Waycross.

President Wilbur, of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, has a very severe scalp wound. W. A. Wilbur, son of President Wilbur, has a flesh wound on the chin, is out deeply, but not seriously. R. H. Wilbur, another son of President Wilbur, has his left wrist sprained and is bruised in the side, not serious.

Gen. Ferribo of Tammany Hall had his left hand severely injured and suffered a concussion of the right side. His wife is severely injured on the left side and is suffering considerably.

Further Particulars.

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 17.—The accident was caused by a broken rail under the baggage car. The baggage car got off the track about a quarter of a mile before it reached the bridge at Hurricane River. The baggage car mounted the track, but the train passed safely over the bridge. Immediately on the other side of the bridge there is a trestle several hundred feet in length. When the baggage car struck the trestle work it gave way and the entire train with the exception of the engine dropped through and with the exception of one car was completely wrecked. The train consisted of a combination car, three baggage cars, smoking car, one coach, two Pullman sleepers and a private car of the Lehigh Valley. This private car, which was occupied by President Wilbur of the Lehigh road, his family and friends, survived the shock.

Mr. Gould Not Hurt.

NEW YORK, March 17.—A despatch was received from Geo. Gould by Mrs. Kingdon, the mother of Mr. Gould's wife, this afternoon from a small town in Georgia to the effect that he and his wife were in the railroad smash-up at that place but were not hurt.

GAIETY AMID THE GLOOM.

FESTIVITY FOLLOWS CLOSELY UPON SADNESS AT BERLIN.

Intense Anxiety Over Emperor Frederick's Condition—He Keeps Busy With State Affairs in the Knowledge of Approaching Death—The Proclamation.

BERLIN, March 17.—Berlin to-day is still far from assuming its wonted aspect. The mass of the people, prolonging yesterday's mourning holiday, throng the thoroughfares and but for the sombre hues prevailing everywhere, the buildings and people being still clad in black one might suppose a great pageant fete was proceeding. Some of the people are making it a thorough fete day and the festal animation of occasional groups has a bizarre effect amidst the emblems of universal sadness. Orderly streams of sight-seers have gone to gaze on the outside of the mausoleum, to obtain an entrance to the cathedral and to catch a glimpse of the royal personages at the fetsham. The bulk of the visitors from the country have departed for their homes, and by Monday the populace will have resumed work, the buildings will have to be divested of their draperies and the normal appearance of the city will be restored.

The authorities, military and municipal, are unanimously congratulated by the press upon the circumstance that after one of the greatest public pageants ever seen there is to-night no record of an accident.

The intense anxiety over the condition of Emperor Frederick already overpowers the impression of yesterday's sombre magnificence. In the highest official circles the question asked is not what the Emperor's policy may be, but how long he will live to disclose any policy.

Wanton gossip attributes to him intentions to change the personnel of the Government in opposition to Prince Bismarck. Gen. von Puttkamer is mentioned as retiring. Herr von Boetticher is in peril and the anti-Bismarckian court clique will obtain a dominant influence. Men like Gen. Stosch, an old opponent of the Chancellor, will be made the active heads of departments. So far as the Emperor has yet done anything he has simply confirmed the official status everywhere. Nothing indicates any material change in the government of the external or internal policy of Prince Bismarck.

The Emperor, though able to work continuously for several hours, works under the knowledge of death, and that his doom is so near that it would be folly to try to modify the policy of his predecessor. His only daily consultations are with trusted friends of the Chancellor. He persists in working against the advice of his physicians. In reply to the remonstrances, he is reported to have said: "My time doesn't belong to me. I cannot take time."

The latest Reichs-Anzeiger bulletin says that despite the excitement of the past few days the Emperor is free from fever, and that no special complications have made their appearance.

Prince Bismarck to-day consulted with the President and Vice-Presidents of the Landtag on the difficulty in the way of the Emperor taking the oath. The constitution directs that the oath must be taken before the united Chambers. Legal advice is that the requirements of the constitution will be fulfilled by the Emperor signing the oath in the presence of representatives of the Chambers. The President and Vice-Presidents of the Landtag, who were to have an audience with the Emperor and Empress on Monday, have received an intimation that under the existing circumstances the audience will have to be postponed and that no day can be fixed for their reception.

Both houses of the Landtag will adopt an address in reply to the Emperor's message which, it is expected, will be couched on the lines of the Imperial proclamation. Further discussion of the proclamation shows a confused diversity of opinion. The Conservative press refuses to interpret the passage on social legislation as disavowing Prince Bismarck's social and economic projects. The Progressist journals take the same passage as indicating clearly a profound divergence between the social policies of the Chancellor and the Emperor.

With reference to the rights of the Reichstag, according to the Progressist press, the proclamation marks the determination of the Emperor to respect the voice of the people as expressed by their representatives. The Conservative and National Liberal papers consider the tenor of the proclamation a mortal blow to the hopes of the Progressists, who expected a positive declaration in favor of a parliamentary regime. Everyone concurs in sympathetic criticism of the proclamation. The right key to its meaning belongs to Bismarck as its practical interpreter.

The Bourse resumed business to-day. There was a fair amount of activity shown and buying was animated till private reports concerning the state of Emperor Frederick were received. These had the effect of checking business. The fear that the days of the Emperor are limited will restrain speculators from venturing upon new enterprises. The chance for the near future is moderate business, no boom and no serious disturbance.

Frederick Passes a Good Night.

BERLIN, March 17.—Emperor Frederick passed a satisfactory night notwithstanding the exciting events of yesterday.

At 10.30 o'clock this morning the Emperor and Empress received their daughters and their granddaughter, the Princess Feodora. The Empress afterward accompanied them to the mausoleum, where they all spent some time in silent prayer. Before leaving they placed fresh flowers on the coffin.

The royal message, which will be presented to the Landtag on Monday, expresses the King's regret that his health prevents his taking the oath in person, and suggests that the House consider the message, which is countersigned by a minister, as equivalent to the constitutional oath

Farmers' Institute Meeting at Lakefield

Valuable Hints on Sheep Raising, Selling and Poultry—A Night Meeting Proposed With.

SHEEP RAISING.

Mr. M. Birdsall's paper on sheep raising was next taken up. The reason that fewer sheep were kept to-day as was years ago, was because the price of wool had gone. If wool was to be the only profit in sheep raising, they would certainly have to go out of the business. But could not wool and mutton be combined in one; one combining a good quality of mutton with a fair clip of wool. To this end he advised keeping a pure Southdown ram among a flock of coarse wooled sheep for a couple of years; then breeding his lamb to a good Cotswold or Leicester ram. After some sound advice as to preparing for market, the paper pointed out the characteristics of a good flock of ewes:—(1) good weight without too much bone; broad rump and wide across the hips; square built behind and with good heavy hind quarters; well wooled, particularly on the belly; they should come to maturity early. As to breeding—never breed lambs as it stunts them; don't breed ewes after they are four years old, unless they are pure bred Southdowns, when they will stand a year longer; separate the ewes over 4 years old early in the fall, put them in good pasture and feed well in winter, and what cannot be ready for market in February will be ready in June. He didn't believe in breeding from a ram lamb, because half the ewes miss or have weak lambs. Rams may be used from the time they are shearlings until 6 years old; they should be with the ewes in the day time and enclosed at night and fed with oats or peas and oats mixed. The time of coupling ewes with the ram depended on the object of the breeder; if for show ring or early market, the earlier they come after the first of January the better. The best time for farmers doing mixed farming is to couple the first week in October. Lambs should not be let out into the field, as they generally suffered from various causes. Of course ewes should be better fed than if they were to lamb later on, but the profit would cover the expense. The care and feed of pregnant ewes was also touched upon, and castration was not considered advisable. The best method of docking was described, and washing recommended to be done about the 20th of May, after washing put in a clean field and they should be ready to clip in five days. Great care should be exercised in doing up wool for market. The paper concluded by a summary of the benefits of sheep raising, and a severe condemnation of "dogging" or having dogs about that worried sheep.

The President mentioned a fact that had been told him, that if a couple of small bells were tied to the sheep's neck the dogs would not bother them.

Mr. Dawson Kennedy related an occurrence that happened himself. He owned a dog that had killed some sheep, and to cure him he shut him up with a cross old buck. The ram cured the dog so that he never bothered the sheep afterwards.

SOILING.

Mr. Dawson Kennedy presented a paper on the above subject. The unusual drought of last summer, he thought, had taught the dairymen a lesson that if the flow of milk was to be sustained they must guard against drought. They would in future pay more attention to soiling. One of the best green fodders for early feeding, he thought, was rye, which could be grown where nothing else could, a small field of which would feed a dozen cows, until the pasture is ready, and that will do till corn comes in. Green corn mixed with straw at threshing formed a most palatable food for cattle. For summer feeding nothing equalled corn, and in the fall barley was a good feed. Barley sown for this purpose should be planted two or three bushels to the acre.

In reply to a question, Mr. Kennedy said the corn he used was western or horse-tooth corn. Then the Yankees used the White Flint corn. Several of those present took part in the discussion, and different varieties of corn were mentioned.

POULTRY.

Mr. T. E. Bell read extracts from letters in the Rural Home and Poultry Review. Mr. Bell recommended light Brahmas as good winter hens, and Leghorns for general use, Wyandottes for laying and Dorkings and Houdans for the table. He estimated a profit of $137.50 a year on 50 hens well cared for, and if three settings were sold from each the profit would be $227.50. Killing should be done at 18 months of age, or at the most not twice that age. Corn and peas was good fattening food. Vermin could be expelled by using sulphur, a dry floor and walls washed with carbolic acid and lime.

THE CONCLUSION

At the conclusion of the paper the President announced that no night meeting could be held, as Prof. Robertson could not arrive owing to the snow blockade.

Votes of thanks were passed to the speakers, after which the meeting adjourned.

Nova Scotia Fisheries.

The Money Value of the Much-Discussed Interests.

[Halifax Herald:—It is difficult to obtain full and accurate information as to the fisheries of the year before publication of the departmental reports, as the officers are disinclined to give the public the statistics except through that channel. But from what has been got at, the last season's catch has been very little short of 1886. The reports for that year place the total value of the season's business at the prices adopted by the department at $8,414,301, while for the year 1887 the figures will be about $8,280,000, showing a little difference, but making no very great variance on the whole. The average annual catch for the last ten years, 1878-87 inclusive, has been in round numbers, $7,500,000, the last year's operations being over $1,000,000 in excess of that average, and only some $400,000 less than that of 1886, which was the largest yet recorded. The total scrip is divided among the different branches of the fisheries in about the following proportions:

Cod, family	$4,412,000
Mackerel	1,121,000
Lobsters	1,065,000
Herring	337,000
Fish oil	192,000
Salmon	168,000
Halibut	118,000
Squid and other bait fish	218,000
Alewives	74,000
Eels	37,000
Smelts	27,000
Trout	15,000
Shad	12,000
Sundry other fish and products	85,000
Total	$8,280,000

THE ENGINEERS' STRIKE.

Other Roads Unable to Move C. Freight—The Kansas Pe Strike Ended.

CHICAGO, March 17.—A statement was published in a morning paper to the effect that Chairman Hoge of the Grievance Committee had called on President Perkins of the Burlington Railway last Saturday and informed him that the strikers would be willing to go back to work on the old terms, if the company would promise to consider the schedule of wages later. "The truth about the Hoge interview is just this," said Chief Arthur to a reporter to-day, "Hoge called on the President last Saturday to see if some settlement could not be made. After more or less discussion, Mr. Perkins said he was willing to pay the same rate paid by other roads. That much settled, the question arose as to how the men should be taken. Hoge wanted them all taken back, but Mr. Perkins said that could not be done, as the conference took an adjournment, and Chairman Hoge came back and had a talk with the men. He then returned to Mr. Perkins and asked if he would take back the men on the passenger service, giving them their old runs, and let the freight department be settled later. Mr. Perkins could not at that time accede to that either, and the conference came to an end. We are as strong as ever. We simply wished to see if a settlement could not be made."

The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul made no attempt to-day to enforce its order to move "C" freight, and none was moved. At the West and Kinzie-street yards of the Chicago and Northwestern this afternoon an attempt was made to move five cars of Burlington freight, and the men stubbornly refused to touch them.

An Address to the Public.

CHICAGO, March 17.—Alexander Sullivan, attorney for the Brotherhood, has given to the public a long statement signed by S. E. Hoge, chairman of the C.B. and Q. General Grievance Committee, setting forth the matters in issue between the men and the company, which are in brief that pay should be governed by the number of miles run, an increase of compensation to an amount equal to that paid by other roads, and the abolition of the present system of classification of engineers and firemen.

The General Conference.

CHICAGO, March 17.—The General Grievance Committee of the eastern and western roads entering Chicago were in session again to-day, but their deliberations were not brought to a close, and all decided to remain and resume work Monday. According to the best information obtainable the eastern men have not yet given up their position. They are handling Burlington freight cars, and intend to continue to do so. The western roads want to go out, but cannot get the consent of the entire organization.

The Central Iowa Partially Tied Up.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., March 17.—One after another of the Central Iowa engineers refused to handle the Burlington coals to-day, resulting in a complete tie-up of all freight traffic on 400 miles of road in Iowa and 100 miles in Illinois. The passenger service is still unimpaired, and no trouble with that is anticipated. Owing to renewed trouble, no mail car was sent down from St. Paul to-day.

Judge Dundy's Decision.

OMAHA, Neb., March 17.—Judge Dundy of the United States District Court to-day rendered his decision in the injunction suit brought by the Burlington Road against the Union Pacific Company and against the engineers in their employ to prevent them from refusing to receive or transport Burlington freight. In substance the court holds that the engineers on the Union Pacific have the right to quit work when they please; but they have not the right to enter into a conspiracy, and by concerted action suddenly leave the Union Pacific Road without engineers, when the purpose of that conspiracy is to prevent the Union Pacific Road from exchanging freight with the Burlington as by the Inter-State Commerce law it is required to do; neither have the engineers the right to refuse to pull Burlington cars, and such refusal would subject them to imprisonment.

The Santa Fe Strike Ended.

KANSAS CITY, March 18.—The Santa Fe strike is ended.

The Dominion Bell ORGANS.

WE wish to call your attention to the benefit derived from the

New Automatic Pedal Cover ATTACHMENT,

that has lately been added to the above Organs. This improvement has been a long felt necessity, and one which has never been successfully solved before by any Organ Companies until the patent was secured for the above Companies directly from the Inventor.

Other Organ Companies advertise their organs measure and dust proof, because they employ the usual method of blocking around the bellows, as we have done heretofore, but it is objectionable in practice, and the only sure and efficient plan is that which we adopt, of covering the PEDALS and BOTTOMS of our Organs. This attachment has been throughout (with the exception of the Covers) having no cords, pulleys, or delicate mechanism to get out of order or repair, and works AUTOMATICALLY with the Fall Board of the Organ. The one simple act of opening or closing the Organ, simultaneously operates the Pedal Covers.

This improvement has been placed on all the different styles of Organs, and the aim is now, as in the past, to produce an instrument that HAS NO EQUAL.

All information and inquiries cheerfully answered. Catalogues sent free upon application.

Regarding the Agency and Dept. Store Organ which I purchased, I am satisfied that you have the best in the World.

TORONTO'S OARSMAN WINS.

O'Connor Easily Defeats the Californian—He Comes in Four Lengths Ahead.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—20,000 people witnessed the three-mile sculling race between William O'Connor, of Toronto, and Henry Peterson, of California, on Oakland Nook of San Francisco Bay. The water was comparatively smooth and both men apparently in good condition. The day was as fine as could be desired.

O'Connor's shell is the same in which he defeated Hamm last fall. Peterson's was manufactured in Boston, being what is sometimes styled by sportsmen, "Irish make." The bow sloped down and under water, while O'Connor's turns up.

Wagers on the men before the race were about even. Owing to Peterson being a local man he was a slight favorite of the majority of people. Those from abroad generally held O'Connor first.

The race was to have been at 2.30 p.m., but it was nearly half an hour later before it was called. The start was an even one, but O'Connor quickly pulled ahead. O'Connor rowed 36 strokes to the minute and Peterson 39.

At the half-mile O'Connor led by a half length. At the mile O'Connor led by 3 lengths, and increased to 4 at the turn. At a mile and a half from the starting point in the last half mile before turn, Peterson steered wildly, encroaching on O'Connor's water. O'Connor's time to the turn was 10 min. 2 sec.

On the return homeward Peterson beat himself well to regain what distance he had lost. When about at the two-mile Peterson spurted, but O'Connor met it with responsive strokes for rest of race. O'Connor maintained his lead of 4 lengths, rowing 33 strokes to Peterson's 39. O'Connor passed the winning point in 20 mins. 28 secs., Peterson was 12 seconds later. O'Connor was comparatively fresh at the close, while Peterson showed signs of exhaustion.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A meeting of the tweed manufacturers of Canada was held on Friday in the rooms of the Manufacturers' Association on Wellington-street. The meeting had been called for the purpose of discussing the trade prospects for 1888. It was shown that in 1887 nearly four millions more yards of cloths and mixed woollens had been imported than in the three previous years, and the question arose as to how the Canadian mills were to keep running, when their output was so far in advance of the demand. When mills will close down will not be decided until the adjourned meeting on May 2, but a leading cloth manufacturer said yesterday that nine out of ten mills will close down for 1/24 summer if 1000 haloon more protection is given them. The meeting subsequently elected R. Rennaud of Almonte President and Mr. Kendry of Peterboro Vice-President.

Mrs. Mary Hines, a married woman residing at 19 Carr-street, was taken to the Hospital on Saturday night with a broken leg. She said the Hospital authorities that it was caused by her husband abusing her while he was intoxicated, and the police have the matter in hand.

John M. Lloyd, employed at Hicks' Hotel at the Humber, was admitted to the Hospital yesterday afternoon suffering from a broken leg sustained by falling from a wagon on Saturday.

MR. GREENWAY'S POSITION.

The Manitoba Premier Discusses the Situation—Negotiations Advancing.

OTTAWA, March 18.—Premier Greenway, discussing the Manitoba question to-night, said the Government had not intimated to him that a settlement had been arrived at, although he had reason to believe negotiations were advancing satisfactorily. He said he did not see that he need remain here much longer, as the Government knew exactly his position: That he neither could nor would accept anything less than an absolute surrender to the province of the right to build railways. Understanding this the Government could settle the difficulty without him.

He expects to leave Wednesday or Thursday for Winnipeg, going by way of Toronto. He is anxious to reach Winnipeg by next Sunday, as the Legislature opens the following day.

The conviction gains strength here that the difficulty is to be settled by compensation being given the company by way of subsidy to steamship lines.

Detective Fahey's Trial.

MONTREAL, March 18.—Detective Flynn was again on the stand at the trial of Detective Fahey yesterday, and identified two letters written by the defendant to Frank "Wilson," in the first of which "Wilson" is told to "bring on a small kit, as we may want to do some work in that line," and in the other is advised "if you can possibly smuggle in the necessary outfit to do up a fireproof, do so."

Inspector Stark of Toronto testified to receiving type-written letters signed by prisoner; he also identified a letter and envelope produced by T. Flynn as having been written in his presence at the Balmoral Hotel here by the prisoner.

The latest attempt to solve the mystery enshrouding "Wilson" is the statement that he is in Toronto awaiting instructions from the Crown. It is also said that a warrant for "Wilson's" arrest is hanging over his head if he should come here.

Wentworth Farmers' Institute.

HAMILTON, March 17.—The Wentworth Farmers' Institute met here this morning. There was a large attendance of members. Thos. Shaw, the president, occupied the chair. The chairman introduced Prof. James of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, who delivered a short and instructive address on Field Drainage. At the conclusion a discussion was carried on by Messrs Fisher, Master Shaw, Kirby and Henderson.

W. McFadden of Brussels then delivered an interesting address on the breeding, educating, feeding and training of the driving horse, which was fol[illegible] discussion.

Big Blaze at Bowlby, Ont.

BOWLBY, Ont., March 18.—The Victoria block, owned by John A. Mackie, was totally destroyed by fire this morning. The fire commenced in the office occupied by John F. Steinacher and in a short time the whole block was on fire. Mr. Mackie is a heavy loser, with only $1,600 of insurance on his stock of dry goods, furniture and block. The other losers are John F. Steinacher, picture frames, and Chas. Keller, baker, with no insurance. Mr. Hills, who occupied one of the flats as a dwelling, loses everything, no insurance, and barely escaped with his life. The insurance companies interested are the Western, Wellington Mutual and Economical. The Commercial Hotel and stables had a very narrow escape.

Gen. Willoughby Released.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—Latest mail advices confirm the report that Gen. Digby Willoughby, late commander-in-chief of the army of the Hovas, who was arrested in Madagascar for the alleged embezzlement of $12,000, has been released.

CHICAGO, March 18.—Joseph Sommers, a boy about 15 years of age, killed his stepfather, Frank Wickman, yesterday and escaped.

LATEST MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, March 17.—Money on call is quoted at 5½ per cent. on debentures and 6 to 6½ per cent. on stocks, and for discount the price is 6½ to 7.

The produce markets in England are quiet.

The advent of St. Patrick's Day was celebrated on St. Lawrence market by the butchers, green grocers and produce men doing a good morning's business. Vegetables sold at about the same prices, parsnips at $1.50 per bag, potatoes $1 to $1.10 and good apples at $2.50 to $3 per barrel. There was a good supply of fresh eggs at 20c per doz. First-class butter was scarce and sold at 24c per lb. Medium rolls brought 20c to 22c per lb. Spring chickens sold at $1 per pair. Spring lambs were plentiful at $7 to $8 a carcase. On the grain market business was flat; 200 bushels barley sold at 75c to 77c, two loads of oats at 46½c to 49½c; one load of goose wheat brought 72c.

BEERBOHM'S REPORT.

Beerbohm reports to-day: Floating cargoes—Wheat nil, corn steady. Arrivals—Nil. Sold—Wheat 4, corn 2; waiting orders—Wheat 2, corn 2. Cargoes on passage—Wheat and corn quiet and steady. Good cargoes—Chilian wheat off coast 32s 3d, was 32s; present and following month 32s 3d was 32s. Liverpool spot wheat and corn inactive. No. 1 Cal. wheat 6s 8d: No. 2 Cal. 6s 3d; American red winter 6s 7c; white Michigan 6s 5d; spring 6s 6½d; all ½d cheaper. Flour 12s 6d, unchanged. Corn 4s 6d, ½d cheaper. Peas 5s 6d, ½d dearer.

THE WONDERS OF MAGIC.

When you find that beauty is fading away,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
To the elderly man with his locks in decay,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."

A rich head of hair
Is as precious as rare,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."

The lady's misfortune, when losing her hair,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
She can quickly, easily, cheaply repair,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."

It imparts strength and beauty,
And it's the lady's plain duty,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."

Take time by the forelock and still keep your own,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
This tonic, a failure has never yet known,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."

Try this motto to head,
Try till you succeed,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."

This now famous preparation for invigorating and stimulating the growth of the hair is universally accepted as the most valuable specific on the market. All diseases of the scalp are either relieved or permanently cured. A rich and rapid growth of hair will follow after judicious and regular treatment. It remains with the user alone to secure the desired results. Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" is sold by all druggists at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. If not obtainable in your own locality send direct to the sole manufacturer, enclosing price. A. DORENWEND, Paris Hair Works, 103 and 105 Yonge street, Toronto. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists. dw

A Centenarian.

The other day the EXAMINER published a record of the death of a lady in Smith at the ripe old age of 102 years. Is it possible that there is a person living in town to-day who will reach that age? If the infant in arms should become that old, it will never have a better chance to get better bargains in factory cottons and steam looms than are to be had now at the golden lion. Notice—for a short time these splendid goods will be offered at 12½ per cent. lower than regular prices.

A First Class Dressmaker now in the employ of Hall, Innes & Co.

Signs of the Times.

The front of Bayeur's boot and shoe store is bloomed with new signs, just put into position by the artistic Cooke, who, although he does not claim to be a literary character, shows "signs" of being a well-lettered man. The signs are done in black and gold and small, are five in number, and, extending up the front at proper intervals from pavement to parapet, they read: "T. L. Bayeur," "Boots and Shoes," "Bayeur, Bayeur," "Rubbers and Overshoes," "Cheap Shoe Store." They will be sure to attract attention, having a Bayeur inside the shop and bayeurs outside. The signs are a credit to both the artist and his patron. Success to them both.

Bargains in Boots and Shoes.

Mr. J. T. Stenson has purchased the stock of the late firm of Stenson Bros. at a great reduction, and will open the shop for business to-morrow. This stock will at once be run off at prices which involve great bargains. 1d

Home Commendation.

Miss Phelps, Honor Graduate of National School of Oratory and Elocution, Philadelphia, and class representative of the Academy of Music, will deliver her popular lecture on "The Modern Sphynx", in the Baptist church on Thursday evening next. Speaking of Miss Phelps the St. Catherines Star says: "We have a right to be proud of Miss Phelps. She has recently appeared before large audiences in Quebec and Montreal and several Ontario towns in the front rank. At the recent W. C. T. U. Convention she filled an evening, giving her wonderful address 'The Modern Sphinx' which is characterized by many competent critics as the finest address on 'Lizzies' they ever heard."

All Aboard!

Navigation opens to-night (Mch 19th). The staunch ship, "Ladies Aid" of the Charlotte St. Navigation Company's Line will sail from the market square slip, Opera House wharf, to-night, at six o'clock. For tickets or berths apply to the Co'y's agents, A. L. Davis & Co, or to the purser on board. Fare, first cabin, only 25 cents. Meals 10 cts. extra.

Just Enough to be Good.

The play of "Daniel Boone" is picturesque and realistic, and gives an accurate delineation of the pioneer's life in the early days. There are many thrilling situations, and not too much blood-letting and scalp-taking, which generally glut and spoil plays of this nature. Dashes of humor brighten up the action at judicious intervals. The scenery is all that could be desired, and taking altogether it may be said that the show is the best on the road. John L. Ungerer gives us, as "Blackfish," as fierce and ferocious looking savage as one would wish to keep a safe distance from in the wild west. Little Lottie, the child actress, was indeed a "wild rose-bud," whose opening petals just suggest the beauties that will expand and mature with time. J. H. Griffin as "Sol Butternut," an old-fashioned Kentucky nig, and Miss Ray Evelith as "Sallie Bush," full of pluck and fun, kept the ball of merriment rolling.—*Williamsport (Pa.) The Deuro Gas Well.

Mr. Forsyth's Douro gas well still keeps up its flow and a steady blaze is emitted from the single pipe in the well. Mr. Forsyth is in communication with a Pennsylvania firm to sink a well for him next summer. He has the opinion of experts that a few hundred feet of drilling would discover either oil or a much larger supply of gas.

Coming to Peterborough.

Says the Galt Reformer:—"Messrs. Scott & Hogg, of this town, have purchased the interest of Mr. Marshall in the Peterborough egg business, and Mr. Wm. Scott purposes going east to assist his cousin, who is the other partner, in the management when the seasons opens.

A Deaf Mute.

Mr. George Tait, a deaf mute, is in town, selling a book as a means of getting a livelihood. He is an intelligent person, and worthy of confidence, as the references he carries testify. He is a native of Caithnesshire, Scotland, and has been in Canada 38 years. He has a wife and family in Halifax, where his home is, all of whom are blessed with the gift of speech. Scotchmen especially should extend him a cordial reception.

Wrecking a Brothel.

A house in the north end that does not bear an enviable reputation, was badly wrecked Saturday night by a number of drunken hoodlums. Windows and doors were smashed in, pistol shots fired and the air made blue with blasphemy and foul-mouthed oaths. The matter will be investigated before the police magistrate, though it is said the police have got hold of the wrong parties.

Satire and Ridicule.

Eli Perkins shows in his lecture that satire is error exaggerated, as Cervantes exaggerated the errors of Don Quixotte. Satire is to kill error as Cervantes killed the error of knight errantry. Strong arguments could not hurt the curse of knight errantry. Satire actually destroyed the error.

While satire kills error, ridicule harms truth. Satire is to exaggerate error and make people laugh at it; ridicule is to exaggerate truth and make people laugh at it. Ingersol uses ridicule to harm truth, while the conscientious humorist like Cervantes uses satire to destroy error.

Mr. Perkins in his lecture illustrated both satire and ridicule, and, while the audience is screaming with laughter it is also learning valuable lessons in rhetoric and logic that can not be learned out of books. He gives original and practical theories which can be used every day by the writer or speaker, by the teacher, lecturer or clergyman.

Eli Perkins holds forth at the Opera House Friday evening, March 23rd.

PRESENTATION.—On Friday the 9th inst. a supper was held in Union Temple among the members, and Mr. Jas. McEwan, sr., who is about removing to the North West, was presented with the old Lodge Deputy's Regalia. I think remaining members of the family should have received a white regalia each.

SALE.—Mr. Neil McDonald's sale takes place on Tuesday the 22nd inst. This sale should be largely attended as the stock and implements are all first class.

Mr William Pullyblank paid us a visit and was storm-stead for three or four days, but as "Billy" is a "jolly good fellow" we did not get tired of him.

Mr. John Doube is rapidly recovering from the effects of a cancer and is now able to be about again.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark of Seymour, are visiting friends in this neighborhood at present.

The roads are at present worse than they have been any time this winter.

There is some likelihood that we will have some rare sport before long, as one of our butlers is up on his muscle.

Mr. Robert Werr has purchased the farm belonging to Mr. Jas. McEwan and his son Mr. William Weir will soon take possession.

Miss Lizzie McEwan was presented with a handsome chain and locket by her schoolmates.

Serious Fire in Lindsay.

A Block Destroyed by Fire Early This Morning—All Losses Covered by Insurance.

LINDSAY, March 19.—A serious fire occurred here this morning about five o'clock, destroying a three story brick building on the corner of Kent and William streets, owned by W. McDonnel. The fire started in the cellar of the store occupied by R. Killaby, grocer. The corner store was occupied by McCrimmon Bros. as a dry goods store, whose stock was largely removed. The stock of R. Killaby was entirely destroyed. The building was completely gutted and the walls are very badly injured. The front wall was pulled down, being thought dangerous to the public. The insurance on Killaby's stock is $1,500 in "Hartford"—total loss. McCrimmon Bros. had $2,000 in the London Assurance, $2,400 in Royal Canadian, $3,000 in British American and $2,600 in Mercantile—partial loss. The building was insured in the Liverpool, London and Globe for $2,500; Western, $1,500; Northern, $1,600—partial loss.

Obituary.

An Honored Citizen Passes Away—Death of Mr. Nathaniel Shaw.

On Monday morning about 6 o'clock Mr. Nathaniel Shaw, Charlotte street, passed away. His health has been failing for some time past, a recent attack of serious hæmorrhage from the nose greatly weakening him. On Tuesday he was attacked with a severe cold which settled on his lungs, and on Saturday the trouble became grave and Mr. Shaw took to his bed from which he never rose. The deceased gentleman was nearly seventy years of age. He was a native of New York State, having been born near Glen's Falls, Lake George. About thirty-five years ago Mr. Shaw came to Peterborough for the purpose of building the "Red Mills." He concluded, after the completion of the work, to remain in this country. He subsequently did a large amount of millwright work, and had a very high reputation in this respect. He built and conducted for a time the Lakefield mills, and conducted the Beckhorn mills with great success, turning out the best lumber ever produced in the district. Owing to no fault of his own, either in the way of business capacity or square dealing, about fifteen years since he failed in business, and was stripped of his possessions. He met the crisis bravely and honorably, discharging every obligation he was able to do. He had the well deserved reputation of being a square dealing, honest man, a sure friend, a kind and obliging neighbor, and, in all respects, an honored citizen worthy of the high respect in which he was held. In recent years he has done considerable millwright work. He was a born mechanic, and any mechanical difficulty which was beyond the ability of Mr. Shaw was held to be impossible. Hundreds in the country will hear with deep regret of Mr. Shaw's decease. The funeral takes place on Tuesday from the late residence, Charlotte street, to the Little Lake Cemetery at 3 o'clock p.m.

Thomas Mather, Sr.

Thomas Mather, sr., died at his home at Mathers' Corners, Otonabee, on Friday last, at the age of 71 years, and was buried on Monday at Keene cemetery.

Deceased was born in the county of Northumberland, England, in the year 1816, and came to Canada in '32, settling in this county. In 1837 he took part in the rebellion, afterwards locating in Otonabee on the spot where he afterwards lived until his death, and which was named in his honor "Mather's Corners." Here he carried on the wagonmaking business until the year 1874, when he retired in favor of his sons.

In early life he married a Miss Morgan, and seven children blessed their union, five of whom are still living. The two sons, W. T. and Samuel, conduct the business at the Corners; all the daughters are married, viz, Mrs. Comrie and Mrs. Cruickshank, who reside near the homestead, and Mrs. Diston, of Bowmanville. He was married a second time, to Mrs. Cruickshank.

Deceased was one of the most thoroughly known and highly respected residents of the township. He was esteemed for his honest and upright life, his consistent character and his kind charity always ready to practically exemplify itself. He was a devout member of the Presbyterian church, and took a prominent part in church work.

Police Court.

MONDAY, March 19.

There was a "full house" of the "great unwashed" at this morning's session. The first item on the bill-of-fare was a light appetiser in the shape of Scott Act—cases, not moxie. Wm. Hoffman was charged with a first offence, but as he was not present to plead, the case was proven by the Crown and a fine of $50 and costs or 2 months' imprisonment imposed. In the cases of M. Halpin and G. G. Pope, who pleaded guilty to second offences, the magistrate dealt out summary justice (though winter still lingers painfully along in the lap of spring) by administering two fines of $100 and costs.

The second course consisted of dog, and proved a costly dish to the defendant. Thirty dollars for a dog is a pretty high price. The defendant, Fred Davidson, a couple of weeks ago shot a valuable hound owned by Mr. G. W. Fitzgerald, a neighbor, the said dog having been "poking his nose about the kitchen" of the said defendant's house. The magistrate did not consider that the dog had committed any unwarranted breach of propriety in poking his nose as aforesaid, and fined Mr. Davidson $10, allowing the plaintiff $20 for compensation.

Curling.

Mr. Sam. Ray is the winner of the cup in the 13-point game this year. He defeated Mr. J. Stanger, the final remaining competitor, this morning, by a score of 13 to 5.

The Lindsay Juniors are expected down to-morrow.

Bobcaygeon Independent:—"A faint rumor has come floating up from Peterborough, that the curlers who visited here last week, thought they scarcely received the attention which was proper on the occasion. It is possible that there is just a shade of truth in this, though whatever was deficient in the warmth of the reception of those gentlemen, was quite unintentional. An unfortunate combination of circumstances occurred to the disadvantage of the local Club. Several of the leading members were not at home; and at the last moment one of the foreign skips was called away, which disorganised the rink; some of the players were ill, and others had illness in their families, which prevented their staying out after the conclusion of the game. Consequently the weight of the duties fell upon the Vice-President and though he did what he could to make things agreeable, possibly there was not that warmth of hospitality, and general good fellowship which the Club would have wished displayed to the gentlemen of Peterborough."

News Nuggets

—The annual meeting of the cricket club will be held to-night.

—The winter wheat is still, except in a few exposed positions, covered with snow.

—The days grow longer for everybody else but the ox fattening in his stall for Easter beef.

—The town council meets to-night. The appointment of a policeman will be discussed.

—The fine weather on Sunday proved itself a drawing attraction—by drawing out large congregations to the churches.

—Mrs. W. Daly will sing at the Gospel Temperance meeting in the W.C.T.U. Hall Sunday afternoon.

—Mr. C. Sedgwick, of Snowdon, a prominent Orangeman, died and was buried with society honors at Minden last week.

—Mr. R. M. Roy shows an excellent photograph of the Peterborough Gun Club, taken Friday. It is in the window of Sabofield's drug store.

—Inspector Pope is respectfully informed that the people would esteem it a favor if he could have the ice on the crossings cut away. The sidewalks are pretty dry and but for the crossings rubbers could be laid aside.

Church Chimes.

Rev. T. Bone, missionary among the sailors on the Welland canal, addressed the congregations of the Charlotte street and St. Paul's churches Sunday morning and evening, and the George street Sunday School in the afternoon. He also visited the gaol in the early morning, and the Protestant Home just after dinner, delivering addresses at both places. This evening he will address a meeting of the Y.P.A. in the George street church. To-morrow evening a public missionary meeting will be held in the George street church.

Rev. I. Tovell at Sunday night's services in the Charlotte street church, presented one side of the picture of "Two Women Contrasted," taking as his model of womanly grace the beautiful Queen Esther. Next Sunday night an opposite character will be presented. After the sermon a reception service was held, and eleven new members were introduced to the congregation.

Rev. Mr. Stadoff, a native Bulgarian missionary, will address a meeting in the George street church Thursday evening in behalf of the Bulgarian Missionary work.

Personal.

James Craig, for the last three or four years a compositor on the Toronto World, died at the residence of R. G. Stewart in that city at 8 o'clock Friday night. Mr. Craig was about 43 years of age and unmarried. The World says the deceased was of a quiet, gentle nature, and all who knew him will regret his untimely end. Mr. Craig is an old Peterborough boy. He learned his trade here and worked in both the Review and EXAMINER offices.

Miss Minnie Bell, eldest daughter of Mr. T. E. Bell, Smith, left this (Monday) morning for Gage County, Nebraska, where she goes to keep house for her youngest unmarried brother, who is prospering in the far West. She will be accompanied on part of her journey by Mr. "Sandy" Cochrane, who is en route to California. May both these young people be pleased with their new homes.

Mr. James McEwan, of Smith, and family leave to-morrow for Brandon. They have taken up land in the Souris district about 35 miles from Brandon, near Plum Creek. Mr. McEwan has resided in Smith since 1833. His many friends in this locality trust that the balance of his days may be happily spent in his new home.

Annual Meeting of the Peterborough Gun Club.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Gun Club was held at Riverside Park Friday afternoon. There were present Judge Weller, President; H. W. Kent, Secretary; and Messrs. H. Calcutt, J. D. Collins, R. Tivey, H. Neil, R. M. Roy, L. Kent, Chas. and Clare Calcutt.

The Secretary's report showed a small surplus in the treasury and a good membership. Members were urged to take more interest in the sport and to attend the shoots more regularly. The score sheet showed last year's average to have been equal to that of Toronto club. The officers were elected as follows:

PRESIDENT—Judge Weller (re-elected).
VICE-PRESIDENT—H. Calcutt.
CAPTAIN—R. Tivey.
SEC-TREAS.—H. W. Kent (re-elected).

The beginning of the calendar year for shooting was changed from October to March 1st. The club will meet this season, as before, every Friday afternoon at Riverside Park at four o'clock for practice. Votes of thanks were also passed to the press for their kindness in publishing reports of the meetings.

A practice match was then held resulting as follows:—

R. Tivey	0	1	1	1	1	0	1	1	1	1—8
H. Calcutt	1	1	0	1	0	1	1	1	1	1—8
Judge Weller	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	1	0	1—9
H. Neil	0	1	0	1	0	1	1	0	1	0—5
H. W. Kent	0	0	0	0	1	1	1	1	1	0—5

The Dominion Bell ORGANS.

WE wish to call your attention to the benefit derived from the

New Automatic Pedal Cover ATTACHMENT,

that has lately been added to the above Organs. This improvement has been a long felt necessity, and one which, when once heard, cannot fail to be universally appreciated, and the only safe and perfect plan that will be adopted of covering the PEDALS and BOTTOM of our Organs. This attachment has been throughout (with the exception of the Covers) having no cords, springs, or pulleys connected to get out of order or require winding works AUTOMATICALLY with the Full Board of the Organ. The one simple act of opening or closing the Organ, simultaneously operates the Pedal Covers.

This improvement has been placed on all the different styles of Organs, and the aim is now, as in the past, to produce an instrument that HAS NO EQUAL.

All information and inquiries cheerfully answered. Catalogues sent free upon application. Examine the Mason and Hoad Proof Organ before purchasing, and be satisfied that you have the best in the World.

A SEVEN HOURS' SESSION.

THE LEGISLATURE DOES ROUTINE BUSINESS UP TILL 12 O'CLOCK.

The Railway Policy Will not be Opened This Session—A Debate on French Shore—A Pretty Little "Tiff" Between Hon. Hardy and Mr. Harcourt.

TORONTO, March 20.

The Legislature met again hours yesterday, going into session at 3 o'clock and, excepting a two hours' recess, continuing business till midnight. The actual business done did not amount to much. The greater part of the afternoon was spent in discussing minor points in the Manhood Suffrage Bill, and the enemy's debates were chiefly based on motions which were withdrawn.

At the close of the session the Attorney-General, in reply to Mr. Meredith, announced that it was not the intention of the Government to open up the railway policy during the session.

Mr. Harcourt's motion, that a select committee be appointed to inquire into the present condition of the jails in this Province, their management and the classification and treatment of prisoners, with power to send for persons, papers and records, was withdrawn. In withdrawing the motion, Mr. Harcourt said he wished to bring the subject before the Government. He spoke of the distressing fact that 470 prisoners were committed to the common jails in Ontario last year whose only crime was lunacy or idiocy. He described the condition of the jail system and the absolute need there was of provision being made for the proper classification of prisoners. In many cases, owing to want of proper accommodation, boys or girls of an impressionable age committed to jail were compelled to associate with hardened criminals. Under such circumstances these young persons were educated to be criminals. Instead of the jails being corrective they were absolutely imitating in a great degree. He hoped next session to submit some measure to cope with the evil. He hoped the able Provincial Secretary would consent to preside over a committee to collect statistics and collate them and present the conclusions to the House.

Hon. Provincial Secretary Hardy intimated that the appointment of a committee such as Mr. Harcourt was quite possible, but of the result of the work to be done by the committee he had grave doubts. It would involve the complete change in the internal economy of the jail system. Though some ills existed, he did not think they were as great as to warrant such strong language as the hon. gentleman used. He admitted and deplored the fact that the classification was not carried out to a satisfactory degree, but at the same time it would not be prudent for the Government to secure the county councils into the expenditure of large amounts of money which they were unwilling to expend. If his hon. friend could make out a case in favor of his scheme he would be glad to co-operate with him.

Mr. Meredith gave circumstances in connection with the evils of the present jail system and agreed with the hon. member from Monck that the jail system was largely imitating instead of corrective; and while recognizing the difficulty of reforming the system it very desirable to amend it.

Mr. Wood (Hastings) contended for a more rigid discipline in the jails. He was willing to deal humanely, but when people committed crimes they should be compelled to work and give back in that way something to the people. An officer in the Central Prison whom he saw the other day agreed with him that the present discipline was altogether too soft and fine.

The Attorney-General said during his remarks that "it is a monstrous thing that innocent persons or comparatively innocent persons are compelled to herd with hardened criminals."

Mr. Harcourt said he did not think he used too strong language, agreeing to considerable length that he did not.

Hon. Mr. Hardy turned around against the hon. member for Monck charging him with reflecting—[Mr. Meredith: "Order, order." Mr. Hardy turned to the Speaker.]—on the management of facts which was in his hands, and which he was responsible for.

Mr. Harcourt disclaimed anything of the kind.

The motion was withdrawn.

Around the Lobbies.

The Special Committee on Mortgages yesterday considered several bills. They passed Mr. Gibson's amendment on the Division Court Act, the bill amending the Executors Act and that to amend the act securing wives and children the benefits of life insurances.

The Municipal Committee discussed the Nairn bill respecting hire receipts and decided to give it a recess postponement. Mr. Freeman's bill to prevent seed grain frauds was also laid over. Mr. Freeman has of late received several letters commending the bill. The object in postponing it is to circulate it among voters to see if more trouble can be dealt with by the same instrument. There is no especial need for the bill now, as the farmers throughout the country are pretty well posted about the seed grain sharks.

John McLay, ex-Registrar of Bruce, has circulated a leaflet among the members, which shows correspondence between the Attorney-General and himself. Mr. McLay was removed from the office on the finding of a commission. He objected to the findings, claiming that it had no foundation or the evidence submitted. He asked for a committee to be appointed by the Government to examine into the report of the commission, but the Attorney-General declined to consent to the committee being appointed. He now says the Government is afraid of exposure and that he is innocent of the charges brought against him.

When the debate on the jail systems was before the House Mr. Harcourt and Hon. Mr. Hardy came to an interesting little difference. Mr. Harcourt spoke of the need of prison reform. The prisoners being under the jurisdiction of the Hon. Hardy, he resented the speech as a reflection on his department. He proceeded to chastise the followers and when the member from Monck replied the Little Thunder put on his war paint. Mr. Harcourt was quite calm in affirming the position he took in the first place.

On motion of Hon. Mr. Hardy, the members absent from the House through sickness, Hon. Mr. Pardee, Mr. Hilliard and Mr. Bigar, were voted the full sessional allowance, also Messrs. Clarke and Whitney, who have been elected during the session.

ANOTHER CONFERENCE.

The Manitoba Ministers and Sir John Discuss the Basis of a Settlement.

OTTAWA, March 19.—Premier Greenway and Attorney-General Martin had another conference with Sir John to-day and further discussed the basis of a settlement of the rail way monopoly. A member of Parliament, supposed to be in the confidence of the Government and an authority on North west matters, said to a reporter to-day:

"You can tell the people of Toronto that the stories which have gained currency resembling the millions that the Government have agreed to pour into the already well-filled coffers of the Canadian Pacific Railway are absolutely delusive. You can also take my word for it that no lump sum compensation will be agreed to. Of course the company will require a quid pro quo, and if you were to state that they will probably find it in an increased subsidy to a fast line of steamships between Quebec and Liverpool; in a rearrangement of their land policy, and in the abandonment of that part of their line between Port Arthur and Winnipeg, you might not be very far astray. You can rest assured that the Government are not holding back the subsidy granted just for the sake of amusement."

From enquiries I have made in reliable quarters there appears to be a good deal of foundation for the statement, and while this may not be the scheme in extenso, it is thought that three three items will form a prominent feature of the bill of fare.

Whatever the result of the conference was to-day it has not yet had the effect of brightening up Mr. Greenway's set countenance. The negotiations will be continued to-morrow, and it is thought that a final settlement will be reached before the close of the week.

A committee was created this evening when it was learned at a late hour that Premier Greenway and Mr. Martin had packed up their traps, paid their hotel bills and left for home. The move was not anticipated, and their minds had evidently not been made up to take this step until a short time before the train left. They refused to discuss the situation, even with their friends, simply stating that they were displeased with unnecessary delays in conducting the negotiations.

Sir George Stephen arrived to-night, and will have a conference with the Government to-morrow.

WITH CLOSED DOORS.

The Senate's Secret Session—Mr. Speaker Condemned to the Rocks.

OTTAWA, March 19.—The Red Chamber, after a lull of a few days, once more presented an animated appearance to-day. The opening proceedings were conducted with closed doors, not even the reporters being allowed to enter within the sacred precincts. It was ascertained, however, that when the matured wisdom had foregathered, Clerk Langevin read a commission from His Excellency the Governor-General appointing Hon. G. W. Allan as the Speaker of the Upper body. Then, in a dignified and stately way, Hon. Messrs. Abbott and Smith seized that gentleman by either arm and conducted him to the chair. Mr. Speaker having been solemnly seated it was deemed safe to throw open the portals to the general public.

RECIPROCITY DEBATE.

AN AMENDMENT MOVED BY MR. JONES OF HALIFAX.

Trade Inflated at the Expense of the Taxpayers—The United States the Natural Market of the People of the Dominion—The Debate Adjourned.

OTTAWA, March 19.—The debate on Sir Richard's motion was resumed in the Commons to-day by Mr. McNeil, who said that the resentment of the United States against Canada, shown by their refusal to enter into free commercial relations with Canada, came from the sympathy shown by us with the South in the Revolutionary war, and also in part with a view to coerce us into annexation. In the latter view the States were encouraged by the Opposition.

Sir Richard Cartwright had said the people of Canada were under an obligation to Britain, but this Mr. McNeill contradicted, and eloquently depicted Canada's position as child and member of the British family. The Opposition had disclaimed any idea of Annexation sentiment, but the proposition now made by them would most certainly lead to that and prove the truth of the assertion that the States had been trying to coerce into Annexation. Canadians, however, would not sympathize with this movement, as they well understood themselves to be better off as a part of the British Empire. They look on the movement with suspicion because they see that the United States by Commercial Union are simply making an attempt to obtain control and mastery.

Mr. Jones, of Halifax, said that the policy of Unrestricted Reciprocity would be advantageous to the States and he did not think they would object to tearing down the wall now dividing us. The argument had been advanced that this policy meant direct taxation, and he was well aware that the party advocating that would be defeated at the polls, though he believed it would be the cheaper plan. Trade was being forced at present, he asserted, at very large expense, which the taxpayers were forced to pay. Our natural trade, he said, is with the States.

After recess Mr. Jones continued speaking for over an hour and moved this amendment:

That in any arrangement between Canada and the United States providing for the free importation into each country of the natural and manufactured productions of the other, it is highly desirable that it should be provided that during the continuance of any such arrangement the coasting trade of Canada and of the United States should be thrown open to the vessels of both countries on a footing of complete reciprocal equality, and that vessels of all kinds built in the United States or Canada may be owned and sailed by the citizens of the other, and be entitled to registry in either country and to all the benefits thereto pertaining.

Mr. C. H. Tupper replied to the statements made by Mr. Jones. He said that the Liberal party could not go behind their record.

He read extracts from The Globe and from reported speeches of Mr. Jones in the Chamber of Commerce at Halifax, showing how inconsistent the position now taken is with that taken a year ago. They had then wanted reciprocity on fair terms to both countries, but now, after election, they again find themselves in opposition and are in such great straits for a policy that they take up this Commercial Union plank. It had been vainly sought to show that there was an inconsistency between Reciprocity on the old lines and the National Policy.

Mr. Jones, who had to-night drawn such a poor picture of the farmers in the Maritime Provinces, was at that time maintaining that the farmers were not so badly off, but that it was the mortgage-ridden farmers of Ontario who were suffering.

Mr. Rinfret will continue the debate to-morrow.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

The Casting Vote on Reciprocity—Public Libraries Want the Duties on Their Books Abolished.

OTTAWA, March 19.—Commissioner Herchmer of the Northwest Mounted Police, arrived to-day. He has come to urge certain improvements in the force.

General Manager Van Horne of the C.P.R. is expected here to-day, when, it is understood, negotiations with reference to the settlement of the disallowance question will reach a focus. Sir John Macdonald said yesterday that the question had not been settled, but he hoped it would be to-day or to-morrow. Manitoba's delegates are becoming impatient again and will probably leave for home on Wednesday.

The book deputation, consisting of A. R. Boswell, Judge McDougall, E. A. Pearson, James Bain, John Hallam, Toronto; Sheriff Dawson, St. Catharines; W. Watt, jr., Brantford, and James Innes, M.P., Guelph, were introduced to-day by Mr. Cockburn, M.P., to the Minister of Customs and urged the Government to abolish the duty on books for public libraries. John Hallam went further and thought the duty on all books should be taken off. Minister Boswell said he would lay the matter before his colleagues.

The appointment of Hon. Mr. Allen as Speaker of the Senate gives general satisfaction.

THE KAISER'S MESSAGE.

THE ROYAL PROCLAMATION READ IN THE LANDTAG.

The Welfare and Happiness of the Fatherland Will be His Sole Aim—The Observance of the Constitution Will be Conscientiously Adhered to.

BERLIN, March 19.—The Royal message was read in the Prussian Landtag to-day. It is countersigned by all the Ministers. It says:

"We, Frederick, by the Grace of God King of Prussia, hereby proclaim and make known that in having pleased God after the demise of the Emperor, King William, our much beloved father, to call us to the throne of our ancestors we herewith send to the Landtag our greeting. The sentiments and purposes with which we enter upon our Government and the principles on which we would exercise our royal office have been proclaimed by us to our faithful people. Walking in the paths of our glorious father we shall know no other aim than the happiness and welfare of the fatherland by conscientiously observing the constitution, fully safeguarding all the prerogatives of the Crown and loyally co-operating with the national representation. The King hopes with God's help to attain his object, which is the happiness and welfare of the country. The condition of his health prevents him from taking the oath personally. Desiring to declare without delay his position regarding the constitutional laws, although this could admit of no doubt, he now solemnly undertakes to adhere to the constitution firmly and inviolably and to rule in conformity with the laws."

The Impending Monarch.

BERLIN, March 19.—There is now no doubt that the rumor of the relapse of Emperor Frederick was absolutely true. Extraordinary efforts to prevent the real state of things from being known are now taken, but to-day the secret is out. The correspondents of the London dailies, who came here with six or seven newspaper agents, princes of high and low degree, and many others to whom the health of the Emperor is of great importance, have suddenly decided not to leave to-day, according to previous arrangements, and are waiting anxiously and uneasily for further news.

The utmost pressure was brought to bear on Prince Bismarck to-day, but he would not pronounce the Emperor's condition better. He said, for publication: "His Majesty's condition was about what might have been expected if the physicians expected a relapse of a serious nature after the funeral." This is not encouraging.

Dr. Mackenzie was seen to-day after two ineffectual efforts by a professional colleague of his, who has come on from London. Dr. Mackenzie is looking pale and fagged. It is known that the Emperor only slept one hour on Friday night, and that his rest was broken and unsatisfactory last night. Dr. Mackenzie reported that he was under Imperial orders to refuse all information. He wishes to know, however, that he has never predicted the recovery of the Emperor. The desperate situation of affairs may be gathered from the fact that to-day the Government, which means the Iron Chancellor, ordered that Dr. Mackenzie should have a special guard of soldiers to protect him from the alleged furious onslaughts of the friends of the German doctors, who are jealous of him. The meaning of this is said, by men who are well informed, to be that Dr. Mackenzie is to be guarded so that he cannot give any information to the public. No known journalist is permitted even to send a card to him since the guard was established. If Dr. Mackenzie is quoted by the average correspondent now it may be set down as a fabrication. Even his mail is under the eyes of men who are trying to calm the public excitement.

The Prince of Wales left to-night for London. He was going to Vienna, but he decided at the last moment to go to London. I was at the station when he left on the 9.44 train to-night. The Crown Prince of Germany saw him off. The Crown Prince of Germany seized the heir to the British throne in his arms and they kissed each other on both cheeks, and then Prince Albert Victor and the Crown Prince of Germany kissed each other softly, and the ceremony of kissing was repeated with the Duke of Cambridge. Before the train started the Prince of Wales rushed back and held an excited conversation in whispers with Germany's next emperor. Both princes were greatly excited. It had a great effect. The people rushed away, talking wildly.

The Extent of the Dominion.

When reporting Mr. Clinton's paper read before the Farmers' Institute, we were unable to give his interesting description of the magnitude of the Dominion and the new route to the east. Mr. Clinton said—Canada is larger than the whole of the United States, if we have not Alaska, bought some years ago by the Americans from Russia, and nearly as large as the whole of Europe, with its teeming millions of people. The area of the Dominion is 3,500,000 square miles, while the area of the United States is 3,026,000 square miles, so that we are nearly 500,000 square miles larger than the United States. We cannot grasp the meaning of these figures or the territories they represent. We know that one square mile contains 640 acres.

You can take the cars at the C.P.R. station in Peterborough and ride to Vancouver, British Columbia,—2,900 miles—the terminus of the Canadian Pacific Railway. At Vancouver you can take the steamship for Yokohama, Japan, and Hong Kong, China, and if you wish to continue your journey this way be finished you can go the whole distance by water, via the Suez Canal in Egypt. The distance from Vancouver to Yokohama is 4,374 miles, and from Vancouver to Hong Kong 5,536 miles. This will also be the New Route from Liverpool (via Vancouver) to Australia. Distance from Liverpool to Sidney, Australia, is 12,462 miles. These are both Imperial miles.

From Vancouver you are constantly over the vast Pacific Ocean towards the setting sun. Every day the sun rises later and later upon you, and every day at twelve o'clock you put your watch back (according to the distance you have travelled during the last twenty-four hours, until you come to the 180th meridian, which is about half way between Vancouver and Hong Kong. At this meridian you are twelve hours behind England. When it is morning there it is midnight in England. In crossing the 180th meridian you lose a whole day. If you were there to-day (Wednesday) you would have no Thursday, to-morrow would be Friday. Having left one side of the map of the world (according to Mercator's projection) you enter upon the other half when you would be twelve hours ahead of England. Yesterday you would be sailing west from England and to-day, without changing your course, you would be sailing east towards England to the rising sun. The Celestials call their country "The Land of the Rising Sun." Every day the sun would rise earlier upon you, and you would have to put your watch forward every day at twelve o'clock. This is all a little bewildering to the brain, but I will not detain you by giving further explanations. The distance from Liverpool to Hong Kong (via Halifax and Vancouver) is 11,004 miles, and the distance from Liverpool to Hong Kong (via New York and San Francisco) is 12,679 miles; difference in favor of Canadian route 1768 miles. Coming back again to Vancouver you take the Pullman car to Halifax, Nova Scotia, 3760 miles, having as good accommodation and meals on the cars as you could get at a first class hotel. At Halifax you take the steamer for England, if you wished to go that way." Mr. Clinton continued: "On the Atlantic we have over 3500 miles unparalleled fishing coasts, and on the Pacific and inland seas 3000 miles of most excellent fishing coasts—in all over 6500 miles. Should we not do all in our power to advance the interests of this great heritage?

Insurance Notes.

The general managers and chief agents of the life insurance companies doing business in Canada have recently formed a "Life Underwriters' Association of Canada," with Mr. J. K. Macdonald, the managing director of the "Confederation Life," as president. An executive committee was appointed to prepare a constitution and by-laws for the government of the Association, and to report at a special general meeting, to be held on the 23rd inst. One of the effects of the Association will be, it is claimed, to do away with the rebate nuisance which has, it is felt, become a crying shame for the insurance; this will be greatly in the interests of the companies. Slaughtering rival companies will receive a quietus. Such an organization as this has long been felt to be an absolute necessity in the interests of life insurance in Canada. The respectable agents will, it is believed, be properly protected and encouraged.

The English and Scottish Law Life Insurance Company, which has recently opened a Canadian branch, has appointed Mr. B. Hal. Brown, late inspector for the London and Lancashire Life and well known in Peterborough, as their general manager for Canada. This office, which was established in 1839, has a capital of six millions, and with such a shrewd, energetic manager, will be a strong competitor for public favor in Canada.

According to the American Miller, Chicago, the number of flour mills in Ontario increased last year from [illegible] in the United States was 238, total for Ontario and the United States 394.

The King of Siam is a believer in Life Insurance. He is said to have made proposals to a British Life office to insure his life for £100,000.

The new assurances written by Life Companies in the U. S. last year amounted to [illegible]

...ere $600,000,000, while over $70,000,000 were returned to policy-holders and their heirs. At the close of the year there were [illegible] policies in force, insuring about $1,000,000,000.

The Toronto Globe was recently positively vindicated at Baltimore, by the summary discharge of two prominent life insurance officials, the defendants in the suits against the Canada Life and Equitable, of Baltimore, Life Underwriters' Association. This will be gratifying to the way certain heads will be taken off by the Ontario Association after a while.

The New Commercial Association have refused Montreal to the entire relief or petition of a counter-move by electing it in "C." This was what Peterborough used to be classed. The advocates of the place in the Association have taken pains in showing during the past year or more and to prevent Montreal only getting preliminary refusal to take any objection given to improve the conditions of the life business. The committee [illegible] rate from $1.20 to $1.00 for [illegible] this renewal for the past 9 or 10 years.

CENTRAL BANK ITEMS.

[illegible] the settlement of the list of Contributories.

Toronto, March 20.

Mr. Foster, Q.C., and the liquidators appeared yesterday morning before the Master-in-Ordinary in Chancery Hall and filed the necessary affidavits to procure adjudication upon the claims proper to be allowed without further evidence.

The Master thereupon allowed the claims. They were set out in the first part of Schedules A and B and amounted to over a million dollars.

The parties to those claimed in the second part have been notified to attend and prove their claims, as the liquidators think these claims should not be admitted without further evidence.

The list of contributories will be settled on April 9. Notice will be given to each party concerned, and those objecting to have their names struck off the list will be required to file their objections with the liquidators on or before April 16.

To-day a motion will come before the Judge in the Chancery Court to set aside three writs of capias issued against Mr. Wm. Wettenhall, an extensive debtor to the bank. The matter will be contested and argued, and in the meantime the debtor's examination is postponed. The effect of these capiases is virtually to keep Mr. Van Wormer under arrest as he is subjected to a day and night surveillance at the Grand Pacific Hotel.

"Eight ordinary cases of set-off were disposed of by the Master yesterday. It is of consequence to such claimants to know that such cases may be disposed of at any time on the parties giving the liquidators a day's notice.

Until all claims of set-off are decided the liquidators cannot give the required notice for the payment of the first dividend of 25 cents on the dollar.

DEATH OF THE "BARLEY KING."

The Senior Partner in W. D. Matthews & Co. Passes Away.

Toronto, March 20.

Mr. Wheeler Douglas Mathews, senior partner in the grain and commission house of W. D. Matthews & Co., died at 6 o'clock yesterday morning at Leroy, N.Y. The deceased was one of the best known grain men in the country, and from his large deals in barley was well known among the farmers as the "Barley King." Mr. Mathews was 67 years old. He was born in the village of Barford, near Paris, his father owning a mill there. About thirty-five years ago he came to Toronto, starting business under the name of Mathews & McLean, in the old Corn Exchange building, 16 Front-street east, a structure long since torn down. He was one of the charter members of the Board of Trade, and an ex-president of the Corn Exchange. At the time of his death he was an honorary member of St. Andrew's Lodge, A.F. and A.M.G.R.C. He was also a director in a number of financial institutions.

In politics he was an ardent Reformer, and in religion a Methodist, having been for a long time closely identified with the Elm-street Methodist Church. He had been ailing for some months past, and last January he lost his youngest daughter, Mrs. R. Roberson of Leroy. Her death affected Mr. Mathews keenly. The deceased leaves one son, Mr. W. D. Mathews, President of the Board of Trade, and two daughters, Mrs. R. C. Hamilton, wife of Mr. Hamilton of Love & Hamilton, Toronto, and Mrs. John A. Paterson, wife of the senior partner in Paterson, Kirsock & Co., Montreal. The body will arrive in the city from Leroy to-night, and the funeral will take place from his son's residence, 56 Elm-street, to Mount Pleasant Cemetery on Thursday afternoon.

New York, March 19.—The will of the late Henry Bergh was filed for probate to-day. The testator bequeathes a lot of land with buildings in Warren-street to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The remainder of his property goes to his family. The testator requests his nephew, Henry Bergh, to devote his life to the humane work of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Dandruff to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dyeowend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition, and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

For 20 Years I have been troubled with catarrh—have tried a number of remedies without relief. A druggist here recommended Ely's Cream Balm. I have used [illegible] one bottle and I can say I feel like a new man. My catarrh was chronic and very bad. I spoke this voluntary statement [illegible] others may know of the Balm. [illegible] W. BURGLARS AT HAMILTON.

Serious Accident—Twenty Lashes for a Man—Charged With an Ancient Robbery.

HAMILTON, March 19.—A gang of burglars is operating in this city. Several hotels and stores having been robbed lately. Sunday night [illegible], on York-street, was broken into and twenty pairs of lasted boots and several unfinished shoes, valued at $60, were stolen.—About 2 o'clock Sunday morning a constable found the door of R. O'Brien's cigar factory open. The owner of the place was [illegible] on discovering that he had [illegible] While P. Foley and the members of his family were at church last evening, some person entered the house by opening a back window and stole $15, together with $16 worth of jewelry.

About 11.30 o'clock to-day a widow named Mrs. Ford, who resides on the mountain, was carrying her son [illegible] down to Moulder's cabinet factory, driving [illegible] down the outer footpath that leads along the road of the Jolley cut. She had reached a short distance above the stone fence, where there is no protection, when a [illegible] driving his daughter to the city came [illegible]. Just as the horse got nearly opposite Mrs. Ford he [illegible] at something and forced the poor woman over. The horse, rig and contents also fell over, and after being precipitated about twenty feet the buggy fell on top of Mrs. Ford. The horse, which was not much injured, got up, and the buggy was lifted off Mrs. Ford. The man sustained very little injury, but his daughter was pretty well shaken and received severe injuries. Mrs. Ford had three ribs broken and sustained other injuries.

On Friday last as a little daughter of Mr. D. Wilkins, who lives about a mile and a half east of Ramsgrave, was coming home she was met by a tramp, who caught hold of her and kissed her. The tramp was tried on Saturday and acquitted. The [illegible] on [illegible] stories—thought it [illegible] and [illegible] let such a vagabond go, and he gave him twenty lashes with a wholesome whip.

On April 18, 1887, Lewis Covenor was driving at the corner of Hunter and Cherry streets when he was assaulted and robbed by two men. The [illegible] lot of time in trying to find [illegible] with [illegible] the robbers, but did not make [illegible] Shortly after their suspicions [illegible] were confirmed by the disappearance from the city of the suspected persons. This morning a [illegible] Cathcart was in the Police Court [illegible] being drunk and disorderly on March 30 last. He was one of the persons suspected. Governor was sent for and immediately identified Canary as one of the men who had assaulted him. The prisoner is still in custody, and will be brought up for [illegible] to-day.

Waterloo Spring Assizes.

BERLIN, Ont., March 19.—The Spring Assizes opened here to-day before Mr. Chief Justice Galt with eight jury and three non-jury cases. The criminal calendar is not lengthy, but the charges are serious. Chittenden Pettit and W. T. Pettit for manslaughter, the husband of the former; David Kelley, for criminal assault, and John M. Pierce for forgery.

The actions of W. P. Trowbridge v. Canadian Pacific Railway, and Ontario Mutual v. Ellison et al. were postponed, Denges v. Strickler for seduction was undefended and the jury assessed damages at $300.

The grand jury found a true bill against Kelsey for criminal assault and John K. Pierce for forgery. The judge directed a verdict of not guilty against Kelsey.

A $15,000 Blaze at Lindsay.

LINDSAY, Ont., March 19.—A serious fire occurred here this morning about 5 o'clock, destroying a three-story brick building on the corner of Kent and William streets, owned by Wm. McDonnell. The fire started in the cellar of the store occupied by R. Killaby, grocer. The corner store was occupied by McCrimmon Bros. as a dry goods store, the stock of which was very largely [illegible]. The [illegible] Kelly, formerly destroyed. The building was completely gutted, and the walls are very badly injured. Losses: Killaby $2000, McCrimmon Bros. $9000, McDonnell on building $6000.

The St. C. & L.-S. Road Opened.

LONDON, March 19.—The five prisoners, Alden Weston, 30; George Johnston, 51, and Emanuel Hilchild, 26, described as gentlemen; Thomas Hill, 49, agent, and Herbert Baker, 51, bookmaker, who were indicted for conspiring to defraud Mr. Alexander Brown and others of the sum of $30,000 by uttering forged bonds of the Hamilton and Northwestern Railway Company of Canada, have been found guilty. Previous convictions were admitted by Fairchild and Hill, and the Recorder sentenced each of the prisoners to eighteen months' imprisonment with hard labor.

The Schemers Discharged.

BELLEVILLE, March 19.—The Schultz case, which has been before the public since the last week in February, was disposed of to-day, Wm. Schultz and Louis Schultz, jr., being discharged. Edward Schultz was examined in Cleveland to-day. Stock taking in the Front-street [illegible] is finished, but the value of the assets has not been localled. It will be in the neighborhood of $11,000. A meeting of the creditors will be held here to-morrow.

The Moon's Influence.

Facts Farmers Ought to Know.

Lettuce gives best results when grown in a moist soil and in comparatively cool weather.

The radish will thrive in any good soil, but to be crisp and tender must be grown quickly.

The black walnut tree will cut a figure on our farms in the future. It can be made as profitable as the apple tree in localities where it will thrive at all.

Two new potatoes are the Ohio and the Golden Apple.

In view of the fact that the potato crop was short in many sections last year, and that much of the crop was not well ripened, greater care than usual should be taken with this season's seed potatoes. Try and get some from healthy well matured tubers.

According to a recent announcement the next convention of the American Horticultural society will be held in Texas two years hence.

A POLICEMAN'S HAPPY LOT

Councillors' Opinions of Our Police Force.

The Council of a Town Chief Responsible for Immorality and Neglect of Duty —Other Matters at the Council Meeting.

Mouth the blessed glory of a brand new 2nd coat of arms perched on the canopy over the Mayor's seat, the gift of His Worship to the council, preliminary business was heralded through "with sentences and despatch" at Monday night's council meeting. All the members were present, the spectators filled the benches, and aldermen took an evident interest in the proceedings.

Probably the Mayor's announcement that he had to leave, "sure pop," on the train for Ottawa, that night had something to do with the unusual expedition; but there seemed to be an underground current of feeling among all that there was to be some lively "trimmagging"—and there was. Among the spectators were a number of applicants for positions as constables, interested in the question which was down on the programme; hotelkeepers interested in the license question; and others interested only on general principles and nothing in particular.

PRELIMINARY SKIRMISH.

A small grist of communications and accounts were first disposed of. Mr. George Schneider, landlord of late Constable Pidgeon, who had "lifted" without paying his taxes, threatened to hold Mr. Collector Cummings responsible. There were no less than half a dozen applications for positions on the police force, from John Tremblay, Joseph Hanrahan, Michael Fee, Thos. G. Elliott, jr., Andrew McIlmoyle and Robert Bonisteel. William Wilson and Thos. Connors applied for time to pay their taxes, and Goldsmith English for a refund of dog tax. A large batch of accounts, the majority of them for charity orders, was referred to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Davidson's Finance report recommended payment of all the accounts referred to them at the last meeting. The report was adopted.

Chairman McNeil of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, presented his report as printed in Saturday's EXAMINER, recommending the removal of the hydrant on lower George street by the corner of Water street, and the appointment of "Terry" Smith as town teamster, at a salary of $1,473.00, he to provide 5 horses and 1 man; also that the floor of the fire hall be repaired. The report was adopted.

Chairman Hall, of the Charity Committee, requested expenditure during February as follows:—No. 1 Ward, $66.80; No. 2, $53.95; No. 3, $23.90; No. 4, $32.30; total for month, $166.05—Received.

The Street and Bridge Committee report recommended the adoption of the town engineer's plan for grading the principal streets in town, and the immediate commencement of the work on Reid and Murray streets. The report passed.

Mr. Yelland verbally reported for the License Committee that the petition for a reduction of billiard licenses in the town had not been entertained, and he recommended that they be the same as last year.

THE BATTLE BEGINS.

Chairman Kendry, of the Police Supervision Committee, recommended the appointments of Messrs. C. McGinty, Jos. Stewart and M. Fee at salaries of $450 each; R. H. Adams at a salary of $550; all to supply their own clothing. The report also recommended the appointment of Mr. R. Pope to the position of Building Inspector, in addition to his street Inspectorship, at a salary of $200.

An animated discussion, to say the least of it, followed on this report. Nearly all the councillors took part in the "scrap." On one side were ranged Messrs. Moore, Yelland, Kendry, Hartley and Douglass; on the opposite Messrs. Cahill, McNeil, Langford and Kelly. The others were silent and simply recorded their votes.

Mr. Moore led off by a condemnatory speech against Acting Chief Adams, who he said was ineligible for the position. The force needed a "head" put on it, and such could be had in the person of the late Chief of Port Hope, Mr. Douglass, who, he held, was a first-class man for the position. He moved that Mr. Douglass be offered the position at $750 a year, or in case he declined that the chairman advertise for a competent man.

Mr. Cahill moved in amendment that the report of the committee be adopted, and while not disparaging Chief Douglass at all, mentioned Mr. Adams as a man who had done his duty fairly well, considering the salary he got.

Mr. Yelland asserted that Acting-Chief Adams had not done his duty, as he should have done it regardless of what salary he got—duty was duty.

Mr. McNeil backed up Mr. Cahill, and said he thought Acting-Chief Adams would make just as good a man as Chief Douglass if he was paid a decent salary.

Mr. Kendry hit back by an accusatory speech against the whole police force in general and Acting Chief Adams in particular. The whole force wasn't worth a cent; not one of them had done his duty, and Mr. Adams was not fit for the position.

Mr. Hartley [illegible] a milder way pitched into Acting Chief Adams.

Mr. Langford and Mr. Kelly then came to the rescue of Acting Chief Adams, the former thinking [illegible] council had been [illegible] than they had in police matters, and for Sergeant [illegible] to have a [illegible] the succession thereof, to be understood if Chief Douglass was not an applicant, and, besides, if the vote in Port Hope was in his favor he intended to remain there.

Mr. Kendry "took exception" to this and said he had just received a telegram from Chief Douglass to the effect that he would let him (Mr. Kendry) know to-morrow (Tuesday.)

The battle in the Reeve's Council Chamber [illegible] and Chief Douglass [illegible] around the [illegible] or speech in behalf of their respective men, each "taking exception" to the other's remarks.

Mayor Stevenson concluded with a two-edged speech, calling attention to the fact that the report, if adopted, would not appoint Mr. Adams chief but simply a member of the force at a higher salary. It had been left that way, he understood, in view of the possible appointment of a chief. He paid compliments to both Chief Douglass and Acting Chief Adams; of the former he had heard good reports, and of the latter he could say he had always tried to do his duty as far as he knew.

The motions were then put, Mr. Langford's (to refer it back to the Committee for consideration) first. It was lost, only the mover and seconder (Mr. Douglass) standing up. Then on the motion to adopt the report, only Messrs. Cahill, Wilson, Kelly and McNeil showed their approval, and it was lost. On Mr. Moore's motion Messrs. Hartley, Kendry, Moore, Yelland, Hall and Douglass voted yea. Mr. Douglass didn't vote, and when called upon said he wanted to have it referred back. When pressed he voted yea, and then there was a scrambling on the wheather Mr. Douglass was obliged to vote a second time on the same question. Mr. Kelly worked in a motion to adjourn and a little encounter followed upon its legality. He insisted and carried the day, but the motion was lost.

The yeas and nays were then taken on Mr. Moore's motion as follows:—

YEAS—Messrs. Davidson, Hall, Yelland, Moore, Douglass, Kendry and Hartley—7.

NAYS—Messrs. [illegible], McNeil, Kelly, Wilson and Cahill—5.

Mr. Moore's motion was declared carried.

Then called the battle. Everyone seemed to breath fresh when the smoke of action had cleared away. The contest was enlivened by many little passages-at-arms or "curtainrags" between the speakers of which no notice is taken in the above report. The spectators frequently applauded when a good point was scored in the debate, and manifested their preferences for Mr. Cahill, who plainly had the sympathies of the onlookers.

ANOTHER CASUS BELLI.

The license question was introduced by Mr. McNeil, who moved that the licenses for billiard tables be $20 per year, with no rebate for unexpired time.

A "tilt" occurred between Mr. McNeil and Mr. Yelland upon what the latter had said.

When quiet had been restored, Mr. Moore charged that the license by-law had been neglected in places where children were allowed to play pool and billiards.

Mr. Yelland moved in amendment that the license be $50 a year...

Mr. McNeil's motion was carried.

MOTIONS.

Mr. Davidson moved, seconded by Mr. Wilson, that the Mayor and Clerk be instructed to issue debentures for $4,000 on by-law 329.—Carried.

—Mr. Hartley moved, seconded by Mr. Hall, that the Property Committee have instruction to consider necessary improvements to the town buildings—heating, ventilation and lighting.—Carried.

Mr. Kendry moved, seconded by Mr. Langford, that the remainder of the report of the Police Supervision Committee be referred back for further consideration.—Lost.

Mr. Cahill again took up the thread by moving, seconded by Mr. McNeil, that the salary of $750 mentioned in Mr. Moore's motion, be changed to $650. He said it would be bad policy on the part of the council to bind itself to that salary. Mr. Moore held the motion was out of order, and after a little [illegible] the motion was put and lost.

After another motion by Mr. Cahill, that the school taxes of Mrs. Nicholls, Mrs. Daly and Mrs. Anything be remitted, (which he understood the Mayor had authority to do) was carried, the council adjourned for two weeks.

Annual Meeting of the Peterborough Cricket Club.

The annual meeting of the Cricket Club was held in the old post office block Monday night. There was a large attendance, and from the way things were discussed and preparations made, prospects are bright for the best season's sport ever seen in Peterborough. In the absence of the president Mr. R. B. Rogers occupied the chair. A constitution was read over and adopted, after which the Secretary-Treasurer read the

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

The season of 1887 was a most successful one. The number of regular members, 13, was greater than ever before in the history of the club; and of these 9 were won, 3 lost and [illegible] drawn.

The most [illegible] match of the season was that with the Belmonte of Philadelphia, the U. S. champions. Unfortunately the decision was won by the match was robbed of some of its interest. The batting of the home team was very poor in the first innings; but in the second innings they made a much larger score, which for some reason the Belmonte left out when giving the match to the press. The other two matches lost were with Toronto, but as Peterborough won the third match with that club, the honors are divided.

The club made, against East Toronto, one of the highest scores made in Canada during the season (284), while, against Campbellford, Sebine made the record of the season in bowling—8 wickets for 6 runs. W. A. Stratton led both the batting and bowling averages of those who played more than two matches, but S. Ray and Rutherford in batting, and Logan in bowling, [illegible] Rose.

A [illegible] of the [illegible] match game was the number of scratch matches played. It is to be hoped that a large number will be played this season, as many members can play in these games who cannot get away to full day matches.

The engagement of a professional coach is under consideration; and the result of an appeal to the members for a special fund is very gratifying, a large amount having been already subscribed.

The club joined the Ontario Association last season, and it is recommended that the same be done this year.

A large number of gentlemen have signified their intention of becoming members this season; several first rate players have come to town, and, if a coach be engaged to train the many young players who are just coming out, the season of 1888 cannot fail to be a prosperous one.

Efforts will be made to arrange matches in Peterborough with the various foreign teams visiting Canada during 1888.

JOHN SPRAGGE, Secretary.

The appointment of a professional coach for the club was referred to a committee composed of Messrs. Rogers, Stratton, Ray and Stirling. Officers were elected as follows:—

HON. PRESIDENT—Hon. R. Hamilton.
PRESIDENT—Judge Weller.
VICE-PRESIDENTS—Dr. Burnham and W. H. Wyatt.
SEC.-TREAS.—J. Stirling.
EXECUTIVE—The officers and Messrs. Rogers, Stratton, Munro and Burnham.

Another meeting will be held fifteen minutes before the hour of the annual meeting of the P. A. A., for the purpose of [illegible] to elect directors—a matter that was overlooked at this meeting.

"Widder Jenkins," said an Ohio farmer, as he bustled into her house one morning, "I am a man of business. I am worth $10,000, and want you for a wife. I give you three minutes in which to answer."

"I don't want ten seconds, old man," she replied, as she shook out the dishcloth. "I'm a woman of business, worth $40,000, and I wouldn't marry you if you were the last male on earth! I give you a minute and a half to git."

Eli Perkins' stories every one contain a bushel measure full of laughter. Don't miss hearing him on the 22rd.

The Ship Social Success.

The Charlotte Street Ladies Launch their Gaily Bark—Every Berth Has Right to Port Given a Theatrical Cruise.

The ship social given by the Ladies' Aid Home Monday evening, under the auspices and management of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Charlotte street Methodist church, was as delightful a success as it was an unique entertainment. The building was put in thorough ship shape throughout. The hall was plentifully hung with flags in every part, especially the stage. Upon the centre of the stage was erected the hull of a stately ship, the "Charlotte," full rigged and gaily decked with flags, upon the deck of which the chairman and the performers appointed in the programme took their places. To add to the realism of the scene the prow of the ship was flanked with huge coils of cable and an anchor, while outside of these were the life boats, represented by cedar rib canoes, with all sails set. These canoes were kindly loaned for the occasion by the Ontario Canoe Company, and were procured through the good offices of Mr. Arthur Tebb. The scene was decidedly pretty and attractive. The decoration of the hall reflected great credit upon those concerned in its adornment. The hall alongside the main auditorium, fitted up as a ship's saloon, and here the parties were feasted in a most excellent manner, furnished in great variety and abundance by the ladies of the society and served by a rosy retinue of damsels prettily attired with sailor collars added to their usual dress, decked with little silver anchors and miniature flags. The room was daintily and beautifully adorned with national emblems, flags, banners, ship models, etc., and presented a very attractive appearance. The tables were beautifully laid out, and were further brightened with a profusion of flowers. Alongside each was a little boat composed of the Japanese programme, and this each was allowed to take with him or her when adjournment was made to the hall where the programme was carried out.

After hundreds had taken refreshments the proceedings began in the main hall. Here, at 8 o'clock, a large number of auditors had gathered. Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., took the deck as captain, and after a brief congratulatory address, introduced the programme, with neat and fitting running comment by way of interlude and introduction to each number, the title of the selection being the ground work of a humorous nautical reference. With the exception of the two numbers furnished by the fire brigade band, the music was entirely vocal. The glee party consisted of about a score of fresh young voices (all ladies) from the church and from St. Paul's. Mr. Parker, organist of St. Paul's, was accompanist and performed his duties in his usually highly acceptible manner. The following is a copy of the programme:—

PART FIRST.

Glee—"See our Oars with Feathered Spray"..... Glee Party.
Song—"The Powder Monkey"..... Mr. Harry Stephens.
Vocal Duet..... Mrs. Pierce and Miss [illegible]
Song—"The Young Mariner,"..... Mrs. [illegible]

Selection..... Fire Brigade Band

PART SECOND.

Song—"Alone on the Raft."..... Miss Brundrette
Song—"Aboard"..... Mr. A. L. Davis
Male Quartette...Messrs. Stevens, Beguley, Henderson and Miller
Song—"When the Boats come Home."..... Miss Cameron
Solo—"The Raft"..... Mr. Hendrey
Song—"A[illegible]"..... Mrs. [illegible]
Selection..... Fire Brigade Band

Some of the singers were laboring under the disadvantage of severe colds, particularly Mr. Harry Stephens, but several of the performers acquitted themselves with great credit, and the recall of some of them was decided. Mr. Mulligan sang "Vanderdecken" in a style that pleased the audience so highly that he was brought back and delighted his admirers with "The B'ys in Blue." The Y. M. C. A Male Quartette sang their first song, "I Love to See," so well that they had to give an an encore, "The Pea Nut Song," a humorous selection, and in the second part their "Speed Away" gave such delight that they were twice recalled, giving two humorous selections, "The Gossipers" and "The Vote of thanks," which brought down the house. Miss Cameron's song was one of the best of the evening. She sang "When the Boats Come Home" very sweetly and was recalled. Possessed of a very sweet voice which indicates careful culture (she is a pupil of Mr. Parker) her singing gives great pleasure. The other numbers on the programme were given as printed above, and were very favorably received. At the conclusion of the program Reg. Mr. Tovell went on deck and as of the passengers, congratulated Captain Stratton on the safe and delightful voyage that had been made and thanking him for safely piloting the good ship "Charlotte" through unknown dangers, and asked the audience to express their thanks by rising and waving their handkerchiefs, which was done at the conclusion of "God Save the Queen," by the band.

At the intermission between the two parts a large number partook of refreshments and a still larger number at the close of the concert. The ladies are to be congratulated upon the great success of their ship social and especially upon the handsome financial outcome, which amounts to about $75.

THE LEGISLATURE SITS THREE TIMES AND RISES TWICE.

Will Be Through With the Session's Business To-morrow—The Agricultural Department—Growth of Municipal Government—Early Closing of Shops.

TORONTO, March 21.

The business of the Wellington-street legislative industry is now being done in one, two, three order. Yesterday the members sat out at the buildings, were in their seats at 3 o'clock, and held the first morning sitting of the session. Afternoon and evening sessions were held also.

It was a dismal, dreary morning, and as dark that the biz desks of gas jets in the centre of the ceiling in the Legislative Chamber were lighted to give radiance to the room and cheer to the legislators.

During the forenoon the House devoted itself to adding the thirty-five sections of the Act brought in by Hon. Mr. Hardy to amend the Municipal Act. It incorporated the provisions of a good many of the bills brought in during the session. The only other business done in the forenoon session was the reading of three bills a third time.

Hon. Mr. Hardy's, entitled the Liquor License Act of 1888.

Hon. Mr. Hardy's, to amend the act respecting the cities of Ottawa.

Mr. Meredith, to confirm an agreement between the Grand Trunk, Canada Southern and London and Port Stanley railway companies.

Mr. Foth, respecting the Brockville, Bancroft and Ottawa Railway Company.

The Attorney-General's, respecting the executive administration of the laws of the Province.

The Attorney-General's, for the protection and reformation of neglected children.

The Attorney-General's, to give certain powers to the Commissioners of the Queen Victoria Niagara Falls Park.

The Attorney-General's, to amend the Position Act.

The Attorney-General's, to amend the act respecting Interpretation.

The whole of the afternoon session was taken up in the discussion of the general act to amend the Municipal Act. A few amendments were made to different clauses in the act.

By consent of the House Mr. R. F. Clarke was permitted to move some of the provisions of the bill to amend the Municipal Act, while Mr. Hardy's general amendment act was being considered in committee of the whole. These amendments to the Municipal Act were made:

A provision to empower police commissioners to license hawkers.

A provision to permit municipalities having 10,000 population and over to establish systems for the sewage and care of drainage.

A provision permitting cities to issue debentures, subject to approval of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council and of three-fourths of the members of the city council, for the purpose of raising money to extend the city water mains and services, without submitting a by-law to the people.

A provision to define the power of a city council to set aside a portion of the street as a sidewalk for cyclists.

A provision to enable the imposition of a special rate on lands benefited by the construction of common sewers.

Mr. Lount was also permitted to move an amendment to meet the Parkdale case. The people of a municipality were given power to compel the consent of such municipality to submit a by-law to the people to obtain their verdict as to the desirability of entering with another municipality.

The bill was reported at 10 minutes past 6 o'clock.

In the evening session the House went into committee on Mr. O'Connor's amendment to the Assessment Act, the Attorney-General's respecting the revised statutes of Ontario, and the Attorney-General's to amend the law as to executors.

The Attorney-General moved that the Bill respecting the Department of Agriculture and other Bills, be read a third time.

Mr. Meredith moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Creighton—That all words in the motion after the word "that" be struck out and the following substituted therefor:

While this House concurs in the proposition to give the fullest consideration to whatever pertains to the agricultural interests of the Province than has hitherto been done, it is of opinion that end can be attained without incurring the expense of adding another member to the Executive Council and the inevitable expense which will be consequent on such addition, and that therefore the said bill be not now read a third time but be forthwith returned back to the Committee of the Whole House with instructions to amend the same by striking out the words in italics.

Mr. Bishop wanted to know if interested parties had a right to vote. [Laughter.]

The amendment was lost on a division of 46 to 68.

Mr. Mr. Fraser, replying for Hon. Mr. Carling, said Mr. Carling was not responsible for any statement made by Mr. Fraser.

Mr. Bergin followed in English, Gaelic and French.

Mr. Meredith followed in English, Gaelic and French.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1888.

Farmers' Institute.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I have already read Mr. Gamey's paper on the "Best means of Obtaining a Standard for Farm Produce," in the Examiner of the 9th inst., and if I can find room for more in your columns to give my opinion upon the matter, I will be pleased to do so.

Mr. Gamey says: "Let us have a standard for wheat, barley, oats, peas, butter and cheese, and let the farmer know what he is selling his produce for." In this I most heartily agree with him. "Where there is a will there is a way," and I think if the farmers of the United States in the fall of 1887 could vote on the question of bulls to beef and 274,000 majority would be better for both if we could get through "Congress" and "Senate" and "Union or by some other means" that we could obtain that people of "Canada" would vote that they could have a standard for their produce, they will in the next "Parliament" have it passed by government "enactment." We are told "that man is the only animal" who is self-sustaining animal, complete "machine" and economist, grapple with "economy" when "Abel bought his living as a keeper of sheep" and "Cain sold his labor." We might also except the seven years famine in Egypt.

In connection with the "Wheat" all the commercial nations of the world, "Canada" as an "American continent" "Can by means of duty and drawback do away with nearly all the evils that peculiar part of God's earth which has been entrusted to our care." Well, the farming community has acknowledged, when hamstrung into this developing business by designing, selfish politicians quite as much as they are longer prepared to tolerate. They have helped to dandle his Redpath into merchant prince, doomed to live the rest of his (Redpath's) days in palace in England, without a shadow of [illegible] regret. So far as the farmer is concerned. There is a kind of co-operation that is amusing. [illegible] Dutchman's illustration of "co-operation and good home." A neighbor invited some him, with the expectation that he would return his hospitality. Instead of doing so, however, he called for a mug of beer for himself only, and after having swallowed its contents knavishly, said, "If you don't believe that vos good beer, just smell de mug." Yes, fellow-farmers, "Smell de mug," is what we are now working at. If you are well pleased with the practical working of a protective tariff on [illegible] revenue tariff or even free trade—your prospect is first-class—to be allowed to continue smelling de mug.

AGAINST SABBATH DESECRATION.

Montreal, March 20.—At a meeting of the [illegible] to-day, Mr. Nicholls read the report of the Sabbath Observance Committee. It contained information from different parts of the Province. Considerable attention to the fact that its purpose was open on Sunday. Another city was complained of, namely, that of the Canadian Pacific Railway, for the work upon the Sabbath, most of these being train carrying freights.

The report says: "Not only is this company itself flagrantly desecrating the Sabbath, but is compelling by [illegible] of dismissal a large number of its employes to do so, besides preventing their [illegible] by the duties of public worship."

A committee is to be appointed to bring pressure to bear upon the Dominion Government against this evil, as well as others of a similar character.

The report suggests in conclusion that every existence of such a League is a censure upon the imbecility of city, authorities, municipal and provincial — who are supposed to protect the morals of the community.

In conclusion the report refers to the bad railway [illegible] existing between Montreal and Quebec and New York also to the [illegible] of the City Council in relation to the enforcement of Sabbath law.

THEY LEFT IN A HUFF.

The Departure of the Ecclesiastical Ministers from office—Full of resignations.

Ottawa, March 20.—The one great political topic of conversation which towered over all others to-day was the sudden departure of Greenway and Martin. Opinion appeared to be divided as to whether they left in a huff or if before doing so they received the Governor-General's [illegible].

remarked: "Well, if Greenway went away in a huff, he [illegible] and build the Red River Valley Railway at their own expense. The Dominion Government will not interfere with them. Mr. Greenway has already assured the people of his province that he had made the necessary financial arrangements to go on with the construction of the road. If he has, they ought to, with the credit. While it is to be regretted with, there is will be time to take second thoughts and [illegible] rebellion."

The fact that he has won [illegible] to the members of the Ministry from the city that Mr. John [illegible] had created a feeling, in the minds of many that Attorney-General Martin when in regard as a firebrand has succeeded in inducing Premier Greenway to act contrary to his judgment. He is [illegible] Sir John did not manifest much interest in the Attorney-General, and that after the first interview the [illegible] remained almost entirely alone with Mr. Greenway. The Dominion Bell ORGANS.

WE wish to call your attention to the benefit derived from the

that has lately been added to the above Organs. This improvement has been a long felt necessity, and one which has never been successfully solved before by any Organ Companies until the patent was secured for the above Companies directly from the Inventor.

Other Organ Companies advertise their organs second and first panel, because they employ the usual method of blocking around the pallows, as we have done heretofore, but it is eminently unsatisfactory, and the only pure and efficient plan is that which we adopt, of covering the PEDALS and BOTTOM of our Organs. This attachment has been throughout (with the exception of the Covers) having no cords, springs, or delicate mechanism to get out of order or repair, and works AUTOMATICALLY with the Pall Board of the Organ. The one simple act of opening or rising the Organ, simultaneously operates the Pedal Covers.

This improvement has been placed on all the different styles of Organs, and the aim is now, as in the past, to produce an instrument that HAS NO EQUAL.

All information and inquiries cheerfully answered. Catalogues sent free upon application. Examine the Stones and Dust Proof Organ before purchasing, and be satisfied that you have the best in the World.

THEY'VE DONE THEIR DUTY

THE LEGISLATURE CLOSES A FIFTY-SIX DAYS' SESSION.

Will not Prorogue To-day as Expected—The Publisher's Warrant not Ready—Work has Been Done This Last Eight Weeks—Mr. Waters and the Women's Suffrage Bill.

TORONTO, March 21.

The Ontario Legislature has been a session for eight weeks, and to-morrow is the day that the members wind up the business on the last order paper and pack their valises. No doubt several of the members will travel home on a railway pass and pocket the Province's mileage allowance.

The session for 1888 may be considered a red letter one. A mass of minor grievances coming from all classes of the people have been considered and redressed where it was found expedient to do so. There were alone over 350 petitions presented while the House sat. But besides doing the business which comes before the Legislature in the ordinary course of events, several important things have been done.

A fair idea of the business done may be had from the fact that 175 public and private bills have been introduced. About half of this number have succeeded in running the gauntlet successfully.

Yesterday the members were in their places at 11 o'clock. When the Speaker took the chair these bills were read a third time:

Mr. E. F. Clarke's, to authorize the trustees of the Toronto Reserved Burying Grounds to sell certain lands.

Mr. McKay's, for the prevention of accidents by fire in hotels and other public buildings.

The Attorney-General's, respecting Muskoka and Parry Sound.

The Attorney-General's, to amend the law as to executions.

The Attorney-General's, respecting mortgages or sales of chattels in Muskoka.

Mr. Waters' bill to enable widows and unmarried women to vote for members of the Legislative Assembly was brought up for second reading.

Mr. Waters took the floor, and adjusted his spectacles while the deafening applause lasted. He then calmly argued his side of the question. His object was to give the women who had a vote in municipal elections the same privilege in elections for this Assembly. It might be said that married women had the care of a family on them and that it would not be advisable to put the use of the franchise in their hands. Well, he would leave married women alone. [Cheers and Applause.] The Commissioner of Public Works might say that the married women were already represented in this House; but neither the Commissioner nor any one else should presume to come here representing widows or unmarried ladies. [Loud laughter and applause.] He said that the bill was favored by the majority of the people and should become law. He pointed to the general support it received while before the House.

Hon. Mr. Fraser was entirely opposed to the bill. It would be unnecessary for him to say anything now, as he had already the question out here before. He would simply say that it would again throw the property restriction into their present simple franchise arrangement, and that it would bring them face to face with the question of universal suffrage. The time was inopportune for it. He would move the previous question, but would vote against his own motion.

Mr. Waters thought this was a scheme to burk his bill.

Mr. Meredith thought it was an improper mode of dealing with so important a question. There should be a fair square vote on it. At the same time he agreed with the Commissioner of Public Works' arguments.

Hon. Mr. Fraser said inasmuch as the hon. gentleman seemed to think it was a scheme to burk his bill, and that a square vote was desired, he would withdraw his motion. (Applause).

Mr. Meredith congratulated Hon. Mr. Fraser. The course taken was a manly one.

Further discussion followed and the vote was taken, resulting in 39 yeas and 41 nays.

The greater part of the afternoon was taken up in discussing bills in Committee of the Whole. During the afternoon the supplementary estimates were brought down, and with some discussion were passed.

The House concurred in the report of the Committee of Supply without discussion.

Mr. Fell moved for a return of correspondence in relation to the conduct of Frederick Kinsey, Registrar of Haliburton, and reports of the commission authorized to investigate the charges.

The motion was agreed to.

The Annual Frolic.

While Mr. Fell and the Attorney-General were speaking about the motion the members began to show symptoms of breaking out in the annual frolic. Mr. Ballantyne was hit on the scalp with the rough edge of a voluminous bill. It must have hurt, for he rubbed the spot and shouted "Order."

Someone emptied a waste basket on Mr. Curran, at which the Attorney-General's voice also drowned in laughter.

Pelting with papers continued till the motion was agreed to, and then the fun began.

"Nick" Awrey's nice black hat was soon wrecked at the instance of a heavy leather chair cushion.

The stern Provincial Treasurer, making his way across the red carpet, was a target for a shower of cushions. The fusilade was so heavy that it was some minutes before he could recover, laugh, and take the dents out of his hat and put it on.

Then it was knocked off again.

Meantime Davy Creighton had recovered from bombardment and stood like a victorious cock in a pit looking for more birds.

The large man from Algoma took up the contest and played uncermonious ball with the David.

The frolic all over the Chamber lasted about fifteen minutes, till Fraser visited weights on Hamilton Gibson's pate and fled, pursued by the Hamiltonian.

There were only three peaslier globes smashed.

Around the Lobbies.

Several Government supporters are of opinion that Mr. Awrey would be the strongest man to fill the position of agriculture, from a party point of view. He is a fluent, easy speaker. Mr. Drury is looked upon as a man capable of looking after the interests committed to the charge of such minister.

Last night Deputy Reeve Gowanlock of Parkdale and several councillors and a number of Parkdale's citizens were at the House to protest against Mr. Leys' amendment to the Municipal Act. Of course it was too late, the bills being then in third reading. Mr. Leys said he made the amendment on the express approbation of Mayor Lynd and Mr. Gowanlock.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

The Interprovincial Resolutions Carried in the New Brunswick Legislature.

OTTAWA, March 21.—The Inland Revenue officials appointed to analyze samples of the water used in the various cities of the Dominion have returned from the Maritime Provinces and will make a tour of the western cities. A bulletin will be published in June giving the result of the experiment.

New Brunswick members have been telegraphed that the interprovincial resolutions have been carried in the Legislature by a vote of 29 to 16.

The Pension Bill to be introduced by Sir John will provide that all Northwest Mounted Police after twenty-five years' service shall be entitled to two-thirds pay, and if disabled by sickness or accident prior to the expiration of this term, will receive a proportionate pension.

The customs officials at Toronto have seized copies of the "Free Thinker's Manual." The book contains illustrations which depict biblical incidents in an atrocious light.

A report is going the rounds that Hon. Edward Blake will return to Canada before the prorogation of Parliament.

At the Assize Court to-day Desormeaux, the Rochesterville murderer, pleaded "Not guilty." He will come up for trial on Saturday.

O'Dell, who claimed $15,000 damage received through a runaway accident occasioned through the snorting of the steam roller, got a verdict of $300 against the city.

A deputation is expected to arrive shortly to ask for a subvention to the Nipissing and James' Bay Railway, promoted by Adam Brown, M.P. It is projected to start from North Bay, the terminus of the Northern Pacific Junction Railway, and extend to St. James' Bay, opening up 1000 square miles of territory. According to a report of the geological survey, this territory is rich in minerals, timber and arable lands. The construction will proceed in sections: (1) From North Bay to Lake Temiscamingue, 61 miles; (2) from Temiscamingue to Lake Abbittibe, 91 miles; (3) from the latter place to the mouth of Bat (James' Bay 1[illegible] miles.

Mr. Frank Madill, M.P. for North Ontario, is investigating the claims of the united bands of Indians as to surrendered lands and their rights under various treaties, at the request of the Indian tribes. The claim involves lands valued at $600,000, situated in the disputed territory. A test case is now before the Supreme Court, which will establish whether it is within the jurisdiction of the Dominion or the Provincial Government.

The Supreme Court to-day heard argument in the appeal of Palmer v. Wallbridge, an appeal from the Court of Appeal for Ontario reversing a judgment of Mr. Justice Ferguson, awarding the plaintiff $1,250. The action was one based on a claim for royalty in respect to ore from mine at Madoc.

The Missing Pilot Boats.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Nothing has been heard from the two missing pilot-boats, Enchantress and Phantom, which disappeared during last week's storm. The crew of the Enchantress consisted of four pilots and six sailors. The Phantom's crew consisted only of four sailors.

Theatre Disaster at Quebec.

QUEBEC, March 21.—While a performance was in progress at the Banquet Theatre last night an explosion of gas occurred and the theatre took fire and was destroyed. The house was full of spectators and a number of lives were lost. Ten bodies have been recovered from the ruins. Many persons were injured.

Great Floods in Montana.

THOMAS RIVER, Montana, March 21.—The Missouri River broke yesterday. The whole river bottom, which includes millions of acres of land, is inundated for [illegible] miles.

CROWN PRINCE WILLIAM UNFRIENDLY TO THE ENGLISH AND JEWS.

The Emperor of Germany Overshadowed by His Son—The Young Prince's Name Adored by the Germans—He Love for the English Empress.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The Sun's Berlin correspondent says: A man of 30 years, erect, square-shouldered, lithe, powerful and austere strode out of the railway station here yesterday afternoon after seeing a batch of royal guests depart. He had a strong, heavily lined and moody face. The guards presented arms and a brilliant retinue of generals hurried after the masterful looking German. It was the Crown Prince, who will soon be Emperor of the nation of warriors. The waiting multitude at sight of him gave a single yell that came from their very hearts. The Prince listened with rapt look, then threw back his head with a sudden motion and showed his teeth in a smile at savage exultation.

The fierce light that beats about the German throne leaves the dumb and sickly monarch in the shadow, plodding slowly on towards the nearing and inevitable end, while it throws the stalwart, warlike and aggressive figure of Crown Prince William out with a vivid distinctness. The name of the coming Emperor is heard in the councils of all the sovereigns and diplomats of Europe. Not since the first Napoleon has a young man wielded such tremendous power as will fall to the lot of this headstrong, violent and revengeful prince. He will have two million men and two million muskets at his back. He hates the English and he hates the Jews; so do the German people. They detest their present English Empress because she makes her children talk English and has prevailed upon the Emperor to have an English physician. They have tried to mob Mackenzie and they look coldly at Frederick the Third, because he spends the last hours of his waning life ennobling men of Semitic blood. They adore the very name of the coming ruler who has all their prejudices intensified a thousand fold. His aversion to the English extends to his own mother.

Military Changes.

BERLIN, March 21.—General von Loe succeeds General von Pape as Commander of the Corps of the Guard at Berlin. General von Pape will be given another command. General von Hoensler succeeds Count von Waldersee as Quartermaster-General. The removal of Count von Waldersee has caused much surprise, as it has always been supposed he would succeed Count von Moltke. The removal is supposed to be due to Prince Bismarck's annoyance over the anti-Semitic affair.

It is reported that Chaplain Stoecker has circulated gratis among the lower classes 32,000 copies of his Sunday paper containing a violent tirade against Dr. Mackenzie.

In Fahey's Defence.

MONTREAL, March 21.—The defence in Detective Fahey's case was opened to-day, when a number of witnesses were examined, and testified to the prisoner's character. Bureau, one of the accused, was also examined, and said that when in the cells Flynn and Maxwell had supplied him with liquor and made him promises. When he made his confession to Judge Dugas he was stupid and does not remember what he then said.

Supposed To Be In Canada.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Jerome L. Hill, a prominent club man and one of the executors of the estate of Wm. Lottimer, has disappeared, and is supposed to be in Canada. The Lottimer estate was valued at several million dollars.

The New Mexican Loan.

BERLIN, March 21.—The North German Gazette hopes the new Mexican loan of $16,000,000, in which German capital has an interest, will have the effect of opening a new outlet for German enterprise.

Disastrous Inundation.

VIENNA, March 21.—The ice in the Danube is breaking up. There is an enormous inundation in Galicia and Hungary. In the Lemberg district many villages have been ruined. Two hundred houses have been wrecked at Szottmar; some of the streets of Buda are submerged.

Senator Holland Seriously Ill.

MONTREAL, March 21.—Hon. Senator Holland is seriously ill and not expected to recover. The last rites of the Church have been administered to him.

The Arrears of Rent Bill.

LONDON, March 21.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. Parnell moved the second reading of his arrears of rent bill and addressed the House in advocacy of it.

The Legislative Council Must Go.

HALIFAX, March 21.—The House of Assembly this evening passed the second reading of the bill to abolish the Legislative Council. The vote was 31 to 4.

CONTINUING THE DEBAT

FREE TRADE STILL ON THE TAPIS IN THE COMMONS.

Mr. J. J. Curran Follows in the Wake of His Ministerial Predecessors in the Debate—The Member for Centre Toronto Also Delivers a Speech.

OTTAWA, March 21.—Mr. J. J. Curran resumed the debate on the Free Trade resolution in the Commons to-day. He dealt with the figures of improvements in the Provinces of Quebec, and showed enormous general progress had been made in the wealth of Quebec.

He deprecated the statements of gentlemen opposite who had spoken of Canadians as mere hewers of wood and drawers of water. He quoted from Goldwin Smith and Erastus Wiman, the great advocates of Unrestricted Reciprocity, words in which they had cast contempt on the French element of the Dominion, and yet which the Reform party had in their support of Commercial Union never yet repudiated.

Mr. Welsh followed Mr. Curran, and delivered a speech in support of the motion, regarding it from a Prince Edward Island standpoint.

After recess several bills were advanced a stage.

Mr. Cockburn following on the Government side, ridiculed the speech of Mr. Welsh. He twitted the Liberal party on their lack of leadership, and questioned whether the virtue of multiplicity of counsels extended to that of leaders. Taking up the statement made by members of the Opposition that Canada had suffered a loss of $300,000,000 by emigrer of population, he was thankful that the country he lived in was able to lose that immense amount and be prosperous as it was to-day.

Gentlemen opposite seemed to be always unhappy unless they were miserable, and miserable unless they were unhappy. We were now in the position in which the United States were twenty years ago, we were on the verge of very extensive growth and development, but the opponents of the administration were, childlike, continually seeking to tear up the plant to see if it had sprouted. He argued at length in opposition to the contention that Canadian trade was to be benefited by the change asked to be made in our policy.

He showed the radical difference in the nature of imports of Canada now and in 1878, when the N.P. was put in operation, and claimed that the change wrought represented a gain of upwards of $12,000,000 to the artizans and work people generally of the country, and through them to the farming communities.

He concluded by advising the Liberal party to turn from their headless and heedless course and not further provoke the wrath of the party and the country.

Mr. Mills (Annapolis) followed, speaking from a Nova Scotia standpoint. He claimed that the country was not going to the dogs, as the member for Queen's, P.E.I., had reported. He quoted from the annual reports of the agricultural societies to prove his assertion, showing by them reports that the farming industries instead of languishing are now in a better paying condition than for years past. He pointed out that by the reports published in Nova Scotia by the local Government the farmers of Annapolis and King counties did not want reciprocity of any kind. They were getting good prices for their potatoes and apples, better prices being realized than when Canada had reciprocity with the States.

Mr. Ellis (St. John, N.B.), followed in a speech made up principally of statistics, showing that Unrestricted Reciprocity is what we want, and without it the country is in a retrograding state.

Mr. Baird (Queens, N.B.), moved adjournment of the debate and the House adjourned at 12.45 a.m.

LATEST MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, March 21.—Business on the local stock market to-day was very dull. Prices were unsteady. The only transactions were 20 of Commerce at 115½, 10 B. and Loan Association at 161½, 100 Lon. and Can. L. and A. at 146.

This weather has had a very depressing effect on St. Lawrence market and had reduced business so till the diurnal receipts of five hucksters are very small. Prices are steady. Fresh eggs are very plentiful and cheap. Business on the grain and hay market was also very cheap, the transactions being only a few loads.

LIVERPOOL GRAIN MARKET.

The Bridge Question.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—Knowing that you take quite an interest in the affairs of South Monaghan, and also knowing that your excellent paper has a wide circulation in these counties, and that lately you have had quite a number of articles on the people of South Monaghan, wanting and petitioning for a bridge over the Otonabee river further east than the one they have now, known as the Wallace Point bridge, and as the question is often asked "do the people of South Monaghan expect the counties to build them two bridges, and can they not be content with the Wallace Point bridge?" I, as one of the parties interested, would like to answer these questions, and would also give the reasons why we consider a bridge further east would be more to the advantage of South Monaghan and also of these counties. To the first question we answer no, we do not expect two bridges, but, as the Wallace Point bridge is out of repair and will soon need a new one, we consider the time has come that the question of site be considered, and, as the Wallace Point bridge site has been a huge mistake from the first, the sooner it is remedied the better it will be for the ratepayers of these counties. The Wallace Point bridge site is a fallure for county purposes for the reason that it is too far to the west to connect with the bridge system of Peterborough, when the objective point is the town of Peterborough or further north, as they have to travel as far east as the Locks bridge over the execrable roads of Otonabee, which are impassable for five months of the year at this point, instead of taking the open road on the Monaghan side as far east as the line of the Locks bridge, then crossing and taking a good and level road direct north to the Locks bridge which is the first bridge to connect with Peterborough town or good roads to the north. In fact people living to the west of the Wallace Point bridge never think of using it when they want to get to the north but take the boundary line and keep to the west side of the river as they have a good road and one that is open at all times, and is only four lots—very little over a mile—further west. As a county bridge when we want to go eastward it is in no better situation, as when we cross we have bad roads, impassable to the east at present. The bridge on the new site would give better facilities for travel to the east, as it would have the advantage of good roads on the Monaghan side and a better system of road when we crossed to the Otonabee side. As a county road, from a South Monaghan point of view, and South Monaghan forms part of the counties, the Wallace Point bridge is a huge fraud, a great mistake, and a downright affront to their common sense, as it compels them to travel miles to the west to connect with it, and then when they cross, retrace their course to the east, over some of the worst roads in the province, roads that were never intended for public travel as they are so narrow that in winter they fill up with snow, and in summer if two waggons meet it is with difficulty they pass each other, especially if the have hayracks on.

Mr. Editor, my letter is getting too long so I will close. In my next I will have something to say about the respective cost of the two bridges, which however will be a secondary consideration, for if the bridge is placed on the right site, the people will be willing to pay for it.

Yours truly,

MERVIN.

Presentation at Warsaw.

Following is a copy of the address presented to Mrs. Rose, of Warsaw, on Feb. 28th, which explains itself:—

DEAR MRS. ROSE,—We, your neighbours, acquaintances, and friends, have learned that you are about removing with your family to another part of the country, and we can assure you that we shall regret your absence from amongst, both on account of the many estimable qualities you possess as well as your usefulness and untiring kindness and womanly sympathy. You will not soon be forgotten. We therefore present you with this dinner set of dishes, as a small remembrance of our friendship and esteem, and express a hope that your new home may be a pleasant and happy one, and also to see you occasionally amongst us, renewing old associations and brightening friendships, and that, as time passes onward, all may be kept in that "narrow way" to meet in that better land, where there is no more sorrow or parting—where all will be joy and rest in our Father's mansions.

Signed,

MRS. J. ANDERSON.
MRS. J. ROSE.

A Flat Contradiction.

Some one has told you that your catarrh is incurable. It is not so. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will cure it. It is pleasant to use and it always does its work thoroughly. We have yet to hear of a case in which it did not accomplish a cure when faithfully used. Catarrh is a disease which it is dangerous to neglect. A certain remedy is at your command. Avail yourself of it before the complaint assumes a more serious form. All druggists.

THE COMBINES COMMITTEE.

Correspondence From Various Quarters—Ginger Ale Makers Protest.

OTTAWA, March 21.—The Combines Committee met this morning to read over the correspondence submitted from various quarters of the Dominion since the last sitting of the committee. Some preliminary discussion took place as to whether it would be advisable to incorporate this correspondence in the report to Parliament, but as it had not yet been decided to have the evidence printed, the matter was left in abeyance.

Mr. E. Miller and other ginger ale manufacturers of Montreal wish to apologize for the great loss they sustain through not being allowed to purchase sugar, which enters largely into the manufacture of effervescing drinks, direct from the refiners. The effect is to destroy an industry which gives employment to a large number of people, through the exorbitant prices the members of the grille demand. The combinations they regard as an unjust one.

A letter was read from Mr. Tenty of Richmond Hill, Ont. He assures that he has made an effort to get a copy of the constitution of the undertakers' agent combination in Toronto, but nothing could be ascertained outside of what takes place in their meetings. This was a gricdlier monopoly. From his own observations of what was going on he conceived that all the ministers of Canada might preach economy in funeral arrangements until doomsday, but that would not protect the poor people of this country from the iniquitous operations of the undertakers, conspiracy to rob them. The prices were fixed and the poor people were obliged to accept them. The chief places of business is in Toronto and Mr. John Philp is the manager. He advised the committee to read a report in The Toronto World of March 15 which contained valuable information. The chairman read the article referred to.

Mr. S. S. Malcolmson, Secretary of the Canadian Marine Engineers' Association, complained of a pernicious combine operated by the Owners' Marine Association. They issue every winter a tariff of wages which even include the boys employed on board vessels. Any violation of the compact involved a penalty of $1000. The wages were ridiculously low. He had endeavored to get a copy of the tariff for the coming season, but so far had failed. He would, however, forward one to the committee at a later date.

The correspondent also complained about the operations of the coal combine, and wanted to point out that they discriminated against the small consumer. According to Mr. Rogers' evidence the profit was 25 cents per ton on coal. A comparison of the contract prices for large quantities of coal with that charged the ordinary consumer would show the injustice.

Mr. J. N. Blake, barrister of Toronto, writes a long letter complaining that the banking combine of the Board of Trade was the most iniquitous organization in the country. He pointed out that they speculated with the banking funds in the New York market in a way that regular banking institutions would never think of doing. In this way ruin has been caused to many people in Canada.

The chairman explained that several Toronto men interested in the operation of coal would be subpœnaed, among them J. C. Beesleuridge, an employe of a coal firm; J. M. Wood, secretary of the coal section and G. W. Wood; also G. W. Bell, a dealer who was not within the "inner circle." It was also intended to summon Mr. P. Larmouth, secretary of the Union, a coal combine, as well as witnesses from places where no organization existed, so that the prices could be compared.

Mr. Gaffiet drew attention to an interview published in The Toronto News with Mr. Wills, secretary of the Toronto Guild, charging the chairman with partisanship in the examination of witnesses and pronouncing the committee proceedings a farce. This was an unjust reflection, and he wished to place this on record. The correspondents who attended the sittings of the committee, he was glad to say, had all given fair reports, but in this case the responsibility rested with the local reporter in Toronto.

Clarke Wallace, Chairman of the Combines Committee, says Mr. Secretary Wills' attitude towards himself will be better understood when it is known that he disallowed that gentleman's claim of $5.40 for board during the three days he was snowbound on the Canadian Pacific Railway train. The railway company refused take any money from the passengers for their board during that period. He had also disallowed a claim for $1 for sleigh hire made by Mr. Wills, on the ground that the $4 a day allowed witness in addition to traveling expenses was supposed to cover all cost ingencies.

Short-lived Liberty.

MONTREAL, March 21.—Yesterday morning while the policemen were escorting three prisoners across from the Central Station to the Police Court one of the captives made a break for liberty, and dashed across the Champ de Mars. A constable started in pursuit, but the prisoner was caught by a citizen on St. Gabriel-street. A man named Daniel Lemay, who is at present awaiting his trial on two charges of larceny as a bailee, was brought before the Circuit Court yesterday to give evidence in a case pending there. Getting tired of waiting to testify, he strolled out, and dashing down the stairs managed to get out. The guards rushed after him, and after a short run captured him on St. Vincent-street.

FOR 30 YEARS I have been troubled with catarrh—have tried a number of remedies without relief. A druggist here recommended Ely's Cream Balm. I have used only one bottle and I can say I feel like a new man. My catarrh was chronic and very bad. I make this voluntary statement that others may know of the Balm.—J. W. Mathewson, (Lawer), Pawtucket, R. I.

DISALLOWANCES.

Still a Live Topic—Interested Parties Maintain Hopeful Secrecy.

OTTAWA, March 21.—The Manitoba railway disallowance is still a live subject, and all sorts of surmises are indulged in as to the probable method of solution. No reliable news of the basis of arrangement can be gathered, the interested parties observing a marked secrecy. To-day, however, Sir John A. Macdonald assured The World that no definite arrangement had been reached and negotiations were still progressing.

Sir George Stephen had another conference to-day with the Premier. He says the close of the week will probably see a settlement satisfactory to all interests concerned. His company has made what he considers a fair and reasonable proposition, but of course he was not at liberty to reveal its nature.

It is understood that Mr. Greenway has been telegraphed to return to Ottawa, but as this writing it is not known what course he intends to pursue. The impression gains ground that he is not particularly anxious for a decision to be reached.

In the meantime the Manitoba members have waited on the Government and urged a discontinuance of disallowance. Mr. Davin also presented Sir John to-day with a copy of the resolution passed at Regina asking that any concessions made to Manitoba be extended as well to the Northwest Territories.

A Wave of Immigration.

OTTAWA, March 21.—The returns for the first two months of the present year bear out the prediction that a great wave of immigration will reach our shores this year. The figures will probably be doubled. The total arrivals in the Dominion last month were 7277, against only 4145 in the same period in 1887. The arrivals in Canada since New Year's are 14,261, as compared with 10,221 in the same period of last year, showing an increase of 4062. The settlers in the Dominion last month were 3407, and since Jan. 1 6477, so that more than half the immigrants passed through to the States, about the same proportion as last year.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Alexander McKelvie, a boy 14 years of age, appeared before Judge McDougall yesterday morning and pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking into the Midland Railway Station at Sutton and stealing ten cents. His Honor allowed him out on his own bail to appear for sentence when called on. The court spectators evinced an interest in the boy's welfare, and a collection was raised to pay for his dinner and railway ticket home. Judge McDougall was one of the contributors.

County Crown Attorney Badgerow received from the police of Nottingham, Eng., yesterday, a marriage certificate and other evidence of the first marriage of James Thurman, at present in jail on a charge of bigamy. It will be remembered that Thurman was arrested two months ago for bigamy, and had been scarcely a week in jail when he was found to have stolen some carpenter's tools. He was sentenced to 40 days on this charge, and after this sentence is through with he will be called upon to plead to the bigamy indictment.

The Central Bank liquidators were at work yesterday, and a fair amount of business was transacted. The claims of set-off are many, but these are being daily disposed of by the Master-in-Ordinary. The time for these claims will shortly expire. The amount will, it is expected, exceed the expectations of the liquidators and may affect the realization of the estate. The first dividend of 25 cents on the dollar is assured, and it is hoped that the final result may be 75 cents on the dollar.

The case of Mr. Lionel Yorke re the Central Bank came before Chancellor Boyd yesterday morning and was by consent adjourned till Monday next. It is merely a question whether a deposit note of $6000 shall stand a against a security of the same amount given by him in relation to his contract for the erection of the new Parliament buildings. Mr. Foster, Q.C., appeared for the Central Bank, and Dr. Snelling for Mr. Yorke.

Russian Press Censorship.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 21.—A new law decrees that anyone circulating literary or scientific works without the sanction of the press censor will be liable to a year's imprisonment.

The Missouri Discus Thrower.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., March 21.—Young Fenton Cox returned from St. Louis yesterday and at once called on Ellie Ellis at her room in the Steigner House. This meeting was a most affecting one. Later a most dramatic scene occurred in Dr. Cox's office when the boy visited his father there. The father stated to the boy that he had but one of two things to do. Either he must remain his son and let the girl go or take the girl and leave him. The boy hesitated but an instant, and then promptly replied that he would take the girl. Fenton then left the office with a friend. Not a word of farewell was exchanged, and the youth promptly returned to the Steigner House. Young Cox stated that there would be no prosecution in the case against his father, and that he and Miss Ellis would leave for St. Louis this week, when the case will be called for trial. Examination will be waived and the case passed for trial in the Circuit Court.

The Moon's Influence.

Upon the weather is accepted by some as real, by others it is disputed. The moon never attracts comps from the tender, aching spot. Best Milk Producing Food.

Professor Stewart, authority on such matters, says: "Neither corn meal nor bran is the best milk producing food. With the best clover hay, corn meal should be added as a part of the ration—but with corn fodder, straw or poor hay, good wheat bran should be added instead of corn meal. Bran will balance poor fodder better than corn meal. But in making up the milk ration the feeder should seek variety in food. Corn meal and bran together, are better than either alone. The kinds of food best in a milk ration depend upon how the foods balance each other."

Seeding Oats.

Undoubtedly the Burt oat is the safest for spring sowing, as it will mature in 100 to 130 days when sown in February or March, according to latitude. Sow plenty of seed; the later the sowing the heavier should be the seeding. Allow for yield of twentyfold is a pretty safe general rule, unless the expected yield or capacity of the land is small, in which case the seeding should be somewhat heavier than this rule would indicate, and vice versa.—Southern Cultivator.

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

THE WONDERS OF MAGIC.

When you find that beauty is failing away,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
To the elderly man with his locks in decay,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
A rich head of hair
Is as precious as rare,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
The lady's misfortune, when losing her hair,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
She can quickly, easily, cheaply repair.
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
It imparts strength and beauty,
And it's the lady's plain duty,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
Take time by the forelock and still keep your own,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
This tonic, a failure has never yet known,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
Try this motto to heed,
Try till you succeed,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."

This now famous preparation for invigorating and stimulating the growth of the hair is universally accepted as the most valuable specific on the market. All diseases of the scalp are either relieved or permanently cured. A rich and rapid growth of hair will follow after judicious and regular treatment. It remains with the user alone to secure the desired results. Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" is sold by all druggists at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. If not obtainable in your own locality send direct to the sole manufacturer, enclosing price. A. DORENWEND, Paris Hair Works, 103 and 105 Yonge street, Toronto. For sale by J.D. BANKERS—Bank of Toronto and Canadian Bank of Commerce.
SOLICITORS—Dumble & Leonard.

TO DEPOSITORS—Deposits are received by this Company both on current account and for periods of one year or longer. The rate of interest paid on amount deposited on current account and which may be withdrawn by check in such sums as the depositor may from time to time require, is four per cent., either paid or compounded half yearly, and the rate on yearly deposits is five per cent.

TO INVESTORS—The five and ten years five per cent. debentures of this Company which are issued in denominations of $100, $200, $500 and $1,000 each, transferable by endorsement, with half-yearly interest coupons attached, payable at the Head Office of the Company in Peterborough, or at any Branch of the Bank of Toronto in Canada, afford a safe and convenient mode of investment.

The funds of the Company being invested with the utmost care and precaution, no better security can be offered to depositors or debenture-holders, they having a first claim or mortgage on the whole Assets of the Company, the Shareholders having the second. The last audit shows that the amount so invested was over $1,310,222.69, and on securities of at least double that value.

By the Laws of Ontario, Trustees, Executors and Administrators may deposit Trust Funds of the estates which they control in this Company, and are free from all further liability, a privilege of which many have largely availed themselves.

TO BORROWERS—Money is obtainable from this Company on approved Real Estate Security at the Lowest Current Rates of Interest. The Mortgage may be repaid by yearly instalments or otherwise, as may be agreed upon, the interest ceasing at once on all amounts paid on account of the sum borrowed. Applications may be made either to the Head Office, or to any of the agents.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Fresh winds from the west and northwest, decreasing by night; partly cloudy and very cold, with passing snow showers.

Spring Activity.

There promises to be great activity in building circles the coming season. Another enterprise in which there is sure to be a tremendous boom is the semi-annual spring house-cleaning. Hundreds of housekeepers are already showing signs of mental aberration on the subject, and there is no sign of recovery. But they will be brought to reason and happiness when they see the splendid range of carpets, floor oilcloths, curtains and house furnishings of every variety at the golden lion. All imported goods, fresh, new and stylish, offered at importers' prices.

Hamilton's Programme for 1888.

There has just issued from the EXAMINER job printing department a handsome catalogue of Mr. Peter Hamilton's agricultural implements for 1888. It covers nearly fifty pages and is profusely illustrated with excellent cuts of their principal machines and implements. It will be a most interesting study for the farmers, for the machines turned out by this firm have a high reputation, and the programme for 1888 gives many improvements which make the farm implements of Mr. Hamilton equal to the best made anywhere. The new catalogue contains a mine of information valuable to the farmer. Besides the book itself is an ornament to any house with its beautiful illustrated cover, printed in several beautiful, harmonizing colors. It is in all respects a credit to the art typographical and the establishment, whose enterprise it represents.

Settlers for the Northwest.

The Globe says:—"The second despatch of colonization trains for the West was made at the Brock street depot on the Canadian Pacific railway Tuesday night. Five trains, consisting of seventy-five cars, left between nine and one o'clock. They contained an immense quantity of household effects, valuable live stock and three hundred passengers. The colonists are bound for various sections of Manitoba and the Northwest, and are from the most thriving settlements of Ontario. One train from Peterborough district is composed of fifteen cars of freight and fifty passengers. The trains are in charge of special colonization agents, and are fitted with all the comforts and conveniences that colonists can desire."

The Timber Trade.

Mr. A. F. Wood, M.P.P., in a recent speech in the Legislature upon our timber and mineral resources, gave some interesting statistics regarding the timber output of this district and province. He said:—"First, the Belleville District, which includes the Counties of Victoria, Peterborough, Hastings, Addington, Renfrew, and Frontenac. From this District, since Confederation, the Government have received dues on 15,648,000 sawlogs, and about 6,000,000 square feet timber—equalling nearly 4,000,000,000—four thousand millions of feet—of sawed lumber. In the whole Province, the output since Confederation of pine sawlogs and pine timber has been about 55 millions of sawlogs and 146 million of square timber, equalling 136,000,000,000—one hundred and thirty-two billions—feet of sawed lumber."

The Late Mrs. Thos. McKee.

The death is regretfully announced of the wife of Mr. Thomas McKee, which sad event took place on Wednesday night. The deceased lady was a native of the town and daughter of the late John English, and was widely known and highly respected. She leaves behind a family of four children, the eldest a daughter twelve years of age. Mrs. McKee's death, after only a week's illness from inflammation of the lungs, is learned of with deep regret by the many friends and acquaintances, and the bereaved husband and relatives have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement. The funeral takes place from the family residence, George street north, on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Chief Douglas Won't Come.

Mr. Kendry, Chairman of the Police Supervision Committee, to-day received a message from Chief Douglas, of Port Hope, to the effect that he has decided to remain where he is. The public vote in Port Hope on Monday was largely in favor of retaining Mr. Douglas, and at a meeting of the council Monday night he was re-appointed at a salary of $800, with $50 for clothing. He had two or three days to think over the matter, whether should he accept $800 and remain in Port Hope, or $750 and migrate to Peterborough. He has chosen the former. Thus the chief of police-ship remains as much an open question as before. It will now be the province of the Police Committee to advertise for a chief.

Why don't you buy me a home when John Carlisle is offering such chances. A lot and lumber, no money down for five years, low interest. The rent we pay will buy us a home?" "That's so, son, I'll see him at once." See John Carlisle, Builder, for particulars. eodw

IN PETERBOROUGH

The Woman Suffrage Vote.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M. P. P., West Peterborough, voted yesterday for Mr. Waters' Bill to give the women who had a vote in municipal elections the same privilege in elections for the Legislative Assembly. Mr. Bleasard, M. P. P. East Peterborough, voted against the Bill. The vote stood: for, 30; against, 41.

AGAIN ON

The Norwood Concert.

Quite an array of talent will go to Norwood to-morrow by the 11:31 C.P.R. train to attend the Oddfellows concert at Norwood, and another detachment will follow at 7:30. Mr. Dunn, of the C. P. R., has kindly procured the issue of tickets at a fare and a third for the round trip, and a large number of local Oddfellows will likely go down to the village and, judging from past experience, be most hospitably entertained.

The Banquet To-night.

The first annual banquet of the Peterborough Cricket Club takes place at the Oriental hotel to-night. The menu will be one of the best ever presented in Peterborough; there will be excellent music and good speeches, and from the well known and proverbial sociability and jollity of the cricket fraternity, those who attend may be sure of a most enjoyable time. All lovers of the sport are expected to attend.

MONDAY, 16th APRIL.

God Made us to Laugh.

God made us to laugh as well as to cry. The laugh of a child will make the holiest cherubs seem still. Strike with speed of fire, O, weird musician, thy harp-strung with Apollo's golden hair! Fill the vast cathedral aisles with symphonies sweet and dim, deft teacher of the organ keys! Blow, bugler blow, until thy silver notes do touch and kiss the moonlit waves, charming the wandering lovers on the vine-clad hill; but know your sweetest strains are discords all compared with childhood's happy laugh—the laugh that fills the eyes with light, and dimples every cheek with joy. Oh, rippling river of laughter, thou art the blessed boundary line between the beast and man, and every wayward wave of thine doth drown some fretful flood of care.

Eli Perkins at the Opera House Friday evening, March 23rd.

IN AN ENTIRELY

Haliburton Heathens.

A Haliburton correspondent writes:—"An English clergyman, sent out by the London Society for the Conversion of the Heathen, passed through this village last week on his way to his mission at Cheddar, in the township of Cardiff. The Society pays him a handsome stipend, which is collected in England, and his work of converting the heathens covers a district sufficiently large to include this village. I am glad of that. Several of my friends and acquaintances are heathens who require much conversion, and the new minister may do them good. The reverend gentleman's name, I believe, is Whapem, and he is accompanied by Mrs. Whapem and a young lady, a friend of Mrs. Whapem's, who has come with them merely to spend a brief season among the Canadian heathens. Funny people, those English, ain't they? Just imagine them sending a person to convert the people of Haliburton from heathenism! Nevertheless, we all wish the reverend gentleman God speed, and will do what we can to make his mission among us heathens agreeable. I wonder if the London Society think that we are cannibals."

NEW PROGRAMME

"Beware the Viddera."

The assessors are quietly progressing with their work and expect soon to be through. They meet with amusing incidents occasionally to enliven the dull routine of their labor. Not long ago on a back street the "gentlemen of the rolls" called at a widow's house. The door was locked and their knock was not answered. They then reconnoitered about the windows, and this action brought down on them the vengeance of the fair occupant. She wouldn't let them in, seeing from the style of her uncomplimentary remarks to be of opinion that her visitors had sinister designs in view. One of them in particular came in for abuse. She declared she had just got up from a sick-bed and was in no condition to see anyone, while at the same time she was prancing about from door to window and screaming at the top of her voice. In fact, the assessors are not certain but she said a few bad words in her excitement, which grew more fierce as they persisted. Finally the threat to bring her before the police magistrate next morning had a wonderfully soothing effect, and the angry woman cooled down sufficiently to give the desired information, though with very bad grace. The assessors knew the value of Samuel Weller's advice to his son: "Samivel, beware of the viddera."

The price paid for the stock of Stenson Bros. was 70½c. on the $.

The general stock of Mr. George Garnett, Bethany, was purchased by Mr. C. Moore, Orillia, at 62c. on the $.

Examiner Bindery.

Merchants and business men, now is the time to call at the EXAMINER bindery and leave your orders for journals, day books, ledgers, invoice books, cheque books, and all blank books used in business. Don't wait till the moment you want to use them. All blank books last longer for not being used immediately after being finished.

Funeral of the Late Geo. Baker.

On Wednesday afternoon the funeral of the late Geo. Baker, blacksmith, took place, and, in spite of the inclement weather, was largely attended. To show in what high esteem the deceased was held by those who knew him best, his late fellow employes in the Peter Hamilton Agricultural Works (which were shut down for the day), where he was employed for years, turned out to the number of seventy, and walked in procession in front of the hearse, while a large number of citizens followed in carriages. The deceased, who also was employed with Mr. Wm. Hamilton for a long time, was considered one of the best, (if not the best), and most skilful mechanics in town, and will be remembered as a quiet, inoffensive, industrious citizen.

M. Sullivan & Co.

A new dry goods firm is presenting strong claims to the patronage of the public. M. Sullivan & Co., have purchased from Messrs. T. Dolan & Co. the dry goods business of the firm as carried in the shop numbered "2" in the Clarke block, Messrs. Dolan & Co. intending to devote their attention exclusively to the ready-made and ordered clothing and gents' furnishing business. The stock purchased by Messrs. Sullivan & Co. consists of entirely new, fresh goods purchased for the spring trade, a large portion of which consists of goods imported directly from the English markets, which will in a few days be offered to the public at great reductions. The store will be closed to-morrow for the purpose of marking down the goods, which will commend themselves to buyers as the cheapest line of genuine fresh and seasonable goods ever offered to the public.

The Carters Fined.

The carters' trucks are now about all numbered. The numbers are painted on tin and nailed on the side of each wagon. Town Clerk Macdonald has the numbers ready for any of those who have not yet received them. Each carter receives, in addition to his number, a copy of the new license by-law and a couple of cards bearing the tariff of rates, which reads as follows:—

Under the provisions of By-law No. 535, the tariff of charges for Trucks and other vehicles licensed under said By-law shall be as hereunder, and no higher or other charges shall be paid to or collected by any person so licensed:

For every hour complete for a two horse wagon or vehicle	$ .75
For single horse, wagon or vehicle	.50
For every half hour, or fraction thereof over a two horse wagon or vehicle	.50
For a one horse wagon or vehicle	.25

Fifty per cent. to be added to these rates for any hour engaged between 7 p.m. and 7 a.m.

At the Opera House.

As a drama "Daniel Boone" does not take with a critical Peterborough audience; as a mirth-provoking farce it succeeds admirably. The Opera House last night was well filled, the gallery gods especially turning out in full force. The play is one that it would be impossible to present by any but a first class company, and even then it would be but a spiritless, meagre representation. It abounds with thrilling climaxes and timely rescues, stacks of guns are piled up on the stage, a large quantity of ammunition is wasted to frighten the women and children in the audience, and dead men lay thick about the floor. There were half a dozen Indians and a number of settlers concerned in the play, the scene of which was located in Kentucky, in the early days of American history. The "redskin sarpints" are, of course, in the end exterminated by the courageous whites, but the mournful absurdities enacted upon the stage during their career were simply excruciating to behold. Indians on the war-path are not generally supposed to be covered with tinkling ornaments that fill the hall with their rattle, and it is exceedingly bad taste for a trapper to walk about among sleeping redskins with squeaky boots when his discovery meant instant death. The company bore up well, however, under the distressing circumstances and a few took their parts well. "Blackfish," the chief of the Shawnees, was a good character, and J. H. Griffin as "Sol Butternut," a negro, created much amusement. A few good features of the play was the introduction of a horse in the first act, which was well trained and did somewhat to the effect. The duel on horseback in the second act had to be dispensed with, the stage being too small. Probably the most touching part of the whole play was little Lillie's song. "Daniel Boone" pleased a great many in the congregation who admire plays of the "blood and thunder" class—and everyone joined in the laughter, whether from genuine amusement or ridicule, and so they got their money's worth.

Fraserville.

(From a Correspondent.)

There was a concert and debate held in the agricultural hall, Friday evening. The concert portion consisted of a very good programme of vocal and instrumental music and tableaux. In one of the tableaux the premature explosion of the red light compound blew off the coat-tail of one of the parties in the tableau. It was hardly a "fair" shake but it couldn't be helped. The sorrows acted their farce capitally, and Miss Fair's recitation was unusually excellent. The debate upon the relative superiority of the independence of the farmer and the mechanic, was ably conducted. Sandy occupied the chair and held the balance of judgment. After due deliberation he gave the decision in favor of the farmer. The Bellbichere Brass Band generously placed their music and services at the disposal of the company on the occasion.

It would be only "fair" to state that at the time of the explosion of the red light compound the building would, in all probability, have been burned had it not been for the presence of mind and the No. 15 boots of a gentleman present, who stamped out the incipient conflagration with one gigantic half-acre stamp. It is proposed to give this gentleman a new pair of boots in recognition of his heroism, and the next debate will be on the subject of whether it would be advisable in the present high state of the leather market to have the testimonial take the form of a pair of boots or a leather medal. It will not be necessary to announce the result of the debate in the papers. The public will know if the leather market takes a jump up that the boots have been decided on.

A Colossal Institution.

Very few of the many people who everywhere see and read the advertisements of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, Pleasant Purgative Pellets and Favorite Prescription, know that the Doctor, whose name is so used as the trade mark and guarantee of efficiency, is at the head of one of the most reliable and carefully systematized medical institutions in the world. It is located in the City of Buffalo, where, in separate, though adjoining buildings of giant proportions, invalids are received and cared for, and his far-famed medicines manufactured and packed for shipment.

The establishment is known to the whole civilized world as the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute; and some little idea of the magnitude of its operations may be gathered from the significant fact that contracts with eight thousand newspapers supply the public with advertisements of its universally admitted excellence as a health resort and also of the time-attested virtues of its curatives. Two hundred and fifty operatives daily lend their utmost efforts to the good work, and under a system of perfect discipline which makes a visit to the Hotel and Dispensary a matter of pleasure and astonishment.

The Hotel structure is the first one inspected by the visitor and presents a picture and fulfillment of solid comfort and luxury which almost engenders a distaste for robust health and a desire to convalesce in the midst of such luxurious surroundings, for all time to come. Splendidly decorated and elegantly furnished Reception and Reading-rooms and Parlors, together with handsome offices and wide halls, grace the ground floor, which is surmounted by an array of superbly equipped sleeping apartments, Turkish Bathe, ladies' parlors, and all the numberless features that go together to create a veritable Palace of Health and Comfort. Eighteen prominent physicians and surgeons are in permanent attendance.

By the time that the visitor reaches the open passageway which connects the Hotel and Surgical Institute with the World's Dispensary building, he will have become inured to the elegancies of the establishment and be in condition to express no surprise at anything he may see. He, however, will certainly see and hear enough to astonish anyone unacquainted with the minutiæ of this noble institution.

On the fifth floor we find the immense Laboratory, peopled with careful chemists and an army of assistants actively engaged in the preparation of the "Golden Medical Discovery," "Favorite Prescription," and other world-famed preparations, which are transmitted by a perfect system of tubing to the bottling and packing department in the great basement of the structure. Leaving the Laboratory, you see everywhere the matchless swiftness and dexterity of skilled labor, and listen to the song of ponderous steam-pounders, grinders, crushers and mixers. Fourteen large printing presses, and innumerable folding, pasting and trimming machines, that yield ready obedience to the fingers and scores of young ladies, who conduct this industry as a means of comfortable livelihood, assured them on a basis of short hours and good pay, are also marked features of the establishment.

The career of Dr. Pierce shows just how rapidly and surely a man can mount the rocky steep of success when the dual forces of perseverance and skill are always at his command.

This grand institution as it stands to-day, an honor to the science of medicine and surgery and a blessing to suffering humanity, is one that every citizen of the States has a perfect and legitimate right to feel a pride and interest in. It is a great enterprise and is skillfully performing a great work, and we honor ourselves in recommending its many excellencies to public attention and inspection.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

A VIOLATION OF AN ACKNOWLEDGED RULE OF COURTESY.

Two Supporters of the Ministry Rise in Succession to Speak on the Free Trade Resolution—Dr. Borden of Nova Scotia Makes a Telling Speech in Support of the Motion.

OTTAWA, March 22.—George F. Baird, of Queen's County fame, resumed the debate on the Reciprocity motion to-day. He said that there appeared to be two kinds of patriots in the House: the despondent patriots and the hopeful patriots, the latter being on the Ministerial side. There was a splendid opportunity for trade in natural products between Canada and South America, and he hoped to see the measures taken in that direction result in success.

In violation of the rule of courtesy, under which members on either side shall follow turn about, Mr. Monerief rose as soon as Mr. Baird resumed his seat. He filled up the rest of the time during the afternoon. Mr. Monerief struck rather a new line in the debate. Looking at the question from a standpoint of political economy, he contended that the establishment of relations of Unrestricted Reciprocity with the United States as a protection country would be injurious to the Dominion. He expressed the opinion that in view of the statements of Mr. Blake at Malvern the Opposition were pledged not to assail the N.P., and those who favored Reciprocity should submit themselves again to the verdict of their constituents before voting for it. Mr. Skinner of St. John, N.B., followed. His speech caused not a little comment and aroused a good deal of curiosity as to how he would vote, for, while his principal arguments seemed to favor the Liberal view, most of his points were enthusiastically received by the Conservatives. He said he had promised before the election not to attack the National Policy, his reason being that, aside from the question of good or bad in the National Policy, it was advisable to have permanency in the system in use. He deprecated, however, the laying of too great stress upon any one idea, such as National Policy or Reciprocity. The N.P., he said, was intended to cultivate internal trade, but too great attention to that be compared to a man strengthening his right arm and allowing his left to wither. Protection, he said, was congestion, drawing trade to the centre, but taking it from the extremities, and from this he had argued that Ontario, which was interested more in internal trade, was benefited more by Protection than some parts of the Maritime Provinces, interested largely in shipping and export trade.

Dr. Borden of Kings, one of the most popular of Nova Scotia's representatives, followed. He is an easy, graceful speaker, and excelled most of his predecessors in this debate in the pithiness and brevity of his address. He devoted a considerable part of his time to answering Mr. Mills of Annapolis, his neighbor, though on the other side of the House. The difficulty with the argument of Mr. Mills and others, he said, was that they lost sight of the advantage of a country buying where it sold. Otherwise the trade must be done at greater expense than it should be. Mr. Mills seemed to think that because the Annapolis Valley grew great quantities of apples, the people, therefore, must be contented, his idea being apparently that their wants were wholly supplied by apples. Those who heard him must have thought that the people used apple leaves for clothing, as men's first parents used fig leaves in the Garden of Eden. But they must have other things to supply their wants, and for this purpose they must sell their products and buy other things. He pointed out to what a great extent the United States was the market for the products of the Annapolis Valley, and referred to the decrease in land values since Reciprocity was abolished as proof that upon access to this market depended the full prosperity of the people. While these lands laid out in orchards had increased in value, the ordinary farms of the Annapolis Valley were worth only half what they were in 1866, the last year of the Reciprocity Treaty. He dwelt upon the fact that formerly the Conservatives were in favor of Reciprocity, and showed that the very object of establishing the N.P. was to secure free trade with the United States. He ridiculed, therefore, the position taken in the amendment proposed by the Government, declaring that the N.P. must be maintained, even though Reciprocity should never be secured.

Dr. Sproule of Grey, and Major-General Laurie of Shelburne, spoke in opposition to Reciprocity.

Mr. Robertson, P.E.I., said that he knew what he was talking about when he said a great many people left his part of the country for the United States. He attacked the N.P. from a Prince Edward Island stand point, and said the farmers of that Island were in a bad condition. All they ask of was a commercial trade with the United States, not a political union. This was all they asked for in the resolution.

He quoted statistics to show that during Reciprocity the exports exceeded the imports and since that time it was just the opposite. He believed that with Reciprocity our exports would be trebled. In conclusion he said if the bad times in Prince Edward Island continued much longer the reaction would be so great that we must have repeal as a remedy.

Hon. Mr. Thompson laid on the table of the House copies of all correspondence relative to the fisheries which transpired up to the time of the meeting of the commission. It contains nothing new relative to trade matters, and merely completed the correspondence brought down last session. This is the correspondence that the Minister of Justice promised to present to the House a few days ago.

Mr. Kenny moved the adjournment of the debate, and the House adjourned at 12.45.

The Fisheries Protocols.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The President sent a brief message to the Senate to-day in reply to a resolution introduced by Senator Frye, requesting the President to transmit to the Senate copies of the minutes and daily protocols of the meeting of the commissioners who negotiated the fisheries treaty with Great Britain. He enclosed a copy of the letter received from the Secretary of State on the subject, in which Mr. Bayard says:

Every point submitted to the conference is covered by the papers now in possession of the Senate, excepting the question of damages sustained by our fishermen, which, being met by the counter claim for damages to British vessels in Behring Sea, was left for future settlement.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

A Settlement Said to Have Been Reached in the Manitoba Situation.

OTTAWA, March 22.—Dr. Platt, the newly elected member for Prince Edward County, took his seat to-day. In conversation with a newspaper representative the doctor said that Unrestricted Reciprocity was the sole issue upon which he ran. He had written to The Globe denying the statement that he could not have been elected except on that issue, but not disclaiming the issue itself. He had the support of a number of moderate Conservatives and was elected squarely upon the issue of Free Trade relations with the United States. He had to contend with great odds, owing to influence of the Government. Dr. Platt's victory was a significant one, as it voices the opinion of an important Ontario constituency on the vital question of the day.

The Ontario Government having offered the corporation of Port Arthur a free central site for the new postoffice and customs house, Sir Hector Langevin is in receipt of resolutions passed at a public meeting in Port Arthur urging the erection of the building on this site. There is some hitch, however, as the Dominion Government cannot understand the choice of a site which does not allow two prices for it to some out-and-out supporter.

Mr. Pope, Minister of Railways, is improving. The story is told that when Sir John Macdonald went to see the sick minister he said: "Pope, you're looking devilish bad; you had better go and see the revivalists, Crossley and Hunter." "Sir John," Pope replied in his dry way, "your Methodist revivalists are not strong enough for me. I think I will follow the example of Blake and Mercier and go to Rome."

John Lowe, Secretary of the Department of Agriculture, gave evidence before the Committee of Agriculture and Colonization this morning. He stated that during the past year $312,890 had been spent in immigration. During the year 34,826 immigrants arrived. Of these, 21,865 went to Manitoba and the Northwest and 3000 to British Columbia, and 1200 Icelanders settled in Manitoba. It cost $51,000 to bring them here, and they brought $90,000 with them. The Government has notified the steamship companies that they would discontinue assisted passages on April 27.

Senator Trudel is ill.

Sir Chas. Tupper was well enough to attend council to-day and take part in the proceedings.

It is said that Sir John A. Macdonald has expressed an opinion that before another year passes away Newfoundland will be a full-fledged province of Confederation.

Mr. Hagyart will move an amendment to the Canada Temperance Act, in effect that nothing in the act shall interfere with the purchase or sale by legally qualified physicians, chemists or druggists of the following articles: (1) The official preparations of the authorized pharmacopoia when made of full medicinal strength and sold only for medicinal purposes; (2) physicians' prescriptions containing spirituous liquors, if sold in quantities of not more than ten ounces at any time; (3) any patent medicine, unless such is known to the vendor to be capable of being used as a beverage, the sale of which is a violation of the Canada Temperance Act of 1878; (4) eau de cologne, bay rum, or other articles of perfumery, lotions, extracts, varnishes, tinctures, or other pharmacist preparations containing alcohol but not included for use as beverages; (5) alcohol or methylated spirits.

Mr. Dansereau is mentioned as a probable successor to the late Senator Rolland of Montreal.

A deputation to-day waited on Hon. Mr. Chapleau, and asked him to use his influence in having Captain Labelle, M. P., appointed to the vacancy of the Montreal Harbor Commission caused by Senator Rolland's death.

COTTAGES FOR THE INSANE

FIFTY ACRES OF TORONTO ASYLUM TO BE PUT IN THE MARKET.

Four New Cottages to be Built at Mimico—Advantages of the New System—Accommodation For 300 Patients to be Provided This Year.

TORONTO, March 23.

In the supplementary estimates just passed by the Ontario Legislature, is an item of $160,000 for asylum cottages at Mimico. Half of this sum is to be expended this year in the construction of four so-called cottages. It may be thought that this action on the part of the Government is the first step towards the removal of the present asylum from the city. There appears to be no ground for this supposition. Insanity is on the increase. The Province has not sufficient accommodation for its inmates, and hence the necessity for this extra expenditure. The four cottages will accommodate 300 patients. When they are completed and filled the big Toronto institution will just be as crowded as it is to-day. But while there is at present no intention of moving the asylum from the city yet it is pretty well understood that the Government will shortly sell some fifty acres of the asylum lands. Shaw-street and Dovercourt-road will be extended to the Esplanade, and the land along these streets placed in the market. If the Government does this it will in a great measure remove the objections that the people in the west end have raised against the asylum property retarding business enterprise.

The cottage system for lunatics is one that Dr. Clark has been agitating for ten years past. The points in favor of this system appear to be: Safety in the case of fire, more sunshine and air, it is more homelike, affords a better classification of patients, and permits of better ventilation.

The cottages being but two storeys in height there is less stair climbing, which is a point in favor of this class of building. Epileptics and dangerous maniacs can be completely isolated from the other patients. These are all very important points, says Dr. Clark, in the treatment of the insane.

For the present the cottages are to be self-contained. Each building will contain its own heating apparatus, its own laundry, its own cuisine and its own executive. But the idea is, when the number of the cottages is increased, to have one central executive building from which the whole system will be managed. This building will contain the heating apparatus for all the others, and will do all the cooking and laundrying. The cottages are to be built of brick, at a cost of about $12,500 each. This will make the cost per patient $650 as against $950 per patient in the present building, exclusive of the value of the real estate. Were such a building as the asylum to be put up under present building prices the comparison would be even much more favorable to the cottage system. In fact it would cost more than four times as much to build a single structure for 700 patients as it would to build fourteen smaller ones for the same number of patients. Taking an average of the cost of a large number of asylum buildings it is found that the cost per patient ranges from $450 to $1000. It will be seen that Ontario is getting the work done a long way below the average, and it is claimed the buildings will be in every respect suitable for the purpose for which they are intended. The Government has 2500 acres at Mimico which it has set apart for asylum purposes.

Ontario has at the present time one insane person to each 615 inhabitants, and the latter figure is becoming smaller from year to year. It has been asserted that rile green tea and a solitary moody life tends to breed more insanity among farmers than among any other class. This, Dr. Clark says, is not the fact; that more business men go crazy than any other class. The more brain work the more insanity.

The buildings at Mimico will be under the control of the authorities of the Toronto Asylum. It is the intention of the Public Works Department to go ahead with the buildings at once and have them completed and occupied this fall. At any subsequent time it will be an easy matter to increase the accommodation as required. A cottage can be erected in three or four months, whereas it would take a couple of years to add a wing to a large building like the present asylum, and it would besides be very much more expensive.

The Bell's Demand on the Pan.

ST. LOUIS, March 21.—The Pan Telephone Company in this city was served yesterday with a notice by the Bell Telephone Company to account to them at once for damages sustained by them through the use of the Pan telephones in the city and to surrender their telephone instruments and apparatus within five days under penalty of damage suits for infringement.

Where Winter Lingers.

CHICAGO, March 21.—Advices from Northern Wisconsin, Dakota and Northern Minnesota and Arizona say that one of the severest snow and windstorms of the season prevailed yesterday and last evening.

A DISASTROUS COLLISION.

FIVE NORTHERN RAILWAY MEN KILLED AT SEVERN BRIDGE.

A Snow Plow and a Freight Train Collide—The Shock Instantaneous—Roadmaster Wilson's Head Nearly Severed From the Body.

GRAVENHURST, March 22.—A fatal accident occurred three miles north of Severn Bridge, and nine miles south of here to-day on the Northern Railway by a collision between a special freight going south and a snow plow going north. Five men were killed and four injured.

The killed are Roadmaster George Wilson, W. Fockler, S. Tisdale, W. Hope and R. Gilpin, all of Allandale.

The snow-plow, containing a gang of nine men inside to work the flanges in addition to the ordinary train hands, left Allandale Junction this morning under holding orders, bound for Gravenhurst, and had proceeded on without interruption till it collided with a special engine and van which was proceeding southward under orders to cross the snow-plow at Severn Bridge. About 11.45 the Central Telephone office here was asked to notify all the doctors in town that an accident had occurred and that a special train was waiting to carry them to the scene, and they and all assistance were promptly sent forward, but it was impossible to remove the wreck or extract some of the dead men from under the debris. Machinery has been ordered from Allandale to clear the track.

One of the wounded stated that the shock was instantaneous and that they had no notice whatever of the danger till they heard the crash and all was over. The dead appear to have been instantly killed. Roadmaster Wilson's head is nearly severed from the body and the others are frightfully mangled.

It is reported that Washago Station had instructions to put up an order board in time to hold the snow plow but only received it when too late. The agent did all he could to alarm the train hands, but as there was no semaphore the train went on to destruction.

It is reported that Conductor Glassford of the snow plow has left for parts unknown. An inquest was commenced to-night over the five bodies at the Gravenhurst Station. The injured men, English, Smith and Landry, all of Allandale, are doing well.

THE QUEBEC RESOLUTIONS.

Passed in the Nova Scotia Assembly by a Vote of 32 to 12.

HALIFAX, March 22.—The resolutions adopted at the Quebec Inter-provincial Conference were moved in the House of Assembly this afternoon by Premier Fielding, who spoke in their support for two hours. Attorney-General Longley seconded them, but made no speech. There were immediate cries of "Question," and the vote was taken, the resolutions passing, 32 to 12.

Canadian Press Deputation.

OTTAWA, March 22.—A deputation representing the Canadian Press Association to-day waited on the Minister of Justice and asked for amendments to the law of libel. It was composed of Messrs. Innes, Somerville and Ellis, M.P.'s, Messrs. John Cameron (Globe), W. Watt (Brantford Expositor), J. B. Noyes (Port Hope Times), G. R. Pattulle (Woodstock Sentinel), W. Southam and members of the House of Commons Press Galley. Mr. Innes, M.P., introduced the delegation after which Mr. Cameron explained the nature of the amendments required which have already been published. Messrs. Innes and Noyes supported the views expressed.

Hon. Mr. Thompson said he did not think at the interview of last session he promised absolutely to introduce a bill embodying the amendment referred to, as some of the members of the deputation evidently understood, but still he was in sympathy with their views and would place the whole matter before his colleagues.

Mr. St. Jean, President of the Press Gallery, asked the Minister if he was in sympathy with the opinion that it was a hardship for a newspaper publisher or editor to be compelled to defend a charge of libel in a court outside of the province in which the alleged libellous article was published.

Mr. Thompson said he thought he was and he thought no action for criminal proceedings should be allowed until after an enquiry had been made or the approval of the Attorney-General had been obtained.

With reference to opening all the courts to newspaper reporters, he did not think any act should interfere with judges holding private sessions if they thought proper so to do. It would not do to interfere with this right.

After the deputation withdrew a meeting was held and a resolution passed declaring in the interests of the public press it was desirable that the agitation for the desired amendment should be continued until the remedy was obtained.

Death of Senator Rolland.

OTTAWA, March 23.—In the Senate to-day Mr. Abbott and Mr. Lacoste made feeling references to the death of Senator Rolland, which took place at his home in Montreal at 1 o'clock this morning.

The Modern Sphynx

Miss Minnie Phelps' Eloquent Elucidation of the Mystery.

Considering the weather and several counter attractions there was a fair audience in the Baptist Church Tuesday night to listen to an address by Miss Phelps on the question of Prohibition from the text of the "Modern Sphynx." The chair was occupied by Mrs. Kendry, President of the W.C.T.U., and on the pulpit platform with her were Miss Sanderson, president of the "Y," and the fair lecturer, a rather petite, semi-blonde lady clad in a plainly made black satin gown and a fur-lined cloak thrown over her shoulders. After devotional exercises, consisting of a hymn announced by Rev. P. Clifton Parker and prayers by Rev. I. Tovell, the Y.M.C.A. quartette sang "Speed Away," and Miss Schofield, "Where is Heaven." After a few brief introductory remarks by Mrs. Kendry,—

Miss PHELPS began her address by sketching the history and meaning of the Egyptian Sphynx, and comparing it to the Modern Sphynx, the drink traffic, which was as old as mankind; whose chief prop was the love of gain. The nations of antiquity fell because they yielded to the vice of drink. When they were temperate they were prosperous and great. The custom of kissing on the mouth originated in the time of Romulus, to test whether wine had been drunk, an act punishable with death. The Romans introduced the drink habit in England, and in the time of Edward VI. the first license law was passed, upon which all subsequent license laws had been based. An experience of 300 years had shown the powerlessness to regulate the evil, in fact it had grown stronger and was able to dictate to the state. Mr. Calcutt's notorious election letter was read to show that the liquor trade could even dictate to the government. License was no solution to the problem. The history of the women's crusade, which led to the W.C.T.U., was sketched and their influence strongly painted. The W.C.T.U. was 14 years of age, with a strong membership which had extended to Europe and even to India. Moral suasion had failed to solve the problem. The saloon was denounced as a public nuisance, hostile to the interest of the state and home, and its suppression was necessary. Prohibition was the only solution of the problem. (Applause.) The liquor dealer was only a servant of the state and should be dismissed when he was found unprofitable. It was plainly within the rights of society to deal with the liquor traffic. The temperance cause was the cause of the home. After painting pathetically the moroseness of home, the speaker closed by predicting the speedy triumph of the cause. The speech was an able effort, and many new and striking arguments were adduced.

After a "Vote of Thanks" by the Y.M.C.A. Quartette, a vote of thanks, moved by Rev. I. Tovell and seconded by Rev. P. Clifton Parker, the proceedings closed with the benediction by Rev. Mr. Thompson.

The Woes and Wants of Bulgaria.

"Waft, Waft, ye Winds, the Story"—"Come Over Into Macedonia."

There was a good attendance at the meeting in St. Paul's Church Sunday School room on Thursday evening, to hear the address by Mr. Stanoff, the Bulgarian missionary. After singing, Rev. Mr. Torrance read a portion of Scripture, offered prayer, and then introduced the visitor.

Mr. STANOFF, who is a graduate of Oberlin, is an intelligent looking gentleman, and in appearance would be taken for an ordinary citizen of this country. He dresses in plain clothing, and wears a full dark beard—there being nothing remarkable about him to distinguish him as a born Bulgarian. He speaks the English language freely, but with a slight foreign accent. A map of Bulgaria was traced out on a blackboard behind the speaker, showing the geographical position of Bulgaria and the adjoining States. Mr. Stanoff said that thirty-five years ago nothing was known in the civilized world about Bulgaria, and the progress made since then was very remarkable. The people then did not learn from books, as there were none. He learned first from and the method of instructing pupils was very difficult, tedious and painful. He had to learn 37 Bulgarian letters in this way in three days, after which lessons were taught from characters rudely formed on sheepskins, which were fresced and hung upon the wall for the instruction of the pupils in the higher classes. In these classes he had to stand from 7 to 8 hours at a time with chalk marks around the feet, and if he moved during that time the heavy ruler was brought down upon his head. This trying ordeal caused much suffering and sickness. He gave a pathetic account of the joy that filled their hearts when the first book appeared in Bulgaria, which was a portion of the New Testament, printed by the British missionaries, and sent secretly into Bulgaria. In the face of the great danger of being discovered, his mother used to read to the family, and instruct them in the religious truths it contained,—for had it been known that she did so, their lives would have been sacrificed. After a time a great change took place, caused by the introduction of the Bible; and a rapid demand for the Scriptures began. He described the beauties of the scenery in Central Bulgaria, with its mountains and valleys of picturesque splendour; one valley, which he had often visited, being 100 miles in length, was in the month of May, and he regarded it as the garden of the world. The Turks, however, became aggressive, and it was not long before their beautiful country was desolated and turned into a wilderness. The horrors of that time he could not properly depict. Villages were burned up, and human lives sacrificed by the thousand. He lost his father and all their property during this period. The Turkish atrocities of the time were well known to all the world. But after a time the missionaries again returned, nothing daunted; and now he could say with pride, that, although 20 years ago he had to write in the sand, to-day in common education and literature than Russia or Servia, and in no other part of Europe, except in Great Britain, does as much liberty exist as in Bulgaria. The Bulgarians drink no wine nor use tobacco, and are ignorant of many of the habits that he saw with surprise as prevalent in this country. The reading of the Bible in the schools was enforced; there was no State religion, the churches being self-sustaining. The question was often asked him, how was the Bulgarian difficulty to be solved? He did not know, but he thought it would be as easy to undo the sun from rising as for Russia to stop Bulgarian progress. Russia could not check it so long as Bulgaria adhered to the Bible and secured British assistance and sympathy. He then pointed out on the map the mission fields and their charges: that of Northern Bulgaria was in charge of the Methodist Church, Southern Bulgaria of the Congregationalists (although the Presbyterians have done much of the work), and the Macedonian portion of the State was in charge of the Presbyterians. He concluded by portraying the sufferings which the Macedonians have passed through and the sacrifices that were made by many families to encourage Christian work in his land, and appealed to the sympathies of his audience for help and assistance.

FILLED WITH ROSES

BULGARIA STANDS HIGHER

A collection was taken up at the close of the lecture.

BUYING OFF A MONOPOLY.

Fifteen Million Dollars to be Paid the Canadian Pacific Railway.

OTTAWA, March 22.—The Dominion Government have purchased from the Canadian Pacific Railway, for an equivalent of $15,000,000 cash, the monopoly in Manitoba.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The funeral of Mr. Wheeler D. Matthews, the "barley king," took place to Mount Pleasant cemetery yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance of citizens, the Toronto Board of Trade being especially represented.

The Central Executive Council of the New Party met yesterday for business. An address to the electors of the Dominion was adopted and ordered to be printed for general circulation, together with the address of the President at the Convention. A sub-committee was appointed to draft detailed plans for local organization, to be submitted to the full Council for consideration. The name of H. M. Winnett of London was added to the Council, under authority conferred by the Convention. Another meeting will be held shortly.

Insane Asylum Supt. Clark and Inspector Christie yesterday visited the jail in reference to the lunatics confined there. They found the institution contained 23 insane people, most of them chronic incurables. Dr. Clark reported that four at least were curable under asylum treatment, and they will probably be removed to the asylum.

A private letter received in Toronto yesterday from Mrs. Edward Blake states that Mr. Blake will probably be in Canada by the end of April.

The Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association elected these officers yesterday: J. J. Kenny, Toronto, President; S. C. Duncan-Clarke, Toronto, Vice-President; William Tatley, Montreal, Second Vice-President.

To be Prorogued To-day.

TORONTO, March 23.—The Ontario Legislature will conclude the second session of its sixth assembly to-day. The House will meet to dispose of formal business at 2 o'clock, and soon after the prorogation ceremony will begin.

The Oporto Calamity.

LISBON, March 22.—No one yet knows how many lives have been lost in the calamity at Oporto. The latest advices state that upward of 103 bodies or fragments of bodies have been recovered. It is believed that all the people in the upper galleries, which held over 200, were killed.

A Divorce Case Settled.

MONTREAL, March 22.—The divorce case of Middleton v. Middleton, a result of the elopement of Mrs. Middleton with Fenwick Hamilton from Ottawa last year, and which caused such a sensation at the time, all the parties being connected with the highest circles of Canadian society, has been all but settled, and the public will be deprived of some sensational revelations in court. The relatives of the parties have been moving heaven and earth to persuade the injured parties to withdraw the petition to Parliament for divorce, and late this evening arrangements were made by which this will be done. This action will also stop proceedings in several libel suits brought by Hamilton against some Canadian papers in which he claimed many thousand dollars damages.

Why Laura Lost Her Beau.

Laura once had an affluent beau,
Who called twice a fortnight, or so,
Now she sits, Sunday eve.
All lonely to grieve,
Oh where is her reverent beau,
And why did he leave Laura so?

Why, he saw that Laura was a languishing, delicate girl, subject to sick headaches, sensitive nerves and uncertain tempers; and knowing what a life-long trial is a fretful, sickly wife, he transferred his attentions to her cheerful, healthy cousin, Ellen. The secret is that Laura's health and strength are sapped by chronic weakness, peculiar to her sex, which Ellen averts and avoids by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is the only remedy, for women's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case or money will be refunded. See guarantee on bottle wrapper. c

PHRENOLOGY

The True Science of Mind.

MR. WM. RAINES OAKLEY,

THE NOTED PHRENOLOGIST and POET of Canada, is in Town. He will remain for a few days, and continue to give faithful descriptions of character as formerly. Terms, very moderate.

In Phreno-Science all may find Something useful to mankind;
There is naught you need to fear.
When the Head is very clear;
When the thoughts connect in threads
Then's the time to read your Heads.

. . . . . .

Now, what you are, and what may be,
Let the PHRENOLOGIST see!

THE COAL CARTAGE COMPANY.

Ottawa Committee Investigating an Ottawa Combine.

OTTAWA, March 22.—While the politicians wrangle over the respective merits and demerits of so-called Commercial Union and Unrestricted Reciprocity, Ottawa's enterprising coal dealers, resolving to test the theory by practice, appear to have adopted quite a scheme of Commercial Union of their own. The Combines Committee heard evidence on this subject this morning.

The local coal combine bears the innocent sounding name of the Ottawa Coal Cartage Company. It was incorporated under the Ontario Act in July, 1886, the stock being held in large amounts by Messrs. Batterworth, Ray & McCullough, coal dealers, and in nominal amounts by two other parties not in the trade, but put in to make up the necessary number of incorporators. This company is virtually the selling agent, wholesale and retail, for its members, who take their orders from the public and pass them into the Cartage Company for execution. The retail price is mutually agreed upon between the members of the company and the dealers, not stock holders, who are in affiliation and who are allowed to share in the profits. For instance, Senator Clemow is not a stock holder but pleased with the company in the season of 1886 and 1887 orders amounting to upwards of 4000 tons and his share of profits was reckoned at $2000. Messrs. Thompson and Browne, two other dealers affiliated, although not stock holders, had $2000 profits divided between them.

The net profit on the 21,000 tons of coal handled by the company during the first year of its existence was $33,845, or $1.60 per ton. The capital of the company is $75,000 and the net profit therefrom figured up at about 200 per cent. additional private capital necessary to carry on the individual firms. This was the pith of the information elicited by an examination of P. Learmonth, the secretary or accountant of the company, who put in by request the minutes of the meetings and several other documents expected to prove of considerable interest. The committee did not look into them at all to-day. Mr. Learmonth was of opinion, for reasons not quite apparent to the committee, that the poor consumer had been benefited by the actions of this combine.

Mr. W. H. Easton, a local coal dealer who is not in the ring, was next examined, he having a complaint against them that they had been instrumental in preventing him getting his coal from the Delaware and Lackawanna Coal Company, from whom they purchased, or from any other American coal companies. The coal he had handled he got from Mr. Swift, a Kingston dealer, who made a profit on the transaction of the difference between the long and short ton. For this commission Mr. Swift would purchase coal from the Delaware and Lackawanna Company and have it delivered direct to Ottawa, the freight to this point being the same as to Kingston. But this had been stopped at the instance of the ring, the Delaware and Lackawanna Company refusing to sell any more to Swift for delivery at Ottawa. He had them, in order to fill orders, to buy from Swift at Kingston and pay freight from there to Ottawa, nearly $30. He last about $1 a ton on all the coal he handled under this arrangement but had to suffer this loss in order to get his money for orders already partly filled. He considered the dealers' average profit on coal to be nearer $1.25 than 25 cents a ton.

The Binding Twine Combine.

Further examination into the local coal combine was then postponed in order to hear a couple of witnesses from a distance, who were present to tell about the binding twine combine. These witnesses were Mr. J. Connor, a representative of a St. John, N.B., factory, and A. F. Massey, President of the Massey Manufacturing Company of Toronto. This alleged binding twine combination has, during the past year, had a great deal of attention from the Toronto and western Ontario press, who have held it to be a burden upon the farmers. Hence the enquiry by the committee.

Mr. Connor said there was a combination in Canada but prices had not been unduly advanced. The combination in New York on the raw material was to crush out the Canadian manufacture. The price of binding twine in Canada was as low as in the United States, and some years back and previous to the New York combine, much lower.

Mr. Massey said the Canadian product was sold at just the same price as the American was sold for after paying import duties. He did not think our twine manufacturers should make two profits, as he claimed they did when they made their price as high as American twine could be bought for, and in the belief that the profit was too large, his firm was about to put up a factory [illegible]

Death of Senator Holland.

MONTREAL, March 22.—Hon. Senator Holland died at his residence early this morning. Deceased was one of Montreal's oldest and wealthiest citizens. He was a member of the Board of Harbor Commissioners, and was only called to the Senate a few months ago to succeed Mr. Boucal, and has never been sworn in or taken his seat. He was a staunch Conservative, and was head of the paper firm of J. B. Rolland & Sons.

The Moon's Influence.

Upon the weather is accepted by some as real, by others it is disputed. The moon never attracts corns from the toes, aching spot. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor removes the most painful corns in three days. This great remedy makes no sore spots, doesn't go footing around a man's foot, but goes to business at once, and effects a cure. Don't be imposed upon by substitutes and imitations. Plot and Counterplot.

MONTREAL, March 22.—The Court of Queen's Bench this again crowded to-day when Detective Fahey's case was resumed. Judge Doherty and Jas. Fahey, brother of accused, gave evidence, but not of a very important nature. Detective Keegan, one of the accused, was called as a witness, and related the story of meeting Wilson, Craig or Maxwell, and also the conversation which passed between them re Grand Trunk robbery and those contemplated. He also stated that he with Doreen, was acting under instructions from Fahey to cure Wilson and Maxwell, but before their plans were matured they were frustrated and arrested themselves. Several other witnesses testified to the police's good character.

Quilting Cure Hartford Seeks a Divorce.

NEW YORK, March 22.—A Herald's New Haven special says that Lieut. A. H. Howard, of Quilting gun fame during the Riel rebellion, has applied for divorce from his wife, basing the application upon allegations concerning her conduct while he was absent in Canada.

The Boycott on "Q" Freight Raised.

NEW YORK, March 22.—A Chicago despatch says there will be no strike on the St. Paul or the Northwestern lines. This was finally and formally decided yesterday at a meeting of the Grievance Committees of the two roads, and what is more the boycott on the freights of the "Q" road has been raised.

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

THE WONDERS OF MAGIC.

When you find that beauty is falling away,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
To the elderly man with his locks in decay,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
A rich head of hair
Is so precious as rare,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
The lady's misfortune, when losing her hair,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
She can quickly, easily, cheaply repair,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
It imparts strength and beauty,
And it's the lady's plain duty,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
Take time by the forelock and still keep your own,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
This tonic, a failure has never yet known,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
Try this motto to heed,
Try till you succeed,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."

This now famous preparation for invigorating and stimulating the growth of the hair is universally accepted as the most valuable specific on the market. All diseases of the scalp are either relieved or permanently cured. A rich and rapid growth of hair will follow after judicious and regular treatment. It remains with the user alone to secure the desired results. Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" is sold by all druggists at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. If not obtainable in your own locality send direct to the sole manufacturer, enclosing price. A. DORENWEND, Paris Hair Works, 103 and 105 Yonge street, Toronto. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists. dw

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Moderate winds; fine weather; slowly rising temperatures; mild to-morrow.

Fashionable Wedding.

Society is on the tip-toe of expectation over a fashionable wedding, which will occur when the Lenten embargo is withdrawn. The names have not been yet made public, but the initiated are aware of mysterious expeditions to the dressmakers' and dry goods shops. Some half dozen young ladies, including brides and bridesmaids have made their purchases for the occasion and they are charmed with the magnificent stock of dress goods and dress trimmings to be found at the golden lion, embracing beaded sets, beaded panels, jet ornaments, gimps and sectional trimmings, all for dresses, dolmans and wraps. Visit the golden lion.

Carpenters' Union.

A local Union of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, was organized last night by Mr. T. M. D. Croly, organizer, to whom the charter was sent. There was a large attendance. The organization was completed by the initiation of thirty charter members, there being several others who could not be present the first night. The officers for the current quarter were elected and will be installed next Thursday night in the Knights of Labor Hall, Water street.

Retired from Business.

Messrs. Dawson Bros. have decided to give the dry goods business up for the present. It is to be regretted that reports should have been circulated of a nature to injure their position with the wholesale house, which they depended upon to stand by them. They retire, however, from business with their reputation as unblemished as when they began. They desire to thank their customers for the liberal patronage extended to them during their career in business.

Drinking Water Analysis.

The officials appointed by the Department of Inland Revenue to collect samples of water for analysis in various parts of the Dominion have concluded their mission in the cities of the Maritime Provinces and are now engaged in collecting in the western cities. Close upon one hundred samples have up to the present time been sent in, and the chief analyst is busy with the work of analysis. The bulletin on the subject will not, however be out before June next. In addition to the examination of the chief analyst, the district analyist in the locality from which the samples is taken forwards a report to headquarters.

The Well-known "Number 2."

This well-known dry goods' store is closed to-day for the purpose of marking down the goods to the lowest margin. Messrs. Sullivan & Co. have purchased the stock from T. Dolan & Co., and will dispose of it in the public interest. The stock is all new and salable, no shelf-worn goods, in fact a large bulk consists of direct spring importations. Mr. M. Sullivan's many friends and his former customers who have pleasant recollections of their former business relations with him, will be glad to see him in business again after the failure of W. J. McMaster & Co. Toronto, compelled him to suspend business in his old stand. Great Bargains at "No. 2."

A Successful Apron Sale.

A most successful apron sale and tea was held in the dining hall of the new and yet unoccupied Chamberlain block, market square, on Thursday afternoon and evening. The affair was under the auspices of the ladies of St. John's South Ward Sunday School, and the excellent manner in which it was conducted reflects the characteristic energy of the ladies. From five to eight o'clock tea was served at several tables in charge of ladies, and the excellence of the repast in both the matter of adornment and quality of viands was the cause of most complimentary remark. The apron sale was exceedingly successful, every single article having been disposed of at good prices, and at the close the food which remained was also sold. During the evening a little music was supplied by Misses Stevenson, Beck and Halliday, and Messrs. Jaques, Shaw, Elliott, Halliday and Greatrix, Mrs. Dunsford and Mr. Seward furnishing accompaniments. The receipts, for the funds of the school, were handsome. The ladies are to be congratulated on their success.

On Thursday, county police magistrate Edmison held court at Lakefield and imposed fines as follows: D. Costello, $100 and costs; Mrs. Mason, $100 and costs F. Young, $50 and costs and Mrs. W. Northter $50 and costs. Mr. Edmison goes to Norwood on Saturday.

Examiner Bindery.

Merchants and business men, now is the time to call at the EXAMINER bindery and leave your orders for journals, day books, ledgers, invoice books, cheque books, and all blank books used in business. Don't wait till the moment you want to use them. All blank books last longer for not being used immediately after being finished.

Graceful Acknowledgement.

The thanks of the "Y" committee are cordially tendered to Miss Schofield and to the Y.M.C.A. Quartette who generously contributed their service of song at Miss Phelps' lecture last night They also gratefully acknowledge the kindness shown by the committee in opening up the Murray street Baptist church for their use.

The Last Rites.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Thos. McKee took place this afternoon and the large number which followed her remains to their final resting place, testified to the high esteem in which she was held. Out of respect to her memory, the highest form in the public school of which her eldest daughter is a pupil, was relieved of attendance at school this afternoon.

New Goods at Low Prices.

Having decided to retire from business, Messrs. Dawson Bros. have disposed of their fine, newly-placed spring stock, and Mr. J. T. Field will proceed to run it off at prices which will give unlimited bargains to the purchasing public. This is no sale of mouldy bankrupt stock, but all the goods are fresh and new and equal to any stock offered at ordinary prices. No greater opportunity to secure bargains was ever offered in Peterborough. Call and see and be convinced.

An Optical Opportunity.

Mr. P. H. Morris, a skilled optician representing the B. Laurance & Co., opticians, Montreal, arrived in town this morning and will be present at Mr. McKee's drug store to fit the celebrated glasses of this firm's make to the exact needs of the individual eye. He can be seen at the shop this evening and to-morrow. All who need helps to sight should not fail to call and get fitted with first-class glasses exactly suited to their eyes. It will cost no more and be infinitely more satisfactory.

February Immigration Figures.

The total arrivals of immigrants during the month of February was 7,277, against 4,245 in the same period last year. The arrivals in Canada since New Year's are 14,283, as compared with 10,281, in the same period of last year, showing an an increase of 4,002. The Settlers of the Dominion last month were 3,407, and since January 1st 9,477, so that more than half the immigrants passed through to the States, about the same proportion as last year. The total number of passengers who went through to the States was 7,806.

A splendid stock of boots and shoes, purchased far below cost, will be rushed off for cash at almost gift prices, at Stenson's Boot and Shoe shop, George street.

He Looks Well.

Eli Perkins is in town and will lecture at the Opera House to-night. Mr. M. S. Goodman says of him:—"A man of splendid presence, vigorous sense, much native humor and fine attainments, he possesses all the qualifications necessary to succeed in any avocation of life, while his genial, social nature specially fits him for the rostrum by bringing his audience into immediate and perfect sympathy with him. Enjoying the most robust health and standing before a well cultivated and highly appreciative audience, one that followed the line of his masterly argument while it laughed at his humorous illustrations, and which took hold of his vigorous thought and observed his logical deductions at the same time that it applauded the scintillations of his genius and manifested its pleasure at the ebullitions of his wit. Mr. Perkins appeared to grow stronger at every new effort and funnier with each illustration. No man who has ever written on humor or wit has gotten so much of either out of the subject as has Mr. Perkins, neither have their ideas found the same demonstration of their correctness either in argument or illustrations. Mr. Perkins' lecture, if published in book form, would revolutionize the past philosophy of wit and refute, as fact refutes fiction, the argument of Stewart, the assertion of Campbell and the declarations of Lord Kames. For two hours the immense audience listened with unabated interest to Mr. Perkins, and at the close of the lecture, the expressions of approval were unanimous."

CRICKETERS' CONVIVIUM.

Batters and Bowlers About the Festive Board.

The First Annual Supper of the Cricket Club an Unqualified Success—How Mine Host McIntyre Spread Himself—The Toasts and Speeches.

For many years back the Peterborough Cricket Club has maintained a pre-eminent position amongst the cricket clubs of the province, a position which they intend not only to sustain in the future but still further advance until the zenith of their fame is reached. New blood is being infused continually into the club's membership, and now another element, of cohesion, is being introduced that will tend to bind in still closer ties of good fellowship the convivial cricketers of Peterborough. On the occasion of the first annual supper of the club at the Oriental Hotel Thursday night, there was an attendance of about thirty-five, and much enthusiasm was evinced. Those present thoroughly enjoyed the excellent viands, the good speeches and the sociable intercourse. It was an assemblage of "right jolly good fellows," with the true esprit of cricket and conviviality warming their hearts and bringing to mind the joys and pleasures of the cricket field. Prof. Doucet's orchestra was present and added considerably to the enjoyment of the occasion by several well executed selections.

Of the table, what need be said? The following bill-of-fare presented by Mine Host McIntyre needs no commendation:—

"Hark the bell for dinner; let us go!"—The Princess.

"A good digestion to you all, and once more I shower a welcome on you—a welcome all."—Henry VIII.

MENU.

VEGETABLES.—Potatoes. Tomatoes. Corn. Turnips.

PUDDINGS AND PASTRY.—English Plum Pudding and Brandy Sauce. Snow Pudding and Rose Cream. Deep Apple Pie and Cream. Strawberry Tart. Raspberry Tart. Chocolate Pie. Lemon Pie.

JELLIES AND CREAMS.—Sherry Wine Jelly. Rum Jelly. Velvet Cream. Coffee Cream.

DESSERT.—Green Tea. Black Tea. Coffee. Nuts. Apples. Oranges. Raisins. Cheese.

In the absence of the regularly appointed chairman, Dr. Geo. Burnham, who was called away at the last moment, the chair was taken by Mr. H. T. Strickland, who filled the position with ability though receiving but short notice. He announced the toasts, which, with their replies, are given in condensed form:—

THE QUEEN.

"He upon whom Heaven confers a sceptre knows not its weight until he bears it."—Corneille.

The company joined in singing the National Anthem.

THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.

"Regions Caesar never knew, thy posterity shall sway;
Where his eagles never flew, none invincible as they."—Gray.

Selection by orchestra.

THE ARMY, THE NAVY, AND THE VOLUNTEERS.

"When I say, 'Swords,' draw! When I say, 'Draw, don't draw!'
"The worse the man, the better the soldier."—Napoleon.
"A man-of-war is the best ambassador."—Cromwell.

Dr. KINCAID made the first response. He paid a high compliment to the volunteer force of Canada, and to Capt. Brennan in particular, as a worthy sample of the Canadian militia. The officers of the force especially were commended as being the "sinews" that were their source of strength. The Doctor also spoke of the 57th Batt. as one of the best corps in the whole force.

Dr. BRENNAN confined his remarks to "the Volunteers", and gave an interesting recital of a number of incidents that had come to his notice while engaged in the recent Northwest rebellion, showing the bravery and fortitude of the volunteers, which was largely inspired by the conduct of their lady friends at home, who, by their contributions brought fresh courage to the soldiers. The Doctor also interlarded a couple of humorisms that "brought down the house."

The VICE-CHAIRMAN introduced the next toast in a clever little speech:—

OUR PARLIAMENTARY AND MUNICIPAL INSTITUTIONS.

"Government, like dress, is the badge of lost innocence."
"We are too much governed by a blamed sight."—A. Ward.

Mr. J. R. STRATTON, M.P.P., replied expressing his thanks for the toast, and referring in complimentary terms to the Peterborough cricket club. The Legislative Assembly and its operations were also touched upon, and the speaker closed by calling attention to the excellent record of the cricket club during the last season; from which and what he had heard of the club's prospects, he felt sure the next season's operation would be even more successful than the past.

Mr. T. CAHILL responded on behalf of the municipal institutions, and made a telling speech composed of pleasantries and complimentary allusions to the cricket club.

CANADA.

"What land more beautiful than ours; what other land more blest!
The South with all its wealth of flowers, the prairies of the West!"—Cameron.

Mr. J. O'MEARA, after a few introductory remarks stated in a jocular vein, concluded with a panegyric upon Canada and her prospects.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

"A hit, a very palpable hit."—Hamlet.
"Hence, base miscreant! Which base, my lord?"—Shakespeare.
"Live a thousand years, I shall not find myself so like to die."—Julius Caesar (after a foot-ball match.)
"Canada's Naval Reserves—her brave connections."

This toast brought to his feet Mr. R. W. Muncaster, of "Baffer-Duffer fame," who by way of reply recounted the incidents connected with the birth, growth and successes of this famous organization. It was a new element which he hoped would continue to exert its influence over the younger members of the club.

Mr. E. B. EDWARDS upheld the honor of boating, which he characterized as one of the noblest sports and the one best suited to our country. The advantages of boating in Canada over the privileges for such a pastime in England were dwelt upon. The speaker gave some interesting canoeing reminiscences in which reference was made to Peterborough's position in all kinds of sport, cricket and canoeing in particular.

The chairman supplemented a few remarks concerning his personal experiences.

MR. JOHN STIRLING, secretary of the club, gave a brief account of the club's operations during the past year.

Mr. R. M. ROY, who not long ago came to Peterborough from Belleville, said who, by the way, is an enthusiastic yachtsman and general sport, spoke of his enjoyable life in Peterborough. He suggested that an athletic amusement club be established here in the winter, a proposal which met with applause. Returning to yachting, he said the Bay of Quinte club, of which he was a member, was the third best club in the world.

Mr. W. A. STRATTON conferred the honor of parentage of the Peterborough Cricket Club upon the efficient chairman, who should feel proud of his offspring, as the Peterborough Cricket Club was one of the best in the province.

Mr. R. B. Rogers, by way of variation, sang a humorous ditty about "Seana's Sunday out."

THE LEARNED PROFESSIONS.

"Religion does not censure or exclude unembarrassed pleasures harmlessly pursued."—Cowper.
"Who lov. a law, dies either mad or poor."—Middleton.
"Education is the cheap defence of nations."—Burke.
"Here's the doctor; he'll speak to it."—Old Play.

Mr. D. W. DUMBLE replied first. His speech was an appeal for the establishment of a common athletic ground where all the young people of the town could congregate and enjoy summer sports. He named several suitable sites that would answer the purpose which could be procured at a reasonable price. The town had already lost several good opportunities, and the citizens should band together and begin the agitation now in earnest. The people of Peterborough were utterly devoid of a proper spirit of progress. Such a place was greatly needed, and he urged immediate action to secure the desired end. He believed that seven or eight thousand dollars would secure a park of 40 or 50 acres that would just fill the bill. At the conclusion of his address three hearty cheers were given for the sentiments expressed by Mr. Dumble.

Mr. T. HAY commended Mr. Dumble's suggestion, and on behalf of the Engineers' Society expressed his thanks for the toast.

Dr. KINCAID also co-incided with the truth advanced by Mr. Dumble, and said he felt surprised that no such movement had been started before. He called attention to the importance of the curling club, none of the least of Peterborough's athletic societies. The cricket club, however, he considered the best of them all, and he commended the game to all classes.

Mr. J. D. MCILMOYLE responded ably on behalf of the teaching profession.

After an orchestra selection Mr. Cahill took occasion to express his full approval of Mr. Dumble's scheme.

TRADE, COMMERCE AND MANUFACTURES.

"Ye merchant-navies, white-wing'd messengers of peace."
"The way to get rich is to accumulate wealth."—Adam Smith.
"Another way is never to spend anything."

Mr. W. J. MINORS made a neat little speech of acknowledgment, and was followed by Mr. Parker, of the Ontario Bank.

THE PRESS.

"I do believe, with all my soul, in the great Press's freedom,
To print the people to the goal, and in the traces lead 'em.
Palsied the arm that forges jokes, at my fat contracts squintin';
An' withered be the nose that pokes into the gov'ment printin'."—Bigelow.

The newspaper representatives held up their ends in reply to this toast.

THE LADIES.

"What noise is that; who comes with so much bustle? A lady, my lord."—Shakespeare.
"O woman, woman, woman!"—Shakspeare.

To this Messrs. Jaques, Macdonald and Hamilton made appropriate speeches.

THE CHAIRMAN AND VICE.

Dr. KINCAID, amidst applause, proposed a toast to the Chairman and Vice-Chairman, whom he complimented as men of merit and integrity.

Both the gentlemen mentioned made suitable acknowledgments, Mr. Long maintaining that sound bodies should go hand in hand with sound minds. Sport was the glory of the British nation, and just as soon as she lost interest in or debased legitimate sport, her great glory would depart. He wished the Peterborough Association unbounded success.

THE HOST AND HOSTESS.

"A fellow of infinite jest."—Hamlet
"However did he get so good a wife."—Shakes.

After this toast the company adopted the motto below and sang Auld Lang Syne and the National Anthem, dispersing just at midnight, all more than satisfied with the first annual supper of the cricket club.

"At once, good night. Stand not upon the order of your going, but go at once."—Macbeth.

Baking Powders.

The Latest Official Test as to their Relative Purity.

The recent official tests in the States of the various articles of food have attracted much attention from the the public and caused a wide discussion in the newspapers. The frauds in the manufacture of baking powders, and the determined efforts to force various brands of alum powders upon the market, have caused the authorities of several of States to look particularly after this class of goods. The Ohio State Food Commission has examined thirty different brands, and of these found twenty made from alum. Such a large number was not suspected, nor was it supposed that some of the cream of tartar and phosphate powders, whose manufacturers are representing them to the public as pure and wholesome, had become so deteriorated as they were found to be from the use of impure ingredients in their compounding. As many of these adulterated brands are sold in the Dominion, the report possesses a local interest. The Ohio Commission made tests for strength and purity, and declared that baking powder the best—as it was of course the purest—which being of effective strength, contained residuum in smallest quantities. In the baking powders named the following percentages of residuum or inert matter were found:

Name	Per Cent. of Residuum, &c.
Royal, (Cream of Tartar Powder	7.28
Cleveland's	16.15
Zipp's Crystal, (alum)	11.90
Sterling	12.62
Dr. Price's	12.62
Jersey, (alum)	16.62
Forest City, (alum)	24.84
Silver Star, (alum)	31.66
De Land's	32.62
Horsford's, (Phosphate)	34.62
Kanton, (alum)	36.17

The nature of the residuum bears directly upon the question of health. That in Royal is declared to be perfectly harmless. In the case of the alum powders it is considered hurtful, yet the amount found in three of the cream of tartar powders—Cleveland's, Dr. Price's and Sterling—averaged more than that in the Crystal, an alum powder.

The importance of the information conveyed by these figures can be best understood by a simple comparison. Take for instance the two first named powders—the Royal and Cleveland's. The inert matter or residuum found in Cleveland's is seen to be about 3 in 7 more than in the other, which is a difference of 40 per cent., the Royal being purer than Cleveland's by a corresponding figure. The relative purity of all the brands can be computed in like manner.

FUNERAL SERMON—The Rev. Mr. McFarlane, of Lakefield, preached the funeral sermon of the late Mrs. Godfrey in the Methodist church on Sunday last.

FISHERY INSPECTOR—It is rumored that Mr. C. Young has been appointed fishery inspector for this district. Boys, beware!

BASEBALL MEETING—A meeting of the baseball club will be held in the school room on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. All interested in the game are requested to attend.

GONE TO NASSAU—Mr. J. Bellegheen, for the past few years foreman in the shingle mill here, has gone to Nassau to take charge of Mr. J. M. Irwin's shingle mills in that place and we have no doubt that he will give a good account of himself. Mr. Bellegheen was twice elected 1st vice-president of the baseball club and his departure leaves a vacancy in that office. He will be much missed by the boys.

NO MAIL—Our mail did not arrive here on Wednesday last owing to the impassable state of the roads. This is only the second time during the eight years "Hughy" has been driving the stage that he failed to get through.

THE RIGHT MAN IN THE RIGHT PLACE—Mr. Wm. McFarlane, our genial nursery agent of this place, has closed his sales for spring delivery, amounting to about $15.00, which is indeed a large amount considering his illness and the depression of trade. Mr. Campbell, his employer, evidently knows when he has "the right man in the right place" and has written Mr. McFarlane offering him even better terms than any previous year, and it is likely he will engage for this summer at least. This will be the fifth season in Mr. Campbell's employ. We wish him success.

The Dominion Bell ORGANS.

WE wish to call your attention to the benefit derived from the

New Automatic Pedal Cover ATTACHMENT,

that has lately been added to the above Organs. This improvement has been a long felt necessity, and one which has never been successfully solved before by any Organ Companies until the patent was secured for the above Companies directly from the Inventor.

Other Organ Companies advertise their organs mouse and dust proof, because they employ the usual method of blocking around the bellows, as we have done heretofore, but it is eminently unsatisfactory, and the only sure and efficient plan is that which we adopt, of covering the PEDALS and BOTTOM of our Organs. This attachment has been thoroughout (with the exception of the Covers) having no cords, springs, or delicate mechanism to get out of order or repair, and works AUTOMATICALLY with the Fall Board of the Organ. The one simple act of opening or closing the Organ, simultaneously operates the Pedal Covers.

This improvement has been placed on all the different styles of Organs, and the aim is now, as in the past, to produce an instrument that HAS NO EQUAL.

All information and inquiries cheerfully answered. Catalogues sent free upon application. Examine the Mouse and Dust Proof Organ before purchasing, and be satisfied that you have the best in the World.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT BILL THE CHIEF SUBJECT OF DISCUSSION.

A Huge Home Rule Scheme Supposed to be Hidden Under It—No Amendments to the Measure to be Made by the Opposition.

LONDON, March 23.—The Local Government Bill continues to be the chief subject of discussion in the press of the entire kingdom. It begins to be seen that there is a big Home Rule plan behind it; in fact, it is frankly stated by the advocates of the bill that the extension of the system to Scotland and Ireland is merely a matter of time. Should the proposed change prove in its test as valuable as it appears to be in theory, the policy of the Opposition will be to make few, if any, amendments so as not to delay the progress of the measure. The most surprising feature of the whole matter is the fact that the most radical change in the English Governmental plank known in modern times meets with little or no opposition from any direction.

The newspapers, Radical and Conservative, unite in indorsing the measure and in heaping encomiums on Mr. Ritchie. This can be explained only by the fact that the far reaching results of the change proposed are not grasped. When the City of London, for instance, is made a county by itself and turned over to the people to govern, the change from the present system of things, when nearly all the responsible officials are appointive, can be imagined. When the control of the police, of the licensing of all public privileges, those pertaining to railway corporations, included, etc., is taken away from Parliament and the Crown and placed directly in the hands of the people, to be administered by those whom they choose to elect, London will be placed almost exactly on the basis of an American city.

So many great questions are involved in the bill that it is scarcely possible anything can be done with it at this session. It has come to stay, however, and will keep statesmen busy for a long time to come.

Mr. Blunt's Letter.

LONDON, March 23.—Mr. Wilfrid Blunt has written a letter to The Times recounting in detail the date and hour and the words that passed between himself and Mr. Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland, when the latter said that the Home Rule movement was supported by half a dozen men whom he named and would collapse if, as he expected, they, through fear of prison, fled the country. If they were imprisoned he said they would get such severe hard labor that those without strong health would be unable to stand it. Mr. Balfour said he was sorry for Mr. Dillon, as there was some good about him. But he would get six months' hard labor, and as he was in bad health the punishment would kill him. Mr. Blunt says he understood the Chief Secretary's words to be intended to be somewhat as a warning to himself and through him to the Parnellites. He again challenges Mr. Balfour to say whether his statement is correct, and declares that if he denies the language attributed to him he will bring testimony to corroborate it.

Mayor Hewitt Attracts Attention.

LONDON, March 23.—Mayor Hewitt of New York just now is occupying the press' attention here that was recently absorbed by the blizzard and Jay Gould. The Irish papers are very bitter on him, while the Tory and Union press compliment him.

The indications are that the Imperial Federation League will have a most successful meeting to-night at Association Hall. There is a fine array of speakers, and independent of this, curiosity will bring out a large crowd who are anxious to learn just what Imperial Federation means. Delegates from various points will attend, as well as Miss Campbell, the Mayor and Mrs. Clarke and other ladies and gentlemen well known in the city.

The French Decoration Grievance.

PARIS, March 23.—Gen. Caffarel and Madame Limousin were sentenced to-day for complicity in the sale of decorations. In the Caffarel case extenuating circumstances were found, and the Court only imposed a fine of 3,000 francs. Madame Limousin was sentenced to six months imprisonment.

THE FREE TRADE DEBATE.

MR. PATERSON OF BRANT TAKES UP THE CUDGELS.

Young Mr. Tupper "Lecturing the House"—Mr. Blake Had Especially Declared in Favor of Reciprocity—The Men of Canada Not Inferior to Those of the States.

OTTAWA, March 23.—The Reciprocity debate was resumed by Mr. Kenny of Halifax, who divides the representation of that city with Hon. A. G. Jones. Mr. Kenny is an enthusiastic member of the Conservative party, so that Halifax has one member on either side of the House. Mr. Kenny devoted the greater part of his time to his colleague from the Nova Scotia capital, proving to his satisfaction that that hon. gentleman in favoring Reciprocity was antagonizing the interests of his own province and of the Dominion at large.

Mr. Beausoleil followed in French, in support of Reciprocity. In the course of his remarks he followed the example so frequently set by Conservative speakers of proving inconsistency in his opponents. In dealing with arguments previously used—there being little new to say—he acquitted himself most creditably. Mr. Dupont followed, speaking also in French. He opposed Reciprocity, pinning his faith to the National Policy, and picturing in the blackest colors the results of destroying the home market, as he claimed would result under Unrestricted Reciprocity.

Mr. Paterson of Brant followed, and the Opposition benches rapidly filled up as word was passed about the lobbies that he was on his feet. He spoke well, as he always does, and though there was not much new to say, he put everything he touched upon in his pithy, clear-headed way. He spoke first of the charge of "decrying the country" which had been so often made by gentlemen on the other side of the House, and his answer was complete. "We do not decry the country," he said. "I hold that there is no better country under the canopy of Heaven [Loud cheers] and if I were asked to prove it I do not think I could do it better than by asking gentlemen on either side of the House if they knew of a country in the world so prosperous as Canada whose affairs have been so fearfully misgoverned." [Great cheering.] He referred to Mr. Tupper, who, he said, "spoke so fluently and so pleasingly," and afterwards of the young gentleman "lecturing the House." That hon. member seemed to be perfectly content with the progress of Canada because it was as great as that of the United States in 1860. Mr. Paterson ridiculed such a comparison and said it was no wonder that Canada's progress was slow when its rulers were content with such a rate of advance, and pointed out the contrast between the facilities of trade between 1860, before steamboat, telegraph or railway was known, with the present, when these great improvements were accepted almost as though they had always been and were absolutely essential to the enormously increased trade now done. He pointed out also that young Mr. Tupper had declared on the authority of public documents that his father, as Canadian Commissioner at Washington, had offered the United States reciprocity on the fullest and freest basis, and yet gentlemen of the Opposition were denounced for favoring this very policy.

He quoted the utterances of Conservatives before 1878, and read the great resolution on which the great Protective system was based, to show that the very object of the system was to secure Reciprocity. Mr. Hesson at this point interposed a remark that the Reciprocity intended was in natural products only. Mr. Paterson at once showed that this simply meant that the policy of gentlemen opposite was to protect manufacturers and leave farmers to take care of themselves. "The farmers are not fools," growled Mr. Hesson, who is a persistent interrupter of Opposition speakers. "But all people are not farmers," replied Mr. Paterson, while the House roared. He then dwelt upon the half-dozen or so telegrams read by Mr. Adam Brown, sent by Hamilton manufacturers opposing Unrestricted Reciprocity. He showed that the majority of them mixed up loyalty with self-interest, and that every one of them was a declaration that the sender did not consider that he had energy and enterprise to compete with Americans in a free market. He turned the loyalty and patriotic talk of gentlemen opposite by showing that they in effect declared that Canada had grown a race of men inferior to those of the United States. He declared that it was not so and in eloquent language spoke of the success achieved by Canadians in the United States. As to the slaughter market, he showed the absurdity of saying that a man could sell goods for less in Canada than in the United States when the transit of goods was free. As well talk of slaughtering goods in Buffalo and maintaining the price in New York. He took up the report of the Committee on Commercial Depression in 1876 and showed how leading men in all industries were enthusiastically in favor of Reciprocity. His closing sentences formed a fine peroration, breathing the spirit of freedom and patriotism.

Mr. Rykert moved adjournment of the debate and the House adjourned.

Death on the Rails.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., March 23.—Mr. Frank Street, gentleman, of this place, started from his shed yesterday [illegible] at 6 o'clock this morning from Bunkle and started to walk up the track to his home. He being hard of hearing had proceeded but a few rods when a special train came along and struck him. He was discovered by Night Switchman Savage in a few minutes, and with assistance carried back to the station, where he died soon after.

GOT THROUGH THEIR WORK.

Ontario's Legislature Adjourns After an Eight Weeks' Session.

The Lieutenant-Governor brought the session of the Ontario Legislature to a close yesterday afternoon. There was not much stir about the prorogation formality, the visitors who adorned the seats around the chamber being considerably fewer than those present on similar occasions.

The House met at 2 p. m. and rushed through a bill of Mr. Commee's to incorporate the Port Arthur Water, Light and Heat Company in "three straights."

Then the members sat around, and talked, and smoked in the smoking room, and some went further down and turned to the left. Three o'clock approached, and C Company from the New Fort did the same. The company, 61 strong, under command of Major Vidal, Capt. McDougall and Lieut. Cartwright, were drawn up in front of the buildings. C Band was also there.

By-and-bye the gaily caparisoned chestnuts drawing the gubernatorial carriage were seen coming down the street. The coachman, all shaggy with a profuseness of astrachan fur, handled the reins gracefully and guided the prancing pair up the winding drive till the carriage bowled up in front of the guard of honor. The Lieut.-Governor and Commander Law, A.D.C., were spangled out in dazzling style. Mr. Harcourt Vernon, attired in plain black, looked quite sombre compared with them.

When 3 o'clock arrived the Sergeant-at-Arms shouldered the mace and led the procession into the chamber. The Speaker followed, then came Commander Law, then Mr. Harcourt Vernon, then His Honor, and then Hon. Messrs. Mowat, Fraser, Hardy and A. M. Ross.

Clerk Gillmor and Assistant Clerk Sydere officiated in white kids when the Lieutenant-Governor took the chair. His Honor was informed that 28 bills had been passed while the Legislature sat. When the ninety-second was recited Clerk Gillmor was given leave to inform the Government that His Honor withheld his assent to it. The bill related to the Port Arthur Water and Light Company. It gave more power than at first had been anticipated, and the modified one passed just before His Honor arrived took its place.

The Lieut.-Governor was assured, on behalf of the House, of the loyalty of the members, and it was stated to him that they had provided ample funds for carrying on the government of the Province. The Lieut.-Governor thanked the loyal subjects for what they had done, and then read the prorogation speech. His Honor concluded by declaring it was his pleasure that the House should prorogue.

Hon. Mr. Hardy said that it being the wish of the Lieut.-Governor that the House should prorogue, it was duly prorogued.

Then everybody went away.

THE NORTHERN COLLISION.

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury—The Snowplow Officials Held Responsible.

GRAVENHURST, March 23.—The inquest upon the bodies of the men killed in the accident on the Northern yesterday concluded at 3 o'clock this morning. All the train men were examined, together with the station agents at Gravenhurst and Washago. The evidence went clearly to show that the order board at Washago was up, and had Conductor Glassford's special obeyed the order the collision would not have taken place.

The jury returned a verdict holding Conductor Glassford and Engineer Forster—the conductor and engineer of the snow plow—responsible for the accident and the death of George Wilson and others. They also censured the railway company for their imperfect system of signals.

The wives and friends of the dead arrived last night to take charge of the remains. The scene was very affecting.

Conductor Glassford, who had escaped down the track, returned from Orillia last night, stating that he had been away looking up doctors, and was, with Engineer Forster, taken in charge by Chief Constable Langworthy, of Gravenhurst, and sent to the county jail this morning

TRADE COMBINATIONS.

SOME INSIDE FACTS ABOUT THE TORONTO COAL COMBINE.

How Tenders Were Made—Frequent Swap —"Competing" for Contracts—Various Tenders—Strict Secrecy Enjoined—An Ottawa Witness.

OTTAWA, March 23.—The Committee on Trade Combinations continued the work of investigation this morning. Mr. Wood, the secretary of the coal section of the Board of Trade of Toronto, was the first witness examined. He said: This coal section was re-organized on its present basis in May, 1886, and comprised and now comprises all the coal dealers in Toronto. An Executive Committee of nine members, a majority of whom the constitution requires must be importers, regulate the prices and determine the rates in all tenders for contracts. The members of the combination and such of their employes as may be called on are required to make a solemn declaration under the statute for the suppression of voluntary oaths, that they would strictly adhere to the rules and prices established, and in every case the members and their salesmen had done this, and their declarations are filed with the secretary. The form of oath in both cases was produced. Heavy penalties are prescribed for violation.

Fines had frequently been imposed. P. Burns was fined $1000. The revenue from fines was divided among the importers only, and in proportion to the amount of their imports. Burns had imported one-third of the total imports that year, and had received back in this way one-third of his fine.

The method of competing for or obtaining contracts was that a special meeting of the Executive was called to determine the price to be inserted in the lowest tender, and at which the contract would of course be awarded. The price of the lowest tender having been agreed upon, the privilege of making this tender was sold by auction to the highest bidder. This bid or purchase money was then divided among the others. Other tenders are put in at higher rates, but these are sham tenders.

The examination of the minutes disclosed the following facts:

At the special meeting called to determine the rate of the tender for the waterworks coal contract, Mr. Rogers was present, but it is fair to state that the secretary testified to his having left before the close of the meeting. This contract for 12,000 tons was let in May last. The price agreed on was $4.55 per ton, and this contract, or rather the right to tender at this price, which practically was the same thing, was auctioned off to Mr. Bailey, whose bid of $900 was the highest. This amount was divided among the importers pro rata.

The Ontario Government contract, which was awarded June 18, was bid in by Cosgrr Brothers for $610 and at the rate of $5.50 for egg and grate and $5.75 for stove and nut.

The Hospital contract was obtained in the same way by Elias Rogers whose bid was $2.55 and the rates for coal per ton the same respectively as in the former contracts. This was also in June.

The House of Industry contract in the same way went to Mr. Keith at the same prices, for $180.

The total amount received in this way from contracts last year was $2800, of which $400 was retained for general expenses and the balance divided among the importers.

A resolution was passed enjoining the strictest secrecy on all members privy to these contract arrangements.

Mr. G. F. Thomson, coal dealer, Ottawa, was the next witness. He gave the prices at which coal was delivered to the coal dealers in Ottawa free on the cars during the past season as follows, the prices being for net tons of 2000 lbs. of anthracite coal:

In August $4.75 for egg and grate, and $5.00 for stove and nut; in September $4.60 and $4.85; In October and November $4.35 and $4.50; In December and January $4.75 and $5.12; in the present month $5.35 and $5.60.

The most of their coal was brought in before prices went down. All the invoices from the several dealers were handed to the Ottawa Coal and Cartage Company, who paid the bills, and all moneys received were also handed into the same company. He had already received $2750 on account of his profits, and expected by the end of the year, May 1, to receive a total of $5000. There was no necessity for so many coal dealers in Ottawa, as there was not enough for them to do. The large lumbering establishments on the Chaudiere brought in coal for themselves and their employes and there was a great deal of cheap fuel at the mills, so that the coal business of Ottawa was very small in proportion to the population. The total expense of handling the coal from the time it arrived on the cars till it was delivered to the consumer was stated by Mr. Larmouth to be 46 cents per ton.

Mr. Thompson stated that their office expenses were very high and that most of the time they had nothing to do. An effort had been made before he went in with the company to prevent him from purchasing his supply of coal in the States. There were many advantages to him in joining the combination.

A Residence Burnt Near Wyoming.

WYOMING, Ont., March 23.—Last night about 11 o'clock the fine brick residence of John Robertson on the second line of Plympton, about a mile from this village, was destroyed by fire. Most of the furniture and household effects were removed. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson are now suffering from frozen feet, having been unable to secure either shoes or stockings and walking for some time in their bare feet. The house was insured with the East Lambton Insurance Company for $1500 and the contents for $450. The total loss will be about $2000. The cause of the fire is unknown.

SATURDAY, MARCH 24, 1888.

TIRED WAITING.

SERMON BY LAYMAN

(Written for the Examiner.)

An aged, but good, man once said "I have lived long, and I found the world full of disappointments and troubles. I am nearing my end and I am tired waiting. I want to go home to my Father who is in heaven, and I want to be with my wife who has gone on before; and with my little baby boy, of long time ago, who is waiting for me there."

One sweetly solemn thought
Comes to me o'er and o'er.
I'm nearer my home to-day
Than I ever was before.

Nearer my Father's house,
Where the many mansions be.
Nearer the great White Throne,
Nearer the Crystal Sea.

Nearer the bound of life
Where we lay our burdens down.
Nearer leaving the Cross.
Nearer gaining the Crown.

But that silent, unknown stream
Rolls dark before my sight.
Whose waves on the other side
Break on a shore of light.

Oh, if my mortal feet
Have almost gained the brink.
If it be, I am nearer home
Even to-day than I think.

Father, perfect my trust,
Let my spirit feel in death
That my feet are firmly set
On the rock of a living faith.

In a far western city lived a woman and her little lame boy. They were very poor and often felt the want of kindness and of food. The mother was laid on a bed of sickness and the poor little fellow watched by her side. She felt that she was soon to be called away, and she knew that then little Tommy would be left alone—alone in a great city, full of poverty and crime. They talked together of his his hard future, and she told him to trust in God, who would not forsake the orphan. After his mother's funeral the little fellow was taken ill from the combined results of grief and neglect, and it was evident that he would soon be united to his only friend. He was left alone much of the day, there being no one who could spare the time to stay with him. It was often noticed that the voices of two persons could be heard in his little room, but when those in charge entered he would be alone and apparently asleep. One day they listened, being quite sure that no one was with the child, and they overheard these strange word: "Is you right there, mamma?" "Yes, my little boy, I is right here." "Was you went away yet?" "I wented back to heaven to tell God about my little boy." "Did you was afraid, mamma?" "No, my own little boy, 'cause God is nicer'n peoples." "Did you tell him about me, mamma?" "I told-ed Him I had a little boy, named Tommy, an—an—" There was a loud noise of sobbing then, and the listener cried too. Presently the child's voice resumed: "Did you told God to let me come up there, mamma?" "Yes, my boy, and He said, 'Bimeby, bimeby.'" "Mamma, I'se tired, an'—an'sleepy, and I want to come and stay with—you, and —God." There was a long silence then, broken by sobs. The listeners went in, after resolving in their hearts to be, thereafter, very patient with the motherless one. But the next day he went home to his mother. "Bimeby" had come. This is not an overstrained story. It is perfectly natural. It happens every day, though we may not know it. Tired waiting. Yes, tired waiting for relief from suffering and misery. Tired waiting to be at rest Tired waiting for death and to be with mother. Tired of waiting to see once more little brother and sister. Tired waiting to go to Heaven and be with the Saviour. Who can wonder at the poor, homeless, fatherless and motherless one looking forward to the coming of the hour of its happy release from pain and woe. Who can wonder that it is tired waiting to leave the place of all its cares. The world is full of sorrow, full of disappointments and full of trouble and want. Perhaps a poor woman has seen all her children taken away from her by death and feels herself all alone, though in the midst of thousands of people. But her heart is far away, far away beyond the distant plains, far away in that heavenly land, with her husband and children who have gone on before. She is tired waiting to be with them once more. Tired waiting. In health and strength people do not think of this. If they are tired waiting it is because of the want of gratification of some of their hours of pleasure. Because they cannot obtain all that they desire. And it is only when troubles and sickness come, and their want of pleasure is gone, when they have passed weary days and weeks upon their sick bed, and when they are told to prepare for the dread future that they realise their positions and wonder that they never thought of these things before. And it is only when they have become exhausted by long watching and have given up all hope, and know that their time for final separation from the world has come, that they feel that they are tired waiting and wish to be gone. If you want to see sickness and suffering, to see people, young and old, who are tired waiting, go into the hospitals of some large city There you will well realize man's weakness and his inability to help himself. There you will realize his dependance upon a power higher than himself. There you will realize what it is to e tired waiting. You will see the forms of once strong men, worn and emaciated, and writhing in pain. There you will see old men and women, who have outlived their time, lying helpless and still and indifferent to all around them. And there you will see poor little helpless children, many of them deserted and left alone without a mother's care, with their little pinched faces and emaciated bodies, some crying, some moaning, some pulling at the bed clothes, and some with some little flower or some little broken doll or other play thing in their tiny hands, and whose weary, hopeless looking eyes look out upon vacancy or follow you as you pass along. Oh, it is a sad sight to look upon human suffering they where, but it is a far sadder sight to see it among so many persons as are gathered together in a large hospital of a large city. Here is a picture of one little sufferer which will move you to pity, and make you feel as you never felt before:—

"From a far away country town a box of wild flowers had come to the children's hospital in the city of T. Just at dusk the new nurse stopped in her rounds before one cot where a poor little sufferer lay, clasping in his thin hands a bunch of blue violets. The little fellow tossed and turned from side to side and over and soon he would start up, murmuring something about 'Little Jack,' then fall back whispering 'Too late, to late.' Bad case, bad case, nurse. Father and mother both died of some fever, baby found dead, and this little boy will go soon, said the old doctor shook his head gravely. 'Poor little fellow,' murmured the nurse. 'To die alone. No mother's hand to wipe away the dews of death. No mother's arms, no mother's kiss.' She brushed back the damp golden curls from the white forehead, the blue eyes opened wide and a faint voice whispered 'Mother.' The nurse bent pityingly over him, his eyes searched her face and then closed wearily. 'Oh, I want my mother, I want my mother,' he moaned. 'Poor baby,' said the physician, 'he will have his mother soon.' The child started up. 'Rock me, mother,' he cried. Very tenderly the doctor lifted the little figure and placed it in the nurse's arms. The weary head dropped upon her shoulder, the hands, still holding the violets, were folded lovingly around her neck. To and fro she cradled him, the room was growing dark, a faint streak of light came in at the eastern window and slipped softly across the ledge. 'Sing to me,' the child whispered, and very sweetly on the air rose and fell the music of that old, old hymn:

Hide me, oh, my Saviour hide.
Till the storm of life is past.

Nearer and nearer crept the moonlight, till it touched the swaying figure.

Safe lorp he haven guide,
Oh receive my soul at last.

The song ceased. 'Mother, I'm too tired to kneel to-night,' murmured the child, then softly added, 'Now—I lay me down—to—sleep, I—' With a long sigh the eyes closed tiredly, the arms slipped down, and all was still. The moonlight flooded the room with silver—it lingered about the little white-robed child, it fell upon the golden curls and half-closed lips, and the withered flowers fell loosely now from the tired hands. There was a faint sweet perfume of violets as the rocker crushed to and fro. Nothing stirred in the room save the swaying figure in the moonlight. The doctor touched the nurse and gently said, 'The child is with its mother.' Its time of waiting is past, and it is now in its heavenly home—where there is no sickness, no more parting, no sorrow and no pain."

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

The Manitoba Question—The issue of a Writ of Election for Kent County.

OTTAWA, March 23.—In the Privileges and Elections Committee this morning it was, on the resolution of the Minister of Justice, decided to recommend to the House the issue forthwith of a writ for a new election in Kent County. Objections were taken to the wording of the resolution stating that the county had been punished sufficiently for corruption by being disfranchised for a considerable time, but on a division the original resolution was carried by 13 to 7. Mr. Mills charged the Government with withholding a writ for a new election until the close of the Ontario Legislature, with the view of running Mr. Clancy, M.P.P., the local member. It is quite certain that this will be done if the Government can get Smyth, ex-M.P., out of the way. In any event it is asserted here by western Liberal M.P's that the county will go Reform again by an increased majority.

Premier Greenway and Attorney-General Martin of Manitoba returned to the Capital this morning at the request of the Government. They expect to have an interview to-day or to-morrow. It is believed the matter will be finally arranged to-morrow, as the Government have called a caucus of their following to lay the arrangement before them and secure their acquiescence. The concensus of opinion is that fifteen million in cash or bonds is the amount to be paid. There is much speculation as to whether the party will accept or not. There is no doubt strong objections will be raised in certain quarters and that the Government will have to solace very many factions. There is a strong feeling that the C.P.R. is to receive an enormous amount for what really does not belong to them, as it is known that the monopoly broken in old Manitoba, where it cannot legally or morally be held, means a death blow at monopoly in the entire country, as the old provinces trapped would minimize the value of the monopoly in the far west. Mr. Greenway will have the Legislature further adjourned till April 4.

It is learned on the authority of a Cabinet Minister this afternoon that the Government has decided to ask Parliament to expunge clause 15 from the C.P.R. contract, throwing the whole of the Northwest country open to railway competition. The Government will ask the House to compensate the C.P.R. for the loss of this privilege. If the monopoly only in Manitoba was withdrawn, the C.P.R. would have no valid claim, hence the broader decision in order to base a local claim for compensation. The C.P.R. have no claim to monopoly of traffic in Manitoba any more than in Ontario.

The names of Messrs. Desaut and Courcol, M.P.'s, are mentioned in connection with the vacancy in the Senate caused by Mr. Rolland's death.

The Government, it is rumored to-day, has decided to abandon, at least for the present, the scheme for constructing a canal on the Canadian side at Sault Ste. Marie.

Why Laura Lost Her Beau.

Laura once had an affluent beau,
Who called twice a fortnight, or so,
Now she sits, Sunday eve,
All loosely to grieve,
Oh where is her recreant beau,
And why did he leave Laura so?

Why, he saw that Laura was a languishing, delicate girl, subject to sick headaches, sensitive nerves and uncertain tempers; and knowing what a life-long trial is a fretful, sickly wife, he transferred his attentions to her cheerful, healthy cousin, Ellen. The secret is that Laura's health and strength are sapped by chronic weakness, peculiar to her sex, which Ellen averts and avoids by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is the only remedy, for women's peculiar weakness and ailments, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case or money will be refunded. See guarantee on bottle wrapper. o

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

TAKE

NASAL BALM FOR

COLD IN HEAD

—AND—

CATARRH.

There is no disease to which Canadians are more subject than Catarrh—all ages and sex alike are numbered among the sufferers. It is impossible in the limit of a short newspaper article to describe the symptoms fully, but they may be briefly summarized: Cold in the head, difficulty in breathing, hawking and spitting, headache, pains in the region over the eye, stoppage of nasal passages, foul breath, droppings into the throat causing nausea and sometimes vomiting, poisonous secretions accumulating in the lungs leading to consumption. These are but a few of the many symptoms of Catarrh, a disease which affects 7-10 of our Canadian population NASAL BALM is the only CERTAIN and POSITIVE CURE for this loathsome disease in all its forms and stages. NASAL BALM is the result of years of careful study, and is prepared with a view to radically cure those cases of catarrh, to which Canadians are most subject. It is not a liquid snuff or caustic powder, but a pleasant, never failing remedy, requiring no instrument or douche for its use. Easy to use, instantaneous in its effects, permanent in its cures. Ask for Nasal Balm and take no substitute of whatever name. For Cold in the Head there is no better remedy on earth to equal Nasal Balm. Do not neglect a cold in the head for in nine cases out of ten it will lead to Catarrh. Use Nasal Balm upon the first symptoms. This wonderful remedy affords instant relief and cures within a few hours. It can be used for the youngest child as well as for adults, and as a precautionary measure should be kept in every household. For sale by all druggists or sent in receipt of price (50c. and $1.00 per bottle) by addressing FULFORD & CO., Brockville.

PROOF OF ITS MARVELLOUS EFFICACY.

An Unequalled Remedy.

J. McKee, druggist, Peterborough, says: Nasal Balm gives the most general satisfaction to customers of any preparation I ever handled. My sales are large and the reports from those who use it, fully substantiate your claims for the medicine as an unequalled remedy for catarrh in the head.

Worth Ten Times its Cost.

T. W. Hunt Port Hope says: I was a sufferer from a long standing case of catarrh and being well up in years (72) hardly expected to ever obtain anything that would give me material or permanent relief. At the time of receiving Nasal Balm I was very bad with catarrh, but take great pleasure in stating that on the second application I obtained wonderful relief and its effect was pleasant, soothing and healing. It acted like magic and is worth ten times its cost for the immediate relief it gives. I feel confident the second bottle will effect a permanent cure. I have recommended Nasal Balm for cold in the head and in every case it acts like a charm.

Acts Like a Charm.

John Foster Raymond says:—Nasal Balm acts like a charm for my catarrh. I have only used it a short time and I now feel better than at any period during the last seven years. In fact I am sure of a cure and at a very small expense.

wsaw

Feels Like a New Man.

A. E. Fish, merchant, Belleville, states: I take great pleasure in recommending your Nasal Balm to any one troubled with that dreadful disease, catarrh. I have been troubled with it for the past fifteen years, and can say candidly that I never had anything that gave me half so much relief as your Nasal Balm. I have only used two bottles and I feel like a new man.

Beats the World

D. Derbyshire, president Ontario Creamery Association, Brockville, says: Nasal Balm beats the world for catarrh and cold in the head. In my own case it effected relief from the first application.

$1.00 for 50 cents.

Capt. D. H. Lyon, manager and proprietor of the C. P. R. and R. W. & O. R. car ferry Prescott, and Ogdensburg N. Y. says: I used Nasal Balm for a prolonged case of cold in the head. Two applications effected a complete and thorough cure in less than 24 hours. I would not take $100 for my bottle of Nasal Balm if I could not replace it.

It Never Fails.

Ex-Mayor Bowie, Brockville, Ont., says: I used Nasal Balm for a bad case of catarrh, and it cured me after having ineffectually tried many other remedies. It never fails to give immediate relief for cold in the head.

DEATH OF AN EMINENT JURIST.

Pneumonia Carries Off Chief Justice Waite of the U. S. Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Chief Justice Morrison R. Waite, of the United States Supreme Court, is dead. He was quite ill on Saturday night, and was confined to his bed on Sunday, but on Monday he insisted on going to the Supreme Court to be present when the decision in the telephone suits was rendered. On Wednesday circumscribed pneumonia showed itself. During Thursday night, the judge was comfortable, and no particular alarm was felt, but at 6 o'clock this morning failure of the heart's action was observed, and at 6.15 he passed away.

The Chief Justice will be buried in Toledo, O.

Morrison Remich Waite was born at Lyme, Conn., Nov. 29, 1816. In 1839 he graduated at Yale College, and after a course in law, began the practice of that profession at Maumee City, O. In 1849 he was a member of the Ohio Legislature, and in 1850 he removed to Toledo. He declined repeated nominations to Congress, and also a seat on the Supreme Bench of the state. In 1871-2 he was one of the counsel of the United States before the tribunal of arbitration at Geneva, Switzerland. In 1873 he presided over the constitutional convention of Ohio. On Jan. 21, 1874, he was appointed by President Grant Chief Justice of the United States and had since resided at Washington.

"Queer"-Shovers Arrested in Indiana.

CHICAGO, March 23.—John Bates and James Sapp, leading business men at Goodland, Ind., were arrested yesterday on the charge of passing $2000 of counterfeit $5 silver certificates. The sub-treasury official here believe that the Logansport authorities, in arresting these men, have struck a trail which is likely to lead to the arrest of the gang that has put $50,000 counterfeit money into circulation in this city.

Marine Insurance Rates.

BUFFALO, March 23.—The rates of insurance fixed by the general agents and managers of marine insurance companies at their meeting in this city to-day show an advance compared with the rates last year of from 25 to 50 per cent. on coal, about 20 per cent on iron ore and pig iron, and the same on freights. The season rates on up merchandise were left over for future action, as also was the formation of a hull pool.

The Electric Remedy for Murderers.

ALBANY, March 23.—Elbridge T. Gerry's electric death penalty bill was a special order yesterday and provoked an animated debate. The bill was altered admitting a clause that religious ceremonials may be held within the prison walls, the immediate relatives of the dead being present. The bill was sent to a third reading in that shape. It required about two minutes to kill Mr. White's bill abolishing capital punishment.

A Returned Criminal.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., March 23.—Chief of Police Cook of Paris, Ont., came here yesterday with requisition papers with which to take back with him John Gilbert, who is wanted there for assaulting with intent to kill a boy named Blake. Gilbert fled to this city after the assault, and was arrested, since which he has been in jail. The Canadian official left with his prisoner last night.

The Bold Boodler.

DULUTH, Minn., March 23.—McGarigle, the famous Chicago boodler, spent last Friday in Duluth. Of this there can be no doubt, as several old friends and schoolmates saw and talked with him, including two Board of Trade men from Chicago and a well-known newspaper man, also of that city. He left Friday for Minneapolis, saying that from there he would go to Sault Ste. Marie.

Wholesale Corruption in Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 22.—Astounding revelations are said to have been made at the trial of Officer Marks for receiving bribes from gamblers. Wholesale corruption, involving city officials and almost the entire police force, is said to have been proven. Mike McDonald, the ex-gambler, was among the witnesses.

A Victim of Morphine and Cocaine.

AUBURN, N. Y., March 23.—Dr. F. M. Hamlin, a prominent physician, has been removed to the asylum at Utica, a victim to the morphine and cocaine habit. He was an expert microscopist, and a year ago was commissioned by the British Government to go to the Bermudas and investigate the causes of the onion blight.

An Expensive Strike.

CHICAGO, March 23.—It is said the great strike on the C.B. & Q.R.R. has caused the company up to day a loss of $1,105,203. A loss of $300,346 has fallen on the strikers.

The Reverend Blacksmaller.

STRATHROY, March 23.—The trial of Rev. Mr. Stonehouse, adjourned from last Friday, was to have taken place before Police Magistrate Noble at Strathroy to-day, but, as before, the reverend blacksmaller disappointed his friends and failed to appear. A letter from a Port Huron officer, received by the high constable here, states that Stonehouse was in Port Huron this week, being detained by the business of getting his effects through the customs. He then expressed his intention of residing permanently in the United States, but said he was coming back for trial.

The Moon's Influence.

Upon the weather is accepted by some as real, by others it is disputed. The moon never attracts corns from the tender, aching spot. Putnam,s Painless Corn Extractor removes the most painful corns in three days. This great remedy makes no sore spots, doesn't go fooling around a man's foot, but goes to business at once, and effects a cure. Don't be imposed upon by substitutes and imitations. Get "Putnam's," and no other. 6dw12

FOR 30 YEARS I have been troubled with catarrh—have tried a number of remedies without relief. A druggist here recommended Ely,s Cream Balm. I have used only one bottle and I can say I feel like a new man. My catarrh was chronic and very bad. I make this voluntary statement that others may know of the Balm.—J. W. Mathewson, (Lawer), Pawtucket, R. I.

Ely's Cream Balm gives satisfaction to every one using it for catarrhal troubles.—G. K. Meller, Druggist, Worcester, Mass.

Predestinarians of Fruit Trees.

"It is curious to note," says James Fitz, of Virginia, "the difference in the productiveness of fruit trees, caused by soil and climate. For instance, the Northern Spy apple, the Esopus Spitzenburg and the Baldwin, three of the most popular varieties of the northern and some of the middle states, are perfectly worthless in most parts of Virginia and states further south. On the other hand our best sorts, such as the Nicks Jack, Winesap, Limbertwig, Grimes' golden, Buckingham, Rawle's Genet and many others are worthless at the north. It is true that some European varieties, and a few that originated in the northern and middle states, are at home in southern and southwestern soil. It is for the amateur to grow and test such and introdude new varieties. The farmer has not time to attempt discoveries in this line, except in a small way."

The Treatment of Colts.

The treatment which colts receive has a telling effect upon them when they are grown up. Injuries and blemishes are like the leaves on trees—they increase in size as the body increases. It is an undisputed fact that the condition of the feet of a horse is more or less affected by the condition of the ground on which the feet are treated in any kind of soil. If they are kept confined to stables and compelled to stand continually upon hard, plank floor, the feet will be more or less injured by it; or if they are constantly kept on soft, loamy ground the feet will be soft and spongy, and in about as bad condition as if bruised up by being stabled continually.—Southern Cultivator.

Utilizing Coal Ashes.

It is the general understanding that coal ashes are not of enough value as fertilizer to pay for hauling them out for that purpose, but when sifted the fine ashes will be useful on stiff clay soils, lightening them up and making them more friable, but the cinders should be kept off from any land you intend to cultivate. Many persons consider a few shovelfuls of fine ashes useful around their fruit trees and use them for that purpose, and the sifted ashes have given excellent satisfaction when used in the garden to prevent the attacks of the onion and cucumber bugs.

Cannot Be Excelled

I have pleasure in saying that Hayard's Pectoral Balsam cannot be excelled for curing Coughs, Colds and Loss of Voice. It cured my brother completely. So says Ira McNeal of Poplar Hill, Ont., regarding this popular remedy. 2w12d

Most Useful.

THE WONDERS OF MAGIC.

When you find that beauty is falling away,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
To the elderly man with his looks in decay,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
A rich head of hair
Is as precious as rare,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
The lady's misfortune, when losing her hair,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
She can quickly, easily, cheaply repair.
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
It imparts strength and beauty,
And it's the lady's plain duty.
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
Take time by the forelock and still keep your own.
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
This tonic, a failure has never yet known,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
Try this motto to heed,
Try till you succeed,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."

This now famous preparation for invigorating and stimulating the growth of the hair is universally accepted as the most valuable specific on the market. All diseases of the scalp are either relieved or permanently cured. A rich and rapid growth of hair will follow after judicious and regular treatment. It remains with the user alone to secure the desired results. Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" is sold by all druggists at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. If not obtainable in your own locality send direct to the sole manufacturer, enclosing price. A. DORENWEND, Paris Hair Works, 103 and 105 Yonge street, Toronto. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists. dw

BANKERS—Bank of Toronto and Canadian Bank of Commerce.
SOLICITORS—Dumble & Leonard.

TO DEPOSITORS—Deposits are received by this Company both on current account and for periods of one year or longer. The rate of interest paid on amount deposited on current account and which may be withdrawn by check in such sums as the depositor may from time to time require, is four per cent., either paid or compounded half yearly, and the rate on yearly deposits is five per cent.

TO INVESTORS—The five and ten years five per cent. debentures of this Company which are issued in denominations of $100, $200, $500 and $1,000 each, transferable by endorsement, with half-yearly interest coupons attached, payable at the Head Office of the Company in Peterborough, or at any Branch of the Bank of Toronto in Canada, afford a safe and convenient mode of investment.

The funds of the Company being invested with the utmost care and precaution, no better security can be offered to depositors or debenture-holders, they having a first claim or mortgage on the whole Assets of the Company, the Shareholders having the second. The last audit shows that the amount so invested was over $1,310,223.69, and on securities of at least double that value.

By the Laws of Ontario, Trustees, Executors and Administrators may deposit Trust Funds of the estates which they control in this Company, and are free from all further liability, a privilege of which many have largely availed themselves.

TO BORROWERS—Money is obtainable from this Company on approved Real Estate Security at the Lowest Current Rates of Interest. The Mortgage may be repaid by yearly instalments or otherwise, as may be agreed upon, the interest ceasing at once on all amounts paid on account of the sum borrowed. Applications may be made either to the Head Office, or to any of the agents.

A Haunted House.

Toronto is revelling in the excitement of a haunted house, but the goody-goody city is not ahead of Peterborough in that respect. A house with a ghost is at once a novelty and a treasure. Peterborough's haunted house is on George street, and the ghost walks by day as well as night. From morning till night one particular part of the golden lion is haunted with customers in search of the superb tweeds, native and imported, and splendid broadcloths, which are converted by the tailoring department into suits the top of the style and of the best value at most moderate prices. When you want a new spring suit don't forget to leave your measure at the golden lion.

Baby Bunting Again.

One of the greatest literary hits of the season is the story of "Baby Bunting; or, the Alphabet of Love," by Laura Jean Libbey, which is at present being published in the columns of THE NEW YORK FAMILY STORY PAPER. The paper containing the opening chapters of this wonderfully popular romance appeared on the news stands this morning. The tremendous rush for that number by the young ladies of the town shows clearly that the publishers have struck a bonanza. THE FAMILY STORY PAPER is for sale by all newsdealers, or will be sent to any address four months, postage free, for $1.00. Norman L. Munro, Publisher, 24 and 26 Vandewater Street, New York.

Another Proposal.

The proposal to establish a public sporting ground in Peterborough seems to meet with popular approval. There are many sites available for such a purpose, but the scheme advanced by Councillor Davidson seems feasible enough. His idea is to fill in Spaulding's Bay, which can be sodded and made level as a billiard table. An area of seven acres could be secured by this means, near the centre of the town and in a fine location. He says the cost would not be much—that if a private individual did the work the money he could realize upon the excellent building property it would make, would more than pay the expenses of the enterprise. Here is a suggestion worth consideration.

Boots and shoes away below manufacturers' prices at Stenson's Boot and Shoe store, George street.

Keene Cannibals.

Thursday night two young men—if they are worthy the name of men—enjoyed themselves by chewing each other like bulldogs, at Keene. One fellow's hand was badly lacerated and the other's ear was bitten through and through. The fight took place on the principal street of the village early Thursday evening, and the next day large patches of blood on the icy road denoted the ferocious of the encounter. And, can the intelligent reader believe it, the fight was over the silliest of pretexts, a refusal of one to accompany the other home to tea. The two met on the street, the refusal of the invitation led to angry words, and one of the combatants rushed into a store, hastily donned a pair of rubbers and sallied forth to the fray prepared against the possibility of slipping on the ice. Then the sickening exhibition of cannibalism began and only ended when each was dripping with blood.

Eli at the Opera House.

Eli Perkins has come and gone. The poor we have always with us, but the rich can't stay forever—Eli had to go. His visit was brief, just long enough to collect a hundred dollars of the people's money and afterwards nearly talk them to death, but "the wicked flee when no man pursueth," and Eli has skipped out. Eli Perkins lecture Friday night drew out a large audience of the most intellectual people in town. Did they get their money's worth? Yes, dear reader, every cent's worth. Eli went at that audience and pulverized it. He flung great chunks of humor and keen shafts of wit at their heads with telling effect; whole tanks full of logic and philosophy were poured over them; he sprinkled "jokes and gags" broadcast over all, and only after two hours of side-splitting mirth did he desist. But then the citizens of Peterborough have been warned frequently through these columns, so they have only themselves to blame. The philosophy of wit and humor, satire and ridicule, was explained and illustrated till the orchestra and a little gentleman with a shining bald pate rushed from their seats and shut the door from the outside. It speaks well for the stamina of a Peterborough audience that so many remained. But at the same time it proves that they are ardent admirers of truth in any form, even when disguised as Eli Perkins, for Eli was remarkably truthful, you know. His stories were all nice little innocent truths, considerably exaggerated of course, but still truths, all the same. [illegible] So bland and [illegible] while twinkling upon and a beautifully expressive mouth that resembles more than anything else a—a—split in a dried lemon or something of that sort, a beautiful rosebud mouth from which a full rich voice rolls out in volumes sufficient to stop a train of cars or run a cataract. But he is gone. Farewell, Eli. May your shadow never grow less, and may you live to see yourself decently buried and a slab monument erected to your "pious and immortal" memory.

The Norwood Concert.

The I.O.O.F. concert at Norwood on Friday night by Peterborough artists was a brilliant success, the house being packed and the programme taking well. The Harmony Male Quartette and Mr. Mulligan gave songs; Mr. W. A. Dixon, ventriloquism; Mr. R. M. Roy and son, slight-of-hand; and Mr. J. Millar, mind-reading. Dr. Bell made an introductory address on Oddfellowship. A number of local Oddfellows accompanied the performers to Norwood.

Examiners Notes.

On Wednesday last Patrick J. Scollard, the newly-appointed postmaster, signed his obligation, along with his securities, before Thomas Telford, J.P. The post office will shortly be removed from Pat Gannon's to Lahane's old stand, and having undergone so many changes during the last few years it is hoped it has commenced a more fixed career.

March 24th, at sunrise, the thermometer stood at 6° below zero—cold but calm.

The Wedding Will Be.

It has become noised abroad that the hallelujah wedding, announced to take place at the Opera House next Wednesday evening under Salvation Army auspices, will not transpire on account of a change of mind of one of the parties. Now, be it known unto all men by these presents that the hallelujah wedding will come off "sure pop" at the time mentioned. It is true that the affaire de cœur of the first couple has been declared off for the present, the fickle-minded young lady having concluded that she does not want to be married just yet, but another pair of sympathetic hearts that beat as one, have gladly come forward to take their place, and they will be welded together with all due ceremony at the Opera House Wednesday night, unless a cyclone or some other invisible force interferes. Capt. Pople is in town today and will be present at all the meetings of the Army during the jubilee, which begins to-night and winds up Wednesday night at the Opera House.

THE EAST RIDING INSTITUTE.

Condensed Report of the Meeting at Keene.

Matters of Interest to Farmers Discussed—Mixed Farming Advocated—The Question of Creameries—County Dogs Must be Tagged, or Shot—A Concert in Conclusion.

The second meeting of East Peterborough Farmers' Institute convened at the town hall Keene, Friday afternoon. The attendance was rather slim, but those present were thoroughly representative farmers. The programme could not be fully carried out as several gentlemen who had promised papers were not present.

The President, F. Birdsall, Esq., in opening the meeting, spoke of the objects and benefits of the Institute. There was much information to be gained at these meetings. He himself had benefitted considerably by adopting a few hints on butter making dropped by Prof. Robertson, of the Guelph College. His plan was to heat the milk after straining to 90 or 95, after which set it by to cream. The object of this heating was to bring the little fat globules in the milk to the surface and make the cream thicker. If put away cold the cream does not all become ripe for churning at the same time. Twenty four hours before churning a cupful of sour cream (made by setting it aside in a warm room) should be added. This had the effect of bringing all the butter at same moment. If such a benefit was derived from a single recommendation, how much might be gained from all the information to be derived at these meetings? The President also announced that the annual meeting of the Institute would be held at Norwood in June next for the election of directors. He made an appeal to the audience to become members of the Institute and help along the good work. The object was to draw out information regarding ' ning, and it was the intention of the directors to exclude as much as possible politics from the discussions.

Mr. T. BLEZARD, M.P.P., considered it the right policy to keep politics out of these meetings. Though politics were of importance to the farmers, discussion in these meetings would be useless, as the electors of today were too firmly set in their party lines to be changed easily. One thing, though, he believed was the true policy of the farmers of this country was to follow mixed farming. There were the experimental farms at Guelph and Ottawa to give the farmers the benefit of their experiments and knowledge, and he was pleased to see that the latter was paying particular attention to experiments in seeds. He contended that a new kind of seed wheat was required for Canada, and he himself intended this summer testing a sample of a new kind secured by the Ottawa farm which was believed to be the best suited to the climate and country. If it was found to be so, the government should import it in large quantities from the place it was first brought from, and sell it to the farmers at wheat price. By this means the poor farmer would be benefitted, whereas thoroughbred stock breeding and scientific farming can only be indulged in by the wealthy husbandmen.

Mr. Wm. COLLINS corroborated the remarks made by the President and Mr. Blezard. He believed it would be a mistake for farmers to give up any of the lines of farming now in use.

STATUTE LABOR TAX.

A discussion arose on the question of the statute labor tax.

Mr. BLEZARD gave his opinion. He considered that in the older townships it would be much better to abolish statute labor, pay it in taxes and have the work properly done by a commissioner. New townships, though, could not very well get along without the present system.

Mr. GEORGE ESSON didn't see that so much good was to be derived from the appointment of a commissioner, but he believed some change should be made in the present system.

Mr. WM. COLLINS thought it would be economy on the part of the farmers to pay a direct tax, because the work done by the pathmaster and his men was often unsatisfactory and a direct loss to the community.

The President, Mr. Esson and Mr. Blezard engaged in a little discussion, the former claiming that if the township councils did not appoint good pathmasters they could not be expected to make a good selection for commissioner.

Mr. CHAS. O'REILLY thought the appointment of commissioners in the townships should be universal to be effective.

The meeting adjourned till afternoon.

Church Chimes.

To-morrow is Palm Sunday. The usual services will be held in St. Peter's Cathedral.

Usual services to-morrow in the George street Methodist church, at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m., conducted by Rev. S. J. Thompson. Interesting service in connection with Sunday school at 2.30 p. m. in the lecture room. Prayer meeting at the close of evening service.

Order of services of Mark Street Methodist church Ashburnham:—Sunday March 25 1888 conducted by the Rev. J. C. Wilson: A.M., Children's Services. P.M., Subject "Not knowing the time of their visitation." Services on Good Friday at 11 a.m.

Charlotte street church:—11 a.m., and 7 p.m., Rev. I. Tovell; Evening Subject; "The Contrast in the Character of Women."

Services will be he held by the Laymen's Evangelical Association to-morrow as follows:—Jail, 9:30 a.m., Protestant Home, 2 a.m., Mr. Moncrief's House, 4 p.m.

Baptist Church.—Rev. P. Clifton Parker will preach to-morrow. Evening subject:—"The First Gospel Service."

Sunday, April 1st, anniversary service; Rev. D. Reddick, B. A., Port Hope, will preach morning and evening.

An open temperance meeting is connection with Charlotte street Methodist Sunday school will be held in the church to-morrow afternoon commencing at quarter to three o'clock. You are invited to be present.

We believe that negotiations are taking place towards securing the Boot Black Orator John R. Clark to give his new and exceedingly popular lecture on "Gough in humor and eloquence" under the auspices of Charlotte street Methodist Sunday school. We trust that Mr. Clark may be prevailed on to come as he is probably the most popular orator that has ever visited Peterborough.

The Rev. J. Quirk of Hastings, on the occasion of his retirement from the pastorate of the Norwood R. C. Church, was made the recipient of a marked tribute of respect by his parishioners and the many friends he has made during the twenty-six years he has had charge of the church in Norwood.

The Lindsay Watchman says:—The lecture, on the life and times of St. Patrick, by Bishop Dowling, of Peterborough, in St. Mary's Church, on Sunday evening last, was very largely attended, the spacious edifice being well filled. The lecture throughout was very interesting, the audience thoroughly appreciating the subject together with the masterly manner in which it was dealt with. His Lordship is a fluent speaker, and at times waxed eloquent in speaking of the troubles in Ireland at the present time. The proceeds which must have been considerable, were devoted to St. Vincent de Paul Society for the benefit of the poor.

Mr. J. H. Long leaves for Toronto to-night to attend the public meeting of the Toronto Branch of the Imperial Federation League. Delegates will attend this meeting from various towns and cities.

Peterborough Presbytery.

An Adjourned Meeting held in St. Paul's Church.

An adjourned meeting of the Peterborough Presbytery was held in St. Paul's Church at ten o'clock Thursday. Mr. Bell was chosen moderator for six months. There were present Messrs. Torrance, Bell, Cleland, Bennett, McCrae, Jamieson, Carmichael, Thompson, and MacWilliam, ministers; and Messrs. Roxburgh, Tully, Borland, Johnstone, elders.

Mr. McCrae was appointed to correspond with all the ministers within the bounds in reference to the necessity of putting forth further effort on behalf of the Augmentation Scheme.

The Home Mission and Augmentation reports were submitted by Mr. Cleland, and applications for grants recommended on behalf of several mission stations and augmented congregations.

CONDOLENCE.

The following minute was adopted in relation to the death of Mrs. McEwen:—

The Presbytery have heard with deep regret of the sudden death of Mrs. McEwen, of Lakefield. They feel that the loss of Mrs. McEwen will cause a serious blank, not only in her own home and its immediate neighborhood but throughout the Presbytery to which she has rendered such valuable service in connection with the Women's Foreign Mission Society.

The Presbytery beg to express their sincere sympathy with their brother in the painful loss he has sustained and their hope that he will be supported in his time of trial by the grace and sympathy of the Saviour.

The clerk reported that Mr. Hossack had received, at his own request, letters of transference to the Toronto Presbytery.

The next meeting of the Presbytery was appointed to be held in Port Hope on the second Tuesday of July, at 9 o'clock a.m.

The following ministers were appointed as delegates to the Assembly to meet in Halifax in June next:—Messrs. Bennett, Duncan, Sutherland, Cameron, Bell and Ross.

The elders chosen were Messrs. Roxburgh, Henderson (Cobourg), Carnegie, Clark (Campbellford), J. D. Collins (Peterborough), G. Rutherford (Colborne), and Jas. Drummond, (Keene).

Interesting reports were received in connection with Sabbath Schools and on the state of religion. Said reports were adopted and ordered to be forwarded to the Conveners of the Synod's committees on Sabbath Schools and the state of religion respectively.

The remit on the Constitution of the Assembly was considered. It was agreed to recommend that the representation should remain as at present.

It was agreed to recommend that a fund be established for the payment of travelling expenses of delegates.

Mr. McCrae was appointed to represent the Presbytery on the Synod's Committee on Bills and Overtures.

The Report on Statistics was laid on the table till next meeting.

Police Matters.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

A good many people of the town are anxious to know why the council superseded Chief Adams. The councillors, so far as I can understand, gave no reasons for what they did, and people looked upon Mr. Adams as a good officer. And he was far better than the gentleman who preceded him and who got a much higher salary for doing nothing but make great pretences and trouble. There is a good deal of dissatisfaction at this action of the council, and some day, probably, some of them will find it out. Some people think that personal spite had a good deal to do with this business, and that is my opinion, too. Mr. Adams has long been on the police force, and he has been a good officer. And besides he is one of ourselves and a citizen and taxpayer of the town. It is to be hoped, now that the man in Port Hope has declined the offer, that Mr. Adams will be reinstated, even if certain three or four persons would like to keep him out. It is not pleasant sometimes for a man to know too much.

—Mr. T. J. Howson, of Norwood, a highly respected young resident, died Wednesday.

—Port Hope is agitating for a Board of Trade. A committee has been appointed to start the ball rolling.

—A horse owned by Mr. Campbell, of Cavan, was killed on the C. P. R. track Thursday night.

—The annual meet of the Canadian wheelman's Association this year is to be held in Belleville Dominion Day.

—Rev. Rural Dean Allen, of Millbrook was thrown out of his cutter last Sunday but not seriously injured.

—The "Esturion", which plies on Pigeon lake, is looking to the opening of the Mud Lake Railway for a large tourist business this summer.

—At Port Hope on Friday Hugh Kent, of Baillieboro, and Walter Stinson, of Centreville, were tried before Joseph Harris and James Caldwell, Esqs. They each owned the corn, and were fined $50 and costs.

—The Lindsay Warder says:—"Mr. J. J. Turner, proprietor of the Tent and Awning factory of Peterborough, was in town last week and put up a handsome new striped awning for A. Campbell."

—Travellers will be careful to give Omemee a wide berth. The Herald says:—Mr. W. W. Daly, of Peterborough, was in Omemee on Saturday last, but as he could not get dinner for himself or fodder for his horses, on account of all the hotels being closed, his stay was of necessity very short.

—The Independent says large quantities of fish are caught by the Indians through the ice at the mouth of Pigeon river. A very large quantity has been caught in this way and shipped to Lindsay and Peterborough; in fact so large a quantity, that some persons question the propriety of the law permitting such wholesale slaughter.

—A branch of the C.M.B.A. was organized as Lindsay this week. The Post says:—"Mr. J. O'Meara of Peterborough, district organizer, explained the insurance system and workings of the association, and at the close twenty-five signified their wish to become members, thus establishing a successful initial branch."

—Says the Lindsay Post:—"A week ag Tuesday Lindsay juniors were to have gone to Peterborough to play a return match. Blizzard. Tuesday of this week they were again ready for the attempt. Raining "cats and dogs." Apologies are tendered Peterborough, coupled with the hope that the match is not off for the season."

—Mr. J. W. Bailey, of Cartwright, has invented a machine for catching and killing potato bugs. It resembles a wheelbarrow somewhat, with a fan on each side of it, and is propelled in the same way, it is wheeled between two rows of plants, from which the fans sweep the bugs against a contrivance on striking which they fall between two rapidly revolving rollers and are crushed in a pulp. The motive power is obtained from the wheel. It is easily worked and works effectually.

The Dominion Bell ORGANS.

WE wish to call your attention to the benefit derived from the

New Automatic Pedal Cover ATTACHMENT,

that has lately been added to the above Organs. This improvement has been a long felt necessity, and one which has never been successfully solved before by any Organ Companies until the patent was secured for the above Companies directly from the Inventor.

Other Organ Companies advertise their organs mouse and dust proof, because they employ the usual method of blocking around the bellows, as we have done heretofore, but it is generally unsatisfactory, and the only sure and effectual plan is that which we adopt, of covering the PEDALS and BOTTOM of our Organs. This attachment has iron throughout (with the exception of the Covers) having no cords, screws, or delicate mechanism to get out of order or require, and works AUTOMATICALLY with the Full Board of the Organ. The one simple act of opening or closing the Organ, simultaneously operates the Pedal Covers.

This improvement has been placed on all the different styles of Organs, and the aim is now, not to the mad, to produce an instrument that HAS NO EQUAL.

All information and inquiries cheerfully answered. Catalogues sent free upon application.

Examine the Mouse and Dust Proof Organ before purchasing, and be satisfied that you have the best in the World.

THE IMPERIAL LEAGUE.

MEETING OF THE IMPERIAL FEDERATIONISTS IN TORONTO.

A Large and Fashionable Audience—A Platform of Star Speakers—The Old Flag Honored—Sentimental and Fiscal Aspects of I. F.

TORONTO, March 26.—Association Hall was crowded on Saturday night on the occasion of a public meeting called by the Imperial Federation League. There were present prominent members of both political parties, but the majority were Conservatives.

Shortly after eight the speakers and lights of the movement filed from the stage door and ranged themselves on the platform. They were G. R. R. Cockburn, M.P., D'Alton McCarthy, M. P., Alex. McNeill, M. P. (N. Bruce), Sir Adam Wilson, N. F. Davin, M. P., Mayor Clarke, Hon. G. W. Ross, Christopher Robinson, D. R. Wilkie, Henry O'Brien, Wm. Ince, Dr. Soadding, J. L. Hughes, Rev. D. J. Macdonnell, J. S. MacMurray, John Small, Robert Hay, J. M. Clark, Ald. MacMillan, Hugh McLennan (Montreal), Dr. Montague, M. P., Dr. R. C. Weldon, M. P. (New Brunswick), J. H. Long (Peterboro), Wm. Hamilton Merrits, Cockshutt (Brantford.)

Mr. G. R. R. Cockburn, President of the Toronto branch of the League, occupied the chair. He felt it no ordinary honor to preside over so large, influential and representative a meeting. This was not a political movement. In England the preceding president of the League was Rt. Hon. Mr. Forster, a Liberal. The present president is the talented Lord Rosebery, an extreme Liberal. In Canada the movement has among its supporters Hon. O. Mowat, Hon. G. W. Ross and others of the Reform party. They were here to-night simply to consider what they could best do, as Britons living in Canada, to draw more closely the tie that binds them to their brother Britons and Britonesses that live across the ocean. [Hear, hear.] The speaker complimented the meeting on the presence of so many ladies, whose hearts are always right and sound and who, by a kind of instinct, grasp at a conclusion much more rapidly and surely than old fogies like the speaker.

Col. Geo. Denison was called on to move the first resolution, which read as follows:

Resolved that this meeting hails with pleasure the establishment of a branch of the Imperial Federation League in this city, and confidently hopes that through its instrumentality the objects of the League may be advanced, and the ties which bind Canada to the Motherland, strengthened and maintained

Col. Denison supported his resolution in a short speech, in which he denounced the Americans as "grasping people, and working to destroy Canadian nationality."

Mr. J. M. Clark, late President of the Young Men's Liberal Club, seconded the resolution. He said there were three courses open to Canada. First, independence. As an independent nation Canada would enjoy only such rights as the United States would think fit to let it enjoy. The next course was annexation. That, as a matter of sentiment, was quite out of the question. The third course open to Canada was Imperial Federation, and what that meant the speakers who followed him would point out. One thing it meant was that Canada would remain as she now is, an integral part of the British Empire. Canadians would be admitted to the full privileges of British citizenship. We are asked to define what we mean by Imperial Federation. The definition I give is that it involves Canada's being an integral part of the Empire, and being represented in some way in the Imperial Parliament. It means that Canada should have a voice in the development of the Empire, and in the formation of its foreign policy. If we have a voice in what her foreign policy is to be we must contribute to the costs of Imperial defences. The scheme must include the whole foreign policy of the British Empire.

The resolution was carried unanimously.

Resolved that while having every reason to be satisfied with their position as citizens of the greatest Empire the world has ever known, enjoying in the fullest sense the rights of local self-government, with a large measure of protection from external foes, Canadians, now numbering five millions, with their continental territory, rapidly developing resources, growing and far-reaching commerce and increasing wealth, have attained a position from which they can contemplate with a high degree of confidence such well-matured plans as may be proposed alike by Imperial and Colonial statesmen for a closer union of the component parts of the Empire, and for an increase in the responsibilities and duties necessarily arising out of a union from which so much may be expected of strength, of prosperity and of glory

This resolution was moved by Mr. Alex. McNeill, M.P. for North Bruce. He said the newest this great meeting would be tidings of joy to all lovers of the Empire, for it will proclaim trumpet-tongued that the great British city of Toronto is up and doing in the glorious work of Imperial unity. He said he would repeat the words this great British city of Toronto, even if he ran the risk of offending the traitorous crew. Let each one enroll his name now as a member of the League. It is a great privilege that is afforded you to take on the most glorious political cause ever a human being ever advocated.

Mr. McNeill overcharged with emotion and steadfastly eyeing the questioner)—It is the cause of peace—and progress—and civilization. [Applause.] It is the cause of our own empire and our own race (his eyes still fixed on friend Smith). I will tell you further, to give you heart, it is no losing cause. [Hear, hear.] Even if it were you should never forsake it. Even if it were I should ask for myself no more glorious destiny than that I might go down forever with it. [Applause.] The Imperial League exists to advocate no particular form of Imperial unity. It exists to advocate consultation, intercommunication and concerted action among the different members of the empire. The young life of Imperial unity is throbbing throughout every member of our empire.

Mr. McNeill referred to what had been done by the Imperial conference last year, one result of which was the settlement of the New Hebrides question.

Mr. R. C. Weldon, M. P., of Halifax, made a capital speech in seconding the resolution. He conveyed the thanks of the mothers of Halifax to the ladies of Toronto for their kind treatment of the Halifax boys whos passing through Toronto to the Northwest. Taking up the theme of the night he said since 1688 England had been engaged in eight great wars, and every one of these wars, except one, had been directly or indirectly concerned with the North American continent; they were wars with France over the possession of the American colonies, and the other war was one with Russia as to the Indian dependency. History proved that Britain's quarrels were our quarrels.

The speaker said he was one of the young men who hailed with joy the coming to this country of the celebrated professor of history from the banks of the Isis, carrying with him the aroma of great scholarship. But he was sorry to find that the scholar made poor use of his gifts. Instead of giving inspiration to our young life he discouraged us with the forebodings of a gloomy and disconsolate mind. He chilled us when he should have inspired us with patriotic fervor.

There were two courses before Canada. First there was annihilation. Some called it Annexation, but that's what he termed it. Twenty years ago he was an ardent independence man, but after twenty years he had become older and wiser. We can never expect fair play from a country that interpreted the law of nations in such a way that a gulf 300 miles wide at its mouth is entirely under coast line jurisdiction on the Pacific while an inlet 10 miles across on the Atlantic is said to be on the high seas. [Applause.]

Dr. Montague, M.P., moved this motion:

Resolved, That a more intimate connection with the mother land does not involve or depend upon any commercial relationship differing from that which now exists between the United Kingdom and Canada, but in the opinion of this meeting the adoption of Imperial Federation might well lead to such changes in the fiscal policy prevailing as to give to the mother country and her colonies advantages in their several markets, denied to those who do not belong to the Empire, and that this meeting calls upon the House of Commons of Canada to take steps at an early date to give effect to the principles of this resolution.

After expressing the thrill he felt at seeing such a magnificent audience he referred to a remark made by Mr. Clarke, a previous speaker. The gentleman said, in arguing that this was not a party question, he did not remember one great movement which was inaugurated by the Conservative Party, and he would not give them credit for one. He (the speaker) would be more charitable to the Reform Party. That Party did inaugurate one great movement. It was on Sept. 17, 1873. [Laughter.] He was a firm believer in Canadian Nationalism, but he had yet to learn that because Canadians are enthusiastic over Canada and everything Canadian they were less loyal Britons. Though expressing the strongest sentiments of Canadian Nationalism it did not prevent him from expressing the strongest sentiments of British loyalty. Geo. Brown had expressed an earnest wish to live to see all of the North American parts of the Empire formed in one confederation.

The great Reform leader had lived to see the territory of the Dominion extend from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and had he lived a few months later than this he would have realized his desire, for even now arrangements were being made to admit the last outstanding possession into the great Canadian Confederation. Canada was setting the example of confederation to the Empire.

It was said that in the Old Country the regard for the other parts of the Empire was growing; but in the colonies the feeling was not so good toward the Motherland. But he believed that go where you might in the Empire, away down in the hearts of the people would be found the best of loyalty, and even though Ireland was greatly agitated over the Home Rule question and though hard things were often said, he believed that deep down in the kindly Irish heart was a loyal attachment for the great Empire which the Irish had so often and valiantly fought to maintain, and which, when the local trouble was settled, her sons would fight for again if it were ever necessary to do so. [Applause.] With regard to Imperial Federation, it was said that the scheme was somewhat hazy.

The motion was passed unanimously.

Mr. Dalton McCarthy, M.P., President of the League in Canada, moved this resolution:

Resolved, That it is not at this stage of the movement necessary, nor in view of the numerous interests involved expedient, that any precise scheme of carrying into practical working the principles of Imperial Federation should be defined, but this meeting is glad to know that the recent colonial conference, at which matters of interest common to the Mother Country and her colonies were discussed, was the direct outcome of the parent League established in London only four short years ago, and it may well be that out of succeeding conferences of this kind is to be evolved the best and most suitable method of carrying into effect the federative principle which the League has been established to promote.

Mr. McCarthy said that he had believed in the practicability of the federation for years, and because he believed in the practicability of it and supported it and prophesied its ultimate success he had been told that it was the mistake of his political life. But he considered it a great privilege to address this great gathering, who, he felt, came here to endorse the principle of the scheme, and to give their support in the battle—[applause]—which was about to be waged. He reaffirmed his belief in the ultimate success of the scheme. It was not the duty of the Imperial Federation League to lay down in explicit terms the exact form upon which the federation of the Empire should be based. It was their duty to discuss the question.

How many years was it before our own federation was brought to a climax? It was agitated by our public men in 1837 and 1838, but it was not till thirty years after that the scheme was reduced to the Act of Parliament which became our Constitution.

Mr. Cockshutt, of Brantford, seconded the resolution, and made a short, stirring speech. He was just a little too "English" in his remarks, however. If the Imperial Federation is to become a fact it will not be an "English" federation, but one in which England shall form a part the same as Canada, Scotland, Ireland and other members. It will be a "British" Empire.

The motion was carried unanimously.

Business Meeting of the League.

The annual meeting of the Imperial Federation League in Canada was held in Association Hall on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Dalton McCarthy, President of the League in Canada, occupied the chair.

The officers elected were: President, Mr. Dalton McCarthy, M.P.; Vice-President, Mr. A. McNeill, M.P.; Secretaries for Montreal and Toronto, Arch McGoun and Casimir Dickson; Treasurer, H. H. Lyman.

Details of the working of the League were discussed and it was decided to write Lord Rosebery, who is coming to Canada next summer, to deliver a public address.

A Sunday Melee at Youghal.

DUBLIN, March 26.—Mr. William O'Brien addressed the Penscoby tenants at Youghall at an early hour this morning, and afterward attempted to hold the meeting which had been proclaimed by the Government. He mounted a car with the intention of addressing the people, but was seized by policemen and dragged to the ground. The police then charged upon the crowd with drawn batons and a serious melee ensued in which a number on both sides were wounded. It is alleged that several of the police were stabbed. Magistrate Plunkett was thrown down and beaten, and he received a cut on the head. Mr. O'Brien escaped to a priest's house and subsequently harangued the crowd in a stable.

THE OFFICIAL BULLETINS

OF THE GERMAN EMPEROR'S CONDITION SAID TO BE FALSE.

Not the Faintest Hope of His Recovery or Even of the Arrest of the Disease Which is Eating Away His Life—A Practical Co-Regency.

BERLIN, March 26.—The official bulletins which are continually issued concerning Emperor Frederick William's health are shamelessly false in their statements. There is not the faintest hope of his recovery or even of the arrest of the disease which is eating away his life. The nature of his malady enables him to keep on his feet, and with the constant aid of his physicians to effect a superficial stimulation or partial vigor and recuperation, but the progress of the disease is not in the least degree stayed. The best expert opinion in Europe does not give him more than six weeks of life. He has been told this, and like the brave man that he is, he has quietly submitted to the inevitable. He says he will do as much as he can while his life lasts for the welfare of Germany. The lying bulletins are directly contradicted by everything of a practical nature, including the delegation of authority to the Crown Prince on precisely the same terms as during the Emperor William's last days.

The slanderous attacks upon the Empress are still kept up, though not with the degree of boldness which characterized them a week ago. The illustrated papers are less circumspect, however, and caricatures and pamphlets are freely circulated, the nature of which would be impossible even to hint at. A gratifying offset to the offensive publications is the movement started by the women of Germany to present to Her Majesty the Empress an address in recognition of her fidelity and devotion to her husband and her contention, exemplified in her German life, that marriage is not a slavery, but a partnership.

The Emperor's decree of March 21 authorizing Crown Prince William to represent him in the transaction of state business, is now recognized as tantamount to the creation of a co-regency. Besides the published decree another exists which gives Crown Prince William fuller powers in event of the Emperor suddenly growing worse. Both were obtained by Prince Bismarck during his interviews with the Emperor at Charlottenburg. An incident of one of the interviews is told by Prince Bismarck himself and is as follows: While talking to the Emperor the pain from the swollen vein in Prince Bismarck's legs was so severe that it made him cry out. The Emperor rose and lifted Bismarck's limbs into the couch and wrapped them around.

Regarding the real state of the Emperor's health it is difficult to obtain authentic information. The bulletins issued are utterly unreliable. Of his private life what is known is that he is able to take a little daily exercise in the orangery and heated conservatory at Charlottenburg, and that he receives family visits and listens to the reading of official reports. He does not move out of rooms that are beyond a certain temperature, and he cannot receive a public deputation, it being feared that any disturbance might precipitate a crisis. Dr. Mackenzie does not leave him more than half an hour at a time.

The feeling against Dr. Mackenzie is abating. In a letter written by him to a friend, a doctor in Stettin, he says: "It is impossible for me to rectify the numberless falsehoods concerning my duties toward the Emperor."

A medical consultation has been held regarding the condition of Prince William, who is suffering from otitis modea purulenta, a disorder not dangerous in itself, but a symptom of general ill-health. He has been advised, if the work of the regency permits, to take a tour in the spring, of Scotland or Norway.

Frederick Continues to Improve.

BERLIN, March 24.—Empress Victoria gave a court reception to-day, at which it was announced that Emperor Frederick continued to improve, and that he is stronger, his throat affection being relieved.

Queen Victoria's Reception at Florence.

ROME, March 24.—Queen Victoria arrived at Florence to-day. Gen. Driquet, representing King Humbert; Count Forfa and Cavaliere Brinda, who were delegated by King Humbert for her service during her stay, received her at the railway station. The Queen was driven to the Vila Palmirie in an open carriage, going through the Via Cavour and the Porta San Galli. She was escorted by a guard of honor. The populace accorded her an enthusiastic welcome.

THE MANITOBA QUESTION.

THE MONOPOLY CAUSES ANXIETY IN THE TORY RANKS.

There is no Reason Why the Settlement Should Cost a Cent to the Country—The Monopoly Stronger Than Sir John—The Delegates go to Montreal.

OTTAWA, March 25.—There was a Cabinet Council on Saturday, at which, it is understood, the question of disallowance was further discussed. It is said that at first Sir John Macdonald was inclined to resist the Canadian Pacific Railway's claim to compensation, but that the corporation convinced him that he was not master and he has had to make an unconditional surrender. The railway company were never guaranteed exclusive rights in the old territory of Manitoba, and all that the Government had to do to pacify the Province was to cease to veto legislation she was constitutionally competent to enact. There is no reason the settlement should cost the country a cent. The Government had simply to observe the conditions on which the Canadian Pacific Railway charter and subsequent loans were granted, and to carry out the pledges made to the Manitoba constituencies during the last elections, and the whole trouble would have been overcome and the country saved a threatened burden of millions. That course would be taken if Sir John Macdonald were as strong as the monopoly. It has been denied that the Government have called a caucus to consider the compensation to be granted, but it is true all the same that a caucus will be held after the recess, that it was postponed because so many members have left for home for the holidays, and that there is intense dissatisfaction in the Tory ranks because the intention to purchase the monopoly was announced before the supporters of the Government were consulted. The feeling among Ministerialists is decidedly panicky, but it is not at all likely any Tory will be driven into open hostility to his leaders, no matter how obnoxious he may consider the terms the railway company will force upon the Government. Mr. Greenway will be no party to the settlement. He simply denies the right of the company to a monopoly in old Manitoba, and will in no way concern himself with the proposal to buy out the company's exclusive rights over the Northwest and British Columbia. He and his colleague and Mr. Watson of Marquette went to Montreal on Saturday, at the instance of Mr. VanHorne, to arrange with the Canadian Pacific Railway authorities the price to be paid for their Emerson branch to the boundary, by which it is proposed to make connection with the Northern Pacific. It is settled that the Province will purchase this road if it can be got at a sum as low as that for which the provincial line to the boundary can be completed. I understand that Mr. Greenway is also negotiating with Mr. Joseph Hickson of the Grand Trunk for the entrance of that road into Manitoba, and that the continuance of their negotiations will be an important part of their work at Montreal. He is anxious, too, for an alliance with the Manitoba and Northwestern that will keep that road out of the grip of the monopoly. If he succeeds in completing his business he will return to the Capital to-morrow, and will probably start for home toward the end of the week.

LATEST MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, March 24.—The local sterling exchange market in Toronto is firm. Sixty-day bills between banks are quoted at 109⅜, and across the counter at 109½ to 109¾. Demand bills, 109⅝ between banks and 110⅛ to 110⅜ across the counter. New York drafts 1-16 to ⅛ premium between banks and ⅛ to ¼ across the counter.

ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

There was a good market this morning. Spring lamb was plentiful at $6.50 to $7 a carcase; spring chickens were worth $1 per pair. Fresh eggs were plentiful, and could be had for 15 to 18 cents per dozen. Meats remained at the prices they held all week.

BEERBOHM'S REPORT.

Beerbohm reports to-day: Floating cargoes — Wheat and corn nil. Cargoes on passage—Wheat and corn quiet. Paris firm. Liverpool—Wheat weaker, corn quiet and steady.

LIVERPOOL MARKET.

Liverpool reports to-day: Wheat dull, poor demand, holders offer freely; corn firm, fair demand. Prices: Spring wheat 6s 6d to 6s 9d, red winter 6s 7d to 6s 8d, No. 1 Cal. 6s 7d to 6s 9d; corn 4s 7½d, peas 5s 4½d, pork 67s 6d, lard 43s 3d, bacon 39s to 40s 6d cheese 80s.

The Murdered Innocents.

NEW YORK, March 25.—The bodies of Anthony and Charles Lebkuchner, the children poisoned by their insane mother yesterday in her desire to prevent them being taken from her, were viewed by thousands to-day in Undertaker Rolph's room. In the afternoon the bodies were interred in the Lutheran Cemetery. The baby, also poisoned, is at the New York Hospital. It is thought that he will recover. The mother is in the Tombs, and still maintains that she is sane and that it was her duty to kill the children to prevent her husband's relatives obtaining possession of them.

Anxious Depositors.

WILLIMANTIC, Conn., March 24.—The report that Royce, the cashier of the Savings Institute had fled to Canada, is no doubt untrue. Inquiry at the bank elicits the information that Royce went to New York last night to see about securing a settlement with parties there whose paper is held by the Institute. The Savings Institute is crowded to-day with depositors, demanding certificates on which to withdraw deposits, four months hence.

Mr. McShane's Resignation.

MONTREAL, March 25.—The Associated Press correspondent called upon Hon. Jas. McShane to-day to learn the cause of his retirement from Mr. Mercier's cabinet and found him very reticent. He said, however, among other things "The true reason of my resignation will all come out later on."

The Daily Examiner.

MONDAY, MARCH 26, 1888.

THE EAST RIDING INSTITUTE.

Condensed Report of the Meeting at Keene.

Afternoon Session.

The attendance in the afternoon was much larger.

Mr. CHAS. O'REILLY read a paper on "Book Farming," in which he held that books were of as much importance to the farmer as to the professional man. Books and newspapers on agricultural topics and published in the interest of farmers, contained the experiences and information of men learned in the calling. They should be more generally introduced into farm houses. No farmer knew so much that he could not learn something from books.

CATTLE FEEDING.

Mr. WM. COLLINS next read a paper upon "Feeding and Marketing Cattle." In introducing his paper he apologised for presenting the same paper he had read before the West Peterborough Institute, but he had not had time to prepare another. [A summary of this paper appeared in the EXAMINER'S report of the first meeting of the West Riding Institute. It does not, therefore, require to be reproduced.]

Mr. BIRDSALL enquired if Mr. Collins had ever used any wash to prevent insects on cattle during the winter.

Mr. COLLINS replied that he had never used any, but would suggest the use of some such preparation in cases where strange cattle were housed together.

Mr. ESSON enquired where the benefit arose from cutting straw before feeding it to cattle.

Mr. BLEZARD explained that the cut feed mixed with the chop and brought it up in "cud" again, whereas if the chop was fed alone it laid in the first stomach until it fermented and passed away. He said the horses of the street car company in Toronto were fed cut feed at a remarkably cheap rate, and they are given just so long to eat. They were not allowed to sniffle over their food; after their time was up it was taken away from them.

Mr. R. BIRDSALL said last winter he fed a team with cut rye straw, softened with water, on which a dipperful of chop was thrown, and they thrived as well as another team fed on hay and oats.

The President said it was stated by authorities that the feeding of ensilage to cattle did away with turnips.

SHEEP-RAISING.

Mr. R. Birdsall read a paper on the above subject—the same as presented at the recent Lakefield meeting, a summary of which has already been published in the EXAMINER.

Mr. O'REILLY said he usually docked his lambs when three or four days old, and had never lost one yet.

Mr. BIRDSALL thought they were better able to stand it when about two weeks old.

Several other minor points in Mr. Birdsall's paper were touched upon, and adverse opinions in some cases advanced.

THE DOGS TO BE TAXED.

Upon the recommendation to place a tax upon dogs in the country, in order to get rid of the many worthless curs who are a great trouble to sheep, there was some discussion, the majority evidently being in favor of the idea as a good life insurance upon the sheep.

Mr. COLLINS suggested the dogs be tagged, and any dog found off his own premises without a tag liable to be shot.

The discussion culminated in the following resolution:

Moved by R. E. Birdsall, seconded by C. O'Reilly, that in the opinion of this Institute it is desirable for the Legislature of Ontario to pass a law making it compulsory in all municipalities to put a tax on dogs and bitches; and that this resolution be forwarded to the Central Institute with a request that they take action in the matter.

The resolution was carried.

CREAMERIES.

Mr. BLEZARD, in beginning his address upon the creamery system, urged good care of the cattle in winter by having warm, well-lighted, well-ventilated stables. Creameries were an important addition to the farmers' calling. A good creamery could be started on $500—that would supply the necessary machinery, at least. If this creamery system could be established and the cream all brought in together and butter of one good quality made, it would be much better than by the present system where there are so many different grades made. Mr. Blezard dwelt upon the advantage of uniformity in butter-making. The advantages of the creamery system were enumerated. At present the average farmer keeps 6 or 8 cows, these have to be milked night and morning, there was the skiming and churning to do, scouring tins, carrying the skim milk to the pigs and so on. The cream of four or five days is mixed together and churned, but that does not give such good results. By the creamery sytem the milk was taken to the factory, the cream was turned to butter every day and so uniformity was secured with first-class quality.

The question of adulteration of milk was broached. Mr. Blezard stated that in the milk analysis of western Ontario it was found that from 30 to 70 per cent. of the milk sent into the factories was adulterated. Mr. Drummond said in this section there was very little adulteration noticed, and it was very difficult to detect it from the differences in the quality of milk. Mr. Blezard said that until a quick sure test and a standard of judgment was secured, there would be more or less adulteration.

The President pointed out several advantages of the creamery system. There would be a great saving to the horses. The cream would have to be gathered up only every two days in summer and perhaps every three days in fall. Then the farmer would have the advantage of the skim milk, which was estimated at a value of $5 to $7 for each cow, for feeding calves and pigs. He saw no reason why the creamery could not be run in connection with the cheese factory.

ENSILAGE AND OTHER SUBJECTS.

The President also spoke a few minutes upon ensilage, describing the manner of building a silo and filling it—A subject with which readers of the EXAMINER are already quite familiar. That silos were a benefit to farmers was shown by their great increase. In the year 1880 there were only 10 silos in America; last year there were in the States alone over 10,000.

Mr. BLEZARD confirmed the President's statements as to the value of ensilage, which he considered more economical than the cultivation of turnips. He urged farmers to feed their cows well. At present, during only six months of the year was a cow of profit; the other six months she was starved on straw. Reports show that in some places cows give from 5,000 to 7,000 lbs. of milk a year, but then there was good reason for it. They fed their cows and made them of use for nearly the whole year. He advocated calving in February, so that the cow could be milked as soon as put out upon pasture.

Mr. JAS. MOORE made a few remarks upon feeding colts. Sour milk was a good thing for colts, and they should be taught to drink out of a swill-barrel or pail. Recurring to the subject of the present system of statute labor tax, he said he was in favor of changing it to a general tax and appointing a commissioner to do the work.

The ensilage question came up again, and Mr. R. Birdsall read an article from a newspaper on "Silos and Ensilages," contributed by John Sprague.

A ten minutes' intermission was taken and a number of subscriptions received on the coming year's membership.

Discussion was resumed upon the relative merits of Clydesdale horses.

GRADES AND THOROUGHBREDS.

Mr. COLLINS asked the opinion of the meeting upon the question of withdrawing prizes from grade stallions at agricultural exhibitions. Such was being done in the west.

The West Riding Society intended holding a show soon, and they were not yet decided whether to adopt that plan or not.

An animated discussion followed on this, in which Messrs. Blezard, Moore, Collins, English, Shearer, Fife, Redpath, Birdsall and others participated. Opinion was divided. The qualities of thoroughbreds and grades were canvassed, and the colts of a grade stallion compared with those of thoroughbreds. Some of the speakers held that as good colts could be raised from the former as the latter, and that there were plenty of grade animals as good as or better than many thoroughbreds.

Mr. COLLINS brought matters to a focus by moving, seconded by Mr. Birdsall, "that this meeting approve of agricultural societies discontinuing at an early date giving prizes to general purpose or grade stallions at exhibitions."

Mr. MOORE held that the deterioriation of stock raised from grade horses was rather the fault of the mares than the stallions.

After a little further discussion the motion was put to the meeting and carried.

Mr. BLEZARD moved a vote of thanks to all who had come from outside the Riding to assist at the meeting.

The meeting then adjourned till evening.

Premier Mercier's Cabinet.

OTTAWA, March 25. The Liberal members from Quebec are not at all exercised over the Tory attempt to introduce a crisis into Mr. Mercier's Cabinet. They believe the Provincial Premier is equal to any situation that may be developed. They speak kindly of Mr. McShane, but do not seem to think that he will resume his place in the Cabinet. There is some expectation that he will be succeeded by Mr. Owen Murphy of Quebec. He is pronounced a strong man, but is not thought to be anxious to assume Ministerial responsibility. The rumor that Mr. J. P. Noyes of Shefford would succeed Mr. McShane does not seem at all probable, when it is remembered that Mr. McShane was looked upon as the representative of the Irish Catholic element of Quebec, and Mr. Noyes is a Protestant.

Notes From the Capital.

OTTAWA, March 24. Mr. Paterson, in his speech last night, quoted the resolution passed by the Dominion Board of Trade in 1874, which observed with gratification a growing sentiment among our neighbors for more intimate reciprocal trade relations, and instructed the Executive of the Board to take whatever steps were necessary to secure the adoption of a treaty to obtain reciprocal trade with the United States on a broad, liberal and comprehensive basis. This resolution was seconded by a gentleman who contended that it was Canada's duty to be on the best of terms with her neighbor, and that it was a matter to be viewed in the "broad light of humanity." "Who," asked Mr. Paterson, in his stentorian tones, "were the mover and seconder?" and amid cheers he replied, "Hon. Thomas White and Mr. Adam Brown of Hamilton." Proceeding to refer to Mr. Brown, Mr. Paterson said, "How that patriot's breast heaved as he contemplated with horror this proposed act of treason, yet he was the gentleman who seconded the resolution in 1874, in the broad light of humanity! Has he lost that humanity? [Loud cheers and laughter.] If his views since that time have changed, it should at least make him more charitable towards his opponents."

Secretary Bayard's official statement that no minutes or daily protocols were agreed upon and signed other than already transmitted to the Senate is at variance with the known facts. The arguments of each commissioner, at each sitting of the commission, were taken down by Secretaries Bergne and Moore, not in short hand but in effect, and after being read over at the close of each sitting were signed by the plenipotentiaries, each of whom, including Sir Charles Tupper, was given a copy of these daily summaries. Tupper does not deny that he has the information. Bayard's statement is therefore extraordinary in view of the facts.

The King of Roumania yesterday conferred with the Emperor of Austria and the leading military officers. It is supposed the object was to discuss the probable invasion of Bulgaria by Russia.

A Pleasure Shared by Women Only.

Malherbe, the gifted French author, declared that of all things that man possesses, women alone take pleasure in being possessed. This seems generally true of the sweeter sex. Like the ivy plant, she longs for an object to cling to and love—to look to for protection. This being her prerogative, ought she not to be told that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the physical salvation of her sex? It banishes those distressing maladies that make her life a burden, curing all painful irregularities, uterine disorders, inflammation and ulceration, prolapsus and kindred weaknesses. As a nervine, it cures nervous exhaustion, prostration, debility, relieves mental anxiety and hypochondria, and promotes refreshing sleep. a

BREADMAKER'S YEAST.

BREAD made of this Yeast took 414 First Prizes at Ontario Fall Shows in 1887.

Over 10,000 ladies have written to say that it surpasses any yeast ever used by them.

It makes the lightest, whitest, sweetest bread, rolls, buns and buckwheat pancakes.

Bakers in nearly every town in Canada are using it.

A MALICIOUS FABRICATION.

Alleged Plot to Ruin Gen. Boulanger, Rochefort and Others.

PARIS, March 26.—In the Chamber of Deputies today M Miche produced a handbill which had been circulated in Paris, inviting the attendance of the public at a meeting to be presided over by Gen. Boulanger and the speakers at which would include MM. Rochefort, Laisant, Boulanger and Michelin.

M. Michelet declared that the placard was a malicious fabrication of the basest kind against men whom their enemies desired to ruin.

M. Sarrien, Minister of the Interior, replied that the Government had no knowledge whatever of the affair and could not be held in any way responsible.

Gen. Boulanger's Trial.

PARIS, March 24.—The Court of Inquiry in the case of Gen. Boulanger will hold its first session March 26. Gen. Boulanger denies the charges made against him and will call a number of witnesses.

Mr. Mackay Bocas's Know Him.

PARIS, March 25.—The National having recently twice alluded to alleged relations between Gen. Boulanger and a rich American residing near the Arc de Triomphe, Mr. Mackay has written a formal letter denying that he has ever been acquainted with Gen. Boulanger.

The Boulanger meeting to which M. Michelin called attention in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday was held in Rivalli Hall. None of the alleged promoters attended the meeting. The gate-keepers disappeared with the receipts, and the audience, after noisy protests, resolved to ask the public prosecutor to indict the persons responsible for the meeting on a charge of swindling.

French Elections.

PARIS, March 25.—In the election at Marseilles to-day for member of the Chamber of Deputies M. Pyat (Irreconcilable) received 40,294 votes. M. Herve (Conservative) 23,638, M. Fouquier (Opportunist) 12,440 and General Boulanger 953. In the election at Laon General Boulanger received 45,089, M. Deurner (Radical) 26,808 and M. Jacquemart (Conservative) 21,676. Another ballot is necessary.

WOMEN WHO THINK.

Some of Those in Attendance at the International Council at Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The women have fairly taken possession of the Riggs House today. Every train brought fresh arrivals. Many of the delegates to the International Council are in the city. An interesting group of women at the council will be the survivors of those who attended the Seneca Falls meeting some forty years ago. Among the pioneers already here are Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Virginia L. Minor, Antoinette Brown Blackwell, Matilda Joslyn Gage and Susan B. Anthony. There are four members of the Anthony family here—Susan B. and her sister Mary S. Anthony, Miss Lucy Anthony, a niece, and Sarah Anthony Burtis, a relative. Miss Mary S. Anthony and Sarah Anthony Burtis were among the original pioneers.

Mrs. Stanton, Miss Anthony and others appeared to-day before the House Committee on the Judiciary in behalf of women suffrage, and were very much annoyed and disgusted to find Dr. Mary Walker there, clad in her usual garb of man's clothing, and insisting on speaking against giving women the ballot. Dr. Mary got very mad because she was not allowed to speak. She said that she represented more women than did Mrs. Stanton.

The International Council of Women opened this afternoon with religious services at Albaugh's Grand Opera House. The attendance was large.

The Postage on Seeds.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., March 24.—Judge Wallace of the United States Court has granted an order for the postmaster at Suspension Bridge to show cause why an injunction should not be issued restraining him from rating the postage on packages of seeds mailed by Jas. Vick's agents in Canada to parties in the United States, and the papers were served by Deputy Marshal Bardwell yesterday. The case will be argued before Judge Wallace at Syracuse April 7.

Gas Explosion in a Colliery.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., March 24.—A heavy gas explosion occurred at Flowery Fields colliery, four miles from this city, last night. The miners were changing shifts, when a spark from a lamp dropped into some scattered powder, igniting an accumulation of gas in a breast. James George, a miner, was fatally and David Lewis, a pumpman, seriously injured. Several others were hurt.

Russia and the Central Allies.

BERLIN, March 24.—The situation between the central allies and Russia remains unchanged. The only alteration arises from the visit of the King of Roumania to Vienna, which has resulted in a definite treaty under which Austria pledges herself to resist any violation of Roumanian territory. Leading officers of the Roumanian army, who are strongly pro-Russian, are about to be removed and will be replaced by German or Austrian officers.

The Sultan's Offer Refused.

TANGIER, March 24.—United States Consul Lewis has refused to accept the conditions under which the Sultan's secretary offered to settle the question arising from the imprisonment at Rabat of persons under the protection of the Consul.

Nothing is known here regarding the report that the Sultan of Morocco had proposed that Spain act as mediator in the dispute between Morocco and America.

A Single Trial

Is all that is needed to prove that Polson's Nerviline is the most rapid and certain remedy in the world for pain. It only costs 10 cents for a trial bottle. A single trial bottle will prove Nerviline to be equally efficacious as an external or internal remedy, and for pain of every description it has no equal. Try 10 cent sample bottle. Sold by druggists. Large bottles 25 cents. Avoid substitutes. 6dw13

PERHAPS NO LOCAL disease has puzzled and baffled the medical profession more than nasal catarrh. While not immediately fatal it is among the most distressing, nauseous and disgusting ills the flesh is heir to, and the records show very few or no cases of radical cures of chronic catarrh by any of the multitude of modes of treatment until the introduction of Ely's Cream Balm a few years ago. The success of this preparation has been most gratifying and surprising. eodw13

It Seldom Fails.

J. D. Cameron, of Westaba, Aisaila, Cape Breton, had inflammatory rheumatism which Hagyard's Yellow Oil cured after all other treatments had failed. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is sold by all dealers in medicine. 2w12d

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

Numbered with experienced southern horticulturists is Mr. T. V. Munson, of Denison, Tex. In an article on "Horticultural Surgery," in Texas Farm and Ranch, occurs the following:

FIG. 1—LAYERING THE GRAPE.

In Fig. 1 it is desired to produce new individuals by layering. We must first partly stop, by a wound, the food supply from the parent, cause the layer to heal the wound, and at the same time secure its food from mother earth itself. We do this by cutting the branch partly in two from upper side, as at "a", so as to get all the young roots on your layer, and not as at "b," by cutting on lower side, causing generally weak roots to start both from the layer we wish to move and the old stock, which damages both the mother plant and the young sought, with no advantage otherwise. Another quicker, and about as good way as any, is to give the branch a quick twist, as though intending to make a wither, but twisting only at one point; then bend down in trench and cover, leaving top out with leaves on. In fall, cut away from old plant, take up and transplant. That is for layering, in summer time, young growing wood.

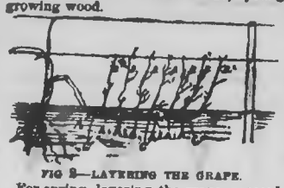

FIG 2—LAYERING THE GRAPE.

For spring layering the grape, proceed as shown in Fig. 2. A trench some four or five inches deep along row is made so as to be out of way of cultivation. A good strong cane is selected, pinned down as at "c, c, c" in the trench while yet dormant, and left uncovered till buds expand and grow branches, "b, b, b," reaching several inches above surface of ground, then begin gradually filling in fine soil along trench till level. By fall nearly every shoot will have taken root near the old vine when it sprung. Then cut apart at "a, a, a" and "c", remove and plant as a separate vine. Some varieties, very hard or impossible to grow from cuttings, can be quite readily grown in this way.

Cannot Be Excelled

I have pleasure in saying that Hayard's Pectoral Balsam cannot be excelled for curing Coughs, Colds and Loss of Voice. It cured my brother completely. So says Ira McNead of Poplar Hill, Ont., regarding this popular remedy. 2w12d

Nova Scotia News.

"I had Scrofula on my neck very bad for two years, had tried all remedies and doctors, but did not get any help until I got a bottle of your Burdock Blood Bitters which cured me of it entirely." James Cochrane, Fox River, Cumberland Co., N. S. 2w12d

The Time To Act.

If you are threatened with Headache, Constipation, Biliousness or weakness, procure at once a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and use it according to instructions. Prompt action is necessary in order that your trouble may be cured before it becomes chronic. 2w12d

THE WONDERS OF MAGIC.

When you find that beauty is falling away,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
To the elderly man with his locks in decay,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
A rich head of hair
Is as precious as rare,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
The lady's misfortune, when losing her hair,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
She can quickly, easily, cheaply repair,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
It imparts strength and beauty,
And it's the lady's plain duty,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
Take time by the forelock and still keep your own,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
This tonic, a failure has never yet known,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
Try this motto to heed,
Try till you succeed,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."

This now famous preparation for invigorating and stimulating the growth of the hair is universally accepted as the most valuable specific on the market. All diseases of the scalp are either relieved or permanently cured. A rich and rapid growth of hair will follow after judicious and regular treatment. It remains with the user alone to secure the desired results. Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" is sold by all druggists at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. If not obtainable in your own locality send direct to the sole manufacturer, enclosing price. A. DORENWEND, Paris Hair Works, 103 and 105 Yonge street, Toronto. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists. dw

TO DEPOSITORS—Deposits are received by this Company both on current account and for periods of one year or longer. The rate of interest paid on amount deposited on current account and which may be withdrawn by check in such sums as the depositor may from time to time require, is four per cent., either paid or compounded half yearly, and the rate on yearly deposits is five per cent.

TO INVESTORS—The five and ten years five per cent. debentures of this Company which are issued in denominations of $100, $200, $500 and $1,000 each, transferable by endorsement, with half-yearly interest coupons attached, payable at the Head Office of the Company in Peterborough, or at any Branch of the Bank of Toronto in Canada, afford a safe and convenient mode of investment.

The funds of the Company being invested with the utmost care and precaution, no better security can be offered to depositors or debenture-holders, they having a first claim or mortgage on the whole Assets of the Company, the Shareholders having the second. The last audit shows that the amount so invested was over $1,310,223.69, and on securities of at least double that value.

By the Laws of Ontario, Trustees, Executors and Administrators may deposit Trust Funds of the estates which they control in this Company, and are free from all further liability, a privilege of which many have largely availed themselves.

TO BORROWERS—Money is obtainable from this Company on approved Real Estate Security at the Lowest Current Rates of Interest. The Mortgage may be repaid by yearly instalments or otherwise, as may be agreed upon, the interest ceasing at once on all amounts paid on account of the sum borrowed. Applications may be made either to the Head Office, or to any of the agents.

Head Office, George Street, Peterborough, adjoining Bank of Commerce.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Strong easterly winds and gales, mostly cloudy, milder weather with snow and rain.

Diphtheria and Drinking Water.

Occasionally we see displayed on devoted dwellings the blue insignium of the presence of the dreadful disease of diphtheria, and in every case the disease is traceable to bad drinking water or some other unsanitary condition. It is a dreadful reflection that our children should thus be indirectly murdered, but the matter attracts little practical attention and the world goes on as usual, the women flocking to the golden lion to invest in their superb dress goods and to patronize the dress and mantle making department where every satisfaction is guaranteed.

Thieves in Holy Places.

Sunday night a robbery at the Salvation Army barracks was reported to P.C. McGinty, and he immediately proceeded to investigate. Arrived at the barracks he found Mrs. Cox, a member of the Army, in a great state of excitement, occasioned by the loss of $7, alleged to have been stolen from her pocket. It seems she stationed herself amongst a rather noisy portion of the audience to preserve order, when she made the discovery of her money's unwarranted absence. She immediately sent out for a policeman, in the meantime closing the door and allowing no one to leave. The constable could, however, do nothing under the circumstances, as not the slightest clue was available.

Big Timber.

Mr. Elias Thompson, of Peterborough, is taking out a quantity of large timber from "Maher's place," near Keene, and shipping it over the Grand Junction to Halifax, where it will be used for spar and boom timber. Some of the sticks sent have been commended as the best ever seen in Halifax. Each stick extends over three flat cars in shipping, and requires two teams to draw it to the station. Already a number of sticks have been sent, and more are being shipped almost every day.

Baseball Matters.

Now is the time to organise a baseball club if there is to be one here at all this summer. A movement is on foot amongst the baseball fraternity in town, and a meeting is to be held this (Monday) evening at 7 o'clock in Dr. Brennan's office, for the purpose of organization. There is no good reason why baseball should not flourish in a town where all the other field sports thrive. Let all those who are interested in the game make it a point to attend.

Street Numbering.

Mr. J. E. Belcher, town engineer, is busying himself with a plan of the town for street numbering purposes. The plan will be in three sections, comprising the whole town. This is the final plan upon which the numbering system will be based. When completed everything will be ready to begin the work. Councillor Langford deserves credit for the way in which he has pushed this matter.

Dr Smithett's Death.

Rev. Dr. Smithett, of Omemee, died on Saturday after an illness of five months. The deceased will be buried, with Orange and Masonic honors to-morrow at one o'clock in Omemee. For many years Rev. Dr. Smithett has been identified with Omemee and was Grand Chaplain of the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East, the Grand Orange Lodge of British America, the Royal Black Preceptory, and the Grand Lodge of Free Masons.

Organized Labor.

The Mail says:—"Mr Charles March, of this city, organized a District Assembly of K. of L. at Uxbridge, last Thursday evening. Delegates from Gravenhurst, Midland, Port Perry and Lindsay were present. The following were elected officers:—District Master Workman, R. R. Elliott, Uxbridge; Foreman, G. F. Morrish, Port Perry; Secretary, W. Hogan, Uxbridge; Treasurer, J. O'Rielly, Lindsay; Inspector, J. Baker, Midland; Venerable Sage, W. H. Clark, Port Perry; Statistician, W. Sloan, Gravenhurst. It is expected that several other local assemblies will be organized in the different towns in the vicinity, and when the assemlies at Peterboro', Port Hope and Oshawa are added to this district it will be one of the largest in Ontario."

A New Railway.

Port Hope isn't dead yet. They are agitating for a new railway, and seem likely to get it. The bill incorporating the Western Ontario Railway has been passed in committee in the House of Commons, and its final passage is regarded as a matter of time only. The proposed road will run from Port Hope on Lake Ontario, thence through the counties of Durham, Ontario, York, Simcoe, Cardwell, Grey and Bruce to a point on Lake Huron, touching the towns of Aurora, Shelburne, Durham, Walkerton and Inverhuron. The line is to be begun within two and completed within [illegible] years, and Mr. J. L. Biggar, Q.C., is to [illegible] Messrs. [illegible] Dobson, [illegible] James Isbester, Malcolm Stewart, C. W. Moberly, F. Caverhill, A. Maclean, J. D. Irwin are provisional directors until appointments are made under the Act. These gentlemen may open stock books, cause plans and surveys to be made and generally take the direction of affairs. The capital stock is to be one million dollars, divided into shares of one hundred dollars each.

Church Chimes.

An infant belonging to Sergt.-Major Randell was baptised in the Charlotte street church, Sunday morning.

Miss Cameron took the solo part of the anthem in St. Paul's church Sunday morning.

At St. Peter's Cathedral, Sunday, genuine palm leaves were distributed to the congregation in commemoration of the day, Palm Sunday. The Bishop made a special effort to secure them from the southern states.

Revival services will be held in the George street Methodist church on Monday and Wednesday evenings at eight o'clock.

The Salvation Army had special jubilee services on Sunday. The jubilee will be continued till Wednesday.

Rev. I. Tovell concluded his series of sermons at the Charlotte street church, Sunday night. The female character chosen as the subject of the sermon was Jezebel, in direct opposition to the good Queen Esther of last week's sermon.

Next Friday (Good Friday) forenoon special services will be held in both the town and Ashburnham Methodist churches.

This is "Holy Week," and in the Anglican and Roman Catholic churches services will be held every day.

In St. Peter's Cathedral every evening this week devotional exercises will be held at 7 o'clock. On Thursday morning there will be but one mass, to be celebrated by the Bishop at eight o'clock. Friday morning the usual special services will be held, and on Saturday 5 o'clock mass. On Easter Sunday there will be masses from 7 to 10; at 10.30 grand mass will be celebrated, at which the choir will render selections from Farmer's, Millard's and Mozart's Twelfth. The customary vespers will be held in the evening.

In St. John's Church Sunday evening Rev. Prof. Roper, of Trinity College, delivered the first of a series of addresses on subjects seasonable to Passion Week, which will be continued on Monday and Tuesday at 5.15 p.m., and on Wednesday at 7.30 p.m. On Good Friday special services will be held morning and evening, and in the afternoon from 1 to 3 meditation service at which the people are at liberty to enter or retire at any moment. The usual Easter services will be held on Sunday and music special to the occasion rendered.

In St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, services will be held every afternoon this week at 5 o'clock, excepting Tuesday and Friday, when the hour of service is 7.30. Friday morning a special service will be held and on Easter the customary services.

On Wednesday and Friday evenings this week services will be held in the south ward (St. John's) Sunday school.

The Baptist Educational Convention convenes at Guelph to-morrow. It will be the largest of its kind called together in Ontario. Rev. P. Clifton Parker, Messrs. S. Curtis, Wm. Graham, Edward Duff and J. C. Turnbull will represent the Murray street church. We understand that they favor Toronto as the location of the arts department of the University.

A young people's society of Christian Endeavor has been formed in the Baptist church, with Rev. Mr. Parker president; vice-presidents, Mr. E. Duff and Mr. J. C. Turnbull; secretary, Mr. Harry Grundy; treasurer, Miss M. Mann.

On Sunday, March 18th, the Rev. Alex. Grant, superintendent of Baptist Home Mission, preached in the Jarvis street Baptist church, Toronto, and asked for a collection for Home Mission purposes. He was rewarded with $2,250, $750 more than last year.

Have Your Bumps Read.

Prof. Raines Oakley, the eminent phrenologist, may still be consulted at the Temperance House, Aylmer street, where he will remain a short time longer.

If your cigar goes out be sure and blow through it as soon as possible. You will see some dead smoke leave it. That would become stale and make it unpleasant, especially when good stock is used as in the "Crow" cigar.

Adding an Annex.

Bishop Dowling is preparing to build extensive stabling accommodation to his new residence on Brock street west. When the additions are finished the palace will be complete in its appointments.

A Great Panic.

Much excitement has prevailed during today on Hunter street. Large crowds attracted by the great bargains offered by the Griffin Shoe Company in the sale of the Griffin bankrupt stock are rushing to the old stand opposite the Oriental Hotel, for their spring purchase. tf

Oyster Rooms Open.

J.C. Craig has opened out his two comfortable oyster parlors on George street, where the delicious bivalves will be served up at all hours, in any style desired. Drop in and try Johnny's stews. Steaks, mutton chops and tea and coffee served until 12 o'clock at night. d

A Port Hope Barn Burned.

Shortly after eight o'clock Friday evening fire was discovered in a barn on Hope street, Port Hope, used by Mr. Emerson Johns, sexton of St. Mark's church. The building with a horse, sleigh, wagon, harness, chickens, ducks, etc., was totally destroyed. The loss is covered by insurance in the Royal of England.

St. Andrew's Church Social.

A social will be held in the manse of St. Andrew's Church on the evening of Thursday, the 29th March, at which a good musical programme, vocal and instrumental, will be given. No effort will be spared to make this a most delightful gathering. Tickets, 25 cents. Refreshments included. 4d

A Pleasant Apology.

Mr. J. T. Field, who is conducting the sale of the splendid Dry-Goods stock of Dawson Bros., has the pleasure of apologizing to the public for the inefficient staff for waiting upon them on Saturday. Such a great rush for bargains was not anticipated, and ample provision will be made hereafter for serving all who may visit the store.

Defending His Neighbor.

Mr. Rutherford, of Emily, calls to correct the statement that Mr. Henry Jackson, whose horses were recently drowned in Little Lake, was from the township of Emily. Mr. Rutherford says the real Henry Jackson concerned in this case lives in Cavan, and he does not like to see his neighbor implicated when everyone knows him to be a strictly sober man.

Boots and shoes away below manufacturers' prices at Stenson's Boot and Shoe store, George street.

Brought Him to Time.

A couple of weeks ago Mr. John Doherty, market clerk, contracted with a farmer for four cords of green wood, at $3.50 per cord, for Mr. A. McNeil. Three cords were delivered when Mr. McNeil had occasion to be absent from town for a couple of days. He left a check for the amount of the four cords of wood, to be paid the farmer when he had fulfilled his contract. The wily granger called at the store, stated he had drawn the last cord and claimed the check. Agianos at the wood-pile, however, showed that the last cord was short. Mr. Doherty watched for his man, and noticed him on the market again to-day. Mr. McNeil was notified, and an interview between him and the aforesaid farmer resulted, after much expostulation and airing injured innocence, in the latter disgorging the price of the wood.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

The Wedding Day.

Lines suggested in the office of Mr. Wm. R. Roxburgh, while I was on a visit to the village of Norwood:—

Tune—Auld Lang Syne.

A house without a woman's voice
Seems like a ruined dream.
Although, between, her pleasant voice
In angry tones we hear.
Some husbands snap and snarl at wife
When business on them prey,
Them would be no end to their rage
Had they a washing day.

Then keep your temper down guid man,
Let pity bear the sway.
With patience bear your wife's sour looks
Upon her washing day.

The breakfast o'er, the dishes washed
She starts her arduous toil,
The children dressed, the water, too,
Must be put on to boil.
With tub and washboard, sleeves tucked up,
High flies the soapy spray,
She rubs and wrings your much soiled clothes
Upon her washing day.

Don't grumble if the house is not
Just in its usual way,
Or if her face don't wear a smile
Upon her washing day.

When you go home to dinner, sir,
Let looks and words be kind,
Don't stir her ruffled temper up
Like flames fanned with the wind;
Don't take a stranger home to dine,
Or you will pessance pay—
Your wife would rather see a ghost
Than a guest—on washing day.

Walk in with pleasant smiles, guid man,
And look both blythe and gay,
Or you may taste a dish of tongue
For dinner on washing day.

Though your potatoes feel like stones,
Your beefsteak shockies rare—
Employ your jaws, but guard your tongue
And neither scold nor swear.
If gravy smells too strong of fire,
Your tea tastes quite astray,
Sup on, good man, take what you get,
Upon her washing day.

Then keep your temper down, good man,
For once a week, I say.
And do not burst her smothered wrath
Upon her washing day.

Though you walk in on floor unscrubbed,
On chair unwashed sit down,
Behold that line of clean-washed clothes
And do not show a frown.
She strives to keep you neat and clean,
Let faults rise as they may;
Shew kindness rather than a scowl
Upon her washing day.

Then warmly grasp her hand, guid man,
Your marriage pledges pay,
Your love and sympathy extend
To her—on washing day.

WILLIAM TELFORD,
Smith.

The Iron Purchase.

MUD LAKE, March 20th, 1888.

DEAR SIR,—It may be considered in strict harmony with the EXAMINER'S laudable efforts to instruct the "youth of the period" by selecting problems which, while they may "puzzle the brain," may also afford a chance to "get in" an anvil chorus from the "Nail Keg and Logging Chain Contingent" of the town.

Now, as to that iron purchase, it is clear that at the prices paid by each buyer 2 tons would cost $30, and fifty tons bought at that rate would cost only $750, while the total amount paid out was $762. Therefore, it is necessary to apportion the quantity at each price, so that, while the total quantity is not increased, the total amount paid out will exceed the average by $12, and thus will the amounts stand:—

28 tons at $17 ₱ ton = $476
22 tons at $13 ₱ ton = 286

Total $762

COUNCIL MEETING.—Council met in Warsaw. All present. Minutes of last meeting read and confirmed. The clerk was instructed to notify the late Treasurer and his bondsmen to pay to township the balance of $222.06, found due by the audit, and have their bond discharged by Council. A tax of $2.07 on east half 11, con. 8, for 1887, was abated to Mrs. Saran Davie, and a tax of 89 cents on south east quarter 9, con. 8, was abated to James Brown. The time to remove the timber purchased by him on the 9th con. line was extended to Albert Ray to April 1st, 1889.

The clerk was instructed to notify Augustus Roche, Esq., to remove his fence to the proper place, along the concession line on the east end of lot 20, in the 1st concession of Dummer. Orders were issued for the following sums—A. L. Davis & Co., stationery and book, $2.97; A.K. Kidd, attending adjourned land sale, $3. A by-law to appoint pathmasters, pound-keepers and fence-viewers received two readings.

Council adjourned to the 26th of May next, to meet as a Court of Revision.

Bensfort.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

LITERARY SOCIETY.

South Monaghan seems destined to become a future source of orators and legislators; if not, it will not be the fault of literary societies. This township has, in flourishing circumstances, three societies, each having a large membership roll, and providing the population with instructive as well as amusing recreation. The regular meeting of the Bensfort society was held on Thursday evening last, and the hall was again crowded. The audience was entertained by instrumental music, well rendered by Messrs. Truscott and McLellan and Mr. Geo. Wood; vocal by Messrs. McLellan, E. Stirton, C Stirton, E. Ball and F. Deyell. Readings were delivered by Messrs. J. Kerr, Geo. McLelland and Miss Galloway, while Miss M. Sowden held the assembly spell-bound by her inimitable rendering of the recitation, "Island of the Scots."

The debate was exceedingly interesting and well contested. The subject was "Resolved, that travel informs the mind more than reading." The affirmative was upheld by Messrs. E. Truscott, C. Chapple and J. Stephens, while the negative side was maintained by Messrs. W. Waterman, W. McAllister and R. Emberson. The decision was given by the chairman in favor of the negative, after giving very full and definite reasons for such decision.

Mrs. Andrew Finney is, we regret to announce, seriously ill. Dr. King, of Peterborough, is giving her medical attendance.

Mrs. W. Fisher is, we are glad to say, recovering from her recent illness.

ENTERTAINMENT.

An entertainment on behalf of the Union Sunday School of S. S. No. 3, was held in the school room on Wednesday evening last, and, although the night was very fine, the bad state of the roads in consequence of the preceding three days' storm prevented those from attending who would otherwise have been there. Consequently the audience was small, but those who attended were treated to an exceptionally good entertainment, which, too, is the more commendable when we notice that every number was rendered by those connected with the school. The singing was excellent, especially that of the children; the readings and recitations given well, while the dialogues were carried out in regular theatrical style, which might put shame on many actors of more pretentious character. On the whole a very enjoyable evening was spent.

THE BAPTIST CONFERENCE

SIX HUNDRED DELEGATES WILL MEET AT GUELPH TO-DAY.

The Question of the New University to be Discussed—Will it be Erected at Toronto or at Woodstock?—Prospects of a Lively Debate.

TORONTO, March 27.

Six hundred delegates from Ontario and Quebec will attend the Baptist Convention that opens to-day in Guelph. The Convention is called for the specific purpose of deciding where the new Baptist University is to be located. During the session previous to the one just finished the Baptists got a bill through the Local House granting a charter for the erection of a university with degree-conferring powers. The question as to its establishment came up at the annual conference last October, but as it would involve a great deal of discussion it was thought advisable to hold a special conference for this particular purpose alone.

It will be remembered that Hon. William McMaster bequeathed $850,000 to endow McMaster Hall and to establish a university. Having so large a sum at their disposal the Baptists are anxious to proceed at once to the establishment of their university. They are all agreed as to the desirability of establishing such an institution. But there will be a great fight as to its location. The choice lies between Woodstock and Toronto. In the former place the Baptists have a Literary College. In Toronto they have their handsome Theological College, McMaster Hall.

If the University should be located at Woodstock then the Baptists would have their Theological College in one city and their University in another. This would involve a great loss in buildings, in executive management, in inconvenience to students and many other disadvantages that are readily apparent. Were the University located in Toronto both the theological and arts departments would be together. One executive, one library, and possibly one building would answer for the both departments.

The arguments are all in a nutshell: Woodstock has had the college for upwards of thirty years; the memories of Drs. Fife, Terrance and others, and the associations of the alumni are sacred; the country is better than the city for student life; subscriptions were obtained from Woodstock people, and, perhaps, strongest of all, it was Mr. McMaster's intention to place it there. Toronto, on the other hand, holds that city life and its literary facilities and surroundings, more especially the opportunity of taking special courses in the Provincial, are an important factor; further, that the theological department is already there and must remain, and, further still, that Mr. McMaster never intended it should be anywhere else.

Another question that will be considered is that of federation with the Provincial University. There is little doubt, however, that independence will carry by a large majority, as it is considered by many who favor federation the time has not yet come for its discussion. The views of the Baptist body on the question of federation have undergone a surprising change during the past two years. At the annual meeting of the Baptist Union in 1884 the following resolution (among others) was carried after a spirited discussion "with the greatest enthusiasm," as the official report says but:

That such a Literary College as we need should be situated on the University grounds in Toronto and be confederated with all other denominational colleges which are now or may hereafter be established in Toronto, and with the Provincial University, provided such federation can be secured on such terms as shall adequately recognize the paramount importance of the Christian element in education and satisfactorily secure to us the control thereof as far as our own denomination is concerned.

The discussion at Guelph will probably continue all week. A lively time is anticipated; in fact it has been suggested that there may be serious trouble in store for the Baptists, with a possible division in the body. The Woodstock party are working like beavers in behalf of that place. The Toronto delegates, 66 in number, will vote as a unit for the Queen City. It will be a big fight, the result of which none of the interested parties seem to be able to forecast.

A Well-Armed Tramp.

OSHAWA, March 26.—Four tramps were brought before Police Magistrate Grierson this morning on the charge of fighting and creating a disturbance near the G.T.R. station here Sunday night. Two of the four had pitched on one individual and badly used him up, while the fourth was a lad who had no hand in the fight. The one who did the hard fighting carried a jackknife, a razor or two and a revolver and was given two months in jail, while his accomplices in the fight were fined $10 or, more or less.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

NO BANKING BILL TO BE INTRODUCED DURING THIS SESSION.

Resumption of the Debate on the Free Trade Motion—Another Branch of Conservatism—Mr. McMullen's Speech in Support of the Motion.

OTTAWA, March 26.—In the House of Commons the whole day was devoted to the discussion of Reciprocity, except for some preliminary discussion on points pressing for immediate attention. Mr. Ferguson presented a bill to incorporate the Buffalo, Chippawa and Niagara Falls Steamboat and Railway Company, which was read the first time.

Sir Richard Cartwright wanted to know when the banking bill of the Government would be introduced, and when Sir John informed him that no such bill was on the stocks he said there seemed to be a very general impression that there was, as many enquiries had been received both by his next neighbor (Hon. Alexander Mackenzie) and himself on the subject. He would, however, take it for granted that in all probability there will be no legislation on this subject this session. This Sir John confirmed, but repeated what he had previously stated, that in view of the expiry of the bank charters in 1890 the Committee on Banking and Commerce might be invited to appoint a sub-committee to consider the whole subject of banking.

Mr. Rykert of Lincoln rose to continue the debate on Reciprocity. Mr. Rykert remains unique as a debater, for though he has been a long time before the public as the originator of a new method of debate, nobody has ever undertaken to follow him. This will be regarded as a remarkable evidence of good taste in the ambitious young men of Canada, except by the very few who do not regard Mr. Rykert's method as a sign of abnormal depravity in Mr. Rykert himself. He has always manifestly labored under the impression that people judged measures wholly by the record of the men who proposed them, and he has somehow lured himself into thinking that he can convince the country as to the record of persons of whom he speaks.

As soon as Mr. Rykert sat down Mr. Taylor of Leeds rose at the same time with Mr. McMullen of Wellington, on the other side of the House. The former caught Mr. Speaker's eye and was accorded the floor. This made it manifest that there was to be no speech from a member of the Opposition side until 10.30 as the earliest.

Mr. Taylor's argument was in the form of quotations from market reports, intended to prove that when the duty on Canadian barley was fifteen cents a bushel the price on the two sides of the line showed that difference, and when it was reduced to ten cents a bushel the relative prices fell five cents.

Mr. McMullen secured the floor about 10.30. He spoke shortly in reply to Mr. Rykert, and then entered into a discussion of the question in the light of what had been said upon it by other members in former days of the debate. He ridiculed the telegrams which Mr. Rykert had read, and reminded the House of an incident a couple of years ago when he (Mr. McMullen) had shown by quoting a full statement of which Mr. Rykert had quoted only one-half, that it was directly the reverse of what had been represented. Referring to something that Mr. Rykert had said regarding the farmers, he pointed out that while the manufacturer of whisky could import corn and get back the duty on it on exporting whisky sufficient to represent it, the farmer who imported corn to feed cattle cannot get a rebate of the duty on exporting the cattle. He paid some little attention to Mr. Rykert personally, creating not a little laughter and applause in so doing. He spoke on the general feeling which seemed to prevail among gentlemen opposite, that the Canadians could not hold their own against the Americans. There was one among them, however, who had held his own, the member for Lincoln himself. He thus led up to a mention of the notorious sale by Rykert of a timber limit to Mr. Sands of Michigan. "I can understand," he said, "why the gentlemen who bought the timber limits should object very strongly to Unrestricted Reciprocity. I could easily imagine him saying, when asked about it: 'No; I had one transaction with one of those fellows over there in Canada, and I don't want to have anything more to do with them.'" He answered a number of points Mr. Rykert had brought forward, and then proceeded to deal with other objections advanced by different members. He dealt at some length with the position of the farmers, showing the injurious effect upon them of the duties levied upon the products they sent to the United States. He denounced in strong terms the extravagance of the Government and ridiculed the support of such extravagance by Government supporters, combined with their declarations of loyalty. He closed with a reference to the First Minister who, he said, when he had passed away would need no monument to cause the people of Canada to remember him. He would leave behind a public debt which would be his monument for generations to come. Mr. Ferguson (Welland) moved the adjournment of the debate and the House adjourned at 12.45.

Around the Lobbies.

OTTAWA, March 26.—Latest reports from Hayter Reed, Assistant Indian Commissioner, show that he has gone to Lac la Biche on his investigation tour. Ma-Me-Na-Wa-Ta of Stoney Plain told him this pitiful story: "I have been called a coward for not killing cattle. It is true I am a coward and have killed none. I am glad to see you here, and am surprised that you have come now, when everything is scarce. This one and that one is naked. The wives are freezing for lack of clothing. Why is the clothing now lying in the store on the reserve not distributed? When you go these you leave behind will not do as you promise. They seem to be above you. If your promises are not carried out after you leave I will kill cattle as others do. The only way to get anything from the agent which you sent us is to feather him."

The Government appear to be in no hurry to close the Reciprocity debate. This afternoon will be dedicated to Rykert and his paperings. The Ministerialists boast that the resolution will be voted down by a majority of between 40 and 50. If so, it will be a good augury for Reciprocity. Last session she House sustained the Government's disallowance policy by a majority of nearly fifty, and within a year the Ministers have had to come down and acknowledge the majority was wrong.

In the Supreme Court, judgment in Grimmel v. the Queen was reserved. The case of the Queen v. Starrs, an appeal from an award, is being argued this afternoon.

Lieut.-Gov. Dewdney has been delayed in departing for Regina, and will probably be here another week. He sees no difficulty in the Indian problem.

The Manitoba Matter.

OTTAWA, March 26.—Messrs. Greenway and Martin returned from Montreal this evening. While there they had an interview with the members of the Montreal Board of Trade. Sir Geo. Stephen and Mr. Vanhorne arrived here this morning and consulted Sir John and the Cabinet in regard to this matter. They had a conference with Premier Greenway this evening.

A Subsidy Wanted.

OTTAWA, March 22.—A deputation composed of Messrs. Boyd and Caldwell lumbermen, Lanark; W. C. Caldwell, Ex-M.P. for North Lanark; James Donald, Reeve of Dalhousie; Thomas Rathwell, W. Pattee, Reeve of Carleton Place; Dr. Preston, and about twenty other leading men in the Counties of Lanark and Frontenac are in the city to interview the Government with a view to obtaining a subsidy from the Dominion Parliament for the construction of a line of railway from Kingston to Ottawa. The deputation had an interview with Sir John Macdonald this morning. The municipalities along the line have promised liberal subsidies towards the construction of the road. The deputation claim that the construction of the line would open up a fine farming country as well as valuable mineral districts, and give access to fine water power on the Mississippi. Sir John promised consideration.

A Kingston Deputation.

OTTAWA, March 22.—To-day a deputation from Kingston representing the Board of Trade and composed of John McIntyre, Q.C., C. F. Gildersleeve, Capt. Donnelly, Capt. Gaskin, Geo. Richardson, James Mimes and J. H. Metcalfe, M.P.P., waited upon Sir John Macdonald and Sir Hector Langevin for the purpose of urging upon the Government the desirability of having a marine dry dock at Kingston. The deputation were introduced by Mr. Kirkpatrick, M.P., and were accompanied by Mr. Geo. Taylor, M.P., Capt. Labelle, M.P., and Mr. Wilson, M.P. (Lan.)

The representatives of the deputation were supported by petitions and resolutions from the Canada Marine Association and the Boards of Trade of Toronto, Hamilton, Port Hope, Oshawa, Whitby, Port Darlington, Bowmanville, Cobourg and Belleville. The ministers were addressed by several of the deputation and by the members who accompanied them, on the importance of the work in the general marine interest.

The deputation were favorably impressed with the cordiality of their reception and they are hopeful of practical results.

THE FISHERIES TREATY

SECRETARY BAYARD DECLINES AN INVITATION TO VISIT BOSTON.

He Will Not Deliver an Address on the Question—The Printing of the Proceeds Ordered by the United States Senate—He Asks new Indians the Canadians' Rights.

BOSTON, March 26.—The following letter has been received from Secretary Bayard, who had been invited by many of the leading citizens of this city on March 9 to visit Boston and deliver an address on the Fisheries Treaty, in which he declines the invitation:

The settlement upon just and equitable terms of the questions in dispute between Great Britain and the United States concerning the rights of American fishermen in British North American waters and ports, is a subject upon which I have bestowed assiduous care ever since I assumed the duties of my present office, and the result of the efforts to promote such a settlement is embodied in the treaty now before the Senate. But the treaty has been preceded by a voluminous correspondence, and the time for complete publication has properly arrived, and its printing has been ordered by the Senate. The whole matter will thus be laid before the American people, and I trust will be fully and publicly debated by the Senate.

I am convinced that the welfare and true interests of our country, and a just and wise treatment of the British American population on our northern frontier, alike counsel the adoption of the treaty. In its initiation, negotiation and conclusion, I can truly say for my associates and myself, no views but those of single-minded patriotism have been allowed place or expression, nor can a trace or suggestion of partisanship be justly alleged.

The sole and difficult question to which the treaty relates, "the fishery rights of one nation in the jurisdictional waters of another," began with the first dawn of our recognized independent existence as a nation, and ever since has conspicuously presented itself at intervals, exciting bitter controversy, and never has been satisfactorily or permanently disposed. Meanwhile the surrounding circumstances have importantly changed and advanced with rapid, vast growth. The Treaty of 1818 is unaltered, and remains unaffected in its terms by seventy years of such material progress and development on this continent as we of to-day are the witnesses. Unless the Treaty of 1818 shall be wholly abrogated, and recurrence necessarily had to the dangerous status that John Quincy Adams so ably but unavailingly discussed with the Earl of Bathurst in 1815, and which had resisted all efforts of the negotiators at Ghent in the year previous, it is manifest that a just and equitable construction in consonance with their existing relations and mutual needs must be agreed upon between Great Britain and the United States, and this I affirm is done by the present treaty.

There is not a recorded cause of just and reasonable complaint by an American fisherman against the Canadian administration since 1866 for which this treaty does not provide a remedy and provide a safeguard in the future. Many Canadian contentions heretofore put forth with more or less insistance are withdrawn. Imaginary lines upon the sea, drawn from one distant headland to another, neither being visible to the other, can no longer cause doubt and anxiety to the fishermen, for the demarkation of his fishing limits is made by objects plainly in view, and if he encroaches upon the waters renounced in 1818 he will do so wilfully, and from no bay where fish are found, and purse seines can be profitably used, are our fishermen excluded. By the present treaty every privilege—shelter, repairs, wood, water—reserved to him under the Treaty of 1818, and which in the past have been so hampered and restricted by Canadian conditions, can hereafter be freely enjoyed without cost or molestation. Hospitality and comity, as defined by civilized nations, are secured, and facilities for convenient and needful supplies "on all occasions," and relief against casualty and in cases of distress are all amply provided for.

Conciliation and mutual neighborly concession have together done their honorable and honest work in this treaty and paved the way for relations of amity and mutual advantage. All this is accomplished by no enforced changes in our tariff nor the payment of a penny as the price of a concession nor for the enjoyment of a right. Neither the conscience, nor the self-respect, nor the pocket of an American has been invaded by any provision of the pending treaty.

That the Canadians possess jurisdictional rights no fair man would wish to deny, and among such rights is that to decide what may be lawfully bought or sold within their own limits. This Home Rule or local self government is theirs as much as we claim it for ourselves. I am anxious to have all the light possible thrown upon the treaty and its operative effects upon the well-being and happiness of our country. To this end I desire to give every information, to respond to every enquiry and to remove every doubt.

DISCUSSING THE FISHERIES.

Sir George Baden-Powell's Dinner Party—A Letter from Secretary Bayard.

LONDON, March 26.—Sir George Baden-Powell, Conservative M.P., gave a dinner to-day to Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Lord Stanley of Preston and Lord George Hamilton, First Lord of the Admiralty. The object was to discuss the fishery question.

Riddleberger's Resolution.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Mr. Riddleberger's resolution to suspend the rules for executive session in respect to the Fisheries Treaty was taken up in the Senate to-day and Mr. Riddleberger expressed the hope that the Senate would agree to it.

Mr. Sherman said the treaty was now under consideration of the Committee on Foreign Relations, and that committee might probably report in favor of a public consideration of the subject in the Senate, but for the present he thought it better that the resolution should lie over unacted upon. The Senator from Virginia would undoubtedly have ample notice, so that he could ask a vote on his resolution before the treaty would be considered.

Mr. Gray thought the suggestion of the Senator from Ohio a proper one. He (Gray) was not opposed to the resolution, but expected to vote for it. So far as he understood the sentiments of Senators on his side of the Chamber, they were in favor of the consideration of the Fisheries Treaty in open session.

COMPARATIVE PROGRESS OF CANADA.

The Conservative organs are fond of pointing to the N.P. as the great factor in the progress of Canada; that under its fostering influence the country has made gigantic forward strides. They will, many of them, be surprised to know the ratio of progress and improvement was considerably more rapid and greater under a simple revenue tariff than under monopoly rule. A dispassionate consideration of facts and careful comparision of figures go to show that the rate of progress under the Mackenzie government was greater than under the benign and thumb-screw rule of monopoly and combines. Mr. J. A. Barron, M.P., North Victoria, in his admirable speech in the House of Commons, during the reciprocity debate, brought out the truth of the above statement with great clearness. He showed by unanswerable statistical proof that the country progressed more rapidly from 1873 to 1878 under Mr. Mackenzie than from 1880 to 1885 under the present state of affairs. From 1873 to 1878 the assessment of farm and rural property in Ontario increased by $74,573,135. From 1880 to 1885 the increase was only $41,740,940, or $31,962,195 less than in Mr. Mackenzie's time. To the demand for a comparison as to urban property Mr. Barron proved that, taking both urban and rural property together, the increase was much more rapid under Mr. Mackenzie than under the present government. From 1873 to 1878 the increase in assessment was $224,560,925. From 1880 to 1885 the increase was $77,271,094. During the Protective years, between 1880 and 1887, the assessed value of all real property increased at a less rate by $147,288,931 than under Mr. Mackenzie between 1873 and 1878. As to the ratepaying population of Ontario, Mr. Barron showed that whereas under Mr. Mackenzie the rural ratepaying population increased from 1873 to 1878 by 36,864, from 1880 to 1885 it only increased by 12,666, or the number of farmers in Ontario increased three times as rapidly under Mr. Mackenzie as from 1880 to 1885. Even the urban ratepaying population increased more rapidly in Mr. Mackenzie's time. Thus from 1873 to 1878 the increase was 35,099, while from 1880 to 1885 the increase was only 30,511. The more the test is applied the greater the fact appears in favor of the rate of progress under Mr. Mackenzie. Mushroom prosperity makes the bigger show, but a little investigation reveals the true inwardness of the situation. The "N. P." is ceasing to be a name to conjure with.

ANOTHER DEEP DIP.

The C. P. R. Company is after more millions, and if they want them all they have to do is call on the Dominion Government to "stand and deliver." There is abundant evidence to show that the Dominion Government is the bound slave of the syndicate, and that the former dares not take a single step without the consent of the latter. The affairs of the province of Manitoba recently passed into the hands of a Liberal administration, and, of course, the rights of the people began to receive respectful consideration, and the wrongs of the people had champions to seek their redress. The Manitoba Government demanded the withdrawal of the disallowance policy, and asserted the rights of the province to build lines of railway within known borders. This demand was clearly within the provincial right for the C.P.R. has no claim to a monopoly in Manitoba. Yet, the Dominion Government, instead of yielding openly and freely a right which Manitoba has just claims to, sets about devising a plan by which the C.P.R. might come into another gigantic grab. The C.P.R. has no claim at all for compensation for surrender of the monopoly in Manitoba, yet, the Government, instead of considering what Manitoba claims, proposes to buy up the monopoly of the C. P. R. in the Northwest Territories to the tune of some twenty millions, when no one is particularly demanding its surrender. What need has the Government to thus play fast and loose with the financial interests of the country? None, whatever. They are simply the slaves of the C. P. R., and simply propose doing as they are bidden, and practically propose to give that absorptive company a cool twenty millions of dollars for the surrender of a right which does not exist. Read what the Monetary Times, a supporter of the fiscal policy of the Government, says about the proposed outrage:—"The Company," says our contemporary, "which at one time virtually promised to give up its monopoly when the road north of the lakes should be finished, will drive as hard a bargain as possible. It began by pretending that it was going to act on purely commercial principles; but it has since been asking favor after favor from the Government, in the most uncommercial way. What it was getting from the Government [illegible] which could not have been secured [illegible] on the same terms, if at all, it authorized the Minister of Railways to announce the approaching abandonment of the monopoly which it claims; now it asks payment of millions for that surrender. The juggles of railway finance are the reverse of edifying, and what is more, when they come in the form of those connected with the Canadian Pacific, they are very costly to the public."

The telegraphic despatches relate in jubilant phrase the discovery of a rich vein of anthracite coal near Smithville, Ont., a little west of St. Catharines, and alleged lumps of the find are said to be equal to Lehigh. This may be barely possible, but the geological scientists assert, and the world will take the opinion of scientists against the assertion of a mine miner or a swindler every day in the week. Geology says there is no coal in old Ontario. Geology has always been right in the past and there are a million chances to one that she is right in the present case, and that the Smithville find is a myth or a swindle.

FOUND GUILTY.

The Verdict in Detective Fahey's Case—The Last Seen of Hayner.

MONTREAL, March 26.—In the Fahey case this morning Judge Baby charged the jury strongly against the prisoner. There was intense excitement, the court room being packed, and Fahey shed copious tears during the judge's delivery. At 1.15 the jury retired, and in an hour and a half returned with a verdict of guilty.

Inspector Stark on the Case.

TORONTO, March 27.

Inspector Stark returned from Montreal on Saturday. His evidence in the Fahey case was with reference to Fahey's penmanship, an important point for the prosecution to establish. "I hardly expected a verdict of guilty," said the inspector yesterday. "The evidence, though circumstantial, was, however, strong. Fahey will have to stand his trial now on the charge of conspiring to commit a felony. Hayner alias Wilson failed to appear at the trial. Detective Flynn vainly endeavored to get his telegram before the court. Hayner telegraphed him from Boston in effect that he would not come on for the trial, that there was too much money for him on the other side of the Atlantic. The last seen of Hayner was when he went aboard an ocean steamship in the company of Harry Phillips, Sullivan's manager."

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Council of the Board of Trade held a session lasting three hours yesterday afternoon, the main subject discussed being bucket shops. The Secretary presented in tabulated form the replies to the circular sent out to the members of the Board of Trade, asking for their opinion on the utility of the bucket shop. These were read, and copies were ordered to be sent to Senator Abbott, who is preparing a bill with a view to the suppression of bucket shops. The Secretary was instructed to give the press an opportunity of perusing the same.

President Matthews called attention to the recent press reports regarding combines and the Board of Trade. After a lengthy discussion it was resolved to defer decided action until the report of the Commons Committee be published.

The Board of Trade Council will join the vessel owners and others of Toronto in petitioning the Department of Public Works to deepen the Eastern Gap.

A meeting of the Free Trade League of Canada was held in the ladies' parlor of Association Hall last night. Mr. E. W. Thompson occupied the chair, and there were present: Messrs. S. Caldecot, J.D. Ivey, W.A. Douglass, R. Kilgour and Wm. Blackly. An executive committee was appointed to make arrangements for the next meeting and to get up topics for discussion. The question of how the tariff affects newspapers was brought up but little was said about it.

A Famous Victory.

DUBLIN, March 25.—Mr. O'Brien, addressing a meeting in the rear of Father Killer's residence yesterday, said they had won as great a victory for the cause of Irish freedom as had ever been inscribed upon their banners. Mr. Balfour's agents, he said, feared to arrest him because they knew that they were in the wrong, and that he was in the right.

Not Easy to Replace Him.

LONDON, March 26.—The Times thinks that President Cleveland will not easily find a successor to Chief Justice Waite who shall be equally entitled to respect. "Justice Waite's judgments were always marked by good sense, and he worthily succeeded a line of judges of whom America may well be proud."

Frederick's Doctors.

BERLIN, March 26.—Dr. Bergmann visits the Emperor ever Sunday in order to reassure Germans who are opposed to Dr. Mackenzie. Dr. Mackenzie hopes to be able to pay a short visit to his London patients in a week or two.

The Emperor has countermanded the order for the spring review of the guards.

Blunt and Balfour.

LONDON, March 26. Wilfrid Blunt has written another letter in reference to his conversation with Mr. Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland. In this he shows that while he was in prison in Ireland heavy obstacles were placed in the way of his giving a correct version of his conversation with the Chief Secretary, and he supposes they were placed there at the instigation of the latter.

Cora Fellows' Indian Spouse.

FORT TULLY, Dak., March 26.—A courier from Fort Bennett says Cora Belle Fellows is doubtless now the wife of Chaska, the Sioux Indian. Chaska, he says, is not the uncouth savage he has been painted, but is a remarkably bright and industrious Indian.

"What Drug Will Scour These English Hence"?

Wicked Macbeth, who murdered good King Duncan, asked this question in his despair. Thousands of victims of disease are daily asking "What will scour impurities from my blood and bring me health"? Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will do it. When the purple life-tide is sluggish, causing drowsiness, headache and loss of appetite, use this wonderful vitalizer, never fails. It forces the liver into perfect action, drives out superfluous bile, brings the glow of health to the cheek and the natural sparkle to the eye. All druggists. b

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

A Postmaster's Opinion.

WOMEN AT WASHINGTON.

The International Council Formally Opened—Elizabeth Cady Stanton's Address.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The International Council of Women was formally opened to-day in Albaugh's Opera House. It was assembled by the National Woman Suffrage Association of the United States to celebrate the fortieth anniversary of the first woman's rights' convention. At 10.30 Susan B. Anthony, Vice-President, called the council to order. Upon the stage were seated 100 or more delegates from National Women's Rights Associations of kindred societies in this and other countries. About thirty associations of this character are represented in the council, which is probably the largest gathering of noble women in the history of this country.

Among the ladies seated upon the stage were Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Susan B. Anthony, Lucy Stone, Bessie Starr Keefer, Matilda Joslyn Gage, Mary Wright Sewell, Carrie B. Colby, Elizabeth Boynton Harbert, Julia Ward Howe, Clara Barton, Frances E. Willard and many others who were pioneers in the cause of woman suffrage.

After the hymn, "The Promised Land," had been read by its author—Mrs. Harbert—and sung by a church choir, prayer was offered by Rev. Antoinette Brown Blackwell.

Elizabeth Cady Stanton delivered the address of welcome and reviewed the history of the suffrage movement. Mrs. Stanton said: In welcoming representatives from other lands here to-day we do not feel that you are strangers and foreigners, for the women of all nations in the artificial distinctions of sex have a universal sense of injustice that forms a common bond of union between them. It is with great satisfaction we also welcome here to-day representatives of our own country, women from thirty different associations of moral and philanthropic reforms.

I think most of us have come to feel that a voice in the law is indispensable to achieve success, that these great moral struggles for higher education, temperance, peace, the rights of labor, religious freedom and international arbitration are all questions to be finally adjusted by the action of Government, and without a direct voice in legislation woman's influence will be eventually lost.

In calling this Council we anticipated many desirable results. We hoped to secure thorough national and international organization in all those reforms in which we are mutually interested.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Stanton's address, which was often interrupted by applause, Miss Anthony introduced to the audience in the order named, delegates from Norway, Finland, France, India, Ireland, England and Canada. Each one was greeted with hearty applause of welcome, to which brief responses were made. A committee on permanent organization was appointed, which will report later in the week.

'A Woman's Presence of Mind.

OTTAWA, March 26.—Further particulars of the horrible viaduct tragedy on the northern end of the Pacific Junction Railway show that the parties killed were Mrs. David Hartigan and her 10-year-old daughter. The presence of mind of her companion, Mrs. Green, who had with her on the trestle her two children, was extraordinary. Seeing the train coming she with difficulty got outside the guard rail, between which and the edge of the trestle work there was a width of one foot only. Here she clung with her little girl and while the train rushed past, killing Mrs. Hartigan and her daughter, Mrs. Green, with one arm, held her baby out in mid-air, suspended 95 feet from the bottom of the gully, and saved herself and children from a horrible death.

The Vistula Floods.

BERLIN, March 26.—Further particulars have been received of the damage done by floods in the Vistula River and its branches. The dyke at Hurst on the Nogat has overflowed and the inhabitants of the place have fled to the town of Elbing. The suburbs of the latter place, which is on the River Elbing, are flooded. The population of Marienburg on the Nogat have escaped from the town with difficulty. The prisoners in the jail were rescued by the fire brigade. The town is inundated. Eight villages at the mouth of the Vistula are submerged. Houses are falling and cattle are being drowned.

Both Fined.

PARIS, March 24.—Cross actions for libel were brought by Deputies Laur and Cassagnac growing out of a statement made by Laur that ninety-four general officers of the French army had proffered their services to General Boulanger. The result of the trial was that Cassagnac was fined 10 francs and the costs and Laur was fined 500. It was also ordered that the judgment against Laur should be published in five newspapers. Laur didn't even attempt to prove that his statement had any foundation.

The Case Will Probably Be Settled.

ST. THOMAS, March 26.—John Rice, a 21-year-old farmer of Yarmouth, was arraigned before Police Magistrate White this morning, charged with the seduction of Louisa Clark, a domestic under 18 years of age. He was remanded till Thursday, when it is expected that the case will be settled by marriage.

A Single Trial

Is all that is needed to prove that Polson's Nerviline is the most rapid and certain remedy in the world for pain. It only costs 10 cents for a trial bottle. A single trial bottle will prove Nerviline equally efficacious as an external or internal remedy, and for pain of every description it has no equal. Try 10 cent sample bottle. Sold by druggists. Large bottles 25 cents. Avoid substitutes. 64w13

PERHAPS NO LOCAL disease has puzzled and baffled the medical profession more than nasal catarrh. While not immediately fatal it is among the most distressing, nauseous and disgusting ills the flesh is heir to, and the records show very few or no cases of radical cures of chronic catarrh by any of the multitude of modes of treatment until the introduction of Ely's Cream Balm a few years ago. The success of this preparation has been most gratifying and surprising. eodw13

Male Device for Handling a Bull.

A farmer in Royal New Yorker gave recently an illustrated description of a device for holding bulls that has proven convenient, durable and safe. It is simple and any blacksmith can very quickly make one. Put it on and let it remain on as long as the bull is being handled. It is not in the way of anything or at at any time. It needs no explanation. Lead with a rope or staff and hitch in the nose ring or above as you see fit. This farmer had a heavy, stout harness snap put on the end of the chain to hitch in the ring in the nose, and another snap to hitch the ring half way between the horns. Fit a ring on the horns under the nubs. If any bull is too harsh for common brass nubs and tears them off, have a blacksmith make a heavy iron nub with a heavy thread that will stand the racket.

DEVICE FOR HOLDING A BULL.

Labels and Outdoor Woodwork.

If wood labels are soaked in a solution of sulphate of iron, dried and then soaked in a strong solution of lime water until the wood is thoroughly saturated, they will last for a long time without rotting. To preserve outdoor woodwork from the effects of the weather, treat it in the following manner: Boil one gallon of coal tar and two and one-half pounds of sulphate of zinc and paint it on while hot.

Onion Notes.

It is probable, says a Pennsylvania correspondent in Orchard and Garden, that the Italian varieties of onions do better south than they do here, as they seem to require a longer season, and do not come to proper maturity here. The most reliable sorts for this section are the Yellow Danvers and Red Wethersfield, by far the greater quantity grown being the former.

Silk Culture.

Readers interested in the production of silk cocoons will be furnished with desired information on the subject on application to Commissioner Colman, department of agriculture, Washington. Silk worms' eggs will also be furnished, free of charge, to those who are in earnest about the matter, provided they apply before the supply on hand has all been distributed.

PRESIDENT,.....A. G. RAMSAY, F. I. A.

CAPITAL AND FUNDS OVER	$2,000,000
ANNUAL INCOME OVER	$1,000,000

The continued steady increase of the Company's business, NOW EXCEEDING THE AGGREGATE OF ALL THE OTHER CANADIAN COMPANIES, and being more than a fourth of the entire Life Assurance business of the Dominion; its favorable mortality; its moderate expenses, and the high character of its investments, afford good grounds for highly favorable and satisfactory profits to its assurers and EXPLAINS THE CAUSE OF THE UNPARALLELED SUCCESS OF THE COMPANY FOR THE LAST 41 YEARS.
Intending Assurers should, in their own interests, examine the rates and profits of this OLD RELIABLE and Successful Institution, before insuring elsewhere.

BANKERS—Bank of Toronto and Canadian Bank of Commerce.
SOLICITORS—Dumble & Leonard.

TO DEPOSITORS—Deposits are received by this Company both on current account and for periods of one year or longer. The rate of interest paid on amount deposited on current account and which may be withdrawn by check in such sums as the depositor may from time to time require, is four per cent., either paid or compounded half yearly, and the rate on yearly deposits is five per cent.
TO INVESTORS—The five and ten years five per cent. debentures of this Company which are issued in denominations of $100, $200, $500 and $1,000 each, transferable by endorsement, with half-yearly interest coupons attached, payable at the Head Office of the Company in Peterborough, or at any Branch of the Bank of Toronto in Canada, afford a safe and convenient mode of investment.
The funds of the Company being invested with the utmost care and precaution, no better security can be offered to depositors or debenture-holders, they having a first claim or mortgage on the whole Assets of the Company, the Shareholders having the second. The last audit shows that the amount so invested was over $1,310,223.69, and on securities of at least double that value.
By the Laws of Ontario, Trustees, Executors and Administrators may deposit Trust Funds of the estates which they control in this Company, and are free from all further liability, a privilege of which many have largely availed themselves.
TO BORROWERS—Money is obtainable from this Company on approved Real Estate Security at the Lowest Current Rates of Interest. The Mortgage may be repaid by yearly instalments or otherwise, as may be agreed upon, the interest ceasing at once on all amounts paid on account of the sum borrowed. Applications may be made either to the Head Office, or to any of the agents.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Southwest and west winds; mostly fair, mild weather.

A Gross Injustice.

In the Toronto papers there appears an advertisement of the Peterborough Police Supervision Committee for a Chief of Police. This is utterly wrong and unfair in principle. We have men in town perfectly capable of filling that position, with a familiarity with local needs which it would take a stranger years to learn. The honest way is to patronize home talent and industries, both in the matter of hiring a chief of police or buying goods, such as carpets, etc., at the golden lion. There will be found an abundant stock of hemps, kidderminsters, tapestries and brussels, with borders to match, besides floor oilcloths, matting, rugs, art squares, cramb cloths, etc.—all of the latest designs.

The Chief of Policeship.

Already a number of applications for the position of Chief of the Peterborough police force have been received by Mr. Kendry, chairman of the committee. The only personal applicant so far is Mr. George Bersel, of St. Catherines, a stalwart six-footer, who is in town to-day. The Police Supervision Committee will meet in a few day, probably, to consider the applications. In the meantime petitions to retain Acting-Chief Adams are being circulated and numerously signed. The indications are that the chiefship will be a bone of contention among the councillors for a long time yet.

Calico Ball

In aid of the Protestant Home, on Wednesday, 4th April. The tickets are now ready and may be obtained from the following gentlemen, viz:—Messrs. Elliott & Morney, Salisbury Bros., A. McNeil, R. W. Muncaster, A. Mercer. Also from Miss Hopkins or the Hon. Secretary. Gentlemen's tickets $1.50 each, ladies $1.00 each, tickets admitting gentleman and two ladies $3.00. No invitations will be issued, and as only a limited number of tickets have been printed the public are advised to secure them early. Contributions for the supper may be sent to Winch's new hotel, Charlotte street on Tuesday, the 3rd April, from 12 m. to 6 p.m., or on Wednesday, the 4th April, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. F. J. Lewis, Hon. Sec. eod

A Bank Change.

Mr. Alf. Roper, of the Bank of Toronto, has been notified that he will be transferred to the Cobourg branch, and will leave for his new position as soon as his supply, a young man named Coffee, of Barrie, arrives to take his place. By the way, the bank business of the local branch might be extended a little by opening the lines when the transfer is made and a refreshment room started. There ought to be Coffee and lots of Grubbe constantly on hand.

Look Out for Them.

The Toronto Mail says people should carefully examine all ten dollar bills that may be tendered them, from the fact that a large number of raised to $10 have been discovered in circulation. They were principally on the Imperial bank, with a few on the Traders'. In addition to the counterfeit $5 United States silver certificates have been sent in circulation, between a large number of $2 bills.

Organized Labor.

A Trades' Council will soon be organized in Peterborough, to comprise the different organizations already existing here. The shoemakers, moulders, carpenters, tailors, printers and others are all organized, besides which there is the local branch of the Knights of Labor. These are all to come together under the name of the Trades' Council.

After Recruits.

A recruiting officer will be in Peterborough on April 9th, 10th and 11th to enlist recruits for the mounted police force. The requirements are very strict. Applicants must be between the ages of 22 and 40, of certain height, perfect in health, able to ride and take care of horses and with a pretty fair education. The wages offered on the poster are not an overpowering inducement.

Hard times demand cheap boots and shoes, and these can be had at J. T. Stenson's, corner of the dirt in which they are buried. Cheap sale is a great success. 2

Oyster Rooms Open.

J. C. Craig has opened out his two comfortable oyster parlors on George street, where the delicious bivalves will be served up at all hours, in all styles desired. Drop in and try Johnny's roast beef, mutton chops and tea and coffee served until 12 o'clock at night. d

St. Andrew's Church Social.

A social will be held in the manse of St. Andrew's Church on the evening of Thursday, the 29th inst., when a good musical programme, vocal and instrumental, will be given. No effort will be spared to make this a most delightful gathering. Tickets, 25 cents. Refreshments included. 4d

Much excitement prevailed during today on Hunter street. Large crowds attracted by the great bargains offered by the Griffin Shoe Co., in the sale of the Griffin bankrupt stock are rushing to the old stand opposite the Oriental Hotel, for bargains. tf

Amateur Athletics

Annual Meeting of the Association To-Night—A Call for Hard Athletics.

This evening at 8 p.m. the annual meeting of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association will be held in Hall's Gymnasium. "All members particularly requested to be present," is the cabalistic announcement on the post cards that should claim the attention of every member and make him resolve to get there or burst a suspender. It is at these annual meetings that the club practically receives the impetus that is to send it forward during the forthcoming season, and the importance of a large and representative attendance cannot be overestimated. The whole season's prospects are peered into, the work cut out for each department, the finances reviewed, the suggested improvements adopted or rejected, the officers elected and a whole stack of other business disposed of.

It is said one important matter that will be discussed at to-night's meeting is the proposal to organize a joint stock company in the Association to purchase the present grounds, which are now rented. This would be an important step. If it is carried out to completion, it is the intention of the company to enlarge and improve the grounds far beyond their present condition.

A few minutes previous to the annual meeting of the Association a meeting of the cricket club will be held, particularly for the purpose of electing directors, which was overlooked at the annual meeting.

The question of a professional coach for the club is not yet decided. Mr. John Stirling, secretary, leaves for England in a week or so, and it is understood he is to personally interview Mr. Turton, or others, and use his discretion in closing up the bargain.

The baseball meeting last night in Dr. Brennan's office did not materialize. Only a couple were there. This is no doubt, however, owing to the fact that it has not been sufficiently talked up. Another meeting will be held on a date to be decided to-night.

"All members are particularly requested to be present."

Music and Agriculture.

Closing Session of the East Riding Farmers' Institute.

The evening session of the East Riding Farmers' Institute at Keene on Friday, was a decided success, although the directors were laboring under a great disadvantage, owing to a number of gentlemen failing to put in an appearance that were expected to take part in the evening session. The town hall was crowded. The meeting was opened by a short address by the president, Mr. F. Birdsall, explaining the objects of the Institute.

Following a chorus by the Keene Glee Club, Mr. Thos. Blezard, M.P.P., explained the making of butter by creamery process.

Mr. McCamus favored the audience with a song, "Minute Gun at Sea."

Dr. Harrison followed in a neat speech, advising the youth of Keene to be farmers, as the professions were crowded, and to follow the example in some ways of their worthy member. He believed from Mr. Blezard's advice to the young man "to not stop until they got to the top of the ladder," that he (Mr. Blezard) was not going to be satisfied until he got the vacant portfolio of Minister of Agriculture. He also advised farmers to make home attractive; that was the way to keep boys at home.

Again the Glee Club were called on and sang "Sailing."

Mr. Marks gave his experience of farming, followed by a recitation, "Battle of Balaclava," by Mr. R. Birdsall. "When Jack Comes Home from Sea" was well rendered by the Glee Club.

Mr. Drummond, in his genial manner, told how he made tree planting a success.

The song, "Jessie's Dream," as given by Mrs. Harrison, brought down the house.

Mr. Blezard, in his happy way, thanked the ladies and gentlemen who had helped to make the meeting a success, and moved a vote of thanks to them, seconded by Mr. James Moore, which was carried unanimously.

A vote of thanks was also moved by Mr. Drummond, and seconded by Mr. Blezard, and presented to the President for the able manner in which he had conducted the meeting.

The names of the Glee Club were Mrs. Harrison, Miss Moore, Miss McCamus, Mr. Moore and Mr. Kennaley.

The meeting closed in the usual loyal manner by singing "God Save the Queen," and cheers for the Queen.

News Nuggets

—The Salvation jubilee continues to-night.

—The butchers are buying up cattle for Easter.

—The twitter of birds is beginning to be heard.

—St Andrew's church is advertising for a new organist.

—Yesterday, blizzardous blasts; to-day, balmy breezes.

—Mr. H. M. Allen left for Port Arthur this morning on an extended visit.

—The "ethereal mildness," about which the spring poet raves, is here to-day.

—Ashburnham village council met Monday night and passed a number of accounts.

—A Japanese social is under preparation by some of the young people of the George street Methodist church.

—A debate will be held in the rooms of the Otonabee Canoe Club this evening on Mr. Mowat's Manhood Suffrage Bill.

—Out of three Peterborough samples of coffee examined by the government analyst, Ottawa, allwere found pure and unadulterated.

—There will be no meetings of the Y.P.A. in the George street church for two weeks, the evenings being occupied by the revival services.

—Terry Smith is training his new team of greys to answer the fire alarm by trotting out of their stalls and taking their places on the hose wagon.

—Routley is to be renovated—that is his premises—from front to rear, from top to bottom. Read his advertisement in another column.

—Workmen are engaged in excavating for the foundation and cellars of Mr. O. C. Rowse's double tenement terrace on Rubidge street.

—Thos. McGee was fined $2 at the police court on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. He was arrested Monday night by P.C. Stewart.

—In the Toronto daily papers appear advertisements for a chief of police for Peterborough. Applications are to be sent to James Kendry, chairman of the Police Supervision Committee.

—A letter from Rev. Mr. Goforth, the missionary to Japan, was received by a student in Knox College a few days ago. Mr. and Mrs. Goforth had experienced a pretty rough passage, but they were both well and expected to reach Yokohama in a few days.

—An old land mark, the Harper house, on Charlotte street, which has been put to a thousand uses and only became respectable in its old age, has been removed from its foundations to the rear of the lot, and will be replaced by a new structure.

—Some persons may think that they get better groceries by sending to Toronto. Take the article of coffee for instance. Of the samples analyzed by government fifty per cent. of those in Toronto were found to be adulterated, while of those examined from Peterborough all were pure.

Obituary.

The Late Mrs. Sanford Fleming.

Mrs. Sanford Fleming died at her residence on Daly street, Ottawa, Monday morning at the age of 67. The deceased lady was the eldest daughter of the late Mr. James Hall, Sheriff of the county of Peterborough, and member of Parliament for the East Riding of Peterborough in 1873-78. She was a sister of Mrs. Alex. Smith, Mr. Sheriff J. A. Hall, Mr. E. H. D. Hall, barrister, Mr. Frank Hall, Mr. Fred Hall and Miss Hall. She was born in Lanark in 1820, and was married about 1850 to Mr. Sanford Fleming, who survives her. She leaves four sons and two daughters. Mrs. Fleming was an active worker amongst the ladies of St. Andrew's church, Ottawa, where her held and influence will be much missed.

A Hastings Man's Suicide.

A Rochester despatch, dated the 26th, says:—"A Rochester lady to-night positively identified the remains of the man who committed suicide at Power's hotel a week ago as those of Henry Stewart, son of John Stewart, of Hastings, Ont. The opinion has become almost general that he was drugged and robbed of all his valuables, and shot himself before he recovered from the effect of the drugs. Unless the remains are claimed by his relatives they will be buried in Mount Hope Cemetery."

Nasty to the Nose.

Sensitive olfactory nerves were assailed by a most unpleasant odor of escaping gas near Simcoe street this morning, caused by the emptying of the pipes into the creek. Every winter the gas pipes are frozen in places, and in the spring the strongly impregnated water is pumped out. The creek was made the receptacle for it to-day, and the atmosphere suffered in consequence.

Northward Bound.

Shantymen are coming in from the north in large numbers and a great many are returning to the north to work on the "drives." Two big loads left this morning. The men were all hired by Mr. T. Cavanagh. After visiting the hotels and "wetting" themselves in rotation, they said good-bye to their mates and drove off with a cheer.

A Tree With a History.

The good-sized elm tree standing to the east of English's canoe factory, Charlotte street, is twenty-six years old. An elm seed found in the crop of a partridge in 1862, was planted where the tree now stands towering high with a trunk some fifteen inches in diamiter.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Lakefield Rifle Club.

The meeting of the Lakefield Rifle Club for the election of officers for the ensuing year was held on Saturday evening, when the following officers were elected:—

W. H. Casement.....President
Dr. Bell.....Vice-President
Geo. Sortmger.....Captain
Wm. Eastland.....Sec.-Treas.

Arrangements were also made for a match between ten of the "Dummer Rifle Club" and a like number of the Lakefield club, to be held next Friday at the Lakefield ranges. After the match the contestants will dine at the Purser House, at the expense of the losing side.

GUN CLUB.

Steps are being taken to form a gun club similar to the one in Peterborough Quite a number of our village sports have enrolled their names, and a trap and supply of "birds" will be ordered at once, and after a little practice Peterborough may expect to hear from us.

CONVENTIONAL.

Your correspondent was the victim of a rather sharp hit on Sunday morning at the hands of one of his youngsters. A rat had been heard in the house for the last few nights and had been causing some annoyance. On the morning in question the youngster came into the office with the remark:

"Pa, the rat must have been at your medicine last night."

"Why?" was asked.

"'Cos he's dead outside," was the pointed reply.

That boy will rival Eli Perkins some day.

BREAKING UP.

Large numbers of men and teams have been passing through the village for the last few days, proving that the shanties are breaking up after a long but favorable winter's work in which a large quantity of material has been got out.

HOUSE ROOM.

The demand for houses still continues. Some eight or ten strangers have called at the office of your correspondent during the past week, to inquire if any houses were to be had in the village. Rents are also increasing and it is a good time for those who have the means to invest, to build, as they will be certain of tenants and good rent.

SCOTT ACT.

Inspector Cochrane has four more cases up for trial before Police Magistrate Edmison this week. Verily, the way of the transgressor is hard (cash).

THANKS.

Now the session is over in the Local House your correspondent desires to return thanks to the member for West Peterborough for the many sessional papers and returns so kindly forwarded; noteing of interest seems to have been forgotten.

VILLAGE WANTS.

One of the many industries which would be of benefit to the village and which would do well here is a tannery. There is large extent of country back of, and surrounding Lakefield, the hides from which go to Peterborough and other places, all of which would be brought here were there a demand for them. Bark is plentiful, and easily obtained; land is moderate in price, and shiping facilities are good, so that there is every chance for a tanner, with a small capital to start and do well here. A pail and tub factory will also do well, as the supply of lumber is unlimited. Messrs R. and G. Strickland will turn out this season over ten million feet and the waste material which is burned could be utilized for many purposes, broom handles, wash boards &c. Basswood and ash can also be had in any quantity. A factory for the manufacture of stair posts, rails and spindles, bed posts, chair stuff and other turned work in hardwood would also do well. To the north of us are stretches of the finest hardwood timber, maple, beech, birch, oak, ash &c., all of which can be easily got out and now the Trent Valley has opened up our back waters, it can be brought down on scows at a low rate: large quantities of sawed timber of the varieties mentioned can be obtained at Young's Point five miles up the river, or at Mount Julian mill 14 miles, which would make the finest flooring in the world. Our water power is magnificent, and power can be obtained from the owners at a moderate rate, taxes are low, in fact we have all the advantages for carrying on a successful business, required. All that is now wanted is a man or company with capital and push to take hold and success will follow.

"SHOOT FOLLY AS SHE FLIES."

I notice that the Lakefield correspondent of your down town contemporary is again advising one of our esteemable young men whom he irreverently styles "Our Village Daddy" to give up "paddling his own canoe" and launch himself on the "sea of matrimony," and all will be rosy and calm sailing in the future. I am afraid the advice so generously given is only thrown away. Maidens fair, maidens old and widows designing, have all in their turn exerted their charms to the utmost to turn him from the error of his way, but so far all to no purpose, and when such means has failed in the past the correspondent's advice is worse than useless. He would be of the same opinion had he dropped in this evening and stood unperceived at the door of our friend's quarters to see him taking a bachelor's comfort, his easy chair drawn up before the fire, the paper with the last tendered advice across his knee, and heard him as he lazily watched the smoke from his cigar circle upwards, give vent to the current of his thoughts in snatches of song, some of which might have been heard by the listener at the door:—

"I'm happy now, but would not be
If I'd a spouse to hector me."
(Puff, puff.)
"I'd have to lie the truth to dodge,
And say that I was at the lodge."
(Puff, puff.)
"And squalling babies too to trot.
The wife might sleep, but I could not.
All this I think of as I sigh,
That married joys are in my eye—
"(That confounded druggist and his broomstick to the contrary.)
"But now my pipe I calmly smoke,
My uncle chaff, my fire I poke,
Take sporting papers for the news,
Go up the lakes when'er I chose;
And when I will ask, in the boys
To share with me my single joys."

Friend Scribe should now be satisfied, and leave "Daddy" alone in peace, he has enough to do to look after his adopted family, some of whom have even now proved unruly under his benign government.

A HOLIDAY TRIP.

Onemee, it seems, is going to have a big "blow out" on the 24th of May, and, according to your correspondence, expects the Lakefield Fire Brigade and Foresters' Band to assist them and add eclat to the proceedings. It is very doubtful if the Chief would allow the whole brigade to be absent at once. The engine company, hose company, hook and ladder company and bucket brigade could draw lots as to which would remain at home, the bucket brigade, though by far the strongest in point of numbers, could be best spared, as in case of an emergency their place could be supplied by the women and children. No matter which branch of the service is permitted to go, we wish them a pleasant trip and hope to see them return covered with honor and glory.

The petition requesting the Village Council to submit a by-law to the ratepayers, granting Messrs. Booth & Co. a loan of $6000 village debentures to aid them in putting machinery in the new woolen mill, has been handed to the clerk. It contains 71 names, representing about half the total assessment of the village. The voters' list contains the names of 196 property owners, of which about 140 votes are available. The waterworks by-law petition has not been received at the date of writing, so that the number of signatures and amount represented is unknown to your correspondent.

Ingersoll Mayoralty Nominations.

INGERSOLL, March 26.—At the town meeting held to-day for nominations for the office of Mayor, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mayor Buchanan, the following gentlemen were nominated: Thos. Seldon, M. J. Buchanan, Wm. Watterworth and Joseph Gibson. Mr. Watterworth declined the nomination on the ground that the election was being held illegaly. Mr. Gibson will also probably hand in his resignation, thus leaving the contest between Buchanan and Seldon.

M. Wilson's Conviction Quashed.

PARIS, March 26.—The Court of Appeal has rendered a decision in the case of M. Wilson, reversing the decision of the lower court and acquitting M. Wilson of the charges against him. The other persons tried with M. Wilson on similar charges were also acquitted. The judgment severely condemned the acts imputed to Wilson and the others, but declares that the existing laws do not apply to the offence charged against them.

Gen. Boulanger's Trial.

PARIS, March 26.—The hearing before the Court of Inquiry into the case of Gen. Boulanger was held to-day. The court gave its judgment, but the nature of the decision will not be divulged until after it has been submitted to President Carnot. It is reported that the court decided against Gen. Boulanger. The Cabinet will discuss the decision to-morrow. A crowd cheered Boulanger when he departed from the court.

The Dominion Bell ORGANS.

WE wish to call your attention to the benefit derived from the

New Automatic Pedal Cover ATTACHMENT,

that has lately been added to the above Organs. This improvement has been a long felt necessity, and one which has never been successfully solved before by any Organ Companies until the patent was secured for the above Companies directly from the Inventor.

Other Organ Companies advertise their organs mouse and dust proof, because they employ the usual method of blocking around the bellows, as we have done heretofore, but it is eminently unsatisfactory, and the only sure and efficient plan is that which we adopt, of covering the PEDALS and BOTTOM of our Organs. This attachment has been thoroughout (with the exception of the Covers) having no cords, springs, or delicate mechanism to get out of order or repair, and works AUTOMATICALLY with the Fall Board of the Organ. The one simple act of opening or closing the Organ, simultaneously operates the Pedal Covers.

This improvement has been placed on all the different styles of Organs, and the aim is now, as in the past, to produce an instrument that HAS NO EQUAL.

All information and inquiries cheerfully answered. Catalogue sent free upon application. Examine the Mouse and Dust Proof Organ before purchasing, and be satisfied that you have the best in the World.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

PREMIER GREENWAY INTERVIEWS THE C.P.R. MAGNATES.

The Grand Trunk Railway Bill Passes the Committee — Mr. Dalton McCarthy's Amendment to Sir Richard's Motion— The Middleton Divorce Suit.

OTTAWA, March 27.—Premier Greenway returned from Montreal last night. He met VanHorne, Sir George and Sir Donald in Montreal and spent two hours discussing the situation. VanHorne did the talking, and strongly urged Greenway to buy the Emerson branch or take a perpetual lease of it on the basis of a million dollars, paying $80,000 a year. Greenway pointed out that the figure was entirely too much, and that the Red River could be built for $10,000 per mile. VanHorne said they could not build roads for any such figure. Greenway also pointed out that $35,000 had been spent on the Red River Valley Road, and the province could not afford to lose that. Mr. VanHorne offered to take over all the material and allow full price for it. Mr. Greenway said he could not make any definite arrangement anyway, and it was decided to leave the matter for further discussion in Ottawa. The blockade and many other subjects were discussed. On the question of branch lines, the magnates gave the impression that after the negotiations were settled in Ottawa they would make satisfactory extensions, and Mr. Greenway got the impression that the active prosecution of branch lines would be made a condition of settlement by the Dominion Government. The delegates met Mr. Hickson and other G.T.R. officials, and had a long conversation with them on the prospect of that line entering Manitoba. The interview was very satisactory, though nothing of a definite character was done or said. Mr. Hickson came up last night and spent some time with Sir John Macdonald.

Regarding the road to the boundary, Mr. Greenway spoke as if its construction would go right on unless the most satisfactory arrangement was made as to the C.P.R. Emerson branch. He told a reporter that in order to protect Manitoba's interest against railway combinations in the future, he was of opinion the province should own a road of its own to the boundary. The delegates have made such enquiries from headquarters as enable them to deny the statement that the C.P.R. and Northern Pacific have made a lasting agreement by which the latter is to keep out of Manitoba. The delegates learned in Montreal that the reports about the terms already published are not correct, being given out for the purpose of testing public opinion and preparing the public mind for the final announcement. They learned, upon what they regard as excellent authority, that the basis of settlement is a surrender by the company of 7,000,000 acres of land at $1.50 an acre, thus giving the company $10,000,000 to work with.

Hon. E. Blake writes that he will not return before July.

An important turn will be given to the reciprocity debate after the amendment now under discussion is disposed of. Mr. Dalton McCarthy will move an amendment setting forth that Canada should give differential duties in favor of England, providing England does the same. The object is to test the feeling of the House on the matter.

The Committee on Railways and Canals met this morning. The first bill considered was the bill to enable the Grand Trunk Railway to consolidate and arrange the capital of their company, and to increase their capital. Speaking on the merits of the clause, Mr. Peter Mitchell took occasion to remark that Parliament should keep a faithful eye upon the two great railway corporations of the country, which were so rapidly absorbing all other lines. Care should be taken that neither swallows the other. They practically control the Legislatures of the country, and if they were not watched they would soon be appointing the Governors. The bill passed the committee. Mr. Bell, solicitor for the company, asked to have a clause added giving the company power to own and operate steamships for carrying freight and passengers to and from any port where the system runs. Objection was taken because no notice was given. But it was decided to move the House into Committee of the Whole and have the clause inserted there if possible.

The divorce suit of Mrs. Mary Middleton has not been withdrawn from the Senate, where it was received and read yesterday, notwithstanding the Montreal reports as to a settlement.

Sir George Stephen says the report that the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway is to be diverted from Winnipeg is all bosh.

Twenty-three cases of smallpox were reported at New York city last week.

Gen. Edgecumb published his threatening letter last week by beating him with a broomstick.

THE BAPTIST CONVENTION.

Seven Hundred Delegates Meet in Guelph —The University Federation.

GUELPH, March 27.—The Educational Convention of the Baptist Mission Society of Ontario and Quebec now convened in the Baptist Church in this city is one of the largest gatherings of church representatives that has ever assembled in Ontario; 700 delegates forwarded certificates to the secretary, and the greater part of them were on hand to-day. President D. E. Thomson of Toronto occupied the chair. After Rev J. P. McEwen of Stratford had read a selection of Scripture, Rev. Joshua Denovan of Toronto offered prayer. Rev. J. Davis of Windsor was appointed Assistant Secretary and Rev. Messrs. Trotter of Woodstock, McDermott of Ottawa and Alex Grant of Toronto a Committee on Credentials. A half-hour was then devoted to prayer and praise.

In his opening address the chairman said that by the society's actions in providing for the holding of the convention he understood it to have unequivocally asserted for itself the right to settle, for the guidance of the Board of Governors of its appointment, the general lines of policy, which are to be followed in the development of McMaster University. Humanly speaking, the safety of this problem for all time to come depends upon the work being pursued in conformity with the principles emanating as directly as practicable from the bosom of the churches. "We shall search in vain," he said, "the annals of all the past for any former case in which the control of an institution of learning has been so unreservedly confided to popular power.

"That differences of opinion should exist about so complex a matter is not to be wondered at. What we are apt to lose sight of is that this is a fortunate, not an unfortunate, circumstance. The existence of these pronounced differences insures the thorough investigation of all the positions contended for. The result in the long run, if we are honest and frank with each other, must be the establishment of that conclusion which is strongest and best. We must not be impatient of frank and manly controversy. A few seem inclined even to deplore that Mr. McMaster did not take the responsibility of settling the questions for us. He acted on the assumption that the Baptist denomination was capable of deciding for itself how best it could use this bounty to further the interests of Christ's kingdom. Nay, he assumed that the denomination must necessarily be the best judge. Mr. McMaster was inclined to be somewhat impatient of controversy, but after many a heated discussion among our people he has often made the remark 'Well, our Baptist brethren come out right at last.'" [Applause].

In the evening after short speeches from Rev. Mr. Ware and Mr. J. McGillicuddy, Chancellor Boyd said the question of federation or independence was not one of principle but of expediency. Baptists should not turn their backs upon their principles, nor should they turn their backs upon their record. [Applause.] At the memorable meeting at Brantford with the late Mr. McMaster in the chair was it not resolved that we give our cordial adherence to the scheme of federation? The question of federation should not now be settled, but left in abeyance until the university was more fully developed. The proposed university federation was not a matter of subordination but of partnership.

Rev. Mr. Muir and Prof. Wolverton made speeches, the latter explaining his change of front on the federation question by saying he had grown since he had advocated the scheme. To teach the Bible was to teach Baptist doctrine.

Rev. Mr. Munro asked Dr. Castle to repeat what he had said to the Paris Association to the effect that the scheme of federation as proposed was a miserable compromise.

Dr. Castle said that the scheme referred to was one proposed by the heads of the colleges of Ontario, the Minister of Education presiding. As each of the colleges represented was working for its own interests a compromise was made which rendered the proposed confederation far from perfect. "While I vote for independence," said the principal of McMaster Hall, "I must say that a great deal of the argument against federation is illegitimate." [Applause]. McMaster College, a theological university, was up to November last affiliated with Toronto University. He considered, however, that the will of Mr. McMaster meditated an independent university, and for that reason he would vote for independence, for a Christian school of learning under Baptist control with a governor appointed by the Baptist laity.

Mr. T. D. Craig of Port Hope pithily explained the question of college federation, and pointed out its advantages. He moved this amendment:

Inasmuch as the arts department of McMaster University will not be established for some time to come, during which time circumstances may very materially change, this convention thinks it wise to postpone its decision on federation.

Dr. Rand opposed deferring the question and strongly advocated independence. The doctor, however, was very unkind to the Methodists who, he said, were divided on the question of federation because, as a body, they had no great compunctions of principle on the matter.

Rev. Alex. Grant objected to the Church of God teaching mathematics any more than he should teach agriculture or blacksmithing. The church should not go into competition with the state in secular education. The Baptist Church was not prepared to go too deeply into educational matters.

Rev. Mr. Cressy said he had spoken with Sir Wm. Dawson on the question of McMaster University, and he had advised affiliation for the three reasons of less cost, enlarged privileges and added dignity.

Dr. McVicar said that affiliation simply meant an institution out of Toronto, and federation meant one in Toronto connected with the Provincial University. He thought that there was a mode of teaching mathematics and other subjects in such a way that Christian character could be formed and developed.

Mr. Sheastone gave a stirring address in which he claimed that when the denomination had little wealth there was little principle involved, but when the body got much wealth there is a great principle involved. [Laughter and applause.]

After a few remarks from Prof. Bates a division was taken on Mr. Craig's amendment, which was voted down by a large majority.

After Mr. Trotter had made his closing speech on the main motion regarding federation a vote was taken, resulting in the adoption of the resolution by a large majority.

The meeting then adjourned.

Sinister Comments.

BERLIN, March 27.—The newspapers here make sinister comments upon the elections in France on Sunday. The North German Gazette says: "The votes of the French people tend more and more toward the dangerous alternative of reaction or revolution." The Kreuz Zeitung says: "The end is near; but it is hard to say who will give the present regime in France its death blow."

TERRIBLE FATE OF THREE CHILDREN AT WARMINSTER.

The Explosion of a Lamp Causes the Disaster—The Contents of the Postoffice Consumed—Incendiarism Busy at Brantford —Fire in the Oshawa Cabinet Factory.

ORILLIA, March 27.—Postmaster Jos. Ball of Warminster with all the adult members of his household, except a young hired man, attended an oyster social in the Methodist Church last night. The hired man retired, leaving a lamp burning on the kitchen table, and five children sleeping in various rooms down stairs. About 11.30 the oldest boy awakened the hired man by calling that the house was on fire. He ran down and saw that the fire was on and about the table, indicating that the lamp had burst, and returned to his room for some clothing. A few moments later he attempted to descend the stairs, but the flames drove him back and he was forced to escape by jumping from an upper window. The infant, a boy of 1 year, was sleeping on its parents' bed with an older sister of six years, who attempted to carry her brother out of the house, but, either from lack of strength or fear, replaced him on the bed. She had a narrow escape, her hands being severely burned and her hair singed. The oldest boy, aged 11, gave the alarm at the church, and those assembled there were quickly on the spot, but though repeated attempts were made to rescue the three children in the burning building they were unsuccessful.

But few things were saved. Mr. Ball got out $300 in cash, but a considerable amount of money was consumed, some of which belonged to Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, late of Ivy, who were staying in the house, and lost nearly all their effects. Mr. Ball's stock was valued at $3000; insured for $1000. Mr. McDonald had just purchased a half interest in the business, and will share his loss. Mr. Dutton, assistant in the store and postoffice, lost his clothing. The entire contents of the postoffice were consumed—a loss difficult to estimate—and which may cause inconvenience to many. The total loss is placed at $4000 or over.

Incendiary Fires at Brantford.

BRANTFORD, March 27.—Last night between 12 and 1 o'clock a fire was discovered in a large frame building on West-street occupied as Montgomery's rag shop. The alarm was sounded, but the fire was put out before the firemen arrived. About 2 a. m. the alarm again sounded. This time a large building on Duke-street, known as the Farm and Dairy Manufactory, was on fire. By the time the firemen arrived the fire had made such headway that it was impossible to save it. The building contained a quantity of machinery, threshing machines, churns, pumps and agricultural implements, all of which are completely destroyed. The property belonged to J. Cockshutt and was valued at $10,000, insured in the Western and Connecticut for $6000. The fires are supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

Fire in the Oshawa Cabinet Factory.

OSHAWA, March 27.—Shortly after 12 o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the cane shop of the Oshawa Cabinet factory. The flames were soon got under control by the fire brigade. The damage to the building is considerable. The origin of the fire is not known.

GOLDWIN SMITH INTERVIEWED.

The Learned Professor States His Views to a Washington Correspondent.

TORONTO, March 28.—Mr. Goldwin Smith was interviewed by the Washington correspondent of The New York Herald on Monday, and the Professor gave the following opinion regarding the question of Commercial Union, now under discussion in the House of Commons.

"The Tory Government of Canada having a large and safe majority in the present Parliament, the resolution of the Liberal leader Sir Richard Cartwright, in favor of extended trade relations with the United States is sure to be defeated. But this will not prevent the motion and the debate on it from being a great and memorable step in the progress of Canada toward Commercial Union, or, at least, toward closer relations with the United States.

"The growing strength of the movement has emboldened and indeed constrained the Liberal party, after some hesitation, to make it a part of their platform, and the result has been this debate, the most important and significant that has taken place in Canada for many years. The movement was in its origin thoroughly popular and spontaneous, the politicians had nothing to do with it and were inclined at first to hold aloof from it. The fisheries question, the Manitoba railway question and some matters connected with the state of Canadian trade turned the attention of the people to their commercial relations with the United States, and this agitation has been the result.

"Of the force of the movement there can be no doubt whatever. Out of about sixty farmers' institutes in Ontario in existence or in course of formation, over forty have declared in favor of the movement, only two or three dissenting or hanging back, and these manifestly under political pressure. All the great natural industries of the country are on the same side, the only commercial opposition being that of a certain number of our protected manufacturers.

"The present Parliament was elected before Commercial Union had been heard of and upon totally different issues, the principal of which was that relating to the rebellion in the Northwest and the execution of Riel. The Liberal party had for some time been badly led; it took up a disastrous position on the Riel question and underwent a total defeat, so that the Tories have, as has been already said, a large and safe majority in the present Parliament, of which they will certainly avail themselves in voting down Commercial Union. We shall not get anything like a popular verdict on the question till the issue has been submitted to the people at a general election, which, in the regular course of things, will not take place for three years, though under certain circumstances an earlier dissolution may occur.

"In the Provincial Legislatures liberalism and Commercial Union have the upper hand. Commercial Unionists are in the best of spirits, and feel sure of ultimate success unless their opponents can alter or abolish the map of North America.

BUCKET SHOPS MUST GO.

THE LEGITIMATE BUSINESS MEN WILL NOT COUNTENANCE THEM.

105 Replies Received by the Board of Trade to its Circular and Every One Condemnatory—For Dark and Tricky Ways the "Broker Beats the World."

TORONTO, March 28.

The replies to the Board of Trade circular re bucket shops make very interesting reading for the business community, and show to what an extent this system of speculation exists in Canada. Letters have been received from business men, bankers, and private individuals in Toronto, Sarnia, St. Mary's, Barrie, Galt, Chatham, Ottawa, Uxbridge, Meaford, Woodstock, Orangeville, London, Cobourg, Kingston, Goderich, St. Catharines, Tillsonburg, Hamilton, Harriston, Brighton, Owen Sound, Perth, Picton, Winnipeg, Whitby, Pembroke, Aylmer, Collingwood, Clinton, Carleton Place, Port Hope, Parkhill, Oshawa, Bowmanville, Guelph, Napanee, Prescott, Woodstock, Jarvis, Newmarket, Alliston, Dunnville, Paris, St. Thomas, Aylmer West, Walkerton, Thorold, Listowel, Newcastle, Pickering, Peterboro, Brockville, Stratford, Simcoe, Mitchell, Port Arthur, Smith's Falls, New Hamburg, Georgetown, Welland, Cayuga, Belleville, Berlin, Arnprior, Seaforth, Trenton, Paisley and Fergus. In all 105 replies have been received, all breathing the direst anathemas against bucket shop gambling.

Letter No. 1 stigmatizes the system as a public nuisance, one which has been most disastrous, financially and morally, not only to numbers of men engaged in business, but also to young men employed as clerks or otherwise. A writer from Paris says there are no bucket shops in that town, but all the same he has no sympathy with them.

No. 4 states that he could mention several wealthy business men in his town who have been ruined by this kind of speculation. He dubs the business a vicious one. "They are," he says, "little better than gambling hells, and decided hurtful to the community."

No. 11 has a slightly different opinion. "I do not think," he says, "that the bucket shop does so much injury financially to the country as other larger institutions of a similar description, for the reason that the bucket shops generally encourage speculation in produce, railway stocks and oil in the United States, while the others encourage speculation in the very life-blood of the country, viz., bank stocks." No. 16 answers with one word "Bad" in capital letters. No. 19 instances a baker in his town who sold out his business to have money to speculate with and who is now a barkeeper in a country hotel. Another man, a mechanic, after losing all has now taken to drink.

No. 53 says there was a branch of Cox & Co.'s in operation in his town, but the bank warning its customers that it would have nothing to do with any of them who dealt there stopped the evil to a great extent.

Some of the letters are evidently written by those who have been hard hit. No. 86 writes that from the experience obtained a couple of years ago in dealing with Mr. E. Strachan Cox he feels convinced that "for ways that are dark and tricks that are vain," the bucket shop broker beats the world.

No. 103 encloses a cutting from The London Daily Telegraph of Feb. 17, 1888, giving an account of the case of Regina v. Ferrett, Stevens & Co., before Mr. Baron Huddleston and Mr. Justice Mannity, in the Queen's Bench Division, in which the plaintiff sues the bucket-shops keeper for moneys deposited with them as "cover" on margins. Both judges said the business was nothing but gambling. Plaintiff had already secured judgment in term, and this was an application for a new trial by the defence, who secured judgment giving them what they sought.

The above quotations are sufficient to demonstrate that the legitimate business community is dead against the bucketshop. Yesterday Secretary Wills mailed a copy of the letters to Hon. J. J. C. Abbott, Government Leader of the Senate at Ottawa, who is framing legislation with a view to the suppression of this system of speculation.

A SACRED DUTY.

Empress Victoria Says That Her Foremost Care Will be Her Suffering Husband.

BERLIN, March 27.—Empress Victoria, replying to addresses presented to her by seventeen associations, of which she is a patroness, says her foremost and sacred duty will be the care of her suffering husband. She is conscious of the task devolving upon her as Queen and Empress and will accept it to the best of her ability. At the same time she is reminded that she has other social duties. The moral and intellectual education of women, the sanitary condition of the laboring classes and the improvement of the facilities by which women may earn a livelihood will constantly be before her. The noblest vocation of a princess, she says, is an untiring activity in the work of ameliorating the suffering of the masses. Owing to the difficulty of her task she is doubtful whether she will succeed as well as her heart desires.

Dr. Mackenzie's Trials.

LONDON, March 27.—Sir Morrell Mackenzie is not to be particularly envied just now. It is true that the insulting and even threatening anonymous letters with which he was first deluged after his arrival at Charlottenburg have ceased and that many German doctors, among them some of the first practitioners in Berlin, have addressed him in terms of admiration and gratitude, but Sir Morrell's present life is one of intense anxiety and intolerable dulness. He would like to run home for a short holiday, but the Emperor requires to see him several times a day. Sir Morrell has begun writing a special article for which he has been asked by The North American Review.

The Amended Game Law.

As considerable interest is manifested in this district in hunting, we give below a copy of the Bill introduced into the Ontario Legislature by Mr. Phelps, M.P.P., Centre Simcoe, and passed by the Legislature, to amend the Act for the protection of game and fur-bearing animals:—

Her Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, enacts as follows:—

1. Section 1 of the Act for The Protection of Game and Fur-bearing Animals is hereby amended by omitting therefrom the words "deer, elk, moose, reindeer or caribou between the fifteenth day of December and the fifteenth day of October" and inserting instead thereof the words following:—"Deer, elk, moose, reindeer or caribou between the twentieth day of November and the fifteenth day of October; but the period hereinbefore limited shall not, as to moose, elk, reindeer or caribou, apply before or until the fifteenth day of October, 1895, and no moose, elk, reindeer or caribou shall be hunted, taken or killed between the first day of April, 1888, and the fifteenth day of October, 1895."

2. Section 7 of the said Act is hereby amended by adding after the word "Act," where it lastly occurs in said section, the words "and where no other penalty therefor is by this Act provided."

3. The said Act is hereby further amended by adding thereto the following as sections 16, 17, 18, 19, 20 and 21 of the said Act:—

16. No person shall at any time prior to the year 1895 hunt, take or kill any deer, unless such person has been actually resident and domiciled within the Province of Ontario or within the Province of Quebec for a period of at least three months next before the said time, and any person offending against this section shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $20, nor less than $10, with costs of the prosecution, for each animal so hunted, taken or killed, and in default of immediate payment of said fine and costs shall be liable to be imprisoned in the common gaol of the county or district wherein the offence was committed for a period not exceeding three months: Provided always that this section shall not apply to any person who, being a shareholder of or in an incorporated company, hunts, kills or takes on the lands of such company, any of the animals mentioned in this section: Provided, moreover, that this section shall not apply to any person in any year for which he has obtained from the Commissioner of Crown Lands a permit to hunt, kill or take any of the animals in this section mentioned, and the Commissioner of Crown Lands is hereby authorized to grant and issue such a permit upon payment therefor of a fee of $10 for each year during which the same is to be in force, and upon being satisfied that the person applying for the permit may be relied upon to observe and comply with the other provisions of this Act.

17. No one person shall, during any one year prior to the year 1895 kill or take alive more than five deer; and no two persons hunting together or from one camp or place of rendezvous, or forming or being what is commonly known as a hunting party shall, in any one year prior to the year 1895, kill or take alive more than eight deer; and no three or more persons hunting together or from one camp or place of rendezvous, or forming or being what is commonly known as a hunting party shall, in any one year prior to the year 1895, kill or take alive more than twelve deer, and any person offending against this section shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $20, nor less than $5, with costs of the prosecution for each deer beyond or exceeding the number so permitted to be killed or taken as aforesaid, and in default of immediate payment of such fine and costs, shall be liable to be imprisoned in the common gaol of the county or district within which the offence was committed for a period not exceeding three months.

18. Where, under this Act, any person has been convicted of an offence against any of the provisions of this Act, such person, in default of the immediate payment of any fine or costs imposed upon him or for which he has been adjudged to be liable in respect or because of such offence, shall be liable and may be adjudged to be imprisoned in the common gaol of the county or district in which the offence was committed for a period not exceeding three months.

19. On the trial of any complaint, proceeding, matter or question under this Act, the person opposing or defending, or who is charged with any offence against or under any of the provisions of this Act, shall be competent and compellable to give evidence in or with respect to such complaint, proceeding, matter or question.

20. A conviction or order made in any matter arising under this Act, either originally or on appeal, shall not be quashed for want of form.

21. All prosecutions under this Act may be brought and heard before any of Her Majesty's justices of the peace in and for the county and district where the penalty was incurred, or the offence was committed, or wrong done, and in cities, towns and incorporated villages in which there is a police magistrate, before such police magistrate; and save where otherwise provided by this section the procedure shall be governed by The Act respecting Summary Convictions before Justices of the Peace and Appeals to General Sessions.

The Darky got Mixed.

Shortly after the war closed the negroes began to call each other "lady" and "gentleman," but in speaking of the whites they generally called them that "man" and that "woman." An insistance occured a few years ago in which Gen. W. T. Sherman played a part. The General was sitting in front of his house one pleasant evening with some friends, smoking and talking, when a fellow as black as the ace of spades walked up and, addressing the General, said: "Is de a lady here named Johnson?" "No," said the General. "Well," said the darky, "I think there must be a lady of that name living here, because she is my wife, and she is working for a woman named Sherman."—Washington Critic.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

The Debate on Sir Richard's Motion Adjourned Till Tuesday, April 3.

OTTAWA, March 27.—Dr. Ferguson of Welland was the first speaker. To the surprise of all he began his speech by a fulsome eulogy of Mr. Rykert. Of course it is the duty of every man to stick up for his friends, and if Mr. Rykert is his friend Dr. Ferguson shows his magnanimity by his words of this afternoon. Still, it seems hardly worth while for a man of Dr. Ferguson's reputation to take such fearful chances as to stand cheek-by-jowl with Rykert, of timber limit notoriety. Continuing, Dr. Ferguson made a speech of about an hour and a half of the usual National Policy, patriotic, loyalty style. He advanced no new arguments, but those he presented he dealt with in a fairly lively style.

Mr. Bechard of Iberville, Que., followed. This gentleman is a Liberal of the old school and exceedingly popular among his constituents, if one may judge by the fact that he has several times been elected by acclamation. He speaks slowly, as if translating from the French, in which he thinks, to the English, in which he addresses the House, but there is no purer or better English spoken by any member in the House. His speech was calm, argumentative and above all concise. His effort seemed to be to make one point at a time, and as he made each one he dropped it and went as another. He dealt with the question, of course, largely from a Quebec point of view, giving a good deal of attention to his neighbor, Mr. Gigault, who opposes Reciprocity. He said he had hoped that his hon. friend would join him in supporting this resolution. Of course the gentleman was a supporter of the National Policy, but as the National Policy had been introduced as a means of securing Reciprocity, he thought he had every reason to believe that his friend would join him in his present position. In closing, he referred to the protestations of loyalty from gentlemen opposite. He had never, he said, spoken of his own loyalty, believing that it was not necessary. If he spoke of it now it was not because he thought it would advance his own interest, but to show gentlemen opposite that loyalty was not a monopoly with them.

After recess Mr. Hudspeth made his maiden speech. He spoke in a manner which won for him the attention and favorable consideration of both sides of the House. He admitted that there was depression in the rural districts as compared with former times, but quoted the falling off in lands after former booms as a set-off to this, and contended that the hard times were due in part to low prices in the markets of the world, and in part to the extravagance of the farmers themselves.

Mr. Paterson (Brant) rose to make an explanation in regard to the statements made yesterday by Mr. Rykert as to his (Paterson's) remarks about the views of Messrs. Goldie, Massey, Rosamond and other manufacturers. He claimed that Mr. Rykert in his communicating by telegraph with those gentlemen had not properly quoted him, and he called on Mr. Rykert to produce and read the telegrams. A direct misstatement had been made, he said, and he wished his denial to go on record. The gentlemen had evidently been misled by the telegrams sent to them.

Mr. Rykert said that it was impossible for him to produce the telegrams he had sent, but he had stated the purport of them, which was that it had been represented they were in favor of Unrestricted Reciprocity and asking them if they were true.

Dr. Landerkin continued the debate. He announced, amid applause from the Opposition, that Mr. Meigs, the Liberal candidate in Missisquoi, had up-day been returned by a large majority. This, he said, was a clear indication of the sentiments of the people on the question now under discussion, as Unrestricted Reciprocity had been made one of the chief planks of the Liberal platform in the campaign. People now see that the N.P. is a failure and was powerless to build up our industries, and they also now see that if anything were done it must be by a reduction of the tariff. He alluded to the exodus, declaring that the Government's policy with respect to the Northwest had retarded settlement.

Mr. McIntyre rose to speak at midnight, the chamber being almost deserted, and pronounced himself in favor of Sir Richard Cartwright's resolution, not in the interest of party but in the interest of the country.

Mr. Freeman moved adjournment of the debate until Tuesday next. The motion was carried.

Business accumulating on the order paper since the commencement of the debate will be proceeded with to-morrow afternoon.

TAKE
NASAL BALM FOR COLD IN HEAD
—AND—
CATARRH.

There is no disease to which Canadians are more subject than Catarrh—all ages and sex alike are numbered among the sufferers. It is impossible in the limit of a short newspaper article to describe the symptoms fully, but they may be briefly summarized: Cold in the head, difficulty in breathing, hawking and spitting, headache, pains in the region over the eye, stoppage of nasal passages, foul breath, droppings into the throat causing nausea and sometimes vomiting, poisonous secretions accumulating in the lungs leading to consumption. These are but a few of the many symptoms of Catarrh, a disease which affects 7-10 of our Canadian population. NASAL BALM is the only CERTAIN and POSITIVE CURE for this loathsome disease in all its forms and stages. NASAL BALM is the result of years of careful study, and is prepared with a view to radically cure those cases of catarrh, to which Canadians are most subject. It is not a liquid snuff or insufflating powder, but a pleasant, never failing remedy, requiring no instrument or douche for its use. Easy to use, instantaneous in its effects, permanent in its cures. Ask for Nasal Balm and take no substitute of whatever name. For Cold in the Head there is no better remedy on earth to equal Nasal Balm. Do not neglect a cold in the head for in nine cases out of ten it will lead to Catarrh. Use Nasal Balm upon the first symptoms. This wonderful remedy affords instant relief and cures within a few hours. It can be used for the youngest child as well as for adults, and as a precautionary measure should be kept in every household. For sale by all druggists or sent in receipt of price (50c. and $1.00 per bottle) by addressing FULFORD & CO., Brockville.

Worth Ten Times its Cost.

T. W. Hunt Port Hope says: I was a sufferer from a long standing case of catarrh and being well up in years (72) hardly expected to ever obtain anything that would give me material or permanent relief. At the time of receiving Nasal Balm I was very bad with catarrh, but take great pleasure in stating that on the second application I obtained wonderful relief and its effect was pleasant, soothing and healing. It acted like magic and is worth ten times its cost for the immediate relief it gives. I feel confident the second bottle will effect a permanent cure. I have recommended Nasal Balm for cold in the head and in every case it acts like a charm.

Acts Like a Charm.

John Foster Raymond says:—Nasal Balm acts like a charm for my catarrh. I have only used it a short time and I now feel better than at any period during the last seven years. In fact I am sure of a cure and at a very small expense.

wstw

Feels Like a New Man.

A. E. Fish, merchant, Belleville, states: I take great pleasure in recommending your Nasal Balm to any one troubled with that dreadful disease, catarrh. I have been troubled with it for the past fifteen years, and can say candidly that I never had anything that gave me half so much relief as your Nasal Balm. I have only used two bottles and I feel like a new man.

Beats the World

D. Derbyshire, president Ontario Creamery Association, Brockville, says: Nasal Balm beats the world for catarrh and cold in the head. In my own case it effected relief from the first application.

$1.00 for 50 cents.

Capt. D. H. Lyon, manager and proprietor of the C. P. R. and R. W. & O. R. car ferry Prescott, and Ogdensburg N. Y. says: I used Nasal Balm for a prolonged case of cold in the head. Two applications effected a complete and thorough cure in less than 24 hours. I would not take $100 for my bottle of Nasal Balm if I could not replace it.

It Never Fails.

Ex-Mayor Bowie, Brockville, Ont., says: I used Nasal Balm for a bad case of catarrh, and it cured me after having ineffectually tried many other remedies. It never fails to give immediate relief for cold in the head.

THE N.-W. MOUNTED POLICE.

Commissioner Herchmer's Report — The Morals of the Force - Liquor Regulations.

OTTAWA, March 27.—The report of Mounted Police Commissioner Herchmer has been issued. Among other information it contains the following:

"A good many deserters from the American army have come over with their horses and arms, which have been taken from them and returned to the United States authorities, who declined to prosecute the thieves, thinking they were well rid of them.

"The rapid settlement of the country in the vicinity of the Blood Indians and the system of allowing the Indians off their reserves practically when they please, together with their being permitted to carry arms (mostly of repeating pattern), is liable sooner or later to result in serious trouble, involving not only the cattle business in the West, but the settlers. There is no game requiring rifles to shoot, and if it is impracticable to prevent Indians owning repeating rifles, I would suggest that they be compelled to leave them on their reserves.

"The police have been frequently blamed for not displaying their old firmness and dash when dealing with criminal Indians, but it must be remembered in the old days the Indians could only retaliate on the police themselves and on a few traders, quite able and only too ready to take care of themselves. Now-a-days the people are scattered all over the country, and rashness on the part of the police might at any time result in the murder and insult of settlers and their families. There is no deficiency of pluck in the force I have the honor to command, and when necessary and advisable I have no doubt the same dash will be found as formerly.

"The enforcement of the North-west Prohibitory Law is more difficult than ever, the sympathy of many of the settlers being generally against us in this matter. Large quantities of liquor have been seized and split, but a great deal more illicit liquor has undoubtedly been used. Under the cloak of the permit system liquor is now run into the country in every conceivable manner, in barrels of sugar, salt, and as ginger ale, and even in neatly constructed imitation eggs, and respectable people who otherwise are honest, will resort to every device to evade the liquor laws, and when caught they have generally the quantity covered by their permits. It is really curious the extraordinary length of time some holders of permits can keep their liquor. The permit system should be done away with in the first place, if the law is to be enforced, and the law itself should be cleared of the technicalities that have enabled so many to escape punishment this last year. The importation and manufacture of a good article of lager beer, under stringent Inland Revenue regulations, would, in my opinion, greatly assist the satisfactory settlement of this vexed question.

"The Winchester carbine, so long the favorite arm with western prairie men, is not giving good satisfaction in the force. The ease with which it gets out of order and its liability to break off at the stock are serious drawbacks to its efficiency. I would suggest that as soon as it can be settled which is the best carbine now made, one division be supplied with it, when, if satisfactory, it can be issued to the rest of the force.

"The disappearance of the buffalo and the difficulty in replacing the costs of that fine article in use with a suitable substitute has rendered us short of fur coats. At present we are trying an article called 'Montana calf,' and if natural black skins of this quality could be used instead of dyed ones I think that this want would be met.

"The conduct of the men on the force has generally been very good indeed during the last year. Nearly every instance of bad conduct has been directly attributable to whisky."

"The general physique of the force is of a high standard and there are few men who are not in the prime of life."

LATEST MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, March 27.—The Toronto local money market is quoted easier. Surplus funds are offering freely on debentures on call at 5 per cent., and on stocks at 5½ to 6 per cent. Commercial paper is wanted at 6 per cent. for first-class and 7 per cent. for the general run.

ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

The market opened and closed early to-day. Business was brisk while it lasted. Pork was a little firmer and went as high as $7.75. Spring lamb was plentiful at $4 to $7 per carcase. Spring chickens sold at 90c to $1 per pair. Vegetables remained unchanged. One feature of the market at present is the cost of hay and feed for horses and cattle, which is higher than it has been for several years past. Hay sold this morning at $15 to $17 per ton. On the grain market business was inactive. One load of fall wheat sold at 82c per bushel, and two loads of barley brought 75c and 77c a bushel respectively.

LIVERPOOL GRAIN MARKET.

Liverpool—Spring wheat 6s 6d to 6s 9d, red winter 6s 7d to 6s 8d, No. 1 6s 7d to 6s 9d, corn 4s 8d, peas 5s 4½d, pork 67s 6d, lard 38s 0d, bacon 38s 4d, cheese 60s.

BEERBOHM'S REPORT.

Beerbohm reports to-day as follows: London, March 27.—Floating cargoes—Wheat quiet, corn dull. Arrivals—Wheat, 1; corn, 1. Waiting orders—Wheat, 1; corn, 1. Cargoes on passage—Wheat strong, corn strong. Paris—Wheat quiet, corn quieter. Liverpool—Spot wheat quiet, corn strong, ½d dearer. Indian shipments of wheat for the past week to the United Kingdom, 376,000; to continent, 22,000.

Liverpool, March 27.—Spring wheat, 6s 8d to 6s 9d; red winter, 6s 7½d to 6s 8d, and fair demand; No. 1 C.M., 6s 7½d to 6s 8d, holders offer moderately; corn, 4s 8d, firm; cheese, 60s; cocoa, 101 9-16.

OSWEGO BARLEY MARKET.

Oswego reports barley unchanged, and market quiet. Prices quoted: No. 2 ex-Canadian, 91; No. 1 Canadian, 94; No. 1 bright Canadian, 97.

A Single Trial

Is all that is needed to prove that Polson's Nerviline is the most rapid and certain remedy in the world for pain. It only costs 10 cents for a trial bottle. A single trial bottle will prove Nerviline to be equally efficacious as an external or internal remedy, and for pain of every description it has no equal. Try 10 cent sample bottle. Sold by druggists. Large bottles 25 cents. Avoid substitutes. 6dw13

PERHAPS NO LOCAL disease has puzzled and baffled the medical profession more than nasal catarrh. While not immediately fatal it is among the most distressing, nauseous and disgusting ills the flesh is heir to, and the records show very few or no cases of radical cures of chronic catarrh by any of the multitude of modes of treatment until the introduction of Ely's Cream Balm a few years ago. The success of this preparation has been most gratifying and surprising. eodw13

It Seldom Fails.

J. D. Cameron, of Westlake, Ainslie, Cape Breton, had inflammatory rheumatism which Hagyard's Yellow Oil cured after all other treatment had failed. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is sold by all dealers in medicine. 2w12d

In the Vegetable Garden.

Cabbage, Irish and sweet potatoes do best on a coarse, sandy loam, the latter, however, attaining size at the expense of quality. Watermelons, cantaloups and sweet potatoes grown for fine quality flourish best on a loam of about 60 per cent. of very fine sand and 40 per cent. of clay.

Plant cantaloups early, five feet apart each way. Make the first planting on one side of the hill; a week later plant the other side, and when well up thin to three of the best plants in the hill. For watermelons furrow eight feet apart each way, and proceed in all respects as above, and cultivate until the vines meet. Sifted coal ashes gives the best satisfaction in preventing the attacks of the melon bug.

In arranging dates for planting vegetables for a succession, it should be noted as the season advances and becomes warmer that peas, and in fact all kinds of vegetables, grow faster and overtake one another. The date for planting the different sorts does not lead to corresponding intervals in gathering the crops. For instance, though five days' difference in date of planting peas in April will make about as many days' difference in the time of harvesting in June, yet five days difference in planting in May will make hardly any visible difference in ripening in July.

Sunshine for Bees.

Numbered with other queries of general interest sent out among leading apiarians all over the country, by the editor of The American Bee Journal, was the following:

"In wintering bees outdoors, would it be better to have the apiary on the south side of a hill facing south, where the hives get plenty of sunshine; or on the north side of a hill facing north, and no sunshine, as some have contended?"

In the twenty-one replies received all, excepting one, favored the southern slope and the sunshine. J. P. H. Brown said: "I prefer the apiary on the north side of a hill in a warm climate, and on the south side in a cold climate." (L. W. Damaree replied: "I would prefer a southeastern slope to any apiary ground. But I have had my apiary on four sites in the past, differing widely from each other, and I have really seen but little difference as to the results." The editor of The Bee Journal concludes the replies with the following advice: "In the northern latitude, place the bees on the south side of the hill. In the south some prefer the hives to face the north, but all desire them to have as much sunshine as possible."

Cannot Be Excelled

I have pleasure in saying that Hayard's Pectoral Balsam cannot be excelled for curing Coughs, Colds and Loss of Voice. It cured my brother completely. So says Ira McNeal of Poplar Hill, Ont., regarding this popular remedy. 2w12d

Nova Scotia News.

"I had Scrofula on my neck very bad for two years, had tried all remedies and doctors, but did not get any help until I got a bottle of your Burdock Blood Bitters which cured me of it entirely." James Cochrane, Fox River, Cumberland Co., N. S. 2w12d

THE WONDERS OF MAGIC.

When you find that beauty is falling away,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
To the elderly man with his locks in decay,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
A rich head of hair
Is as precious as rare,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
The lady's misfortune, when losing her hair,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
She can quickly, easily, cheaply repair,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
It imparts strength and beauty,
And it's the lady's plain duty,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
Take time by the forelock and still keep your own,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
This tonic, a failure has never yet known,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
Try this motto to heed,
Try till you succeed,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."

This now famous preparation for invigorating and stimulating the growth of the hair is universally accepted as the most valuable specific on the market. All diseases of the scalp are either relieved or permanently cured. A rich and rapid growth of hair will follow after judicious and regular treatment. It remains with the user alone to secure the desired results. Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" is sold by all druggists at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. If not obtainable in your own locality send direct to the sole manufacturer, enclosing price. A. DORENWEND, Paris Hair Works, 103 and 105 Yonge street, Toronto. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists. dw

BANKERS—Bank of Toronto and Canadian Bank of Commerce.
SOLICITORS—Dumble & Leonard.

TO DEPOSITORS—Deposits are received by this Company both on current account and for periods of one year or longer. The rate of interest paid on amount deposited on current account and which may be withdrawn by check in such sums as the depositor may from time to time require, is four per cent., either paid or compounded half yearly, and the rate on yearly deposits is five per cent.

TO INVESTORS—The five and ten years five per cent. debentures of this Company which are issued in denominations of $400, $200, $500 and $1,000 each, transferable by endorsement, with half yearly interest coupons attached, payable at the Head Office of the Company in Peterborough, or at any Branch of the Bank of Toronto in Canada, afford a safe and convenient mode of investment.

The funds of the Company being invested with the utmost care and precaution, no better security can be offered to depositors or debenture-holders, they having a first claim or mortgage on the whole Assets of the Company, the Shareholders having the second. The last audit shows that the amount so invested was over $1,310,223.69, and on securities of at least double that value.

By the Laws of Ontario, Trustees, Executors and Administrators may deposit Trust Funds of the estates which they control in this Company, and are free from all further liability, a privilege of which many have largely availed themselves.

TO BORROWERS—Money is obtainable from this Company on approved Real Estate Security at the Lowest Current Rates of Interest. The Mortgage may be repaid by yearly instalments or otherwise, as may be agreed upon, the interest ceasing at once on all amounts paid on account of the sum borrowed. Applications may be made either to the Head Office, or to any of the agents.

Head Office, George Street, Peterborough, adjoining Bank of Commerce.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 28, 1888.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Partly cloudy or cloudy weather, with local showers, rain or sleet; stationary or a little lower temperature.

A "Fitting" Retort.

A particularly vigorous speaker at a woman's rights meeting, waving her long arms like the sails of a windmill, asked: "If the women of this country were to rise up in their thousands and march to the polls, I should like to know what there is on this earth that could stop them!" And in the momentary silence which followed this peroration, a still, small voice remarked: "Why, send 'em an invitation to visit the dressmaking and mantle rooms of the golden lion. They couldn't get over that, for there's nothing on earth except a prospect of matrimony, which a woman wouldn't sacrifice for the sake of being well dressed. But she wont have to sacrifice anything by going to r. fair's. She will find there the finest goods, the finest fit, and the finest cut in prices of imported goods to be found in the province.

The Bricklayers' Union.

About twenty-five bricklayers of the town comprising nearly every one engaged in the business, met in the Knights of Labor hall Tuesday evening. Mr. J. J. Hartley was elected chairman, Mr. Thos. McNamara, secretary, and Mr. R. Sheehy, treasurer. All those present enrolled themselves as members of the Union, and spirited addresses were delivered by those interested in the work. Mr. Gibson, of Hamilton, Organizer for Ontario of the International Bricklayers' Union, is being corresponded with for the purpose of getting him to organize the Peterborough branch, and it is expected he will be able to come down in about two weeks. Another meeting of the bricklayers will be held Tuesday night of next week.

The Basket Shop Evil.

On the 10th inst. some two hundred circulars were sent out to the bankers of the Province, by directions of the Toronto Board of Trade, asking an expression of opinion on the subject of "basket shops." Replies have been received from about seventy-five cities and towns, and the Toronto papers publish extracts from the managers' responses showing that the bucket shop is an evil. Peterborough is represented among the rest, and the opinions are without exception adverse to the system. Those who had dealings in Cox & Co.'s office here and lost heavily when it was closed up will heartily endorse the sentiment of one writer who characterizes them as a "curse to the country."

Complimentary.

The following is clipped from the Detroit Tribune of Monday:—"Dr. M. H. Hartwig, who was successful in excelling his competitors at the examination conducted yesterday, has been appointed house physician for Harper hospital. The faculty, at the request of the United States government, made an appointment for the Marine hospital, selecting Dr. E. G. Stratton for the position." Dr. Stratton took a very high position in his class, standing next to the silver medallist. He is the youngest graduate that ever went through the College.

To the Farmers Especially.

The farmers of this county and vicinity are informed that Mr. F. J. Hartley has assumed the insurance business of his father, the late J. A. Hartley, and will hereafter continue the business in the same manner as in the past. All the patrons of the late Mr. Hartley are advised to avail themselves of the services of his successor and the companies he represents. Parties having business to transact can call at Hartley's music store, Hunter street, west of Post Office. wtf

A Live Pastor.

A Norwood correspondent writes:—"The newly appointed parish priest, Father Conway, is having a number of new pews put into the church. The rev. gentleman seems fully alive to the requirements of the people under his charge, and we predict from the way he moves around that he will put some life and energy into the congregation, and wake up some of its drowsy members. We understand a new parsonage is to be erected for his accommodation during the coming summer."

Coining a Word.

From this time forth the EXAMINER calls it photogram. The analogy of language demands that photogram should be the name of the result of a photographic process, as well as that telegram should be the name of the result of a telegraphic process. If we say and write photograph, why not say and write prograph for programme, etc. Telegraph, verb: telegram, noun; photograph, verb: photogram, noun.

Hard times demand cheap boots and shoes, and these can be had at J. T. Stenson's, cheap as the dirt in which they tread. His cheap sale is a great success.

St Andrew's Church Social.

A social will be held in the manse of St. Andrew's Church on the evening of Thursday, the 29th March, at which a good musical programme, vocal and instrumental, will be given. No effort will be spared to make this a most delightful gathering. Tickets, 25 cents. Refreshments included. 4d

Meeting of the "Triple A"

A Large and Representative Gathering—Officers of the Different Clubs Shall Lacrosse be Added?—The Grounds Question.

A well attended annual meeting of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association was held in the music rooms over Hartley's store Tuesday evening. The several branches of the association were represented and the business was transacted with a vim and evident interest that augurs well for the future.

After preliminary business the President, Dr. Geo. Burnham, called upon the Secretary, Mr. F. E. Bell, to read the directors' report, as follows:—

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

In reviewing the events of the past year, the close of the third of the existence of the Association, there are reasons for satisfaction in the promotion of most of the sports. It could hardly be expected that everything could be fully successful, requiring as it does constant exertion to fairly give each sport its share of attention. With three years' experience and the promise of increased activity, it is expected this season will close with credit to the Association and all concerned.

Cricket has, undoubtedly, taken the leading interest. The club has been very active, their record for the season's matches being very good, they having played against some of the best clubs in the country.

In bicycling the number of wheelmen is yet comparatively small. There is no reason why they should not have a field day of their own and invite some "fliers", and the interest ones aroused would greatly develop the club. Belleville having secured the meet this year an opportunity is afforded for all to participate.

Lawn Tennis did not excite the players into as much rivalry as in the previous season, when the fortnightly meets were an interesting feature.

The baseball season opened with a good nine, who put in some good practice and played several games. The local matches were well patronized.

The season for football was short, three games being the record. Some of the best players having left town the club found it more difficult to get a team into good practice.

Tobogganing is under a disadvantage, the slides not being as convenient as the grounds and consequently this sport has not been patronized by the members generally.

One new feature was the introduction of night sports by the aid of electric light. Very favorable arrangements were made with the Electric Light Company, who erected four lamps in the grounds.

It is sufficiently annoying for remark, the trouble caused by boys climbing over the fence who wantonly destroy the property and make use of the grounds on Sundays. This calls for attention on the part of the village authorities who should make an example of some of the offenders.

The Treasurer's report speaks for itself, and though only a small balance is carried forward the liabilities caused by expenditure of permanent character have been greatly reduced. The thanks of the Association are due to the ladies and gentlemen who took part in the plays which made an addition to the funds; besides the successful entertainment by Mrs. Scott-Siddons in Nov. last.

There is plenty of good material in the club, and the Directors hope to see this fourth season the most prosperous which can be achieved, by every one interested doing their share.

On behalf of the Directors,
G. BURNHAM, M.D., President. F. E. BELL, Secretary.

FINANCIAL.

The statement of the Treasurer, Mr. A. St. A. Smith, was also read, showing total receipts of $690.35 and a balance on hand of $2.

Messrs. E. A. Peck and A. V. R. Young were appointed auditors of the Treasurer's statement.

THE ELECTIONS.

Dr. Halliday was unanimously elected to the position of Honorary President.

The appointment of patrons, patronesses and officers was deferred till the meeting of the directors.

THE CLUB OFFICERS.

The different clubs forming the Association reported the following officers elected:—

CRICKET CLUB.—President, Judge Weller; Vice-Presidents, W. H. Wrighton and Dr. Burnham; Sec.-Treas., John Stirling; Committee—Messrs. W. A. Stratton, S. Ray, W. J. Minore, J. H. Burnham and R. B. Rogers.

BASEBALL CLUB.—President, Dr. Brennan; Secretary, G. C. Clark; Committee—Messrs. W. Sailsbury, G. C. Clark and Dr. Brennan.

FOOTBALL.—President, R. B. Rogers; Secretary, Geo. Schofield; Committee—Messrs. W. J. Morris, Dr. Brennan and A. St. A. Smith.

BICYCLE CLUB.—President, W. R. Greatrix; Secretary, G. Matthews; Committee—Messrs. V. Halliday, H. Haultain and Geo. Schofield.

LAWN TENNIS.—President, Dr. Burnham; Secretary, A. St. A. Smith; Committee—Messrs. E. A. Peck, F. E. Bell and J. H. Long.

SNOWSHOE.—President, W. J. Morris; Secretary, A. V. R. Young; Committee—Messrs. R. B. Rogers, Geo. Schofield and G. C. Clark.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

CRICKET.—Judge Weller and W. J. Minore.
BASEBALL.—Dr. Brennan and G. C. Clark.
FOOTBALL.—R. B. Rogers.
BICYCLE.—F. E. Bell and W. R. Greatrix.
SNOWSHOE.—Geo. Schofield.
LAWN TENNIS.—Dr. Burnham.

RAISING THE DEBT.

Upon the suggestion of Judge Weller, who offered to head the list with a donation of $20, a committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions for the purpose of paying off an indebtedness hanging over the Association. Much was done to this end during the past year, but there still remain some unpaid accounts.

ADDING LACROSSE.

Dr. BRENNAN announced that he had been deputed by the lacrosse men of the town to ask either for admittance to the Association or the rental of the grounds for practice. He thought it could be amicably arranged to have the different clubs have certain evenings set apart for practice, to avoid clashing. After some little discussion the question was referred to the directors to report.

WHAT ABOUT GROUNDS.

The question of purchasing grounds was broached by the President.

Mr. MINORE stated that at the meeting of the directors a scheme would be propounded that he thought would meet with general approval.

GRATEFUL.

Votes of thanks were passed to those who had assisted at the recent theatrical entertainments, and to the retiring board of directors.

The directors will meet for the election of officers, etc., at Schofield's drug store on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Personal.

Mr. Jas. Stevenson, M.P., was among the guests at the dinner given by the Prime Minister Monday evening.

Mr. Clarxton has received the honor of being elected vice-president of the Commercial Union Club of Toronto. This is a graceful recognition of the prominent and influential position Mr. Clarxton occupies in relation to this question.

Miss Annie M. Colman, Bowmanville, Miss Harriet R. Sutherland, Cobourg, and Miss Christina A. Mitchell, Port Hope, were amongst those to whom certificates were granted at the Toronto General Hospital Training School for nurses.

The Burglaries Explained.

A Convict on His Way to Prison Confesses the Deeds.

Some time ago, it will be remembered, a couple of burglaries occurred at Munro's biscuit works, and not the slightest clue was ever obtained as to the guilty parties. The blame was thrown upon local "amateurs," as the burglaries seemed to have been done in an unprofessional-like way. The other day a man named Spencer, who was sent down from Whitby for five years for stealing a hand car on the C.P.R., while on his way to Kingston penitentiary told Sheriff Paxton and Mr. Taft, agent for the Lang Manufacturing Co., of some of his exploits. One was making two raids on an eastern town and stealing a lot of cigars, and the fellow bragged that the last time he cleaned them nearly all out—and so he did. The way he got away with them was by taking them to the G.T.R. station and putting them on a west bound car, of which he took the number and watched for its arrival at Little York. When the car got there he hired a dray and went down and got them and sold them. He did not tell the name of the town, but there is scarcely a doubt that he referred to Peterborough.

Dr. Smithett Laid to Rest.

The funeral of Rev. Dr. Smithett took place at Omemee on Tuesday at one o'clock. The body was on view at Christ Church all day Monday and crowds of his parishioners and others came to take a last look at the reverend and venerated gentleman, who for many years was a resident of this district, having been incumbent of Lindsay and subsequent rector of Emily for many years. The pall bearers were Rev. Rural Deans Allen, Millbrook, and Beck, Peterborough; Revs. M. J. Cooper (Hastings), J. F. Burgess (Bethany), J. G. Dean (Minden) and W. C. Bradshaw (Ashburnham). The burial service was conducted by Rev. Canon O'Meara, Port Hope, and Rural Dean Allen. The former gentleman made an impressive address. The Orangemen and True Blues, from Lindsay, accompanied by their band, attended in large numbers, the Society having insisted that the funeral be conducted under their auspices. The local lodges also assisted. The interment took place at Emily cemetery. Dr. Smithett was known as a very active and energetic clergyman. He also took an active part in society matters. He was sixty-five years of age.

A Challenge.

Not Satisfied With the Race—Another Challenge to Mr. Bird.

The following letter has been received:—

To the Sporting Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—As I never had the opportunity of meeting Mr. Bird since he defeated me in the five-mile race in Oshawa, I hereby challenge Mr. Bird to run me a five-mile foot race for twenty-five dollars ($25) a side or fifty dollars ($50), the race to take place about the first of May.

Sons of England.

A new lodge of the Sons of England will be instituted Thursday evening in the Foresters' Hall, by Mr. W. Brandrette, District Deputy. The charter applied for has been received, and the new lodge will start with a membership of sixteen, under the name of "Peterborough Lodge." At the meeting Thursday evening the officers will be installed and a lodge room selected. The Sons of England are becoming an extensive fraternity in Peterborough. The organization of a second branch of the Order was directly due to the fact that Lansdowne Lodge had attained such proportions as to be unwieldy, and the formation of a new lodge was found necessary. The aims of this Order are benevolence and brotherhood amongst sons of Old England, and it should continue to prosper.

Medical Association.

A meeting of the medical men of the town was held Tuesday night at the Oriental hotel and the preliminary steps taken towards the formation of a Medical Association. Dr. Kincaid was elected chairman, and Dr. Caldwell, secretary, pro tem, with authority to call a meeting at an early date to complete organization. It is understood the next meeting will be held a week from Thursday night.

Amateurs Abroad.

Peterborough is to be inflicted with a visit of Port Hope amateurs. The Times says:—"The Dramatic Club go to Peterborough on the fifth of April to present their drama, "True Irish Love," under a guarantee received from three or four performers who will fill in the intermissions with specialities." The boys are "coming up" bravely."

Examiner Bindery.

Merchants and business men, now is the time to call at the EXAMINER bindery and leave your orders for journals, day books, ledgers, invoice books, cheque books, and all blank books used in business. Don't wait till the moment you want to use them. All blank books last longer for not being used immediately after being finished.

ENGLAND ENTHUSIASTIC

OVER THE FINANCIAL SCHEME OF MR. GOSCHEN.

Lord Randolph Churchill and Mr. Gladstone Among the Chancellor's Eulogists —The Tide With the Government—A Gladstonian Elected in Glamorganshire.

LONDON, March 28.—Mr. Goschen's budget is thought as a whole to justify the most sanguine expectations of his friends. His bitterest enemy in the press describes it as ingenious, elaborate, and partially sound. The impression on the House was altogether good. The crowded audience sat immovable during the speech of 3½ hours. Lord Randolph Churchill himself, whose affection for his successor in the chancellorship of the exchequer has not been supposed to be warm, was among Mr. Goschen's eulogists. So was Mr. Childers, and so, I hear, was Mr. Gladstone. The feeling of the House and of the financial world is that since Mr. Gladstone himself England has had no finance minister equal to Mr. Goschen either in theoretical or practical knowledge.

A stock exchange friend tells me that the national debt conversion scheme was hailed in the city with enthusiasm, because, apart from all other merits, it simplified, or rather unified, existing securities. "Never," cried he, "have we had so good a stock to deal in as the new two-and-three-quarter per cents. They are magnificent." He went on to predict that they would presently rise to 103 or 104. Grateful operators have already christened them "Goschens." This, however, is also for convenience's sake, to distinguish them from the existing two-and-three-quarter per cents. My friend doubted whether they would be known permanently by this name.

It was among other things the striking success of this gigantic conversion scheme which raised so high some expectations of Mr. Goschen's financial statement. It was known that he had a surplus of over £2,000,000, but that all this and more would be wanted to float the new local government scheme. He had, in fact, framed two budgets: one for the ratepayers and one for the taxpayers. He was expected to find means to do all this, and yet remit a penny from the income tax also. Where was he to find the money? These and many other questions he answered, on the whole, to the satisfaction of the House, and seemingly to the country.

To-day's meeting of the Liberal party at the Spencer House has been reduced in dimensions, and is a meeting of the leaders only. It cannot be a cheerful gathering. The flowing tide is for the moment with the Government, not with the Opposition. Mr. Gladstone himself, I hear, is in his usual spirits. His followers certainly are not. They separate for the Easter holidays with the conviction that both in Parliament and the country the Tory ministry is stronger to-day than at any time since its formation.

A Gladstonian Elected.

LONDON, March 28.—The election in the Gower division of Glamorganshire, to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons caused by the death of Frank A. Yeo, was held yesterday and resulted in the return of David Randall (Gladstonian), who received 3,964 votes, against 3,868 case for J. F. D. Llewellyn. At the last election Yeo was unopposed.

LATEST MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, March 28.—The Toronto local money market is quoted at 5 and 6 per cent. on debentures, 6 per cent. on stocks, and for discount the price is 6½ and 7 per cent.

The rain this morning spoiled business to a great extent in and about St. Lawrence market. Business was quiet and prices did not vary. On the grain market two loads of fall wheat sold at 75c and 83c per bushel respectively, and one load of wild geese brought 75c per bushel.

THURSDAY, MARCH 29, 1888.

THE EARLY CLOSING ACT.

At the last session of the Ontario Legislature a Government Act was passed to regulate the closing of shops. The Act is entitled "The Ontario Shops' Regulating Act of 1888."

The first clause is merely explanatory of the terms employed in the Act. Subsections two and three read as follows:—

(2) Any local council may by by-law require that during the whole or any part or parts of the year, all or any class or classes of shops within the municipality shall be closed, and remain closed on each or any day of the week at and continuously after the time and hour fixed or appointed in that behalf by the by-law, but any such time or hour fixed or appointed by a by-law passed under the authority of this sub-section shall not be earlier than seven of the clock in the afternoon of any day.

(3) If any application is received by or presented to a local council, praying for the passing of a by-law requiring the closing of any class or classes of shops situate within the municipality, and the council is satisfied that such application is signed by not less than three-fourths in number of the occupiers of shops within the municipality and belonging to the class or each of the classes to which such application relates, the council shall, within one month after the receipt or presentation of such application, pass a by-law giving effect to the said application and requiring all shops within the municipality, belonging to the class or classes specified in the application, to be closed during the period of the year, and at the times and hours mentioned in that behalf in the application.

The remaining subsections under this clause refer to the forms of application to by-law, and exempts druggists' shops, refer to supplying lodgers in shops, provides penalties.

Section 3 provides that the act shall come into force on the first day of January, 1889.

Subsection 8 of this section reads as below:—

(3) A young person (boy under fourteen or girl under sixteen years of age) shall not be employed in or about a shop for a longer period than seventy-four hours, including meal times, in any one week; nor shall a young person be so employed during any Saturday for more than fourteen hours, including meal times, nor during any other day for more than twelve hours, including meal times, unless a different apportionment of the hours of labour per day has been made for the sole purpose of giving a shorter day's work on some other day of the week; and there shall be allowed as meal times to every young person so employed not less than one hour for the noon day meal on each day, and to every young person so employed on any day to any hour later than seven of the clock in the afternoon, not less than forty-five minutes for another or evening meal, between five and eight of the clock in the afternoon.

Subsections following 4, 5 and 6, indicate what persons may be employed, prescribes penalties for the employment of unauthorized persons,' and subsection 7 does away with a "standing" grievance, under which girls in shops now labor. It is a most humane provision and provides as follows:—

(7) The occupier of any shop in which are employed females shall at all times provide and keep therein a sufficient and suitable seat or chair for the use of every such female, and shall permit her to use such seat or chair when not necessarily engaged in the work or duty for which she is employed in such shop; and any person offending against any of the provisions of this sub-section shall upon conviction thereof be liable to a fine not exceeding $20, with costs of the prosecution, and in default of immediate payment of such fine and costs, to be imprisoned in the common gaol of the county within which the offence was committed for a period not exceeding one month.

Subsection 8 provides that:—

(8) In every shop in which any young person is employed there shall be kept exhibited by the employer in a conspicuous place a notice referring to the provisions of this Act and stating the number of hours in each week during which a young person may lawfully be employed therein; and such notice may be according to Form A in the schedule to this Act.

The remaining subsections relate chiefly to forms of procedure in laying charges and trying charges of infraction of the Act, limit the time of taking action to one month after the alleged offence. The remainder of the Act consists of a schedule giving supplementary interpretation to the previous interpreting clauses. While the act is very largely in the interest of employes it does not seem to work any injustice to the employers. In fact it aims to promote the health and comfort of the employed, thus enabling them to give better and more valuable service to their employers. It is a wise step in the direction which the humane instincts of the Mowat administration would suggest them to advance. It will make an early closing movement effectual and successful. All attempts heretofore have failed because some parties would refuse to join the compact for early closing, and the greed of others would tempt them to break the agreement, and thus the movement would come into disrepute. Under the Act, however, any infraction of a by-law requiring shops closed at an early hour will incur a substantial penalty. It will not be against the interest of buyers as it will prevent late shopping and concentrate the same amount of business into shorter hours, and will give employes in shops an opportunity for rest and recreation which, under the present system, they are deprived of.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Cavendish.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A pleasing incident, illustrating the friendly good feeling which should always exist between the employer and employes, occurred at the Rathbun Co.'s camp here a few days ago, when the men engaged to work under Mr. Martin Maloney, as foreman, presented him with a beautiful gold watch and the following address:—

To Mr. Martin Maloney, Deseronto:—

We, your sub-employes, have pleasure in testifying to the honorable and courteous manner in which you have conducted yourself towards us during the past winter. By such conduct you have not only won the confidence of your employer but the fact of your uninterrupted service in the employment of the Rathbun Co. for the past twenty-one years proves conclusively that you have also secured, in a remarkable degree, the esteem and confidence of your employers.

Ere we part, probably never all to meet again in the same capacities as now, we beg you to accept this watch as a slight recognition of our hearty appreciation of your conduct. May you ever, as we are sure you will, wear it with pleasure and pursue the same manly career which has secured for you this recognition.

And though we are for the present forced to part, our earnest desire is that we may soon have you for our foreman again, failing which, we hope to meet you in a happy hereafter.

Signed on behalf of your men,

THOS. DOONAN.

Cavendish, March 19th, 1888.

Mr. Maloney replied in a feeling and suitable manner.

BOULANGER'S PUNISHMENT.

The Petit Journal Says it is Excessive—Alleged Conspiracies.

PARIS, March 28.—There were no Boulanger demonstrations last night. The Boulanger Election Committee will possibly withdraw the general as a candidate for the Chamber of Deputies in the Department of Aisne in favor of Doumer (Radical).

The Boulangist Petit Journal says Boulanger's punishment is excessive, and that the Ministry has entered into a struggle in which it is not likely to win.

To Revise the Constitution.

PARIS, March 28.—The Extreme Left has decided to prepare a bill for the revision of the constitution and to place the measure before the Chamber of Deputies before Easter. In the meantime the Cabinet's decision regarding Gen. Boulanger is taken quietly. The Liberte says the police have taken extensive precautions to prevent demonstrations.

Plots Against the Republic.

PARIS, March 28.—It is reported that the Minister of the Interior obtained certain telegrams emanating from Gen. Boulanger and written in cipher which he had deciphered and submitted to the committee of enquiry. These despatches, it is said, clearly prove that Boulanger has been intimately associated with conspiracies against the safety of the Republic.

VIX MEDICATRIX NATURÆ.

A Curative Effort in the German Emperor's Case Independent of the Doctors.

LONDON, March 28.—The mass of cartilage just removed from the larynx of Emperor Frederick was, it is now learned, found wholly disconnected from the part of the throat upon which it grew, and required no surgical operation to enable the doctors to secure it. Its separation as well as its appearance is believed to indicate that nature is making a curative effort entirely independent of the physicians, which belief is strengthened by the fact that a similar voluntary expulsion is unknown to the physicians in their experience in the treatment of cancerous diseases. The circumstance is also held to furnish incontrovertible evidence of the correctness of Dr. Mackenzie's persistent contention that the disease is not cancer.

The report recently put in circulation that the Emperor is able to take only liquid food is untrue. He eats solid food with comparative ease and experiences no difficulty in drinking. He is much thinner than he was when he went to San Remo, but looks much better than he is commonly represented as appearing.

A Battle Imminent.

ROME, March 28.—A despatch from Massowah says that an engagement between the Abyssinian and Italian forces is imminent, but the Italians will await attack. The Abyssinian army, which is advancing in three columns, will concentrate at Jangrus. The Italian outposts are contiguous to that place. King John has arrived at Sabargumma.

Postponed Until Autumn.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 28.—The orders recently issued that two divisions of infantry march towards the western frontier have been countermanded, and the movement of this body of troops postponed until autumn.

A Pleasure Shared by Women Only.

Malherbe, the gifted French author, declared that of all things that man possesses, women alone take pleasure in being possessed. This seems generally true of the sweeter sex. Like the ivy plant, she longs for an object to cling to and love—to look to for protection. This being her prerogative, ought she not to be told that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the physical salvation of her sex? It banishes those distressing maladies that make her life a burden, curing all painful irregularities, uterine disorders, inflammation and ulceration, prolapsus and kindred weaknesses. As a nervine, it cures nervous exhaustion, prostration, debility, relieves mental anxiety and hypochondria, and promotes refreshing sleep.

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dercewend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

A Postmaster's Opinion.

"I have had great pleasure in certifying to the usefulness of Hagyard's Yellow Oil," writes D. Kavanah, Postmaster of Umfraville, Ont. "Having used it for soreness of the throat, colds, burns, etc., I find nothing equal to it." 2w12d

UNCLE SAM'S CHINESE TREATY.

Celestial Laborers Prohibited From Coming Into the States.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The new Chinese Treaty is published. The contracting parties agree that for twenty years the coming, except under conditions specified, of Chinese laborers to the United States shall be absolutely prohibited. This shall not apply to the return of any Chinese laborer who has a lawful wife, child or parents in the United States, or property therein to the value of $100 or debts of like amount due him and pending settlement. Every such Chinese laborer shall, before leaving the United States, deposit, as a condition of his return, with the Collector of Customs of the district from which he departs, a full description in writing of his family or property or debts so referred to, and shall be furnished a certificate of his right to return. Such right of return to the United States shall be exercised within one year from the date of leaving the United States, but may be extended for an additional period not to exceed one year in cases where, by reason of sickness or other cause of disability beyond his control, such laborer shall be rendered unable to return.

The provisions of this convention shall not affect the right, at present enjoyed by Chinese subjects being officials, teachers, students, merchants or travelers for curiosity or pleasure, but not laborers, of coming to the United States and residing therein. To entitle such Chinese subjects as are above described to admission into the United States they may produce a certificate from their Government.

It is also agreed that Chinese laborers shall continue to enjoy the privilege of transit across the territory of the United States in the course of their journey to or from other countries, subject to such regulation by the Government of the United States as may be necessary to prevent said privilege of transit from being abused.

It is agreed that Chinese laborers or Chinese of any other class, either permanently or temporarily residing in the United States, shall have for the protection of their persons and property all rights that are given by the laws of the United States to citizens of the most favored nation, excepting the right to become naturalized citizens.

The United States agrees to pay on or before March 1, 1889, $276,619.75 to the Chinese Minister in full indemnity for losses and injuries sustained by Chinese subjects in the United States.

CLOTHING BOUGHT IN CANADA.

Yankees Must Pay Duty on It When They Wear It Back to the States.

BUFFALO, N.Y., March 28.—The following decision by the Treasury Department of the United States Government will interest many persons on both sides of the line. It is directed to the collector at this port:

"SIR: It has been represented that many persons living on the Canadian frontier go to Canada for the purpose of purchasing clothing and other dutiable articles, and upon their return to the United States claim exemption from duty on such articles under the ruling of April 29, 1884. Your are informed that importations of this character are not covered by the ruling mentioned, and that when the facts are known duties should be exacted in all cases. If any concealment or fraud is discovered the goods are subject to forfeiture and fine and imprisonment of the person attempting it. The punishment is a fine of not less than $50 or more than $500, or imprisonment for two years, or both."

Their Claims to Be Baptists.

LONDON, March 28.—Andrew Nicholson and James Edwards were arrested this afternoon on a charge of collecting money on false pretences. Nicholson claims to be a moulder from Brantford and Edwards says Hamilton is his home and he is a glass-blower. They visited a number of houses in the city, amongst them being that of Mrs. Marsin, and represented themselves members of the Baptist Union. So far as learned they did not get much money. The two men were only discharged from jail a day or two ago.

Sir. Baxter Selling Out.

MONTREAL, March 28.—Mr. Jas. Baxter, stock broker, is, to-day selling by auction all his household effects which were lately imported from England, horses, sleighs, carriages, etc.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The published extracts from letters of prominent Ontario merchants and bankers as to what they thought of bucket shops, have been read by all classes in Toronto, and those who are perhaps the most directly interested, the mercantile community, fully agree that it is time the bucket-shop should go, or at least be in some way put under the control of the law. Action on the bill which Hon. J. J. C. Abbott is about to introduce will be anxiously looked for. Something may be said about it at a Board of Trade meeting to be held on Saturday.

Well nigh 400 immigrants came per Parisian passed through the city yesterday. A G.T.R. special brought up 200 in the morning, and a C.P.R. special the 200 in the afternoon. About one-half were English, Irish and Scotch, the others being from Germany.

A Single Trial

Is all that is needed to prove that Polson's Nervoline is the most rapid and certain remedy in the world for pain. It only costs 10 cents for a trial bottle. A single trial bottle will prove Nerviline to be equally efficacious as an external or internal remedy, and for pain of every description it has no equals. Try 10 cent sample bottle. Sold by druggists. Large bottles 25 cents. Avoid substitutes. 6dw13

PERHAPS NO LOCAL disease has puzzled and baffled the medical profession more than nasal catarrh. While not immediately fatal it is among the most distressing, nauseous and disgusting ills the flesh is heir to, and the records show very few or no cases of radical cures of chronic catarrh by any of the multitude of modes of treatment until the introduction of Ely's Cream Balm a few years ago. The success of this preparation has been most gratifying and surprising. eodw13

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

A Good Radish for Market Gardeners.

Among novelties in vegetables entered for the first time is the Philadelphia white "box" radish, which is illustrated and described by James Vick in his Guide for 1888, and shown in the accompanying cut. The points of superiority claimed for it are, a short top, rapid growth, perfect turnip shape, extra fine quality and showing no disposition to become pithy with age.

PHILADELPHIA BOX RADISH.

Vick has found it especially adapted for growing in boxes or frames, hence its name, as well as early sowing on squares or borders in the open ground. Owing to its thick short leaves, it can be sown very thickly in the row without causing the leaves to "draw." It has been estimated that fully one-half more radishes can be grown in the same space of this sort than most other varieties, hence its value to those engaged in forcing early vegetables under glass.

Arkansas and Texas claim that the immigration into those states during the past year has been greater than in any previous season.

A special meeting has been called, to be held at Denver, Colo., March 27, to consider the future of the ranching industry, by the International Range Cattle association.

Florida nurserymen, it is said, are doing a large business in shipping young orange trees to California.

The cotton manufacturing interests of the south are increasing rapidly.

Cannot Be Excelled

I have pleasure in saying that Hayard's Pectoral Balsam cannot be excelled for curing Coughs, Colds and Loss of Voice. It cured my mother completely. So says Ira McHead of Poplar Hill, Ont., regarding this popular remedy. 2w12d

"I had Scrofula on my neck very bad for two years, had tried all remedies and doctors, but did not get any help until I got a bottle of your Burdock Blood Bitters which cured me of it entirely." James Cochrane, Fox River, Cumberland Co., N. S. 2w12d

The Time To Act.

If you are threatened with Headache, Constipation, Billiousness or weakness, procure at once a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and use it according to instructions. Prompt action is necessary in order that your trouble may be cured before it becomes chronic. 2w12d

THE WONDERS OF MAGIC.

When you find that beauty is falling away,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
To the elderly man with his locks in decay,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
A rich head of hair
Is as precious as rare,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
The lady's misfortune, when losing her hair,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
She can quickly, easily, cheaply repair,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
It imparts strength and beauty,
And it's the lady's plain duty,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
Take time by the forelock and still keep your own,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
This tonic, a failure has never yet known,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
Try this motto to heed,
Try till you succeed,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."

This now famous preparation for invigorating and stimulating the growth of the hair is universally accepted as the most valuable specific on the market. All diseases of the scalp are either relieved or permanently cured. A rich and rapid growth of hair will follow after judicious and regular treatment. It remains with the user alone to secure the desired results. Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" is sold by all druggists at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. If not obtainable in your own locality send direct to the sole manufacturer, enclosing price. A. DORENWEND, Paris Hair Works, 103 and 105 Yonge street, Toronto. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists. dw

Yankee Impudence.

"Miss Florence Marryat, on her return to England, charged Yankee ladies with padding with cranny seed. The seed moves about and gives a lively and natural appearance," This may be true applied to Yankee girls, but Canadian girls have no need to run to seed to be beautiful. A healthful climate and active habits give Canadian girls beauty of face and plumpness of form, and artificial aids to loveliness are not required. In fact a Canadian girl looks as her prettiest when clad in neat print, cotton or chambray, such as found in immense variety at the golden lion, and trimmed with selections of embroideries, flouncings and narrow embroideries to match, out of the stock of r. fair.

Easter Entertainment.

A novel and interesting Easter Entertainment will be given at the residence of Mrs. D. W. Dumble, on Tuesday evening, April 3rd. Jollity, mirth and music will be the order of the evening. Tea is to be served in the Japanese tea-room by the veritable "Yum Yums." Little fairies will sell boquets and a number of native artists will do the shadow pantomime, while the orchestra will make it lively for all. A small 5c. bit will admit to the chamber of horrors and another small bit will supply a cup of tea to any who may feel overcome. To get in at the front door an English shilling will be demanded. The back door will be bolted. Every one is expected to be there. 2d

Hard times demand cheap boots and shoes, and these can be had at J. T. Stenson's, cheap as the dirt in which they tread. His cheap sale is a great success. 2

"Inshavogue."

Mr. Benjamin Maginley will appear at the Opera House Tuesday next in his great character of Inshavogue. The Buffalo Times says: Mr. Maginley is favorably known in Buffalo though his sterling impersonation of Tom Blossom in the Madison Square success 'May Blossom,' and last night gained fresh laurels in the dual role of Brian Maguire and Inshavogue. It was gratifying to see that the audience fully appreciated his artistic efforts. There is the conventional lordly villain and virtuous village maiden, dancing on the green, and sweet music. Elmer Grandin played the lordly villain so effectually as to win him the hiss of the audience. Bryan O'Lynn, with his pretty helpmate, Belle O'Lynn, sang and danced themselves into instant favor. The rest of the support is also good."

James Fax, Humorist, and Chas. Kelly, Basso. The Beethoven Quartette, who have given successful concerts for two seasons now, are to visit Peterborough, and will appear in the Opera House on Friday evening, April 6th. The quartette comprises Mr. Sime Richards, Tenor, Miss Hattie Morrill, soprano; Miss Ethel Woods, contralto; Mr. Chas. Kelly, Basso; assisted by Miss Minnie Martin, accompanist, and Mr. James Fax, humorist. They are opening under the auspices of the local Y.M.C.A. Tickets, 25c. and 35c. Plan at Hartley's music store. SPLICED ON THE STAGE!

A Hallelujah Wedding in the Opera House.

Grand Finale to a Four Days' Festival—A Novel Wedding Ceremony—The Salvation Army Tells the Interesting Event to Good Account.

Seldom has there been a larger audience in the Opera House than was assembled there Wednesday evening. Every seat was occupied, and a number were able to secure standing accommodation only. The fact that the ladies present comprised three-fourths of the audience will not be considered extraordinary when it is known that a wedding was to be celebrated. As the "ceremony" the Salvation Army transport must have been considerably garnished by Wednesday night's proceedings.

The evening meeting was preceded by a hallelujah supper in the dining room of the Opera House at 6 o'clock. Before the supper a parade was held, led by Lindsay band. In the evening another big parade was held, that attracted a great deal of public attention.

After returning to the Opera House the officers of the Army assembled on the stage. Major Bailey was in command, and had with him Divisional Officer Morris, Adjutants Bolton and McHardy, Captains Ludgate and Madge, of Toronto, Capt. Woodgate, Peterborough, and a large number of other captains and officers from Lakefield, Lindsay, Hastings and other outposts in this division. Rev. I. Tovell, who was to tie the nuptial knot, also had a seat on the platform.

SAVED FROM SIN.

A number of choruses and solos were rendered to a good orchestral accompaniment of a violin, a piano (played by blind Willie Mitchell), two concertinas, and the brass instruments of the band. Testimonies were also given, the most interesting ones being those of Mark Stanely and Capt. Ludgate. Mark tried to sing a solo, but didn't do it very well. Then he thrust his finger deep down into his mouth, gouged out a piece of silver with the remark that he knew now why he couldn't sing well, and proceeded with his song, the "Filippin' o' de Angels' Wings," amidst laughter and applause. Capt. Ludgate's account of his conversion was most interesting. He had been, before converted, in the habit of regularly disturbing the army worship in the place where he lived, and was one of a "set" of young men who were thoroughly the devil's own. He was Roman Catholic and the rest were Protestants. After he had been thrown out of the barracks once for misconduct the spirit laid hold of him and wrought his conversion. Previous to this he had been the victim of a suicidal mania. He felt miserable and determined to end his life. Twice he drank disolved coppers, but it only made him very sick. Then he tried to throw himself under a street car, but the wheels only grazed his arm. He realized that God's providence was protecting him, and he resolved to lead a better life by joining the Army. Then more trials came. His father and mother sent him from them and disclaimed him as a son, and with all his belongings tied up in a red handkerchief he left his home with his parents' curses ringing in his ears. Since that time, some 8 years ago, he had remained in the Army and worked for his Master. As an instance of God's providence, he told how when his parents gave him time to decide whether he would leave the Army or his home, he sought the Lord on his knees and prayed for divine help. He tossed his Bible up in the air, it fell on the bed open, and the first passage his eye lighted on was: "When father and mother forsake thee, the Lord will take thee up." That sealed his decision, and he resolved to follow the dictates of his conscience.

THE WEDDING.

Major Bailey, after apologizing for the Commissioner's absence, then announced the grand feature of the evening. Instantly a wave of commotion passed over the audience. Heads began bobbing, eyes glistened with expectation and a hum of excitement filled the house. It was impossible to preserve order. As the bridal party entered the stage of the wings a loud hallelujah went up from the soldiers, mingled with cat-calls and expressive smacks from the irreverent audience. They took their places in the middle of the stage amidst bursts of applause. The "contracting parties" were Chas. H. Palshley and Victoria Hardy. Both were dressed in regulation Army uniform. The groom was stalwart and strong; the bride small, pale and evidently very weak. The Major stated she was just recovering from a severe illness. On the groom's right hand was his support, Capt. Rawlings, who sported a white necktie. The bride was assisted by pretty, plump Emma Baker.

The ceremony begins. The party stand up amidst a titter from the audience, which increases as the Major reads the articles of marriage in the Army constitution. Then he resigns to Rev. I. Tovell and silence settles on all. Necks are craned till dislocation is threatened, the smacks are repeated louder than ever, and eyes and ears are strained to their utmost tension as the reverend gentleman proceeds with the well-known Methodist marriage service, beginning with "Dearly beloved, etc.," down to "wilt thou, Charles, take Victoria as thy lawful wedded wife" and so on. The affirmative responses come, right hands are clasped and the ordinance repeated by each, swearing fidelity and love. Then a hoop of gold is required as a final seal of wedlock. The groom dives down into his vest pocket. No ring. His fingers roam around in the corners and along the top hem in search. It isn't there. An audible smile passes round, the groom looks distracted and the people smile still louder. He changes pockets and makes a desperate plunge after the ring. A roar goes up from the audience. But it is short-lived, as the groom triumphantly draws forth the missing article from his left pocket and slips it on the finger of the bride, who meanwhile has been serenely viewing the people ahead of her. Then, "Whom God hath joined together let no man put asunder," is said, the divine blessing is invoked and the wedding is over. The tumult in the audience breaks out again, and until the meeting closes order is not regained. The bridal party in a few minutes leave the stage and the chief excitement of the evening is over. Before retiring Mr. Palshley gave a brief testimony of his salvation.

Capt. Drew and Capt. Crosby, two Toronto lassies, followed with a testimonial and solo, Capt. Pepie concluding with a "farewell."

After the meeting a ten cent social was held in the dining room for the purpose of clearing away the eatables that had remained after the supper. This was successfully accomplished by the large number who stayed for the feast.

The Chief of Policeship.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

I am glad to find the people of the town are alive to the injustice which a majority of our councillors, at the dictation of one man, are trying to inflict upon our worthy Chief Adams. The council will find that they will stir up a hornets nest if they go any further in this matter. If the mover in this business has any spite to gratify he had better show it in some other way. The people are satisfied with Chief Adams and want him retained. And the people rule. As this matter will in all probability come up again at the next meeting of the council, there ought then to be a turn out of the people en masse in order to show the councillors that they are determined to prevent this injustice.

ONE OF THE PEOPLE.

His Foot Jammed.

While a ponderous iron shaft was being loaded on a car at the Midland station yesterday, it was allowed to slip and fall on George Hardy's foot, crushing his big toe to jelly and bruising the rest. Dr. King dressed the wound, which was exceedingly painful.

Complete Annexation.

The Lock Works Company Annex the Iron Works Premises—A Complete Manufactory Throughout.

Ever since the evacuation of their Simcoe street premises by the Canada Iron Bridge Works Company, the spirit of overhauling and refitting up the premises by the Lock Works, has been rife. The repairs are now completed, and, with the extra room and facilities secured by the annexation, the Lock Works Company may be said to have one of the most complete manufactories in the province.

As is well known, the two manufactories formerly occupied the same buildings, the Iron Works on the ground floor and the Lock Works above. Now the latter has the whole property. There have been a good many changes in the interior arrangement of the buildings. In some rooms formerly two departments were crowded together, and these have been separated, one of them being transferred to the annexed portion and thus allowing more room for the one remaining. The additions have been supplied with steam pipes throughout for heating.

SOME OF THE CHANGES.

What was formerly the machine shop of the iron works (in the wooden building) has been converted into a finish room, which was removed from the top story. With the increased space this department will have just double its former working capacity. In the front portion of this building will also be located the office, a change that will be effected in a little while.

The ground floor of the other building has been divided into three departments—the machine room, japanning room and picking room. All of these have expanded in their new quarters. In the japanning room two new kilns have been built, whereas when previously located upstairs there was barely room for a single one, too small at that. The extra space made in the polishing room by the removal of the "Japan" department has been utilized for displaying brass fittings.

The moulding room in the rear has also been enlarged by about one-half, giving it a total capacity of twenty-four men. These are evidences of a substantial growth of the business of the Lock Company, but still they are not satisfied and expect to make a number of changes and additions yet. Some of the departments are still crowded, and as their volume of business goes on increasing greater facilities must be had for fulfilling the demands.

THEIR SPECIALTIES.

Not the least important branch of the company's business is their manufacture of hardware specialties. A new department has just been added, the drilling of door butts, which will be carried on with all the energy of the other departments. They do also a large business in door bells, ball pulls, etc. Besides they manufacture small specialties in bronze and iron finish, such as sash fasteners and lifters, bracket posts, etc.—altogether a considerable business outside of the direct manufacture of locks. A visit of inspection of the company's works would well repay all trouble.

The public will hear with pleasure of the gratifying success that has attended the Lock Company's business in town, and will hope it may continue to prosper and expand until it becomes the leading industry of the province. Much credit is due to the unfatigable efforts of Manager Brooks and Secretary Stevenson to render the concern an institution worthy of the town and profitable to the proprietors.

Got Her Feet Wet.

A young lady coming down street yesterday got her feet wet, and it will cost her more for cough drops than it would to have got a pair of water-tight boots or rubbers at the Griffin Shoe Co's store, Hunter street, where a splendid stock of boots and shoes of all kinds are given away, or sold at such low prices as amount to almost the same thing.

New Butchers.

The Jackson Bros. have bought out the good will and stock of Regan Bros., who formerly carried on the butchering business in the Alexander block, near the corner of London and George streets. The Jackson boys have the reputation of being good butchers and ought to do well in this thriving part of the north ward.

Explaining Their Position.

The officers of the Riverside Lacrosse Club wish it known that they have no desire to enter the P.A.A.A., nor to negotiate for the use of the grounds. The proposal to admit lacrosse, submitted at the annual meeting of the P.A.A.A., might convey the impression that the Riversides were concerned. They are not; they are satisfied with their state of independence and the Riverside Park as a practice ground.

Hackett's Dry Goods House.

Remodelled, Enlarged, Elegant and Complete Throughout—Fashion Paradise of the Town.

One could scarcely recognize the old place in its new garb. Entering from the street, notice is taken of the massive plate-glass fronts and side-lights in the windows, which are well calculated to display goods to the best advantage. Inside there is an air of newness pervading everything. The whole interior has been completely altered and renewed till there is scarcely a resemblance to the old store left. The ceilings are handsomely tessellated, delicate terra cotta paper covers the walls, the floors are of durable hardwood, the counters finished in cherry with walnut tops, and the tiers of shelves and drawers on either side surmounted by a handsome railing that gives them a "finishing touch." The store has a depth of 120 feet, down which on either side the long counters run in parallel lines.

The stairway at the rear end of the store has been removed, leaving an open space in the second floor for a skylight. As soon as the weather will permit, a large plate glass light, 12x24 feet, will be put in. This will give ample light to the back end of the store, where an office has been partitioned off.

The store will be lighted with gas, there being 40 jets distributed about for the purpose. In each of the front windows is an incandescent light. In a couple of weeks a cash railway system will be placed in position, and then Mr. Hackett can claim to have one of the most completely equipped stores in town. Next fall steam pipes will be placed in for heating.

Mr. W. H. Whitton did the painting and papering in his own peculiarly artistic manner. The woodwork was done by Mr. McClelland, foreman for Mr. Geo. A. Cox. Mr. Cox has won the gratitude of Mr. Hackett for the whole-souled manner in which he has had the work done. No pains have been spared to make the job complete.

Mr. Hackett will adapt to his own use the Bible precept regarding the putting of "new wine into new bottles," and will lay in a fresh stock of the best goods procurable for the spring trade.

The Dominion Bell ORGANS.

WE wish to call your attention to the benefit derived from the

New Automatic Pedal Cover ATTACHMENT,

that has lately been added to the above Organs. This improvement has been a long felt necessity, and one which has never been successfully solved before by any Organ Companies until the patent was secured for the above Companies directly from the Inventor.

Other Organ Companies advertise their organs mouse and dust proof, because they employ the usual method of hinging around the fallows, as we have done heretofore, but it is eminently unsatisfactory, and the only sure and efficient plan is that which we adopt, of covering the PEDALS and BOTTOM of our Organs. This attachment is fast iron throughout (with the exception of the Octave) having no cords, springs, or delicate mechanism to get out of order or repair, and works AUTOMATICALLY with the Fall Board of the Organ. The one simple act of opening or closing the Organ, simultaneously operates the Pedal Covers.

This improvement has been placed on all the different styles of Organs, and the aim is now, as in the past, to produce an instrument that HAS NO EQUAL.

All information and inquiries cheerfully answered. Catalogues sent free upon application. Examine the Mouse and Dust Proof Organ before purchasing, and be satisfied that you have the best in the World.

A CABINET CONVULSION.

THE FRENCH MINISTRY FORCED TO RESIGN.

Revision of the Constitution to be Under taken—It is Thought that M. Floquet Will be Called Upon to Form a New Cabinet.

PARIS, March 30.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day M. Laguerre proposed and M. P. Elletan supported the motion for urgency for the revision of the constitution. In the course of the discussion several Bonapartists declared that they would support the demand in so far as it was an appeal to the people.

Mr. Baudry D'Asson (Royalist) said he would vote for the proposal hoping it would tend to restore the legitimate monarchy, which alone could save France.

Minister Viette asked the Chamber to await the return of Premier Tirard from the Senate before deciding.

Minister Sarrien urged the Chamber to reject the demand, declaring that it was essential that no new cause of trouble and difficulty be added to those already existing.

Premier Tirard, who entered the House during the debate, declared that he fully agreed with M. Sarrien. If the Chamber decided to consider the urgency proposal the Ministry would decline all responsibility, as such action on the part of the Chamber would furnish fresh argument in favor of the audacious manifesto issued by the dismissed general.

The defeat of the Ministry caused a sensation in the Chamber. As soon as the vote was announced M. Tirard departed for the Elysee Palace.

The Chamber after a short recess resumed at 9 p.m. M. Cuneo d'Ornano (Bonapartist) moved that the bureaus to-morrow appoint a committee to prepare for the revision of the constitution. After a confused debate M. De Saunier of the Left urged the Chamber to await the formation of a new Cabinet.

M. d'Ornano's motion was rejected by a vote of 283 to 195, the Right cheering ironically.

President Carnot has accepted the resignation of the Cabinet. The ministers, however, will conduct the affairs of their respective departments until their successors are appointed. It is expected that M. Floquet will be summoned to form a cabinet.

Continental Free Trade.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The Senate has passed, with some amendments, the House bill authorizing a conference between the United States and the Central and South American republics and Brazil. If the House concurs in the Senate amendments the conference will be held in Washington in April, 1889, the United States to be represented by the delegates appointed by the President and other conferring countries by as many delegates as each may choose to appoint. The United States will take the initiative in the conference, the President being authorized to invite the several governments of the Republics of Mexico, Central and South America, Hayti, San Domingo and the Empire of Brazil to participate.

The conference is expected to consider a plan of arbitrating disputes, the formation of a customs union or zolverein, the establishment of regular and frequent communication between the ports of the several American States, a uniform system of customs regulations, a uniform system of weights and measures, the extradition of criminals, an international copyright and patent law, and the adoption of a common silver coin which shall be a legal tender in all international business transactions.

He Doesn't Want Circuses in His Court.

CHICAGO, March 30.—Judge Collins said to-day that hereafter he will have no more Saturday divorce trials. He was tired of being the ringmaster in a circus. "On Saturday," he said, "there is a class of undesirable spectators who have nothing to do but come here and listen to the nasty details of divorce suits. If the cases are tried on other days these people will be avoided, since Saturday is a sort of an off day. Then another reason is that the Sunday newspapers, which are larger than during the week, make a bigger spread on the cases heard on Saturday, and carry the disgraceful stories of domestic infelicity into Sabbath homes." It is likely that the other judges will take similar action.

The Vanguard for Bulgaria.

CRACOW, March 30.—All the artillery brigades in Poland have been ordered to send half of their reserve ammunition to Kischeneff where, it is reported, a flying corps is being organized, which will be designated as the Vanguard for Bulgaria.

Asked to Explain.

SOFIA, March 30.—Bulgaria has asked the Porte to explain the presence of Turkish troops at the town of Mustapha Pacha on the frontier.

CAPACITY AND COURAGE.

ENGLAND, CONVINCED THAT HER MINISTRY HAVE BOTH.

Victory For the Government All Along the Line—Remarkable Compliment to Mr. Chamberlain—His Eloquence at Birmingham—Mr. Bright's Speech.

LONDON, March 30.—Parliament having adjourned over the Easter holidays, both sides as usual are taking stock of the first half of the session. The Tories depart jubilant. They point not only to what they have done, but to their adversaries' admissions. Certain it is that the last two months have completely disappointed Gladstonian hopes. The Ministry has been winning along the line. Mr. Balfour's policy in Ireland is from their point of view a success.

Their other triumphs are fresh in all memories; the new Rules of Procedure, enabling the House once more to legislate; national debt conversion, local government and Mr. Goschen's budget. The effect of them all is to convince the country, perhaps for the first time, that this ministry possesses in an eminent degree both legislative capacity and legislative courage. People see that this ministry gets its work done, frames great measures, conceives and carries through vast schemes, financial and other. Success is the test; and thus far this Government has succeeded.

Mr. Chamberlain has declined all the honors offered him by a grateful Government, Grand Cross of the Bath, baronetcy, or whatever they may have been. The approval of Birmingham, which made him an honorary freeman of the borough and gave him a banquet, is enough for him. The complaint is a remarkable one. Mr. Bright's presence and speech make it more remarkable still. What Mr. Chamberlain himself said in his various speeches—he made three, all brief—is here thought to have been well said. He confined himself to generalities. He most gracefully and cordially acknowledged the friendliness of his reception in America. The eulogy he pronounces on America and Americans is not the less complete because kept within the limits of good taste. He refrains from discussion on the Fisheries Treaty, but quotes Mr. Bayard's approval of it as decisive. There were elegant passages. "The Americans," said this English envoy, "claim as of right—and who shall deny it to them?—an eternal share in our inheritance, in our past history and traditions. I do not think that they will grudge us our part in the glory of their unequalled future."

This note is taken up by the press. Tory vies with Liberal this morning in civilities to America. Their recognition of Mr. Chamberlain's services is unstinted. They well know that he comes back triumphant. Mr. Bright's tribute to him is one in which he for various reasons takes perhaps more pride. It is needless to say that Mr. Bright could not get through the evening without explaining how stupid and foolish our tariff is. But even our tariff does not chill his affectionate regard for those whom he delights to call his kinsmen in America.

Mr. Bright describes Lord Rosebery's recent speech on reform of the House of Lords as one of singular ability, with eloquent passages that led nowhere. If that speech had really led the Lords to nowhere it would have pleased Mr. Bright better. Lord Rosebery is for mending the House of Lords; Mr. Bright is for ending it.

Imperial Federation came in for another swashing blow from Mr. Bright. It is only a dream, says the great Free Trader. His ideal England is an England which shall make and sell the greatest possible number of iron, cotton and woollen fabrics to the ideal America, which shall grow wheat enough to feed the English workmen. What Mr. Bright said of the common interests and affections between the English-speaking races was nobly said, and is echoed by multitudes of Englishmen.

Verification of Invoices.

LONDON, March 30.—Lord Salisbury in a letter to the Sheffield Chamber of Commerce says that Minister West has been instructed to address a further representation to the American Government respecting the hardships to the British mercantile community arising from the verification of invoices before American consuls.

Decided to Contest the Seat.

LONDON, March 30.—The Conservatives have decided to contest the Dublin parliamentary seat made vacant by the death of E. D. Gray.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The arrest of Samuel C. White and Charles E. Cross, the cashier and president respectively of the State National Bank of Raleigh, North Carolina, was the great topic of conversation yesterday. The amount of money carried away by them is $42,000, but close on to $300,000 are missing. Both were high up in church circles and enjoyed the utmost confidence in Raleigh, where the feeling against the absconders is intense.

The Master-in-Ordinary has intimated to the liquidators of the Central Bank (after seeing their statement (that he will authorize the payment of a dividend of 32½ per cent. to the creditors of the concern. The money will probably be paid next week.

The following letter has been received by His Worship Mayor Clarke:

TO HIS WORSHIP THE MAYOR OF TORONTO

Dear Sir: I most respectfully invite you and four aldermen whom you may wish to take with you to visit our convents and interrogate the nuns as you please.

Christian delicacy would not permit our inviting to those sanctuaries of purity and female modesty so vile a character as Fulton's lectures show him to be.

I am, my dear Mr. Mayor, yours faithfully,
JOHN JOSEPH LYNCH,
Archbishop of Toronto.

LATEST MARKET REVIEW.

TORONTO, March 29.—Money on call was quoted yesterday at 5 and 5½ per cent. on debentures and 5½ to 6 per cent. on stocks, and for discount the price is 6½ and 7 per cent.

The Canadian Pacific Railway was quoted in London yesterday at 63¾, and closed in New York at 61, with sale of 600.

The Dominion Bank directors have declared a dividend at the rate of 5 per cent. for the current half year, together with a bonus of 1 per cent.

Canadian securities in England are quiet and steady.

Retail vendors on St. Lawrence market did a rushing business this morning. There was a big demand for eggs, which was liberally met at 15c to 16c per dozen. Poultry was also in good demand. The prices of vegetables did not vary; potatoes, however, were a little higher. An advance in the price of apples per barrel is expected.

Good Friday in New York.

NEW YORK, March 30.—The observance of Good Friday in business and legal circles was very general to-day. There were special services in all the churches. All the exchanges, with the exception of the metal and maritime exchanges, were closed and little business was done by them. The courts were also closed.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

The Monopoly Question—The Manitoba Delegation Fully Satisfied.

OTTAWA, March 30.—Premier Greenway and Attorney-General Martin of Manitoba left for home this evening, bearing with them a letter which guarantees, so far as Sir John Macdonald can guarantee it, that the monopoly of the Canadian Pacific shall be abolished. This letter was sent to Mr. Greenway by messenger from Sir John to-day at 3 o'clock. It was sent pursuant to the promise made yesterday. It would have been sent yesterday, but that some slight hitch occurred in the Council or between the Government and the Canadian Pacific, which made postponement necessary. Mr. Greenway expects to go home almost direct, and will reach Winnipeg in less than a week. The Manitoba Legislature, it will be remembered, meets on April 12.

The letter from Sir John, it must be understood, does not merely promise the abandonment of the policy of disallowance so far as Manitoba is concerned, but comes out squarely in a declaration for the abolition of the monopoly privilege of the Canadian Pacific entirely. The only object the Dominion Premier could have had in putting it in this form is to make it appear as far as possible that Mr. Greenway and those who support him are responsible for the necessity of buying out the monopoly. This was not necessary under Mr. Greenway's demand, though it is understood that he expressed a preference for doing away with monopoly, not only within the former bounds of Manitoba, but throughout Manitoba as at present bounded. To do away with monopoly even in old Manitoba, however, was practically to do away with it altogether. Though this was claimed as a right, Sir John could not concede it without "squaring" the Canadian Pacific. Consequently he makes the purchase of the whole monopoly the pretext for action, and thus says: "All for monopoly and nothing for the abandonment of disallowance."

Mr. Greenway goes home without having come to any arrangement with the Canadian Pacific for the purchase of the Emerson branch. It is stated that they offered it for a million dollars, but as the original contract for the Red River Valley line, stock and all, was only about three-quarters of that sum Mr. Greenway declined to pay it. The construction of the Red River Valley line will be proceeded with, so far as known.

What the Government are to pay to placate the Canadian Pacific has not yet transpired, but legislation will be presented within a short time to carry out the pledge given to Mr. Greenway. The present conclusion has not been reached without a great deal of kicking, in the Cabinet and out of it, and there is good reason to believe that a whole circle of promises has had to be made to keep the following quiet.

The position of the Manitoba Tory M.P.'s, as well as those from the Northwest, is most humiliating. Throughout these negotiations they have been simply ignored. They did all that men could do to toady to the Government and to the Canadian Pacific Railway, its master, and yet their servility has served for nothing except to arouse the aroused contempt of those who have watched the progress of the negotiations which have just been concluded.

A prominent railway man of Manitoba this afternoon stated that now that monopoly was abandoned, there would be a chance of putting through Manitoba enterprises, for English investors would again have confidence in the Province. He expressed the opinion that the reversal of the monopoly clause would be a good thing for the Canadian Pacific itself.

Mr. Greenway was seen this evening. He would not say much on the subject of the negotiations, but stated that he left Ottawa satisfied.

Mr. Purcell Holds the Seat.

OTTAWA, March 29.—In the Supreme Court to-day Justices Taschereau, Fournier and Henry confirmed P. Purcell, M.P. for Glengarry, in his seat, allowing appeal, Justice Gwynne and the Chief Justice dissenting. The trial must take place within six months. The majority hold the application to extend beyond must be made within the six months.

DR. LAVALLEE ARRESTED.

Accused of Obtaining Money Under False Pretences.

MONTREAL, March 30.—A great sensation is likely to be produced in political circles by an event that has just happened here, being no less than the arrest of Dr. Lavallee, a member of the Legislative Council of the Province of Quebec, on the charge of obtaining money under false pretences from the Local Government in connection with the provincial colonization fund. Dr. Lavallee was arrested to-day on a special warrant, whilst he was stopping in this city, and was brought privately before Police Magistrate Dugas, when bail was accepted, and his case was remanded until Tuesday next, when the preliminary investigation will be commenced in this city.

Married Twice to Make Sure.

BALTIMORE, March 30.—James L. Elderdice of Towson married Miss Bessie Crane and Mr. Upton Kempton at his parsonage on March 22. He was, therefore, somewhat surprised when he saw in to-day's paper that Upton Kempton and Bessie Crane were married on March 24 at the residence of the bride's parents. In fact, the reverend gentleman's wonderment was so great that he set out to investigate. He learned that the ceremony he performed was for a runaway couple, who to satisfy the scruples of the bride's father were again married on Saturday. The elopement was entirely uncalled for, as the parents would not have opposed the marriage.

Detroit River Navigation Co.

DETROIT, March 30.—The Detroit River Navigation Company, with a capital of $200,000, have secured incorporation with power to purchase, charter, navigate and maintain steamers and sailing vessels between the United States and Canadian ports. The incorporators are John Coventry, Joseph Leggatt and Wm. Kingsley of Windsor, Hiram Walker of Detroit and others.

FREIGHT TRAINS TIED-UP.

THE C., M. & ST. PAUL EMPLOYES REFUSE TO GO TO WORK.

Switchmen on the Q Road Intimidated by the Attack on their Fellows—A Fireman Knocked Senseless With a Coupling Pin—Car Shops Burned.

CHICAGO, March 30.—The switchmen, engineers and firemen of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway who struck yesterday, assembled at the yards this morning, but none of them went to work. The passenger trains were moving but the freight business was tied up and not a yard engine was moving.

The riot of yesterday had its effect on the new switchmen in the employ of the Burlington. Only those whose duties kept them within "Q" yards were at work this morning. When those who are delegated to work with engines along the tracks between different points were called upon to go out with their engines they refused, saying they did not want to trust themselves on the outside, and that they would not go unless they were provided with arms so that they could defend themselves. Twenty-seven switchmen from the east arrived this morning, making 125 that reached here last night and this morning.

C., R. & Q. Shops Burnt.

CHICAGO, March 30.—A special from Aurora, Ill., says the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy car shops were nearly destroyed by fire which started in the paint shop last night. The structure had been partly fitted up for hotel purposes for the new engineers and firemen, and over 100 of them had to make their escape with little of their belongings. Several of them were assaulted by unknown parties as they rushed about the yards seeking shelter. The fire broke out in two or three places, and indications point strongly to incendiarism. Loss $175,000.

Dangerous Missiles.

CHICAGO, March 30.—This morning at 9 o'clock a train of stock cars left the "Q" yards on Western Avenue for the stock yards. There were fourteen Pinkerton men guarding the train. As the train was passing a Chicago, St. Louis and Pittsburg engine a brakeman on the latter picked up two coupling pins and threw them at the crew of the "Q" engine. One struck W. W. Thomas, a fireman, on the right eye and knocked him senseless.

As the train was passing the Chicago and Alton crossing somebody threw a coupling pin at the switchmen on top of the cars. It struck one of the men on the head, but glanced off and inflicted no serious injury.

Switchman Quirk, who figured prominently in yesterday's riot, was fined $5 to-day and released.

Special Policemen For the St. Paul.

CHICAGO, March 30.—The St. Paul officials have taken matters into their own hands right from the start. This forenoon a squad of special policemen of the St. Paul road reached the yards from Milwaukee and intermediate stations and were given quarters in the freight house and sleeping cars. They will be fed in dining cars and kept on the ground night and day. The force numbered 165.

About a dozen engineers have been picked up among the freight conductors and of some of the outside stations and put to work. The strikers were driven off the ground by the police this morning. They held a meeting and clinched their determination to stand out. They straggled back later, and at noon were hanging about the tracks.

Chief Arthur left this evening for Cleveland, where he will call the Executive Committee of the Brotherhood together and levy a general assessment for the prosecution of the present strike.

BOULANGER TO THE ELECTORS.

He Advises Dissolution of Parliament and a Revision of the Constitution.

PARIS, March 30.—Gen. Boulanger in an address to the electors of Nord says:

"When I was Minister I said that if I deemed war I should be a madman, but that if I did not prepare for it I should be a villain. My sentiments have not changed. The inaction of Parliament and recent events have proved that the Chambers have ceased to represent the aspiration of the country, and that the two bodies no longer understand each other. The only remedy is a dissolution of Parliament and a revision of the constitution."

Mutiny on Board the Vancouver.

ST. JOHN, N. B., March 30.—The ship Vancouver sailed from this port last Sunday for Bristol, and to-day she put back with her crew mutinous. Off Mount Desert, during a gale, the second mate and crew refused to go aloft to furl a sail, and Captain Durkee was forced to run the ship back to St. John. The men allege the vessel to be leaking and unseaworthy, and she will be examined.

"Died by Convulsions."

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 30.—The adjourned inquest on the colored hostler, George Jackson, who was supposed to have been poisoned, was continued to-day. Prof. Ellis of Toronto, who made an analysis of the stomach, reported that no trace of poison could be found. The jury returned a verdict of "Died of convulsions."

$115,000 Fire in Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 30.—The five-story building at the corner of Peoria and Lake-streets was burned last night, loss $115,000. Davis & Rankin, manufacturers of creamery supplies, occupied the building together with the Zimmerman refrigerator manufactory.

Didn't Know It Was Loaded.

TRENTON, Mo., March 30.—J. W. Hill, a wealthy contractor, last evening shot and killed Miss Sarah Brown, daughter of A. T. Brown. Hill playfully pointed a shot gun at Miss Brown which accidentally went off, the contents of which entered Miss Brown's side. She lived only a short time, but exonerated Will from blame.

GENEROSITY AND SELFISHNESS

SERMON BY LAYMAN

(Written for the Examiner.)

Who would not like to be thought generous? And who would like to be thought selfish? Generosity is noble and praiseworthy, while selfishness is everything that is unworthy and mean. A generous man is a kind, good man—a man who has a Christian fellow-feeling for others. A selfish man has no feeling for anyone but himself. All he cares for is his own self-profit and his own self-gratification. He can look upon the losses and misfortunes of others without pity, provided there is a chance of making anything for his own advantage. And the cries and tears of the homeless, and the sufferings and hardships of the widows and orphans do not make him feel sorry, and cannot make him give relief. There is not one person in the whole world who, in his own estimation, is good and honorable but himself. He will go to church, and he will be ostentatious in his pretended piety and worship, while all the time he is thinking how he can wring from some poor mortal one dollar more to add to his dishonest savings. And when he should be sleeping he is plotting how to make more money, not caring if thereby he brings damnation to his own soul. It is related that John Jacob Astor, who died worth twenty millions of dollars, when on his dying bed, and just as he was breathing his last, called to his agent and asked him if he had collected the $2.50 of rent owing to him by a poor widow, saying that the amount must not be allowed to be increased as she had not goods enough to pay it. The agent said he would see to it at once. Lying unconscious for a long time, and just before his breath left his body, he rallied for a few moments and asked the agent if he had collected that rent, and the agent said yes, although he had not done so. Those were the last words and the last thoughts of that miserable old man, and he died and was buried. The widow is dead also. But when they meet again their positions will be changed. The widow will be no longer poor and he will be no longer rich. The widow will sit by the side of Lazarus, no longer crying for sympathy and getting none, and she will henceforth sing the songs of the blessed for evermore. While he will cry to her for even one drop of water. Thus it always is with the miser and his victims in every community and in every land. I cannot well understand what possible object the selfish man can see before himself in his search after riches which he cannot enjoy. And which, when he has secured them, only tend to destroy his peace and happiness. And which, when he has secured them, only serve to lead astray his family and make them useless and vicious. It is a man's right and duty to work and to prosper. And it is his right and duty to be economical and to save. And it is his right and his duty to make all necessary and reasonable provision for his wife and children after his death. And, if in the course of his honest labors, he accumulates more of this world's goods than he and his family require, so much the better, provided he uses the surplus for the good of others. But no man is justified in doing injustice for the sake of acquiring wealth. No man is justified in oppressing other men in order that he may gain an undue advantage over them, and pile up money which he cannot enjoy. There is free scope for every body in this world. God has given plenty for every one of His creatures. But God never meant that people should starve in the sight of plenty, and never meant that one man should rob another of his rights. In plain English, God meant that man should be just and honest. Should do to others as they would like to be done by. Should be generous to one another and not ignoble and selfish. But generosity and selfishness are not applicable to riches alone. They apply to every day life. To all our social relations and duties. To be generous a man must be kind and forgiving to his fellow men. Must overlook their short comings. Must do what he can to help them in times of need. Must not speak evil of them, must do nothing to hinder or discourage them in the trials and troubles of life. Generosity is a broad word. It comprises in its meaning and application a great deal more than is generally allowed. Generosity is charity in another name. What it gives it gives freely. Generosity takes by the hand the poor, sick, helpless woman and the little child, and conducts them to a place of safety. It relieves distress and sorrow. It loves to see social equality, and justice and right. Now take the other side, and look again at selfishness. The selfish man is incapable of doing a generous action. His whole soul is dwarfed and eaten up with envy, hatred and malice. He seldom has a good word for any one. All he thinks of and all he dreams of is how best to serve his own purposes, utterly regardless of the rights of others. He knows that he is hated and despised. He can't look an honest man in the face. If a favor is asked of him he cannot grant it. Even the little ragged, hungry child excites no sympathy within his breast. And he exacts the last farthing, no matter who suffers by it. He never gives thanks for mercies received, for he knows no God but his money. When he rises in the morning and when he lies down upon his bed at night his first and his last thoughts are of money. And so he lives and so he dies. I know an aged man who has made in this way perhaps half a million of dollars. Now that he feels his days are numbered and that he must soon die, he occasionally utters a sigh and says the Lord has been good to him and tries to say some words of charity for the wants of others. And on one occasion when he had done this, he ended by wondering how he could compel a man to pay some small sum of money for what the man never had. That was the end of his pretended sanctity and his regard for the rights of others. He would hypocritically turn his eyes up towards heaven, as if God could not read his heart better than he could himself. I have known in my day a good many such men. I knew one miserable creature with some two millions of dollars, who refused some twenty-five cents to a poor widow with several helpless children, telling her to go to the poorhouse, which was the place for such as she was. Well, he has gone to his account, and when he meets that poor woman and her little children in the world above he will wish that he had done better here below. A great deal of misery has been caused by the people themselves. By their thriftless, thoughtless, reckless habits. But a great deal also has been occasioned by just such heartless men as I have attempted to describe above. As a general thing people are unwise and foolish, and incapable of properly estimating the worth of property and the best way of preserving and improving it. And they are easily deceived by the false representations of pretended friends, who in the end rob them of their possessions and bring them to beggary and want. But their simplicity and trust are no excuse to those who rob them of their all, and then refuse to give them even one crust of bread. But the Almighty, through His providence, rules the affairs of this world, and not one sparrow falls to the ground without His knowledge. And so it will be with the generous and the selfish. When the time comes the good and the bad will be separated, the good going to peace and happiness and the bad to trouble and misery. It would be a useful and an instructive sight to look upon the death beds of these two opposite characters. The lesson learned would serve a good purpose and would encourage people to shun evil and to do good. Some don't require encouragement. They are naturally kind and do good service even against the force of surrounding circumstances and in the face of injustice and wrong. A poor little boy, without home and friends, once lived with a widow woman who was very harsh and unkind, and who seemed to take delight in oppressing him. She had a little girl who was fond of the boy and for whom the boy exhibited the utmost love and friendship. In fact this little girl was his only solace amidst all his hardships, and trials, and troubles. The boy was fond of study and saved every penny he got for the purpose of buying books. But the woman always took them away and destroyed them, and many a night this poor boy's pillow was wet with his tears caused by his hard lot. And oftentimes he used to tell the little girl he would run away if it were not for her presence. They lived in the midst of a vast prairie country over which the fire sometimes spread with ruin and desolation. One day during the absence of the mother a prairie fire suddenly sprang up and soon enveloped the widow's home and in a short time all was destroyed and gone. Now look at the generosity and kindness of this poor, persecuted little boy. He knew there was a spring of water some distance off, and to this he carried the little girl, and digging a deep place in the ground he put the little girl in it and taking off his coat and saturating it with the water of the spring carefully covered her with it and then sat down by her side. The flames of the burning grass soon approached them but the little fellow stuck to his post, determined to die rather than suffer harm to come to the little girl. And thus they were found the next day after the fire had exhausted itself and gone out. The little girl escaped uninjured, but the brave little boy was terribly burnt, and it was with great difficulty and care that his life was saved. The woman confessed her injustice to the boy and from that time forth gave him a good home. It is an old saying that all is well that ends well. And so it proved in this case.

UP IN ARMS AGAINST THE DONS.

Victoria College Students Enraged at the Suspension of Two of Their Number.

COBOURG, March 30.—The students of Victoria University are up in arms against the college dons. Acta Victoriana is a monthly journal published by the literary and theological societies in the interests of the students and alumni of the university. Its contents are contributed by a staff of editors appointed by and responsible to these societies. An article appeared in the March number of Acta discussing the curriculum of the university, suggesting certain changes therein and recommending that the subject of minerals should be relegated to a sunnier clime.

When the article appeared the college faculty immediately took cognizance of it, and summoning J. F. McLaughlin, editor-in-chief, and Henry Langford, local editor, demanded that the two editors should make a humble and unconditional apology under pain of suspension.

The students solidly backed their editors in a positive refusal to apologise. The faculty then decided to suspend the offending journalists for the period of one year, and the Chancellor of the University pronounced the decree of excommunication at a great meeting of students in Alumni Hall last evening. As soon as he had finished reading, Messrs. McLaughlin and Langford arose and gave notice of their intention to appeal to the Board of Regents, the court of last resort, against "an unjust and tyrannical sentence." They were greeted with tremendous cheers, the demonstration lasting several minutes and shaking the building with its enthusiasm. After the retirement of the faculty the students organized a mass meeting, at which a resolution was passed, declaring that if their classmates were not reinstated they would apply for certificates of standing and leave the university. Two-thirds of the senior class in arts asserted that they would apply for an ad eundum statem at Toronto or Queen's. According to the provisions of her charter, if Victoria fails to graduate a class in arts each year she forfeits her status as a university. The situation is therefore a critical one.

The Growth of the Hair.

Should always be watched. Inattention to the hair often leads to premature grayness and baldness. When dandruff appears it should be looked after at once. By frequently using a little of Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic the scalp will be kept in a clean and healthy condition and the strength and vigor of the hair greatly promoted. It is the only reliable. Do not be talked into using anything else. For sale by all druggists everywhere. dw

A Postmaster's Opinion.

"I have had great pleasure in certifying to the usefulness of Hagyard's Yellow Oil," writes D. Kavanah, Postmaster of Umfraville, Ont. "Having used it for soreness of the throat, colds, burns, etc., I find nothing equal to it." 2w12d

TAKE NASAL BALM FOR COLD IN HEAD —AND— CATARRH.

There is no disease to which Canadians are more subject than Catarrh—all ages and sex alike are numbered among the sufferers. It is impossible in the limit of a short newspaper article to describe the symptoms fully, but they may be briefly summarised: Cold in the head, difficulty in breathing, hawking and spitting, headache, pains in the region over the eye, stoppage of nasal passages, foul breath, droppings into the throat causing nausea and sometimes vomiting, poisonous secretions accumulating in the lungs leading to consumption. These are but a few of the many symptoms of Catarrh, a disease which affects 7-10 of our Canadian population. NASAL BALM is the only CERTAIN and POSITIVE CURE for this loathsome disease in all its forms and stages. NASAL BALM is the result of years of careful study, and is prepared with a view to radically cure those cases of catarrh, to which Canadians are most subject. It is not a liquid snuff or cauterizing powder, but a pleasant, never failing remedy, requiring no instrument or douche for its use. Easy to use, instantaneous in its effects, permanent in its cures. Ask for Nasal Balm and take no substitute of whatever name. For Cold in the Head there is no better remedy on earth to equal Nasal Balm. Do not neglect a cold in the head for in nine cases out of ten it will lead to Catarrh. Use Nasal Balm upon the first symptoms. This wonderful remedy affords instant relief and cures within a few hours. It can be used for the youngest child as well as for adults, and as a precautionary measure should be kept in every household. For sale by all druggists or sent in receipt of price (50c. and $1.00 per bottle) by addressing FULFORD & CO., Brockville.

PROOF OF ITS MARVELLOUS EFFICACY.

An Unequalled Remedy.

J. McKee, druggist, Peterborough, says:—Nasal Balm gives the most general satisfaction to consumers of any preparation I ever handled. My sales are large and the reports from those who use it, fully substantiate your claims for the medicine as an unequalled remedy for catarrh in the head.

Worth Ten Times its Cost.

T. W. Hunt Port Hope says: I was a sufferer from a long standing case of catarrh and being well up in years (73) hardly expected to ever obtain anything that would give me material or permanent relief. At the time of receiving Nasal Balm I was very bad with catarrh, but take great pleasure in stating that on the second application I obtained wonderful relief and its effect was pleasant, soothing and healing. It acted like magic and is worth ten times its cost for the immediate relief it gives. I feel confident the second bottle will effect a permanent cure. I have recommended Nasal Balm for cold in the head and in every case it acts like a charm.

Acts Like a Charm.

John Foster Raymond says:—Nasal Balm acts like a charm for my catarrh. I have only used it a short time and I now feel better than at any period during the last seven years. In fact I am sure of a cure and at a very small expense.

w4w

Feels Like a New Man.

A. E. Fish, merchant, Belleville, states: I take great pleasure in recommending your Nasal Balm to any one troubled with that dreadful disease, catarrh. I have been troubled with it for the past fifteen years, and can say candidly that I never had anything that gave me half so much relief as your Nasal Balm. I have only used two bottles and I feel like a new man.

Beats the World.

D. Derbyshire, president Ontario Creamery Association, Brockville, says: Nasal Balm beats the world for catarrh and cold in the head. In my own case it effected relief from the first application.

$1.00 for 50 cents.

Capt. D. H. Lyon, manager and proprietor of the C. P. R. and R. W. & O. R. car ferry President, and Ogdensburg N. Y. says: I used Nasal Balm for a prolonged case of cold in the head. Two applications effected a complete and thorough cure in less than 24 hours. I would not take $100 for my bottle of Nasal Balm if I could not replace it.

It Never Fails.

Ex-Mayor Bowie, Brockville, Ont., says: I used Nasal Balm for a bad case of catarrh, and it cured me after having ineffectually tried many other remedies. It never fails to give immediate relief for cold in the head.

HAMILTON BUILDING TRADES.

Special Meeting of the Council—Threats of Unpleasant Recollection.

HAMILTON, March 30.—A special meeting of the Council of Building Trades was held at their hall last evening. This council is composed of three delegates from each of the following unions: Amalgamated Carpenters, Brotherhood of Carpenters, Stonecutters, Plasterers, Lathers, Building Laborers and Teamsters. The Bricklayers' and Masons' Union is not represented in this council. After discussion the following preamble and resolution was passed:

Whereas, the so-called Builders' Exchange has caused a general lock-out of all union men on account of the difference which arose in the quarry between the laborers and Mr. Hancock, and have given as a reason for so doing that mechanics' unions have "combined together for unjust and arbitrary purposes," (which clause no doubt refers to this council).

Therefore, resolved, that we refute and repudiate this assertion as follows: That this council has nothing to do with the laborers' and bricklayers' difficulty, nor have we ever been asked to take any part in the matter, but that the laborers and bricklayers acted entirely upon their own responsibility. We are surprised that the different trades unions have submitted so quietly to such an outrageous act. If the unions had acted in such an arbitrary manner they would have been cried down by both press and public. And we shall be surprised if the exchange does not drive the men whom they have locked out so unjustly to retaliate in a way that would not be a pleasant exchange to them.

THE RICH HILL DISASTER.

Two Explosions of Natural Gas—Thirty Men in the Mine at the Time.

RICH HILL, Mo., March 30.—The explosion of natural gas which occurred in mine No. 6 of the Keith and Perrie Coal Company, located about three miles west of this city near the Rich Hill Gas Company's natural gas wells, took place shortly after 12 o'clock yesterday. There were 100 men employed in this mine, but at the time of the explosion only about thirty were below. Attempts were at once made to rescue the unfortunate men, and eight miners had been brought to the surface alive, when a second explosion occurred at 3.30 o'clock, at which time Superintendent George Sweeney and five miners were in the shaft at work, all of whom were more or less burned, but none dangerously. Only five others had been rescued up to 10 o'clock last night. All are alive, but seriously burned. Among those believed to be still in the mine are a son of Wm. Kay, 16 years old, Gibson McTerran, Jeb Neptune, Carl Neptune, John Henry, and others whose names have not been ascertained.

The bodies of 5% of the victims of the explosion have been brought out, and fifteen of the injured have been rescued. Most of the latter have suffered intensely from the fire and suffocation, and their recovery is very doubtful. Fifteen now remain in the mine, and, it is believed most of them will be taken out dead. The work proceeds very slowly, being attended with great danger.

THE FLOODS IN GERMANY.

Over 72,000 People Absolutely Homeless—Damage to Property 400,000,000 Marks.

BERLIN, March 30.—In most of the flooded districts of Germany the water continues to rise, and the indications are that lands now submerged will remain so for at least a month. The Mayor of Dantzic reports that the harvest has been spoiled in the flooded districts. Posen is without gas, the works having been destroyed. The Rhine is rising rapidly and people are evacuating their houses along the lower banks. The inundations yet to come must be many, as the snow lies on an average of four feet deep in the forest lands, and rapid thaws are imminent.

Over 72,000 people are absolutely homeless in the inundated districts. The damage to property is estimated at 400,000,000 marks. At Posen military barracks have been opened as a refuge for the homeless. At Cologne several quays have been submerged.

By the capsizing of a boat near Boitzenburg nine persons were drowned.

Half of the district of Luneburg is inundated and fifteen villages are submerged. Eight persons have been drowned and 900 are homeless. The Elbe is rising.

Wife Murder and Suicide.

CHICAGO, March 30.—August Krakow shot and killed his wife at 842 Milwaukee-avenue yesterday afternoon. He then shot himself, dying about 7 o'clock.

Is all that is needed to prove that Polson's Nerviline is the most rapid and certain remedy in the world for pain. It only costs 10 cents for a trial bottle. Sold by druggists. Large bottles 25 cents. Avoid substitutes. 6dw13

CATARRH has puzzled and baffled the medical profession more than nasal catarrh. While not immediately fatal it is among the most distressing, nauseous and disgusting ills the flesh is heir to, and the records show very few or no cases of radical cures of chronic catarrh by any of the multitude of modes of treatment until the introduction of Ely's Cream Balm a few years ago. The success of this preparation has been most gratifying and surprising. eodw13

It Relieved Pain.

J. D. Cameron, of Westlake, Ainslie, Cape Breton, had inflammatory rheumatism which Hagyard's Yellow Oil cured after all other treatments had failed. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is also a positive cure for neuralgia. 2w13d

ROTTED WITHOUT A FIRE.

Mr. Tillinghast advises that the spot selected for the bed be as sheltered as possible on the north and east by some building or high board fence. The bank should slope gently to the south or east. If the manure is fine and contains little or no long straw it will be necessary to put a plank frame around it to keep it in position. After levelling the manure there ought to be three or four narrow boards laid across it on which to rest the hotbed frame, so that after the manure heats all will settle together evenly. Otherwise the weight of the frame and sash will force down into the manure, and the center of the bed will appear to raise and displace the plants.

When ready to begin operations the manure ought to be forked over, shaken out finely and thrown into a high conical heap to heat; if dry it should be watered until well dampened throughout the heap. If allowed to stand in this heap about one week it will heat and begin to smoke like a small volcano. A vital point to be observed in making a hot bed is to spread the manure down while hot; it then continues to heat, but if spread down cold it will heat slowly and unevenly. Early in the spring, when considerable cold weather is still anticipated, it is advised to use a common wagon box full of manure to each sash, but later in the season, when forming beds in which to transplant seedlings, one-half that quantity will suffice.

The soil used should be prepared in advance; it must be light, loose and rich. This soil should be placed on the manure to a depth of from four to six inches and the glasses properly adjusted. The most common sashes are 3 by 6 feet. The frame, therefore, should be made 6 feet wide and as long as is necessary to accommodate the number of sashes to be used.

After the soil becomes warm sow the seed in rows about four inches apart and scatter them quite thickly in the rows. Mr. Tillinghast advises against sowing broadcast, as the labor of keeping free from weeds is greater. When the seedlings are about three inches high he transplants into rows 3 by 6 inches, and as soon as these require more space he transplants again. In transplanting tomato plants it is advised to get the stem well into the soil. The object sought is plenty of fibrous roots on a short, stocky stem. Closely watch the temperature of the beds, which ought to be kept as near 65 degs. as possible for tomatoes, peppers, etc. Cabbage and cauliflower require less heat and ought not to be placed in the same bed with tomatoes. Mr. Tillinghast thinks that better cabbage plants are produced without bottom heat, and employs for these a frame fitted the same as for a hotbed, except that the manure is omitted for the bottom heat. He covers this frame with sash and sows the seed in February or early March.

BANKERS—Bank of Toronto and Canadian Bank of Commerce.
SOLICITORS—Dumble & Leonard.

TO DEPOSITORS—Deposits are received by this Company both on current account and for periods of one year or longer. The rate of interest paid on amount deposited on current account and which may be withdrawn by check in such sums as the depositor may from time to time require, is four per cent., either paid or compounded half yearly, and the rate on yearly deposits is five per cent.

TO INVESTORS—The five and ten years five per cent. debentures of this Company which are issued in denominations of $100, $200, $500 and $1,000 each, transferable by endorsement, with half-yearly interest coupons attached, payable at the Head Office of the Company in Peterborough, or at any Branch of the Bank of Toronto in Canada, afford a safe and convenient mode of investment.

The funds of the Company being invested with the utmost care and precaution, no better security can be offered to depositors or debenture-holders, they having a first claim or mortgage on the whole Assets of the Company, the Shareholders having the second. The last audit shows that the amount so invested was over $1,310,222.69, and on securities of at least double that value.

By the Laws of Ontario, Trustees, Executors and Administrators may deposit Trust Funds of the estates which they control in this Company, and are free from all further liability, a privilege of which many have largely availed themselves.

TO BORROWERS—Money is obtainable from this Company on approved Real Estate Security at the Lowest Current Rates of Interest. The Mortgage may be repaid by yearly instalments or otherwise, as may be agreed upon, the interest ceasing at once on all amounts paid on account of the sum borrowed. Applications may be made either to the Head Office, or to any of the agents.

A Police Court Scandal.

It is certain that there will be a "full house" at the police court, when the case of the man and woman, who is suing her husband for support, comes up for trial on Monday or Tuesday. The public sympathy of the neighborhood is with the lady, for it is well known that, though well-to-do, the husband refused the wife money to get one of the fine new spring mantles at the golden fleece. And he deserves "six months;" for the charming new style mantles and dolmans, imported direct from the manufacturers, together with mantle cloths, silks, jets, etc., are so lovely and so cheap, that it is cruelty to—angels to deprive the ladies of them.

Caltes Ball

In aid of the Protestant Home, on Wednesday, 4th April. The tickets are now ready and may be obtained from the following gentlemen, viz:—Messrs. Elliott & Tierney, Salisbury Bros., A. McNeil, R. W. Manneater, A. Mercer. Also from Miss Jenkins or the Hon. Secretary. Gentlemen's tickets $1.50 each, ladies $1.00 each, tickets admitting gentleman and two ladies $3.00. No invitations will be issued, and as only a limited number of tickets have been printed the public are advised to secure them early. Contributions for the supper may be sent to Winch's new hotel, Charlotte street on Tuesday, the 3rd April, from 12 m. to 6 p.m., or on Wednesday, the 4th April, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. F. J. Easter Entertainment.

A novel and interesting Easter Entertainment will be given at the residence of Mrs. D. W. Dumble, on Tuesday evening, April 3rd. Jollity, mirth and music will be the order of the evening. Tea is to be served in the Japanese tea-room by the veritable "Yum Yums." Little fairies will sell bouquets and a number of native artists will do the shadow pantomime, while the orchestra will make it lively for all. A small 5c. bit will admit to the chamber of horrors and another small bit will supply a cup of tea to any who may feel overcome. To get in at the front door an English shilling will be demanded. The back door will be bolted. Every one is expected to be there. 2d

Hard times demand cheap boots and shoes, and these can be had at J. T. Stenson's, cheap as the dirt in which they tread. His cheap sale is a great success. 1

A Scholarly Cop.

Chief Douglas of Port Hope received the following application from Toronto addressed to the "Chief of Police, Port Hope," Not wishing to deprive Peterborough of the chance to add a man, the application has been forwarded to, the Times says this place. Here it is:—"To the chief of police. Dear Sir, I notice an advertisement in the paper that you want a recruit for the Peterborough Police and I take the opportunity of writing to see if their would be any chance for me. I might say I am 6 ft. 1¼ inches high, and 21 years old 17 Nov last, and 39 inches around the chest. I came from the Township of Cell ingwood in the county of Grey. I have always been very healthy so far. Send me your rules. I remain yours truly. I might say I have always been an abstainer from liquors and a Prohibitionist, State wages.

Mr. James Fax is said to be the cleverest humorist in Canada. Everybody that enjoys a hearty laugh should hear him at the Opera House next Friday evening, April 6th. Tickets 25 and 35 cents. Plan at Hartley's. Secure good seats early. tf

He is a Stayer.

The public who have had the profitable pleasure of business relations in the past with Mr. Johnston Carey, boot and shoe merchant, will be glad to learn that he intends to remain and carry on business in Peterborough. He has not been able to dispose of his business as he expected. He has therefore made up his mind to stay in Peterborough and will carry on business with, if possible, more energy and enterprise than in the past. He has laid in a complete new stock of goods of the highest quality which will offered to the public at very low prices. Mr. Carey's past business career justifies the public in giving him an extensive patronage.

The Social Season.

How Eastertide was Observed by the Social Members of the Church.

The social under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Andrew's Church at the Manse, Thursday evening, was a most enjoyable affair and a decided success in every way. The Manse was full to overflowing with young and old, and all seemed to enjoy themselves alike. An excellent programme of vocal and instrumental music was given. The Amateur Orchestra opened with an overture, after which Mr. Brown gave a reading in his inimitable Irish dialect. A piano duet by the Misses Brodie, and later in the evening a duet by the Misses Lees, were highly appreciated. Master Herbie King favored the company with a song which showed a remarkable compass of voice in one so young. A decided novelty was introduced in the way of a violin duet by Miggs Edmison and Yokome. The young ladies acquitted themselves in admirable style and drew forth much applause. A song by Miss Hesbeck, with violin obligato by Miss Edmison, is worthy of special mention. Miss Edmison played the piano accompaniments. The orchestra played a few selections in a manner which shows they have a careful and efficient conductor in Mr. Butcher. Refreshments were served during the evening and were thoroughly appreciated.

A LEAP YEAR SOCIAL.

An altogether enjoyable social gathering was that held at the residence of Mrs. Wm. Bradburn Thursday evening. The guests were unanimous in their commendation of the completeness of the preparations made, and all seemed to take their fill of social enjoyment. An excellent programme was presented to feed the literary and musical tastes of those present, and afterwards their material wants were attended to in an equally satisfactory manner. A feature of the evening was the "mum" period at intermission. For about five minutes to speak was to be mulcted in a fine of five cents. Each room was provided with a detective and collector whose business it was to decoy the others into a breach of the "mum" law by cajolery or strategy. The proceeds of the social netted about $25. Following is the programme.

Instrumental ..... Prof. Dibble
Solo ..... Miss Schofield
With piano and flute obligato by Messrs. J. E. Jaques and W. Halliday.
Quartette ..... Harmony Club
Instrumental Duet, violin and piano ..... Misses Chas McKee and A. Duff

INTERMISSION.

Church Chimes.

The services in all the churches Good Friday were well attended.

Rev. P. C. Parker, of the Murray street Baptist church, preaches in Port Hope Sunday. His place here will be supplied by Rev. D. Reddick, of Port Hope, who will preach the anniversary sermons.

Services will be held by the Laymen's Evangelical Association to-morrow as follows:—Jail, 9.30 a.m.; Protestant Home, 2 p.m.; Mr. Monerief's house, 4 p.m., and at Nassau, in the Hall, at 7 p.m.

Order of services for Mark street Methodist church, Ashburnham, April 1st, 1888:—Conducted by the Rev. J. C. Wilson; 11 a.m. subject, "The Resurrection of Jesus"; 7 p.m. subject, "Lessons from the Death and Resurrection of Jesus."

Charlotte Street Church.—11 a.m. and 7 p.m., Rev. I. Tovell. Baptismal service in the morning.

Methodist church, George street, Rev. S. J. Thompson, pastor—At 11 a.m. an open meeting of the Sunday School will be held to which all are cordially invited. Responsive and recitative exercises and singing by the children, with an address by the pastor, will make up the programme. In the evening an evangelistic service will be held commencing at 7 p.m.

Mr. H. S. Griffin, will deliver an address to young men to-morrow, Easter Sunday, at 3.30 p.m., in the Young Men's Christian Association Hall.

Obituary.

The Late Mrs. S. Jamieson.

The death is regretfully recorded of Mrs. Samuel Jameson, of Harvey street, who died Friday night at the age of 65 years. The deceased lady was a native of Queen's County, Ireland, from which she came to Canada about 1844. She has been a resident of Peterborough and vicinity for the past forty years and has, during that time, enjoyed the high respect of her neighbours and associates. Some three years since she was attacked with that malignant disease, cancer, and since that time the fatal progress has been steady and about a week since she retired to her bed from which she never rose again. She bore her long months of pain and anguish with exemplary Christian patience. She leaves behind her a husband and four children, two sons—F. J. and Samuel, the former at present and the latter previously connected with the Examiner office—and two daughters.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, Harvey street, on Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

Personal.

Mr. H. C. Rogers, postmaster, spends Easter Sunday in Toronto.

Mr. J. M. Ferris, Campbellford, has been appointed police magistrate for the county of Northumberland & Durham.

Mr. Robert Weir, town, has been appointed by the Ontario Government issuer of marriage licenses, in the stead of Mr. J. A. Hartley, deceased.

The Warder says Mr. F. Matthews, of Lindsay, returned to Peterborough Friday morning, for the summer.

On Thursday Mr. James McGregor, of Omemee, came to Peterborough, where he will make his home in the future.

Mr. Chas. Russel, of Georgetown, is spending his Easter holidays in town.

Mr. Robert Hamilton, who was the recipient of a gold watch presented by his brother Oddfellows, writes from Oakland, California, that he arrived safely after a very pleasant trip, and found the flowers in bloom and trees beautifully attired in Nature's garb.

Hymeneal.

On Tuesday, says the Chronicle, and interesting event occurred at the residence of Mr. James Baptie, 5th concession of Smith—the marriage of Miss Jane Baptie to Mr. John Bickell. Rev. John McEwan performed the ceremony, the bride being assisted by Miss Kate Irwin, of Peterborough, and the groom by Mr. Jas. Lillico, of North Monaghan. The presents were numerous, and the happy couple left for Peterborough, their future residence, with the well wishes of a large assemblage of relatives and friends.

A Snare and Delusion

The Lindsay Warder says:—"The bustle in Peterborough, Port Hope, Port Perry or other small towns is nothing compared to the bustle of Lindsay." Exactly; but, as some smart, levelheaded chap has said, bustles are a hollow mockery, a vainglorious delusion. Peterborough does not require any such shams to make herself attractive.

Cobourg's Public Works.

The Dominion Government have awarded the contract for the new harbor works here to Mr. J. W. Dinwoodie, of Campbellford. Work will commence as soon as navigation opens. The town council have accepted the offer of Messrs. Moffat, Hodgins & Clark, of Watertown, N. Y., to construct a system of water works here at a yearly rental of $3,000. The system projected includes six and a quarter miles of pipe and seventy hydrants.

Centreville.

South Monaghan is noted for the enterprise of its farmers and stock breeders. Mr. John Mussey dearly loves a first-class horse or cow, and he has always something good of that kind on his farm. He has recently made a valuable addition to his stables, having purchased from Messrs. Dundas & Grandy, Yelverton, Ont., a thoroughbred Clydesdale filly, two years old. Her weight is 1200 lbs, and the figure was $500. The filly is a beauty, bay in color, and is, at once, a living witness of Mr. Mussey's enterprise, and a valuable addition to the thoroughbred stock of the township.

Mr. Wm. Stetson, a pig fancier, has also made an important purchase in his line. He has purchased from Mr. W. G. Caven, Galt, a pair (boar and sow) of pedigreed, thoroughbred, English improved Berkshires. The price paid was $34. These pigs will, doubtless, in time, be the means of immensely improving the pig population of the township.

The snow in this vicinity is pretty much gone—south of Springville and the further south the less there is. The winter wheat has very little snow protection should thawing days and freezing nights come on.

Many of the side lines, however, are still filled with drifts and the snow promises to remain some time yet. The roads through farmers' fields cannot be closed for some time unless rapid thawing takes place.

Pancakes in Variety.

On cold winter mornings pan cakes of all kinds hold an important place at the breakfast table; the buckwheat cake the most cherished of all. When properly made, this is the most delicious of all the griddle cakes, but it has been against it when made from yeast or risen over night that it was difficult to make light and sweet, and that disagreeable effects frequently followed its eating. It is found that by the use of the Royal Baking Powder to raise the batter, these objections have been entirely overcome, and that buckwheat cakes are made a most delicious food, light, sweet, tender and perfectly wholesome, that can be eaten by anyone without the slightest digestive inconvenience. Once tested from the following receipt no other will be used: Two cups of buckwheat, one cup of wheat flour, two tablespoons of Royal Baking Powder, one half tablespoon of salt, all sifted well together. Mix with milk into a thin batter and bake at once on a hot griddle.

The purest and richest syrup is made by dissolving sugar in the proportion of three pounds of sugar to every pint of water. Many persons prefer the flavor of Orleans sugar to that made of the white.

Rice griddle cakes are very delicious. The rice is cooked until perfectly soft, drained dry, mashed with a spoon until the grains are well broken up. For each cupful of rice take two eggs, one pint of milk, one heaping teaspoonful of Royal Baking Powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, and flour enough to make a thin batter.

For hominy cakes take two cupfuls of cooked hominy, and crush it with a potato-masher until it is a smooth mass. Add one level teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of Royal Baking Powder, and one cupful of flour. Stir together; then add by degrees one quart of milk, and lastly three well beaten eggs. Bake in thin cakes.

Very delicate and delicious cakes are made by allowing two teaspoonfuls of Royal Baking Powder and one half teaspoonful of salt to one quart of milk, and sufficient corn meal, mixing all into a smooth, thin batter, no eggs or butter are used for these cakes. The cakes bake quickly to a rich deep brown, and are extremely tender and light.

A very delicious, sweet pan cake is made by taking one pint of sweet milk, four eggs, two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one teaspoonful of Royal Baking Powder, and flour enough to make a moderately thin batter. Beat the eggs, whites and yolks separately, until well frothed, stir the butter, sugar, and one cupful of flour, into which the baking powder has been mixed, into the yolks, then add the milk. If needed, add more flour. Bake in small cakes, butter each one as it comes from the fire, place four in a pile, with very thin layers of any kind of sweet jelly between, and powdered sugar over the top. They should be baked very thin and four served to each person.

A Close Shave and Good Engineering.

Mr. McCarthy has just completed the moving of a large building on Park street, having but two inches to work on between the main body of a storehouse and Mrs. Shaw's verandah. The work was done satisfactorily to the parties interested. All parties wanting buildings placed any position, to suit their taste can have it done so by employing Mr. McCarthy, who thoroughly understands his business.

Got Her Feet Wet.

A young lady coming down street yesterday got her feet wet, and it will cost her more for cough drops than it would to have got a pair of water-tight boots or rubbers at the Griffin Shoe Co's store, Hunter street, where a splendid stock of boots and shoes of all kinds are given away, or sold at such low prices as amount to almost the same thing.

Oyster Rooms Open.

News Nuggets.

—The ice in the creek at Port Hope is being "dynamited" to prevent a freshet.

—Mr. Thos. Howden, of Peterborough, has purchased a colt from a Cobourg man, that, it is expected, will make 2.20 trot this year or two.

—The holy oil to be used by the priests of Kingston diocese was blessed by Bishop Dowling Thursday morning, in the absence of Bishop Cleary at Rome.

—Manvers is losing some fine farmers, writes a correspondent. Mr. Albert Preston has given up farming, having sold 100 acres of his farm and leased the other 100, both to Joseph Weatherilt, and with his family, goes to live in Peterborough.

—The man found dead in Rochester and identified by a lady as H. Stewart, of Hastings, must have been someone else, as Stewart is alive and working at the Valley Roller Mills.

—Another answer to the problem that worried the C.P.R. official, regarding the travel of A, B and C between Peterborough and Lakefield, has been received from Prince Albert, N.W.T. The answer and solution are correct, and the same as already supplied by "F.B."

"Triple A" Topics.

Business Meeting of the Directors of the P.A.A.A.

A meeting of the directors of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association was held in Schofield's office Thursday afternoon. There were present Messrs. Judge Weller, Dr. Burnham, R. B. Rogers, W. J. Munro, G. C. Clarke and Geo. Schofield.

The following officers were elected:

Pres.—Dr. Geo. Burnham.
1st Vice-Pres.—Judge Weller.
2nd " " —R. B. Rogers.
Secretary—F. E. Bell.
Treasurer—Geo. Schofield.
Lady Patronesses—Mrs. (Dr.) Burnham, Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Weller and Mrs. Denistoun.
Patrons—Messrs. D. W. Dumble, J. Stevenson, Dr. Boucher and R. A. Morrow.

It was decided to engage a professional and caretaker of the grounds, and Mr. J. Stirling was delegated to make a selection from among the applicants for the position.

Mr. R. B. Rogers was instructed to prosecute all parties found destroying the property of the Association. Much annoyance was had from this cause last year, and the Association intend to prevent further repetition of the nuisance.

The meeting then adjourned to meet at the call of the President.

Ben Maginley.

The favorite comedian, Benj. Maginley, appears at the Opera House next Tuesday evening. Of his appearance in Providence, R.I., the Journal said:—Ben Maginley—jolly Ben Maginley as he is known—is more generally indentified with plays of the Madison Square stamp than as an Irish comedian, but he is an actor of the old school and "in his time has played many parts" and played them well. So when it was announced that he was to appear in the title role of W. J. Florence's Irish drama, "Inshavogue," at the Sans Souci, his many admirers in this city felt confident that the impersonation would be an artistic one, and the result showed that they were not mistaken. "Inshavogue" is devoid of the usual informers, moonshiners, redcoats and shillelahs. Mr. Maginley as Brian Maguire, alias Inshavogue, gives a charming bit of Irish character acting, easy and graceful. The supporting company is fully competent to meet the demands of the various characters. Miss Lizzie Hughes as Kitty O'Connell danced and sang in a very happy manner, and was assisted by Brian O'Lynn, who was as funny as his namesake "who had no breeches to go wear." One of the features of the performance was the fine singing of the Eureka Quartette and the playing on the Irish bagpipes by P. Tinghey. The play was finely staged, the last act of a rocky glen, with a cascade of real water, calling forth a round of applause.

For Coats to Read.

There has just been received at the City Clothing Store 25 pieces of superior tweed for panting, bought for cash at a startling sacrifice, and to be sold at a small advance on the cost. Pants can be made to order from this tweed as low as $3.50, $4 and $4.50. Gents can save from $1.50 to $2 by selecting this tweed. Call and see the goods. A first-class fit warranted. H. LeBrun. 2d

Mr. Chas. Kelly, who appears with the Beethoven Quartette at the Opera House next Friday evening, April 6th, possesses one of the finest bass voices in Canada. Don't fail to hear him. Tickets 25 and 35 cents. Plan at Hartley's. tf

Mobbing a Medical Man.

Dr. Ryerson, the well known oculist, is at the Grand Central hotel to-day. The throng of patients clustered round him like a miniature mob, and the weak patient, like the impotent man at the stirring of the pool of Bethesda, was considerably shoved about before he got his turn.

Post Office Closed on Monday.

Monday next being a holiday the post office will be closed except from 12:30 p.m., to 1:30 p.m.

Don't fail to see Hall Innes & Co.'s large display of French, German, English and American novelities on Tuesday and Wednesday 3rd and 4th of April. 3d

The Dominion Bell ORGANS.

WE wish to call your attention to the benefit derived from the
New Automatic Pedal Cover ATTACHMENT,
that has lately been added to the above Organs. This improvement has been a long felt necessity, and one which has never been successfully solved before by any Organ Companies until the patent was secured for the above Companies directly from the Inventor.
Other Organ Companies advertise their organs mouse and dust proof, because they employ the usual method of blocking around the bellows, as we have done heretofore, but it is eminently unsatisfactory, and the only sure and efficient plan is that which we adopt, of covering the PEDALS and BOTTOM of our Organs. This attachment has iron throughout (with the exception of the Covers) having no cords, springs, or delicate mechanism to get out of order or repair, and works AUTOMATICALLY with the Fall Board of the Organ. The one simple act of opening or closing the Organ, simultaneously operates the Pedal Covers.
This improvement has been placed on all the different styles of Organs, and the aim is now, as in the past, to produce an instrument that HAS NO EQUAL.
All information and inquiries cheerfully answered. Catalogues sent free upon application.
Examine the Mouse and Dust Proof Organ before purchasing, and be satisfied that you have the best in the World.

FREEDOM FOR MANITOBA.

SHE IS ALLOWED TO CONSTRUCT HER RAILROAD.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Indemnified by a Government Guarantee on Fifteen Millions of the Company's Land Bonds—Saturday's Cabinet Council.

OTTAWA, March 31.—A protracted meeting of the Council was held to-day.

The question under consideration during the day is understood to have been the details of the agreement between the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Government. The legal aspect of the case must have occupied considerable attention to judge by the ringing of electric bells and the bustle and activity with which the Department of Justice was charged. For an hour or two everything was on the jump, all of which would indicate that there has not yet been a ratification of the arrangement.

When the Council rose at 6 o'clock The World correspondent waylaid Sir John and explained how deeply he should like to enter into his confidence touching the all-absorbing topic. The "G.O.M.'s" face presented unusual evidence of fatigue. There was an absence of color in his cheeks, and his lips looked parched. It was quite evident that he had put in a busy day, and even in the young members, as they filed out, the elasticity of step which characterized some of them, seemed to have gone "on strike."

"Well," said the Chieftain with a bright twinkle of the eye, "I'm not taking anybody into my confidence just now on that subject. No final conclusion has as yet been reached." Then gazing intently at your correspondent as though mentally wondering if he had said enough, he suddenly gave a characteristic toss of the head and added: "You can say the matter is still under consideration."

Sir John said he felt that the Manitoba delegates had gone home thoroughly satisfied with the shape things had taken and that as soon as the Legislature had been called together they would present the result of the negotiations. Until that time he did not consider it politic to interfere with what was their evident right to first present the solution of the difficulty to the Legislature.

Sunday Night, April 1.—It is probable that there was truth in the report circulated in London, Eng., and which must have emanated from the Canadian Pacific Railroad offices there, that the proposed method of settling the Manitoba difficulty was for the Canadian Government to cancel the monopoly clause of the C.P.R. charter applicable to Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and British Columbia, leaving it a question for the Canadian Government only, in all future time, and irrespective of the C.P.R., to allow railways between the C.P.R. and the American boundary, as the national interests might seem to dictate.

In consideration of this concession from the Canadian Pacific Railway the Canadian Government, as stated in London, would have been willing to guarantee 3 per cent. interest on about fifteen millions of dollars' worth of C.P.R. land bonds. The lands on which these bonds are issued are now subject to a lien of only about half value. Canada would, therefore, be incurring no real liability, and the only benefit to the C.P.R. would be the difference between the value of the bonds with and without a Government guarantee.

There is reason to believe that this was contemplated, but if the Canadian Pacific Railway were willing to purchase peace, and the advantages of peace in the way of settlement of the country and its freedom from agitation, for so small a consideration it would go to prove that the railway company has not been the stumbling block in the way of an earlier solution of the difficulty.

There seems now to be some hitch again in the proceedings; but what it is I do not learn for certain. From a trustworthy source I gather, however, that the London press got hold of the right story, so far as the Canadian Pacific Railway were concerned. The present hitch must be between the Dominion and Provincial Governments therefore.

A Letter From Mr. Butterworth.

BOSTON, March 31.—Congressman Benjamin Butterworth of Ohio, the well-known Protectionist leader, in a letter to-day in reply to the invitation of the Massachusetts Tariff Reform League to speak on our trade relations with Canada, accepts with the following pointed remark: "I firmly believe that our tariff reform friends and Protectionists can stand together in support of reciprocal trade with Canada without violating the principles which underlie the philosophy of either, and there will be little trouble in enlarging the area of our trade and commerce, so that we would soon have control of the exchange of commercial products throughout most of the continent."

ENFORCING THE BOYC OTT

RAILROADS REFUSE TO MOVE THE Q.'S FREIGHT.

Strikes on Other Roads Inaugurated to Carry Out the Plan—Pinkertons Men Armed With Clubs—Railway Managers Preparing for a Decisive Conflict.

CHICAGO, March 31.—Strike following strike in rapid succession was the result to-day of the Burlington's first attempt to resume forcing freight on other roads. Almost at the outset a strike occurred on the Fort Wayne system, involving for the first time an undoubted extension of the trouble to the roads leading east from Chicago. A leading western line, the Milwaukee and St. Paul, had been completely tied up between midnight and daylight, and Chairman Hoxie, the leader in the absence of Chief Arthur, intimated that soon there might be precipitated a succession of strike unparalleled in this city. One on the Pan Handle occurred as early as 7 a.m., but was overcome by the officials of the road showing that no workman had been asked to go much as touch a car from the Burlington. At 10 a.m. came the initial step by the Burlington in what seemed a program of aggressiveness to transfer the seat of war to the lines of other roads. A train of fifteen cars was made up and quietly transferred to the Fort Wayne, while at about the same time another train of twenty-five cars was made up for the Lake Shore road, and started out with forty Pinkerton men aboard who had provided themselves with rocks to use in an emergency. No strikers were to be seen, and the transfers were made without the slightest hindrance.

The train which had been transferred to the Fort Wayne stood upon the "Y" at Sixteenth-street, and at 2 p. m. Fort Wayne officials ordered their men to take it and pull it upon the Fort Wayne tracks. The men promptly refused and ran their engines in. The news spread from one engine to another, and in a few moments all the crews in the yard had quit work, engineers, firemen and switchmen.

Along the line of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road freight business was completely paralyzed, and passenger traffic almost suspended. The morning through trains were on time, as the news of the strikes, which had been ordered at midnight, had not reached them before they left their destination. As soon as the Western-avenue yards were reached, however, each engine was mounted by a delegate appointed for that service, who whispered to the engineer that a strike had been ordered and then jumped from the cab. The train continued on its way till the depot was reached, where the passengers alighted, then it was backed out to Western-avenue again, where it was abandoned by the crew. This afternoon the engineers, firemen and switchmen of the St. Paul road held a meeting and decided to send a committee to the officials of the road to suggest arbitration.

Fifty men, who are regular freight and passenger conductors on the Council Bluffs Division, arrived at the roundhouse this morning. They were brought here by the St. Paul people to fill the places of the striking engineers, firemen and switchmen, but after a talk with Doherty, the leader of the local St. Paul men, decided that not a man would throw a switch.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy engineers and their friends appear to be actively engaged collecting information concerning the management of the road since their departure from it. They have made charges before the Illinois Railroad Commissioners, and on next Tuesday evening will begin offering testimony to sustain the charges. Notice has been served upon Mr. Dawes that the testimony as to the incompetency of the engineers will be offered under sixteen different specifications.

Much speculation is being indulged in regarding the departure of Chief Arthur to Cleveland. Some newspapers and railroad officials, particularly those of the Burlington regard it as an acknowledgement on his part that the Burlington strike is a failure and that he is disgusted with the new turn of affairs. Chairman O'Brien of the Engineers' Press Committee emphatically denies these statements and says that Mr. Arthur has gone to Cleveland, the headquarters of the Brotherhood, to meet the Executive Advisory Board of the order, and to transact some private business at his home. He will return in about a week.

It is proposed that all the roads shall combine and in combination fight the strikers. The opinion is generally expressed that this is the time to settle the question of the management of the roads—whether it shall remain with the officials or be given over to the Brotherhood. The Burlington having succeeded in carrying on its business despite the strikers, the others are disposed to try the same plan. It is thought a strong combination will be made and a decided stand taken against the strikers.

Fort Wayne Men Go Out.

CHICAGO, March 31.—The strike has spread to the Fort Wayne employes. Six crews left their engines in the yards at Carroll-avenue at 2 p.m. It was reported that the Fort Wayne men at other points in the city also quit, and this was confirmed at 3 o'clock. The strike on the Fort Wayne in Chicago is general, and is supposed to be the result of the company accepting a train of freight this afternoon from the Burlington.

The Situation at Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, March 31.—General Manager Miller said this afternoon that the situation on the St. Paul system was entirely unchanged.

An engineer of the Brotherhood said to-day that in his opinion there will be no general strike on the St. Paul system and that the whole affair will be adjusted in a day or two.

All the night crews in the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul yards reported for duty at the usual time to-night, and as far as this point is concerned there is nothing indicating the existence of a strike. The men say that all freight loaded to-day will be handled.

A General Strike Decreed.

CHICAGO, April 1.—At a meeting of railroad employes held last night it was decided that a strike should be inaugurated in this city at midnight on the Lake Shore, Chicago and Alton, Pan Handle, Fort Wayne and Santa Fe roads.

Thirty-one Drowned.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—China advices received to-day by steamer Rio de Janeiro state that the British steamer Swallow was wrecked Feb. 22 off Namoa Island. The vessel struck on rocks and sank. The captain and a number of the crew and passengers saved themselves by clinging to the rigging, but thirty-one persons, who put off from the wreck in a small boat, are supposed to be lost. The body of the engineer, who was one of the occupants of the boat, was recovered.

The Victims Number 24.

KANSAS CITY, April 1.—The latest reports from Rich Hill place the total number of deaths from Thursday's explosion at twenty-four. It is now reasonably certain that no more bodies are in the ruins, although rumors are circulated to the effect that several negroes are still missing.

BUSY AND BUOYANT FRITZ.

THE GERMAN EMPEROR DEVOTING HIS TIME TO WORK.

But a Sudden Crisis May Declare Itself Any Night and When the End Comes It Will Come Quickly—Progressists Leaning on a Broken Reed.

BERLIN, March 31.—The Emperor slept eight hours last night, almost without a break. During his sleep he is watched constantly by either Dr. Hovell or Dr. Mackenzie who, when there is any excess of coughing, go to the Emperor's assistance. The necessity for this precaution was seen at dawn last Thursday, when the Emperor was seized with a severe fit of coughing during which a piece of cartilage was detached which, but for the instant assistance of Dr. Mackenzie, might have caused suffocation. To-day he looked fresh, and according to The North German Gazette was in more buoyant spirits, obviously being benefited by the night of complete repose which followed yesterday's drive. Another piece of cartilage was extracted from his throat to-day.

His official work to-day was unusually prolonged. In the forenoon Prince Bismarck and Dr. Friedberg, Minister of Justice, submitted their report on the political amnesty decree. Dr. Friedberg also submitted a completed project under which all important state questions will be determined in full Ministerial Council. Prince Bismarck is understood to have finally accepted the project, which in its inception he disfavored as tending to enfeeble the authority of the Chancellor. The conference lasted an hour and a half. The Emperor next received Prince Hohenlohe-Ingelfinger who has just returned from his mission to King Humbert, from whom he brought an autograph letter. After luncheon the Emperor walked with the Princess under the shelter of the grand front of the orangery. In the afternoon he heard the report on the commission relating to the new infantry regiments.

During a pause for repose the doctors examined the Emperor's larynx and assented to his taking a drive. The drive lasted an hour. The crowds increased in density, it being the Easter holidays, and the Emperor was received with enthusiastic greeting and ringing hurrahs along the route. The weather was extremely mild. The carriage was driven slowly, and the Emperor was fully seen. He saluted by raising his hand to his head. He looked thoroughly well, the only trace of his illness being a waxy complexion.

Despite the semblance of health and his increased power, German expert opinion that the disease will have an easy and fatal termination is still unaltered. The end will come quickly when it does come. Any night a sudden crisis may declare itself. It will be announced to the public and will be followed in a few hours by an intimation of the Emperor's death.

The report that Dr. Mackenzie will take a prolonged leave is untrue. The reaction among the Berlin populace in his favor was completed yesterday. To-day he drove in Unter den Linden by himself and was greeted with cheers and salutes.

Crown Prince William goes to Ems on April 12. The state of his health continues to cause grave disquietude.

The Progressist hopes for a speedy introduction of liberal reforms under Emperor Frederick, though chilled by the tone of his proclamation to the Reichstag and Landtag, have been revived by the prospects of the prolongation of the Emperor's life. The proclamations were obviously written at the inspiration of Prince Bismarck, whose counsel there was a momentary necessity for the Emperor to accept. The organs of Herr Richter now bid the party to resume its old attitude of expectancy. Evidently a cordial understanding between the Emperor and Prince Bismarck is being formed, and the Chancellor may show his customary statesmanship by adapting his policy to the changes in accordance with the views of the new chief of state.

The program has justly met with sarcastic criticism. The Conservative papers say it overlooks the permanent physical disability of the Emperor even if his life is prolonged beyond the friendliest expectations. It overlooks also the present facts that the Emperor has shown no disposition to interfere with Prince Bismarck: on the contrary as the last council of ministers and other high officers of state, after Prince Bismarck had stated formally and at length his home and foreign policy, the Emperor intimated his entire acquiescence in the policy and complete confidence in his great minister.

The Emperor's amnesty decree has been tested. The offences to which it applies are insulting the sovereign, crimes and misdemeanors in the exercise of civil rights, insulting or resisting officers of the law, disturbing the public order, press offences, infractions of the law of public meetings, etc.

Numerous Socialists have been arrested in Berlin, Hamburg, Leipsic, and Magdeburg, for circulating a pamphlet to the people in response to the Emperor's proclamation.

The temporary confidence of the German people in the Russian peace protest is vanishing. Russia's military preparations are again occasioning renewed distrust. The Kreuz Zeitung despatches pronounce Russian action imminent. She has tried and failed to obtain permission from Roumania to pass troops through her territory to Bulgaria. Under an agreement between the King of Roumania and the Austrian Government if Russia tries to force her way the united army will resist the attempt. The Czar has offered the Roumanian Government a counter alliance promising to add Transylvania to the dominions of King Charles in the event of the success of the campaign. The offer was rejected. Gen. Arrezenikoff, with headquarters at Kischenef, is commanding the advance and, according to The Pesther Lloyd, has already effected the organization of a corps to open the campaign in May.

The Czar requested Gen. Von Werder to-night as envoy of Emperor Frederick, and will confer a decoration upon him. Neither honor is of special significance.

Among the prominent defensive measures on the German frontier, the war office has decided to construct two new forts at Thorn and another bridge over the Vistula, near Dirschau, with a railway over the bridge. The contractors are instructed to employ only German workmen. Hitherto Russian Poles have been employed in fort works in the east.

A Family Gathering.

BERLIN, April 1.—The Emperor and Empress re-visited Berlin to-day to attend the family gathering and dinner in honor of the birthday of the Duke of Saxe-Meiningen. Prince Bismarck received the numerous callers, among whom were the Crown Prince and the Grand Duke of Baden.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

In a Rage Over the Surrender of the Monopoly—Patronage for the New Military School.

OTTAWA, April 1.—The Tories are in a tremendous rage over Sir John Macdonald's capitulation to Premier Greenway. That a raw farmer from Manitoba should bring the veteran politician to his own terms is gall and vinegar to the monopolists. Greenway, before leaving last night, expressed complete satisfaction at the result of his journey. The secret of his triumph is that he had the country at his back.

The Manitoba Conservative members of Parliament, some of whom are among the few left during the recess, do not invite conversation about the capitulation of Sir John Macdonald to Premier Greenway of Manitoba on the monopoly question. They were wholly left out in the negotiations, though they and their friends made desperate efforts to make it appear that they were constantly consulted. They are bound, as other Conservative representatives are, to support the arrangement, but among the rank and file of the party, as represented heretofore, is a good deal of ill-concealed dissatisfaction. They have been so long accustomed to following their leaders in denouncing as traitorous the proposal to construct an independent line south from the Canadian Pacific to the boundary, that they find they have to turn an exceedingly sharp corner to applaud as a masterly stroke of policy an arrangement which allows the road to be tapped to an unlimited extent, while Canadians are to pay an unknown number of millions for the privilege of doing what they declared would be a ruinous act for the country. Among the Liberals here there is some curiosity as to what the Conservative members will have to say about it when they get back. A good many men from the Maritime Provinces and even some few intrepid spirits from Ontario declared when Mr. Greenway first came down that there must be a caucus before anything was done, or, not being consulted, they would not support the arrangement. No caucus was held, and yet Mr. Greenway has gone home with the letter of capitulation in his pocket. Nobody supposes that letter was written until the Canadian Pacific was "fixed." The question naturally arises as regards the Conservative members, "What are you going to do about it?"

Further complications for the Government in relation to Reciprocity seem to be maturing. There is good reason to believe that the United States is bringing pressure to bear to induce or compel the Government of the Dominion to place on the free list certain articles made free by the United States, and thus carry what the United States authorities understand to be the meaning of the "standing offer" of Reciprocity on the part of Canada, of which so much has been said in the current debate. Current reports differ as to the character of the pressure put on by the United States, one being that it is exercised through the British Government. On general principles it seems almost incredible that Britain would thus interfere, but in Britain nowadays so much stress is laid upon the necessity of friendly relations between Britain and the United States that representations made by the American Government to the British, even on this subject, would probably lead to a quiet but persistent pressure being put upon Canada. The other report, which on general principles seems most reasonable, is that the Americans simply threaten retaliation in the form of higher duties. At the Cabinet Council yesterday, according to the local press, this subject was considered. Important developments are looked for.

Sir Adolphe Caron is having a terrible time over the distribution of patronage for the new military school, London. Although the school opens on Monday, only two appointments have been made, Col. Smith, Commandant, and Lieut. Wadmore, Toronto, Adjutant. It is said there are fifty applications for each position vacant.

It is said that Mr. Curran, M.P., Montreal Centre, is to be made one of the new judges so badly needed for Montreal district. It is also rumored that Mr. McShane, recently retired from Mr. Mercier's Cabinet, will contest Montreal Centre for the House of Commons as an Independent. In Quebec Hon. Mr. Garneau takes the portfolio of Public Works, and Mr. Turcotte that of Crown Lands.

Col. Herchmer, Commissioner of the Mounted Police, says he has received telegraphic advices from all the Indian posts in the Northwest, stating that the Indians were perfectly quiet.

The names of Messrs. Olivier (Ottawa) and P. O'Brien (L'Orignal) are mentioned in connection with the vacant judgeship in Russell, and that of Mr. Wm. Mosgrove as the probable successor to the late Judge Lyons.

The cut of lumber on the Gatineau and the tributaries of the upper Ottawa will compare favorably with that of the previous year.

There are some 500 applicants, it is said, for positions in connection with the new military school at London.

When the House resumes business after the holidays Speaker and Madame Ouimet will inaugurate a series of brilliant entertainments.

South Monaghan Farmers

Fourth Meeting of the West Riding Institute—In Some Respects a Failure—The Absent Orators Practical Chats by Local Agriculturists The Evening Meeting Abandoned.

The fourth meeting of the West Riding of Peterborough Farmers' Institute was held in the Agricultural Hall, Centreville, South Monaghan, on Thursday. At the morning session there was a small attendance. Mr. Robert Lang, jr., took the chair and made a few remarks as to the importance of Farmers' Institutes, and called on

Mr. Thos. M. Willan, who said that the bad state of the roads had prevented the arrival of several gentlemen who were expected to be present. There was an opinion among some farmers that they knew as much as those who read papers, but he (the speaker) held that every farmer knew something respecting his calling, which others did not know, and herein lay the benefits of Farmers' Institutes. He spoke of the benefit of the exchange of ideas. The great defect of farmers was their lack of co-operation. Farmers represented seventy-five per cent. of the population of the country, and with combined effort they could neutralize the efforts of the combines to plunder the farmer. Mr. Willan gave instances of the great value to the farmers of ideas dropped at meetings of the Farmers' Institute. It was pointed out that many of the articles in agricultural papers were written by men who were not practical farmers, while at Institute meetings there was an exchange of the ideas of practical farmers. An example of extra yield was given resulting from fall ploughing. He found that by ploughing land in the fall, after harvest, and ridging up well, he was able to get a crop in earlier in the spring, and to get better results. Summer-fallowing after harvest was effective to kill thistles. On small farms a proper rotation of crops would keep the land in "good heart" and procure good results. The benefit of clover was insisted on for its good results. The best fertilizer was barnyard—manure applied on the surface—in the fall, according to the speaker's experience.

Mr. Henry Earl and Mr. David Armstrong thought it was best to turn the manure in the yards instead of drawing out in the field. The latter said he had had good results from ploughing pure straw under in heavy clay soil. Mr. Mead thought that surface manuring gave the best immediate results, but the results were not so permanent as from ploughing under.

Mr. Wm. Telford, Smith, asked if manure was ever injurious to turnips, and Mr. Mead stated that excessive manuring had produced nothing but tops. Mr. Telford continued stating that too much manure for turnips, especially in a dry season, was injurious. He favored manuring in the fall and sowing turnips broad cast. He would harrow the field just about the time for thinning. Mr. Lang, chairman, also approved of broad cast culture for turnips.

Mr. Armstrong said the most successful turnip raisers in his section (Cavan) always drilled their turnips.

Mr. Willan had better success from drilling spring wheat while Mr. Armstrong said he had found better success from broad cast sowing (on rather heavy clay soil).

Afternoon Session.

At the afternoon session there was a slightly larger attendance, but owing to the non-appearance of Messrs. T. Blezard, D. Kennedy, F. J. Bell, T. E. Bell, R. S. Birdsall and Dr. Fisher, V.S., who had prepared papers, impromptu addresses were delivered by volunteers.

Mr. Joseph Barnard, of North Monaghan, made a few remarks on "General Farming," though he had prepared no set address. He pointed out that different farmers had different methods of arriving at the same results. Farming, he considered, was so far a merely experimental profession. Farming was one of the most scientific of vocations, but unfortunately most farmers had no knowledge of the chemical conditions which entered into farming, and their operations were, therefore, largely a matter of experiment. His mode of getting ready for crops after harvest was by gangploughing to start the weeds, then harrowing and broad ploughing afterwards. Summer-fallowing did not pay. Weeds could be killed by seeding down and ploughing clover under. He was in favor of growing root crops and raising stock. Roots were the best feed for cattle and the cheapest. Cattle could thrive well through the winter fed with turnips and straw. He did not believe in ploughing in narrow ridges. Roots were an easy crop to raise. Plough and manure land in the fall, plough and top-dress in the spring. Raising roots was far more profitable than "this everlasting cropping." (Applause).

Mr. Geo. Berry said the grand object was to get in crops early, and this could be best secured by ploughing in narrow ridges. His practice in regard to summer-fallowing was to utilize his coarse barnyard manure and get it mixed with the soil of his summer-fallow.

Mr. John Stothart thought that if any man spent the same labor on a root crop, he would have a crop and the land in better trim for another crop—say barley. In reply to a question, Mr. Stothart pointed out the best breeds for beef, milk, butter, etc.

Mr. Berry insisted that the best general purpose cow was of no particular breed.

Mr. John Lightfoot, in criticism of Mr. Stothart, pointed out that Mr. Mouncey, the best local breeder, had to come to him (Mr. Lightfoot) to get cows to raise his thoroughbred calves (applause and laughter). He doubted if Holsteins would raise their own calves. His cattle were well bred Ayrshires.

Mr. Lang, jr., said our native cattle sprang from the best breeds of the Old Country, and that was what gave us good native milkers. Our native Canadian cattle were a combination of the best breeds of several countries.

THE POET-FARMER'S CONTRIBUTION.

Mr. Wm. Telford, read a lively and thoughtful original poem upon the necessity of maintaining and supporting the Farmers' Institute, which was received with loud applause.

Mr. John Mouncey was called upon, but had nothing prepared for the occasion.

Mr. Martin Parker said a few words on the subject of statute labor, which was a too expensive way of keeping up our public roads. On a roadbeat of two miles the work apportioned was about $72, and for that there was not a hundred yards of gravel put on and about $6 worth of turnpiking. The same gravel could have been placed for $30 by contract. About $72 was spent to do $40 worth of work. Better results would have followed if each day's work had been appraised at 50 cents and the resulting money spent by contract. He was in favor of a law to compel every farmer to put a wire fence along roads liable to drift with snow.

Mr. Telford said the worst drifted roads in Smith were alongside a wire fence.

Mr. Stothart said a wire fence was good enough when there was little travel but otherwise an injury. He said a pathmaster could not be compelled to keep road clear in winter unless there was a snow by-law and he added that as a rule pathmasters did not know their business.

Mr. Barnard announced on behalf of Mr. Blezard that all who joined the Institute now by paying 25 cents, would secure membership and a report of the experimental farm free.

RAISING CALVES.

Mr. Stothart said a good calf was the foundation of a good cow. Raising a poor calf was throwing money away. Calves should be raised from a dam fitted for the purposes of milk or beef. Calves for beef should be kept fat from the start. Calves for milk should be fed so as to get a good frame and they should be dropped at such a time as will bring them into milk at two years old. Only raise a milker from a good milker. Early calves were best when milk was sent to the factory, so that they could be well brought on before the time for delivering milk. Straw and pollards were the best for milk; for beef, peas and oats mixed. Feed calves warm milk twice a day, and add a little grain or oil cake. Feed cows twice a day and don't cook the feed, merely pour hot water over it.

Mr. T. N. Willan repeated his address delivered at Lakefield on the raising of horses, a synopsis of which has been published in the Examiner.

Mr. Wm. Rutherford gave his experience in destroying "yellow weed"—gang-ploughed it several times and the "yellow weed" was gone. A crop of roots was as good as summer-fallowing, especially for spring crops.

Mr. Telford was called on and read from his book of poems "The Pioneers Retrospect." The reading of it was followed by enthusiastic demonstrations of approval.

This meeting was in some respects a failure. None of those who had consented to read papers put in an appearance, and the attendance of farmers was not what in so rich a district of flourishing farmers it should have been. Complaints were made by some of the farmers that they only heard of the meeting on the day it was held. This suggests the idea that the meeting was not sufficiently nor judiciously advertised. The district in which the meeting was held is one of the finest farming sections in the Province and under proper conditions a rousing meeting would have been held.

The evening meeting was abandoned.

RECOMMENDED TO RESCIND.

The Hamilton Builders Advised to Terminate the Lock-Out.

Hamilton, March 31.—The meeting this afternoon to consider the present difficulty in the building trades was largely attended. There were represented the plasterers, lathers, painters, Amalgamated Carpenters, International Carpenters, tinsmiths and stonecutters' Unions, and the following bodies of masters, viz.: Masons, carpenters, painters, plasterers, tinsmiths and plumbers. The architects were represented also. Letters were read from the Secretaries of the Builders' Laborers' Union and the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union, stating that their unions had resolved not to send delegates to meet the Exchange, as there was no difficulty between the unions and the Exchange.

Mr. Hancock gave the same version of the trouble in the quarries as has already been published in The World, with the additional information that the laborers had stated that they would not carry more than fourteen bricks in a hod; that a man carrying bricks would not carry mortar; that a man carrying mortar would not carry bricks, and that none of them would carry sills, plank or anything else other than the particular line for which they were engaged.

Mr. Balfour asked why the carpenters, plasterers and other tradesmen had been locked out owing to this trouble with the laborers.

Mr. Hancock said these different trades had no grievances, but these particular trades claim the right to appoint foremen in their own respective interests, and the master builders were determined to have every possible difficulty settled at once and for the season, and the only way to do it was to lock them all out, and thereby prevent certain trades from assisting others.

The following resolution, moved by Mr. Balfour and seconded by Mr. Edwards, was carried:

That this meeting recommends the builders', contractors' and dealers' exchange to rescind the resolution in reference to the lock-out on all unions, with the exception of the Masons' and Bricklayers' Union.

ALARM AT BERLIN.

The Peace of Europe Threatened—German Official Circles Gravely Disturbed.

BERLIN, March 31.—The sudden change in the position of the French political parties has reawakened apprehensions for the immediate future. Gen. Boulanger is now felt to be no spectral shadow but a substantial force threatening the peace of Europe. To-day's Paris advices gravely disturbed official circles. No reliance is placed upon any possible ministry that M. Floquet, Mr. Clemenceau or any other man may form, for the maintenance of peace. What Germany looks forward to is the voice of the French nation on appeal. If dissolution of the Chamber produces a strong Boulanger party it will be taken here as equivalent to a popular vote for war, and the convenience of the French to begin it will not be awaited.

The entire press of the country realizes the dangers of the position. The National Veitung hopes that the Chamber of Deputies will yet find a way to save the state from the war party, but despairs of the republic unless President Carnot can obtain a strong ministry having a program of peace without an artless penseo.

The Vossische Zeitung recognizes in President Carnot a prudent statesman who is conscious that Boulangism means anarchy, which will lead to an electorship, and, unless the Republicans are able to support Carnot with solid government ideas, a triumph which will invoke the overthrow of the Republic and the extinction of the nation.

No paper in Germany or Austria, however Radical, has the slightest sympathy with the Boulanger movement. The Neue Freie Presse of Vienna joins in the general strain in predicting ruin for France unless she has the wisdom to chase "that unscrupulous adventurer" out of the country.

Everything Left to Floquet.

PARIS, April 1.—President Carnot has left M. Floquet complete freedom in regard to the selection of colleagues. The Bureau of the Chamber of Deputies, by a vote of 22 to 18, decided that the election of M. Flourens as a member of the Chamber was valid.

Fidelity Bank Hopkins Sentenced.

CINCINNATI, April 1.—Benjamin E. California's Promising Crop Outlook.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—Rain prevailed throughout California yesterday, and reports received from all the grain producing counties show that both wheat and barley fields are looking exceptionally fine. The present prospects are for the largest yield of grain in the history of the State, while the fruit output will also be larger than in any previous year.

Chaska's Bride.

PIERRE, Dak., April 1.—Post Trader Robb of Fort Bennett brought yesterday the first authentic account of the marriage of Miss Fellows and Chaska, her Indian lover. The wedding took place on March 23, at Swift Bird's camp. Rev. Mr. Handforth, an Episcopal clergyman recently from Africa, officiated. The marriage would have taken place sooner, but Mr. Handforth insisted on publishing it three Sundays before he would perform the ceremony. Miss Fellows presented Chaska with a gold ring engraved "Cora to Chaska." The wedding was followed by the usual all-night dance, after which the married pair went to their new home. The lady is represented as apparently infatuated with her Indian husband. She will continue to teach.

McMaster University.

TORONTO, April 2.—The establishment of McMaster University now rests with the Board of Governors appointed by the convention last October. Rev. Joshua Denovan is chairman of the Board. Nothing will be done in the way of organizing a staff for some time, and when the university is a going concern it will be somewhat confined in its operations, as it will only have first year students to begin with. If the university is organized for the coming fall it is altogether likely the students will be provided accommodation in McMaster Hall or in some rented building. It is not the intention of the Board of Governors to build this year, and perhaps not next. The Baptist body have about $1,200,000 under their control for educational purposes. This is as much as the combined endowments of Queen's, Victoria and Trinity Universities. A prominent member of the Board said on Saturday that while their university would not cover so many courses as the Provincial University, yet there was no reason to doubt McMaster University would have as good professors for the limited courses it would decide upon as could be found in any college, and there was no reason why the students pursuing such courses should not be as thoroughly educated in them as the students of Toronto or any other university. The first work the Board will undertake will be in increasing the efficiency of the Literary College at Woodstock.

THE SITUATION IN FRANCE.

On the Eve of a Revolution—Probable Distribution of the Chamber.

LONDON, March 31.—The defeat of the French Government on so vital a question as the revision of the Constitution puts France into the throes of a crisis as serious as that brought about by the resignation of President Grevy. A Ministry nominated by the Extreme Left would have to introduce a measure in the direction indicated by M. Laguerre's motion, and this would certainly be rejected by the Senate. Altogether, the task of governing France at present is a tremendous one. It is estimated that there are now in the French Chamber no fewer than seventeen parties of Royalists alone split into five groups, and even the Bonapartists, although sadly reduced in numbers, are split into three. The crisis gives increased importance to Gen. Boulanger, whose address to the electors of Nord is freely criticised and is held to furnish further confirmation, if any were needed, of his political manœuvres.

It is difficult as yet to estimate Boulanger's chances of success as Nord. Much depends on whether he can persuade the peace-loving agriculturists of the north that he really favors only a defensive military policy.

The early dissolution of the Chamber of Deputies is imminent. It is reported that M. Flequet has intimated that he has no desire to occupy the position of Premier, and, although it is stated that he has not given any specific reasons for his hesitancy in accepting the honor, the reason is quite obvious, since the man who in the present circumstances assumes the responsibility of the office can see no hope of retaining his place. MM. Ribot and Rivet are prominently mentioned as the probable selections of President Carnot in the event of M. Flequet's declination or ill-success in forming a Cabinet.

Prevailing Sickness.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sore Throat, inflammations and Congestions are most prevalent at this season of the year. Hagyard's Yellow Oil is the best external and internal remedy for all these and other troubles. 2w14d

Making Sure.

There are many people who adopt health and diet rules when attacked by disease of the stomach, liver or bowels, this is quite right, but those who add to this treatment the use of B. B. B. according to directions, make sure of being quickly and easily cured. 2w14d

Thankful.

Some time ago being very greatly troubled with colds and coughing, I went to the drug store and got Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. In a short time I was well. I have found it a sure cure and am thankful that I used it, and now would not be without it. E. A. Schaefer, Berlin, Ont. 2w14d

How to Save Money.

Always buy the best because it is the cheapest in the end, and not only is Burdock Blood Bitters the best medicine known for all chronic diseases of the stomach, Kidneys, Liver and blood, but is really the cheapest as it needs less to cure and cures more quickly than any other remedy. 2w14d

THE WONDERS OF MAGIC.

When you find that beauty is falling away,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
To the elderly man with his locks in decay,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
A rich head of hair
Is as precious as rare,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
The lady's misfortune, when losing her hair,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
She can quickly, easily, cheaply repair,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
It imparts strength and beauty,
And it's the lady's plain duty,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
Take time by the forelock and still keep your own,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
This tonic, a failure has never yet known,
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."
Try this motto to heed,
Try till you succeed,
So I tell you
Try "Dorenwend's Magic."

This now famous preparation for invigorating and stimulating the growth of the hair is universally accepted as the most valuable specific on the market. All diseases of the scalp are either relieved or permanently cured. A rich and rapid growth of hair will follow after judicious and regular treatment. It remains with the user alone to secure the desired results. Dr. Dorenwend's "Hair Magic" is sold by all druggists at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. If not obtainable in your own locality send direct to the sole manufacturer, enclosing price. A. DORENWEND, Paris Hair Works, 103 and 105 Yonge street, Toronto. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists. dw

TO DEPOSITORS—Deposits are received by this Company both on current account and for periods of one year or longer. The rate of interest paid on amount deposited on current account and which may be withdrawn by check in such sums as the depositor may from time to time require, is four per cent., either paid or compounded half yearly, and the rate on yearly deposits is five per cent.

TO INVESTORS—The five and ten years five per cent. debentures of this Company which are issued in denominations of $100, $200, $500 and $1,000 each, transferable by endorsement, with half-yearly interest coupons attached, payable at the Head Office of the Company in Peterborough, or at any Branch of the Bank of Toronto in Canada, afford a safe and convenient mode of investment.

The funds of the Company being invested with the utmost care and precaution, no better security can be offered to depositors or debenture-holders, they having a first claim or mortgage on the whole Assets of the Company, the Shareholders having the second. The last audit shows that the amount so invested was over $1,310,223.69, and on securities of at least double that value.

By the Laws of Ontario, Trustees, Executors and Administrators may deposit Trust Funds of the estates which they control in this Company, and are free from all further liability, a privilege of which many have largely availed themselves.

TO BORROWERS—Money is obtainable from this Company on approved Real Estate Security at the Lowest Current Rates of Interest. The Mortgage may be repaid by yearly instalments or otherwise, as may be agreed upon, the interest ceasing at once on all amounts paid on account of the sum borrowed. Applications may be made either to the Head Office, or to any of the agents.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Weather.

Fresh to strong northeast, backing to northwest winds. Partly cloudy weather, with showers of rain and sleet in some localities. Not much change in temperatures.

The Calico Ball.

Everybody that has a heart to feel for the merits of the poor or a foot to move in the mazes of the dance, is looking forward to the calico charity ball on April 4th. It is fortunate for the ladies that the season is backward and the weather cold, and that simple toilets will do for the occasion, for the large lot of millinery and mantle goods consigned to the golden lion from New York have been delayed on the way, and consequently the millinery and mantle opening of the golden lion will not be held this week but next. The display of magnificent millinery and mantles for the season of 1888 will be well worth seeing and will compensate the ladies for the present disappointment. Look out for the notice of the opening day of the golden lion.

Engaged a Coach.

On Saturday Mr. H. Day was finally engaged as coach for the cricket club and caretaker of the P.A.A.A. grounds. He has just come over from England and has lately stopped in Toronto. Mr. Day is a native of Kent, Eng., and comes highly recommended, is a fast bowler, a steady bat and quick on the field; also an excellent coach and groundsman. He played last year with the Folkestone, Eng., club and had a batting average of 16, and took nearly a hundred wickets. With this strong addition the Peterborough cricket club will, it is expected, be without a peer in the Midland district. Already a number of matches have been arranged, and the season's sport promises to be lively and successful.

Particularly Attractive and Dressy are the new patterns we are showing in dress goods. They are the nicest material we have ever opened out. We show 12 different shades in Henrietta Cloths, French Wool, Marvelleanx, Ombre Stripes and checks. Ladies will have the opportunity to inspect these during our opening days, Wednesday and Thursday. Turnbull's, George and Simcoe streets. Our dressmaking department is fully equipped and under the directions of skillful artists, who will give every attention to all orders. 3d1w

Hard times demand cheap boots and shoes, and these can be had at J. T. Stenson's, cheap as the dirt in which they tread. His cheap sale is a great success. 2

Seldom Have we Offered

so fine a selection of mantles and mantle clothes as this season. Our imported mantles are particularly stylish and very cheap, while our mantle clothes and trimmings are the newest lines offered for city trade. We give careful attention to making up, and can confidently state that we can rival the best city work in every particular. We offer our stock for inspection on the opening days, Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

About New Trimmings.

All the newest trimmings to be worn this season in the leading cities are in stock at Turnbull's. Among these are the new shot silks, shaded ribbons, rose buds and jet trimmings, very new and particularly stylish. Ladies can note the charming effect attained by inspecting our patterns on the opening days this week. 3d1w

THE FEAST OF FEASTS.

Easter Observances in all the Churches.

A Day of Rejoicing in all the Christian Churches—Special Music and Decorations—The Origin and Significance of Easter.

The term Easter, signifying the Christian passover and the festival of the resurrection of Christ, is probably derived from the name of the Teutonic goddess of spring, Ostera or Oestre, whose festival occurs about the same time as the observance of Easter.

Those of the early Christians who believed the Christian passover to be a commemoration of Christ's death, adhered to the custom of holding the Easter festivity on the day prescribed for the Jewish pasch—the fourteenth day of the first month: that is, the lunar month of which the fourteenth day either falls on or next after the day of the vernal equinox.

But most of the Christian churches, attaching greater importance to the day of Christ's resurrection, held to Easter's being celebrated on the Sunday which followed the fourteenth day of the moon of March, the day on which Christ suffered.

The question was the cause of a serious difference in the church as early as the second century, and was not finally settled until the Council of Nice in the year 325. The rule was then adopted which brings Easter day always on the first Sunday after the full moon, which happens on or next after March 21, and if the full moon happens on a Sunday, Easter day is the Sunday after. By this arrangement Easter may come as early as March 22 or as late as April 25. Easter Sunday occurred this year on the first day of April.

Easter, which is now preceded by Lent, in early days was introduced by fasting on one day only—on Friday in Passion week, known as Good Friday. By and by the time was extended to forty hours in token that Christ had lain that long in the tomb, and from this it was finally prolonged to forty days—the season of the temptation in the wilderness.

All the ceremonies attending the observance of Easter were at first very simple, but in the early part of the Fourth century a decided change was brought about by Constantine, who, naturally fond of parade, signalised his love of display by celebrating this festival with extraordinary pomp, much of which is to this day retained in the Roman Catholic and Anglican churches. All the churches unite in making some special recognition of Easter Day in commemoration of the resurrection of Christ.

AT THE CATHEDRAL.

At St. Peter's Cathedral Sunday the services were of an unusually imposing nature. Special music was prepared for the occasion in which Prof. Doucet's orchestra assisted the organ. The cathedral was crowded morning and evening. At morning mass, as the people entered the church, the organ and orchestra played the March aux Flambeux. Mass was celebrated by His Lordship Bishop Dowling, assisted by Revs Fathers McEvay and Rudkins, the choir rendering Farmers' Mass music The solo parts were taken by Miss A. Dunn and Messrs. Ball and Coughlin. During the offertory Miss Delaney, organist, and Prof. Doucet, violinist, rendered a duet of espicially beautiful composition. The Bishop's address was short but highly practical, treating of the significance and merits of the crucifixion. He took occasion to refer to the good results that had attended the Lenten season. The number of communicants at the alter had been very large, last Thursday morning over 700 having communicated—something that he believed had never before occurred in the history of the church. He thanked the choir and orchestra for their valuable assistance at the services. In the evening vespers were said, at which also the music was especially good. The Bishop delivered another excellect address upon Easter observances and duties.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

In the Murray street Baptist church anniversary sermons were preached by Rev. J. Reddick, B.A., of Port Hope. The services were well attended. The evening subject was from Galatians, vi., 14:

But God forbid that I should glory save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me and I unto the world.

The reversed gentleman's address was upon the Crucifixion and its peculiar significance, of which mankind had not a proper conception. The Crucifixion reflected all the divine attributes of God, who, though fully realizing man's guilt and knowing of his every sin, had in His great love and mercy given His only begotten Son to die for man's atonement. God was just, and He had decreed that man must die for his sins; and so fixed was His law of justice that He willingly saw His Son executed in man's behalf. Christ's every act showed His love, and it reached its climax when He died on the cross for man—the just for the unjust. The crucifixion also manifested God's great power, in that He was able to give up His only Son in atonement; but the greatest power of all was the Gospel which Christ gave to men. It and it alone could be, by God's help, the salvation of mankind. Then in another direction the cross symbolized the unity of Christ's Church on earth. The blood-stained banner of the cross was the one flag under which all the different churches composing the army of God fought for the emancipation of men from sin. Christians should look up at their banner and remember that they were in the service of God the Omnipotent, who would surely reward their labors by a glorious victory.

ASHBURNHAM METHODISTS.

The Easter services in connection with the Mark street Methodist Church, Ashburnham, have been very successful this year. On Good Friday at 11 a.m., a good congregation was present, when the pastor, Rev. J. C. Wilson, preached from "the Rending of the Veil," showing that the rending of it was a miracle, and did away with the Levitical economy, that the rending allowed the glory to shine forth. So the rending of Christ's body was the breaking of the box containing the precious ointment, the fragrance of which is filling the world. On Easter Sunday there was a prayer meeting from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m., after which the public service was held. The sermon was on the resurrection of Jesus Christ. (1) He died. (2) The time of His resurrection. The different theories respecting it. (1) The Removal Theory. (2) Revival Theory. (3) The Resurrection Theory. Then the comfort to believers that this same Jesus will go with them through death. Then followed the fellowship meeting which was of great profit. In the evening again a large congregation was present, when the lessions from the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ were noted by the speaker. (1) The visions of the old prophets. (2) It was for personal sin. (3) The death of Jesus was one of the most wonderful facts of the Universe—rendered necessary in order that it might be possible for God to save man in his lostness. (4) That he might present unto man a motive by which he would be induced to draw nigh unto God: "I, and I if I be lifted up from the earth will draw all men unto me." That attraction was love. God's love was never so seen as in the Empire of Redemption. To be benefitted by this great scheme of salvation we must personally come and cast our burden of guilt and depravity upon the Great Sin Bearer. Closing with an earnest appeal to all not to leave the place until they had prayed God "be merciful to me a sinner," and thus go home to-night justified. The choir which was present added greatly to the interest and success of all the services in the wise selections and the very efficient manner they performed their part. The church was elaborately and most beautifully decorated with plants and flowers, reflecting great taste and credit on the young ladies of the congregation. A tide of prosperity is flowing in on this church, as seen in the enlarging congregations and increased interest in all the services held. Prominent among them is the advance the choir has made of late under the efficient leadership of Mr. Hiram Armstrong and Miss Emma Smith, organist. The Sunday school is also prospering under the able superintending of Mr. A. D. Rogers.

AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

The Easter Sunday services at St. John's were more than usually interesting and successful. There were very large congregations at all of them—at 8.30 a.m., 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. In the morning Rev. Wm. Jupp, Midland, assisted at the services and in the evening preached the sermon. The number of communicants at both morning services was unusually large. The church was beautifully decorated with living flowers, especially the font, chancel and alter. Of course the musical services were something unusually good. Mr. Seward had sole charge of them and his skill, ability and energy, backed by the willing co-operation of the choir, gave the congregation a musical treat, especially in the evening, which has seldom been equalled and perhaps never excelled in the history of this church. In the morning the Te Deum was that of Kotomar; the Jubilate, Cooome's, and the anthem, "Christ, our Passover," by Lloyd. The offertory solo was a fine composition of Mr. Seward's, well sung by Miss Cottingham—"I Know My Redeemer Lives." In the evening Barnett's Magnificat was rendered. The Nunc Dimittis had a duet for Messrs. Shaw and Elliott, and in the anthem, "This is the Day," Mrs. Seward, Miss Rush and Messrs. Shaw, Bedden and Merris had solo parts. The offertory trio arranged from Mercadente, was finely sung by Mrs. Seward, Miss Rush and Mr. Bedden. The hymn following the anthem—134—"Come See the Place," was a beautiful composition, and as all the music of the evening, except the Magnificat and the trio, was composed by Mr. Seward, and was peculiarly fitting for the occasion. The choir sang well and gave evidences of prompt appreciation of good training.

[Reference to the services in other churches on account of space is held over till to-morrow.]

A Beautiful Play.

The popular actor, Mr. Benj. Maginley, appears at the Opera House April 3rd in his great character of Brian Maguire, alias "Inshavogue." The play takes its name from the principal character, that assumed by Mr Maginley, and he as a leader of a band of "peep o' day boys" of 1798 is given the name of the town he comes from, Brian Maguire, who after the "98" struggle, is obliged to fly from Ireland. Soon after this flight a daughter is born to his wife, who remained in the old land. The mother survives the birth of the child but a brief time, and the little one is substituted for one which died in the rich family of Sir Roderick O'Dwyer. Inshavogue is ignorant of the death of his wife and the birth of his child, and upon returning to Ireland many year safter his flight he becomes an unwilling instrument of misfortune to his own daughter, being obliged to carry out the scheme of the villain of the story, Urick Burke, who has become possessed of the Inshavogue's "peep o' day" secret, and uses the knowledge to make a tool of him. The part of the villain does not fit the patriotic Irishman, however, and his better nature is constantly asserting itself. In the struggle omanly and base actions, the tribulation of pretty Norah Maguire and her ultimate happiness, the discomfiture of the villain and the reunion of Inshavogue with his daughter. The drama is strong, filled with human interest, and is enlivened with singand dancing, novel scenic effects, an Irish glen by moonlight, with cascade of running water, said to be a very marvel of stage art. Mr. Maginley will be supported by an excellent company. The Pittsburg Bulletin says: "The drama is strong, filled with human interest, and enlivened with singing and dancing. Novel scenic effects, an Irish glen by moonlight, with cascade of running water, said to be a marvel of stage art."

News Nuggets.

—Town council meets this evening.

—The banks were closed to-day, Easter Monday.

—A regular meeting of the School Board will be held next Tuesday evening.

—The butchers of Peterborough made the usual display of beef on Saturday.

—The citizens of Brighton held a meeting on Thursday and endorsed the project of a railway from Collingwood to Brighton.

—The Carpenters' Union elected their officers Thursday night.

—Don't make a smokestack of your mouth. Buy a box of "Crow" cigars and indulge in moderation.

—There were 24 births, 8 marriages and 16 deaths registered with the town clerk during March.

—Sunday was April Fool day, but the Easter solemnities precluded any indulgence in the customary pranks.

—Mr. Garland, of Ottawa, is in town to-day. He is an applicant for the position of Chief of Police in case Mr. Adams is not retained.

—An organization meeting of the River side Lacrosse club will be held in the parlor of the Hub Wednesday evening. All interested it in lacrosse should attend.

—The average daily attendance at the Collegiate Institute for March was 170, a slight decrease from the February attendance, owing chiefly to the higher fees for outside pupils. The amount of fees collected for March was $198.50—the largest amount yet received.

—A large, black bat in St. Paul's church Sunday evening distracted the attention of both the congregation and preacher. It flitted about the church within a few inches of the people's heads and nearly ran against Rev. Mr. Torrance's hand. For about a quarter of an hour or so it kept up its flight and then suddenly disappeared.

Warsaw Cheese Factory.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Business of the Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Warsaw cheese factory was held in the factory, Warsaw, on the 26th inst., for the purpose of appointing officers for the current year and transaction of other business. The meeting was not as well attended as anticipated, no doubt on account of the wet day on which it was held. However, the best of feeling was shown to exist between the patrons and manufacturer, Mr. Alex. Smith, and amongst the patrons themselves, who are all looking forward to a prosperous season, each willing to lend a helping hand to sustain the good reputation the Warsaw factory now has for the manufacture of first quality cheese.

On the meeting being called to order, Mr. John Clements was re-elected President, and Mr. E. Hawthorne, Secretary, for the current year.

Minutes of last annual meeting were read and confirmed.

The manufacturer, Mr. Smith, agrees to manufacture and box the cheese for 1¼c. per lb., guaranteeing a first class article. Manufacturer to retain whey for boxing cheese.

Moved by John Rose, seconded by Sidney Payne, that this factory shall not receive anything but first-class milk.—Carried unanimously.

Moved by David Forsythe, seconded by H. Bell, that Sidney Payne be salesman and treasurer for the current year.—Carried.

Moved by Alex. Smith, seconded by H. Bell, that the patrons receive cheese at wholesale prices, cheese to be cut when cheese-maker thinks a cheese can be cut without loss, and outsiders shall not receive any cheese at retail from factory.—Carried.

Moved by Alex. Smith, seconded by H. Bell, that David Forsythe, A. R. Kidd and E. Hawthorne be a committee to act in conjunction with the salesman, as an advisory committee, or on any matter concerning the factory.—Carried.

Mr. Smith appointed on his behalf as auditor, Mr. A. F. Choate. The patrons appointed as their auditor, E. Hawthorne.

Northumberland Dairymen.

A meeting in the interest of dairymen was held at Campbellford on Thursday. Among those present were:—Prof. Jas. Robertson, of the Model Farm, Guelph; J. K. McCargar, Belleville, president of the Dairymen's Association, Eastern Ontario; D. Vanderveort and J. Haggerty, directors; James Whitton, instructor; H. A. Hodgson, Montreal; J. Y. Warrington, Belleville, and all the principal buyers and makers of the district. Prof. Robertson gave an address on the care and feed of a dairy cow and also on cheesemaking. Different makers also gave their opinions, and questions being asked Prof. Robertson made explanatory replies. The attendance was fair and great interest was shown by those present.

The Dominion Bell ORGANS.

WE wish to call your attention to the benefit derived from the

New Automatic Pedal Cover ATTACHMENT,

that has lately been added to the above Organs. This improvement has been a long felt necessity, and one which has never been successfully solved before by any Organ Companies until the present was secured for the above Companies directly from the Inventor.

Other Organ Companies advertise their organs mouse and dust proof, because they employ the usual method of blocking around the bellows, as we have done heretofore, but it is eminently unsatisfactory, and the only sure and efficient plan is that which we adopt, of covering the PEDALS and BOTTOM of our Organs. This attachment has from throughout (with the exception of the Covers) having no cords, springs, or delicate mechanism to get out of order or repair, and works AUTOMATICALLY with the Fall Board of the Organ. The one simple act of opening or closing the Organ, simultaneously operates the Pedal Covers.

This improvement has been placed on all the different styles of Organs, and the aim is now, as in the past, to produce an instrument that WAS NO EQUAL.

All information and inquiries cheerfully answered. Catalogues sent free upon application.

Examine the Mouse and Dust Proof Organ before purchasing, and be satisfied that you have the best in the World.

TUESDAY, APRIL 3, 1888.

A LOCK-OUT OF LABORERS.

TROUBLE BETWEEN BUILDERS AND THEIR EMPLOYES.

A Lot of the Men Quit Work Yesterday—They Want 30 Cents an Hour and the Bosses Give Them Until Wednesday to Accept 30 Cents—Both Will Hold Out.

TORONTO, April 3.

In December last the Builders' Laborers' Union notified the Builders' and Contractors' Association that on the expiration of their agreement on March 31 of this year they would ask 31 cents an hour. The agreement under which the union worked last year called for 18½ cents an hour. The demand was considered excessive by the bosses and the men were given to so understand in an unofficial way. Conferences however were held from time to time during the past month by committees representing both bodies.

On Thursday last the bosses offered as a compromise to pay 19 cents whilst the union's committee held out for 30 cents. The bosses' offer was laid before the meeting of the laborers in Temperance Hall on Saturday night, when it was decided to adhere to the demand for 30 cents. This action was reported to the masters committee yesterday morning and as neither party was disposed to recede further from the position it had taken, the meeting resulted in no settlement.

During the day the laborers began to quit work, though this action was not general.

To-day, however, the entire membership of the Union will go out. The fight promises to be a bitter one. The bosses are anxious to have the matter settled now, rather than have to deal with it in the midst of the busy season. On Saturday the bosses announced that they would pay but 15 cents an hour unless an agreement was made. Some of the bosses said yesterday that they favored a plan by which each would be allowed to paddle his own canoe and do away with an agreement altogether. The alleged willingness of the bricklayers and masons to allow other than union laborers to work under them is regarded by the bosses as likely to have an important bearing upon the strike and bring about its early termination.

"This is not a strike on our part," said an officer of the Laborers' Union. "Our members quit work of their own accord, and in opposition to the advice and command of the union. Their reason for so doing was their unwillingness to work for 15 cents an hour, which figure the bosses gave them to understand they would in future pay. In reducing the men's wages to this figure the bosses have accomplished what they sought—a lock-out. The union will not order any of its men to quit work, no matter what rate they may be working for."

"The bosses are said to be under the impression that the bricklayers and masons will allow non-union laborers to work under them. Is this statement correct?"

"If the bosses entertain this opinion they will be badly fooled," was the reply. "When the stonemasons were on strike last year our body supported them and enabled them to carry their point. We refused to work when non-union bricklayers were employed, and it is but reasonable to suppose, even if we had no other grounds for our belief, that they will assist us in every way in our fight."

The laborers declare their confidence in the result. They will have the assistance of the Federated Trades, which includes in its membership the plasterers, plasterers' laborers, plumbers and carpenters. This union has between 200 and 1000 members, and is strong financially. Its bank account is said to be nearly $12,000. Besides these resources, it has been promised aid by the National Builders' Protective Association of the U.S., whose executive telegraphed yesterday proffering assistance, and by the National Union of Canada. Married men are allowed $6 per week and single men $3.50 during a strike or lock-out. There will be a meeting of the union to-night, when the action of the bosses last night will be discussed.

The Builders and Contractors' Association passed this resolution at its meeting last night: That unless the Laborers' Union agree to accept the proposal from this association for a rate of 19 cents per hour not later than Wednesday, April 4, this association positively declines to enter into any agreement whatever with the Union after that date.

"There won't be any Laborers' Union in three months if that agreement is not signed by Wednesday," said a member of the association. "We learned a lesson last year and propose to profit by it. If we had continued paying 18½ cents till June without an agreement for the balance of the year, the men would at that time, which is the busiest part of the building season, attempt to enforce their demands. We are in a better position to fight them now."

Shot Stood for a Sacrifice.

SIOUX FALLS, Dak., March 30.—Alexander Soderberg, a farmer of Salem, became insane last week. Yesterday morning he called his family around him and informed them that he had been directed by the Lord to offer up a sacrifice. He then killed his two dogs, and next began to strip his three children, saying that he would offer them next, and then would give his wife to the Lord in the same way. The terrified family managed to escape from the house, and the insane man then took off all his clothing, jumped through the window, and made his escape. He has not yet been found, and it is thought he has drowned

THE FEDERATION BOOM.

KEEN INTEREST IN THE UNFINISHED FREE TRADE DEBATE.

Sir Charles Tupper Will Probably be Heard on the Question—The Extent of the Gratuity to the Canadian Pacific Railway—Departmental Report.

OTTAWA, April 2.—The Imperial Federation idea is to be made as far as possible a part of the Dalton McCarthy boom. At the public meeting under the auspices of the Ottawa branch of the Imperial Federation League, to be held at St. James' Hall on April 12, the following M.P.'s will deliver addresses: Messrs. Dalton McCarthy, McNeill, C. H. Tupper, Skinner and Col. O'Brien. Resolutions embodying the principles of Imperial Federation and expressing a desire for a Customs Union between Great Britain, Canada and the rest of the colonies will be submitted.

It is not often that the end of a recess in mid-session is looked forward to with such keen interest as is this by those members of the House who remain here. This is to be accounted for by the fact that the Reciprocity debate is cut in two by the recess, with the possibility of Sir Charles Tupper speaking on the question before it is over, and that the Manitoba settlement has been completed during the recess under peculiar circumstances and involving results which none can foresee.

There is still nothing authoritatively known concerning the terms granted to the C.P.R., but those best able to judge are inclined to place great faith in the reports from England, on the ground that some representatives of the stockholders there must have been informed by cable of the result of the negotiations, and it would be impossible to insist upon secrecy there, as has been done here. The tone in which The Montreal Gazette discusses the idea of a guarantee of fourteen millions of bonds lends confirmation to the report from England that that is the basis. The Journal (Conservative) of this city gives currency to a report that the money is to be given for lands. However, this is not generally credited. The Journal says, moreover, that the details of the settlement are not fixed, but the only points yet to be settled, it is believed, are as to the terms on which the different sections of the Conservatives will be willing to vote for this latest finally final arrangement.

The report of the Minister of Agriculture, brought down to-day, shows that the importation of stock for breeding purposes in the calendar year 1887 were: Cattle, 549; sheep, 6539; swine, 263, of which the greater part, including nearly all the sheep, went to the Northwest. The export trade increased in every branch as compared with the previous year, the total value being about $10,500,000. The cattle exported numbered 116,000, being an increase of about 25 per cent. over last year. The immigration branch of the department claims 84,526 settlers to have arrived in Canada during the year, an increase of 15,364 over last year, the vast majority being English and about 9 per cent. Germans.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

Making Every Effort to Convict Sharp.

NEW YORK, April 2.—It was rumored to-day that District Attorney Fellows had entered into negotiations with one of the boodle aldermen in Canada, with a view to securing his testimony to be used in the trial of Jacob Sharp. Col. Fellows refuses to speak of the case, except to say that he is making every preparation to bring Sharp to trial on evidence that will render a conviction certain.

Flood and Fire.

VIENNA, April 2.—Several more villages in Hungary have been flooded and the inhabitants are starving. At Hethraraz 120 houses have been burned and seven hundred persons are homeless. Two lives were lost. The villages of Mezod, Berenyi and Hundsdorf have also been destroyed by fire.

Attempted Burglary at Dorchester.

LONDON, April 2.—Burglars entered the store of Capelick & Rossiter at Dorchester early Sunday morning, and were drilling the safe when discovered. Mr. Rossiter fired his revolver at them as they were escaping, but with what effect is not known. Nothing is missing on the premises.

Hog Products Excluded.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The Danish Government has issued an order forbidding until further notice the importation into Denmark of pork or other raw products of hogs, including bladders and steam lard.
